BROWN
PRINTING
CO.
MONTGOMERY, ALA.

1922

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, JANUARY 5, 1922 NUMBER 17

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Good services were held last Sunday considering the somewhat cold weather. Sunday school and preaching services began on time, and a hearty co-operation on the part of many was manifest to help reach the ideal punctuality at all of our services.

Sunday School will begin as usual at 9:45 a. m., and preaching at 11, a. m. and 7 p. m., until further notice.

Everyone is cordially invited to all of these services. Next Sunday is the second anniversary of the present pastorate. Appropriate sermons will be preached.

P. G. CARTER, Pastor

THE STOPPING OF NO. 1

The hearing before the Circuit Court in Montgomery for the stopping of number 1 has been set for Thursday morning at 10:30, a. m. Dr. V. J. Gragg, Judge Reynolds, J. B. Atkinson, Percy Pitts, P. G. Carter and others will be present to represent the city and county. As this is a matter of vital interest to every citizen and will mean much to the city and county it is hoped that a large delegation will go in a body to this hearing. Cars will leave the Court House about 7:30 or 8 o'clock, a. m. If you have no way of going yourself get in touch with the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and he will see that you have a way to go. We would like a delegation of some twenty people at least.

P. G. CARTER, Secretary
Clanton Chamber of Commerce.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Clanton Chamber of Commerce held its monthly meeting in the Odd Fellows hall on Monday night and the spirit shown was very good. Mr. R. D. Busbee as the recently appointed Traffic Manager gave some very valuable information as to the excessive freight rates now charged as compared to other places, and made recommendations how best to meet the situation. This matter was left in his hands for proper action.

Regarding a cotton or knitting mill industry the secretary was instructed to pursue the present methods now being adopted to get into touch with an interested party, with the assurance that local capital could be raised for such an enterprise, if the ght party can be found to superintend the work, and with sufficient capital to match that of the local capital that might be subscribed. Correspondence is now being held with possible prospects. It was generally conceded that in the course of time something would be secured with the present methods now being pursued.

The annual meeting of the Chamber was set for Thursday night, January 19th, at which we hope a large attendance will be present.

MRS. J. E. LETT DIES

Mrs. J. E. Lett, who lived near Verbena, died Monday afternoon, Dec. 26, and was buried the following day, funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. Buford Lawrence, assisted by Rev. C. P. Roberts. the Methodist pastor.

She had been sick only a short time. She was a member of the Baptist church since early life and was a most consecrated Christian. She reared a splendid family of boys and girls.

The large crowd that attended the funeral and the many lovely floral offerings eloquently bore testimony to the high esteem in which she was held by her neighbors and friends.

She leaves a husband, three daughters, five sons and some brothers to morn her loss.

J. S.

If there were just a few more people in this vicinity built on the plan of Mr. W. T. Johnson, of Route 3, our lot in life as editor of the Chilton County News would be one long sweet dream of hoppiness. This week he left at our house a great pile of old time country sausage, like mother used to make, enough spare ribs to feed a regiment and a cut of fresh ham big enough to start a market. We would like to thank him, but our vocabulary is not sufficient to do justice to such a treat as that. We are just as grateful as we know how to be and then some.

Mr. Ben Tyus, Jr., of Birmingah, spent the holidays with home folks, going back Saturday.

Visit the STRAND Friday and see the QUEENS; also SINNERS. Warm House.

Miss Annie Tyus, who has been making quite an extended visit to relatives and friends here, returned to her home in Kansas City Saturday.

Registration Notice.

In accordance with the provisions of Section 6 of an Act "to provide for the Registration of Electors' enacted by the Legislature [of] 1920, the Registrars of the Countey of Chilton, Alabama, do hereby give ntice that the following appointments are set for the purpose of regisering those qualified under the law to register as electors:

Precinct No. 6 at Kincheon on Jan. 4, A. M.
Precinct No. 15 at Culps School on January 4, P. M.
Precinct No. 15 at Pletcher on January 5.
Precinct No. 8 at Riderville on January 6.
Precinct No. 8 at Stanton on January 7.
Precinct No. 3 at Benson on January 9.
Precinct No. 7 at Maplesville on January 10.
Precinct No. 7 at Shoults on January 11.
Precinct No. 14 at Macedonia on January 12.
Precinct No. 2 at Mars Hill on January 13.
Precinct No. 13 at Concord on January 14.
Precinct No. 4 at Clanton on January16 to 26.
Precinct No. 12 at Robinson's Store on Feb 1,A.M
Precinct No. 12 at Robinson's Store on February 1, A. M.
Precinct No. 12 at Mineral Springs on February 1, P. M.
Precinct No. 1 at Mullin's School on February 2.
Precinct No. 11 at Cane Creek on February 3.
Precinct No. 13 at Minooka on February 4.
Precinct No 2 at Jemison on Febuary 6.
Precinct No 9 at Thorsby on Febuary 7.
Precinct No 5 at Mt. Creek on Febuary 8 A. M.
Precinct No. 5 at Verbena on February 8, P. M.
Precinct No. 16 at Providence on February 9, A. M.
Precinct No. 10 at Cooper on February 9, P. M.
Precinct No. 6 at Enterprise on February 10, A. M.
Precinct No. 10 at Evergreen on Febuary 10 P. M.

J. W. E. GULLEDGE, Cairman.
J. R. PARNELL.
H. B. OLIVER,
Registers Chilton County.

No one can register except in his own precinct or at the Court House.

SOME RECENT DEATHS

Mr. Adolphus P. Oslin, age 69, died at his home near Collins Chapel Thursday, Jan. 5 and will be buried tomorrow at that place.

Mr. Oslin was a well known and highly esteemed citizen and will be sadly missed in a community where he has been looked upon as a pillar and landmark for many years.

His wife survives him and several other relatives.

Rufus T. Turner, Co. D. 167th Regiment, died in Johnson City Government Hospital Dec 29, 1921, and was brought here and buried at Mt. Carmel, Adams Station on Jan. 1. 1922.

This soldier boy was the son of Mr. J. T. Turner and was 26 years old when he died.

He leaves a father, stepmother, 4 brothers and 2 sisters to mourn his loss.

And so the sad echoes of that awful war still sadden the hearts of thousands and wring tears of grief from thousands of eyes in this land of ours.

Mr. Jas. Scott, of Thorsby, died last Saturday at his home there and was buried the following day. Rev. Lowery officiating at the grave.

He was 30 years of age and leaves a father and mother, one brother and two sisters to mourn and miss him.

His wife preceded him to the great beyond about two years ago.

He was a prominent and popular young man and will be sadly missed in the community.

Undertaker, J. Mell Martin of Clanton had charge of the funeral arrangements.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the wife and children of Mr. L. P. Best, recently deceased, wish to extend our most sincere thanks to the friends and neighbors who so generously came to our aid and comfort in the hour of this sad affliction—the death of our devoted husband and father.

WIFE AND CHILDREN.

Now is the time to Register and pay your poll tax.

U-mus-c the Queens at the Strand Friday.

The New York Store is widening out. Their building now will embrace two stores with a beautiful double front.

QUEENS! QUEENS! Reel live ones; all from Alabama; Friday Night January 6th.

The "Please-U" barber shop has moved one door west into a lovely little shop that looks as dainty as a bunch of violets.

Notice.

William T. Lucas now residing in Shelby County, who was convicted of murder at the Spring term 1903, of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, and was paroled by the Governor on the 23 day of December, 1910, hereby gives notice that at the next meeting of the Board of Pardons he will make applica r the restoration of his civil n political rights as a citizen.

This 21 day of December, 1121
12-29 2. William T. Lucas

See SINNERS THREE Friday January 6th.

ROAD BONDS

Surely the voters have thought of the Thousands of dollars paid into the State Treasurer each year by Automobile owners for License Tax. Have you seriously considered the Government's offer to furnish Seventy Five Million Dollars of the amount to be spent in building the roads? If the Government would offer to pay fifty cents of every dollar spent for the improvement of your property, would you eccept it?

If our intelligent citizens do not vote to get this Seventy Five Million, it will be offered to another State. Then the ditches, mud holes and bumps will be our reward for negligence.

Tourists add to the wealth of a State, the majority of whom are now traveling through other States and will continue to do so if we do not build roads.

The State and Government's money will also help us by furnishing employment to thousands of unemployed now walking our inefficient roads and begging for bread.

The tax we shall have to pay will be approximately the same, therefore, we should expect a return by increasing the actual worth of our property.

Vote for better roads and your will vote for increased prosperity.

A READER.

NOTICE

The estate of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased.

Letters testamentary upon the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, having been granted to the undersigned on the 11th day of August, 1921, by the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate will be required to present the same within the time required by law, or same will be barred.

E. W. BUTLER,
Executor of the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased 1-5-3t.

THE HIGHWAY AMENDMENT ELECTION

A meeting of the citizens of Clanton is called for Friday night in the interests of this election which will be held on January 30th for the purpose of issuing bonds with which to secure the $25,000,000 appropriated by the government for the purpose of building up permanent highways throughout the State.

The county of Chilton has already been surveyed and work approved of by the State authorities, so that as soon as the election carries work will be begun on the road from Calera through the county to Marbury.

The taxes for paying off these bonds are to be paid by the motor vehicles, and not by the other residents of the county. Good roads saves tires, gas, repairs in the general upkeep of the car. It will therefore be a good investment to automobilist to have these roads and more than pay the extra tax now levied for this purpose. Everyone who drives a car should be interested in this meeting next Friday at 7:30, p. m., for the purpose of organising the county for the election.

P. G. CARTER,
Chairman for Chilton County.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cole of Birmingham, spent the weekend with Mrs. G. L. Phillips. Mrs. Cole will be remembered as Miss Annie Lamar, sister of Mrs. Phillips, and has spent much time in Clanton.

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Mrs. M. L. White Entertains.

Mrs. M. L. White was hostess to the "Round Dozen" club on last Wednesday, to a spend the day party. The apartments were very attractive in their Christmas decorations. A very elaborate dinner was served to the following: Mesdames Barney Roberts, Armstrong, Clyde Jones, Pearson, Simpson, Moore, Luckie, L. C. Ross, Otis Levy and Newt Askins of Sylacauga.

Mrs. Gerald Hostess.

Mrs. Lawrence Gerald entertained the Thursday Embroidery Club on last Thursday afternoon. The afternoon was spent very pleasantly in fancy work, while Mrs. Grady Broadhead gave several selections on the violin and Miss Gerald of Thorsby gave several piano solos. Mrs. Gerald was assisted in serving delicious refreshments by Mesdames Grady Broadhead, and Horn of Troy. The visitors of the afternoon were: Mesdames Upchurch, McSwain, Miss Gerald of Thorsby and Mrs. Horn of Troy.

Surprise Party.

Quite a surprise party was last Wednesday night, when the young set surprised Miss Mary Upchurch. About 20 of the young ladies and gentlemen enjoyed this surprise.

Miss Mamie Smith was hostess on last Wednesday night to a number of her friends.

Birthday Party.

Master Ralph Johnston was hostess to about 25 of the future bells and beaux at the residence of his parents Mr. and Mrs. D. Y. Johnston, on Monday afternoon. As this was Ralp's 11th birthday, he received a great number of useful gifts. He was assisted by his mother in entertaining his guests. Late in the afternoon delicious refreshments were served.

Missionary Society Entertained.

Mrs. Clyde Jones was hostess to the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church on Monday afternoon. The Society was called to order by the President, Mrs. T. H. Neighbors. As this was the business and election of officers. There was not a program. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. C. Jones; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. M. L. White; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Pearson; Secretary and Treasurer of foreign and home, Mrs. W. D. Signener; Presiding Secretary, Mrs. Durwood Broadhead; Local Treasurer, Mrs. John Armstrong; Superintendent of Social Service, Mrs. W. W. Fox; Study and Publicity, Mrs. Macy Jones; Agent for the Voice and Superintendent of Supplies, Mrs. Newt Kicker; General Chairman of the Circles, Mrs. McSwain. After which Mrs. Jones served delicious refreshments assisted by her daughters, Misses Mary Goodwyn and Clyde.

Mrs. Authur Johnson Hostess.

Mrs. Authur Johnson was hostess to a number of ladies at bridge on Wednesday afternoon. After several interesting games is was found that Miss Bettie Mullins held the biggest score. The hostess served delicious refreshments to the following ladies: Heard, Eric Hart, Hosea Downs, W. K. Mullins, Hugh Jones. Misses Louise Orr, and Bettie Mullins.

Mrs. Barney Roberts spent Saturday in Birmingham.

Miss Evelyn Hubbard left Friday for Tuscaloosa, where she goes on a visit to friends.

Dr. Hubbard, after spending the holidays with his daughter Mrs. Rueben Reynolds, returned to his home in Greensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Kicker were hostess to a dinner party on last Wednesday evening, when they complimented Mr. and Mrs. Dunn of Montgomery. A very tempting five course dinner was served to Dr. and Mrs. N. S. Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. Hosea Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Dunn of Montgomery.

Quite an enjoyable occasion was given down at Mitchell Dam Saturday night and Sunday. Quite a number of young people from the nearby cities enjoyed this occasion. Those from Clanton being Misses Mary Sue Mullins, Maud Mullins, Madeline Orr, Kathleen Mullins and Mr. and Mrs. Heard.

Mrs. Otis Levy, after spending the holidays with her mother Mrs. Thomas, returned to her home in Sylacauga last Thursday afternoon.

Miss Bessie Thomas returned to Andalusia Saturday, where she is teaching this year.

Mrs. W. L. Holmes and Miss Dolie Holmes of Dothan, returned to their home Saturday night after spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McSwain.

Mr. W. K. Mullins returned to Birmingham Monday, after spending the holidays with home folks.

Mrs. Renfro Mullins, Miss Marzell and John Durwood, returned to Montgomery Monday after spending the holidays with relatives.

Mrs. Macy Jones returned to Clanton Tuesday after spending holidays with her mother, Mrs. Giddens in Montgomery.

Miss Leona Pipes left last Thursday for New York, where she was married on Jan. 2nd (Monday) to Mr. Hughes Kennedy.

Mrs. R. E. Luckie and children spent Thursday in Montgomery with her mother, Mrs. S. A. Goodwyn.

Mrs. Newt Askins of Sylacauga has returned home after spending the holidays with relatives and friends.

Miss Sally Johnson returned Tuesday night to Danville, Va., after spending the holidays with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. N. S. Johnson.

Dr. J. M. Dannelly, presiding elder of the Prattville district, will preach at the Methodist church on Friday night at 7 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo Polk and daughters spent the holidays in Columbiana with relatives.

Mrs. Pitts of Columbiana spent several days with her son, Mr. Percy Pitts.

Mrs. Herbert Neighbors and children returned home Thursday from Goodwater, where they spent the holidays.

Pay your poll tax. Register

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama.

W. B. Corley ....Editor
J. L. Johnoon...Businens Mgr.

CARTER & JOHNSON
Proprietors

Subscription price $1.00 per year strictly in advance.

Advertising rates on application.

Entered in the post office at Clanton as second class mail matter hnder act of Congress.

TO LADY VOTERS

You only have to pay your poll tax for two years. Age does not matter; you only pay for two years—since you became eligible to vote under the amendment. Remember this.

Our local and editorial department is omitted this week, owing to our having to move in and install our office. We beg your indulgence, and be sure to call and see us first door north of post office.

READING CIRCLE JAN. 14, CLANTON GROUP

Song.

Devotional service, J. L. Wilson.

"Blending Oral and Written Work," H. L. Davis.

"Spirit and Aims of Constructive Criticism," Leon Mullins.

Calisthinics, Johnie Plier.

"Skill in Speech." Martha J. Mims.

"Training the Tongue," Ruben Lowe.

"Correcting Written Work," Margie Murphy.

"Health Crusade Work," Lena Franklin.

Round Table discussion of the following: Chapters. led by Prof. S. E. Alverson; Facing the Issue; Composition worth Measuring; The Target Test; A Practical Demonstration; Applying the Service; Corner Stones in Sentence Reading.

"The Parts of Speech in Use" J. D. Culp.

"Building the Line Vocational" John Lee Thacker.

"The Slang Problem," Evie Jones.

"Word Accuracy and Word Appreciation," Miss Monroe.

Demonstrations.

1st grade — Number Work — Thelma Bates.
2nd grade — Language—Mrs. Ward.
3rd grade—Reading— Mayme Clark.
4th grade—Geography—Essie McLeod.
5th grade — English — Myrtle Lewis.
6th grade — Spelling — G. S. Gravlee.
7th grade—History—W. E. G. Sutton.

HONOR ROLL
POPLAR SPRINGS

1st Grade—Dolphus McDowell, Leon Blalock, Hollis Thornton.

2nd Grade—Girtie Patterson. Elva Scott, Jim Miller.

3rd Grade — Marveen Cox, Rena Hawkins, Leroy McDowell.

4th Grade—Redie Patterson, Leslie Gilliland, Georgia Mae Blalock.

IRMA POWELL, Teacher.

HENDERSON - HICKS WEDDING at MAPLESVILLE

One of the interesting events of the new year was the wedding of Miss Annie Mae Hicks to Mr. Walker Henderson, both of this city, which was quietly solemnized Sunday evening at the home of Rev. R. T. Gilbert. Only members of the immediate families and intimate friends of the bride and groom were present.

BIRMINGHAM NEWS ANNOUNCES LOWER SUBSCRIPTION RATE

Greatest Program Of News And Feature Services In History Of Southern Newspaperdom Now Is Being Published By South's Greatest Daily.

[illegible] ipatin; the prospective reduction ne[illegible] ar in the price of white paper to a p[illegible] that would justify reduction in its subscription rates, The Birmingham News has put into effect substantial decreases in the prices charged subscribers. The rate to mail subscribers has been reduced from $10 per year to $8 per year for the daily and Sunday editions.

A special rate of $6.50 per year is made to those subscribers who live on rural free delivery [illegible].

In towns where carrier delivery is made the rate has been reduced from 25 cents per week to 20 cents per week.

The regular mail rate for six months is now $[illegible] for three months, $2.25; and for one month 85 cents.

On rural free delivery routes, the rate is $[illegible] for six months; $1.75 for three months and 75 cents for one month. [illegible] these rates are for the daily and Sunday.

For the daily only by mail, the rate is $[illegible] per year, $[illegible] for six months; $1.75 for three months and 75 cents for one month, while on the rural routes the rate for the daily only is $5 per year, $2.50 for six months, $1.35 for three months and 50 cents for one month.

The price of the Sunday only by mail is $2 per year; $1.50 for six months; 85 cents for three months and 35 cents for one month.

Coincident with its announcement of a reduction in rates, The Birmingham News announces to the people of Alabama big improvements in its already wonderful news and feature services. Four great leased wire news services pour their products into The News office every day, furnishing a total of 60,000 words of telegraphic news, the finest and most complete service that money can buy. Readers of The Birmingham News read it each day with the definite certainty that no newspaper in the world is better served with the live, up-to-date news of the whole earth.

The Associated Press, greatest of all news services, is the mainstay of the telegraphic news department. With its thousands of correspondents scattered over every land and in every clime, its wonderful reputation for accuracy and reliability, its unimpeachable integrity, it is daily at the call of every reader of The Birmingham News.

The International News Service, employing some of the most brilliant news writers in the world, covering every field of activity of interest to the general public, gives its best seven days in the week to readers of The News.

The United Press, an ably edited service, with a vast corps of correspondents, some of them of international fame, adds its report seven days per week to the huge volume of news that comes to News readers.

The Consolidated Press Association furnishes a brilliant array of European news, sport news, market and financial news and the inimitable, unequaled daily dispatches of David Lawrence, America's foremost Washington correspondent.

In addition to these, there are scores and scores of special correspondents, scattered over Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia, in Washington, New York and other centers, who report the doings of their communities especially for The News. Mark Sullivan and Frank Simonds, men of world wide reputation, write daily and Sunday for News readers.

The News has the ablest, most complete, most authoritative market and financial pages ever attempted by a Southern newspaper. Every day it has the dispatches of Stuart P. West, a notable authority, covering every phase of the market, stocks, bonds, curb, cotton, wheat, livestock, commenting on, interpreting, forecasting the trend of the market. Quotations on all the commodities that are actively traded in, including the only complete bond table, the only complete curb market table, the only complete stock table published in Alabama—these and more are to be found on The News' financial pages every day.

Read what W. H. Kettig, a member of the Federal Reserve Board for the Sixth district, says of the News' commercial news, including its wonderful daily survey of the business and commodity news of the day:

> "I want to compliment you on the wonderful financial page you have recently gotten up in your paper. The stock market and bond market reports are the best that I have seen in any paper in the South. They compare favorably with any paper published in the United States."

The fiction published in The Birmingham News is one of its really great features. Two daily married life serials, one complete novel, published serially in the daily and Sunday News, a complete novel published in full page installments every Sunday, and a brand new, never-before-published short story every Sunday, written by one of the master fiction writers of the world—this comprises the fiction side of The News.

Seven funny, up-to-the-minute, dandy comics every day, with four full pages of the best in America every Sunday. Humorous features, like Abe Martin, Hambone, O. O. McIntyre's gossip of the White Way, Ring Lardner, Helen Rowland's witty column about men and women, and dozens of others join in giving News readers plenty of laughs.

The sport service is the most complete and comprehensive ever assembled in any newspaper anywhere. Special writers include Walter Camp, Lawrence Perry, John B. Foster, Fairplay, Grantland Rice, Frank G. Menke and many others, the leading authorities in the world on every line of sport. Absolutely complete and detailed sports news from every college of any consequence in the South, and in baseball season a comprehensive service from all the important leagues, the semi-professional teams and the amateurs all over Alabama.

All of the really great, outstanding features of the day are published in The Birmingham News, such as the greatest of them all, Joseph P. Tumulty's "Woodrow Wilson As I Know Him," now running daily and Sunday in liberal installments.

Then there are serious, informative articles about history, art, literature, the drama, diplomacy, politics, statesmanship. Then, too, there are household helps, health hints, beauty guides, advice to the lovelorn, and a thousand and one odds and ends that go to make The Birmingham News truly—

The South's Greatest Newspaper.

If you are not getting this great newspaper—a paper with an appeal to every person in the home—full out this coupon, attach your check and mail it today.

Date..............................132.

THE BIRMINGHAM NEWS,
Birmingham, Ala.:

Enclosed fine $......................for which send The Birmingham News.........................months to:

Name ....

Postoffice .... State..................

R. F. D. or Street ....

Check Edition Wanted: Daily...... Sunday...... Daily and Sunday......

Check whether New or Renewal: New........... Renewal...........

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

The time to register is right NOW. Every Democratic voter in Chilton County should qualify as a voter at once. Ladies, it is up to you especially to make yourself ready to vote. If you do not, before the campaign is over you will regret it more than anything that will come your way in 1922. Some of the issues are going to be peculiarly important to you and your children.

A notice of the County Registrars dates will be found in our columns weekly for the next two months. Watch your date and meet it.

LOWER RATES ON FARM PRODUCTS

REDUCTION OF TEN PER CENT EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 1922.

STATE BORROWS NO MONEY

Barge Carries Biggest Load of Cotton Down The Warrior—Talladega Building Good Roads—Rate Hearing Postponed.

Montgomery.—New Years present to the shippers of Alabama, is contained in a voluntary offer of the railroads doing business in Alabama, to cut rates on certain farm products ten per cent effective January 1, 1922. The offer of a voluntary reduction for six months on farm products was contained in a letter to the commission from E. A. DeFuniak, general freight agent of the Louisville and Nashville at Louisville, representing not only the L. and N., but other Alabama carriers. Immediately on receipt of the offer to cut rates, the commission wrote Mr. DeFuniak giving him authority to issue the necessary tariffs effective January 1, 1922. It was stipulated however, by the commission that this reduction woud in no may affect the status of the case now pending wherein the Public Service Commission has ordered all railroads to show cause why a general re-adjustment of rates should not be had.

The commodity rates which will be affected by the reduction, and which only apply carload, are as follows: grain, any quantity; grain products, and quantity; hay including alfalfa hay, straw; butter, cheese, eggs in the shell, live poultry; cottonseed; cottonseed hulls; tobacco, which is unmanufactured, fresh or green fruits, any quantity; dried or evaporated fruits except canned or candied, crystalized, glazed or stuffed; fresh or green vegetables but not including canned or preserved; live stock, wool in grease; raw peanuts in the shell. Rates on cotton have already been reduced by the carriers on order of the Public Service Commission.

* * *

Talladega's Good Roads.

Talladega.—Talladega county now has 28 miles of surfaced highways under construction, which will complete the Florida Short Route and the Bankhead Highway. Insofar, as this county is concerned and will give a total of nearly 100 miles of surfaced roads within the limits of Talladega county. When this work is completed Talladega will have one of the best systems of public roads in the state, as this is one political subdivision of Alabama where as much attention is paid to maintenance as to construction.

* * *

Assessors Get Higher Rate.

Montgomery.—County tax assessors in Alabama will not receive the higher rate of commission for the collection of the one mill state pension tax and the three mill special state school tax, authorized by the general revenue act of 1919, until next year—1922. Announcement that this section of the general revenue act would not apply until 1922 was made by officials of the state auditor's office.

* * *

To Probe Railroad

Gadsden.—The order of reference signed by Judge Sanford in the United States court at Chattanooga last week and received here shows that the scope of inquiry into the charge that the Tennessee, Alabama & Georgia Railroad is mismanaged is rather broad and will cover a number of questions involved in the conduct of the affairs of the road both before and after it was thrown into the hands of a receiver.

* * *

Christmas Business Good.

Ashland.—Christmas business in Ashland was better than at any time in the last three years, according to statements of a majority of the merchants. Many of the merchants state that trade is holding up beyond their most optimistic expectations, and several find that their stocks will not last them during the holiday season.

* * *

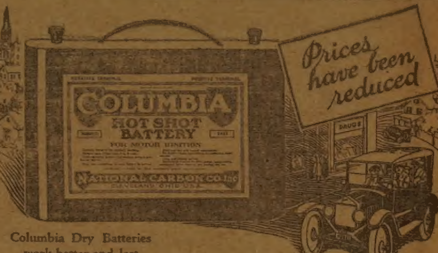
Seven P. M. Applicants.

Gadsden.—Seven applicants for the Gadsden postoffice are reported to have sent their examination papers to Washington, five Republicans and two Democrats. One of the Democrats is said to be a woman. The papers are to be graded by the civil service board and the list turned over to the Postoffice Department.

* * *

Rate Hearing Postponed

Montgomery.—The Alabama Public Service Commission has postponed until Monday, February 6th, the hearing involving rates on all railroads in Alabama. This case was originally set for January 9, but it was found that on this date, shippers representatives would be engaged in a similar case involving interstate rates before the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, therefore, it was thought best to postpone the Alabama hearing.



Columbia Dry Batteries work better and last longer

—for bells and buzzers
—for thermostats
—for gas engines
—for dry battery lighting in closet, cellar, garret, barn, etc.
—for ignition on the Ford, while starting. Put an end to cold weather "balks".

The world's most famous dry battery, used where group of individual cells is needed. Fahnestock Spring Clip Binding Posts at no extra charge

You want the quick start—

START your Ford car quick, no matter how cold the weather, on a Columbia "Hot Shot" Ignition Battery No. 1461. One package, 6 volts. Superior to a wired-up group of ordinary cells. Works better, lasts longer. Ideal for stationary gas engines, too. For bells and buzzers, you need but one Columbia "Bell Ringer." Little package—big power.

Sold by electricians, auto accessory shops and garages, hardware and general stores. The name Columbia is on the label.

Columbia Dry Batteries
—they last longer

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt Edge.

Sewing Machines

is my Middle Name. Come in and let me fix you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins

Ready for New Yea

We have stocked up with a complete line fresh, Fancy and family supplies. Anythi you need for the table and prices that cannot beat.

We thank you for your trade in 1921 an solicit your continued patronage for 1922.

Our best efforts to serve will be at yo command.

F.M. Connell & So

For Sale

In as much as the Mica mining business is now c ing to its own again, we will sell our Midway St Business, including building, fixtures, stock of go also nice seven room dwelling house with four acres land with it. We have one of the best places of bu ess in the State considering the amount of investme Our business icenters to the Auto trade, doing onl cash business,. We maintain three meal services, Djninig Car, Hotel and Care, also a modern filling tion, a line of groceries together with drugs and noti It will take something like five thousand dollars to the outfit complete. If you have the money and wa good business come down and look the situation io We serve more dollar meals at our place than is se anywhere else between Montgomery and Birmingh We serve more fried chicken, virigin style, tha served at the Tutwiler Hotel in Birmingham.

Midway Refreshment Co.

Mountain Creek, Ala.

The Store of Honest Values and Low Prices

My friends have been especially generous with me in their patronage the past season, for which I am deeply grateful.

My large stock of Dry Goods, Notions, Furnishings, Shoes, Clothing and Groceries has been bought with an eye single to your needs and a desire to please you and give you the very best bargains possible for your money

I solicit a continuance of your patronage and promise to do all in my power to please.

Everything Bought New and Nobby.

Yours for Business

TOM KEMP.

More Goodyear Tires and Tubes Received

We have received four shipments of tires this month. Eaco shipment we thought enoug to fill our demand for Novemwer.

There is a reason for this and if you are not one of our Goodyear customers make that next tire a Goodyear.

30x3 Plin Cure	$ 9.95
30x3 All Weather Tread	12.35
30x3½ Non-Smid Sincle Cure	10.95
30x3½ All Weather Tread	1[illegible].75

We carry large sizes in Fabric and Cord.

Lawrence Garage

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabama, Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be rupliecater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions; Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is uy to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the leate come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

We do all kinds of Job Printing

Send us your next order

HOW AND WHERE I SPENT CHRISTMAS

(By Mrs. J. L. Scroggins.)

On Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock, Mrs. Belle Jones and Children and myself left home to go to the new Baptist church to the Christmas tree and can say the exercises were simply great. It showed that great practice and pains were used in training the children. When Santa made his appearance, there was great applause from the children. He sure did bring a large pack of presents with him. On Saturday after my routine of morning work was completed I began to prepare my lot of Christmas gifts to carry to the tree at Baker's School House. I never found it a small task either to wrap and tie and put names on about 27 different packages. Mrs. Bob Jones and I left home at one in the P. M., to go out to the tree arriving on time after puting my packages on and passing jokes with my friends, whom I will always love. 'twas time for the exercises to begin. The recitations, dialogues and songs were all so nice. here again was shown good work on the teacher's part by training the children. Santa was a little late arriving. Frank Hayes announced that he had had a puncture. Old Santa wasn't satisfied to come by himself, so he had Mrs. Santa, whom he called aunt Hanna, and his negro chauffer was with him also. I don't think I ever saw a tree with so many presents on it. From a little wagon down to a box of snuff for Mrs. Santa. After the closing of all most of us got to come home in a nice shower of rain. I also attended the tree for the little folks at Mrs. Leonard Williams on, Saturday night which also was so nice. I retired at nine o'clock, full of joyful anticipation, for on the morrow I was to go to papa's and mama's home and spend the day. The children were all there—Walter Ward and family, Jim, Nancy and Hugh Scroggins and children, besides several others (and me.) Such a table of victuals.

Now, Mr. Editor, if you and family had been there, you would have got your Christmas dinner. Not had to eat "peas and taters" either.

Mr. Bud Jones and family, Will Watson and family, Fred Gray and family, were among the p.m. callers.

Promptly at 4:00 we left to come home. So ended one more happily spent Christmas day with papa and mama.

On Monday Mrs. Jimmie Cox and children, Mrs. Arthur Cox, and children were at my home. On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap and family, Mr. Walter L. Ward and family, Mr. Jodie Mims and family, Miss Eva M Mims, all spent the day with.

I say the dinner table can tell there wasn't anything more when all was through eating.

On Wednesday I spent the day with Mrs. Cox. Another good dinner was served to about 15. Wednesday I spent a pleasant hour with Miss Bula Dunlap who had returned from a visit to friends in Montgomery. On Thursday I went to the picture show at the Ideal, which was sure a good show. I believe if the new management would always put on a clean, true to life picture as that of Thursday, he could at all times haye a large crowd.

On Friday Misses Eva Mims and Nancy Dunlap spent the day with me. Also Mrs. Ramsey called in the p.m.

So ends my week of pleasure, except Saturday, and think I can sure call it house cleaning day.

Then comes the New Year. May the giver of all good help each and all to keep their new year pledges to do better for I know we all intend to do more for Him who pours His many blessings on us as the days go by. Wishing all a happy and prosperous new year.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the people for the kindness shown us during the sickness and death of our son and brother, James Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Scott and Family.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic

[illegible]troys the malarial germs which are transmitted [illegible] blood by the Malaria Mosquito. Price [illegible]

A PROCLAMATION

Executive Department,
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 16, 1921.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at a special session held in the year 1921, proposed a certain amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, and ordered an election to be held thereon on the first Monday after the expiration of three months from and after the final adjournment of said session, which will be Monday, the 30th day of January, 1922;

AND WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thos. E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct, and proclaim, that a special election will be held on Monday, January 30, 1922, for the vote of the qualified electors of Alabama, in the manner, form, and places required by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

"Article XX. Section 1. The State is authorized to engage in the construction, improvement, repair, and maintenance of public roads, highways, and bridges in the State of Alabama. To this end, and for this purpose, the State is authorized to appropriate funds; and also to issue and sell interest-bearing negotiable State bonds, in an amount not to exceed the sum of twenty-five millions of dollars ($25,000,000.00), to be issued in such denominations, numbers, and series, and maturing at such time, as may be provided for by law; but such bonds shall bear a rate of interest not greater than six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall be sold at a price not less than the par value thereof. Provided, that no bonds shall be issued or sold, under this provision, to such an amount that the interest thereon will exceed the net amount of vehicle license tax collected for the year preceding the issuance of same, and which is set apart for the payment of interest on said bonds. The State Highway Commission or Highway Department shall locate, construct, and maintain highways and state trunk roads so as to connect each county seat with the county seat of the adjoining county by the most direct or most feasible route by a permanent road, having due regard to the public welfare, and to connect the county seats of the several border counties at or near the State line with a public road in the border states. Provided, that in counties which are divided into two or more judicial divisions in each of which regular terms of circuit court are held, the places where said terms of court are held shall likewise be connected with each other. It shall be the duty of said highway commission or highway department to equitably apportion among the several counties the expenditure of both money and labor and the time or times of making such investments. Not less than one-quarter of a million dollars of the proceeds of these bonds shall be set aside and expended by the State Highway Commission in each county in the State. To create a sinking fund for the prompt and faithful payment of the principal and interest on these bonds and for the construction, maintenance, and improvement of such public highways, roads, and bridges, the Legislature shall levy a special annual license or privilege tax on all automobiles, and on all motor driven vehicles which may be used on the public roads and highways of this state. Such bonds when issued shall be a direct obligation of the State, and for the prompt and faithful payment of the principal and interest thereon the full faith and credit of the State is hereby irrevocably pledged, and such bonds shall be exempt forever from all taxes of every kind."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, at the Capitol, in the City of Montgomery, on this the 16th day of November, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-one.

THOS. E. KILBY,
Governor.

By the Governor:
WM. P. COBB,
Secretary of State.

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your houskeeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change. Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, ChiVoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don't forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal atattention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

The Best Shoe Shop

Any and all kinds of Shoe Repairing promptly attended to in the very best and most artisic manner. Shop is fully equipped wih the latest tools and machinery known to the trade for doing all kinds of shoe work.

Also carry atd all times in ntock everything that belongs to any kind of a shoe, such as Half Soles, Shoe Nails, Shoe Laces, Shoe Polish, Rubber Heels, and in fact anything you can possibly need for your shoes.

Remember our PANCO SOLES guaranteed to outlast any pair of shoes.

ARMY SHOES, ANY NUMBER, SOLD CHEAP.

YOUR PATRONAGE SOLICITED.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. f your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

HOP AT MITCHELL DAM

An elaborate New Year's dance was enjoyed by many visitors and employees of the Dixie Construction Company at Mitchell Dam, last Saturday evening, guests being present from Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile, Selma, Verbena, Coopers, Marbury and Clanton. Music was furnished by Tisdale's Orchestra from Montgomery and the dance took place in the Camp Mess Hall. Approximately sixty couples participated in an enjoyable evening. At 11:50, p. m., favors were distributed among the guests and at the hour of 12, the Star Spangled Banner was played, ending up with the old familiar tune of Home Sweet Home.

Color schemes of red and green were in display, the lamps being covered by Japanese lanterns and streamers. Many of the guests spent the night at the Camp, being chaperoned by the wives of officials temporarily located at the Dam.

This dance marks the beginning of social activities at Mitchell Dam, and many surprises are contemplated within the near future.

FOR SALE.—80 acres of land. Range 12, Town Ship 23. Address: Marton Goodson, box 120, Egg Harbor City, N. J.

CROSS ROADS SCHOOL HOUSE

The holidays being over school has started up again. Prof. Gravlee must have enjoyed the holidays very much for he almost let the train leave him Monday morning.

Messrs Ray and Geo. Taylor have been visiting relatives in Montgomery the past week.

Miss Thelma Bates has returned from her home where she went to spend Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Taylor, of Montgomery, have been visiting their parents at Coopers the past week.

This has been a very quiet Christmas around here this time, though everybody seemed to have a pleasant time.

Some farmers found a white cotton bloom Christmas day and it made all the farmers get anxious to start the plows again and make some more of the fickle fleecy staple.

X ROADS.

JEMISON READING CIRCLE

Program for Jan. 14, 1922.

Miss LaGrove	pages 185-192
Miss Jane Anderson	pages 192-204
Mrs. Harris	pages 205-216
Mr. Jno. Anderson	pages 217-226
Miss Sue Thomas	pages 229-238
Miss Bertha Littleton	pages 239-248
Mr. W. E. Martin	pages 249-26b
Mr. Orville Martin	pages 267-274
Mr. Jack Johnson	pages275-280
Miss Retha Robinson	pages 281-285
Mr. Harris	pages 289-297

HOME AT LAST

The managers of the Chilton County News takes great pleasure in being able to announce this week that they have finally been able to consummate their earnest wish to get out the paper in their own office and under their immediate supervision.

We have secured the building recently occupied by Mr. Bud Jones as a feed and produce store. We are next door north of the post office and will be easy to find by our many friends, whom we cordially invite to call and inspect us and our outfit in our new home.

After this issue, which will be rather cramped owing to our having to move, we shall strive to give you an all home paper of which you may be proud. We intend to cover the local news field up to the minute, and, as in the past, we shall do our utmost in every cause that tends to the upbuilding and betterment of Chilton County and Clanton. We thank you.

ALABAMA TOPICS

January 9 has been fixed by the Alabama Public Service Commission as the date for consideration of the proposed new scale of intra-state freight rates which has been submitted by Alabama carriers, in response on behalf of the railroads for a postponement of the hearing originally set for December 12.

* * *

William H. Hill, former railroad conductor, who is serving a sentence for manslaughter in the second degree, has been given a 30-day parole by Governor Kilby to allow him an opportunity to have an operation performed which is necessary, according to physicians.

* * *

A negro by the name of Ricks was shot and almost instantly killed by Deputy Deloney, at Leighton, Colbert County, when the deputy attempted to arrest the negro. It is said the negro drew a pistol which Deputy Deloney knocked from his hand and then fired five shots into his body.

* * *

Impressive ceremonies marked the laying of corner stone of the new Scottish Rite cathedrial now under construction at Mobile. It is said the new cathedrial will be one of the most imposing structures in the South when completed and Masons from all sections of Alabama were present at the ceremonies.

* * *

Work on four new steel barges for government use in dredging and snagging on the Warrior and Tombigbee rivers will be commenced soon. It is estimated that the barges will cost $48,000 and will be ready for operation in the spring.

* * *

In response to requests from physicians in Irondale, Huntsville and Ensley, serum treatmet has been mailed to these points for use in treatment to be administered to children bitten by mad dogs. The serum has been supplied by the State Pasteur Institute.

* * *

Second trades day has been arranged by the Jasper Merchants' Association which will be held about the middle of the month. The first trades day was a success and the business men of Jasper are planning strongly for a second one.

* * *

Moving picture films have been added to the course of study in Anniston public schools and arrangements have been made by the school heads with a local moving picture show for the showing of educational films to the children.

* * *

The grand jury in its report at Luverne, has commended the present court of county commissioners on the improved condition of the roads in the county, which they say, is largely due to the employment of an efficient civil engineer.

* * *

Governor Kilby has added $300 to the reward of $500 offered by Jewish citizens of Birmingham for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who killed Sam Feigan, a Jewish merchant, on the night of November 22nd.

* * *

Between 5,000 and 6,000 tons of high pressure Birmingham iron pipe are scheduled to leave factories for the Pacific coast via Mobile during December.

* * *

A force of men have begun dismanteling of the shipbuilding plant which was constructed at Chickasaw, a suburb of Mobile, during the World War at a cost of several million dollars to the government.

* * *

That which is said to be one of the largest turnips ever seen in the state has been presented to Governor Kilby by officials of the Alabama Boys' Industrial School.

* * *

Cordell Hull, chairman of the democratic national committee, is expected to confer with the state democratic executive committee in Montgomery early in January.

* * *

The month of November closed with three deaths at the Soldiers' Home at Mountain Creek. The average deaths for the year, however, at the home is less than in former years.

* * *

Wilson Robinson, negro, alleged to have killed his wife, was convicted at Gadsden of second degree murder and has been sentenced to serve twenty-five years in the state prison.

* * *

D. Shubert, a farmer living near Jasper, is said to have slaughtered a mammouth Poland-China hog which weighed 765 pounds after it was dressed.

* * *

An intensive campaign has been launched in Elmore County for the organization of a farm bureau.

* * *

After a busy week in Morgan County, a checkup at the sheriff's office shows eleven stills were seized during that period and several gallons of whiskey were taken.

* * *

ed from the state prison during a recent severe electrical storm, was at liberty only over night as he was recaptured by several Elmore County farmers near Wetumpka.

* * *

The erection of a stockade to relieve conditions at the city jail in Birmingham is being planned.

RAILROADS PLACE BIG RAIL ORDERS

NEW YEAR BEGINS WITH QUICKENED INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITIES

FARMERS FEED THEMSELVES

Florence "Dollar For Job" Concern Being Investigated — Sylacauga Building New Light Plant. Alabama Yams and Cane Syrup.

Birmingham.—The L. & N. Railroad has placed orders for 50,000 tons of rails for 1922 delivery. Of this tonnage all but 5,000 tons will be rolled at the Ensley mill of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company.

News of the orders came via New York and has been locally confirmed.

In addition to the order for 45,000 tons for the Louisville and Nashville the Tennessee company some time ago booked one for same amount for the Southern Pacific for 1922.

When the Ensley rail mill begins its 1922 grind it will have 90,000 tons on order books from two Southern roads alone. The normal production of the Ensley mils is 6,000 tons per week.

* * *

"In Out of the Cold."

Albany.—A cat now occupies a prominent place in the household of H. B. Beard, manager of the American Oak Leather Company's plant here. The cat inadvertently prevented a robbery of the Beard home.

A few nights ago Mr. Beard went into the cellar of his Jackson Street home to put more coal into the burner. As he descended the stairway he noticed his cat following, and turning to the feline, he inquired, "Well, what are you doing hree?" He was astonished to hear a negro's voice reply from the darkness, "Boss, I just come in here out of the cold." The negro fled.

* * *

Yams and Cane Syrup

Montgomery.—Luther D. Fuller, of Jamestown, N. Y., chief agricultural agent for the Erie Railroad and former Montgomerian, who is spending the holidays here with relatives, told officials at the state agricultural department that he believes he can find a market for Alabama sweet potatoes and cane syrup. Local and Southern markets for these important Alabama farm products are dull at present and there are large quantities of both on hand. Mr. Fuller stated that as soon as folks in the North and East achieve a full appreciation of Southern yarms and ribbon cane syrup, the marketing commodities will no longer be a problem.

* * *

"Dollar For a Job."

Gadsden.—Working people in Alabama City are reported to be getting letters from Florence and vicinity in which the proposition is made that if they will send $1 in cash to the writer they will be guaranteed a job there providing Henry Ford obtains a lease on the Muscle Shoals project. It is understood that the matter has been taken up with the federal authorities with the request that the scheme be investigated. According to information some of the people of Alabama City have complied with the terms of the letter by sending $1 to the writer, who appears to have an extensive mailing list.

* * *

Shipping Increase Expected.

Mobile.—Anticipating resumption of shipping and other business, over 1,000,000 barrels of fuel oil will soon be tied up at this port by the shipping board. There are now 14 tankers with cargo aboard tied up here and seven or more will arrive later. The oil is being discharged into empty tankers already tied up at Mobile.

* * *

To Reorganize Corporation.

Gadsden.—According to T. S. Kyle, receiver, the sale of the assets of the Queenelda Graphite Company at Ashland means a complete reorganization of the $5,000,000 corporation. It is the intention to enter the fabrication end of the business by manufacturing articles of commerce made out of graphite.

* * *

Cheaper Gas Promised.

Huntsville.—The Huntsville Gas company, through its manager, C. J. Demurs, has promised a cheaper gas rate to the people of Huntsville. Manager Demurs, at a meeting of the city council to which he was summoned, said his company was figuring out a new rate which would probably be put in effect about the first of April.

* * *

Changes In Florence.

Florence.—New Year, 1922, is witnessing a great many changes in the business section of Florence. Contracts are being let for remodelling and improving store buildings, and the principal streets will take on a "dressed up" effect within the next few weeks.

* * *

With the close of the old year Wm. G. Robertson completed his fifty fifth year as Sunday School Superintendent at Carrollton.

Notice

Town of Clanton—
All property tax will be delinquent January 1, 1922, and subject to penalty after that date.

All who have not paid will please call and pay at once, thus avoiding the necessity of enforcing penalty.

V. J. Gragg, Mayor.
J. Mell Martin, Clerk.

CABBAGE PLANTS.

Frost Proof Cabbage Plants. Early Jersey Wakefield Cabbage Plants.. Charleston Wakefield Cabbage Plants. Long Island Wakefield Cabbage Plants. Late Flat Drum Head Cabbage Plants. 30c per hundred post paid, or $2.00 per thousand express collect.

D. D. WOOLEY,
Wilton, Ala.

Notice.

The undersigned garages have been doing some credit business, which is an accommodatio to the car owners ever since we began business.

We have to pay cash for automobile parts, gasoline, general expences and labor. All accessories purchased during the month we have to pay for on the first of the following month.

To those whom we are extending credit terms to, in future, we will expect you to settle your accounts with us on the first of each month.

If the above rules are not lived up to we will be forced to put our business on a cash basis.

Lawernce Garage
Main St. Garage
Carter Bros. Garage
Clanton Motor Car Co.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

I have for sale two five room houses. One has 1 acre and the other has 2 acres of good productive land with all kinds of fruit trees now bearing.

Finest place in the world to raise poultry, or anything else you desire to raise.

These houses are in fine shape and must be sold at once, so I am offering them at a bargain. One for $800.00 with as low as $200.00 cash, balance $20.00 per month. The other for $1,000.00 with terms to suit purchaser.

Both located in Mountain Creek, Ala., on the L. & N. railroad.

Will rent to a good advantage. If interested, see Mr. J. A. P. Baxley, at Mountain Creek, Ala. or write me at 2431, Bessemer Boulevard, Birmingham, Ala.

C. H. BAXLEY, Agent
12-22-2

Notice

Town of Clanton—
Notice is hereby given that 1922 license and street tax will be due January 1, 1922 and all persons, firms, corporations or companies subject to said license or tax will please call on the Clerk at once and settle same and avoid any trouble and expense contingent upon the enforcement of the law.

V. J. Gragg, Mayor.
J. Mell Martin, Clerk.

WANTED CROSSTIES

Highest market price paid for white Oak, red Oak and post Oak ties.

G. M. Fuqua, Clanton, Alabama.

Ladies, you cannot afford not to vote. Take our word for it, you will always regret it if you fail to qualify this year.

McDonald's Variety Store
BIRTHPLACE OF CUT PRICES
Come to us. Shoes, Dry Goods, Staple and Fancy Groceries

McDonald's Variety Store
VERBENA, ALABAMA.
Railroad Avenue—East of the Postoffice

To Make Money Easy
You Ought To Do Your Trading With
C. C. Armstrong
FOR A DOLLAR SAVED IS A DOLAR MADE, AND HE SURE WILL SAVE YOU THE DOLLARS.

He carries a full line of Dry Goods, Notions, Shoes and Furnishings, besides a well assorted stock of Staple and Fancy Groceries.

If you want to meet with courteous treatment and Lowest Prices why the answer is: Trade at
G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son
Clanton, Alabama.

The New York Store

See the NEW YORK STORE before buying your Winter Needs. Our Stock is complete Remember, our goods MUST be satisfactory to our customers.

The New York Store
Clanton, Alabama.

W D Spigner

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, JANUARY 12, 1922. NUMBER 18

SENATOR NEWBERRY SAYS HE DIDN'T KNOW

Senator Newberry's 'defence' on the floor of the United States Senate yesterday, was one of the most extraordinary performances this country has ever witnessed. If we are to believe the statement made by Mr. Newberry, he is the veriest 'babe in the wood,' a man who got elected to the high office of a United State senator without having the slightest idea that huge sum were being spent on his candiacy. He thought the publicity work would more expensive than usual, and regret when he discovered that his seat had cost him $195,000.

During his absence in New York serving his country in a swivel chair job in the navy department, enthusiastic and well-to-do friends bought a seat in the United State Senate and handed it to him on a silver platter. not a dollar came out of his pocket. He knew that he was a candidate for the Senate and, according to his testimony, that was about all. Was there ever before in the history of the world a candidate so little informed about what was going on in his behalf? We doubt it.

Senator Newberry admits the soft impeachment of the $195,000 If he is sincere, when he learned of his heavy expenditure for his campaign, he should have declined to accept the office. But he didn't, and he proposes to retain his seat with the aid of republicans in the Senate,

AGE HERALD

We do Job Printing.

Dont miss the big MERCHANTS BAZAAR at the Strand Theatre Saturday night at 7:30.

THE HIGHWAY AMENDMENT ELECTION

An enthusiastic meeting of Clanton citizens was held on Monday night at the court house to organize for the coming election on January the 30th for the adoption of the Highway Amendment which means a splendid throughout the county and other roads leading to the highway. The meeting was called to order by the Chairman Rev. P. G. Carter. The following were appointed to act as a central committee with power to act:—Secretary and Treasure, Mr Howard Foshee Executive Committee; W. T. Callens, C. B. Cox, B. J. Sessions, C. R. Mullins, J. A. Maddox. For the purpose of organiznig the Beats the following Chairman for each Beat were appointed:— Beat 1 Mr. O. R. Mullins, Beat 2 W. H. Conway, Beat 3 Will De Shazer, Beat 4 Ed Giles, E. H. Mims Joe Jackson and Zach Lowry. Beat 5 W. A. Gulledge Tom Henderson, Beat 6 J. R. Owens Bob Wilkens, Beat 7 Dr. C. N. Parnell, Charlie T. Walker, H. R. Owens Beat 8 W. C. Dyer, T. G. Milling, Beat 9 C. R. Foss, Bill Benson, Beat 10 H. M. Smith J. Lee Cox, Beat 11 Jack Gentry, Beat 12 T. J. Dolmony, S. N. Dupriest, Richard Robinson Beat 13 John B. Moore, William G. Conway, Beat 14 J. Clint Veasey Tom J Hubbard. Beat 15 E. C. Caldwell, Will Burnett John M. Culp, Beat 16 J. Monroe Parrish aad J. A. Mims. These Chairmen are asked to solicit the assistance of others in their respective Beat as committeeman who they know are favorable to the amendment.

An office will be establised in the Court House in the room known as the Treasurers Office where you can apply for any information or literature necessary All those who are properly informed will not vote against it, but will give it their loyal support. It is the only way to have good roads built in our county and properly maintained. It benefits every farmer, and citizen, and saves time and money.

It does not incrdase the taxes one peny, it saves expense in the upkeep of your cars, buggies or wagons. The other States have already approved of the Amendment and are already drawing their appropriation. Why leave Alabama in the mud and especially Chilton County when the government is willing to give us these good roads without extra taxes, built under Federal Supervision and maintained by the State. This is just a fair square deal. Every intelligent citizen properly informed will vote for it. Call on us for any further information if there is anything you do not know or understand about it. We will furnish you this free of charge.

P. G. Carter, Chairman,
Howard Fonhee, Secretary.

The office of Congressman Jeffers announces the publication by the Department of Agriculture of a new Farmers' Bulletin, No. 1228, entitled 'A week's Food For a an AverageFamily'. This bulletin covers the subdect of food planning for the average family, and includes pictures and charts and printed directions for proper planning for the food for a family.

Anyone desiring this bulletin can have it sent to them free by requesting it from Congressman Lamar Jeffers, Washington, D. C.

We do Job Printing.

—OF THE—

First National Bank

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts	$175,821.58
Overdrafts	none
United States Bonds	30,000.00
Other Bonds	10,100.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,326.14
Redemption Fund	1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank	1,100.00
CASH IN VAULT AND IN BANKS	88,123.41
Total	$308,971.13

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock	$30,000.00
Surqlus and Uudivided Profits	12,016.94
Circulation	30,000.00
DEPOSITS	236,954.19
Total	$308,971.13

State of Alabama, County of Chilton.

I, Jno. C. Page, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Jno. C. Page, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 3rd day of January, 1922.

J. R. Mullin, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest.
D. I. Deramus,
E. E. Upchurch,
G. C. Walker,
Directors.

Conservative, Reliable, Trustworthy.

MRS. STEWART DEAD

Last Tuesday morning at 6:20, the spirit of that noble christian women, Mrs. W. E. Stewart, plumed its flight to the happy realms of eternal day.

The father of Mrs. Stewart was Mr. Sam Adams, who moved to Clanton in her early girlhood days, and operated a large general store on the site now occupied by the depot. Clanton was only a village then.

As she blossomed into young womanhood she met and learned to love Dr. W. E. Stewart and they were married and settled here. Dr. Stewart for years was known far and wide as a noted and successful physician. He was a kind friend to everyone who needed him. He died at his home here in 1903, mourned and missed by hundreds of people who had learned to know him as the years passed by.

Mrs. Stewart was not only a live and active christian, but for years she was a leader and hard worker in all the civic improvements and charitable organizations of the community. Up until feeble health rendered it impossible for her to longer spend herself in behalf of humanity she remained steadfast in her labor for every good cause. Clanton will miss her gentle voice and sweet influence in the charitable endeavors of the future.

Mrs. Stewart was 63 years of age, and was not ripened for the grave by the fleeting years so much as by her life work devoted to humanity.

She was buried Wednesday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. N. S. Johnson, and the remains were followed to the grave py a large and impressive procession repreeentative of Clanton's citizenry.

Truly the earth has suffered a severe loss, but a bright star has been added to the galaxy above.

WE TOLD YOU SO BIBB GRAVES IS IN

Col. Bibb Graves verified our prediction and entered the race for governor this afternoon.

SMITH—GROOMS

A wedding in which the interest of an unuasually large number of friends was centered, was that of Miss Mildred Smith, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Y. E. Smith, to Curtis Grooms which was solemnized Sunday afternoon January 8th at the home of the brides parrents.

The cermony was performed by Rev. R. T. Gilbert in a most impressive manner.

The wedding was very quiet, there being only a few relatives and intermate friends present. The bride never looked lovelier eve. She was attired in a beautiful midnight blue tafeta dress, embroidered with accessories to match. The groom is an Ex-service boy, having served over seas several months during the Worlds War.

He is one of the best young men our country affords. Their many friends are pleased to know they will make their home among us. The cermony was followed by a reception, Mrs. Smith was assisted in serving by Mrs. Kirby Summers.

'Democrat'

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.

Mr. Leon Evans, a graduate of C. C. H. S., has been appointed as Cadet to the Naval Accademy at Annapolis. His appointment comes through our Congressman, Hon. Lamar Jeffers.

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Mrs. Martin Nix Entertains

Mrs. Nix was hostess to the Thursday Embroidery club on last Thursday afternoon. After some time spent the art of finger work. Mrs. Nix served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. Earl Gowan Hostess

The study club held its regular monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. Earl Gowan on last Friday, afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. John VanDeveer. after all the business had been attended to, the following program was carried out Subject—Representative Women—Lerder, Mrs. Barney Roberts. Roll Call. Name of a prominent leader of today.

Women in Literature—Mrs. Broadhead.

Wnmen in Education—Mrs. Ella Flag Young, Mrs. Heard.

Women in Philanthropy—Mrs. Russell Sage, Helen Gould—Mrs. Hester

Women in Social work—Jane Adams—Mrs. Wilson.

Discvssion—Women in the Business World. Women in the Home. What effect will the Nineteenth Amendment have on the women in general?

About twenty of the Club members were present, and Mesdames Nix, Page, Osmond Middleton, of Mobile, Page, of Tennessee, McMillon and Rawlinson were visitors to the Club.

Mrs. Gowan served a delicious salad couase with hot chocolate, assisted by Mrs. Grady Broadhead.

Sundy School Class Meets.

The Philathea Class of the Methodist Sunday School held its regular monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. T. C. McSwain, on Monday afternoon. As this was a business session, there was no program. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Barney Roberts.

The following officers were elected to serve the coming year:

Pres. Mrs. Guy Roberts, Sec. Mrs. T. C. McSwain, Trers., Mrs. M. L. White, Teacher, Mrs. J. C. Jones, Assistant Teacher, Mrs. M. F. Jones. After which the hostess served delicious refreshments.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. R. C. McDavid on the Second Monday in February.

Birthday Party.

Master Alex Hays was host to his many little friends on Saturday afternoon at a birthday party at the residence of his parents Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Hays Master Alex was six years old and about 25 of the future belles and beaux of Clanton were present. He received quite a number of useful prsents. Afer a numeber of games were enjoyed they were invited into the dining room which was made very attractive for the occasion. The center piece of the table was the birthday cake, much fun was indulged in the blowing out of the candles and delicous refreshments were served. The young host was assisted in entertaining his guests by his mother, his two sisters Katherine and Mrs. Grady Broadhead.

Mesdames R. E. Luckie and John Armstrong were visitors to the Magic city on last Friday.

Mrs. Osmand Middleton, of Mobile, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Littlejohn.

Mrs. Wade spent Friday in Birmingham shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Luckie and little son Robert left Monday night for DeLand, Florida where they go for a visit to Mrs. Luckies sister.

Mrs. Curry came up the first of the week from Wetumpka, to visit her son Mr. T. A. Curry.

There will be organized a parents and teachers organization at the Grammar School Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The ladie's of the town are requested to be present.

STOPPING NUMBER ONE

A strong delegation went to Montgomery last Tuesday for the purpose of stopping train No. one, Dr. V. J. Grage, J.B. Atkinson, P. G. Carter, C. R. Mullins, C. B. Cox, R. D. Busby, was the personal delegation. A splendid hearing was given and strong evidence and testimony supplied in the support of the stopping of this train, showing that Birmingham, Montgomery, Columbiana and Syclacauga besides Clanton and the precinct would be adequately served by this train. The Assistant Attorney General in conducting the case did all within his power to strenghten the evidence and it now looks hopeful for the train to stop at Clanton about May 1st. With the prestige that the Chamber of Commerce has in matters of this kind as also in other advantages for the citizens of Clanton it is likely to prove successful.

The Chamber of Commerce is an organization that is working for the every individual citizen therefore, if you are not a member, join now.

P. G. CARTER, Secy.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

The Registrars will be at Stanton again on January 28. On account of rain they missed their former daet there.

Visit the BAZAAR and see the Big Mystery picture
SERCULAR STAIR CASE.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

JNO. M. ROBINSON

DIES

Mr John M. Robinson, aged 74 died at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. John Giles on Sunday Jan. 8th and was buried the following day at the Robinson Cemetery, near Mineral Springs, Rev. Thomas officiating

Mr. Robinson was a well known citizen of that community and will be missed by many relatives and friends. He leaves a wife and several other relaties.

Undertaker Martin was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

MRS. LINDSEY W. HENLEY DIES

Mrs. Lindsey W. Henley, aged 71 died Saturday, Jan. 7th and was buried Sunday afternoon, Jan. 8th at Plesant Grove church Rev. C. D. Messer officiating at the grave.

Mrs. Henley is survived by a husband and a large family of children, besides fifty grandchildren.

The funeral arrangements were made and personally conducted by undertaker Martin.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama.

W. B. Corley ....Editor
J. L. Johnson...Business Mgr.

CARTER & JOHNSON
Proprietors

Subscription price $1.00 per year strictly in advance.

Advertising rates on application.

Entered in the post office at Clanton as second class mail matter under act of Congress.

To Our Readers.

The owners of the Chilton County News have bought a complete printing outfit and have it moved and partly assembled in the building just north of the post office, recently occupied by Mr. Bud Jones as a feed and produce establishment.

We found the building badly in need of repairs, which will be made as speedily as the necessary windows and plate glass for the doors can be secured and installed. The roof will also have to be overhauled before we can unpack much or work to any advantage. We tell you all this so you may understand and excuse all short comings in the paper that may appear for a week or so.

Under our present conditions the wonder will be if we get out at all. With both ends out and the top off of a building, with wind, rain and sleet the prevailing weather conditions, the operation of a printing establishment would ordinarily be considered an impossibility, but we managed to mail out an issue last week and none of the force are dead yet, but all of us are so hoarse our voices sound like the lonesome wail of a super-six bull frog in July.

We will be glad to welcome you all at our new home and invite you most cordially to come in and see us, but if it is a cold day be sure to bring all your winter wraps along and if it even looks like rain you better bring your best rain coat and a good umbrella.

Good luck to you all and may the New Year be happy, prosperous and full of success for you every one. We thank you.

Just Like George.

We have hardly picked up a paper for the last three weeks but what it contained a story in regard to some all round vegetable dinner served fresh from the garden at this season of the year.

Clanton cannot afford to be beat at anything, so we want to tell you of a dinner served in our city the other day The hostess gave her guests snap beans, tomatoes, table peas, sweet corn, egg plant, beets, squash, potatoes, radishes, cabbage and onions, all garden grown.

Our respect for the memory of the illustrous George Washington constrains us to say that most of the articles the lady canned from her garden in their season.

The conference of many names in session at Washington has about talked itself to death at last. The net results can be fully sumed up in the word nix.

The present republican Congress is preparing now to take over all the police powers of the States under an act entitled the "lynching bill." It will take the democrats the next four years to undo the vicious legislation put out by this bunch and give back to the people the freedom that belongs to them.

The capitalists have succeeded in getting two more "bidders" for Muscle Shoals. They don't intend for Ford to get it if they can help it.

In eighteen more days now you are going to have a chance to say at the ballot box whether or not you want the State to issue $25,000,000 worth of Road Bonds. January 30 is the day. Have you made up your mind? If you were to ask our advice we should say, vote for bonds, if for no other reason than as a matter of giving employment to a large number of the unemployed.

President Harding is going to try his hand at the party lash awhile. The leaders in the Senate want him to whip that "farmers bloc" into line.

If the weather bureau can't dish out any more reasonable weather than what we have had for the past few days, it ought to be added to the Mattawan insane ward.

A few of "the boys" have chucked their hats into the ring as candidates for some of the State offices. Just sit steady in the boat, boys, things will get lively after the 13 instant.

The imminent passage of the infamous "lynching bill" by Congress has awakened several of the newspaper backsliders, who, a few years ago, would insult you if you even intimated that we better hold on to our State's Rights. Did we not deplore the present situation so seriously, it would afford us some satisfaction to say, "We told you so."

Let's don't say anything about a "business governor" nor a "business administration" this time. Let's all yell for a good old time Democratic administration for a change. Business is a good thing in its place, but what the people want now is a "government of, by and for the people" for awhile.

We recently had the opportunity of observing a new dance—the "Cat Waltz"—at close quarters. Our conclusion was that we were born at least 25 years too soon.

The weather is too bad and times too dull now right after the holidays to say much about that Chilton County Cotton Mill, but don't fool yourself. It will hop up a little later and go over the top too. Chilton county is going to build that cotton mill

Mr. J. C. Jones, one of the best posted cotton men in Central Alabama, is optomistic on the cotton question. He told us this week that he was almost certain we would have 20 cent cotton by March 1st.

We invite your attention this week to the announcement of Col. Lawrence F. Gerald for the State Senate This district will make no mistake and can not do better than to elect him. He is a staunch Democrat, an able lawyer and a clean, honest and upright gentleman.

Complete disarmament is impossible. If the arms conference succeeded in outlawing poison gas, some ingenious enemy would probably send a flock of airplanes dropping limberger cheese bombs.

Mrs. Goree Henley who spent the holidays at home in Maplesville, has returned to Montgomery to continue her studies in Draughon's Business College.

FOR SALE—80 acres of land on Lock 12 highway 4 miles from Clanton, will sell or trade for practially new Ford Touring Car. Write or see N. J. Bice Rt. 6 Clanton, Alabama. 3times

General March says an American army of 200,000 enlisted men is absolutely necessary, but a painter always says your house needs painting, a tailor says you need a new suit of cloths and a hatter thinks your hat is growing a bit shabby. —.Exchange

THE ORGANIZATION OF OUR COUNTY GOVERNMENT

I take it that we want to study the civil organization of a county under our Democratic System of Government. This is a subject with a great deal more breadth and depth to it than the casual thinker would presume. It is a most intricate System that is supposed to work harmoniously together for the successful and efficient direction and execution of the various questions of law that may arrive

First, we have an officer known as the Judge Of Probate, who is elected by the people, and his term of service extends through a period of six years. His duties are what might be termed dual in extent, as he automatically becomes Judge of the County Court, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners and controls the general fiscal and financial matters of the county.

Next we have a Circuit Clerk who is also elected by the people for a term of six years, he is supposed to be mainly the recording officer of the county, keeper of court records, and the person through whom all suits are filed, and docked besides numerous other minor duties. Then each County elects a Sheriff who serves also four years. His principal duties are of a police nature. He is required to see to it that all offenders against the peace and dignity of the state are appehended, and turned over to the proper judicial tribunals He also is charged with the duty of having all official papers served, the care of all prisoners, and is general custodian of the public building of the county.

The Treasure in some counties is an elective officer, but in others is let out to lowest bidder, who can qualify by the board of county commissioners. Then we have in each county a tax assessor, and a tax colector who are elected for a period of four years by a vote of the people. Both of these jobs in most of the counties are on a commission basis. Some of them in the more populous counties work on a salary.

We do Job Printing.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF

The Bank of Verbena

LOCATED AT VERBENA, ALA., AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS DECEMBER 31st, 1921.

RESOURCES.

1.	Loans and Discounts	$ 61,574.99
1.	Other Bonds, Stocks and Warrants	930.00
5.	Banking House	3,475.51
3.	Furniture and Fixtures	1,234.26
a.	Curency	5,678.00
b.	Gold	277.50
c.	Silver, Nickles and Penies	235.70
	Total	$ 6,191.20
).	Due from Banks	46,834.62
14.	Other Resources, Revenue Stamps	20.00
	Total	$120,202.58

LIABILITIES.

1.	Capital Stock Paid in	$ 15,000.00
2.	Surplus Fund	817.71
3.	Undivided Profits less Expenses and Taxes Paid	2,209.24
a.	Individual Deposits	100,614.58
f.	Cashiers Checks	261.05
	Total	100,875.63
b.	Time Certificates	1,300.00
	Total	1,300.00
	Total	$ 120,202.58

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Before me came H. W. Davis Cashier of Bank of Verbena, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is true and gives the actual condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

J. C. Pattillo, Notary Public.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 7th day of January, 1922.

J. C. Potillo, Notary Public.

Attest:
H. B. Oliver,
S. L. Gibson,
D. I. Deramus,
H. T. Williams,
W. A. Gulledge,
Directors.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

The time to register is right NOW. Every Democratic voter in Chilton County should qualify as a voter at once. Ladies, it is up to you especially to make yourself ready to vote. If you do not, before the campaign is over you will regret it more than anything that will come your way in 1922. Some of the issues are going to be peculiarly important to you and your children.

A notice of the County Registrars dates will be found in our columns weekly for the next two months. Watch your date and meet it.

Actual Size 25c Bottle (Trial)
50c Bottle holds 3 times as much
$1.00 Bottle holds 8 times as much as 25c size

Penetrates to the bone!

That's Why It Soothes and Promptly Conquers Pain

Unlike other liniments, Mustang is made of healing oils—no alcohol, acids or pepper used. Mustang never burns or smarts, not even when applied to open wounds. Pain is relieved quickly by Mustang, which thoroughly permeates the system and hastens healing. Over 73 years' success guarantees Mustang as best for MAN, LIVESTOCK and POULTRY.

Sold by
DRUG and GENERAL STORES

FREE WITH 25c TRIAL BOTTLE —a solid brass "PUT-and-TAKE" TODDLE TOP—the latest craze. Get one—be popular! Send 25 cents stamps or coin for Trial Bottle (Household Size) Mustang Liniment and get Toddle Top, absolutely free. Lyon Mfg. Co., 41 So. Fifth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MUSTANG
"The Good Old Standby Since 1848".
LINIMENT
LYON MANUFACTURING CO., Proprietors, 41-43-45 South Fifth St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Ready for New Year

We have stocked up with a complete line of fresh, Fancy and family supplies. Anything you need for the table and prices that cannot be beat.

We thank you for your trade in 1921 and solicit your continued patronage for 1922.

Our best efforts to serve will be at your command,

F.M. Connell & Son

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabama, Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is uy to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the leabe come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

We do all kinds of Job Printing
Send us your next order

FFERS WRITES REGARDING POST-MASTER APPOIANTEMT

Washington, D. C
January 2, 1922

ito. Chilton County News,
Clanton, Alabama,

ar Sir;

A. this time I wish to ask you give space in The News to s communication regarding e matter of perference for ex dken in appointing postmas- s.

ou gave space on this sub- t in your issue of October h 1921, to an article I furni- ed. That article appeared ler the heading 'Congressman fers Replies to Probate Judge ynolds.'

Then on October 27th, 1921, letter appeared in the Union- nner, over the name of L. H. ynolds, under the heading dge Reynolds Replies to Con- essman Jeffers.'

In my letter published Octo- r 20th, I stated that the Post- ster General had said to me t the Administration here s trying to 'settle on some cy.' I was doing all within power to secure the adoption a of a policy favorable to the service men and women of s country, as had been prom sed them. The ex-service peo- ple held 'military preference tificates,' and I was trying to the Post Office Department recognize these certificates. e Administration has refused ecognize these 'preference tificates issued, by the Civil vice Commission, thereby king mere scraps of paper their own promises to help ex- vice people.' I was working a policy which would have nefitted these preference cer- cate holders all over the ntry.

n trying to make it appear t I was only working for the pointment of Mr. Parrish e locally at the Clanton post fice, Probate Judge Lewis Rey- lds, in his letter in The Union- nner of October 27th, says: have an ex-soldier at ano- post office that stands in same position as Mr. Par- , but this man is a Republi- and I wish some one would me something that Congress- Jeffers has done to aid this to be appointed postmas- ' Now the answer to that is arent to any thinking person. bate Judge Lewis Reynolds not say what post office he n mind, and that really n't matter, but, of course, fact remains that if the er ex-soldier he had in mind s really in the same position Mr. Parrish, and was the hol- of a 'preference certificate,' had made a passing grade, d had satisfactory business alifications and of good chara- r, and physically fit, then it is fectly clear in the face of it t my efforts to help Mr. rish were also efforts to aid other ex-soldier.

Let me repeat that I was fight- for a 'policy' which would efit the qualified holder of se 'preference' certificates. if the other man was in the e position as Mr. Parrish, n any success I might have in fighting for a policy that uld help one such an ex ser- man would automatically e benefited the other one.

Now I am willing for a show- n on this point with Probate ge Lewis Reynolds. Let him mediately name the other ex- dier whom he had in mind. n let the Judge get Mr. er Street (the republican re- ee), of Guntersville, to ask Post Office Department to d up the Clanton appointment also the appointment at the er post office he had in mind let both appointmnts be de later at the same time. the other ex-soldier is really the same position as Mr. Par- sh,' then let him show his eference certificates' and nish sufficient good recom- dation from reliable citizens prove his satisfactory charac- and reputation in his com- ity, and then I will ask obate Judge Lewis Reynolds to with me in asking for the ognition of the 'preference' this 'other ex-soldier' (Re- lican) at this 'other post of- ' he speaks of, and also at the same time to join me in asking for the recognition of the 'preference' due to Mr. Thomas Parrish (Democrat) at Clanton.

Surely the powerful Probate Judge ought to be able to get the concurrence of Mr. Oliver Street (the referee) on a fair proposition like this. And who will say that the above proposition is not fair? I am not trying to play petty, local, partisan politics in working to try to secure recognition for these 'preference' certificates which this Administration is now refusing to recognize and treating like so much worthless paper. For Probate Judge Lewis Reynolds to have thought of suggesting that petty, local, partisan views of the situation simply showed his usual trend of thought and demonstrated the smallness of his caliber. I want the boys to have this preference which is justly due them by these certificates they hold, and I believe the people the patriotic and loyal people, both Republican and Democrats) of Chilton county, and Alabama, and this whole Nation, want them to have it.

Now if Probate Judge Lewis Reynolds feels that way about it, let him promptly meet the conditions of the proposition outlined above.

In his article in the Union-Banner of October 27th, Probate Judge Lewis Reynolds says to 'the boys' that 'we' love them and "appreciate" what they did, and then he comes in with a qualifying 'BUT.' That is the way it is with the present Post Office Department up here. They love 'the boys—BUT the politicians get the jobs. Here is a fair sample of 'how they love the dear ex-soldier boys:'—At Petersburg Tenn., a third-class post office, following an examination for postmaster, the Civil Service Commission certified the following eligibles:

1 Cornelius C. London, Honorably discharged ex-service man, overseas service, with a rating of 81.43.

2. James M. Hart, honorably discharged ex service man, with a record of 79.93.

3. Will F. Sherwood, local Republican Politician with a rating of 79.63.

London and Hart are reputed to be gentlemen of the highest character and intergrity, of exemplary habits, of excellent families and with first-class standing in that community. London is a Democrat and Hart a Republican. Under the Soldier Preference law they are both entitled to preference over Sherwood. Under the ruling by President Harding, as adminstered by his postmaster General, making the higest three on the list eligible, and declaring that the Soldier Preference Act does not apply to the appointment of postmasters, Mr. Sherwood, the Republican civilian and the lowest man of the three, has been nominated by President Harding for the office.

Many such examples are being brought to light here. In this case at Petersburg, Tennessce, one of the ex-service men was a Republican and the other one was a Democrat, but neither one was recognized on his preference' certificate. Oh, yes, 'how they do love the dear boys' BUT not so much when the local partisan politicans pick some one else for the job!

Do the people of Clanton recall the occasion of a big speaking there about three years ago now, when everyone was wanting the Government to "bring the boys back home," and when much was said about "what we are going to do for the boys, and nothing will be too good for them—and all that old familiar line? Was not the patriotic Probate Judge much interested there then in that patriotic occasion? I wonder.

Yours very sincerely,
LAMAR JEFFERS.

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Cotton Seed.

We are loading out some Cotton Seed and will pay $30.00 per ton for next 10 days.
CLANTON MERCANTILE CO

IRELAND FREE

The treaty which formally established the Irish Free State has been ratified by ireland. It had been previously ratified by Great Britain. Ireland stands today as free as the Dominion of Canada, with its own autonomous government, even to its own army.

The fight to secure ratification by the Irish parliament was long and difficult. That fight undoubtedly left its scars. President DeValera in a burst of resentment handed in his resignation. The vote on ratification was 67 to 54, which indicates the deep division over the advisability of accepting the autonomous government granted by Great Britian.

The division is most regrettable. The progress of the new state, its immediate future, is bound to be effected by it. If the factions continue their quarrel, the English Tories who stood out to the last against Home Rule will say, 'We told you so. We told you that if they got free dom they'd fight among themselves over it".

Ireland has long enjoyed the sympathy of the outside world in her struggle for independence. A harmonious and constructive government will assure a coutinuation of that sympathy.—Advertiser.

The Washington conference swiftly and suddenly made progress Friday, but the Pacific question still remain unsolved as the conference draws to its close. The delegates Friday declared the use of poison gas legitimate in war and subscribed to an agreement that it was unlawful in war for a submarine to attack a merchantman.

But the real ssue of the conference—the Pacific question—remain unsettled. It is not so sharp as it was, much of its bitterness has been extracted, it is far less acute than it was when the conference met. The basis of the issue is that Japan holds that she has 'a special privilege' in the Pacific. She contends, not openly, but her whole general policy is directed to that end that she has a sort of Monroe Doctrine applying to the Far East, even as America has a Monroe Doctrine applying to the republics of South America.

She regards with a jealous eye any intrusion in Chinese affairs or in Eastern affairs by America or any other nation. She looks upon America's 'open door policy and upon her altruistic friendship for China as inimical to the interests of Japan. That more than anything else has brought about the strained relations with America, although circumstances contributed to these strained feelings. On the surface the tension between America and Japan has been relieved by the meeting in Washington. But China—well, the Chinese delegation is going home with an empty sack Advertiser.

There lives in the Southern part of this county a certain minister of the gospel who has given much of his time to the study of the Bible and tried to understand and solve the mysteries of the good book. It is said that he has found many passages of scripture that have worried him because he could not understand them. One of these mysteries was how the Hebrew children escaped instant death when they were cast into the 'firey furnace.' He says it is all plain to him now the Republicans were in power at that time and the furnaces were all shut down.

Oneonta Democrat

SALESMAN WANTED to solicit orders for lubricating oils, greases and paints. Salary or Commission. Address THE HARVEY OIL CO. Cleveland Ohio.

The Old Reliable

I am back on the job again, ready and anxious to do all your Shoe Repairing at pre-war figures.

Find me in rear of the Smith and Downs wholesale store in the Taylor Mill building.

N. B. EROWN.

We do Job Printing.

A PROCLAMATION

[illegible]

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 16, 1921.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at a special session held in the year 1921, proposed a certain amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, and ordered an election to be held thereon on the first Monday after the expiration of three months from and after the final adjournment of said session, which will be Monday, the 30th day of January, 1922;

AND WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thos. E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct, and proclaim, that a special election will be held on Monday, January 30, 1922, for the vote of the qualified electors of Alabama, in the manner, form, and places required by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

"Article XX. Section 1. The State is authorized to engage in the construction, improvement, repair, and maintenance of public roads, highways, and bridges in the State of Alabama. To this end, and for this purpose, the State is authorized to appropriate funds; and also to issue and sell interest-bearing negotiable State bonds, in an amount not to exceed the sum of twenty-five millions of dollars ($25,000,000.00), to be issued in such denominations, numbers, and series, and maturing at such time, as may be provided for by law; but such bonds shall bear a rate of interest not greater than six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall be sold at a price not less than the par value thereof. Provided, that no bonds shall be issued or sold, under this provision, to such an amount that the interest thereon will exceed the net amount of vehicle license tax collected for the year preceding the issuance of same, and which is set apart for the payment of interest on said bonds. The State Highway Commission or Highway Department shall locate, construct, and maintain highways and state trunk roads so as to connect each county seat with the county seat of the adjoining county by the most direct or most feasible route by a permanent road, having due regard to the public welfare, and to connect the county seats of the several border counties at or near the State line with a public road in the border states. Provided, that in counties which are divided into two or more judicial divisions in each of which regular terms of circuit court are held, the places where said terms of court are held shall likewise be connected with each other. It shall be the duty of said highway commission or highway department to equitably apportion among the several counties the expenditure of both money and labor and the time or times of making such investments. Not less than one-quarter of a million dollars of the proceeds of these bonds shall be set aside and expended by the State Highway Commission in each county in the State. To create a sinking fund for the prompt and faithful payment of the principal and interest on these bonds and for the construction, maintenance, and improvement of such public highways, roads, and bridges, the Legislature shall levy a special annual license or privilege tax on all automobiles, and on all motor driven vehicles which may be used on the public roads and highways of this state. Such bonds when issued shall be a direct obligation of the State, and for the prompt and faithful payment of the principal and interest thereon the full faith and credit of the State is hereby irrevocably pledged, and such bonds shall be exempt forever from all taxes of every kind."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, at the Capitol, in the City of Montgomery, on this the 16th day of November, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-one.

THOS. E. KILBY,
Governor.

By the Governor:
WM. P. COBB,
Secretary of State.

Notice.

William T. Lucas now residing in Shelby County, who was convicted of murder at the Spring term 1903, of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, and was paroled by the Governor on the 23 day of December, 1910, hereby gives notice that at the next meeting of the Board of Pardons [illegible] res- toration of his civil [illegible] political rights [illegible]

This 21 day of December, 1921.
12-29-2t William T. Lucus.

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your house keeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change. Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don't forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in quantities to meet all demands. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry there is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt-Edge.

Sewing Machines

is my Middle Name, Come in and let me fit you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins

We Do Job Printing.

MULBERRY NEWS

Dear Mr. Editor, I havent any good news from old Mulberry although what I am sending you is some real happenings of these diggings.

I will start these to say that Saturday and Sunday was sure damp, bad weather for a fellow to wear his best clothes although he needed plenty of them and a rain coat on top.

Mr. Lorene Smith who has served several years in the army of his country has received his honorable discharge from the service and has returned to his home on Mulberry. He is the son of Mr. Y. E. Smith.

Last Friday afternoon at the Isabell School House the principle's room enjoyed the privilege of having a spelling match which the students enjoyed very much.

Sunday was the regular preaching day at Mulberry Baptist church, but it was rained out completely. The pastor, Rev. B. Lawrence, did not get to be with us.

Mr. H. J. Grooms, who has lived for many years in Mulberry has moved away to Stumps-Hill. We regret very much that Mr. Grooms is moving away, hoping him much good luck in his new home.

Last Tuesday morning about 8 o'clock the death angle visited the home of old uncle John Thacker and took his wife home to glory where she said she was ready to go. Mrs. Thacker was 82 years of age, she has suffered for many years and she has often said she was ready to go when the Lord called her home Her remains were laid to rest in the Isbella cemetery, funeral services were conducted by R. W. Gilbert, Pastor. She is survived by a husband and a host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Arther Edwards and little daughter of Birmingham, has been visiting Mr. Edwards father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Edwards.

Mr. W. T. White, visited his father and mother Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White on last Sunday afternoon.

Misses Annie Manning and Pauline Veazey visited Miss Eleanor Summers Sunday afternoon.

Every Bodys Friend.

NOTICE

The estate of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased.

Letters testamentary upon the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, having been granted to the undersigned on the 11th day of August, 1921, by the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate will be required to present the same within the time required by law, or same will be barred.

E. W. BUTLER,

Executor of the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased 1-5-3t.

ENTERPRISE ITEMS

Health of this community is fairly good, However there are a few cases of pheumonia about.

Our school reopened Monday Most of the pupils were present tho some are still taking Christmas. The teachers seem to have made some new year resolutions, and they are not to be broken either. Something may be done but it seems like our lessons must come.

Mr. Davis is all smiles, this week. We believe he will be going back to Opelika about next pay day. Look out Vesta.

Miss Farmer reports a nice line during Xmas holidays. She seems to be teaching with renewed zeal and energy.

It is said that Dewey Huett is suffering from a bad case of disappointment. We sympathize with him and wish a speedy recovery.

One of the Pupils.

Mr. O. O. Roper had lettuce and fresh tomatoes from his garden Tuesday. You cant get by Clanton.

Our special friend and in other days, co-sufferer with us in the newspaper business, Mr. Clyde Davis, was in town this week, He is now with Bradstreet, is wearing good clothes, getting plenty to eat and looking fine.

Mr. Dewey Smith, of Elmore is visiting relatives here.

Useful prizes given by the merchants of Clanton Saturday night at the Strand Theatre.

A Home Institution

The People's Savings BANK

Clanton, Alabama.

SAFE SINCE 1901.

CONDENSED STATEMENT, DECEMBER 31st, 1921

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts	$144,254.40
Overdrafts	182.81
United States Bonds	47,800.00
Real Estate	12,500.00
Banking House	2,700.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,727.25
CASH IN VAULT AND IN BANKS	170,259.67
Total	$380,424.13

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	49,625.38
DEPOSITS	315,798.75
Total	$380,424.13

OFFICERS:

W. T. Callen	President
J. B. Downs	Vice-President
John A. Thomas	Cashier
F. J. Callen	Assistant Cashier

DIRECTRS

W. T. Callen
J. B. Downs
John A. Thomas
W. L. Popwell
J. Watts Moore
J. Hanke Alred
M. A. Gore
F. J. Callen

PERMANANCE

The ability to give continuous service is most necessary in banking.

The People's Savings Bank

Organized in 1901, has served the banking interest of Chilton County for twenty years. On the strength of our ability to serve you permanantly we invite your account.

Continued From 3rd Page

A Supt. of Education is also elected in each county, who has control over the general education system of the county. He works directly under the State Supt. of education. He is chairman of the county board of education. County board of education is composed of the county Supt., and four county trustees, the county trustees being elected on the second Saturday in August of every fourth yearby, the chairman of the several district board, and its duties generally are, to make rules, and regulations for the government of the schools, to see that teachers perform their duties, and exercise such powers, consistent with the law, as in their judgement will best subserve the cause of education. The board has the right to purchase, lease, receive, hold any convey title to real and personal property for school purposes. The four members of the board are paid two dollars a day for each days work for the public school, out of the public school fund of the county. Then each county has a register in chancery who is appointed by the governor. He maintains an office in each court house, and his duties mostly are to hear cases in Chancery, divorce & cet. and make proper references of decisions.

All counties have a board of registrars who are appointive, and whose duties are to prepare proper list of registrations of each voter in the county, and to purge same biannually of all disqualified voters if possible, and to in every way make the list accurate in all respects as can be done. We also have a prosecuting Attorney in each county who is appointed for four years by the Judge of the circuit court. His duties are to attend and prosecute all criminal cases that come under the jurisdiction of the county court. Etch county is divided up in precincts and each precinct is entitled to two justices of the peace. They can issue attachments attend to collections, issue warrents hold commitment trials in penal cases and try, and dispose of misdemeanor cases. Each precinct is also entitled to one Notary Public, and Ex-Office J. P. who can function as a J. P. when no justice is available.

To complte a county organization, each county is entitled to elect every four years a coronor and county surveyor. The first to empanel juries and investigate all homocides when any doubt of cause, manner, or occasion of death may arise. He is also the only officer with legal jurisdiction to arrest the sheriff.

The county surveyor is supposed to settle by survey all disputes owr land line, and to establish a line when the question is in doubt. You see it takes a great deal of machining to perfect a 'county organization' under our form of government.

One of Bill Bryan's neighbors, out in Big Ben, Neb. who does not take his politics quite as seriously as Bill, having a farm or two on the side, recently ran for constable and got snowed under. But defeat did not embitter him. When the time came to file his statement of election expenses he put them all in an then some, This excerpt from his post-mortem statement proves he was a man of truth and frankness.

"Lost 1,349 hours of sleep thinking about the election. Lost two front teeth, and a whole lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent. Donated one beef, four shoats and five sheep to a country barbecue. Gave way two pairs of suspenders, four calico dresses, $5 cash and thirteen baby rattlers. kissed 126 babies kindled fourteen kitchen fires. Put up four stoves, with 9,508 persons. Told 10,101 lies, and talked enough to make in print 1,000 volumes. Attended sixteen revival meeting and was baptised four times by immersion and twice some other way. Contributed $50 to foreign missions, and made love to nine grass widows. Hugged forty-nine old maids. Got dog bit thirty times, and was defeated.

Birmingham News

WANTED CROSSTIES

Highest market price paid for white Oak, red Oak and post Oak ties.

G. M. Fuqua, Clanton, Alabama.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT CLUB PROGRAM

The Civic Improvement Club met with Mrs. Gerald the Second Tuesday in January and the following interesting program was enjoyed:

"Citizenship."

Roll Call—Good Citizens of our Town and why.

Paper—"The Organization of our County Government." Mrs. White.

Talk—"History of Clanton." Mrs. W. T. Callen.

Paper—"Present Organization of our Municipal Government." Mrs. J. B. Downs.

Lecture—"The Policy and Achievements of Present Administration," Hon. V. J. Gragg, Mayor.

Round Table, conducted by Mrs. Hugh Jones. Is our City following a plan in its develpement to assure pride in its beauty and convenience in the years to come? Who owns the water system? The electric lighting system? Is the service satisfactory?

Car Load of Mules.

I have just received a car load of assorted Mules and can fit you out with any kind you want to suit any kind of work. Call and see me at the New Sales Stables, near overhead railroad bridge.

D. Y. JOHNSON.

Mules for Sale.

I have some Fine Mules in first class condition for Sale or Will trade for larger mules.

Call and see me.

C. S. COX,
Clanton, Ala.

How a Rat Nearly Destroyed Mrs. L. Bowen's (R. I.) House

"For months we wouldn't go into the cellar, fearing a big rat. One night it set our whole kitchen on fire by chewing matches. The next day, we got the ugly thing with Rat-Snap—just one cake." Rats dry up and leave no smell. Three sizes: 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by

Notice

Town of Clanton—

All property tax will be delinquent January 1, 1922, and subject to penalty after that date.

All who have not paid will please call and pay at once, thus avoiding the necessity of enforcing penalty.

V. J. Gragg, Mayor.
J. Mell Martin, Clerk.

I have for sale two five room houses. One has 1 acre and the other has 2 acres of good productive land with all kinds of fruit trees now bearing.

Finest place in the world to raise poultry, or anything else you desire to raise.

These houses are in fine shape and must be sold at once, so I am offering them at a bargain. One for $800.00 with as low as $200.00 cash, balance $20.00 per month. The other for $1,000.00 with terms to suit purchaser.

Both located in Mountain Creek, Ala., on the L. & N. railroad.

Will rent to a good advantage. If interested, see Mr. J. A. P. Baxley, at Mountain Creek, Ala. or write me at 2431, Bessemer Boulevard, Birmingham, Ala.

C. H. BAXLEY, Agent
12-22-2t

Notice

Town of Clanton—

Notice is hereby given that 1922 license and street tax will be due January 1, 1922 and all persons, firms, corporations or companies subject to said license or tax will please call on the Clerk at once and settle same and avoid any trouble and expense contingent upon the enforcement of the law.

V. J. Gragg, Mayor.
J. Mell Martin, Clerk.

McDonald's Variety Store

BIRTHPLACE OF CUT PRICES

Come to see us. Shoes, Dry Goods, Staple and Fancy Groceries

McDonald's Variety Store

VERBENA, ALABAMA.

Railroad Avenue—East of the Postoffice

To Make Money Easy

You Ought To Do Your Trading With

C. C. Armstrong

FOR A DOLLAR SAVED IS A DOLAR MADE, AND HE SURE WILL SAVE YOU THE DOLLARS.

He carries a full line of Dry Goods, Notions, Shoes and Furnishings, besides a well assorted stock of Staple and Fancy Groceries.

If you want to meet with courteous treatment and Lowest Prices why the answer is: Trade at

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

The New York Store

See the NEW YORK STORE before buying your Winter Needs. Our Stock is complete

Remember, our goods MUST be satisfactory to our customers.

The New York Store

Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, JANUARY 19, 1922. NUMBER 19

CLANTON PARENT AND TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

At the suggestion of the members of the Study Club requests were sent from the Clanton Grammar School to all patrons to come Friday, January 13th, to an ganization of a Parent Teacher Association and Friday afternoon a most interesting meeting was held.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. J. A. Hester; First Vice-President, Prof. Ira Pegues; 2nd Vice President, Mr. J. A. Maddox; Secretary and Treasure, Mrs. Curry D. Thomas.

After the election of officers and the appointment of committees talks on the needs of the school and the purpose of the organization were made by Prof. Ira Pegues, Rev. David Pearson, Mesdames J. A. Hester, Elanor Roberts and John VanDeveer.

Regular meetings will be held at the Clanton Grammar School on the 2nd Friday of each month.

Clanton has long been in need of such an organization and if an interest equal to that shown on this successive meeting our school conditions will soon be bettered.

Those present were Messers J. A. Maddox, B. J. Sessions, W. W. Hand, F. M. Foshee. Rev. David Pearson, Prof. Ira Pegues. Mesdames Anna Jones, W. T. Culpepper. Geo. Fuqua, Claude Reynolds M. R. Arant, Jessie C. Jones, John Vandeveer, N. C. Hann, Eleanor Roberts, Earl Gowan R. J. Jones, J. C. Jones F. R. Woodyard B. F. Williams F. M. Foshee, J. H. Marlow, Auther Johnson, G. F. Harrish, J. A. Hester, V. J. Heard, N. S. Johnson, T. C. McSwain, Curry D. Thomas, Misses Woodie Rawlinson Celia McMillan, Alice Selman, Etha Nix, Icelo Williams Eula Mae Vines.

Sec. and Treas.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

The Registrars will be at Clanton again on January 28 On account of rain they missed their former daet there.

FIRE AT VERBENA

Last Tuesday morning about 2 o'clock a call came in from Verbena to our town for fire fighting apparatus to aid them in what threatened to be a most disastrous blaze. As Clanton has high presure fire hydrants and uses only hose reels in fighting fire, we could not send them a thing to aid them in that line. A proffer of men was wired them, but answer came that they had gotton the situation in hand and would not need them.

Upon nvestigation it develops that the immense Gibsot summer hotel had been entirely consumed This was probably the largest frame building of like character in the County and was built of the very best material and must have made a most terrible blaze.

It was the property of the Gibson estate and was, we judge, at least partly covered by insurance.

GUILES HOME BURNS.

Last Tuesday morning before day the home of Mr. Ed. Giles, two miles south of town on the highway, was entirely consumed by fire.

We learn that had it not been for the frantic barking of their little house dog, Mrd Giles and his wife would probaly have been burned in the house, as the building was already begining to fall in when the little dog got them awake.

We do not know whether Mr. Giles carried any insurance or not. The house and contents were a total loss.

THROWN BY HORSE

Little William Hester had the misfortune to be thrown by a horse late yesterday afternoon and was rendered unconscious by the fall.

Up to hour of going to press we have failed to learn of his condition today. We hope, however, he was not seriously injured.

BIG FIRE AT THORSBY

Yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock fire broke out in the down town district of Thorsby, and before it could be got under control four prominent business places were entirely consumed.

The Horn Drug Co., Littleton Garage, The Cold Storage Plant and a cafe were a total loss and nothing but ashes marks the place where they stood. Mr. Foshee, who had a store adjoining the burned section, and is a heavy looser from damage to his stock by tumbling it out in the street to escape the flames.

We have no accurate estimate as to the loss nor as to the amount covered by insurance. It can safely be said that Thorsby has suffered a very severe blow and our sympathy goes out, not only to those who were direct loosers, but also to the hustleing and progressive ltitle town as well.

We regret very much to learn that Mr. W. A. Kemp is confined to his home by quite a serious attack of nervous prostration. He has worked to hard for his strengtn, but we sincerely hope he will be out again rinht away and as well as ever.

CARD OF THANKS

Please allow me space in your columns to express heart felt thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their sympathy and kindly assistance in our bereavement in the death of our brother, Park Mahan, which occurred at our home on the ngiht January 12th.

So many expressions of sympathy so many offers of assistance, and especially the service rendered by Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. R. L. Baker and Mrs. F. Armstrong.

This constrains us to thank the Giver of all good gifts, that our lot is cast among such friends, and pray that His blessing may fall upon you everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roper

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

NEW PRICES

(F. O. B. Detroit)

Chassis	$285
Runabout	$319
Touring Car	$348
Truck Chassis	$430
Coupe	$580
Sedan	$645

These are the lowest prices of Ford cars in the history of the Ford Motor Company.

Orders are coming in fast, so place yours promptly to insure early delivery.

Clanton Motor Car Co.

Authorized Chilton County Ford Dealers.

CENTRAL ALABAMA HOSPITAL

The Central Committee for arrangements for the formal opening of the Central Alabama Hospital has been appointed as follows: Mrs. M. L. White, Mrs. Guy Higgins, Mrs. J. Q. Wade Mrs. P. T. Hinkle, Mrs. T. A. Curry.

Those desiring to assist in furnishing the Hospital and Etc. will please confer with some member of this committee in time that their name will be placed for proper mention on opening day.

V. J. Gragg, Pres.

VERBENA SCHOOL NEWS

Last Friday afternoon January 13th the basket ball team with a few others went to Enterprise to give them a return game, winning from them by the score of 15 to 7.

Verbena has a game scheduled with the town boys of Elmore for Friday afternoon January 20 at Verbena court.

Sara Maude Pattillo has returned to school after an illness that lasted throunh the holidays. The pupils and teachers are very glad to have her return.

Mrs. D. N. Abernathy and grand-daughter of Birmingham are visiting Mrs. Abernathy's daughter, Mrs. B. M. Sorrell at Verbena.

The school pupils visiting Mitchell Dam Sunday, were Crayton and Adelbert Norris, and Miss Elsie Gardener.

Unknown Things

When Ocie will get a hair cut.

Who Mr. Sutton and Bill met Sunday night.

When Crayton will quit saying taken for took.

When Jerushia will quit trying camouflage algebra.

When Mary will get off the deficincy list.

Why Crayton dosen't hold his shoulders straight.

When Alma will fall in love with geometry.

Scribe

READING CIRCLE

The Clanton group of the Chilton County Reading Circle met Saturday January 14th at the Hihg School building.

The meeting was called to order the Presinent, Prof. Sutton of Verbena. Devotional exersises were conducted by Rev. P. G. Carter. The Rev. Carter also made an elucidating talk about the proposed Bond Issue.

Supt. Howard L. Foshee called a meeting of the committee on Seventh grade standards.

This committee met and drafted recommendations to the teachers of the county. The county superintendent of education will mail a mimeographed copy of these recommendations to each teacher in the county. Various discussions both personal and round-table were made by different teachers throughout the morning session.

The afternoon session was devoted almost entirely to demonstration lesson plans.

Febuary 11th was set as the next meeting date.

NEW FIRM

Messrs Guy Roberts and Reuben Reynolds have bought out the 'Candy Store' and will put in a $15,000 stock of general merchandice in a few days. They promise to give us pre-war prices on everything. Good luck to them.

SEED CORN

All who wish to use the famous Culps Improved Seed Corn for planting this year, please place your order early. Price 75cents per peck.

J. M. Culp, Route 7

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

MRS. PAGE ENTERTAINS.

On last Thursday afternoon at her residence. Mrs. Page entertained the Thursday Embroidry Club, and a few friends. After the ladies had spent the afternoon in chatting and doing fancy work, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.

On last Friday afternoon at the Grammar School, a Parents-Teachers Association was organized. About forty men and ladies were present. plans were made to do a great deal of work for the school. The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mrs. Hester, first vice chairman, Mr. Ira Pegues, second vice chairman, Mr. T. A. Maddox. Program Committee, Miss Williams, chairman, Mesdames John Vandeveer, Grady Harris, and T. C. McSwain. Membership Committee, Mesdames Frank Foshee, Guy Roberts, Grady Broadhead, Earl Gowan, Grover Harris and Green Rutnerford, and five ladies will be appointed from one meeting to the next for the entertainment. Mrs. Arthur Johnson was made chairman of the entertainment for the next meeting, which will be on the second Friday in February, at the Grammar School.

BROTHERHOOD ASSOCIATION.

A meeting was held at the Baptist Church last Wednesday night, for the purpose of organizing a Brotherhood Association. Owing to the inclement weather the final plans were defered until the following Wednesday. The meeting will be called to order promptly at 7 p. m. All the men of the congregation are urged to be present.

MISSIONARY MEETS.

The Woman's Missionary Society held its regular meeting at the residence of Mrs. N. A. Kicker on Monday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the new president, Mrs. J. C. Jones, who read a Scripture lesson and led in prayes. A Pslam was read by Mesdames J. C. Jones, M. L. White, Eric Hart, John Armstrong, M. F. Jones, after which the business was finished. Mrs. Martin Nix was elected to take Mrs. Speigner's place as Secretary and Treasurer of the Home and Foreign Missions, and Mrs. J. C. Jones was elected delegate to the Woman's Missionary Society, which meets in Montgomery, Feb. 7.

The hostess then served refreshments, assisted by Mesdames White and Simpson.

The music class of Mrs. Barney Roberts will give a recital at the High School on Friday evening at 7:30. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Paul DeVall, of Chicago, was the week end guest of Mrs. J. Hugh Jones.

Mrs. W. K. Mullins left Wednesday for her home in Cuthbert, Ga.

Mr. Watts Moore, spent Wednesday in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Jones and little son Clint Jr. of Ashville N. C. are visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Curry

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Alverson, have announced the arrival of a son on January 12th whom they have named Eddie Earle.

Mrs. L. V. Roy and two children, Marjorie and Paul have returned to Mantgomery, after spending a week with her sister Mrs. Hugh Jones.

Visit the Strand Saturday and see Tom Moore in "Mile Stones," a picture that is a little different, and we will also show on Saturday a 2 Reel Comedy with a punch. If you don't laugh you don't pay. 'Nuff sed.' Thursday and Friday, "The Voice in the Dark."

COLDS
Apply on chest, throat and a little up the nostrils.
RUNION'S
WHITE WONDER
Its Antiseptic Vapors Heal.
At your druggist 35c generous size jar.

FOUND:—One Locket and Chain Apply at News office and get information.

GRIST MILL;—W. J. Vincent has bought the Honeycutt & Thompson mill and solicits your patronage.

For Sale at Once.

One Large Red Mule. Can try out before buying.

One 1-Horse Wagon and harness. Price, $15.00.

One Good Starr Piano. Less than half price. Terms.

60 Thorough-bred White Leghorn pullets, beginning to lay. Hens quoted in Birmingham at 28 cents per pound. Only $1.00.

One Large "Never-rust" Range almost new. Six 8-inch eyes and warming closet. Guaranteed 20 years.

C. B. NORRELL,
Five miles South of Clanton on B. and M. Highway.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aumust. 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

DO YOU ATTEND CHURCH

This is a vital question that should concern every individual citizen. With such a nice building as the new Baptist Church building said to be the prettiest in the State now completed by the Baptist of Clanton, there is no excuse for not attending unless bad health or domestic duties that are unavoidable interferc.

In Sunday School last Sunday 158 were present. Others came too late to be registered. Lets make it 200 next Sunday. We can if we will. The regular preaching services will be held next Sunday, and the morning subject will be OUR GREAT TASK.

The subject for the night service will be announced. At the close of the morning services the regular church conference will be held which was postponed from last Sunday owing to the pastors absence from the city.

The meeting of the Ladies Aid this week was a great success. As usual it was very enthusiastic and inspirational.

This organization is doing a fine work, that is entirely unselfish and very commendable. If you desire an avenue for service in this church join this body of ladies and they will soon put you to work.

We cordially invite everybody to our regular services.

P. G. Carter-Pastor

We do Job Printing.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama.

W. B. Corley ....Editor
J. L. Johnson...Business Mgr.

CARTER & JOHNSON
Proprietors

Subscription price $1.00 per year strictly in advance.

Advertising rates on application.

Entered in the post office at Clanton as second class mail matter under act of Congress.

It is said if you will give a fellow rope enough he will hang himself. We see people who are weaving the nooze around their own necks every day.

A wise fish don't strike at every bait that is thrown out. He bides his time until the real minnow appears and then things happen in a hurry.

If the people were to stand for one more administration like the present one the United States would become an Empire in less than eight years.

The triangle in the race for governor reminds us very much of the scheme that put Kilby over in the last election. Who is going to be the "dark horse" slated for the office this time? Carmichael?

The big corporations got a black eye at the meeting of the State Democatic Executive Committee in Montgomery last week They lost their old "nominating convention" scheme by a vote of 27 to 5. "You can fool some of the people all the time, all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

There are more near accidents at second avenue railroad crossing and at the junction of the Birmingham highway with second avenue, than any two unprotected places we ever heard of. The luck cannot hold much longer. We are going to be shocked and horrified by some ghastly mishap at one of these places before always.

That wonderful Republican Congress we are having to put up with right now, voted the other day to sell Newberry a seat in the Senate for $195,000. They also had the gall to admit the fact by resolution.

Three negroes were lynched in Ohio recently for beating up a cop. That's all right, though. If it had occurred down South and the miscreants had brutally assaulted a half dozen white women, it would have been the most awful thing ever heard of. Ye gods, how contemptible a pharisee and a hypocrit can be.

The palpable policy of the present administration at Washington to pander to the trusts and syndicates has, at last, about disgusted Henry Ford to the point of withdrawing his bid for Muscle Shoals. It sure is a sad commentary on a great country of supposed freedom like ours that the wishes and interests of the people can be bought, sold and traded in like so much merchandise.

It has often been said that the Senate of the United States was the most dignified body in the world. It has certainly lost its prestige now, with members calling each other, in open session, "infamous liars," dirty robbers" and "political pirates." But, no wonder, when they brazenly seat a member who allowed to be spent in his campaign for the office $195,000, in direct and flagrant violation of the highest law in the land. Legally, Newberry should be doing time in the pen, and would be if he was one of the common sort instead of stool pigeon for the capitalists.

Bibb Graves in announcing for governor states that he is opposed to the tax adjusters, the law enforcement "angels" and union labor. The first two are good and will win if the wishes of the people are respected, but his position on union labor, we think, is a mistake. It is true, Kilby took the military of the State and shot unionism to death in so far as he could, but that sentiment of freedom which inspires labor to organize is like truth—"if crushed to earth it will rise again." It springs eternal in the human breast.

The people in Birmingham are going to vote on whether they shall allow public dancing at East Lake, and other public places of amusement. These dances are to be "properly regulated." Ah, there is the rub. Who will define what "proper" regulation is? Some of the obscene contortions the jazz jumpers put on these days could hardly be "regulated" outside the padded walls of an insane ward with straight jacket accessories.

"To be or not to be, that is the question." Sometimes that question of Hamlet is a poser even in our day. Almost daily we read where some poor mortal decides to give up the unequal battle, rend the vail assunder and probe the mysteries beyond the grave. We wonder if they are satisfied with the change. If the mystery land to which they have gone unbidden will be kinder to them than this one was. This mundane existence can become awfully rocky at times, but the uncertainty of what awaits us beyond the dismal river of death deters thousands from making the voyage.

Make Up Your Mind.

This year the people of Alabama will have an opportunity to right some of the wrongs that have gradually been saddled upon them by time-serving politicians and poltroons.

We are overburdened by taxation. The machinery of government is now constructed on much too expensive a plan. We have by hundreds too many people feeding at the public crib. It costs as much again to run the State administration as it should. We have an untold number of "commissions," "committees," "departments," "adjusters," "law enforcement" squads, etc. etc. that are not only absolutely unnecessry but are really detrimental. They only belong as part of a political machine.

Now, you have the opportunity to do away with these things and you want to begin right at home. Your next candidate to the legislature should be pledged and then hog tied to a certain platform, and when he fulfills that make him understand to quit.

Learn your public servants that they ARE servants to do your bidding and nothing else. Let them understand, good and hard that they must do certain things and they must not do certain other things. That you are boss and own the whole works and they are employed and paid by you to operate the machine for your interest.

The idea seems to have got abroad among the recent legislators in Alabama that they were sent to Montgomery on account of their super-intelligence and that they had a free hand to do any old thing they please. You want to learn this next bunch better than that and then hold them to it.

Democracy in Alabama has followed after strange gods too far already. Now is the time to return to the faith of the fathers and get back into the ark of safety.

SIDELIGHT ON SYRIAN LIFE

Writer Gives an Insight Into His Life as a Small Boy in That Little Known Country.

The roads were open. Travelers came into our village. Scarcely a night was the guest house in our courtyard unoccupied. I liked to sit with my father and his guests in this room, built after European style with four large windows over which in winter oiled paper was passed to keep the cold out. The walls of the guest room were white and on them were hung the choicest rugs brought back from Kurdistan by my Grandfather Mirza.

There were chairs in this room. I was very proud that we should own chairs, but I found them most uncomfortable to sit on. After a few moments my legs began to ache and I slipped down on the cushions. In the alcove of the guest chamber were some old manuscripts bound in course leather. They were holy books with illuminated margins. Among them was a Bible in Syriac. I carefully refrained from touching it. It was too holy. I might perhaps be struck dead for my temerity.

Among the travelers that came along the road was Hady, the singer. He was the ugliest man that I had ever seen, sore-eyed, pock-marked and dirty. But he was very wise. His ivory handled dagger in its silver sheath was so long that it reached from his chest to his hips. My playmates and I would have laughed and jeered at him, perhaps, if he had not carried this dagger.—Youel B. Mirza in Asia Magazine.

BARGAIN AT $30 A MONTH

Chinese Boy With "Exceptional Knowledge of English" Should Have Been Snapped Up Quickly.

The following application for employment was received by a Shanghai hong from a student in the Shanghai college:

"Nothing is of less importance than the age of a person; nevertheless, it is proper to begin that I am in my twenty-first year. Having a firing ambition to do some service in the business world, I grasp this opportunity to insert myself into the sphere. It is true that many are now wandering idly in the market awaiting employment. But it is true to the same extent that many of these, if not all, are good for nothing. To take notice upon them, or to put some duty upon them is to give gun powder to children as a plaything. The danger can be imagined.

"I am now going to give some account of my personal abilities. It is not too much to say that my knowledge of English can hardly be represented to the full color by such a little adjective as 'thorough.' It is exceptionally excellent, to be outspoken. As to the art of typewriting, my hands go on as smoothly as to skate on an icy river. With such intellectual weapons any hard duties can be as easily conquered as an egg shell by a wave. The salary I look for would be $30 a month.

"Awaiting your answer earnestly, I am, Sir, ———."—North China Gazette.

Robin Is Inventor,

The robin lives in trees and partly on the ground, so that it sometimes hops, like birds that live in trees, and sometimes walks or runs, like birds that live on the ground.

The robin is a plucky little fellow. He will stand up for himself, and refuses to let other birds put upon him. Generally he lives alone—sometimes with a mate, but never do you find robins in flocks.

This little bird can claim to be the inventor of pottery.

Look at a robin's nest and you will see that it is a clay pot, set into a pile of straw. When a robin has finished with a nest, take it and put it on the fire, having first thoroughly dried it. Leave it on the fire until all the straws have been burnt, and if it has not broken, you will find that you have a perfectly good earthen pot. —Pearson's Weekly.

Peculiar Manx Cats.

The origin of Manx cats is now attributed to the arrival of these cats on the Isle of Man from ships belonging to the Spanish armada that were wrecked there. They were probably brought from Japan or eastern Asia. They are a distinct species with short forelegs, and elevated hindquarters, and differ from other cats somewhat in call, ways, and character. They vary in color. People who have owned them for long periods say they are not good mousers or hunters. In character they are rather similar to a dog, being highly companionable and having some of the qualities of a guardian, but they are not considered hunters in any sense of the word.

Sense of Obligation.

"What a wonderful thing it would be if Shakespeare were alive today?"

"I wish he were," said Mr. Stormington Barnes earnestly. "I should like to meet him. I'm sure he would be very grateful to me for the manner in which I have interpreted his poetry."

Her Present Occupation.

"You say that your wife went to college before you married her?"

"Yes, she did."

"And she thought of taking up law, you said?"

"Yes; but now she's satisfied to lay it down."

NOTICE

The estate of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased.

Letters testamentary upon the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, having been granted to the undersigned on the 11th day of August, 1921, by the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate will be required to present the same within the time required by law, or same will be barred.

E. W. BUTLER,
Executor of the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased 1-5-3t.

Car Load of Mules.

I have just received a car load of assorted Mules and can fit you out with any kind you want to suit any kind of work. Call and see me at the New Sales Stables, near overhead railroad bridge.

D. Y. JOHNSON.

FOR SALE—80 acres of land on Lock 12 highway 4 miles from Clanton, will sell or trade for pracitally new Ford Touring Car. Write or see N. J. Bice Rt. 6 Clanton, Alabama. 3times

SALESMAN WANTED to solicit orders for lubricating oils, greases and paints. Salary or Commission. Address THE HARVEY OIL CO. Cleveland Ohio.

The Old Reliable

I am back on the job again, ready and anxious to do all your Shoe Repairing at pre-war figures.

Find me in rear of the Smith and Downs wholesale store in the Taylor Mill building.

N. B. BROWN.

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic
destroys the malarial germs which are transmitted to the blood by the Malaria Mosquito. Price

Actual Size 25c Bottle (Trial)
50c Bottle holds 3 times as much
$1.00 Bottle holds 8 times as much as 25c size

Penetrates to the bone!

That's Why It Soothes and Promptly Conquers Pain

Unlike other liniments, Mustang is made of healing oils—no alcohol, acids or pepper used. Mustang never burns or smarts, not even when applied to open wounds. Pain is relieved quickly by Mustang, which thoroughly permeates the system and hastens healing. Over 73 years' success guarantees Mustang as best for MAN, LIVESTOCK and POULTRY.

Sold by
DRUG and GENERAL STORES

FREE WITH 25c TRIAL BOTTLE—a solid brass "PUT-and-TAKE" TODDLE TOP—the latest craze. Get one—be popular! Send 25 cents stamps or coin for Trial Bottle (Household Size) Mustang Liniment and get Toddle Top, absolutely free. Lyon Mfg. Co., 41 So. Fifth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MUSTANG
"The Good Old Standby Since 1848"
LINIMENT

LYON MANUFACTURING CO., Proprietors, 41-43-45 South Fifth St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Ready for New Year

We have stocked up with a complete line of fresh, Fancy and family supplies. Anything you need for the table and prices that cannot be beat.

We thank you for your trade in 1921 and solicit your continued patronage for 1922.

Our best efforts to serve will be at your command,

F.M. Connell & Son

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabama, Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

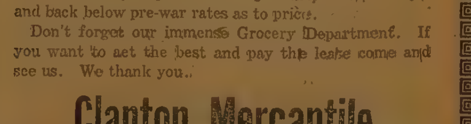
We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps,Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is up to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to get the best and pay the least come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile



YOU TAKE NO CHANCES!

Shumate Written Guarantee With Each Razor

For Sale by

Alred Drug Co.

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

MAJOR JEFFERS WRITES AGAIN

Editor,Chilton County News.

Dear Sir:

In a recent issue of the News you published a communication from me in which I made a clear proposition to Probate Judge Lewis Reynolds.

He had previously intimated that I had been trying to have the ex-soldiers' preference law observed in one case and not in others. I answered that my effort had been to try to secure the recognition of the letter and the spirit of the preference law, as should be, as a regular policy, which would be of benefit, of course, to ex-service men and women who hold 'preference certificates' all over this country.

The Probate Judge said he knew of another ex-service man in the same position as Mr. Parrish,' and so I answered that if he was truly in the same position then my efforts to secure the recognition of the preference certificates of ex-service people would also, of course, be to the benefit of the other man. I offered to assist the Probate in helping the man he had in mind to get proper recognition of his preference certificate and at the same time make the same united efforts to get the same recognition for the preference certificate of Mr. Parrish. No one can say that wasn't a fair proposition.

He wrote me a long wiggly, wobbly, rambling sort of a reply (the same as was printed in the Union-Banner of the 12th) in which he makes some statements to the effects that there are not enough postmasters to go around so that every ex-service man can have one,and that to give these government jobs that are ouen to any exservice man would be showing partiality against all the others and would tend to 'embitter feeling."

It is clear, from what he says. that he means that, since there are not enough postmasterships vacant for every ex-service man to get one, then it would be right not to let any exservice man have such a job at all; must bar the boys completely from government offices. If they all cannot have a government job, then don't let any of them have one. That's a fine argument, I must say! That would be mighty nice, indeed for the professional politicians, but mighty poor policy for the ex-service people. Every ex-service man knows that such thin argument as that is nothing but Judge Reynolds' camouflage. I believe that the ex-service boys every where are always glad to see ex-service men land these jobs. The very idea of anybody saying that he does not want any ex-service people to get government positions because there are only enough such positions for a few of them, and not enough to go around! Isn't that foolish? I leave it to anybody that read his letter if that isn't the substance of what he said. If everybody held that narrow, selfish view, then no ex-service men would ever have any at all at any public position. As I said above, that would be fine for the professional politicians!

In holding the examinations for these postmasterships the Civl Service Commisson, the duly authorized agency of the government, allowed the claim for performance of these ex-service people, and granted to them a certificate which says thereon:

> 'That hereafter in making appointments to clerical and other positions in the executive branch oft the government in the District of Columbia or elsewhere, preference shall be given to honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, and widows of such, and to the wives of injured soldiers, sailors and marines who themselves are not qualified to hold such positions.'

Now these certificates. with the wording on them, were issued during last summer to ex-service men and women who stood these examinations. And yet thissame administration, under which these certificates were issued, now refuses to make good on its own promise to these ex-service men and women. Is that right? Is that just? Probate Judge Lewis Reynolds may think so, but I do not.

I asked him to help me urge his own crowd to honor their pledges given to these ex-service men and women to whom this administration had granteh these preference' certificates, and he says he will not do it. Now that's the truth of the matter in a nutshell. He refused to do it.

The crafty Probate Judge dropped the soldier's 'preference proposition like a hot brick, and with his usual versatility he switched quickly to another subject entirely. The subject of the correspondence was the recognition of the soldier's preference, but he jumped upon the compensation bandwagon, thinking he would get the mids of the ex-service people off of this preference that they know they are entitled to.

But you cannot fool tnem that easy, Judge. They know that is merely some of your camouflage. You may be 'simple,' as you say in the next to the last paragraph of your letter printed in the Union-Banner of January 12th, but you will find that the ex-service people are not as simple as you have evidently mistaken them ot be.

He says do not feed aome and starve the others." In saying that I believe he was deliberately trying to work up bitterness and antagonism among the boys by trying to work on their feelings; trying to plant seed of jealousy and hate; trying to play some of the boys against others. That is one regular style of playing mean politics, I believe. I don't believe the ex soldiers of Chilton county, or anywhere else will swallow that sort of stuff. If they do, of course that is their business, and it is up to them. But I believe they are too wise to let Probate Judge Lewis Reynolds get them divided amongst themselves.

Regarding the matter of the soldiers' adjusted compensation, let me say that that is another matter entirely. Of course, they need adjusted compensation now in order that they may have a reasonable chance to again pick up the threads of their lives as American citizens. I am for them; I believe they know that already, and I am for their compensation. And besides that, I am in favor of the enforcement of the laws giving them the benefit that they have been promised under the 'provisions of these 'preference certificates.' What did they issue these preference certificates in connection with the examinations for if they were not going to honor them? They have simply made 'scraps of paper out of these certificates.' Is that fair? Is that right? Is that honesty? I do not think so.

Regarding the suggestion of Probate Judge Lewis Reynolds that I come down to Clanton on Saturday, January 21 for a joint speaking, will say that I cannot be there.

As to my possible plans for future speaking dates, will say that I do not know now when I will arrange for any speaking in the district.

But far as dividing time is concerned and having Probate Judge Lewis Reynolds arrange a meeting for me, I will say that I think now that it would be better for you, Judge Reynolds to announce and arrange and conduct your speakings whenever you feel like it, for the benefit of those who want to hear you, and allow me the privilege of doing the same.

Very sincerely yours,
LAMAR JEFFERS

ALL EDITORS ARE LIARS.

We overheard a man remark the other day that the reason he did not take the Mason papers is that all editors are liars. While we know the reason that he does not take the Mason papers is that he has dead beated both of them out of several years subscription, we will admit that he told the truth about all editors being liars. Fact is we never told the truth about that man. We always lied about him, but we will not lie about him this time. When he got married over 25 years ago we published in this paper that he was an honest, industrous young man. That was a lie and we kenw it. He was a dead beat before he ever got married and owed for board, room and washing that he did not pay then and has never paid since. He owed for chewing tobacco, clothing and everything he could get trusted for and has never paid the debt. He was not industrious. but was notoriously lazy, a hulking lout and loafer who would not work if he could possibly get out of it and then when forced into work he was a shirk and sneak always trying to put the heaviest work on his companions. We said he would make a good home for his wife. That was a lie. He never owned a home of his own, and does not own one now, but he has to pay his rent in advance every month. We said his wife was a handsome and accomplished young lady. This was several lies. She was homelier than the back end of the buildings that front on main street in Manson, Iowa, she had no accomplishments except to chew gum and talk slang she was young, but she was not a lady as she had a pretty shady reputation. When her father died we told another lie, for we said the old man was a prominent and highly respected citizen, when he was notorious chicken coal and horse feed thief and everybody hated him and would have been glad when he died had it not been for the fact that the county had to bury him. When our hero's daughter got married we said the same nice things about her we said about her mother and lied again even worse. Yes it's all true all newspaper men, especially country newspaper men are liars.—Macon, Iowa Democrat.

Making the Hammer Safer.

The hammer is a useful tool, but its use is not quite free from danger to the user or from injury to materials. The flat, highly polished surface is likely to glance off the nail unless the blow is squarely delivered; and when the nail is of cast metal, its head often flies off and inflicts quite severe injuries.

One firm had innumerable accidents from this cause, and some of the men were permanently injured. Thereupon, the managers tried hammer heads with scored faces as an experiment, and owing to the success of the experiment, the polished faced hammer has been abolished in that firm's factory, except for special classes of work.

When the hammer's face is scored or roughened it is very much less likely to glance off the nail head. The fact that this type of hammer has proved so conspicuously successful and safe, has encouraged many manufacturers to place it on the market.

The Beaver.

A family that figures prominently in the annals of New York owes the origin of its great wealth to a humble but industrious rodent, the beaver. The same rodent has conferred its name upon a downtown street in that city. There survives the tradition of a Beaver brook that once meandered its picturesque way through what is now the downtown section.

But the beaver himself is a vanished species in this country. The beavers that inhabit the little ponds in the zoological gardens are immigrants from Canada.

In those restricted areas, surrounded by high wire fences, these citizens by adoption are as busy as were their ancestors who once ranged along the streams that watered the woods.—Chicago Journal.

Could Drink a Big Fog.

It takes a big block of fog to make one good swallow of water, says Dr. W. J. Humphreys of the United States weather bureau at Washington. The densest fog off Newfoundland banks contains some twenty thousand droplets in a cubic inch, Dr. Wells and Dr. Thuras of the bureau of standards found. To get one gulp of water, enough fog to fill a space 8 feet by 6 feet by 100 feet long would have to be condensed. In a fog of that size there are 60 trillion particles of water, or three times as many particles as the number of dollars spent by the United States during the world war.

"It would take about a half hour to count an inch of fog particles," says Dr. Humphreys. "Placed side by side 2,500 to 3,000 droplets would be needed to fill that length."

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.

A PROCLAMATION

Executive Department,
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 16, 1921.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at a special session held in the year 1921, proposed a certain amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, and ordered an election to be held thereon on the first Monday after the expiration of three months from and after the final adjournment of said session, which will be Monday, the 30th day of January, 1922;

AND WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thos. E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct, and proclaim, that a special election will be held on Monday, January 30, 1922, for the vote of the qualified electors of Alabama, in the manner, form, and places required by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

> "Article XX. Section 1. The State is authorized to engage in the construction, improvement, repair, and maintenance of public roads, highways, and bridges, in the State of Alabama. To this end, and for this purpose, the State is authorized to appropriate funds; and also to issue and sell interest-bearing negotiable State bonds; in an amount not to exceed the sum of twenty-five millions of dollars ($25,000,000.00), to be issued in such denominations, numbers, and series, and maturing at such time, as may be provided for by law; but such bonds shall bear a rate of interest not greater than six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall be sold at a price not less than the par value thereof. Provided, that no bonds shall be issued or sold, under this provision, to such an amount that the interest thereon will exceed the net amount of vehicle license tax collected for the year preceding the issuance of same, and which is set apart for the payment of interest on said bonds. The State Highway Commission or Highway Department shall locate, construct, and maintain highways and state trunk roads so as to connect each county seat with the county seat of the adjoining county by the most direct or most feasible route by a permanent road, having due regard to the public welfare, and to connect the county seats of the several border counties at or near the State line with a public road in the border states. Provided, that in counties which are divided into two or more judicial divisions in each of which regular terms of circuit court are held, the places where said terms of court are held shall likewise be connected with each other. It shall be the duty of said highway commission or highway department to equitably apportion among the several counties the expenditure of both money and labor and the time or times of making such investments. Not less than one-quarter of a million dollars of the proceeds of these bonds shall be set aside and expended by the State Highway Commission in each county in the State. To create a sinking fund for the prompt and faithful payment of the principal and interest on these bonds and for the construction, maintenance, and improvement of such public highways, roads, and bridges, the Legislature shall levy a special annual license or privilege tax on all automobiles, and on all motor driven vehicles which may be used on the public roads and highways of this state. Such bonds when issued shall be a direct obligation of the State, and for the prompt and faithful payment of the principal and interest thereon the full faith and credit of the State is hereby irrevocably pledged, and such bonds shall be exempt forever from all taxes of every kind."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, at the Capitol, in the City of Montgomery, on this the 16th day of November, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-one.

THOS. E. KILBY,
Gov.

By the Governor:
WM. P. COBB,
Secretary of State.

Cotton Seed.

We are loading out some Cotton Seed and will pay $30.00 per ton for next 10 days.
CLANTON MERCANTILE CO

WANTED CROSSTIES

Highest market price paid for white Oak, red Oak and post Oak ties.
G. M. Fuqua, Clanton, Alabama.

We do Job Printing.

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your house keeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change. Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don"t forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. f your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt-Edge.

Sewing Machines

is my Middle Name, Come in and let me fit you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins

We Do Job Printing.

MUSCLE SHOALS STATUS.

The following clipping from The Montgomery Advertiser sizes up clearly and concisely the situation of the Muscle Shoals project. It looks like cheap politics is going to make it impossible for Henry Ford to carry out his great dream for aiding the farmers with cheap fertilizer and the suffering poor with a chance to make aliving.

A long and bitter debate over the Ford offer will ensue in Congress. The debate will last a good deal longer taan it would if Mr. Weeks had been frank in his deaiings with Ford. Ford has one powerful enfluence supporting him, the influence of public opinion. This opinion wants Ford to have Muscle Shoals regardless of his erratic political theories and methods. The average man is not interest- in the political side of Ford, but in his industrial and commercial side, and he would have Congress approach the subject at hand with an eye single to this phase of the question. It would be a misfortune to have the fate of Muscle Shoals determined by partisan political consideration.

What does the Alabama delegation think of the situation?

The Washington correspondent of the Birmingham Age-Herald yesterday reported that the Alabama and Tennessee delegations in Congress would presently hold a joint meeting to devise ways and means to get a measure through Congress. This meetitg was announced by Representative W. B. Oliver. who said: 'I think that we have a chance to put through a measure involving the Ford offer. We haev recently secured the support of several able men from Western States. Of course the fight will be a long and hard one.'

Representative W. B. Bankhead believes they can secure the legislation necessary. The farmers are with them he says. and the farm bloc in Congress will be with them, while the South is 'solid' for Ford, and the South, by combining with the West, can beat the East he thinks. 'The fact that this is an electon year will redound to our advantage,' says Mr. Bankhead.

Representative Almon thinks if Ford and Weeks could reach an agreement, and they may yet do do so, there wll be little difficulty in Congress.

Senator Heflin is confident of the result so far as the Senator is concerned. He says: 'Underwood and I won our victories in the Senate of Muscle Shoals. We will win another. The farmer bloc will be our main dependence. Of course the personnel of the House presents our greatest handicap.'

Senator Underwood says that even if Weeks had recommended the Ford contract a hard fight would have been unavoidable.

'I am prepared to enter the fight,' he said. 'I will go to the limit to secure the adoption of essential legislation. But the fight will be a difficult one. Our last victory in the Senate was won when the Republican majority waa only two. It is now more than ten times that large. This would indicate increasing difficulties. The House has never been favorably disposed to Muscle Shoals, even during the Democratic administration. The Republican majority in the house today is larger than the entire Democratic membership.

'There are the hadicaps. But we may be able to overcome them. We will make the best fight that we know how.'

And there the situation stands. The Southern delegation will make a vigorous fight but they are at some disadvantage in the fact that Muscle Shoals is situated in the far South. Nevertheless, they will have assisatnce from other delegations and they will go into the fight with the organized farming interests backing them solidly.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The annual meeting of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce will be held on Thursday night at the Court House, beginning at 7:30, p.m. The public, both ladies and gentlemen are invited to attend this meeting.

The annual report will be presented by the secretary, which will show what the Chamber has been doing during the past year. This is a valuable organzation to the community and if you desire to know what it is accomplishing, this is an opportunity to find out.

The membership to this body still numbers about fifty. Others are contemplating joining for the coming year. In addition to the local membership we have the Bell Telephone people and the Alabama Power Co. who have signified their willingness to cooperate.

Efforts are now being concentrated on the location of some industries, and there are several good prospects. By continuous perseverance we believe this will soon come to pass. Splendid prospects of cheap brick, a spoke and handle factory and a cotton mill are among the prospects that give us an encouraging outlook for the future.

We shall be pleased for everyone to attend this becting and it is quite probable that Captain Lays will show some stereopticon pictures of the developement of Coosa River, both the present and future plans.

Remember The Public Are Invited-The Meeting Is Tonight.

SHOULTS NEWS

Several days last week reminded us of winter days. However, up to the present writing this week seems mere spring weather.

Our school here is progressing nicely under our efficient teachers, Miss Beatrice Little and Miss Marie Thomas. All the pupils and parents as well are highly pleased with the methods and successful management of the school. The attendance is regular and the school spirit measures up around the 100 per cent mark.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic
destroys the malarial germs which are transmitted to the blood by the Malaria Mosquito. Price [illegible]

STATEMENT OF CONDITION

OF THE

First National Bank

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS DECEMBER 31st, 1921.

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts	$175,821.58
Overdrafts	none
United States Bonds	30,000.00
Other Bonds	10,100.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,326.14
Redemption Fund	1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank	1,100.00
CASH IN VAULT AND IN BANKS	88,123.41
Total	$308,971.13

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock	$30,000.00
Surqlus and Uudivided Profits	12,016.94
Circulation	30,000.00
DEPOSITS	236,954.19
Total	$308,971.13

State of Alabama, County of Chilton.

I, Jno. C. Page, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Jno. C. Page, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 3rd day of January, 1922.

J. R. Mullin, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest.
D. I. Deramus,
E. E. Upchurch,
G. C. Walker,
Directors.

Conservative, Reliable,
Trustworthy.

Dr. Sam Johnson in the Medical service of the United States and stationed at Memihis, Tenn., was in the city this week visiting relatives and shaking hands with his many friends here.

Mr. R. C. Hutson of Verbena, was in town Monday on business.

Col. Lawrence F. Gerald went to Birmingham Monday.

The New York Store now has a double plate glass front and a floor space twice its former size. It makes an elegant appearance under the new arrangement.

Soon the hot days will come, the poor horses and mules that come to town will be thirsty and no place to drink. Are we going to stand for that another summer?

Business is gradually improving but you can't make the average laboring man see it.

When the weather gets bad and the roads all go to pieces is when the Ford car shines.

The papers announce that Mr. Bean has been nominated for the Clanton postoffice.

Lumber must be moving again prety well. The Forest Lumber Company load three or four cars per day and they must have over a million feet on their yard and teams hauling in more every day If Mr. Guy Higgins can't sell it the world just as well quit the lumber business.

Mrs. B. H. Vickers, of the Baker School community is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Gibbons, of Ackron, Ohio.

Drs. Gragg and Marcus are in New Orleans this week. Both of them are getting posted up to the last minute in the surgical methods and the most approved manner of usnig ether, gas, and other anaesthetics. They intend to be up with the times and ready for any emergency in practice that may be developed by the opening of the Central Alabama Hospital.

Mr. G. L. Giles, Maplesville, was in our city Monday looking after business affairs.

Mr. James Gilmore, Lomax, was in Clanton Monday.

Rev. P. G. Carter went over to Centerville last Sunday to preach and aid them in building a Baptist church there. When it comes to building, boosting, and hustling a town Rev. Carter, has 'But few equals and no superiors'

Mr. J. H. Williams, who lives in beat 9 was in town Tuesday.

Mr. B. H. Nelson, of Verbena, was here Monday on business matters.

Mr. H. Nelson, Verbena went to the Magic City Monday.

Mr. R.L. Veasey, a prominent farmer of Mulberry, was among those here Monday looking after personal affairs.

Messers J. A. Panell, G. H. Pannell, Montgomery advertiser men, were here Tuesday in the interest of that paper.

The county Registrars will be in Clanton until January 26th for the purpose of registering all of those who care to come here who are eligible to register. Remember, you can register without having your POLL TAX, but you can not cast your ballot next November unless your POLL Tax is paid by Febuary 1st 1922.

C C H S HI-Y

With the help of Mr. Halimns of the Y. M. C. A. of Birmingham, the young men of the Chilton County High School have organized a HI-Y-Club.

The object of this organization is similar to the Y. M. C. A work. It stands for clean living, clean speech, clean athletics and clean scholorship. It is intended to elevate the morals of the young men and is a step upward and onward in their lives.

Following are the officers anb members who organized:

Herbert Gardener, President; Norman Roberts, Vice-President; Wallace Cox, Sec.; Kenneth Danforth, Treas.; Kenneth Smith, Hoyt Reynolds, Elmer Harris, Willie Orr, Lincoln DeVaughn, Ferman Gore.

McDonald's Variety Store

BIRTHPLACE OF CUT PRICES
Come to see us. Shoes, Dry Goods, Staple and Fancy Groceries

McDonald's Variety Store
VERBENA, ALABAMA.
Railroad Avenue—East of the Postoffice

To Make Money Easy

You Ought To Do Your Trading With

C. C. Armstrong

FOR A DOLLAR SAVED IS A DOLAR MADE. AND HE SURE WILL SAVE YOU THE DOLLARS.

He carries a full line of Dry Goods, Notions, Shoes and Furnishings, besides a well assorted stock of Staple and Fancy Groceries.

If you want to meet with courteous treatment and Lowest Prices why the answer is: Trade at

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit its continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son
Clanton, Alabama.

The New York Store

See the NEW YORK STORE before buying your Winter Needs. Our Stock is complete Remember, our goods MUST be satisfactory to our customers.

The New York Store
Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, JANUARY 26, 1922 NUMBER 20

A SAD DEATH

...ire community was shock- ...day when a wire from Birmingham brought the sad intelligence that ... Mrs. Rilla Williams had passed ... and joined the great silent ma- ...ty beyond the grave.

...rs. Williams was the daughter of ... A. C. Smith and wife who for ...ny years have been prominent in ...social, civic and religious history ...our town. Col. Smith has been a ...mark here in the legal profession ...t just a month or so ago, declin- ...health made it necessary for him ...tire from active practice, and for ...weeks he has been a hospital ...ent in Birmingham, where finally ...amputation of one leg became ...ssary. He has not yet entirely ...overed.

...few years ago Miss Rilla married ... Hudson Williams and later they ...d to Birmingham where they ...resided since. Mrs Williams ...an exceptionally fine woman in ...walk of life and her passing ...is a calamity, not only to her ..., and close friends, but to any ...munity in which she might live.

...he funeral services were conducted ...the First Baptist Church by the ...tor, Rev P. G. Carter, at 2 p. m. ...day and were largely attended. ...remains were then carried to Sa-...la Church, one and half miles ...th of the city, where the old fam-...burying ground is located, and ...peacefully to rest surrounded by ...rge concourse of grieving friends.

You've seen good shows ...t have you seen "Keep ...the Right?" Strand ...turday.

...TRAYED—White Sow about 8 ...years old, crop on right ear and ...derbit in left. Weight about 250 ...unds. Also 1 red and black gilt ...ut 6 months old, no marks, weight ...ut 75 pounds. Owner can have ...e by paying for this ad and feed.

J. M. Thornbro.
...oute 3 Box 81, Jemison, Ala.

LINEN SHOWER FOR HOSPITAL

The ladies of Clanton are preparing to give a Linen Shower for the benefit of the Central Alabama Hospital in the near future and they desire to solicit the cooperation of all the ladies throughout the county.

This is a most gracious and commendable movement and the News wishes them every success. We hope that every lady in the county will take hold of this matter in earnest and if they will, the movement will indeed do a wonderful amount of good.

We offer our columns gladly for any publicity needed in pushing this matter.

MR. MOFFETT DROWNS

A ferry boat on the Coosa river at the Higgins Ferry sank Saturday in putting a load across and we learn that a Mr. Moffett was drowned.

It seems that a two mule wagon loaded with household goods was on the boat together with Mr. Moffett, who was horseback.

When the boat began to sink he shoved his horse clear of the sinking craft so it could swim ashore and went to assist the team driver in unhitching his mules. Before they succeeded in getting them loose the boat sank and the team went down with it. The other men on the boat seized a small skiff and escaped to land, but Mr. Moffett was left behind and the last the others saw of him he was clinging to a large safe and being rapidly carried away by the surging flood.

Money or religion which? See "Keep to the Right." Strand Saturday.

We do Job Printing.

MEXICAN KILLED

In a fall of rock at the Mitchell Dam last week one Albert Martenez, a Mexican from Moroleon, Mexico, received a blow on the head from which he died.

The remains were brought to the Mell Martin undertaking parlors and embalmed and are still being held by Mr. Martin awaiting instructions for forwarding.

MRS. MINS DIES

Mrs. Emily Mims, a well known lady of Chilton county for many years, died at Sylacauga last Saturday morning and was buried near here at Poplar Springs church Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mims was the mother of Messrs. J. D. Mims, William Mims and James Mims, also of Mrs. Emma Stagner and Mrs. Rosa Tackett.

She had resided in this section for many years and leaves a large number of friends and relatives who mourn because she is not.

For Sale at Once.

One Large Red Mule. Can try out before buying.

One 1-Horse Wagon and harness. Price, $15 00.

One Good Starr Piano. Less than half price. Terms.

60 Thorough-bred White Leghorn pullets, beginning to lay. Hens quoted in Birmingham at 28 cents per pound. Only $1 00

One Large "Never-rust" Range almost new. Six 8 inch eyes and warming closet. Guaranteed 20 years.

C. B. NORRELL,
Five miles South of Clanton on B. and M. Highway.

Often times you have contributed to charity. Where does your money go? See "Keep to the Right" Strand Saturday.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

NEW PRICES

(F. O. B. Detroit)

Chassis	$285
Runabout	$319
Touring Car	$348
Truck Chassis	$430
Coupe	$580
Sedan	$645

These are the lowest prices of Ford cars in the history of the Ford Motor Company.

Orders are coming in fast, so place yours promptly to insure early delivery.

Clanton Motor Car Co.

Authorized Chilton County Ford Dealers.

PROGRAM

Of Fifth Sunday Meeting will be Held With Bethsalem Church, Jan. 30and 31st, 1922.

9:30 A. M.—Devotional services, by A. E. Williams.
9:50—Does the Bible teach the spirit of Co-operation.
10:20—The condition of the church fifty years ago, compared with the present condition, by J. D. Hughes.
11:00—Sermon, by Buford Law-[illegible]
12:00 M.—Dinner.
1:00 P. M.—Devotional service, by Tom Wilson.
1:20—Church Decipline and its benefits, by E. H. Parrish.
2:20—Christian Education, by S. M. Adams.

Second Day.

9:15 A. M.—Devotional service, by Will Moore.
9:40—How may we promote spiritual growth in the churches, by J. D. Deason.
10:10—The young people the hope of the world, by Prof. J. L. Johnson.
11:00—Sermon, by W. P. Lowery.
1:15 P. M.—Devotional service, by M. S. Deason.
1:30—Does the Bible teach the spirit ofMissions, by J. E. Moore.
2:15—Why co-operate with the Southern Baptist convention in Mission work, by P. G. Carter.

We invite all who will to assist us in this meeting.

T. W. BILLINGSLEY,
Chairman of Committee.

CRITICISM AND NAGGING

Constructive criticism is beneficial to any community. Nagging and fault finding are destructive. Yet both are to be found everywhere.

Constructive criticism points out the week spots in a scheme or undertaking in a fair minded but forceful manner. Nagging picks it to pieces without reason or remedy.

Often a man is sincerely desirous of doing something for the general improvement of the town in which he lives. The improvement he advocates may be no more benefit to him than to any other citizen yet there is invariably somebody ready to impute a selfish or ulterior motive to his efforts.

In time such a man, if he is not endowed with extraordinarp patience becomes weary of repeated nagging and ceases his efforts for the community good.

The town gains nothing from the nagging, but looses much through the future apathy of the one whose loyal efforts were so unjustly attacked.

Legitimate commendation is a booster and a builder.—Foley Onlooker.

LOCK 12

Everybody is on a "blue" list, it seems here of late, but all are enjoying good health. It has rained here most a week, and no prospects of it ceasing yet.

Miss Mildred Reynolds is seeming lugubrious since one of the boarders of her place of abode got his foot cut so bad and had to leave, of course we all understand had it been any one except Mitchell Devaughn it would not have effected her so.

On last Saturday morning very early Mr. L. H. Waters left for his future work in Wawbeck, we are told. Don't think it was for deficit of the amity of the people here that would have caused his many friends to evacuate missing him.

Mr. Waters come back when you want to see those that think of you.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Col. B. Guy Smith, formerly a citizen of Clanton, but now a prominent attorney of Montgomery, was in the city this week.

Does money make happiness? See Edith Taleffero at Strand Saturday. "Where Friends Meet."

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Round Dozen Club Meets.

The Round Dozen Sewing Club held its regular weekly meeting on last Wednesday, afternoon at the residence of Mrs. T. C. McSwain. After the ladies had indulged in conversation and finger work, the hostess served a very tempting salad plate with hot coffee. Besides the club members Mesdames Guy Roberts and Fuqua were present.

Mrs. Guy Roberts Hostess.

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Guy Roberts was hostess to the Thursday Embroidery Club. The living room and dining room were thrown together, and was very attractive with pink carnations. After some time spent in conversation and finger work the hostess served a very tempting salad plate with hot coffee, she was assisted by Mrs. Ruben Reynolds. Besides the club members were Mesdames Ruebene Reynolds, McSwain and Clint Jones of Ashville, N. C.

Mrs. Simpson Entertains.

On last Friday Mrs. Hugh Simpson entertained a number of her friends at a spend the day. This was in honor of her 14th anniversary. The center piece being a cut glass vase of red carnations and ferns, the place cards being red hearts. A very tempting five course dinner was served to the follow ladies: Mesdames Hugh Jones, Pearson, Armstrong, M. L. White, Luckie, Macy Jones, Moore McSwain and Goodwyn of Montgomery.

Mrs. Roberts Recital.

On last Friday night at the High School auditorium, the music pupils of Mrs. Barney Roberts gave a recital, following is the program, "Play Time," Louise McSwain; "Catch Me," Mary Foshee; "The Chocolate Drops," Helen Roberts; "Italian Song," Edna Troy Thomas; "Magie Melody," Jane Roberts. "Hay Makers," Ethel Thompson; Trio, Stella, Edna Troy and Bessie Thomas; "Jolly Farmer," Mary McSwain; "Santa Lucio," Bessie Thomas; "Birds of Paradise," Ruth Splawn and Ruth Sessions; "Spring Suite." Ruth Sessions; "Minute in G," Stella Thomas; "The Lark," Ruth Splawn; "Carneval DeVenise," Ethel Thomas; "Invitation to Dance," Bessie Rogers; "La Grace," Miss Selman; "To Spring,' 'Louise Davis; "Eglative Waltz," Tommie Jo Scott.

Mrs. S. A. Goodwyn of Montgomery is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. E .Luckie.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Luckie and son Robert, returned home Thursday after spending ten days in DeLand, Fla.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Pow of Birmingham spent Sunday in Clanton with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. VanDerveer.

Miss Birdie Hall of Maplesville spent the week-end with Mrs. Macy Jones. Miss Hall was enroute to Montgomery where she goes to occupy a position.

Mrs. Claude Reynolds and son Sydney Lewis, spent several days in Montgomery this week with relatives.

Miss Fanny Jo Scott of Verbena spent Friday here and returning Saturday with Mrs. Barney Roberts.

Misses Louise Davis and Bessie Rogers of Marbury came up Friday and returning Saturday with Mrs. Baney Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stanfield of Greenville spent several days this week in Clanton.

Miss Emma Thomas, who has a position in Ozark, came home Saturday afternoon for a visit to her mother.

Mr. Frank Thomas, who has a position in Birmingham, is spending several days at home.

Miss Etha Nix spent the week end at home with relatives.

On next Monday afternoon the Presbyterian Ladies will be hostess to the Missionary Society of the Baptist and Methodist at their room in the Masonic Hall.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,
THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A most delightful birthday party was tendered to a number of her young friends by Miss Arabella Martin at her home Tuesday night.

In a guessing contest Miss Sophia Mullins was the winner and received an elegant box of candy.

Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess, consisting of hot chocolate and cakes.

Those present were Misses Sarah Mullins, Jewel Miner, Willie Higgins, Ruth Jones, Sophia Mullins, Gladys Kemp, Lola Sanford, Theresa Bozeman, Sarah Jones, Jewel Armstrong, Maude Wagoner. Gentlemen present were: Norman Roberts, Hoyt Reynolds, Burton Mullins, Kenneth Smith, Hubert Gardner, Kenneth Danforth, Julius Burnett.

The young men near and around Clanton must be wary birds or the wedding bells would chime more often. There are plenty of lovely girls.

HIGH SCHOOL HONOR ROLL

The following high school students have made the honor roll for the fourth month, having made an average of 90% in all studies including deportment. This grade represents a high standard of work an is an honor which comes to the students who are very diligent in their work.

Seniors.

Kenneth Danforth,
Lera Johnson,
Mary Kennedy,
Lillian Mims,
Eufaula Mahan,
Arrell Smitherman.

Juniors

Clara Holley,
Willie Higgins,
Gladys Kemp,
Maude Wagoner,
Clara Vines,
Elly Daniel.

Sophomores.

Lucian Duncan,
Charles Moore,
Myra Moore,
Addie Pearl Martin,
Otto Miller,
Mollie Robinson,
Sophia Mullins,
Flossie Wilson,
Dovard Cotton,

Freshmen.

Marie Burnett,
Ada Mae Doster,
Newton Gilland,
Leona Smith,
Hubert Stroud,
L. V. Higgins.

For the Senior Class, Mary Kennedy makes the highest average; for the Junior Class, Willie Higgins; for the Sophomore Class, Flossie Wilson; for the Freshman Class, Hubert Stroud. The average for the Senior Class this month is 89.38%; the Junior Class, 82.96%; the Sophomore Class, 82.72%; and the Freshman Class, 80.92%.

NOTICE

Jacob Kufman and M. A. Pinson announce that the partnership of M. A. Pinson & Co., formerly doing business at Coopers, Ala., has been dissolved. Jacob Kaufman has retired from the business, which will now be conducted solely by Mr. M. A. Pinson, under his own name.

M. A. PINSON,
1-26-3t. JACOB KAUFMAN.

We learn that highwater has temporarily held up part of the work at Mitchell Dam this week.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY .... Editor
R. E. CARTER .... Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

What Clanton needs is a few more Saturday pay days as regular as that of the Forrest Lumber Company.

The big syndicates will have to put an awful pile of money up in Congress now, or the fear of the voter back home will put the Ford proposition over.

The Pope, the head of the Catholic church, died at the Vatican in Rome last Sunday morning. A bitter game of politics in high life will sping up now among the Cardinals to see who can get the election to fill the vacated throne.

Mr. Berry, who announced as a candidate for governor a fortnight ago, has already found all the territory taken up by Brandon and has promptly withdrawn "in favor of Brandon." Some few others may have to learn that lesson too before the vote is counted.

If some arrangements could be made to successfully eliminate the greed of the profitteer good times would already be here.

The union miner who don't want to cut coal in an "open shop" mine after April 1, better be looking for some other kind of employment now. The sun of the union miner is just going down now in the United States, at least for a season.

The State soldier boys who it is alledged lynched a coal miner in Walker county last year, are out on bond now and the majesty of the law has been outraged again.

So far it doesn't look like much of a campaign was being made either for or against the Good Road bonda. The present outlook is that the vote on January 30 will be pretty light.

The city has been doing some much needed street gravelling the past week. If the weather would only be a little more favorable the street department would soon put Clanton streets in tip top shape. They intend to make many improvements this Spring in street conditions.

It is Chilton County's time to furnish the State Senator from this district and both the other counties should bear that fact in mind and get behind our man. We are offering you a man as clean, honest and able as can be found in the district, with not a blemish on his character or career. What more could you ask for?

While we all are talking politics and arguing out the various questions, pro and cou, let's not forget to put in a word every time we can for Chilton county and Clanton. We have the best county and town in the State, a live and active Commercial Club doing its utmost for our uplift and upbuilding, and all we need is a united detirmination to let the whole world knew we mean business and intend to go. Never allow anything to make you forget to boost.

The first of April terminates the contract that the soft coal miners have in practically all the organized mines of the country. The United Mine Workers in convention have demanded a 20 per cent raise for coal digging and $1.00 per day advance for laborers. The Operators refuse to treat with the organization at all and have declared for the "open shop." So there you are. A show down is going to come on April 1 and the Union will either have to win out or go off the slate.

Plain, old fashioned Democracy is coming back into her own this year and "heads of departments" are going to fall like the leaves in autumn. Some fool faddists and sentementalists have dressed the faith up with so many gew gaws and so much centralization bunk of late years that the wheels of efficiency have become clogged, but we are done with that now. The unanimous enthusiasm for Plain Bill proves that fact. We have learned our lesson well and now the simple old creed—the party of the real people and not the nabobs—is going to shuck off the frills and fooleries and go back in business at the old stand where every honest man is as good as his neighbor, and where the toiler gets justice and fair treatment regardless of the kind of clothes he wears or the size of his pocket book.

Argument and Not Personalites.

The News announced in its first issue that its policy would be to treat with absolute silence and unmitigated contempt any and all efforts upon the part of anyone to draw it in to a campaign of filthy and putrid mudslinging and the airing of personalities as campaign arguments.

We have not changed our mind in that respect and don't intend to, although at times the temptation to do so will doubtless be very great. Too much of that sort of thing has been done in Chilton county already. The people are fed up on that kind of politics and you certainly can't blame them.

In the politcal campaigh that is just ahead of us now we intend to do and say everything we possibly can in the interest of the Democratic candidates and the Democratic party, NOT because we have any personal grudge whatever against any particular person or persons on the opposite side, but because long years of close study and constant observation of political parties, policies and results, constrains us to believe with all the sincerity of our soul, that the principles of Democracy are the best and safest for the country at large and especially the only possible salvation for us of the South.

In doing our utmost to win out in this cause we intend to appeal only to the reason and good judgement of our readers, and we pledge you our word now that nothing we may say along this line will be said with a desire to insult any individual, but will only be urged as an honest and truthful appeal to the ladies and gentlemen of Chilton County to weigh well and carefully all the facts and think out for themselves what they feel like will be for their own best interest and for the safety and best interests of their children. We will not fear the decision.

If, at the close of the campaign, you see it different from what we do, vote your honest convictions and we will be satisfied. That is your inalniable right. But we beg you not to allow wily politicians and blinded prejudice to blind eyes and stultify your judgement, but do your own thinking, listen fairly to all the evidence and then make up your verdict.

The Democratic party is too great an organization to stoop to bandying words with insignificant individuals. It stands for a principle—for something tangible—for an untrammeled rule by the people and for the people, and the only fight they have to make is against corporate rule, centralization and for the preservation of white supremacy in the South now and for all time.

GOES BACK TO OLD EGYPT

Legend of Cinderella, Almost Universal, Believed to Have Come From Ancient Memphis.

Cinderella and the legend surrounding her glass slipper is believed to have originally come from ancient Memphis. In the ruins of this buried city lies the pyramid of Rhodopis, who lived at Naucratis, and was incomparably beautiful and chaste. One day when Rhodopis was bathing an eagle flew through the open ceiling of her bathroom and plucked from her maid's hands the sandal which she was just about to lace about her mistress' foot.

The eagle then flew to Memphis, where the king was administering justice in one of the courts of the palace, and, hovering above the king, dropped the sandal, which fell into the folds of the king's garment. He examined the sandal and found it so small and lovely that he bade his servants search all Egypt till they should find the woman whom it would fit.

Rhodopis was found in Naucratis and carried to the king, who married her. She died after a few months' happiness, and the disconsolate king had one of the costliest pyramids of antiquity built in her memory. In the first century B. C. the priests of Memphis were wont to exhibit a sandal in a crystal shrine which, they declared, once belonged to Rhodopis, miraculously preserved through many centuries. The sarcophagus and the mummy of Rhodopis have entirely vanished and her pyramid is little more than a ruin, but her legend lives in every land.

FAMOUS "LION OF LUCERNE"

Thorvaldsen's Masterpiece Commemorates the Heroism of the Swiss Guards in Paris in 1792.

The well-known monument called the "Lion of Lucerne," erected near Lucerne, in 1821, commemorates the tragic fate of the Swiss guards in the French Revolution when in their devotion to duty they were sacrificed to the bullets of the Marseillais and the pikes of the mob, August 10, 1792.

This infantry regiment, the "Gardas Suisses," had been originally a Swiss mercenary regiment in the Wars of Religion; but for their own good conduct at the combat of Arques they were incorporated in the permanent establishment of the Maison du Roi, by Henry IV, (Henry of Navarre), in 1589, and in the guards in 1615. The French guards sided openly with the constitutional movement at the Revolution, and were disbanded, but the Swiss guards remained faithful to their trust.

This monument was the work of Bertel Thorvaldsen (1770-1844), a Danish sculptor, noted for his statues of Christ and the apostles, and for his efforts at classical sculpture. He was the son of an Icelander who had settled in Denmark, and was born at Copenhagen. There he lies buried under a bed of roses in the courtyard of the museum he endowed.

But Is It Worth It?

This is a remedy of an English woman for taking off superfluous ounces from the face that has become too fat through overeating and lack of exercise.

To begin with, of course, she recommends mild dieting and plenty of walking and lots of water to drink every day. This to cut down superfluous fat all over the body.

One good exercise is this: Open the mouth and work the jaw vigorously, first to the right, then to the left, then backward, then forward. Do this persistently.

Then draw the cheeks in between the teeth and puff them out hard and full. Then, with the teeth shut tight, stroke the cheeks with the palms of the hands gently upward from the chin tip to forehead. Don't do any of the stroking exercises too rapidly or vigorously, but do them for a long time, persistently, slowly. You will get the best results in this way.

FOUND:—One Locket and Chain Apply at News office and get information.

GRIST MILL:—W. J. Vincent has bought the Honeycutt & Thompson mill and solicits your patronage.

NOTICE

The estate of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased.

Letters testamentary upon the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, having been granted to the undersigned on the 11th day of August, 1921, by the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate will be required to present the same within the time required by law, or same will be barred.

E. W. BUTLER,
Executor of the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased 1-5-3t.

Car Load of Mules.

I have just received a car load of assorted Mules and can fit you out with any kind you want to suit any kind of work. Call and see me at the New Sales Stables, near overhead railroad bridge.

D. Y. JOHNSON.

FOR SALE—80 acres of land on Lock 12 highway 4 miles from Clanton, will sell or trade for pracitally new Ford Touring Car. Write or see N. J. Bice Rt. 6 Clanton, Alabama. 3times

SALESMAN WANTED to solicit orders for lubricating oils, greases and paints. Salary or Commission. Address THE HARVEY OIL CO. Cleveland Ohio.

The Old Reliable

I am back on the job again, ready and anxious to do all your Shoe Repairing at pre-war figures.

Find me in rear of the Smith and Downs wholesale store in the Taylor Mill building.

N. B. EROWN.

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

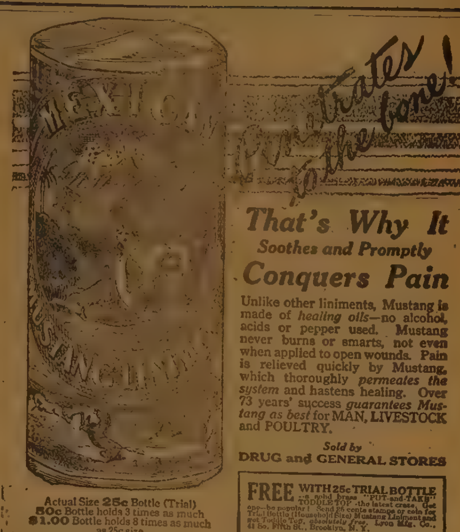
G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.



Penetrates to the bone!

Actual Size 25c Bottle (Trial)
50c Bottle holds 3 times as much
$1.00 Bottle holds 8 times as much as 25c size

That's Why It Soothes and Promptly Conquers Pain

Unlike other liniments, Mustang is made of healing oils—no alcohol, acids or pepper used. Mustang never burns or smarts, not even when applied to open wounds. Pain is relieved quickly by Mustang, which thoroughly permeates the system and hastens healing. Over 73 years' success guarantees Mustang as best for MAN, LIVESTOCK and POULTRY.

Sold by
DRUG and GENERAL STORES

FREE WITH 25c TRIAL BOTTLE —a solid brass "PUT-and-TAKE" TODDLE TOP -the latest craze. Get one—be popular! Send 25 cents stamps or coin for Trial Bottle (Household Size) Mustang Liniment and get Toddle Top, absolutely free. Lyon Mfg. Co., 41 So. Fifth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MUSTANG
"The Good Old Standby Since 1848"
LINIMENT
LYON MANUFACTURING CO., Proprietors, 41-43-45 South Fifth St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Ready for New Year

We have stocked up with a complete line of fresh, Fancy and family supplies. Anything you need for the table and prices that cannot be beat.

We thank you for your trade in 1921 and solicit your continued patronage for 1922.

Our best efforts to serve will be at your command,

F.M. Connell & Son

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabama, Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is uy to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the leake come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

YOU TAKE NO CHANCES!

Shumate Written Guarantee With Each Razor

For Sale by

Alred Drug Co.

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

ISH FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS

Been Held for Centuries as a Memorial of the Dedication of the Altar.

nukkah, the Feast of Dedication, called "Feast of the Maccabees," Jewish festival beginning on the ty-fifth day of Kislew (December) and continuing for eight days, ly as a festival of lights. It instituted by Judas Maccabeus, brothers, and the elders of the regation of Israel, in the year 165 ., to be celebrated annually with h and joy as a memorial of the cation of the altar, or the purion of the sanctuary.

ter having recovered the Holy and the Temple from the Greeks, s ordered a new altar to be in the place of the one which had polluted by Antiochus Epiphanes, had caused a pagan altar to be p in the Temple of Jerusalem, and ifices to be offered to his idol. the fire had been kindled anew the altar and the lamps of the lestick lit, the dedication of the was celebrated for eight days sacrifices and songs.

the Talmud the festival is prinlly known as the "Feast of Ilnation," and it was usual either isplay eight lamps on the first t of the festival, and reduce the ber on each successive night, or egin with one lamp the first night, asing the number till the eighth t. The lights are supposed to be olical of the liberty obtained by Jews on the day of which Hanukis the celebration.

D HEALTH IN SUN'S RAYS

ients Had Full Faith in Treatment Now Practiced in the Most Modern Sanitariums.

a small village in the Adirons there is a sanitarium where ents take sun baths. And a high e is charged for the treatment.

athing in the sun's rays for health n ancient ceremony, handed down the earliest ages. Wiseacres in one times used to bathe in the shine, believing in the great value light as a destroyer of disease. ht was the secret and universal icine by which they cured many nses.

unlight is the greatest factor in planetary existence; if it failed life would perish. One has only to at nature for potent examples. vegetable, animal and human life influence of sunlight is strongly ifest. Compare the vegetation in gardens of a back street away the sunlight with similar growth the open country. Compare the dren of the country with those ng down a narrow street of the slums.

or creating good general health happiness no medicine is so eftive as the direct rays of the sun. un bath consists of letting the rays the sun bathe the skin each day, ferably during the morning. The y is, of course, wholly or partialuncovered.

Marine Phenomenon.

Late one January the steamship afalgar, when within ten miles of lf rock, off the southeast coast of gland, met with a remarkable acent.

A report like that of a cannon was rd, and a large fiery body with tail 30 or 40 feet long struck the ter 20 feet from the vessel. It s accompanied by a loud hissing, d a column of water rose where it uck the sea. Immediately afterrd the ship seemed to be on fire, e engine room glowing with a violet ht filled with multitudes of sparks. e mate engaged at the wheel sufed a violent shock through the steel d in his hand. The crew fled to the ck. It was found that all the comsses had been demagnetized, and e ship had much difficulty in making r way to Falmouth. It was probly a strong lightning flash which uck the water, and the subsequent ctric phenomena were produced by e dispersal of the charge supplied the surface of the sea.

"Gibraltar of Canada."

Quebec citadel, sometimes called e "Gibraltar of Canada," is a strong rtification covering 40 acres of ound, and in its present form it dates om 1828. The more modern fortiations were constructed in 1820-30, bstantially on the lines of the French orks of 1620. The citadel has been rrisoned by Canadian soldiers since e withdrawal of British troops in 71. It incloses a parade and drill ound, 42 acres in extent, surrounded barracks and magazines under the alls. Heavy cannon are mounted on e ramparts. A large stone building rms the "Officers Quarters," with the overnor General's Residence" (occaonally occupied by him) at the east d, overlooking the river.

A splendid vista can be seen from e king's bastion at the northeast ngle of the ramparts. The west ramarts overlook the Plains of Abraam.

All the Symptoms.

"Was Mr. Grabcoin in his office when ou called?"

"No, he must have been playing olf."

"Are you sure about this?"

"Reasonably sure. The office force eemed to think he wouldn't be back oon. Most of the clerks had their eet up on their desks and three stenographers were glued to telehones."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

FALCONRY AN ANCIENT SPORT

Amusement, Practiced in East, Can Be Traced to Period That Antedates Era of Christianity.

Falconry, the art of training falcons and hawks to the chase, has been traced back to a period before the Christian era. It was practiced in the East and also in Europe long before its introduction into England. The English kings used to amuse themselves with this sport, which was for a long time the leading amusement, such as baseball is in America today.

Falconers use two kinds of birds—the long-winged, dark-eyed falcons and the short-winged, yellow-eyed hawks. The former take their prey by rising above it in the air and swooping at it from a considerable height and striking it to the ground; the latter pursue in a straight line, and overtaking the object of the chase by superior speed, clutch it and bring it down.

The larger falcons are sent after winged prey of all kinds, crows, magpies, rooks, herons and wild fowl. The smaller falcons, such as the merlin and hobby, are flown at larks; while of the short-winged hawks, the sparrow-hawk is flown at blackbirds and thrushes, partridges early in the season, and quails, the goshawk taking pheasants, partridges and wild fowl, rabbits and hares.

With all birds of prey the females are invariably larger and more powerful than the males, and the sexes are consequently selected according to the game they have to pursue.

ALWAYS 'SKELETON' AT FEAST

Egyptian Merrymakers Had Custom Which Must Have Been Something of a Check on Revelry.

Accounts which have come down of Egyptian banquets indicate that among the wealthy people and those Egyptians who were "in society" they were very elaborate affairs with a great variety of rich and high-spiced and high-priced food and many wines—wines rare and strong.

But no matter how jovial and happy and hilarious the feast, a mummy was there as a reminder of death. At the conclusion of the most substantial part of the banquet and when the wine began to flow most freely, an attendant, perhaps one of the waiters, would carry around a coffin containing the image of a dead body carved in wood, and as the Greek historian, Herodotus tells us, "made as like as possible in color and workmanship, and in size generally about one or two cubits in length." The business of the waiter was to show this to each member of the gay and joyous company and say, "Look upon this, then drink and enjoy yourself, for when dead you will be like this."

Herodotus wrote about 2,500 years ago that "this practice they have at all their drinking parties."

Sugar Once a Delicacy.

We are apt to forget how short a time it is since sugar was regarded as a costly delicacy, proper to be used by the wealthy alone or as a medicine. In the early colonial days it sold at about 75 cents a pound, in the loaf, and granulated sugar was unknown. It was with the growth of the custom of drinking coffee and tea that it became a food staple. When it was introduced to England in medieval times it was as "Indian salt," a rare and precious condiment, although the art of boiling sugar was known in India before the Seventh century, and in Egypt much earlier. The Dutch brought sugar to Manhattan, and a New York Gazette of 1730 carried this advertisement: "Public notice is hereby given that Nicholas Bayard, of the City of New York, has erected a house for refining all sorts of sugar and sugar candy, and has procured from Europe an experienced artist in that mystery."—New York Evening Post.

Heads "Sized Up."

The size of a man's cranium has nothing to do with the size of his head. Truly big-headed men are usually so modest you have to push them into their honors.

Often big bones are bestowed by a pitying providence to compensate for the lack of gray matter their bigness would suggest.

Napoleon was a small man with a bullet-shaped head. He was dictatorial and imperative. But then you can forgive such a fellow, when he has the goods. It's the would-be's that try men's souls.

Many of the nation's greatest men have very ordinary-sized heads when measured by their hat bands. In fact, they offer no suggestion of the big head when viewed from any angle.—Grit.

Woods Flower-Carpeted.

Soon after the earliest blossoms have lifted their heads to the sunshine the stately queen of the vernal woods—the large white trillium—unfurls her banners of snowy white. In many woods this species occurs in such numbers as to give the forest floor the appearance of a white-starred carpet. We are likely to find a white spider, with the front two pairs of legs much elongated, sitting close to the center of the flower. This is the white crab spider, a species which thus maintains an attitude of waiting with its long legs spread like a pair of forceps over the middle of the blossom ready to seize such insects as may visit it in search of nectar or pollen.—American Forestry Magazine

BETTER THAN ALL MEDICINE

Oysters Put Artemus Ward on His Feet When Every Other Remedy Had Proved a Failure.

When Artemus Ward and Dr. Hingston, who acted as his manager on his western lecture tour, arrived in Salt Lake City, after that amusing and successful visit to California, the beloved humorist fell sick. So badly was he, after his arduous rounds of the Pacific coast and his strenuous days in Virginia City, Nev., with Mark Twain and Bill Nye, that his life was despaired of.

The lecture Artemus had arranged with Brigham Young to give in the theater, had to be postponed. In fact, so hopeless seemed the case that Dr. Hingston even tried to arrange to have the body of his friend and partner transported to the East on the stage coach. But the optimism of Artemus brought him back to safety again, a very thin and weak man.

But before he was allowed to leave his room, Artemus had difficulty gaining sufficient strength even to walk. From Brigham Young to the least humble of the Mormon "saints," attentions in the form of fresh eggs, jellies and other helpful delicacies were showered upon the convalescent. Artemus enjoyed everything, but nothing seemed to give him strength.

At last a food was discovered in a local grocery, so we are told, that "lifted him from his couch." This was nothing more or less than a dozen cans of Baltimore oysters, put up in squares of block tin. The first oyster stew "hit the spot," and Artemus chirped up:

"Get out the bills for the lecture! See Mr. Clawson and arrange for the date. The show is safe enough, now we've got on an oyster basis."—Mark Stuyvesant in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TO MAKE HEADWAY IN LIFE

Consecrate and Concentrate, Is the Advice Given by Writer in Forbes Magazine.

You want to make headway in the world, of course. See if this thought can help you: First, consecrate yourself to your calling; then concentrate. The lives of most men of notable achievement have been characterized by consecration and concentration. Before one can consecrate oneself, one must be possessed by some bigger and broader and better idea than mere money making. There must be something in the work that appeals to one. The work must appear to be worth while, worth effort and industry and sacrifice. You could not, for example, conceive of anyone consecrating himself to "bootlegging." There isn't one honest calling, however, to which a worker could not consecrate himself or herself if animated by the right spirit. Having consecrated oneself to a line of endeavor, then concentration must follow if proficiency and success are to be attained.

The worker, be he employee or employer, who hasn't consecrated himself to his calling fails to derive from it that deep satisfaction known to those who have consecrated themselves to their jobs. Concentration follows consecration naturally and with joy rather than hard effort.—Forbes Magazine.

Swiss Santa Rings Bell.

In the quaint little town of St. Gallen, Switzerland, which has retained many of its curious medieval customs, Santa Claus makes his visits ringing a gigantic cowbell, says Popular Science Magazine.

In St. Gallen, every Christmas eve twelve men array themselves in white trousers and shirts, embroidered wool suspenders, and bright red ties. Each one fastens an enormous cowbell on to a wide leather belt, and covers his head with an enormous mask of cardboard, the upper part of which is decorated by stenciled designs.

One of the twelve is called "Samichlaus." It is his duty to give the good children presents. The other eleven remain at a little distance on the outskirts of the jolly crowd that follows them on their rounds, giving candy to the grownups and entertaining everybody with their clowning.

Cave-Dwelling Snakes.

Until recent times no reptiles were known to have adapted themselves to existence in the darkness of caverns. Now, however, it is known that in the Malay peninsula a snake, a species of coluber, inhabits certain caverns, feeding upon the bats.

These cave-dwelling snakes attain a length of between eight and nine feet. Their coloring simulates that of the walls of the caverns. The rock is a yellowish limestone, traversed with blackish veins, and these markings and colors are curiously reproduced in the snakes, many of which lurk on the ledge in the semi-darkness near the entrances, watching for the bats.

The Game of Whist.

All great discoveries are works of time, and the game of whist is no exception to the rule. Its merits were not recognized in early times, and under the vulgar appellation of "whisk and swobbers" it long lingered in the servants' hall ere it could ascend to the drawing room.

At length some gentlemen in England who met at the Crown coffeehouse in Bedford Rod, studied the game, gave it rules, established its principles, and then Edward Hoyle, in 1743, blazoned it forth to all the world.

A PROCLAMATION

Executive Department,
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 16, 1921.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at a special session held in the year 1921, proposed a certain amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, and ordered an election to be held thereon on the first Monday after the expiration of three months from and after the final adjournment of said session, which will be Monday, the 30th day of January, 1922;

AND WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thos. E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct, and proclaim, that a special election will be held on Monday, January 30, 1922, for the vote of the qualified electors of Alabama, in the manner, form, and places required by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

> "Article XX. Section 1. The State is authorized to engage in the construction, improvement, repair, and maintenance of public roads, highways, and bridges in the State of Alabama. To this end, and for this purpose, the State is authorized to appropriate funds; and also to issue and sell interest-bearing negotiable State bonds, in an amount not to exceed the sum of twenty-five millions of dollars ($25,000,000.00), to be issued in such denominations, numbers, and series, and maturing at such time, as may be provided for by law; but such bonds shall bear a rate of interest not greater than six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall be sold at a price not less than the par value thereof. Provided, that no bonds shall be issued or sold, under this provision, to such an amount that the interest thereon will exceed the net amount of vehicle license tax collected for the year preceding the issuance of same, and which is set apart for the payment of interest on said bonds. The State Highway Commission or Highway Department shall locate, construct, and maintain highways and state trunk roads so as to connect each county seat with the county seat of the adjoining county by the most direct or most feasible route by a permanent road, having due regard to the public welfare, and to connect the county seats of the several border counties at or near the State line with a public road in the border states. Provided, that in counties which are divided into two or more judicial divisions in each of which regular terms of circuit court are held, the places where said terms of court are held shall likewise be connected with each other. It shall be the duty of said highway commission or highway department to equitably apportion among the several counties the expenditure of both money and labor and the time or times of making such investments. Not less than one-quarter of a million dollars of the proceeds of these bonds shall be set aside and expended by the State Highway Commission in each county in the State. To create a sinking fund for the prompt and faithful payment of the principal and interest on these bonds and for the construction, maintenance, and improvement of such public highways, roads, and bridges, the Legislature shall levy a special annual license or privilege tax on all automobiles, and on all motor driven vehicles which may be used on the public roads and highways of this state. Such bonds when issued shall be a direct obligation of the State, and for the prompt and faithful payment of the principal and interest thereon the full faith and credit of the State is hereby irrevocably pledged, and such bonds shall be exempt forever from all taxes of every kind."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, at the Capitol, in the City of Montgomery, on this the 16th day of November, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-one.

THOS. E. KILBY.
Gov.

By the Governor:
WM. P. COBB,
Secretary of State.

Cotton Seed.

We are loading out some Cotton Seed and will pay $30.00 per ton for next 10 days.
CLANTON MERCANTILE CO

WANTED CROSSTIES

Highest market price paid for white Oak, red Oak and post Oak ties.
G. M. Fuqua, Clanton, Alabama.

We do Job Printing.

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your housekeeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change. Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don't forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A full line of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. f your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt-Edge.

Sewing Machines

is my Middle Name, Come in and let me fit you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins.

We Do Job Printing.

The following clipping from the Montgomery Advertiser goes to show that the editor of the News is not alone in his ad reported assertion that our country was going to ruin along the lines of too much waste at the top. This is a plain statement of a glaring fact .

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, New York educator and publicist, is a vigorous thinker and a candid spokesman. He raely fails to ring the bell when he speaks or writes.

Dr. Butler recently exicited considerable comment by his arraingnment of the American people for suffering governmental bureaus to multiply and so fasten themselves upon the people that it will be next to impossible to throw them into the disgard. The immediate occasion of Dr. Butler's remarks is the proposal to set up a Federal Bureau to supervise popular education . But in his comments he assails the whole bureaucratic system.

New bureaus come into life, professing a hot desire to serve the public, but their real purpose, according to Dr. Butler, is not to serve but to control, and in this he sees a decline of faith and liberty.

Dr. Butler says:

> In the United States we are in flat defiance of all our proclaimed principles, building a series of bureaucracries that will put to shame the best efforts of the Government of the Tsar of all the Russians when in the heyday of its glory. We are surrounded by agents, special agents inspectors and spies, and the people are called upon to support through their taxes in harmful and un-American activities whole armies of individuals who should be engaged in productive industry. * * *
>
> When anything appears to go wrong, or when any desirable movement seems to lag, a cry goes up for the creation of some new board or commission and for an apropriation of public funds to maintain it in reasonable comfort. An infinite number of blank forms must be filled and an infinite of records must be filled and an infinite of records must be kept, classified and audited at steadily mounting cost.

With his soul stirred by somewhat the same spectacle, Senator Augustus Stanley, of Kentucky, recently declared:

> Every business man finds an inspector at his elbow, a Federal sleuth at his heels. Houses are searched, homes outraged and the public highways dappled in the blood of unoffending citizens by a multitude of agents and inspectors ignorant of and indifferent to the law of the land and the rights of citizens. * * *
>
> Nobody escapes. Everything in the moral, industrial and commercial world is to be owned, operated, supervised or censored from the birth of a baby to the burial of a corpse, and the worst is not yet.

COOPERS

The people of and around Coopers sorry that a number of the people of the D. C. C. camp have left and gone to Mitchell Dam. Mr. Clay Willingham is also very lonesome since his friends have left him at the camps.

A music entertainment, given by Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Cooper last Friday night, Jan. 20th, was well enjoyed by a number of their friends. Games were played, refreshments served, and before the adjournment the Indians prayer was said by all,

Mr. and Mrs. Payne of the D. C. C. camp near here spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rutland, of which the afternoon was well enjoyed.

Miss Flora Thornton is visiting relatives in Cooper.

The people of Coopers are very are very glad to have Mr. J. Bice and son to stay with them longer than they expected to.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bibb and their little son, Otis, spent the week end in Birmingham.

Miss Florence Foshee was visiting in Clanton last Thursday afternoon.

Miss Lottie Vance and Miss Mary Wise spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. J. T. Cooper.

The Cross Roads School is progressing nicely, except the principal has been absent for few days on account of sickness.

ENTERPRISE ITEMS

You will please allow me space in your valuable paper to state a few facts in regard to the wellfare of the Enterprise community.

We are glad indeed to state that health is very good at present. The weather is somewhat rough as to what it has been heretofore.

Our school is in nice progress now, under the able supervision of Prof. G. C. Weldon. Prof. Weldon is much loved by us all.

Mr. Stanley Davis and Miss Rador Courtney came to the singing at Bethany Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Dewey Huett seems to be having much trouble in locating his Sunday afternoon charm. We hope him good success. We think that his head is full of brilliant ideas as he says he certainly does like to go to Indian Grave services.

We know that it is wrong to covet but we can't help noticing the large quantity of stove-wood that Mr. W. Y. Keel is fixing. Look out Mr. Keel for visitors. , they are sure to be suspicious of your pantry.

Will some one who knows tell Mr. Dowey Huett what he must do in order to make the ladies believe what he tells them?

We sure were sorry that the "rough necks" of Enterprise couldn't defeat the "bare-headed" boys of Verbena in a basket ball game the other Friday afternoon, but just wait when we get a little better practiced up we'll knock them through the world to come.

AN ENTERPRISE BOY.

GREATER AUBURN SEMI-CENTENNIAL CAMPAIGN

What is needed in our State more than any other one thing is more education.

To bring about this desired condition, we must better equip our schools and colleges.

There is a State-wide Campaign on to raise one million dollars to better equip the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, Ala. Every interest and every individual in the State should see the importance of this campaign and put it over in such a way as to write the doom of ignorance and illiteracy and place our State much higher in the scale of Education by which States are measured.

Let this be our slogan "greater Auburn means greater Alabama."

G.C. WALKER,
General Chrm. Chilton County Campaign.

ROUTE FOUR

On last Sunday, Jan. 22nd, Mrs. H. P. Handly entertained her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rowell at dinner. The occasion being their Forty-fourth (44) Anniversary. The delicious spread was enjoyed by all present.

France has decided to play a lone hand and force Germany to pay up. She is getting ready now for Germany to walk her log in short order and pay her indemnity at the cannon's mouth. Germany, with that great Russian army behind her, can beat France to a frazzle before you know it.

THE REPORTER

(Written for the Arkansas Writer.)

Reporter! Definition: One who reports news (good and bad and neutral). He needs not be a literary artist, but he shore 'nough has a nose for news. He means for the weal and woe of mankind, for we are a race of inverate newspaper readers. His mission is broad—his field is the earth to its uttermost corners. A newspaper reporter on a metropolitan daily is accorded all the reverence and attentions of a count or duke.

The reporter has his trails and tribulations. If a hen lays its usual daily egg, or does not, the owner of the hen wants it to appear in the paper, next reading matter, top column. When baby first begins to coo and cackle and blubber out "Mamma! Mam-ma." the mother wants a special notice, front page, with a seven-line, top-mast and jibboom. There is the man, and we are all like that man, who wants to get his name in print, but can't make an impression on the daily wielder of news who strives ever to serve the people good mental food so they will not get literary indigestion.

The reporter seeks ungarnished facts (he will do the embellishing, trust him for that). He keeps himself in the background and offers no opinions and philosophy of his own. He is forever on the qui vive for a "scoop," some big piece of news that his rival papers do not get until he has first extolled it to the world in his paper.

The reporter's friend and eternal enemy is the city editor. (Some day I may eulogize the editor, for he deserves it, poor soul. He must have nerves of brass and a heart of steel). The editor puts the reporter on the scent of news, and how he gets it, and where and when are up to the reporter. He need not be a short-hand writer, but he makes memoranda of the facts he gleans and then retires to his desk to write up his article, clearyl, briefly, forcibly and in words that banker Hanna and street-sweeper Bill will understand. This he may write out in long hand in pencil or scratch pads with ample space for corrections and interlineations, or he may write it on his typewriter. He then solemnly, and with some forebodings, presents it to the city editor, or lays it in the wire basket on his desk to await its turn. In due course it reaches the scrutiny of the editor's eagle-like eyes, and half or two thirds of the "document" is blue penciled, or perhaps he will consign it entire to the universal receptacle, the waste-paper basket. The waste-paper basket is one of the editor's most used and useful implements. You might deprive the editor of his desk or his chair, but he would hang on to his waste-paper basket till the ocean becomes a mill-pond. Many a "genius" has ignobly perished in the waste-paper basket. The editor demands real live dope, and all dummies and sarcophagi are suspended over the basket and drawn thence by the forces of the natural law that Sir Isaac Newton discovered. Feature stories, human-interest stories, stories of the street, are aften murdered on the spot, rustlessly and in cold blood—no dirge is sung, no funeral pile erected. Such dope, "subically" speaking, needs a scientific refrigeration to act as a preservation.

A reporter is a privileged potato (sweet or Irish). He gives the street car conductor a smile in lieu of a nickle (or six cents,) gets "comps" to the best shows on tap, and as for cigars and other smokes, they are always coming his way—General Grant ain't in it. Mayors, governors, and congressmen, wine him and dine him, and smile as sweet as young girls, for the humble reporter wields a mighty pen and they fear his pen as they do poison. Before his mighty presence statesmen and crowned heads kneel and bow patronizingly. Even Bryan will coo like a dove, and the Maharajah Dodo will kiss his great toe. For a curious and insatiate public cries for his wares, and the [illegible] porter talks to packed gallerie[illegible] -e- charge is only three cents [illegible] —the special rates for season t[illegible] a seat— It is the special mi[illegible] ckets. porter to get news [illegible] sion of the re- He devours new[illegible], and at all costs. gulp—his ap[illegible], piece-meal or at a news is n[illegible] petite is voracious. If facture[illegible] ot forthcoming it is manu- abo[illegible] d or he makes "much ado a[illegible] t nothing." The reporter is a resourceful animal—he can smell news across a continent—in the fathomless depths of the sea, and on the highest mountain peaks. A diving-bell or a flying-machine may be required, but he will be "Johnny on the spot."

When should a man propose? See "Keep to the Right" Strand Saturday.

Mr. Chas. Cooper, of Midway, was in to see us this week. He tells us Midway is now a flag stop on the Railroad for the local passenger trains.

OF THE

First National Bank

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS DECEMBER 31st, 1921.

RESOURCES.
Loans and Discounts	$175,821.58
Overdrafts	none
United States Bonds	30,000.00
Other Bonds	10,100.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,326.11
Redemption Fund	1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank	1,100.00
CASH IN VAULT AND IN BANKS	88,123.41
Total	$308,971.13
LIABILITIES.
Capital Stock	$30,000.00
Surqlus and Uudivided Profits	12,016.94
Circulation	30.000.00
DEPOSITS	236,954.19
Total	$308,971.13

State of Alabama, County of Chilton.

I, Jn C Page, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemn- wear th the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Jno. C. Page, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 3rd day of January, 1922.

J. R. Mullin, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest.
D. I. Deramus,
E. E. Upchurch,
G. C. Walker,
Directors.

Conservative, Reliable, Trustworthy.

McDonald's Variety Store

BIRTHPLACE OF CUT PRICES
Come to see us. Shoes, Dry Goods, Staple and Fancy Groceries

McDonald's Variety Store
VERBENA, ALABAMA.

Railroad Avenue—East of the Postoffice

To Make Money Easy

You Ought To Do Your Trading With

C. C. Armstrong

FOR A DOLLAR SAVED IS A DOLAR MADE, AND HE SURE WILL SAVE YOU THE DOLLARS.

He carries a full line of Dry Goods, Notions, Shoes and Furnishings, besides a well assorted stock of Staple and Fancy Groceries.

If you want to meet with courteous treatment and Lowest Prices why the answer is: Trade at

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son
Clanton, Alabama.

The New York Store

See the NEW YORK STORE before buying your Winter Needs. Our Stock is complete Remember, our goods MUST be satisfactory to our customers.

The New York Store
Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1

CLANTON, ALABAMA, FEBRUARY 2, 1922.

NUMBER 21

A WOBBLY PLATFORM

The following taken from the Age-Hearld of Sunday, purports to be the political platform of enator B. T. Phillips who wants o be lieutenant governor. He is ike the man from Tennessee he ivered too much ground.

The American Sunday is the irst plank in the platform of enator B. T. Phillips, candidate r Lieuteant govenor, as made ublicly by Senator Phillips today. he platform did not indicate hether or not Senator Phillips elieve an American Sunday is w in effect and whether or not proposes any change in the ws regarding Sunday observance.

Senator Phillips also declared r increased appropriations to public schools, including in-uations of higher learning, for larged efficiency of the child lfare department, for the co- guardianship of minors by par-ts, for strict enforcement of law and no change in prohibition law except to strenghten it, for lower freight and passenger rates, for abolition of unnecessary offices and return of salaries to level of present values, repeal of all exemption statutes, for giving labor the same otection as is given capital, for humane treatment of conts and no renewal of convict ses for the redistrictnig of for legislative offices as uired by the constitution, for ral appropriations for Conerate soldiers and widows, for passage of adjusted compenon bill for soldiers and for ational training of soldiers of rld war and for an economiadminstration of the state.

We do Job Printing

BAND CONCERT IN TOWN THIS AFTERNOON

Quitely but none the less enthusiatically the Chilton County High School Band has been working under the direction of Mr. H. E. Snow of Birmingham, for the past three weeks. We believe that splendid progress has been made and we leave you to be the judge. Come out to hear the band this afternoon, (Thursday) near the court house at 3:00 o'clock. The concert is free and you are cordially invited.

The High School Band is making rapid progress these days and are doing credit not only to the enterprise and pluck of that splendid institution but to Clanton, Chilton county and to themselves. They deserve the hearty cooperation and encouragement of every citizen of the town and county.

DUNCAN —CRUMPTON

A marriage that seems to have been quite a suprise in local social circles was that of Mr. Lucian Duncan and Miss Clara Crumpton, which occurred in Montevallo last Sunday evening.

Both of these young people were raised here and are widely known and popular and have many friends who will delight in wishing for them a long and happy voyage in double harness down the Highway of life.

We learn that the young lovers left last Sunday by auto, drove to Columbiana and secured their license and from thence to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smith in Montevallo, where they were made one.

Good luck to them and a long life

HARD FOR WATSON TO PROVE CHARGES.

The Senate investigating committee which has been hearing charges brought by Senator Watson of Georgia that soldiers were hanged and mistreated in France is expected to end its work next week.

The net result of its labors will probably show that the fiery Georgian has run into another hornets nest. While some witness have sworn categorically to flagrant abuse of authority, they have been flatly contradicted by others. It is noticeable that the intelligence and standing, both in the army and civil life, of the witnesses who testified that the charges were untrue are such as to justify belief in their testimoney.

Senator Watson threatened to make sensational exposures, and did so, but he has found it difficult to prove them by competent witnsses. A great deal, more or less valuable time has been wasted in an investigation which seems to be meeting with the fate of most congressional probes. It isn't getting anywhere in particular. Mr. Watson who revels in excellement and loves publicity, may be enjoying himself, but otherwise the investigation is a failure.

There were abuses of authority in the army during the World war, with thousands of inexperienced officers in charge of equally inexperienced men, not to mention the exigéncies of war itself, but the American people demand more than the Watson flasco to convince them that the average American officer was not a gentleman

Special Low Prices

On Chattanooga Steel Beam Plows and Genuine James Oliver Chilled Plows

Chattanooga No. 61 - - -	$5.95
Chattanooga No. 70 - - -	$5.50
James Oliver Chilled No. 6 - -	$5.00
Goober Oliver Chilled - - -	$5.95

These prices apply to plows now on hand, and when our present stock is sold we will have no more this season at these prices.

In buying Oliver Plows be sure you get the Genuine James Oliver. Look for the trade mark on the plows and repairs.

If you need a plow this year now is the time to buy it, as you will not have opportunity again at these prices.

Jones Hardware Company

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

BOTH AMENDMENTS GO OVER THE TOP

The Bond election Monday developed into a regular land slide for both the Road Bonds and the Soldier Poll Tax Bonds, the latter running a lead in the race all over the State.

Geneva county enjoys the solitary distinction of being the only county in the state to go on record against the Road Bonds.

When the full returns are all in the majority in the state for Road Bonds promises to be over 60,000, and for the other amendment more than that

We were unable to secure any exact figures on the vote in Chilton county, but the majority for both the amendments will be at least 5 to 1.

QUITE A COMPLIMEMT

The following letter explains itself and is also a nice compliment to the legal ability and correctness of Col. Curry:

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 27, 1922.

Mr. Thomas A, Curry,

Clanton, Ala.

My Dear Mr. Curry;—

Permit me to congratulate you. I have received announcements from many judges, solicitors, legislators, congressmen, etc., but yours is the first correct one received, and has been duly filed.

Yours Truly,

J. H. WEBB,

Ch'rm. State Dem, Ex, Com.

AN ANCIENT MYTH EXPLODED.

The Republican it is now frightened, as well it may be. No party ever promised the people more than Mr. Harding's did when he was a candidate for President, no party ever fulfilled a smaller per centage of its promises. Indications now are that the Republicans may possibly be beaten this fall for that reason.

Funny how politics go. The Democratic party went farther than any other party in power has gone in carrying out its campaign promises. In the end it was beaten, not for having done too little, but too much.

There is this about it that is of more interest than other thoughts in connection with American politics. By a stroke of good luck at the right moment by a chain of fortuitous circumstanses with which the Republicans had very little to do, the Republicans in other years were able to convince a majority of the American people that theirs was the party of prosperity, and that the Democrats in power would be demoralizing to business. This historic myth has been exploded by the march of events. This country was more prosperious during the eight years of Democratis rule than it had been at any previous time, though there were times even in that eight years when business suffered a depression.

The Republicans said they could remedy the depression which had begun in midsummer of 1920, and they were given an opportunity to do it. They have failed They have not affected the depression. They have not given business the tonic it expected.

The country has seen the truth demonstrated that a political party in power can not create prosperity if fundamental economic conditions do not favor prosperity.—Montgomery Advertiser

STRAND BAZAAR.

The Strand will give away Saturday night over 30 prizes to holders of lucky numbers.

We do Job Printing.

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

On Monday after the fifth Monday Union Missionary Socities of the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist churches, was held at the Presbyterian's room in the Masonic Hall, quite a number of the ladies were present and enjoyed the following program.

Hymn—Blest be the Tie.

Prayer—Mrs. J. C. Jones.

Talk—Seek Ye First the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness—Mrs. Barney Roberts.

Talk—Righteousness a Business Asset—Mrs. Curry.

Hymn—Wonderful Peace.

Talk—Leadership Our Greatest Need—Mrs. Roy.

Prayer—Mrs. Askins.

Hymn—My Saviors Love.

Talk—The Young People of the Teen Age—Mrs. McDavid.

Talk—What Led Me to the Decision to Engage in Active Christian Work—Mrs. Grover Harris.

Paper—The Savior, Sinner and Satan—Mrs. Splaun.

Hymn—Onward Christian Soldiers.

Prayer—Mrs. J. P. Vandeveer

On last Wednesday was the monthly spend the day for the Round Dozen Sewing Club, which was at the residence of Mrs. Hugh Simpson. The ladies arrived early and a great deal of sewing was accomplished. A most bountiful luncheon was served to the following ladies, Mesdames, Moore, Luckie, Armstrong, Roberts, Marion Gore, Polk and Mrs. Gowan of Montgomery.

meeting with Mrs. V. J. Elmore. After the ladies had spent some time in conversation and finger work, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

The Wednesday after the Card Club was reorganized and met with Mrs. Hosey Downs. After several interesting games it was found that Mrs. Guy Higgins held the higest score who was presented with four tea napkins the club prize. After which the hosetss served a delicious salad plate and hot chocolate to the following ladies. Mesdames Eric Hart, Guy Roberts, Heard Carrie Mullins, Guy Higgins, Arthur Johnson and Miss Bettie Mullins.

Mrs S. A. Goodwyn returned to her home in Montgomery Tuesday after spending some time with her daughter Mrs. R. E. Luckie.

Miss Kathlene Mullins who is teaching school in Wetumpka spent the week end with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cook of Brooksville Miss., are visiting relatives and friends in Clanton.

Mrs. N. S. Johnson and daughter Jeane spent Saturday in Birmingham shopping.

Mrs. D. Y. Johnson, spent Friday in Birmingham shopping.

Mrs. Barney Roberts spent Saturday in Birmingham.

Mr. Frank Thomas of Birmingham, spent the week end with relatives.

Mrs. A. C. Harper and Annie Mae returned to Clanton Sunday, after spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Harper in Coulmbus latives in Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gerald spent Monday in Birmingham shopping.

BASKET BALL

Last Friday afternoon the Chilton Hi Basket Ball team entertained on their court the team from Calera. The final score stood, Chilton Hi 18, Calera 11.

The line up and induvidual scores follows: Chilton Hi—Roberts, 4, Reynolds, 10, Mahan, 2, Orr, 2, Burnett, 0, Total 18.

Calera: Pain, 0, Baer 5, Collins, 6, Tomlin, 0 Taylor, 0 Total 11.

This meet developed one of the fastest and best games of the season here. Both teams played snappy ball and the victory by the locals was well earned.

AMATURE NIGHT

Tomorrow (Friday) will be Amature night at the Strand. You will see Clantons best local talent in a barrel of fun.

OBJECTS TO CHANGE

Mr. Editor:—

Efforts are being made to change the voting from Mountain Creek to Midway, there is much oppostion to this proposed change owing to the fact that it would necessitate the old Veterans at the home having to change their voting place as stated.

This matter has been appealed to Hon L. H. Reynolds and the Chilton County Commissioners, with respect I am, Yours,

S. J. Andrees.

There is not the slightest possible reason or excuse for changing the voting place at Mt. Creek and we have no idea the commissioners would listen to such a plea.—Editor.

JACK HOXIE HERE.

Jack Hoxie, said by many to be Americas foremost Western Star, will be seen Saturday afternoon and night at the Strand in DEAD OR ALIVE. A sure fire Western.

Subscribe for The Chilton County News. $1.00 per year.

BUSINESS REMOVAL

Mr. G. O. Armstrong has moved his large stock of general merchandise into the new store recently erected by Mr. Tom Rockett on Montgomery Highway street.

Messrs. Miner & Easterling are installing cold storage facilities in the building just vacated by Mr. G. O. Armstong and will open up a market and grocery besiness there rightaway

READING CIRCLE.

Reading Circle for Clanton groupe of teachers, Feb. 11th, 1922.

Programme.

Text—The Class Room Teacher.

Devotional Service.

Chapter I—Mrs. J. W. Moore

Chapter II—Miss Julia Parrish

Chapter III—Mrs. William R. Baker..

Chapter IV—Miss Mildred Reynolds

Chapter V—Miss Birdie Teel.

Chapter VI—Miss Jewell, Davis.

Chapter VII—Mrs. Wm. J. Mims

Chapter VIII—Miss Ruth Moore.

Demonstrations.

First Grade—Sound, Word, Sentence of Phonetic Method—Mrs. Ward.

Third Grade—Arithmetic—Miss Fannie Vance.

Sixth Grade—Geography—Mr. J. L. Wilson.

Seventh Grade—English—Mr. Ira Pegues.

The complaint of bad roads is unanimous now.

No doubt but that Miss Parnell believes now that to the victor belongs the spoils.

Clanton regrets to give up Mr. Stanfield and family who have moved to Greenvill to be located nearer to the lumber interest of Mr. Stanfield.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY..........Editor
R. E. CARTER..........Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

Announcements of various candidates have begun to appear in the papers. Before August the woods will be full of them.

Oscar Underwood secured the endorsement of Secretary Weeks to the Ford bid for Muscle Shoals. Will the Montgomery Journal please note?

The farmers will soon be making ready to plant their 1922 crop. Here's hoping they will go in heavy for hog and hominy and very, very light for cotton. The old world don't seem to be able to buy what is already on hand and it would be unwise to add much to the stock.

Some of the prominent political prophets are predicting now that the farming interests of the United States are going to take over the control of government pretty soon. God hasten the day! They are the very people who should control. When they get in charge you will see a very marked reduction in operating expenses and a whole lot of parasites have to go to work or starve. Present salvation of the country rests in their hands.

Something is radically wrong in a great country like this when so many people are hungry.

Contrary to all the arrangements and dire predictions of the weather man, the sun actually got back on the job Saturday.

The situation of the jobless don't seem to be improving to any great extent. The number who drift through here looking for something to eat and a place to warm seems to be on the increrse.

Talk is mighty cheap and any old graphaphone can load up and say things, but cold hard facts are stubborn things to get around and lots of them are going to develope during the approaching campaign.

The Birmingham News is a great paper and eminently able to handle any situation that may develope, but it looks like the question of whether to dance or not to dance is going to force them to either enlarge the paper or give up their editorial space.

Hogs on foot at 5 cents per pound and pork retailing at 25 cents looks funny. Beef cattle on foot at 3 to 4 cents and beef to the consumer at 20 to 30 cents looks funny too. Wool offered at 7 cents per pound and no takers and an ordinary suit of clothes retailing at from $45 to $75 looks a little funny also. Now, if you can explain that situation you can solve the problem of hard times.

Clanton has the location, the raw material and the power to equip and supply either a cotton mill, a spoke and handle factory, a stave and heading mill, a veneering plant, a box factory or a brick yard. Any or all of these Either of these investments will pay good dividends from the go. All we need is the capital to put the wheels to turning.

The North and East have been getting a full sized dose of the worst winter weather they have experienced in nearly forty years. Snow fell in the Capital over two feet deep last Friday and all the railroads in that section were put out of business. Much suffering and loss of life followed in the wake of the blizzard. Why don't they all wash the dye out of their political creed and move South?

Don't forget in passing that President Harding has a representative "sitting in" at every session of the Wilsonian League of Nations. And you might notice also that this same much abused League of Nations is the only international organization on earth that has accomplished a single thing since the war.

The wonderful disarmament conference in Washington, that finally had to branch out in to a League of Nations, has practically gone dead, but like the Phoenix, from its ashes has sprung a second edition which is to be called together by President Harding next summer. Why not just eat the crow at one gulp and go on in to the regularly constituted League of Nations at once? Monkeys are said to be good imitators, but it don't look like even the Republican party would like to shine in that line.

A California wise astronomer thinks he has discovered that to have that peculiarity.—Advertiser.

The Alabama sun having been obscured for a week is well rested now and should give exceptionally good service when it does reappear. The sneezers will be happy to see it back.—Advertiser.

The Race Question.

The Republican Congress now in session seems determined to force the race question into politics again for the purpose of holding the colored vote in the northern states.

The lower house has already passed, by a large majority, the most infamous measure ever suggested by anyone since the days of the dastardly Force bill that the democrats were able to kill in the borning. We refer to the so-called "lynching bill" and just behind that they have slated for passage a bill that they call, "Federal aid for Public Schools." Both are palpably intended as sops to the colored voter in the North and direct insults to the white American population of the "Solid South." If they force the latter measure through before the Democrats get in power again, it will mean the negro child in the same public school with yours right here in Clanton and all over the United States. The absolute truth of this assertion can not be questioned for two reasons. First, where ever the government puts out any part of its money it always assumes control of it. Second, every State in the Union where the Republicans are able to have their way, the two races are already forced to attend the same public schools.

We cannot conceive of the possibility of any true Southern man or woman, with these facts before them, aiding or abetting such a movement as that. We will not believe it of them until the vote is counted next November. Such a thing is unthinkable of the good people of this great Southland of ours, with the blighting memory of reconstruction days in our minds, and the glorious traditions of true Americanism throbbing in our hearts.

The ides of November will tell the tale, and we do not believe there is even a hamlet in the South but what will rise up and smite this monster evil and gird their loins and square their shoulders to fight again the battles of reconstruction days for race segregation and white supremacy in the South.

GOT IT MIXED

Word comes from a western town telling why the editor of the local paper found it necessary to leave suddenly for parts unknown. The following is the story he printed just before his disappearance:

"The Red Cross concert given last night by 19 of our beautiful young ladies was highly appreciated. They sang in a charming manner winning the plaudits of the audience, who pronounced them the finest group of Shorthorns in the country. A few of them are rich brown in color but the majority are spotted red and white. Several of the heifers are fine bodied, tifht limbed animals and promise to prove good property."—Florence Times.

To Correspondents.

When you wish to write to the News, or send a communication for publication, be sure to direct your mail to The Chilton County News. Quite a number of excellent communications recently have failed to get in because they were not so directed and only, perhaps the entire week, his personal mail not being opened. See the point?

The Lynching Bill.

The lower house of Congress has passed that most infamous lynching bill by a large majority.

That is another open and direct invasion of the personal and constitutional rights and liberties of a free people and a free State to govern themselves. The passage of such a palpable assumption of the rights of any free people is absolutely unthinkable and is enough to forever damn any politcal party that perpetrates it.

Possibly you have not thoroughly gone into the merits of this bill. Allow us to illustrate one of its most salient provissions.

In case a negro makes a criminal assault upon some white woman out here in your county and her outraged relatives, neighbors and friends capture the dastardly brute and kill him, then, under the provisions of this most damnable law, the tax payers of the county are compelled to pay to the family of that rapest the sum of $10,000. The very thought of such a law must have emanated from the depths of the bottomless pit. The putting of a price on the virture and sanctity of our womanhood and virtually offering a premium on their ravishment. The mind that conceived such a statute as that would degrade a grave robbing jackal.

If we still have a free born American constituency in the United States the party that passes a bill like that has dug its own grave, got in and pulled the dirt in after them.

Wonder if any of the Southern Republican press will undertake to defend that bill? So far they have been conspicuous by their silence.

Cotton Seed.

We are loading out some Cotton Seed and will pay $30.00 per ton for next 10 days.
CLANTON MERCANTILE CO

We do Job Printing.

NOTICE

The estate of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased.

Letters testamentary upon the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, having been granted to the undersigned on the 11th day of August, 1921, by the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate will be required to present the same within the time required by law, or same will be barred.

E. W. BUTLER,
Executor of the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased. 1-5-3t.

Car Load of Mules.

I have just received a car load of assorted Mules, and can fit you out with any kind you want to suit any kind of work. Call and see me at the New Sales Stables, near overhead railroad bridge.

D. Y. JOHNSON.

FOR SALE—80 acres of land on Lock 12 highway 4 miles from Clanton, will sell or trade for pracitally new Ford Touring Car. Write or see N. J. Bice Rt. 6 Clanton, Alabama. 3times

SALESMAN WANTED to solicit orders for lubricating oils, greases and paints. Salary or Commission. Address THE HARVEY OIL CO. Cleveland Ohio.

The Old Reliable

I am back on the job again, ready and anxious to do all your Shoe Repairing at pre-war figures.

Find me in rear of the Smith and Downs wholesale store in the Taylor Mill building.

N. B. EROWN.

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.

That's Why It Soothes and Promptly Conquers Pain

Unlike other liniments, Mustang is made of healing oils—no alcohol, acids or pepper used. Mustang never burns or smarts, not even when applied to open wounds. Pain is relieved quickly by Mustang, which thoroughly permeates the system and hastens healing. Over 73 years' success guarantees Mustang as best for MAN, LIVESTOCK and POULTRY.

Sold by DRUG and GENERAL STORES

Actual Size 25c Bottle (Trial)
50c Bottle holds 3 times as much
$1.00 Bottle holds 8 times as much as 25c size

FREE WITH 25c TRIAL BOTTLE a solid brass "PUT-and-TAKE" TODDLE TOP—the latest craze. Get one—be popular! Send 25 cents stamps or coin for Trial Bottle (Household Size) Mustang Liniment and get Toddle Top, absolutely free. Lyon Mfg. Co., 41 So. Fifth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MUSTANG
"The Good Old Standby Since 1848"
LINIMENT
LYON MANUFACTURING CO., Proprietors, 41-43-45 South Fifth St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Ready for New Year

We have stocked up with a complete line of fresh, Fancy and family supplies. Anything you need for the table and prices that cannot be beat.

We thank you for your trade in 1921 and solicit your continued patronage for 1922.

Our best efforts to serve will be at your command

F.M. Connell & Son

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabama,
Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

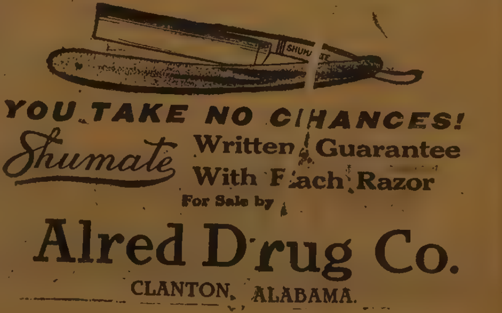
We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be rupliocater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps,Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is up to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the least come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile



YOU TAKE NO CHANCES!
Shumate Written Guarantee With Each Razor
For Sale by
Alred Drug Co.
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

ASH IS NOT GENUINE TEST

Merely Shows That Cigar Is Well Made, Not That Its Quality Is of the Highest.

Can the quality of a cigar be told by the ash? To a certain extent it can. Many smokers take a great delight in seeing how long the ash will stay on. It is often possible to smoke a big Havana cigar half or three-quarters way through with the ash intact.

But what most cigar smokers fail to realize is that this is the test of a well-manufactured cigar and not necessarily of the tobacco in it. It depends upon the length and neat arrangement of the filling leaf. A well-made, compact cigar has greater consistency than a badly put together one. But it does not follow that the tobacco is better, a tobacco expert writes.

A surer test is when the ash is flicked off. The glowing point should be sharp. The sharper the point the better the cigar.

As regards the ash, it is a common fallacy that white ash is a sign of a fine, and dark ash the sign of an inferior, leaf. The real truth is that the color depends upon the strength of the tobacco.

A very mild and cheap cigar will give a pure white ash. The finest Havana of ripe strength produces a blackish ash. It does not follow that a cigar which burns imperfectly is bad tobacco. You may have lighted it badly or it may be clumsily made.—Brooklyn Eagle.

ELOQUENT TRIBUTE TO TREES

Writer Beautifully Expresses What Every Lover of Nature Must Have at Some Time Felt.

Trees are the arms of Mother Earth lifted up in worship of her Makers; where they are, beauty dwells. Trees are the shelter of man, beast and bird; they furnish the roof above us, the shade about us, and the nesting places of love and song. They call children out to play; they entice sweethearts into leafy coverts to seal their vows with fond caresses; they console and gratefully reward old age. They are the fittest ornaments of wealth and the inalienable possession of the poor, who can enjoy them without having title to them. They are the masts that fly the flags of all nations and the sails of all seas; they are the timbers that bridge forbidding streams; they bear the wires of the world's intelligence; they hold the rails that carry the traffic of the continents; they are the carved and polished furnishings of the home; they cradle the young and coffin the dead. Trees herald the spring with glorious banners of leaf and bloom; they clothe the autumn in garments of gold and royal purple; bared to the winter's cold, they are the harp of the winds, and they whisper the music of the infinite spaces.—Clarence Ousley.

Useful Oil.

Few industries have grown so rapidly as the manufacture of cottonseed oil. In 1867 there were only four cottonseed oil mills in the United States; in 1902 there were 618, and by 1920 the value of the oil and the by-products of it were estimated to be $125,000,000. Since then there has been a steady increase in the production.

The increased consumption of cottonseed oil is due largely to the great variety of uses found for it. It enters into the manufacture of lard compounds, butterine and other substitutes for butter; is used in packing and preserving fish, in making salad oils, and in the manufacture of so-called "olive oil." The crude oil is used in medicine, in the preparation of cosmetics, liniments and emulsions; as an illuminating oil in miners' lamps, for rough painting, and for tempering edged tools; and as soap stock, in which field of usefulness, after treatment with certain alkalis, it yields soap, washing powder and glycerin.

Is No National Holiday.

Christmas is not a national holiday. New Year's day is not a national holiday. Thanksgiving day is not a national holiday. The Fourth of July is not a national holiday. Neither is Memorial day. Neither is Washington's birthday. Neither is any other day.

There is no such day as a national holiday in the United States. A United States statute would be required to constitute a particular day as a national holiday, and congress has stopped short of this action, numerous constitutional lawyers insisting that such an act belongs to the powers of the several states and not to the general government.

The Fourth of July is not strictly a national holiday, though it is a nation-wide holiday, having been made a holiday by acts of all the states and by the common consent and usage of the people.

Totally Obscured.

A certain callow Chicago swain had an amazingly large mouth which he contorted into an all-pervading smile when he wished to make a good impression. His sweetie had persuaded him to "ask father" and the youth was determined to show himself to good advantage.

"Mister Jones," he began, stretching his principal feature to the utmost of geniality. "I have come to ask for the hand of your daughter. I—"

"Just a moment, young man," interrupted the old gentleman mildly, "would you mind closing your mouth for a moment till I see who you are."—American Legion Weekly.

THIS AIREDALE REAL FRIEND

Dog, Allowed Liberty, Brings Dainties to Hound Which Is Confined to Its Kennel.

Kind heartedness that might well serve as an example for human kind is displayed by "Pat" an Airedale pup of Point Pleasant, W. Va., says a correspondent, the object of its fine feeling being a hound owned by Bert Shiflet. The story of the four-footed pet's benevolence is attested by members of both families, who are neighbors. Shiflet keeps his hound, "Jack," tied in the back yard. Thomas' Airedale, however, has the untrammeled liberty of a freeborn American dog and makes the most of it. He is a good forager and knows the location and probable yield of every garbage can in the neighborhood. Mrs. Shiflet feeds Jack generously, and not infrequently the menu contains an appetizing bone, but she did not give Jack all the bones that accumulated beside his kennel. All became clear the other day when Mrs. Shiflet saw the Airedale approach Jack's kennel with a big soupbone in his mouth, set it down in front of his tethered friend, wag his tail gleefully, bark a message of good cheer, dance playfully about for a moment and then dash off for some new adventure. A watch kept on the Airedale showed that trips were made to the hound's quarters every day. Sometimes instead of a bone the offering was a bit of meat or some other dainty.

OLD MINE STILL PRODUCING

That at Falun, Sweden, Has Been Delivering Up Its Riches Since the Year 1225.

On the outskirts of the town of Falun, in the north of Sweden, is the oldest mine in the world. It began to produce copper in 1225.

In the Seventeenth century this mine was the chief source of the copper supply of Europe. Today it no longer produces copper in large quantities, but from its deep-cut galleries come the sulphur pyrites that are used for the manufacture of sulphuric acid and other chemicals.

It is one of the most old-fashioned mines imaginable. You will find no rapid hauling machinery, no cage that descends at lightning speed into the bowels of the earth. You walk into the mine through sloping galleries, and then climb down to its depths by means of long ladders. As you descend you wish that you had brought an overcoat, for the walls are covered with ice.

Ventilation and drainage are accomplished by means of the most antiquated pumping gear in existence in any pit.

Besides copper and pyrites, there came all the gold used to make the Swedish crown and scepter, and it has provided most of the metal for the gold coinage of that country.

Photography of Words.

Devaux-Charbonnel, the French scientist, has photographed the variation of current in a microphonic circuit by the aid of a Blondal oscillograph. The photographs are reproductions of the syllables pronounced by a human voice, and it is expected that they will be of use in the solution of various problems in telephony. In studying the impression made by syllables the experimenter found that each syllable is composed of 30 to 40 complete vibrations. The begining and the end of the syllables are modified by the impressions of the consonants, but the modifications cover only four or five periods, so that each syllable has 20 to 30 regular vibrations corresponding to its vowel. The method permits the study of the higher harmonics, which give character to words.

Codfish.

Codfish is said to be the world's most important—which means the most eaten—fish. Few fish are more prolific. It has been asserted that one weighing 75 pounds will contain over 9,000,000 eggs. Perhaps the tarpon is one of them, for it is a large fish with a very fine roe. The cod is practically omnivorous, finding means to supply great schools wherever food of any sort is found. It is found in many parts of the world other than the North American "banks" and it is said that it has been fished for by fishermen of northern Europe since the beginning of recorded history and of course for unaccountable centuries before man began to make written records.

Cord Tire Facts.

A 30 by 3½ cord tire contains almost 9,000 feet of cord or over a mile and a half. A 35 by 5 has over 30,000 feet of cord or over 5½ miles. The cord, similar to medium-weight fishing line, is made of long fiber cotton, of far better grade than used in ordinary cotton goods. Each cord, insulated in rubber, is separated from the next by a layer of rubber insulating, which gives additional strength. A standard make five-inch cord tire has 20 to 26 cords per inch and a strength in fabric carcass alone in excess of 2,400 pounds to the square inch, irrespective of the strength given by other parts.

Sense of Security.

"I hope some day," remarked Mr. Chiggins, "to give up my flivver and have a private yacht."

"Why do you prefer the yacht?"

"I can go to bed without being disturbed by the fear that some one is going to steal it out of the garage."

FIGURES OF SPEECH ANNOY

Imaginative Writer Portrays Indignation Meetings to Protest Against Certain Comparisons.

New York—Officers of the United States navy took concerted action today in protest of authors and public speakers who use the expression "spend money like a drunken sailor."

Philadelphia—An indignation meeting was held today in Independence hall by the Society for the Protection of Hatmakers, who protested the use by writers and public speakers of the expression "as mad as a hatter."

Chicago—The Independent Order of Taxicab Drivers will meet tonight at the Blackstone to protest the indiscriminate use of the characterization "a former member of the James gang now driving a taxi," and similar terms of opprobrium they say have been heaped upon chauffeurs who drive cars for hire.

Omaha—The local union of jackrabbit hunters at a meeting today decided to petition congress for a bill prohibiting writers and public speakers using the simile "as wild as a March hare." They say such language is discouraging to those who hunt such prey.

San Antonio—The International League of Crutch Makers went on strike today in protest of several vaudeville comedians who recently used the expression "as funny as a crutch" in local playhouses.—Kansas City Star.

WERE SYMBOLS OF CREATION

Among Ancient Egyptians the Beetle Was Believed to Be the Form of the Sun God.

A scarab is the representation of the sacred beetle found on Egyptian gems, coins, mummies, obelisks and works of art. The appearance and rapid multiplication of beetles in the mud left on the subsidence of the Nile gave rise to the belief in their spontaneous generation, and they became the symbol of creation and creative power. In their circular shape and the bright golden tints of their wing cases they were thought to resemble the shape and luster of the sun and thus were taken to be the forms in which the sun god appeared.

Scarabs were cut in stones and employed as seals and amulets. They were bored through their length so that they could be strung like beads. After the commingling of the Egyptian with other races, agnostics and Christians interpreted the meaning of these gems in accordance with their own beliefs. Those of the most ancient period, such as are found on mummies, are inscribed with the names of the kings held in highest veneration, Thutmosis III, Rameses II and [illegible] hieroglyphic symbol. The [illegible] them have some short religious or historic inscription on their under side.

Makeup of Human Body.

One reason why milk is so excellent a food is that it contains much calcium, which is the principal mineral of the human body, contributing to the makeup of the bones and teeth. A grown person carries in his skeleton about four pounds of it, says an exchange. The body contains about three ounces of sodium, combined with chlorine to form common salt. There are also about two ounces of magnesium, which is a silvery-white metal. Another highly inflammable metal contained in the body is potassium—about two and one-half ounces of it. The body contains about 55 ounces of phosphorus. Seven-eighths of the phosphorus is in the bones (going to form phosphate of lime); half an ounce is in the brain tissues; the rest is in the red corpuscles of the blood. Of sulphur there are about four ounces in the bones and teeth. The body is three-fifths water and one-fifth carbon.

Black Hawk in Boston.

For some years Black Hawk lived quietly on a small reservation near Des Moines. In 1837 the peace-loving Keokuk took him with a party of Sauk and Fox chiefs again to Washington, and on this trip he made a visit to Boston. The officials of the city received the august warrior and his companions in Faneuil hall, and the governor of the commonwealth paid them similar honor at the statehouse. Some war-dances were performed on the Common for the amusement of the populace, and afterward the party was taken to see a performance by Edwin Forrest at the Tremont theater. Here all went well, except that at an exciting point in the play the Indians burst into a warwhoop, to the considerable consternation of the women and children present.—Frederic Austin Ogg.

Intelligence of Elephants.

Elephants are extraordinarily intelligent, even in their wild state, but it is an astonishing fact that with all this intelligence the males will invariably permit the approach of human beings (on the right side of the wind) to within 20 or 30 yards with the utmost unconcern. It is on this account many hunters believe that they are blind to anything at close quarters.

This opinion, however, is discounted by the fact that the females, particularly if they are with young, get very curious, and more often than not investigate matters, and if they do, do so with trunk aloft, head and ears back, and a "get-out-of-the-way-I'm-coming" toot which beats anything in the jungle.

DO MORE THAN GUARD SHEEP

Dogs of Scotland Are Also the Companions and Protectors of the Crofter Children.

The sheepdogs of Scotland are guides and defenders not only of the sheep flocks, but also the children of the crofters. Were it not for these shaggy, intelligent fellows, born shepherds of the weak and defenseless, it would be unsafe for the children to go far from the lonely and isolated crofts in the outlying districts. The schools are far distant and it is a long, rough journey across the moor from home to school and back again. And so the sheepdog goes along with them and safe-conducts them to and fro. Moreover, he must carry the books for them, for the little folk would be unequal to the task of carrying any extra weight in the long tramp. Over the dog's back the books are slung and no one need worry for the safety of the children or their belongings. The sheepdog knows his duty and is proud and eager to do it.

The rural libraries established by the Carnegie trust are also using the dogs in distributing books among the homes of the crofters. In fact, it would scarcely be possible for the inhabitants whose crofts are so far from the library centers to share in this great benefice, were there not the sheepdogs to act as librarians. Good literature for the elders as well as the children is dispatched and returned on the sturdy backs of these reliable dogs.

IN SHADE OF HIMALAYAS

Majestic Panorama Displayed When the Gray Clouds Break and Reveal the Great Mountain.

Northward from Darjeeling the view of the Himalaya mountains is inspiring. When the gray clouds break, they reveal crystal ramparts, lifting far to east and west, and a majestic panorama of range beyond range in the blue distance. The primeval forest no longer extends to the snow line. There are bare spots and grain fields and hundreds of tea gardens. But the farther mountains are clothed with great trees and with a tangle of ferns and creepers, bamboos, climbing palms and wild flowers. The hill tribes living in these solitudes are very dissimilar in features, dress and habits, but alike in their half-superstitious awe of their great mountains and in their quiet friendliness. Sometimes a woman from the Himalaya forests appears in the Darjeeling market place, bearing on her back, it may be, a bundle of fagots for firewood, a burden less beautiful to western eyes than armfuls of scarlet rhododendron blossoms or strange— a land of unceasing rain.—From "In the Darjeeling Market-Place," by Marietta Neff, in Asia Magazine.

Tara, "Beautiful Hill."

From the coming of Heremon, husband of Tea, to the desolation of Tara in the Sixteenth century, 120 kings of the Scotic or Milesian stock ruled from their palace on the famous hill. In the annals of the Four Masters we read of the fortieth in the list of Irish kings, the renowned Ollav Fola, who instituted the Feis or assembly of Tara. His real name was Eochy, the title Ollav Fola, or Doctor of Erin, being given him because of his extraordinary learning. The "feis tara" was the national parliament of the Ireland of its day, and met triennially for one week at the period known as Samhaintide (three days before and three days after November day). The meeting was held in the open air in fine weather and in the banqueting hall in wet. This hall was 800 feet long and from 60 to 80 feet wide, and had six or seven large entrances on either side. The site can still be traced.

The last king to reign at Tara was Diarmaid, and no king after him, even when called king of Tara, ever dwelt upon "the beautiful hill."

Girdle Reminder of Ancient Times.

Girdles of metal, adorned with brilliant ornaments, now quite commonly used largely for purposes of ornamentation in women's dress, is a reminder, or the revival of a custom of ancient times, when they were worn by both men and women to confine to the person their long flowing garments. They were not always of metal, but often of linen or leather. The girdle also served as the support of weapons, utensils, bags or pockets, etc. In the Middle ages books were sometimes bound with a strip of flexible stuff hanging from one end of the volume, which could be drawn through the girdle and secured.

Among some people, even in this day, the girdle is put to practical use. Being large and loose, the scabbard of a sword or long dagger is passed through the girdle instead of being hung from it, a hook or projecting button serving to hold it in place.

Chinese Wear Stoves.

Chinese women wear practically the same clothes in winter as in summer. In the most severe weather, however, they wear heating baskets under their cloaks.

These baskets are plain wicker ones, such as we use for trash. Inside the baskets charcoal warmers are placed. They will radiate heat for hours.

The charcoal is mixed with chemicals that generate oxygen, and thus the charcoal will burn constantly, even though it is sealed in the containers.

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your housekeeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change. Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don't forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal at-attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. f your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt-Edge.

Sewing Machines

is my Middle Name, Come in and let me fit you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins

We Do Job Printing.

Mrs. Guy Higgins has bought the spacious home of Mr. J. W. Standifeld located on the corner of eight street and Forth Avenue and will shortly occupy it as her home.

The boys at the depot say that Mr. Jim Rasberry makes semi-monthly visits to Birmingham. They rather seem to insinuate that he goes to see somebody up there.

MITCHELL DAM ATHLETES

The Mitchell Dam Athletic Club which was recently organized by the employees engaged in the construction of the Mitchell Dam on the Coosa river for the Alabama Power Company is growing in membership, and has already put on one athletic show. Last Saturday night the club staged an athletic show in the large mess hall, consisting of one main bout and four preliminaries. A large and enthusiastic crowd was on hand.

The main bout was put on between Jack Brady, of Bessemer weight 135 pounds, and Jack McGinnis, of Birmingham weight 146 pounds. This was a 10 round bout which resulted in a draw. Although Brady broke a finger in the second round, he was game and stood against his opponent to the last round. Both showed considerable boxing skill. Tommy Topkins of Birmingham, served as referee on the main bout and J. A, McCrosky and L. C. Robinson, of Mitchell Dam served as judges. The rounds lasted for 2 minutes each and O. M. Melton served as the time keeper for all bouts.

The first preliminary was between stevens, weight 115 pounds, of the Birmingham Athletic Club, and Saunders, weight 117 pounds, of Bessemer. This was a three round bout and Stevens was the winner. This and all the other preliminaries were refereed by F. E. Patton, member of the Mitchell Dam Athletic Club.

The second preliminary was between Wilson, weight 112 lbs. of the Birmingham Athletic Club and White, weight 115 pounds, of Mitchell Dam Athletic Club. This was a three round bout in

The third preliminary was between Frank Smith, colored, weight 195 pounds and Joe Lightning, colored, weight 180 pounds, Both of Mitchell Dam. This was a four round uoblt, whirh resulted in a draw.

The fourth preliminary was between Will Smith, colored, weight 175 pounds and Cage Winston, colored, weight 190 pounds. This was also a 4 round bout which nished music and dancing for 30 minutes prior to the opening of the athletc show. All who attended were highly entertained, and another athletic show is planned by the club at an early date.

The Central Alabama Hospital will be ready for business in a very short time. It certainly is an up to date institution and deserves a wide patronage.

INDIAN GRAVE ITEMS

On account of wet weather times are very dull in this community.

There was a very interesting program carried out at the school house Friday afternoon at which brick attended.
brick attended.

Look out boys, Miss Alma Askins is rushing a new spring suit.

Rev. J. A. Limbrick and family motored to Billingsley Saturday afternoon.

We sure did miss Mr. Dewey Huett at Sunday School Sunday, and hope to see him at the singing the first Sunday evening.

We all sympathize with Mr. Alonza Askins for getting disappointed so many times by driving to Billingsley to meet Miss. Ada Friday, but it is all off now so fare well Wheatley.

There is a great deal of moving in this community lately.

Mrs. Alphus Smith, accompanied Miss Kattie Limbrick, to prayer meeting Sunday night.

Mr. William Adams and Mr. Curtis Limbrick, has been putting down a saw mill on turn pike creek for Mr. E. E. Yarbrough, but haven't got it completed yet.

There is going to be a fruit supper at Mr. W. W. Spigner's Saturday night.

There will be preaching at the Baptist Church next Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock.

Rev. W. A. Goss is pastor.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary (Paid politlcol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,
THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

Jacob Kufman and M. A. Pinson announce that the partnership of M. A. Pinson & Co., formerly doing business at Coopers, Ala., has been dissolved. Jacob Kaufman has retired from the business, which will now be conducted solely by Mr. M. A. Pinson, under his own name.

M. A. PINSON,
1-26-3t. JACOB KAUFMAN.

Farmers Save Money

By buying your Cotton Seed Meal Fertilizer early as the price is advancing most every day. We have just received a lot of High Grade Meal and bought it at the right price. We will give you the advantage of the raise by buying now. Try a sack of our high grade ELECT FLOUR.

Clanton Mill & Gin Co.

J. A. MADDOX, Manager.

Listen!

Save Money!

Just received a brand new lot of Ladie's and Misses OXFORDS at pre-war prices, ranging from $2.75 to $4.50. Same shoes sold just one year ago at from $5.00 to $7.50.

Remember

We carry staple Dry Goods, Men's Suits, Hats, Caps, Shoes and Staple Groceries. See us before you buy.

Hugh Jones' Cash Store

STATEMENT OF CONDITION

OF THE

First National Bank

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS DECEMBER 31st, 1921.

RESOURCES.
Loans and Discounts	$175,821.58
Overdrafts	none
United States Bonds	30,000.00
Other Bonds	10,100.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,326.14
Redemption Fund	1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank	1,100.00
CASH IN VAULT AND IN BANKS	88,123.41
Total	$308,971.13
LIABILITIES.
Capital Stock	$30,000.00
Surqlus and Uudivided Profits	12,016.94
Circulation	30.000.00
DEPOSITS	236,954.19
Total	$308,971.13

State of Alabama, County of Chilton.

I, Jno. C. Page, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Jno. C. Page, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 3rd day of January, 1922.

J. R. Mulkin, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest.
D. I. Deramus,
E. E. Upchurch,
G. C. Walker,
Directors.

Conservative, Reliable, Trustworthy.

McDonald's Variety Store

BIRTHPLACE OF CUT PRICES
Come to see us! Shoes, Dry Goods, Staple and Fancy Groceries

McDonald's Variety Store
VERBENA, ALABAMA.
Railroad Avenue—East of the Postoffice

To Make Money Easy

You Ought To Do Your Trading With

C. C. Armstrong

FOR A DOLLAR SAVED IS A DOLAR MADE, AND HE SURE WILL SAVE YOU THE DOLLARS.

He carries a full line of Dry Goods, Notions, Shoes and Furnishings, besides a well assorted stock of Staple and Fancy Groceries.

If you want to meet with courteous treatment and Lowest Prices why the answer is: Trade at

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit its continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son
Clanton, Alabama.

The New York Store

See the NEW YORK STORE before buying your Winter Needs. Our Stock is complete. Remember, our goods MUST be satisfactory to our customers.

The New York Store
Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, FEBRUARY 9, 1922. NUMBER 22

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Mrs. Hart Entertains

On last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Eric Hart was hostess to Wednesday Bridge Club. After several intereting games it was found that Mrs. Guy Higgin. held the highest score and was presented with the club prizze, 4 dainty tea napkins, after which a delicious salad plate with hot coffee was served to the following ladies, Mesdames Guy Higgins, Carrie Mullins, Arthur Johnson, Heard, Guy Roberts Loren Downs, John Vandeveer and Miss Bettie Mullins.

Study Club Meets

The Study Club held its regular monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. L. F. Gerald on Friday afternoon. The living room and dining room were thrown into one and was very attractive with vaces of red and white carnations and ferns. The new president, Mrs. Barney Roberts, called to order. After all business the following program was carried out.

Subject—The Home.

Paper—Evolution of the Home Mrs. Eric Hart.

Paper—Home Planning and Interior Decoration—Mrs. Grady Reynolds.

Talk—The Home as the Center of Life—Mrs. David Pearson.

Discussion lead by Miss Monroe and assisted by Mesdames. McDavid and Heard. After which a salad plate with hot chocolate was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Grady Broadhead.

Besides the Club members the following ladies were present. Mesdames Fox, Page; Moore: Clint Jones of Ashville, N. C. and Piper of Thorsby.

Mrs. Pearson Hostess

Mrs. David Pearson was hostess to the Round Dozen Club on last Wednesday afternoon. Owing to the bad weather there were only a few members present. After some time spent in conversation and finger wors the hostess served refreshments to the following ladies: Mesdames Simpson; Luckie; Moore; Clyde Jones and Barney Roberts.

Mrs. Wyatt Entertains.

Mrs. Mack Wyatt was hostess to the Thursday Embroidery Club at the residence of Mrs. Grady Broadhead. After the ladies had spent some time in conversation and needle work the hostess served delicious refreshments as isted by Mrs. Grady Broadhead.

Missionary Society Meets.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Methodist church held its regular meeting at the residence of Mrs. R. E. Luckie. Owing to the absence of the president Mrs. M. I. White first vice President called the meeting together by reading the 13th chapter of 2nd Cor. and prayer. As this was the business meeting there was not any program.

Mrs. Luckie served charolette and cake assisted by Mrs. John Armstrong and daughter Sarah.

The meeting adjorned to meet with Mrs McDavid next.

Mrs. Piper, of Thorsby spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wood.

Miss Bessie Thomas who is teaching in Andalusia spent the week end with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Holmes of Dothan spent Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs T. C. McSwain.

Mr. Claude Reynolds; was a visitor to Montgomery Monday.

Pastor P. G. Carter spent Monday in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. George Warrick of Birmingham spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. M. L White.

Mr. U L. Jones, of Birmingham, was in town last week visiting friends.

Our good friend Mr. W.T. Johnson, of Route 3, was in to see us a few minutes Monday.

Messers, J. Mell Martin, Leon Kemp, Editor Wyatt, T. L. Williams, J. L. Johnson and Mr. McDavid are among those who deserve special praise for their work at the fire. There were a number of others too, but we can't recall them all off hand.

Don't forget to attend the meeting of Clanton Parent-Teacher Association at the Grammar School Friday Febuary 10th 3:00 P. M.

During the awful weather and pestilential east winds you can not be too careful of your health. The flue is abroad in the land and pneumonia is rageing. Watch your step.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather we learn that all of the Sunday Schools in town are on the up grade.

Miss Kathlene Mullins, who is teaching in Wetumpka this term, spent the last week end with friends and home folks here.

Mr. Jas. Mason, of Birmingham is in the city visiting relatives and friends. He says Clanton has changed quite a bit since he was here last which was 25 years ago. He is stopping at the home of his niece, Mrs. W.A. Kemp.

Special Low Prices

On Chattanooga Steel Beam Plows and Genuine James Oliver Chilled Plows

Chattanooga No. 61	$5.95
Chattanooga No. 70	$5.50
James Oliver Chilled No. 6	$5.50
Goober Oliver Chilled	$5.95

These prices apply to plows now on hand, and when our present stock is sold we will have no more this season at these prices.

In buying Oliver Plows be sure you get the Genuine James Oliver. Look for the trade mark on the plows and repairs.

If you need a plow this year now is the time to buy it, as you will not have opportunity again at these prices.

Jones Hardware Company

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

C. Reese Mullins Replies To Reynolds

Editor Chilton County News:
Clanton, Alabama.
Dear Sir:

Will you please allow a reasonable space in your paper this week to reply to an article appearing in last week's issue of The Union-Banner written by L. H. Reynolds and headed "Reynolds Exposes Tricks of Registrars."

Now lets see what trick has been worked to register Democrats and pass up Republicans. In the first place the Registrars, as Judge Reynolds states, advertised in The Union-Banner for some time their registration notice and finally thinking that perhaps some Democrats that were nottaking both papers might not see their notice in The Union-Banner they also put notice in the Chilton County News. Was there anything wrong or any trick in this? I think the Judge just barsing in his dreams.

Now if there has been one single voter in this County that has been refused the right to register, let him rise up for himself or herself and register yet, it is not too like and as far as our Board of Registrars stopping at houses and registering Democrats, as the Judge would have you believe, and refusing to register Republicans is to my mind absolutely absured and I feel perfectly safe in saying that the Judge was mistaken when he made this assertion. Just still dreaming.

The Judge states that theRegistrars advertised their appointments in The Union-Banner down to January 26th, and then committed the unpardonable sin of advertising their appointment that they would be in Beat 8 on January 28th in the Chilton County News, and did not advertise it in The Union-Banner. I will ask the Judge if the law requires them to advertise in both papers? And if he thinks it would have been fair for them to have given all the advertising to The Union-Banner.

I also note from the Judge's article his appeal to all Republicans to work, to be up and doing, and warning them of what followed after the election in 1910, and that their great grand children will pay tribute to Democratic administration long after they are dead, for what was done during the term Judge Deason was in office.

The Judge refers to the building of the Montgomery and Birmingham highway and the road from Lock 12 to Maplesville which put the county in debt. Well if this was, and is, a mistake who is to blame? The Judge forgot to tell his dear people that the Board of Commissioners were all Republicans at that time and for some time before and have been ever since, and the Judge also forgot to tell his dear people that the law gives to the Commissioners all power over the County's funds and the expenditures of same. But he blames the Democratic party with the financial condition of the County and claims that we have practically put our grand children, yet unborn, under bondage. Well, if this be true, it has all been done by a Republican Board of Commissioners in the saddle, yet the Judge would have you believe the building of the roads a great mistake and that the Democrats are to blame.

The Judge seems to delinht in refering to the extravagant and almost wilful expenditures of the people's money during the Deason administration with a Republican Board of Commissioners.

We all agree that our taxes are too high, and as Judge Reynolds says, burdensom, but where is our relief under the law? Doesn't it lie in an appeal to the Commissioners Court which is held in Judge Reynold's office and over which he presides? What relief has been offered the people by the Judge and the Commissioners Court?

Of course it takes money to build up and maintain a county and we should pay a reasonable tax, but the judicious expenditure of our funds should be watched more clocely. For instance look at the expenditure on our highway last summer when the Judge had it scraped over at an expense of several hundred dollars, when the road bed was hard as flint and every one that I have heard express themselves agree that this money was absolutely wasted. But the Judge will tell you this was done by the Commissioners. Well then if this be true, they are a bunch of the same political faith that composed the Board when Deason was in office.

Here is where the Judge gets his wires crossed. He blames the Democrats for all mistakes made during Deason's administration, if any, and he claims there was, and he blames the Commissioners for all mistakes made during his administration. I feel in justice to ourselves and to our children and grandchildren, as the Judge has so pathetically mentioned, that it is time to call a halt and call the hands of the party that has been running things in this county in such a wasteful and reckless manner as above mentioned.

The Judge seems to want to put great stress on all being treated fair, and I would like to repeat this with emphasis, and then I want to ask the Judge as a matter of information which element in Chilton County pays most taxes, the Republicans or at the Democrats? And if it isnot a fact that the Democrats pay more than the Republicans? And if this be true, doesn't he think that it would be fair for them to have the management of the county affairs for at least a while and let him rest up? But I guess he will say no he is not at all tired as the Commissioners have been runing it and he is willing to still sit steady in the boat, manage our funds and give the Democrats hell for everything that goes wrong.

I wonder who he blames for Harding's speech in Birmingham and for the anti-lynching bill so far passed in Coogress. We all know about this and who is to blame? I don't believe in lynching, but I do believe that this anti-lynching bill passed by the lower house, which is composed of a Republican majority should be modified or amended to punish only the guilty parties and not to impose on the innocent tax payers of any county for hanging a brutish negro for raping some white woman.

Ask the Judge to tell you about this anti-lynching bill passed by the lower house in Congress by the Republicans.

Now in conclusion, I want to say that Judge Reynolds and myself are the best of friends and neighbors and I have quite a lot of friends and relatives all over the County who are Republicans and for whom I have the most high regard and best of feeling. It is only the Judge's political I take issue with him on and his failure to let the people know where and how they could get relief from the high taxes imposed upon them when he knew their only recourse was through his Commissioners Court.

The greatest opportunity to help the people that has ever been within the power of a Probate Judge and a Board of Commissioners since I can remember. Why didn't they let the people know and come to our relief?

I hope to see the day when we can have a Probate Judge and a Board of Commissioners who will be more thoughtful and conservative regardless of which party may be in control.

I feel that this letter is only my reasonable duty, and with best of feelings to one and all, I am.

Respectfully,
C. REESE MULLINS.

POST OFFICE BURNS

Offices of Dr. Hayes and Lawyers Reynolds Totally Destroyed.

Sunday morning at 3:05 the night Marshall turned in an alarm of fire, and by the time the hose reels could be run out and connections made the entire interior of the upper story of the post office building was enveloped in flames.

Dr. J. P. Hayes occupied a suit of rooms on the second floor with his spacious medical equipment, consisting of a large and expensive library, a complete surgical outfit and other instruments belonging to an up-to-date physician.

Messers Grady and Omar Reynolds, prominent attorneys here, also occupied a suit of rooms upstairs, and in their front office is where the fire was first discovered. They are quite seriously hit, although they carried a policy of $2,000 on their expensive law library and office equipment. We have it on good authority that their loss will total $6,000 while they only had protection on $2,000. They also lost many valuable notes and other legal documents.

The lower floor was taken up by the post office and is also in ruins. The rural carriers' department is located in an annex to the building proper and was saved intact except what damage resulted from water.

Postmaster Pickens and his efficient force delivered the morning mail Sunday from the street door of this annex and are still carrying on the business in there. They are terribly cramped in their quarters, with no conveniences at all to aid them, but they are giving us splendid service, considering the situation, and deserve the hearty and patient cooperation of the public in their earnest efforts to give us the best service possible under their great handicap. The News extends congratulations to them for their pluck and ingenuity in meeting such a trying condition.

The total loss from the fire will not be less than $15,000, the greater part of which falls on Dr. Hayes, as he not only lost his office and fittings, but is also owner of the building and carried no insurance whatever.

The origin of the fire has not been detirmined. Several theories have been advanced but none have been satisfactorily established.

The great advantage of having metal roofing on city buildings was never more clearly demonstrated than at this fire. Had the post office building not had a metal roof it would have been impossible to have confined the fire to that one structure. The News office, which joins the burned building, also has a metal roof and that was all that saved it.

BODY NOT RECOVERED

Up to 8 p. m. Wednesday, all efforts to find the body of Mr. Moftett, who was drowned at the Higgins Ferry some ten days ago, have proved unsuccessful.

The Alabama Power Company is having the river constantly watched and searched for miles below where the unfortunate accident occurred.

We do Job Printing.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY..Editor
R. E. CARTER..............................Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

We need a few Chinamen in Clanton. The rat crop is the largest, finest and fattest we ever saw.

If you buy your umbrellas, raincoats and overshoes now you will wear them out so soon you wont get the good of them.

Money is as scarce as religion now. A fellow told us last fall that the railroads would have it all in three years. He must have made a miscalculation and meant three months.

We notice the Birmingham News is congratulating the world on having adopted a new and modern religion better suited to the times than the one inaugurated on Calvary, Has the Christ been back and brought His religion up to date? We hadn't heard about it.

We don't know that President Harding read the News last week, he is not a regular subscriber, but he has taken our advice just the same and swallowed his "dish of crow at one gulp."

A preacher said in Birmingham last week that "the world was growing better every day." It may be, but you can't tell it by reading the daily press.

If the papers don't take up the cudgels again about the abreviated clothes the women wear, the first thing you know there wont be a thing for the street corner dudes to oggle at.

Chilton county politics and religion mix just like oil and water.

Wish we could say or do something that would induce the city dads to stop the hitching of wagons and teams to poles and posts along the sidewalks. That custom is not only a glaring nuisance, it is absolutely out of date,

If there is any special dish of torment that the devil saves up to punish his toughest victims with, we'll gamble on it being the job of trying to run a county newspaper.

A man don't never become a real successful travelling salesman until he acquires the ability to wade the mud and tote his flivver, sleep on a rail and eat cold slaw with cold water for breakfast without loosing his grip on that ingratiating smile of greeting with which he smothers his customers.

We have heard of people making a "hell of their own," but the movie actors and actresses did that very thing at Hollywood Cal., and now they have got it so hot they are going to move out and make them another one somewhere else.

Look not upon the seductive juice of the moonlight still when it foameth in the fruit jar like soap suds and smelleth like the elixer of buckeye, for in the end it biteth worse than a super case of appendicitis and shippeth thy soul to a elimate you are not used to.

Some people used to wear their religion as regular as their every day clothes, but in this wise age they don't abuse it that way any more. They pack it away with their Sunday duds and use it only on very special occasions.

We notice the Senate is going to "investigate" that theatre disaster that occurred in Washington last week, Wonder if they have put God on the stand yet to find out why He sent so much snow along at one time. That being the cause of the trouble the inquiry need go no further than that.

The United States Attorney General says he favors an "open shop" for all labor and that he does not need any new law to keep the coal miners and railroad men at work after April 1st. He has thrown down the gauntlet and says he is ready for any strike that may occur. Evidently a new Solomon has come to judgement.

Money can do almost anything for a man or woman except buy them a ticket to heaven or make them gentlemen or ladies. We learned this by observation and not experience.

A big, blab-mouthed bully can make quite a lot of disgusting noise in the world, but the quiet fellow who says little but "saws wood" is the chap who can sport the fur coats and top hats in the years to come.

We had a communication this week that we were very anxious to publish but the writer called it in at the last minute. It was wise and timely and calculated to serve a good burpose, but we obeyed instructions and filed it away.

The fire last Sunday morning clearly demonstated the fact that the city authorities need to devise some plan to have an organized system of fighting fire. Some one must have authority to lead and direct and the others must obey and not interfere. Too many bosses at once plays havoc with efficiency in a case like that.

A Wonderful Prejudice.

We heard a well-to-do citizen of Chilton county talking recently and we have not recovered from our astonishment yet at some things he said.

Some one asked him what he thought of the Harding speech at Birmingham, He replied promptly and with assurance and conviction that Harding did not make a single reference to the colored race in that speech. He said the accounts given out by the press associations were lies ane that the democrats paid them to send them out.

He was asked if he endorsed the anti-lynching bill that was passed by the lower house of Congress last week. He replied that no such a bill had ever been offered in Congress at all and that all the blow about that was simply another democratic lie.

Now this man looks like he was reasonably intelligent and a pretty fair sort of a fellow, and we wondered if he had allowed some smooth political trickster to make such a fool out of him as that. Can any sane man be led into such outrageous error as that? Did he really mean what he said, or was he ashamed of the record of his party?

A LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN JEFFERS.

Washington, D. C.
February 4, 1922.

Fditor Chilton County News,
Clanton, Alabama.

My dear sir:

Attached you will find a news item which appeared in the Washington Post of February 3rd.

You know Henry Lincoln Johnson, the famous negro Republican politician of Georgia, was nominated by President Harding for Recorder of Deeds but the Senate refused to confirm the nomination because of evidence submitted by Senator Watson of Georgia, showing Johnson's lack of necessary character qualifications.

Under Democratic administration this same negro, Henry Lincoln Johnson, was relieved of his duties as Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia. John E Costello, a white man and the present incumbent, was appointed and has been in the position for about six years. During Mr. Costello's administration as Recorder of Deeds the busines of the office has increased, making necessary an increase in the number of clerks, etc. There are now about forty-two employees in his office.

Of this number there are 33 or 34 white ladies. Most of these ladies are settled women of considerable experience and valuable employes to this office. Some of them are widows with dependent children and others of them have other dependents to support. It is very hard now to find other employment here and if this negro, who has been nominated, is confirmed it will mean that these white ladies will, of necessity, be compelled to work directly under the supervision of this West Virginia negro politician.

The office of the Recorder of Deeds is an office patronsized by the tax-payers of the District of Columbia and it is a self sustaining office which usually turns in an annual surplus to the U. S Treasury.

It is a very distressing situation. The office is running nicely and smoothly under Mr. Costello and you can imagine the feeling of these white ladies as they anticipate the removal of Mr. Costello from this office to be replaced by this negro favorite of the republican powers that be.

I sincerely trust he will not be confirmed, but so far as I can learn it is impossible to say at this time, with any degree of certainty, whether or not the Senate will confirm the nomination.

I thought perhaps the attached news items might be of interest to your paper. If you care to you may feel at liberty to use all or any part of the information contained in this letter from me.

With every good wish, I am,
Yours very sincerely
Lamar Jeffers

NEGRO IS NOMINATED FOR RECORDER OF DEEDS

President Harding yesterday sent to the Senate the nomination of Arthur G. Froe, of Welch, West Va., to be recorder of deed for the District of Columbia.

The nominee is a prominent negro attorney of West Virginia and is a resident of the Fifth Congressional District, represented by Wells Goodykootz, who backed the nominee for the place. Froe, accompanied by Senator Elkins and Representative Goodykoontz, had an interview with the President Tuesday.

Froe has been in Republican politics for many years and is reported to have always been a hard worker in every campaign. Those who know him say he is a man of exceptional character. He was indorsed by the Republican organization throught the State and especially by the negro citizens along the entire line of the Norfork and Western Railway. It is not believed there will be objection in the Senate to his confirmation.

We do Job Printing.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic
destroys the malarial germs which are transmitted to the blood by the Malaria Mosquito. Price 60c

Subscribe for The Chilton County News. $1.00 per year.

NOTICE

The estate of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased.

Letters testamentary upon the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, having been granted to the undersigned on the 11th day of August, 1921, by the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate will be required to present the same within the time required by law, or same will be barred.

E. W. BUTLER,
Executor of the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased 1-5-3t.

Car Load of Mules.

I have just received a car load of assorted Mules and can fit you out with any kind you want to suit any kind of work. Call and see me at the New Sales Stables, near overhead railroad bridge.

D. Y. JOHNSON.

FOR SALE—80 acres of land on Lock 12 highway 4 miles from Clanton, will sell or trade for pracitally new Ford Touring Car. Write or see N. J. Bice Rt. 6 Clanton, Alabama. 3times

SALESMAN WANTED to solicit orders for lubricating oils, greases and paints. Salary or Commission. Address THE HARVEY OIL CO. Cleveland Ohio.

The Old Reliable

I am back on the job again, ready and anxious to do all your Shoe Repairing at pre-war figures.

Find me in rear of the Smith and Downs wholesale store in the Taylor Mill building.

N. B. EROWN.

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.

Penetrates to the bone!

That's Why It Soothes and Promptly Conquers Pain

Unlike other liniments, Mustang is made of healing oils—no alcohol, acids or pepper used. Mustang never burns or smarts, not even when applied to open wounds. Pain is relieved quickly by Mustang, which thoroughly permeates the system and hastens healing. Over 73 years' success guarantees Mustang as best for MAN, LIVESTOCK and POULTRY.

Sold by
DRUG and GENERAL STORES

Actual Size 25c Bottle (Trial)
50c Bottle holds 3 times as much
$1.00 Bottle holds 8 times as much as 25c size

FREE WITH 25c TRIAL BOTTLE—a solid brass "PUT-and-TAKE" TODDLE TOP—the latest craze. Get one—be popular! Send 25 cents stamps or coin for Trial Bottle (Household Size) Mustang Liniment and get Toddle Top, absolutely free. Lyon Mfg. Co., 41 So. Fifth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MUSTANG
"The Good Old Standby Since 1848"
LINIMENT
LYON MANUFACTURING CO., Proprietors, 41-43-45 South Fifth St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Watch Out!

Something is going to happen. Prices are going to jar the bottom out.

Say! Did you know we were paying the highest market price for Chickens and Eggs and all kinds of Country Produce.

F. M. Connell

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabama, Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be rulplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is uy to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the leabe come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

YOU TAKE NO CHANCES!
Shumate Written Guarantee With Each Razor
For Sale by
Alred Drug Co.
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND

The splendid concert given on the street last Thursday afternoon by the High School Bras Band was not only a delightful entertainment to the large crowd who assembled to hear it, but it was the surprise of the season to the good people of Clanton. None of us realized that such an excellent entertainment could be pulled off by the boys from Chilton High.

The progress they have made is wonderful and the music given re classes up with what the average band put out. The whole audience was enthusiastic in praise and proud beyond expression to know that a local organization of that kind had been added to the many other assets of our town and county.

Music has its varied charms and it was interesting to observe how the shoulders in the audience were squared back and how the eyes brightened and sparkled under the enlivening spell of the martial music of the band.

The fact of sober business men became restless under the urge and beat time to the blare of the horns while footsteps became light and springy as others hurried up to enjoy the treat.

Our hat is off to the boys and may they go forward with the good work. It is the duty of every citizen in the town to get behind this organization and to encourage them in every way possible.

The management of the High School cannot be commended too highly for their enterprise and [illegible] in aiding this attraction to their many other good qualities.

AMERICANISM IS SAFE IN THE SOUTH

It is good for the preservation of the ideals of our American forefathers that the country has the unmixed native blood of the south to which to appeal in national crises. Whatever the ult of the southern people they are typically American. They live and think as Americans.

The census firgures of 1920 show that of the 2,348,174 inhabitants of Alabama there are only 17,662 of foreign birth, which is only a fraction over 1 per cent of the total white population of 1,[illegible]. Foreign hates and prejudices find a poor soil for venting themselves in Alabama.

There are 900,652 negroes in this state. So far as Americanism is concerned, the negroes are like the whites. In fact the negro being of simple mind and taking small note of the world beyond his home, knows little about foreign countries and care less. German propagandists who tried to influence him during the war failed.

The south has broad and roomy space. It welcomes desirable people from wherever they come but it wants them to come as a matter of individual preference and because they like the state, its customs and its written and unwritten laws.

The south's most precious heritage is her American blood, and it is likewise among the mainstays of the republic —Age-Herald.

MAPLESVILLE NEWS

Our little village is very much interested in High School building. We surely need it and every indication is we will get it.

At the school meeting Friday evening they had some good speakers one being Rev. J. A. Lee, who has been principal of the public school in Plantersville 14 years, another being our County Supt. of Education, Mr. Howard . Foshee, and our principal Prof. Harris. Here's hoping them great success.

Miss Allie Mullins is the week end guest of friends at Billingsley.

The Reading Circle met here Saturday. The town was full of teachers.

Miss Ethel M— had as her guests Sunday, Misses Mabel and Grace Smith, Pearl Jefferson, Edith Jones and . Lawley, and Messers Paul [illegible] Cuary and Jim Shelby of Centerville.

Miss Bessie Mae Brooks, of [illegible], is the guest of her brother, Mr. W. M. Brooks.

Mrs. Bankhead and little daughter, Blosse are the guests of her mother Mrs Crympton.

The ladies of the Eastern Star are hoping to organize an order here at an early date.

Mrs. Bankhead and Miss Blossom Crumpton spent Thursday in Selma, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Dubose.

Mr. Doc Farmer of Billingsley, is here on business.

Mrs. Nora Thompson is the guest of friends and relatives.

AND THIS IS ALABAMA

The following clipping from the Age Herald tells a pitiful story and one that has not often been true in the south before.

Washington Feb. 2.—(special.) Families of miners at Brookside are digging and eating roots and herbs for sustenance. This statement from J. L. Clemo, secretary District No. 20, United Mine Workers of America, was put before Congress today by Representative W. B. Bankhead of the Tenth District.

Mr. Clemo's telegram follows: To assure information for Congress, questionnames were sent to 90 mining districts. Reports from 33 have been received. Five thousand six hundred and eighty-two men, women and children in those districts were represented as being destitute. We estimate that 20,000 are in actual need. Families at Brookside are digging and eating roots and herbs for sustenance.

The House committee on mines and mining, instead of entering upon hearings of conditions in the mining districts of the United States as per schedule today, went into executive session and adjourned to meet again tomorrow in executive session. After that meeting it will be announced the scope of the hearing provided it is regarded as essential that hearings be held. The committee In other words is not ts willing, apparently that this question be investigated as it was some days ago.

ENTERPRIZE

Health is very good at present except the illness of Mr. W. O. Stroud's son. He is very ill from pneumonia. We hope him a speedy recovery.

The Weather is very changeable now, sometimes it seems as if Mr. Weatherman has gone off visiting and left the flood gates open.

Mr. David Dennis and Mr. Tommie Huett, were the guest of Mr. Dewey Huett, Saturday night.

If Mr. Alonza Askins gets disappointed at his girl failing to meet him at the train, I sympathize with him.

Mr. Dewey Huett says that luck is so arranged until he has never succeeded in understanding Algebra yet.

Our good and noble teacher, Mr. G. C. Weldon, is still supervising our school ably, rules with an iron hand, yet he is as mild as a beautiful lady teacher would be.

Thanking you for this space I go.
Dewey Huett

IT PAYS

It is not always easy—
To apologize.
To begin over.
To take advice.
To be unselfish.
To admit an error.
To face a sneer.
To be charitable.
To be considerate.
To avoid mistakes.
To endure success.
To be broad-minded.
To forgive and forget.
To profit and then act,
To keep out of the rut.
To make the best of little.
To shoulder deserved blames.
To maintain a high standard.
To recognize the silver lining.
But it always pays.
Rough Notes.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 19th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th. 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,
THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

Jacob Kufman and M. A. Pinson announce that the partnership of M. A. Pinson & Co., formerly doing business at Coopers, Ala., has been dissolved. Jacob Kaufman has retired from the business, which will now be conducted solely by Mr. M. A. Pinson, under his own name.

M. A. PINSON,
1-26-3t. JACOB KAUFMAN.

DEACON DUBBS

The Comedy-Drama entitled "Deacon Dubbs," was put on the boards at the High School Auditorium Tuesday evening by a caste of local talent and was a most unqualified success. Although the night was unusually cold and disagreeable they played to a large and appreciative audience

Prof. Ira Pegues, as Deacon Dubbs, was in his element. His impersonation was fine and he captured the audience from first to last.

"Deuteronomy Jones" as taken care of by Prof. Leon Mullins, was also another character well sustained and highly enjoyed.

"Mrs. Philipena Popover" was one of the richest characters of the play and was most excellently sustained by Mrs. George Pope. She was a favorite all the way through.

Miss Alice Selman, as "Yennie Yensen," the hired girl, was simply immense.

In fact, all the characters in the play were so splendidly sustained it is impossible to differentiate in favor of one more than another. They were all excellent and by their efforts and cooperation put over a play that will long be remembered pleasantly by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

The News extends congratulations to the entire caste.

C J PARAMORE DIES

Funeral Director Martin was called Tuesday afternoon to go to the home of Mr. C. J. Paramore, near Thorsby, and prepare the body of Mr. Paramore for shipment to Birmingham.

Mr. Paramore died very suddenly from an overdose of medicine taken by mistake. He was 58 years of age and leaves a wife and several children. He was a successful farmer and was well known in that section.

Mr. Martin shipped the remains to Birmingham Wednesday morning for interment.

WETUMPKA LOOSES

In a hotly contested game of basket ball between Chilton High and Wetumpka, on the city court here on last Friday evening, the local team came out with the long end of a score that read 19 to 5.

BAKER SCHOOL HOUSE

BY RED WING.

Mr. Editor:—If you will send some one out here to keep my boat from floating away, (for I don't know much about using my oars and am sorter tired,) I will give you a few dots from out here.

Health here is good and every one seems to be enjoying these rainy days.

Walter Ward has got where he can walk after receiving a very bad hurt from his mule throwing him. He says next time he goes to ride his mule he will walk and lead him. A very bright idea.

Say, girls! Jim Dunlap was in town Saturday p. m. with his hair fixed the new way—combed straight back and parted in the middle on the left side.

Miss Samara Culp went to town Saturday and had her picture made. Mr. Scott says he is sure she will make a fine looking picture, for she put her hands over her face just as he snapped the camera,

Uncle Nat Ward's old but-headed cow got out of the lot. He ran and caught her by the horns and drove her back. An easy thing to do.

Mrs. J, A. Mims and little daughter, Mae, spent last Thursday with Mrs. Dunlap.

Aunt Fannie Mims was visiting in our community last week.

Walter Ward and family and Uncle Billie Dunlap all spent Friday at Dock Baker's. They reported a good dinner with peas for desert.

Nance Dunlap spent Sunday with Delcan Watson. Nothing come up to make them have a good time except they each left a slipper sitting quietly in the mud and had to beg a log rolling stick from Mr. Watson and get R. V. to help prize them from the mud. The stick was returned in good order only being bent from the weigh of N—'s shoe.

Marie M—, we think, is seriously thinking of taking up cooking for a certain blue-eyed mill boy. Hope the boy will survive her first biscuits,

Mrs. Vickers is in Ohio. She writes that weather has changed since she left home and come a great big white snow.

Miss Grace Foshee's heart beat twice at one time the other day when Mr. S— stopped at her mail box. She just knew she had a letter from her beau, but, alas, it was a letter from a Beauty Specialist, and now we are all wondering if she will take the treatment.

Our school marms are both still on the job and, of course, our school is progressing fine.

Next Saturday and Sunday is our regular preaching day, so come out, all of you and bring some one else with you.

Hurrah for our candidate for Judge—Rev, C. D. Messer—let's all vote for him.

Well, I know we will soon be going to town on roads without any mud.

Now for my boat and oars to carry me home.

MACEDONIA

As I have not seen anything in your valuable paper from this place I thought I would give you a few items of news from this neck of the woods.

Miss Etha Nix, of Clanton, visited her parents here last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mary Beam, teacher at this place, attended the Reading Circle at Maplesville last Saturday.

Mr. J. C. Veazy, who has been doing some building for Mr. J. R. McAfee, of Shoults, for the past few weeks, is now at home.

Messrs, Layton Gipson and D. Z. Nix left last week for South Alabama I suppose, to make their home, for a while at least.

Here is wishing for them much success.
Clint Veazy.

Miss Carry Love Jones, a student of the college at Montevallo was the guest of her uncle's people last Sunday and Monday, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Spigner.

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your housekeeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change. Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don't forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal atattention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt-Edge.

Sewing Machines

-is my Middle Name, Come in and let me fit you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins

We Do Job Printing.

Mr. W. C. Robinson, of Cooper was in Clanton Monday looking after business matters.

Mr. A. G. Frazier went to Thorsby Tuesday to look after business for the L. & N.

Miss Myrtle Nunnelley, Mrs Ed Plier's sister went home Tuesday of this week. Her many friends here are very sorry that she was called to her home at Helena, Alabama.

Rev. I. O. Retheford, of the Mineral Springs Community was in Clanton last Saturday. Rev. Mr. Retherford is now 94 years of age. He made a crop last year. This Veteran Methodist minister has seen many changes in his day.

The County Registers have been at Jemison, Thorsby Mt. Creek, Verbena and Cooper this week registering the voters.

Mr. J. H. Williams, Jemison R. F. D. No. 1, recently killed a young porker 7 months old that netted 710 pounds. This shows what a good hustling farmer can do right here in the State of Old Chilton.

Mrs. N. J. Callaway is in Birmingham this week visiting her son, Dr. J. Callaway.

Miss Roberta Curry went up to Jemison last Saturday to put in a days work teaching a class in voice. Miss Curry is an accomplished musician.

Mrs. B. M. Roberts was a visitor to the Magic City last Saturday.

Mr M. E. Roy went to the Metropolis of Alabama last Saturday on business matters.

Miss Irene Jones was at home Sunday and Monday from Montevallo on account of the illness of her mother.

Miss Bessie Thomas, one of Clanton's highly refined and cultured young ladies, was at home last Saturday, Sunday, Monday from her school duties in Andalusia, Alabama on account of the sickness of her mother.

Mrs. Wiley Bice, Clanton Rt. 1 was sent down to Montgomery the latter part of last week to undergo an operation for appendecitis at Hill's Infirmary.

Miss Mary Popwell of the Montevallo College spent from Saturday until Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L Popwell.

Mrs. E. B. Binion of Stanton, Alabama suffered a stroke of paralysis January 29th. We are glad to learn that she is improving, and we hope her a speedy recovery.

Mr. G. B. Binion, of Lomax spent last week over at Stanton, Alabama on account of the illness of his mother, Mrs. E. B. Binion.

Miss U. L. Jones, Birmingham, was in Clanton Saturday, Sunday and Monday with home folks.

Mrs. E. R. Piper, of Thorsby, was in Clanton last Friday.

Rev. J. E. Champion, Jemison, R. F. D. 1, filled his appointment at McCarmel church last Sunday. Ministers like Rev. Champion are the salt of the earth.

Rev. C. D. Messer, Thorsby, R. F. D. 1, was in Clanton last Friday. Reverent Messer's hat is in the ring,. He is one of the sincere, conscientious, and true ministers of the gospel.

Dr. W. S. Wilson, Montevallo, was in Clanton last Friday. Dr. Wilson enjoys quite a large practice in denistry in the highly cultured educatonal town of Montevallo.

Dr. J. P. Crumpton went over to Montevallo last Friday to look after personal matters.

Miss Inez Dunlap, of Maplesprings, spent Friday night and Sunday with her sister, Miss Beaula Dunlap of Clanton.

Mr. L. F. Gerald, one of Clanton's prominent attorneys, went to the Capitol city last Thursday.

Mr. P. A. Vance and family who not long since moved to south Alabama have come back to Clanton. Be it ever so humble, there is no place like Clanton states Mr. Vance.

Mr. C. A. Heath, Alabama Power Company Employee, went down to Montgomery Thursday of last week.

Mr. W. J. Rucker and family are among those who have recently left Birmingham to live in Clanton. Mr. Rucker is an Alabamam Power Company has ad- Alabama Power Company has added many good citizens to Clanton, Cooper, nd Verbena.

Mr. E. H. Parrish, Atlanta Georga, son of Rev. M. J. Parrish, was in Clanton last week on business and renewing his former friendships and acquaintances.

Miss Sallie Parrish, who not many months ago lived in Clanton, is now taking a business course in Atlanta. We predict a bright future for Miss Parrish.

Miss Annice Kemp, one of the live young teachers at Maplesville, spent Saturday and Sunday with home people, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kemp.

Miss Ruth Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Lillie Robinson, is in the Magic City of Alabama taking a business course at Massey's Business College.

Mr. W. T. White, of Mulberry was in town Friday on business.

MISS COX HOSTESS

Miss Lurline Cox proved a charming hostess on last Thursday evening. The attractive home was adorned with pretty pot plants. Games and music was enjoyed until a late hour when a delightful salad plate was served. Misses Woodie Rawlson, Gertrude Popwell Roberta Curry Ola McKee Madelene Orr Maude Mullins Dewey Branch. Messers Bill Levie Phelix Gumsley Mr. Easterwood Henry Martin Earl Roberson Carquette Majure Joe Callaway Pat Copeland.

We do Job Printing.

PLEASANT GROVE

Last Friday afternoon our basket ball team entertained on our court the team from from Macedonia. The final score stood:

Pleasant Grove, 28.
Macedonia, 9.

Health in this community is good at present.

The continued rains have made our roads so bad we can hardly get to town and back.

Our school is progressing nicely in charge of Profs. H. P. Cooper and Marcus Biles.

A Subscriber.

THE STRAND BOYS

The Messrs. Hardee—Frank and Steve—who are operating the Strand Thaetre here now, seem to be doing nicely with the business, but the weather man has been on their trail ever since they opened up.

They have hardly had a single pleasant day or night for a show.

It has rained almost incessantly for the last three weeks and, of course, bad weather cuts their business seriously. Go to it, boys, the sun will get its machinery patched up and go to shining again after a while.

BASKET BALL GAME

On Tuesday afternoon the Basket Ball five from the Thorsby Institute met Chilton High team on the city court here.

The battle was fast and furious and resulted in a victory for Thorsby by a score of 27 to 12. The line up was:

Chilton High.

Roberts,	F	4	Reynolds	F	7
Daniels,	C	0	Orr,	G	1
			Cox,	G	0

Thorsby.

Littleton,	F	18	Graham,	F	12
Franklin,	C	2	Maddox,	G	0
			Burnett,	G	0

BAPTIST CHURCH

Regular services will be held next Sunday at the Clanton Baptist church with preaching by the pastor and special services by the choir.

We are pleased to be able to say that we now have an organized choir that is rendering some fine music, much to the delight of the congregation.

In view of the efforts now being made to improve the services, we would like to see a large number of the membership present. When the weather is bad it is all the more reason for us to make the effort to attend services. Love for Christ will inspire loyalty to the church.

Sunday School will begin promptly at 10, a. m. Preaching services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Everybody is cordially invited.

P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

Farmers Save Money

By buying your Cotton Seed Meal Fertilizer early as the price is advancing most every day. We have just received a lot of High Grade Meal and bought it at the right price. We will give you the advantage of the raise by buying now. Try a sack of our high grade ELECT FLOUR.

Clanton Mill & Gin Co.

J. A. MADDOX, Manager.

Listen!

Save Money!

Just received a brand new lot of Ladie's and Misses OXFORDS at pre-war prices, ranging from $2.75 to $4.50. Same shoes sold just one year ago at from $5.00 to $7.50.

Remember

We carry staple Dry Goods, Men's Suits, Hats, Caps, Shoes and Staple Groceries. See us before you buy.

Hugh Jones'

Cash Store

A. N. Miner W. J. Easterling

Miner & Easterling

Meat Market and

Grocery Store

We wish to announce to the people who trade in Clanton that we have opened up our new Meat Market and Grocery Store in the building formerly occupied by G. C. Armstrong, and are prepared to sell you anything you may want in the way of Fresh Meats, Vegetables, Groceries and anything you want to eat.

Our service shall be the very best in town. Our policy will be to furnish our customers what they want when they want it.

We have a telephone in our store and will make a specialty of attending to any and all orders given us, making a delivery in the quickest possible time.

Your Trade Will Be

Appreciated

Miner & Easterling

Clanton, Alabama.

APCo

ALABAMA

POWER CO.

Organized to Develop the Water Power of This State

Now Building

Mitchell Dam

At an outlay of $8,000,000, to be spent in Alabama, employing 1,500 men and using large quantities of Alabama material. When completed there will be generated 120,000 more horsepower of electrical energy for turning the wheels of industry and lighting the homes of Alabama.

Our Preferred

Stock

Yielding more than 7½% interest, with dividends every three months, and tax free in Alabama, is offered to the people of this state as an investment combining absolute safety with an unusually attractive rate of interest.

$93.00 per share, cash, or on monthly payments of $5.00.

For further details concerning this stock address

Investment Department

ALABAMA POWER CO.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

McDonald's Variety Store

BIRTHPLACE OF CUT PRICES

Come to see us. Shoes, Dry Goods, Staple and Fancy Groceries

McDonald's Variety Store

VERBENA, ALABAMA.

Railroad Avenue—East of the Postoffice

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm

In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

The New York Store

See the NEW YORK STORE before buying your Winter Needs. Our Stock is complete

Remember, our goods MUST be satisfactory to our customers.

The New York Store

Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, FEBRUARY 16, 1922. NUMBER 23

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Round Dozen Sewing Club.

Mrs. Barney Roberts was hostess to the "Round Dozen" Sewing Club on last Wednesday afternoon. After some time had been indulged in conversation and finger work the hostess served a salad plate. Besides the members of the Club were Mesdames Elmore and McDavid.

Mrs. Heard Hostess.

The Wednesday Card Club held its regular weekly meeting at the residence of Mrs. V. J. Heard. After several interesting games it was found that Mrs. Carrie Mullins held the highest score and was presented the club prize, four tea napkins, after which the hostess served a salad plate with hot coffee.

Sunday School Class Meets.

The Philatia S. S. Class of the Methodist Church held it regular business and social meeting at the residence of Mrs. Martin Nix. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Guy Roberts. As this was a business meeting there was not any program. After all business the hostess served an ice course assisted by Mrs. M. L. White and Miss Evelyn Nix. The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Barney Roberts in March.

A Lovely Valentine Party.

Mesdames Grady Broadhead and L. F. Gerald were the charming hostess to one of the loveliest of the mid winter entertainments on Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Grady Broadhead, being given in honor of Mrs. Fesch of Denver, Col. The apartments were a bower of beauty with potted plants, trailing smilax, and white carnations, burning tapers, shaded lights and red hearts. Mrs. Broadhead received at the door and urshered into the dining room where Mesdames Arthur Johnson and Hayes served delicious punch from a very attractive table with burning tapers. Also further carrying out the valentine idea. Tables were arranged through out the apartment where "42" was played. Dainty valentine marking each table. Dainty cupids were given as score cards, with miniature hearts tied with red ribbons were given as progression points. The one wearing the most miniature hearts at each table were presented with dainty valentines. A tray of miniature hearts were passed and Mrs. Eric Hart drew the lucky one and was presented with a lovely pair of silk hose. The valentine idea was further carried out in the dainty refreshments of a salad course with hot chocolate, miniature white cakes with a dainty heart upon, also cut class bon-bon dishes were placed on each table with red and white mints.

Mesdames J. Watts Moore and Upchurch are spending this week with Mrs. P. I. Hopkins in Dothan.

Mrs. J. Mell Martin is visiting her sister in West Point, Ga.

Mrs. Renfro Mullins of Montgomery, spent the week-end with relatives.

Miss Gladys Woods of Birmingham, spent the week-end with friends.

Miss Alee Stewart of Birmingham, attended the funeral of Mrs. Callen.

Miss Gladys Mae Nix, who is in school in Birmingham, spent the week end with home folks.

Mrs. Guy Higgins spent Monday in Deatsville.

Mrs. L. C. Ross is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sartor.

Miss Ruth Robinson has returned home after spending some time in Birmingham.

Mrs. Kyle of Decatur is the house guest of her daughter, Mrs. V. J. Heard

Mrs. V. J. Heard spent Monday in Birmingham shopping.

Mrs. Horn of Troy was the week-end guest of her sister, Mrs. L. F. Gerald.

Mrs. Fesh of Denver, Col., is the guest of her neice, Mrs. L. F. Gerald.

Mr. Lee Stewart and Miss Willie Jean Stewart were among the out of town that attended the funeral of Mrs. Callen.

MACEDONIA

On last Friday afternoon the basket ball five from Pleasant Grove met the Macedonia boys on the court here. Both teams did excellent work. They played fast and hard and resulted in a tie 17to 17. While the visiting team claimed a victory for them by two scores. But they threw one goal after the time had been called, hence we call it a tie.

The players were agreeable all the way through, but we can not say as much for those that did the cheering; as there were some things said on both sides that should not have been said, to say the least of it. There were some 125 people present—I fear more than will be at church next Saturday. So I ask this question, Where are we drifting to? Do not understand me as being against the ball game but against some things that accompany the game

Mr. Hayes, our postman, drove his car last Saturday for the first time in several days, and had to be pulled out of the mud a few times before he made his round. The cord wood wagons on one side of us and a couple of lumber trucks on the other, keeps our roads torn up so the Flivvers in this section are about out of commission.

Mrs. Amber Nix Russ of Florida, who has been visiting her parents here Mr. and Mrs. Zeke Nix, left for her home in Florida last week.

Mr. Caldwell Bean of Plantersville, was here visiting his sister, Miss Mary last Friday and Saturday.

Mr. C. G. Glass and wife visited the capital city last week.

OBSERVER.

JEMISON VOTING ON SCHOOL TAX

The people of School District No. [illegible], at Jemison, are voting today (Thursday) on a proposed special three mill tax for school purposes in the district. Many other districts of the county have already adopted this system for schools and find it very satisfactory. Jemison will no doubt adopt it and find it the best way possible for financing a good public school.

Mr. A. D. Martin, of Maplesville Route 1, was in here Monday.

FRIDAY'S SHOWERS

Something new under the sun.

It would seem that our Clanton women are not content with the various offices and honors that they have lately acquired. They are now actually competing with government weather forecasters and are predicting two showers for next Friday afternoon.

Both are linen showers however, according to the prognostications, and will continue simultaneously from two to four in the afternoon. They will be given by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Central Alabama Hospital Committee for the benefit of the hospital.

Residents west of the railroad will be entertained at the Wilson Hotel. Those on the east side will be entertained at the home of Mrs. J. Q. Wade.

Any kind of linen suitable for a hospital will be an acceptable offering. Ladies may feel free to "chip in" with one another if they so desire. All are cordially invited to attend these functions.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Splendid congregations were present last Sunday at both services of the church, and a good Sunday school of 160 in attendance, though we would like to see this grow up to 200 by next Sunday weather permitting.

The service next Sunday morning will be of a special nature. A Clanton Baptist Church Rally will be held and Rev. S. H. Bennett, State wide Enlistment Secretary will preach. Immediately following the sermon the regular church conference will be held at which some very important matters are to be considered. The reorganization of the church, the adoption of a liberal budget, and balance due on the pews are among some of the matters to be determined at this conference. It is vry important that vry member be present. Let us also work for a record day in the Sunday School by having a Rally in attendance and interest. Sunday School begins at 9:45, A. M. Preaching service at 11, A. M., and 7:15, P. M. We cordially invite you to all of these services. Come and hear the splendid music by the choir.

P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

We do Job Printing.

WOULD-BE BURGLAR

On last Friday evening about 7:30 o'clock, Dr. Upchurch, his wife and little son, who had been down to his drug store, returned to their home and upon entering the house the Doctor glimpsed the feet of some one disappearing under a bed. He secured a gun and called to the owner of the feet to come forth. A very little insistence backed up by the business end of a 38, induced the feet to materialiize and with a close up view, the doctor found that he had captured a well known colored street loafer, called Burdell. A phone message quickly brought Marshal Burton to the scene, who took charge of the festivites and in a few minutes the colored "sport" and street bum was looking through the bars of big rock.

Just such characters as this Berdell are the perpetrators of 95 per cent of the robbers, the axe murders and the hald ups that we read of daily in the papers.

This is the third time in just a few weeks that this loafing, no-account street crook has been in bad with the law. The other two cases he got by with so lightly that he was only inspired to keep up his shiftless existence of stealing his way through.

It is to be hoped that before he gets through with this attempt—at perhaps, murder and robbery, he will be given plenty of time and encouragement to decide that a little honest labor and a whole lot less stealing will be some to his advantage in future.

Since his arrest a pair of shoes and a gun have been found in his possession that left their rightful owners without leaf, license or price. He will also be requested to explain their presence in his company.

Our city authorities might well stick a pen here and find out what means of support the other eight or ten marble-playing members of Burdell's gang have. "They toil not, neither do they spin," but they sedm to "flourish like the green bay tree."

MAPLESVILLE NEWS

The basket ball team played Lawley Friday afternoon. The score was 6 to 2 in favor of Maplesville. Miss Miller refereed.

Mary Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, was hostess to a delightful party on Saturday afternoon, when a number of girls and boys were invited to her home to make make merry with her in celebrating of her thirteenth birthday. The home was made lovely by carrying out the valentine idea. Red hearts were seen here and there in connection with other decorations.

After quite a number of games were enjoyed, one being indoor football, using the hand instead of foot, and others just as interesting, the guests were invited into the dining room when a delicious salad course was served. The table was beautifully decorated, in the center a lovely birthday cake, holding the 13 tapers.

Those enjoying Miss Brooks' hospitality were Francis Brown, Mollie Mae and Louise Thomas, Cecil Hayes, Davis Walker, Grace and Marion Levnes, Allie and Nell Thomas, Irma Ree Huff, Roy Sanders, Shepherd Hutts, Earl Reedy, Martin Jones, Mathew Thrash, Mademoiselle Tutwiler and Louise Stevens.

Mrs. F. A. Sharks and Byrd Lee Coleman attend the Neil O'Brien ministrel in Selma, and was the guest of Mrs. James Day.

Mrs. Jack Northrup will be hostess on Wednesday afternoon for her Sunday school class. A valentine party and candy pulling.

Bert Coleman and dis sister Byrd Lee and Donald Merchant spent the past week in Anniston.

We are expecting to give a wild west play, "An Arizona Cowboy," in the near future. Will give date of play next week. Admission 25 and 15 cents.

Mesdames Calloway and Thomas will be joint hostess in valentine party Tuesday evening in honor of Mollie Mae Thomas and Garvin Calloway.

Rev. W. P. Lowery, of Thorsby, was among those who attended the Pasters and Deacons meeting here Monday. Ask him about the refreshments served at the Baptist church at noon Monday.

Mr. I. A. Dennis, of Maplesville, was in Clanton Monday.

MRS. W T CALLEN PASSES AWAY

No event of recent years has so painfully shocked and saddened the people of Clanton as the sudden news last Friday morning that Mrs. W. T. Callen was dead. The blow was not tempered any by even a few days of illness that might have served as a premonition to the community of her impending end, but she passed away in a moment, like the snufiing out of a candle, when, so far as anyone knew, she was in absolute health with the promise of many more useful [illegible]

On Thursday, the day before the fatal end, she spent at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Hance Alred, and was as happy and cheerful as usual and busied herself in the affairs of life with interest and zest as was her custom. On Friday morning she arose at her accustomed hour and went into the kitchen to see to it that the breakfast would be properly prepared and served to her loved ones of the home circle. In a few moments she returned to her room and told her husband that she did not feel exactly well and lay down. He gave the necessary orders for assistance and hastened to the bed, but almost immediately that fond heart of hers had ceased to beat and that wonderful soul had gone to reap the glorious reward of a charitable and devoted life spent here.

Mrs. Callen was always a live and willing worker in every cause that had for its object the uplift and betterment of humanity. In church work, in all charitable endeavors and in the civic advancement of her home town and community she was, at all times, a moving spirit. In this broad field of labor her cheerful assistance, her wise counsel and her indomitable energy will be sadly missed and her vacant place will be indeed difficult to fill.

The interment occured Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the remains were followed to the grave in the city cemetery by one of the largest crowds that ever assembled in that silent city of the dead.

The floral offerings were beautiful beyond compare and in such profusion that the casket was completely covered and the hearse a bower of exquisite flowers, bearing their fragrant and loving testimony to the fact that many, many fond friends were thus offering sweet homage to the memory of a dear departed loved one gone on before.

The death of Mrs. Callen leaves the home of a devoted husband bereft of its most precious jewel and the polar star of his life gone down here, but gleaming with a brighter radiance in that city not built by hands.

Mrs. Callen was 61 years of age and besides her immediate family, consisting of her husband, Mr. W. T. Callen, her two step-sons, Ed and W. J. and her daughter, Mrs. Izora Alred, she leaves three sisters, Mrs. W. O. Perry, of Pinedale, Ala., Mrs W. G. Parker, of Columbiana, Ala., and Mrs. W. W. Gandy, of Tuscaloosa, and two brothers, Dr. W. N. McGhee, of McAllen, Texas, and Mr. Albert McGhee, of Elreno, Okla.

COMMITTEE CALLED

The Executive Committee of the Baptist Sunday School Convention of the Unity Association is hereby called to meet at 2 p. m. next Saturday at the Clanton Baptist church.

W. T. Johnson, Sec.

MULES FOR SALE

I have for sale at my home in Clanton, Ala., 8 good mules that I used on my farm on the river. Ages from 4 to 10 years old, alsd 7 mule colts age two and one half to three years old.

2 16 2tp B. F. HIGGINS.

MOFFETT BODY FOUND

The body of Isom B. Moffett, age 26, who was drowned at the Higgins lower ferry, January 21, was found Sunday, February 12, near the Rushton old mill site.

Funeral Director Martin was called and went down, carrying a casket with him. He prepared the body on the bank of the river for shipment and the following day forwarded it to Dunlap, Tenn. for burial. The body was accompanied by Mr. Rucker, who was a friend of the deceased.

The Alabama Power Company spared neither time, trouble nor expense in seeking the body, never having given up the search, and Mr. Martin was instructed not to allow the cost to interfere in doing everything possible in preparing the body for its shipment home.

BODY OF DEWELL BARRETT FOUND

Last Sunday the body of Dewell Barrett, a young man who had been missing for nearly two weeks from his home near Dollar, Coosa conuty, was found in a creek.

Rumor has it the body would indicate that he was murderd.

MRS MARTIN DEAD

Funeral Director Martin was called to Thorsby Tuesday to bury Mrs. Newton Martin, an aged lady who died at her son's home in Thorsby.

The interment took place at the Collins Chapel cemetery, She was the mother of Deputy Martin, of our city.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their kindness and sympathy extended us at the recent death of our wife and mother.

W. T. Callen and Children.

MARRIED

At the home of the bride, four miles west of Coopers, on last Sunday afternoon, Mr. Hiram Littlejohn and Miss Leona Driver were united in marriage Rev. A. C. Wells officiating.

C. Reese Mullins Mentioned For Probate Judge.

Quite a number of leading Democrats from all over the county have asked us recently if Mr. Mullins was going to get in the race and expressed a desire to see him come out.

We could not tell them anything deffinately, but we too would like to see him in the race and feel sure there is not a more competent man in the county for the job.

Notice

All who have not paid Town Property Tax and License Tax will please call and pay same at once.

By order of Mayor and Council.

V. J. GRAGG, Mayor,
J. Mell Martin, Clerk.

Ford for Sale

I have a Ford Roadster in First Class Condition that I will sell at a bargain. Come and look it over. G. O. McKee. 2-15-tf

Mrs. Vickers, of the Baker School House community, has returned from a visit to Ohio. She says she is glad to get back where the snow has melted so she can see the ground.

Subscribe for The Chilton County News. $1.00 per year.

HONOR ROLL

The folowing students of the Chilton County High School have made the First Honor Roll of the First Semester, having made an average of 90% or above:

Seniors.

Lera Johnson,
Mary Kennedy,
Lillian Mims,
Eufaula Mahan,
Una Belle Mahan,
Arrell Smitherman.

Juniors.

Clara Holley,
Willie Higgins,
Gladys Kemp,
Clara Vines,
Elly Daniel.

Sophomores.

Charles Moore,
Sophia Mullins,
Myra Moore,
Addie Pearl Martin,
Flossie Wilson.

Freshmen.

Hubert Stroud.

The following have made the Second Honor Roll, having made an average of 85% or above.

Seniors.

Cleo Broadhead,
Kenneth Danforth,
Bertha Dennis,
Nettie Dennis,
Mary Earl Farley,
Ruth Jones,
Norman Roberts.

Juniors.

Jewel Armstrong,
Julius Burnett,
Gertie Mae Davis,
Lincoln Devaughn,
Lester Jones,
Katie Johnson.
Maude Wagoner,
Varnie Wyatt,
Pauline Wagoner,
Lorene Parrish.

Sophomores.

Otto Miller,
Mollie Robinson,
Dewey Cotton

Freshmen.

Elizabeth Duncan,
Harlem Daniel,
Myrtle Keel,
Harry Eyler,
Gladys Culp,
Pearl Minor,
David Moore,
Leon Smith,
Sam Upchurch,
L. V. Riggins.

The highest semester average was for the Senior Class was made by Mary Kennedy; for the Junior Class, Clara Holley; for the Sophomore Class, Flossie Wilson; for the Freshman Class, Hubert Stroud. The highest ranking student in school for the semester is Mary Kennedy.

READING CIRCLE HELD HERE LAST SATURDAY

The Clanton Group of the Teachers Reading Circle was held at the Chilton County High School building here last Saturday, February 11th. The program was under the direction of the able leadership of Prof. W. E. G. Sutton, Principal of the Verbena School. All the teachers of the Clanton Group were present but three.

The meeting was a very interesting one. Besides the regular textbook work, there were splendid addresses made by Prof. Sutton, Prof. Ira Pegues of the Clanton Grammar School and others. Mrs. Ward gave a splendid talk on teaching phonics.

The following delegates were elected to attend the Alabama Educational Association which meets in Birmingham April 13-15: S. E. Alverson, Mrs. Cordelia Ward, Mrs. Mary Thomas; alternates, J. L. Wilson, Mrs. Ida Trotter, and C. D. Hughes.

The last meeting of the circle will be held on March 11th. An interesting program will be prepared, and an enthusiastic day will no doubt result on this occasion. All the teachers will be present and show their apreciation of the ability displayed this year by the capable leader of this important work.

Dissolution Notice.

Jacob Kufman and M. A. Pinson announce that the partnership of M. A. Pinson & Co., formerly doing business at Coopers, Ala., has been dissolved. Jacob Kaufman has retired from the business, which will now be conducted solely by Mr. M. A. Pinson, under his own name.

M. A. PINSON,
1-26-3t. JACOB KAUFMAN.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY..Editor
R. E. CARTER..Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

All Have Not Forgotten.

Occasionally some man who enjoys, thoughtlessly, we dare say, the privilege of living in the South, with all its glórious traditions, its true American spirit, its manifold home attractions and God-given benefits, allows his memory to lapse, when under the spell of political pressure, and he delivers himself of some strange and wonderful delusions. Charity prompts us not to attribute such wild and careless ravings as some of them make to wantonness, but rather to a painful loss of memory and a predominant spirit of ingratitude.

Sometimes they give vent to a bitter diatribe against the Democratic party and charge to it all the crimes, horrors and hardships that Providence has ever seen fit to allow to happen to fallen man, and in their frenzy they claim that Democracy has only done evil and that continually.

Let's see about that. There are a good many of us living yet who can remember back to the dark days of the 60's and 70's. The unhallowed and unholy days of a reconstruction period handled, directed and enforced solely at the orders and behest of this same Republican party, whose political garments, some people would have us believe, are whiter than snow. We have seen our brothers and fathers march up to the polls under the frowning menance of Republican bayonets and fearlessly cast their ballots for Democracy that their children might possess the priceless heritage of uncnotaminated race freedom.

We still remember who it was that by the ruthless means of bayonets and renegade carpetbaggers in the South incorporated that darkest clause—the 15th amendment— as part of the otherwise glorious constitution of this great land of ours. A glaring disgrace to the memory of that grand galaxy of patriots who wrested our liberty from the oppressor's hand and wrote this Magna Charter of freedom to guarantee to their offspring a government of Americans, for Americans, by Americans.

We also remember how this noble Republican party, while they were attempting to forever dethrone and degrade the white manhood and womanhood of the South, passed in their Congress that acme of infamy—the Civil Rights Bill—a bill framed and intended to force the pure and chaste white womanhood of the South to meet the negro on a plane of social equality and in several instances they sent their bayonets down to enforce that unthinkable humiliation.

Then later on we remember the Force Bill. The younger generation surely have not forgotten that, and we also remember that this same Republican party was the father and patron saint of that document. More recently, to demonstrate beyond the shadow of a doubt, that we have today this same Republican party and that they are still running true to form, we call your attention to the recent speech of President Harding at Birmingham. Here was the national leader, spokesman and mouthpiece of this same Republican party, accepting the gracious hospitality of the South on an occasion that should have been free from all taint of politics, violating the sacred traditions of his host for the sake of injecting in to his speech this same theme of "the civic and political equality" of the colored race.

As a fitting sequel to that declaration by the President, a few weeks later we find the lower house of the present Republican Congress passing the Dyer anti-lynching bill by an overwhelming majority. You all know exactly what that bill is and who it is aimed at. Then immediately in the background, as a fitting follow up of the anti-lynching bill, comes the Federal Aid for Public Schools, that will automatically make all public schools open to the white and the colored pupil alike and on precisely the same terms. Don't you let anybody tell you otherwise, for the Federal government can not, even if it was disposed to do so, differentiate between citizens on account of "race, color [illegible] previous condition of servitude."

Now, would you like to know why it is and how it is that we, of the South, have managed, for the past thirty odd years, to evade these vile mandates, and how it is that your wife, your mother, your sister, your daughter and your little children are not forced today to sit with the colored men and women at hotel and restaurant tables, ride in the same coach and in the same seat with them on the trains and street cars, go to the same schools with them and meet them in any and all public places on terms of absolute equality? Let us tell you, friends, and say it without fear of successful or truthful contradiction, that you owe every single item of your freedom from social equality—from these very evils, the thought of which is obnoxious to you above even beyond the scene of your imagination—to the Democratic party alone and to no other human agency on earth.

We do not suppose there is an individual living today in the United States who would have the hardihood to deny that truth, for it is known of all men. This is why we have often wondered how a white man or a white woman of the South can bring themselves to vote the Republican ticket. How they can afford to accept of and glory in their immunity from race contact in public places—how they can enjoy their freedom from this most odious condition in the South—and then, every time the opportunity presents itself, drive a knife to the hilt in the back of the very friend that is now, and has for more than thirty years, protected their women and children from the contamination of social equality.

Two parties in the South may be a dream of the future, but may God deliver us and our loved Southland from ever embracing as one of them a party that wears as a gem in their diadem the dark red jewel of social equality.

Gov. Kilby and the crooks composing the Montevalo Coal Company are engaged in a tussel now. The Company took one of these crooked bankrupt routes to beat the state out of about $600,000 on a contract. The governor called their hand and proposed to buy out the whole business for the State. Now the Company has found about $1,000,000 more assets than they find for the bankrupt court

You can't legislate good morals nor religion into anyone, but you can legislate vicious habits and vile temptations out of his way and that might help some.

Before the headliners on the big dailies get fed up on featuring one Hollywood scandal with rape and murder attachments, they pull off another stunt over there and the "scare head" men start back on a rehash.

What a funny world! Last year at this time the gardens were green and beautiful and the farmers were ready to plant their crops. This year the gardens are bare and bleak and the fields look like December.

It is claimed by some of the railroad men that the freight trains are hauling more passengers now than the regular passenger trains. The scaacity of work these days has put many a good man to "riding the rods while the genus hobo we have always with us.

Had you thought of it? Chilton county has 35 miles of the new Federal aid highway already surveyed, passed on and approved for immediate construction when the work begins. We believe that is two milos more than any other county has already to start work. We should be among the first to have a start made

---

The Alabama Power Company is offering the best investment for surplus money of any thing in the South Their stock is absolutely safe and sound, with millions of accumulating values behind it all the time, and the rate of interest is higher than any other safe propersition before the people. It has become essentially a Southern institution and the people at home should stay with it.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Quite a number of patrons attended the meeting of "Clanton Parent-Teachers Association" Friday afternoon at the Grammar school and enjoyed the following program:

Song, "America."—All.
Business.
Music, Miss Ethel Thompson.
6th Grade Number, Miss McMillan.
Music, Ruth Sessions.
Aims and Ideas of this Assiciation, Mrs. VanDerveer.
7th Grade Number, Prof. Pegues.
Music, Stella Thomas.

Social Hour.

Mrs. A. Johnson, Mrs. Heard, Mrs. Culppepper, Mrs. Bob Jones, Mrs. McSwain, Hostesses.

Grade work on exhibition in each room.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Ex Parte Petition of Lola Belle Davenport and Lois Delene Davenport, minors, suing by their next friend, Mrs. Lelia Davenport Vinson, Petitioners, in Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, in Equity.

By virtue of a decree rendered on February 8th Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described real estate—to wit:

All saw mill timber, measuring ten (10) inches and over in diameter, eighteen (18) inches above the ground on the following described land, lying and being in Chilton County, Alabama, to-Wit:

North half of the Southwest ¼, Northwest ¼ of the Southeast ¼, Southeast ¼ of the Northwest ¼, Southwest ¼ of the Southwest ¼, Southeast ¼ of the Southwest ¼, all in section Twenty (20), and west half of Northeast ¼, Section Twenty-nine (29), all in Township Twenty-two (22) Range Thirteen (13) with the right to cut and remove said timber from said land for a period of Three years, with right of way over and across said land for the purpose of removing said timber from said land, together with a Mill Site or Sites on any part of said land not in cultivation for the purpose of erecting and maintaining a Saw Mill to manufacture said timber into lumber during a period of Three years, to satisfy said decree.

This the 9th day of February, 1922.
W. D. SPIGENER, Register.
2-16-3t.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic
Destroys the malarial germs which are transmitted [illegible] blood by the Malaria Mosquito. Price [illegible]

NOTICE

The estate of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased.

Letters testamentary upon the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, having been granted to the undersigned on the 11th day of August, 1921, by the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate will be required to present the same within the time required by law, or same will be barred.

E. W. BUTLER,
Executor of the last Will and testement of Margaret E. Tupper, deceased 1-5-3t.

Car Load of Mules.

I have just received a car load of assorted Mules and can fit you out with any kind you want to suit any kind of work. Call and see me at the New Sales Stables, near overhead railroad bridge.

D. Y. JOHNSON.

FOR SALE—80 acres of land on Lock 12 highway 4 miles from Clanton, will sell or trade for pracitally new Ford Touring Car. Write or see N. J. Bice Rt. 6 Clanton, Alabama. 3times

---

SALESMAN WANTED to solicit orders for lubricating oils, greases and paints. Salary or Commission. Address THE HARVEY OIL CO. Cleveland Ohio.

The Old Reliable

I am back on the job again, ready and anxious to do all your Shoe Repairing at pre-war figures.

Find me in rear of the Smith and Downs wholesale store in the Taylor Mill building.

N. B. EROWN.

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.

Penetrates to the bone!

That's Why It
Soothes and Promptly
Conquers Pain

Unlike other liniments, Mustang is made of healing oils—no alcohol, acids or pepper used. Mustang never burns or smarts, not even when applied to open wounds. Pain is relieved quickly by Mustang, which thoroughly permeates the system and hastens healing. Over 73 years' success guarantees Mustang as best for MAN, LIVESTOCK and POULTRY.

Sold by
DRUG and GENERAL STORES

Actual Size 25c Bottle (Trial)
50c Bottle holds 3 times as much
$1.00 Bottle holds 3 times as much as 25c size

FREE WITH 25c TRIAL BOTTLE --a solid brass "PUT-and TAKE" TODDLE TOP--the latest craze. Get one. Be popular! Send 25 cents stamps or coin for Trial Bottle (Household Size) Mustang Liniment and get Toddle Top absolutely free. Lyon Mfg. Co., 41 So. Fifth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MUSTANG
"The Good Old Standby Since 1848"
LINIMENT
LYON MANUFACTURING CO., Proprictors, 41-43-45 South Fifth St., Broo

Watch Out!

Something is going to happen. Prices are going to jar the bottom out.

Say! Did you know we were paying the highest market price for Chickens and Eggs and all kinds of Country Produce.

F. M. Connell

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabama. [illegible] Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps,Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is uy to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to act the best and pay the leabe come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

YOU TAKE NO CHANCE
Shumate
Written Guarant
With Each Razo
For Sale by
Alred Drug Co.

What Chamber of Commerce Has Done in the Past Year

Annual Report of Commercial Organization Shows Accomplishment of Many Things Worth While for Town and County.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CLANTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Annual meeting of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce was held in the Courthouse on Friday, February 10th. The Annual report, as presented by the Secretary, showed that some good things had been accomplished and others were in course of development in the near future such as the stopping of train No. 1, the establishment of a Veneer Industry and the location of a Brickyard and a Hardwood Industry. By motion of Mr. W. T. Bean the report was ordered to be printed in both of the local papers and appears below.

Election of Officers.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. V. J. Gragg; Vice President, W. W. Fox; W. T. Bean, C. Fenn Jones, J. Lee Smith, T. H. Neighbors, and J. P. Lawrence as Directors. Mr. C. Reese Mullins was unanimously elected to the position of Second Vice-President to fill the only vacancy on the Board.

Financial Statement.

The finacial statement as presented by the auditors showed that quite a good sum of money had been contributed during the first eleven months of its existence and is as follows: (See Statement.)

With the bright prospects of locating industries in the near future the sentiment was expressed that all the present members retain their membership and a drive be made for additional members who should belong to the Chamber.

At the close of the meeting Captain Lay showed a fine set of stereopticon pictures demonstrating the future possibilities of the Coosa River Hydro-Electric development to a good audience of people. The Annual Report, as presented to the meeting is as follows:

Financial Statement From February 1921 to January 1922.

Receipts; — Membership Fees and Dues,	$732.00
Expenditures:—
Postage,	$ 15.89
Office Expenses,	45.37
Speakers,	15.63
Traffic Bureau,	59.27
Advertising,	45.51
Telegrams and L. Distance,	7.07
Travelling Expenses,	33.81
Printing,	72.65
Banquets and Socials,	118.90
Salary to Secretary,	215.00
Clerk Hire,	6.00
Sundries,	8.15
Total	$643.25
Balance in Bank,	37.75
Cash on Hand,	51.00
Total	$732.00

Audited and found correct:

J. RENFRO MULLINS,
W. T. BEAN, Auditors.

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

Presented to the Membership of Clanton Chamber of Commerce on January 19th, 1922.

Gentlemen:

Your Secretary takes pleasure in presenting the First Annual Report of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce, an organization which was prophesied would be dead in three months.

Organization.

The first meeting for the purpose of organizing a Chamber of Commerce in Clanton was held on January the 6th, 1921., and the Rev. P. G. Carter was elected as temporary Chairman and G. M. Wyatt as temporary Secretary. A nominating committee of five were appointed for the purpose of electing officers and a Board of Directors. At a subsequent meeting held on January 21st, the committee reported as follows:

President, Dr. V. J. Gragg; Vice President, Dr. J. P. Hayes and W. W. Fox; Directors, G. C. Walker, W. T. Bean, J. L. Smith, C. F. Jones; Treasurer, V. J. Heard. The report of the committee was adopted and these gentlemen declared duly elected. Mr. G. C. Walker declined to serve, and in accordiance with the powers delighted to the Directors Mr. T. H. Neighbors was asked to fill the vacancy, and later on Mr. J. P. Lawrence was added to the Directors.

Secretary.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on January 27th, Rev. P. G. Carter was unanimously appointed as Secretary.

Constitution.

At a meeting of the Directors, held on February the 3rd, the Constitution and By-Laws tentatively submitted to a regular meeting of the body on January 21st with some changes and additions was adopted, and then submitted to the next regular meeting of the body on February 10th and accepted.

Committees.

According to the Constitution the Directors appointed the following committees:

Membership, Publicity, Educational, Civic and Public Utilities, Industrial, Entertainment and Program, Agricultural, Good Roads, Public Health. The membership committee is the only committee that has really functioned during the year with the exception of the Executive, who have met several times when neccessary, at the call of the Secretary. The membership committee did some fine work under the Chairmanship of Mr. J. P. Lawrence. The other committees seem to feel that all matters pertaining to the Chamber of Commerce were perfectly safe when left in the hands of the secretary, to whom they seemed to look at all times to take the initiative. If more of the Chairman of the various committees had taken some part in the particular work related to their committee much more might have been accomplished.

Meetings.

Seven regular meetings of the Board of Directors have been held during the year, besides three or four Call Meetings. These meetings have on the whole been well attended by the Directors who have served us well, and to whom the best thanks of the Chamber is due. One exception should be mentioned, that of the First Vice-President who declined to serve.

The general body have held eight meetings during the year, four of which were in the nature of a banquet, at which time special speakers were secured from Birmingham and Selma, Ala. These were Mr. O. L. Bunn, Secretary of Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Frank Willis Barnett, and Mr. Morgan Richards, Secretary of Selma Chamber of Commerce. All three speakers were greatly appreciated by their helpful suggestions for the carrying on of the work of the Chamber. The banquet occasions proved to be the most popular as is usual everywhere, and were the largest attended of all the meetings. The expenses of the banquets have been met out of the regular funds of the Chamber. The social features of the banquet have undoubtedly had much to do with the healthy condition of the organization at the present time. No organization can really prosper unless its members get together from time to time to transact its business, and keep in touch with its activities.

Activities.

We are frequently asked "What is the Chamber of Commerce doing?" The following are some of its activities during the past year:

1. It placed Clanton on the map. Through the courtesy of the Birmingham News, Age-Herald, Union-Banner and other papers, Clanton has received more advertising in the form of stories written regarding its advantages and possessions than probably ever before in all its history. The value of this publicity is demonstrated by the fact that when the hospital was contemplated, correspondence was received from all parts of the United States, especially from the northern sections, all of which was addressed to the Chamber of Commerce. We feel it is not too much to claim that the present increase in buildings and population has partly resulted from such advertising. Many more people would locate here if houses could be found, or buildings were available for business purposes. Many applicants have had to seek other fields owing to these circumstances.

2. The Merchants Credit List: For a long time a need has been felt by the merchants of the city of some means of protection against undesirable customers. For this purpose two credit lists have been furnished by the merchants and printed by the Chamber which we are informed has been of considerable service to those who used them wisely.

3. Trades Day: Two efforts were made to observe Trades Day. The first occassion was a disappointment in aerial navigation. Large crowds gather to see some advertised aerial stunts, but owing to the failure of the Flyers to keep their contract, not only was the day unsuccessful in the purpose intended, but the Secretary and Directors profited by their experience for future undertakings. The second Trades Day was observed during the month of October when a full page of free advertising was given to the merchants to the value of $36.00. The special inducements offered by the merchants brought a somewhat larger number of people to town on that day, and some at least reported a better business than usual.

4. Hospital: The possibility of erecting a $20,000 hospital was conceived of by the medical profession of Clanton and County. The assistance of the Chamber of Commerce was solicited, and very willingly given in raising the neccessary stock with which to build. At a joint meeting of the citizens and representatives of the Chamber the method of first securing tentative stockholders as suggested by the secretary was accepted, and with his assistance co-operation with others about $20,000 was soon subscribed. They were later approached and most of them have taken shares in the enterprise with the result that a splendid building is now nearing completion and will be one of the best equipped in the State

5. Stopping L. & N. Train No. 1: This matter was first taken up by the citizens of Clanton about a year ago, and an order given by the Public Service Commission for the train to stop at Clanton. An injunction was then taken out against the order by the L. & N. Railroad. A hearing on the Injunction was promised by the Attorney General, but allowed to lay dormant until the Chamber of Commerce took the matter up with the State last November. In about five weeks after that a hearing was obtained in the Circuit Court of Montgomery. Dr. V. J. Gragg, C. B. Cox, J. B. Atkinson, P. G. Carter, R. D. Busbee, and C. Reese Mullins appeared as witnesses in the case. Strong evidence and testimony was given as good reason why the said train should stop at Clanton. The Assistant Attorney handled the case efficiently for the plaintiff. The hearing was then postponed until a future date for the hearing on the other side. The outlook is bright for the stopping of this train as soon as a decision can be handed down by the Supreme Court to which it will in all probablity go before a final decision is rendered.

6. Traffic Bureau: For the purpose of auditing the freight accounts of the merchants the services of Mr. R. D. Busbee were engaged by the directors at a salary of $125.00 per month for a period of two months.

Though this undertaking has not proved to be a success from a local financial standpoint good service has been rendered the merchants in the assurance that with some exceptions their freight bills are correct. In addition to this valuable information otherwise unobtainable has been secured which reveals the fact that Clanton rates particularly in Interstate Commerce far exceed those of Calera, Selma, Montgomery and Birmingham, which is contrary to certain decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and which we believe can be properly adjusted. Preliminary efforts are now being made, which if successful will mean very much more to the merchants of the town as well as to every citizen, than the money expended in the employment of the traffic manager. We are assured that there is a splendid possibility for such adjustments. Should we succeed in this, hundreds of dollars will be saved to the merchants and citizens every year.

7. The Bell Phone System: On Thursday, September 15th, the District Manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., appeared before the Directors appealing for the assistance of this organization in the establishment of their business on a paying basis. The situation then existing made it neccessary to remove the Central Telephone Exchange and substitute only a Long Distance Booth. The Directors took the matter up at once, by certain suggestions that were made, and efforts put forth to install more Bell Phones. The result now is, that some twenty more phones have been installed, and the company is able to keep a man on the field all the time, thereby giving us more efficient service, and assuring us of a permanent telephone system for the city of Clanton. It was to the Chamber of Commerce this company naturally appealed for the desired assistance which has thereby rendered valuable service to the community.

Future Prospects.

1. Brick Yard: Through the agency of the Chamber a party at Thomaston, Ala., was introduced to a valuable tract of land near Clanton for the purpose of a brickyard. The soil was previously tested and declared to be excellent. The clay exists in sufficient paying quantities and all other things essential to a successful business are there. The party left with the announcement that he would return in a few days with his partner and probably close the deal for 20 acres of this property. Though situated some three miles away, it will mean cheap brick for Clanton if the deal is successfully carried out.

2. Spoke and Handle Factory: Through this same party the secretary is informed of a firm at Linden, Ala., that desires to locate their factory in a new location. As Clanton affords excellent facilities for such a factory we believe there is a bright prospect of securing this industry.

3. Cotton Mill: Correspondence is now passing between the Ala. Power Co., and the Chamber, also with Mr. C. E. McLin of Rome, Ga., the latter concern desiring to locate a Specialty Mill of a cotton manufacturing nature in the near future. Our offer is considered to be the best received yet, and will no doubt be throughly investigated as soon as they are ready to do something.

4. Aerial Landing: Regular passenger service by aeroplane is to be established between New York and New Orleans, beginning about May 1st. The Clanton Chamber of Commerce expects to meet the request of this corporation for an emergency landing close to the city, where such planes can land for repairs if neccessary and doubtlessly for passengers if desired. With this accommodation for Clanton which is thus considered to be on the map between New York and New Orleans there will be little need for No. 1 or the Pan American to stop at Clanton. If such a landing is secured this will be one of the finest advertisements that Clanton can have.

5. Stopping No. 1: Mention has already been made of this. It is the purpose of the Chamber to push this matter as quickly as possible and get a decision in our favor as soon as it can reasonably be done.

Finances.

The Treasurers Statement shows a total receipt of $732 in membership dues and initiation fees the past 11 months. The total expenditures amount to $643.25, leaving a balance on hand of $88.75. Against the balance there are several bills payable including the sum of $200.00 to our Traffic manager, which when paid will leave a deficit of about $90.00. This has been incurred by the establishment of the Traffic Department, but which will be adjusted in the near future. Some office furniture is also included in this amount.

Conclusion.

The report as presented only gives to you a general outline of what has been accomplished during the past year. With the foundation now laid, and the correspondence now taking place, there is no reason why some industry should not be located in Clanton during the coming year.

The present membership now stands at about fifty. With some united effort we feel that this can be substantially increased, and certainly should be since every citizen benefits by this organization. Clanton has a bright future before it in the next five or ten years. Such an organization as the Clanton Chamber of Commerce is very essential for the building up of your community. The secretary through this medium tenders to the Directors, and to the present membership his grateful thanks for their loyalty and support. Several citizens have dropped out during the year either through lack of vision and appreciation of the organization or because of the lack of funds with which to continue their subscriptions. One dollar a month is a very small amount for such an organization to function to its fullest capacity, therefore, with the limited funds available we feel that much has been accomplished, and the foundation laid for much more to be done for the betterment of Clanton, and development of the Community commercially and industrially.

Respectfully submitted,
P. G. CARTER, Secretary.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th. 1922.

(Paid politicol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

Subscribe for The Chilton County News. $1.00 per year.

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your housekeeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change. Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don't forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A full line of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt-Edge.

Sewing Machines

is my Middle Name, Come in and let me fit you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins

We Do Job Printing .

last year, where is the logic in the conclusion that the correct policy for 1922 is to cover the earth with boll weevil shades? Hogs sell at a profit.

We are told that cotton must sell at a loss if sold now.

We gather that farmers in the peanut districts get mad when the question of peanuts is raised, and many of them emphatically declare they are done with this crop, because of the disappointments experienced in the past two years. They are still thinking in terms of abnormal peanut prices realized in 1918 and 1919. It is certain that peanuts are not going to sell again for the prices brought in those amazing years. But it is hardly less certain that the carefully managed and marketed peanut crop of 1921 should be sold profitably. In any case peanuts can be fed to hogs profitably.

THE 1922 CROP

From The Advertiser.

The farmer who goes in for all cotton in 1922, turning the back of his hand upon peanuts, velvet beans, corn and hogs, may live to regret his recent anger and disappointment with food crops. Isn't a six-cent Alabama hog as profitable in February, 1922, as cotton at 15.75? Does anybody know how cheaply a hog can be grown in Alabama? The United States Department of Agriculture has made an effort to approximate the cost. It has said that hogs could be grown in Alabama at about four cents a pound.

If that is correct, it is certain that a six-cent hog is sold at a profit, but if the present price of cotton would bring less than it cost to produce the cotton

Farmers Save Money

By buying your Cotton Seed Meal Fertilizer early as the price is advancing most every day. We have just received a lot of High Grade Meal and bought it at the right price. We will give you the advantage of the raise by buying now. Try a sack of our high grade ELECT FLOUR.

Clanton Mill & Gin Co.

J. A. MADDOX, Manager.

Listen!
Save Money!

Just received a brand new lot of Ladie's and Misses OXFORDS at pre-war prices, ranging from $2.75 to $4.50. Same shoes sold just one year ago at from $5.00 to $7.50.

Remember

We carry staple Dry Goods, Men's Suits, Hats, Caps, Shoes and Staple Groceries. See us before you buy.

Hugh Jones'
Cash Store

A. N. Miner W. J. Easterling

Miner & Easterling
Meat Market and
Grocery Store

We wish to announce to the people who trade in Clanton that we have opened up our new Meat Market and Grocery Store in the building formerly occupied by G. C. Armstrong, and are prepared to sell you anything you may want in the way of Fresh Meats, Vegetables, Groceries and anything you want to eat.

Our service shall be the very best in town. Our policy will be to furnish our customers what they want when they want it.

We have a telephone in our store and will make a specialty of attending to any and all orders given us, making a delivery in the quickest possible time.

Your Trade Will Be Appreciated

Miner & Easterling
Clanton, Alabama.

PERSONAL MENTION

"He who talks without thinking, runs more risk, than he who thinks without talking."

Mr. H. Nelson, of Verbena, has recently moved to Montgomery to engage in business there.

Mr. L. B. Callen, of Birmingham, was here Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. T. Callen.

Mr. M. C. Allgood, Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries, passed through Clanton last Friday on his way to the Capital City of Alabama. From all reports, Mr. Allgood's "hat will soon be in the ring."

Our young "Bachelor Friend," Mr. W. M. Walker, of Maplesville, was here last Saturday.

The County Registrars finished their rounds last Saturday, filling appointments at Evergreen and Enterprise.

Mr. W. O. Perry, who was for a number of years a citizen of Chilton, but now one of Dallas County's very best citizens was here Saturday attending the burial service of his sister-in-law, Mrs. W. T. Callen.

Mr. H. H. Lassiter, of Plantersville, one of the members of the Board of Revenue of Dallas County, was here last Saturday to attend the funeral services of Mrs. W. T. Callen.

Mr. J. E. Mattison, of Plantersville was here Saturday at the burial service of Mrs. W. T. Callen.

Mr. Frontis H. Moore, of Wetumpka, was here last Saturday in the interest of his candidacy for Circuit Soliciter of this District.

Hon. J. Fritz Thompson, of Centerville, was in Clanton last Friday attending to business matters. Mr. Thompson is Circuit Solicitor in his district. He makes the law violators squirm when he gets in behind them.

Mr. W. B. Cox, of Clanton Route 2, was here Saturday looking after business affairs.

Mrs. Lettie Suttle, of Selma, was among those who was here last Saturday attending the funeral services of her aunt, Mrs. W. T. Callen.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gandy, of Tuscaloosa, came over last Saturday to be here at the burial services of Mrs. Gandy's sister, Mrs. W. T. Callen.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Parker, of Columbiana, were here last Saturday for the purpose of being present at the burial services of Mrs. Parker's sister, Mrs. W. T. Callen.

Prof. S. N. Davis, of Clanton Route 6, was among those who attended the Reading Circle here last Saturday.

Mrs. Renfroe Mullins, who has her children in school at Montgomery, spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks here.

Miss Galdys Wood, of the South Highlands School, Birmingham, was in Clanton visiting friends Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Frank Thomas, of the Magic City, was visiting friends and relatives in our city Sunday.

Mrs. Clint Jones, of Ashville, N. C., is in Clanton visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Curry.

Much favorable comment has been heard on the streets of the highly interesting picture shown at the Strand Theatre last Saturday night. The Hardee Brothers know how to put on good shows, and boost up the town as well.

Mr. W. A. Sanders, of Plantersville, was in our city last Saturday on account of the death of Mrs. W. T. Callen. Mr. Sanders is one of the prominent conductors of the Southern Railroad.

Mr. Cecil Perry, of Pineville, was in Clanton last Saturday owing to the death of his aunt, Mrs. W. T. Callen.

Mr. J. B. Higgins was in Clanton Sunday associating with friends and relatives. He returned to Maplesville Monday.

Rev. W. A. Goss, of Mt. Creek, was here Monday taking in the "Pastors and Deacons" meeting.

Mr. D. M. Martin, of Maplesville, was in Clanton Monday. Mr. Martin is one of the many true citizens of Chilton County who views things from the right angle.

Mr. W. Y. Keel, of Clanton Route 6 was a pleasant caller at the News Office recently.

Mr. H. S. Doster, of Prattville, was in Clanton Tuesday. Mr. Dester is connected with the Prattville Progress, a DEMOCRATIC paper at Prattville.

Mr. Weeks says he's thinking of posterity in connection with the Ford offer Muscle Shoals. Other eminent republicans are not looking any farther ahead than election day.—Age-Herald.

Murderers we have in jail, counterfeiters train robbers, footpads and bigamists, but most of the profiteers are just now at the winter resorts.—Age-Herald.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Circuit Court.—In Equity.

Esther Duncan Racine and Gordon Mooney, Minors, who sue by their next friend Sallie S. Duncan Complainant, vs. J. E. Gowan Defendant.

By virtue of a decree rendered on the 8th day of February Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the court-house door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described real estate—to wit:

Lots Five (5), Six (6), Eleven (11), Twelve (12), and the north thirty (30) feet of Lots Thirteen (13) and of Lot Fourteen (14) in Block Thirty (30), formerly Twenty-two (22), East of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, as shown by the official map of the Town of Clanton, recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama. Sold for division among the joint owners thereof. All of said land being in Chilton County, Alabama, to satisfy said decree.

This February 10th, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

2-16-3t.

MORTAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power therein contained executed T. C. McSwain by Isaac Kendrick and his wife Maggie Kendrick on the 25th day of October, 1919, and recorded in Mortgage Book No. 176, on page 128 in the office of the Probate Judge of Chilton County, Alabama, the undersigned T. C. McSwain, will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash on the seventh (7) day of March, 1922, at the Court House door, in the Town of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, at Twelve (12) o'clock noon, the following described property, consisting of real estate, lying and being situated in Chilton County, Alabama:

One lot, beginning at the Northeast corner of Section 27, Township 21, Range 15, in the town of Cooper, Alabama, Chilton County, running thence west 55 yards, thence southeast 185 yards to Poplar Street, fronting and running thence east on said Poplar Street 55 yards, thence in a Northwesterly direction to the point of beginning, lying and being in Sections [illegible] 27, Township 21, Range 15.

Default has [illegible] made in the payment of the debt which is secured by the above mentioned mortgage and this sale is made for the purpose of foreclosing the mortgage and paying the debt and all cost and expenses of foreclosure, including a reasonable attorney's fee, which is provided for in said mortgage.

T. C. McSWAIN, Mortgagee.

G. C. Walker, Attorney. 2-16-3t.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Horn of Thorsby, suffered a stroke of paralysis last week. He is said to be improving.

McDonald's Variety Store

BIRTHPLACE OF CUT PRICES
Come to see us. Shoes, Dry Goods, Staple and Fancy Groceries

McDonald's Variety Store
VERBENA, ALABAMA.
Railroad Avenue—East of the Postoffice

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son
Clanton, Alabama.

The New York Store

See the NEW YORK STORE before buying your Winter Needs. Our Stock is complete!

Remember, our goods MUST be satisfactory to our customers.

The New York Store
Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, FEBRUARY 23, 1922. NUMBER 2

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Mrs. M. L. White Hostess.

The Round Dozen Sewing Club held its regular meeting at the residence of Mrs. M. L. White on last Wednesday afternoon. After conversation and finger work were indulged in the hostess served a salad plate. The visitors to the Club were Mesdames Nix, and Ross.

Wednesday Card Club.

Mrs. Guy Higgins was hostess to the Wednesday Card Club on Thursday afternoon. After several very interesting games it was found that Mrs. V. J. Heard held the highest score and was presented with the club prize, a set of dainty tea napkins. After which the hostess served delicious refreshments to the following ladies, Mesdames, Hugh Jones, Arthur Johnson, Eric Hart, Hosea Downs, Carrie Mullins, V. J. Heard, John VanDerveer and Kyle of Decatur.

Mrs. Hugh Jones Hostess.

On Monday morning Mrs. Hugh Jones entertained the Wednesday Card Club from nine until 11:30. The apartments were never more beautiful than on this occasion. The color scheme being yellow. Baskets of Jonquils and ferns, tied with yellow ribbon were placed throughout the apartment. After several interesting games it was found that Mrs. Tesh held the highest score, and was presented with a lovely towel, and Mrs Kyle, the guest prize, with a beautiful pair of silk hose. After which the hostess served a salad plate with chocolate and angel food cake to the following ladies, Mesdames V. J. Heard John VanDerveer, Guy Higgins, Carie Mullins, Hosea Downs, Arthur Johnson, Eric Hart, Tesh, of Denver Colorado, and Kyle of Decatur.

Mrs. Upchurch Hostess.

On Wednesday at the residence of Mrs. Upchurch was the scene of quite a gathering of a few friends in honor of Mrs. W. W. Monroe. A five course luncheon was served to the following ladies, Mesdames W I. Mullins Hugh Foshee, Hinkle, Guy Higgins Watts Moore, White, Hayes and Ross Mullins.

Birthday Party.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Corinne Polk was hostess to her many little friends at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Polk. This occasion was honoring her ninth birthday. The table was made beautiful with crepe paper from the chandelier to the four corners of the table and the center being the beautiful birthday cake. Mrs. Polk, assisted by Mrs. Marion Gore, served the future belles and beaux ice cream and cake.

Missionary Society Meets.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held its regular business and social meeting at the residence of Mrs. T. C. McSwain on Monday afternoon The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. J. C. Jones, who read the scripture from Mark, and prayer by Mrs. David Pearson. Then the following program was carried out. Subject Havana Cuba, Mesdames Barney Roberts, R. C. McDavid, Eric Hart and Fox read interesting pieces on Havana. After all business the hostess served an ice course, assisted by Mesdames Macy Jones, Luckie and Hugh Simpson.

Mrs. W. W. Monroe of Fayette, Ala., is visiting Mrs. Upchurch this week.

Mrs Durwood Broadhead spent last week in Montgomery, guest of relatives

Mr. Henry Gilbert of Florida, spent a few days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wade.

Miss French Evans returned home Monday after spending a month in Birmingham with relatives

Mesdames Watts Moore and Upchurch returned home Saturday after spending a week in Dothan as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. P. I. Hopkins.

The ladies on the west side of the Railroad gave a linen shower for the Central Alabama Hospital last Friday under the leadership of Mrs. Mallie White and Mrs. P. T. Hinkle.

The shower was quite a success from every standpoint. Many useful pieces of linen such as will be needed in hospital work was donated to the cause. This shews the hearty cooperation that the Central Alabama Hospital will have from the very opening day.

Dr. T. J Marcus was present and in a few well chosen and appropriate remarks thanked the ladies for the gifts to the Hospital and also for the hearty support they had already given to the cause

LAMAR JEFFERS ON THE FORD BID

February 21, 1922.

Editor Chilton County News,
Clanton, Ala.

Dear Sir: —

I have recently received many letters, telegrams, petitions and resolutions from individuals and organizations urging me to do what I could to help crystallize sentiment in Congress in favor of the approval of the Ford offer for the great Muscle Shoals project.

These representations have come to me from points in Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Virginia, and other states. Resolutions have come from Chambers of Commerce, Rotary Clubs, Exchange Clubs, Kiwanis Clubs, American Legion Posts, Merchants Associations, Farm Loan Associations, Advertising Clubs, and all are strong for Ford.

My office is busy making copies of these communications, which copies will be placed in the hands of the members of the Committees now considering Mr. Ford's proposal. I am sure the people of our section want these committeemen to know what the sentiment is.

The reason why the people are so solid for Mr. Ford, as against any and all other possible bidders, may be summed up as follows:

1st. The people believe Henry Ford is the practical business man of the country today, who has the money, the brains, and the inclination to successfully operate the great Muscle Shoals project.

2nd. The people believe Henry Ford will pay a better and fairer wage to all his workers, of every classification, than would other interests. This would be not only better for the workers, but would mean more and better business for all business interests of the entire community.

3rd. The people have great faith and confidence in Henry Ford as a fair business man who will sell any output of the project to the consumer at a fairer price than some other interest might.

The people have a real interest in this great government project, and the will and desire of the people, which has been expressed so strongly and so unanimously, should certainly be weighed and considered in making disposition of this government institution in which the people have a rightful interest

After the Ford contract was taken up by the committee here, then eleventh hour bidders came in to muddy the waters, but the only result so far has been that the people have redoubled their eforts to impress Congress with the fact that they want Congress to "let Henry Ford have Muscle Shoals."

I shall continue my effort to help crystallize sentiment here in favor of the aproval of the contract with Henry Ford.

Yours very sincerely,
LAMAR JEFFERS.

We now have in stock in bulk, Garden Seeds, Beets, Tomatoes, English Peas, Butter Beans, Turnips, bush and pole Beans. Field seeds: Early Corn, Soy Beans, pearl Millet, Sudan and Bermuda Grass, Water Melon and Cantelope.

Alred Drug and Seed Co.

A special session of Circuit Court has been in session here this week. Judge B. K. McMorris presiding. Up to the present time the cases have been chiefly cases against the Mobile and Ohio Railroad.

J R PARNELL TELLS OF REGISTRATION

Thorsby, Ala., Feb. 20, 1922.

Editor:-

I notice in the Union-Banner, issue of February 16th, a reply to C. Reese Mullins from Judge L. H. Reynolds which deals largely with the action of the Registrars. He says much about how things ought to be run, and in many of these I agree with him. He undertakes to trail the Registrars over the County and tell the people what they did. He claims to write from "Information," and writes in such a way that it would seem to be facts in the case. If he has been misinformed in the matter, I want to give him the facts. The Judge undertakes to give the exact time and places the Registrars have gone wrong. He claims we registered Mrs. Durbin under a wagon shed and that there was a Republican woman in the house that we failed to register. The Registrars did not know this Republican woman was in the house and that she wanted to Register. The Judge nor any other Republican did not furnish us with the names of Republicans that wanted to register or was entitled to register.

On January 5th we went to Pletcher and was in session all day at that place. We left there late in the afternoon to go to Beat 8. We were to spend the night with W. Hamp Foshee reaching his place after dark. On our way from Beat 15 to Beat 8 we passed the home of D. M. Apperson, who lives in Beat 8. The Judge well knows that a person can not register except in their own beat or at the Court House. Sec. 8 of the Acts of October 1920, provides that no person shall be registered except at the Court House or in the precinct or ward in which he or she resides. Now then we were scheduled to register voters in Beat 15 that day and late that afternoon we passed into Beat 8 on our way to Mr. Foshee's. Mr, Apperson and his wife lives in Beat 8, therefore, we could not register Mrs. Apperson that day. The Judge also makes the statement that Mrs. Apperson was sick and could not go and register. Let us state that we saw Mrs. Apperson as we passed out at the cow pen feeding and milking her cows. She did not appear to be sick at that time. We passed by Mr. John Ramsey's after dark. There was no light there and we supposed they had retired. And besides we did not know there was anyone there to register. We could not have registered this party for the same reason as in the case of Mrs. Apperson.

We spent the night at Mr. Foshee's and the next morning went on to Riderville to fill our advertised appointment there. We spent the entire day at Riderville and did not go out any where. On our way to Riderville from Foshee's the next morning we did stop at Mrs. Houston's and register those entitled to register. This was the day we were scheduled to be in Beat 8. Now as to this being contrary to the law, I refer the Judge to Sec. 11 of the Acts of October 1920, which reads as follows: "The board of registrars shall have power to examine, under oath or affirmation all applicants for registration, and to take testimony touching the qualifications of such applicants. Each member of such board is authorized to administer the oath to be taken by the aplicants and witnesses, which shall be in the following form and subscribed by the person making it, and preserved by the board, namely: I solemnly swear that in the matter of the application of ——— for registration as elector, I will speak the truth, so help me God." The law does not require the applicant to come before the entire board at any particular place. The registrars, however, must be in the Beat in which the applicant resides and on the day they are scheduled to be in that Beat. All applicants that were taken in this way were brought before the board and a certificate issued only after a majority of board had approved it. We construe our action to be according to the law. Section 34 of the Acts of October 1920, provides that, "The board of registrars shall have the power and authority to make such rules and regulations as it deems proper for the receipt of applications for registration and the accomplishing in as expedient a manner as possible for the registration of those entitled to register, provided, however, no person shall be registered until a majority of the beard of registrars has passed favorably upon such person's qualification. We claim we have a right to make our own rules and regulations in so far as we do not go contrary to the law.

With reference to going to the Democratic beats first, I want to state that I planned the route entirely to suit the Registrars and not to suit the Democrats nor Republicans. If the route went to the Democratic beats first, I want to call the Judge's attention to the fact that he planned the route of Registrars in 1920 and that the Republican beats were served first. He has no kick coming there. Turn about is fair play.

Now in conclusion I want to emphatically state that we tried to do our duty as we saw it and to the best of our ability. I am sorry to see that we displeased the Judge in the registration of voters. The board registered Republicans and Democrats alike as they found them, and the failure of any one to become registered is due to their own fault.

J. R. PARNELL,
One of the Registrars.

C REESE MULLINS SAYS A WORD

Clanton, Ala., Feb 21, 1922.

Editor Chilton County News:—

May I have a small space in your paper this week to reply in a few words to L. H. Reynolds' article appearing in your last week's issue. I am sure you noticed his miserable failure to answer my questions and did not attempt to say why he and the Commissioners did not come to our rescue on the tax question. I do not care to enter further into a newspaper controversy, as it is not at all my idea of conducting a political campaign, and especially I can not afford to with a man that will not confine himself to facts borne out by the records of his own office. The Judge is mistaken when he says that when he turned over the Court House Keys to Judge Deason in 1910 that he left more than $10,000.00 in the County Treasury and the county out of debt. You know as well as many others, that he left the county busted, as there was at that time more outstanding warrants against the county than there was money in the Treasury to pay. Nothing having been paid off for several months. Old man Bill Mahan could tell you about this if he was living. The Judge thinks we all have forgotten what happened twelve years ago, and even six years ago, but he is badly mistaken and at the proper time his attention may be called to some other things that has been happening all along,

With best of feelings, and for the well fare of one and all, I am closing my newspaper controversy for the time being.

Respectfully,
C. REESE MULLINS.

Communicated.

Clanton, Ala. Feb. 20, 1922.

Editor Chilton County News,
Clanton, Ala.

My Dear Sir:-

I note with interest your mention of my name in last weeks issue of your paper, as being a suitable candidate for Probate Judge of this county. I appreciate very highly the nice things you had to say of me, and I also appreciate what you say that others have said to you in regard to me becoming a candidate. I think I realize what it means to get in this race and I want to say to the Democrats of this county that if we win we must wake up. Yes, I too have been approached by several people to become a candidate and get in the race, and if this encouragment keeps up I may decide to do so, but I will have to know who would be my associates for the other offices before I can fully decide. This is all to be adjusted yet, and you know we have plenty of time yet to announce. We already have one good man in the race. I may get in the race and I may not.

Yours most truly,
C. REESE MULLINS.

Buy Garden and Field Seeds in bulk at home and save money. Our prices are much less than the mail order houses and quality superior. Try ours just once and be convinced.

Alred Drug and Seed Co.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Mr. B. L. Davenport, of Thorsby is here this week serving on the jury.

Mr. J. R. Taylor, one of Cooper's good citizens, is here this week serving his county on the jury.

Mr. J. M. Nix, of the Macedonia community, is in Clanton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wilson, of Pletcher, have been in Clanton this week visiting relatives.

W. C. Dickerson, Jr., of Beat 15, was here yesterday looking after personal matters.

Mr. Amos Davis, of Sylacauga, was in Clanton last Friday.

Messrs H. B. Oliver, Charlie Gulledge, and Mr. Plott were in Clanton last Friday.

H. J. Foshee, of Maplesville, was in Clanton the latter part of last week. He reports everything in a hustling condition in the live little city of Maplesville.

Sam Crysell, of Jemison, was in Clanton last Friday looking after personal matters.

Rev. W. A. Goss, of Mt. Creek, was in town Monday. He reporas that the church at Samaria will have a home coming day sometime in the future.

The ladies of Clanton request that an Easter Shower be given of growing plants for the Central Alabama Hospital on Friday before Easter Sunday.

Miss Nora Thompson of Selma, was visiting Clanton friends and relatives last week.

Dr. and Mrs. V. J. Gragg went up to the Magic City the latter part of last week.

Mr. W. M. Wagoner, of Minneola, Texas, has been in Clanton several days visiting friends and relatives.

Walter Gillespie, Federal Prohibition Agent, was in Clanton one day last week.

Mr. J. C. Culp, of Clanton Route 7, was in here Saturday.

Mr. N. J. Bice of Route 6, was here Saturday.

Mr. M. B. Adams, of Clanton Route 1, was in town Saturday looking after business matters.

Prof. Ira Pegues, Principal of the Grammar School, was a visitor to Alabama's Metropolis last Saturday.

H. J. Gilbert, of Miama, Fla., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Wade last Saturday and Sunday.

Several have suggested that we have the Sunday evening in Clanton.

J. W. Teel, of Livingston, has been in Clanton this week visiting relatives and friends.

One of our most appreciated friends and helpers in the days of the Clanton Press, Mr. Newton Arledge, is in town this week visiting his mother and family and his many friends here. Newt has entirely reformed from the printers' trade now and is pounding a key for the Western Union people in Montgomery.

This would be a fine way to elevate our people, both old and young, and give us that social training that we need so badly.

Messrs George Fox and George Kemp, of Maplesville, are here this week serving on the jury.

Mrs. Ella Hardee, mother of our hustling picture show young men, Messrs Frank and Steve Hardee, and Mrs. Hettie Hardee, wife of Mr. Frank Hardee, and also her two children have come to Clanton to make their future home with Mrs. Hardee's husband Mr. Frank Hardee. We are glad to welcome this esteemed family into our thriving town.

Rev. J. T. Nelson, of Clanton Route 4, was in town last Saturday. Brother Nelson is now 90 years old, and has been a Baptist Minister for 50; served his Southland through the Civil War; made a crop this year and bids fair to pass the century mark.

Rev. J. D. Deason, of Maplesville was here Monday looking after business affairs.

Our good friend, H. E. Smith, of Wilsonville, has been in Clanton this week hustling around.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Giles, of Clanton Route 2, were in town Monday shopping.

Hon. Loyd Tate, has been in Clanton this week attending the special session of Circuit Court.

Mr. W. J. Gray, of Mt. Creek, is here this week doing jury duty.

Miss Mildred Ford, one of the popular teachers at the County High School, went up to the Magic City and spent Saturday and Sunday with friends and relatives.

The 1st Sunday in February the Methodist Sunday School had 164 in attendance; the second Sunday 182 and the 3rd Sunday 183. The reports are that quite a large per cent of them are church members. Last Sunday they had 37 men in the Bible Class.

Mr. F. A. Gulledge, one of Chilton's eminently successful business men, was in Clanton Monday.

H B OLIVER WRITES

Editor Chilton County News:—

Some controversy has been carried through the County Papers recently in regard to the actions of the county Registrars and other things.

There is not one person who can thruthfully say that I have been unfair or shown partiality to any one from the time I begun in October 1920, to this day. We made mistakes, no doubt. They are made daily in all departments of the Government.

The Registrtion law that was adopted by the Constitution, which was opposed by the leaders of the Republican party, enables all WHITE PEOPLE, without regard to station in life, to REGISTER. These laws have been changed from time to time to meet changed conditions. They are not perfect, but ALL WHITE PEOPLE of proper age can REGISTER, and if they voluntarily pay the POLL Tax, which goes to school fund, they can vote.

Compare this law with the one that the Republican party would have made in 1901, in line with their past record in the State of Alabama.

Grant that Judge Deason was a financial failure, for the sake of argument. Sometimes we hear of an honest failure in business affairs. Do we find people going out of their way to criticise these unfortunates?

But I deny that Judge Deason's Administration was a failure. When he suggested the sale of Bonds, the practical thing to do, he was denied any encouragement from the leaders of the opposite party. Note the difference after he left office.

Again, it has been said that the roads built while Judge Deason was in office are not worth much. Any one familiar with the old and new roads know facts do not bear out that statement.

And too, the roads were built for much less than they could be built today. There are many people in this county who believe that if the funds spent for upkeep had been properly used, the roads now would be in good condition and not impassable, as in many places.

Yours truly,
H. B. OLIVER.

Dr. Gragg Thanks Ladies

Clanton, Ala. Feb. 22, 1922.

To the Editor:—

I would like to ask a short space in your paper to officially express the thanks of the Central Alabama Hospital to the ladies of Clanton, including both the committees and the many givers who participated in the linen shower for the hospital on the 17th Inst.

It was certainly a pleasant surprise to see the great number of donations and to know that they are still coming in as they are. Another thing that we would like to mention is that none of them were trifling gifts. They were all useful gifts and things of value, ranging all the way from table napkins and towels to expensive blankets and bedspreads. The great number of valuable gifts were far in excess of any reasonable expectation.

For all this the thanks of the hospital management is beyond that of words to express.

Respectfully,
V. J. GRAGG, President.

PLEASANT GROVE SINGING

Mr. W. J. Morris will sing at Pleasant Grove on the First Sunday of March in the old books, beginning at 9 o'clock and closing at preaching time, which is eleven. Everybody invited to come and bring their old books.

Mr. J. W. Thorton of Coopers was in Clanton Monday.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY.................................Editor
J. L. JOHNSON,................................Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

The farmers, as a rule, seem less interested in the crop for this year than we have ever noticed them being befor.

Bonus, or no bonus? That's the question that has got the republican Congress jammed in between "the devil and the deep, blue sea."

Big Business is at the steering wheel of the Republican macbine as usual, but the common people are making the road awful rough for travelling now.

The axe murderers have invaded Montgomery. These hellish attacks on innocent people make the Dyer anti-lynching bill look even more damnable.

Father may be a fossil and mother a back number but 999,999 times out of a million if you will take their advice you will save yourself from trouble, disgrace and jail.

Camourflage has become such a hobby since the war that even when you go out to hear a sermon you come away undecided whether the preacher was really trying to preach the gospel or only attempting to make you believe he was, when truly his object was to skin you for a few bucks.

Here's hoping the farmers organize from mountain to seaboard and from ocean to ocean and go into politics with both sleeves rolled up. The "wool hat gang" don't go in strong for style and cheap diplomacy, but they stack up a mile high in good hard common sense and that is an element the politics of this country are woefully short on right now.

Gov. Kilby has come out in a strong indorsement of the Ford bid, with a few amendments, and is equally as strong against the bid of the Alabama Power Company. This matter of disposing of Muscle Shoals is bringing out more pep than an average presidential election. Ford has, at least, put Muscle Shoals on the map whether he ever operates it or not.

The present Congress, at this late day, is staging a bid for the soldier vote by the cry that the Republicans will pass a Soldier's Bonus Bill. They have been an awful long time about it and the impending fall elections is the only thing that has got them busy now. You can write all they have ever done for the soldier boys on the back of a postage stamp.

If, as seems probable, the Ford offer is turned down by Congress, it looks like the proposition of the Alabama Power Company would be the next best bet for the farmer. They propose to furnish 100,000 horse power free to the government, or any agent they may select, to operate the nitrate plant for fertilizer purposes. That should enable somebody to make some mighty cheap nitrate.

The colored race have their own particular place in the South and an overwhelming majority of them are absolutely satisfied with it and are the happiest and most contented people on earth. They are entitled to and they are given, full recognition and a fair deal, in the labor world, in business and in the courts so long as they peacesully remain in that place. When ever one of them allows northern Republican politicians to fill his head full of a lot of unrihteous, impracticable and impossible ideas, he becomes a misfit in the South and should emigrate at once to that haven up north, from which so many thousands have written back in recent years, to their former employer in the South, for money to "come back HOME."

We notice that mothers these days who are deluded into the belief that they have a real respectable son, pray more fervently for him to be delivered from the wiles of the female flapper than from any other temptation.

The Constitution a "Scrap of Paper."

Evey time the United States government dips into the govermental affairs of a state a grave mistake has been made. Not only that, but the Constitution of the United States has been flagrantly violated.

Every Federal law enforcement officer working today under the Volstead act is violating the constitutional law of the land. Neither a state legislature nor the Congress of the United States has the legal authority to override a single clause of the constitutional law of the State or nation without the authority of a majority vote of the people concerned.

This usurped authority by legislative bodies has produced more friction, more wrangling, more trouble and more dissatisfaction in the last few years than any other one thing. It is the most detestable evil that has ever fastened itself upon our form of government, and is one that must be thottled at once and kicked entirely out of the country if we ever expect to move forwad in peace, prosperity and harmony to the higher ideals to which our great country is entitled.

All legislative servants must be rudely awakened from their blissful dream of unfettered power and brought back to a full and fearful realization of the fact that there is a higher law than they have power to formulate and a limit to their assumption of an authority that was never dreamed of by the founders of a government by and for the people. The trend of such a state of affairs is away from freedom and directly towards autocracy.

They are making our country the gibe of nations, are a disgrace to their high calling and a curse to their constituency.

Thos. A. Curry for Circuit Solicitor.

According to all the rules of the game Chilton County should furnish the next Solicitor for this Judicial Circuit. We have done more than a child's part in helping the other fellow in the past and now we are looking for our share.

Our county has presented as a candidate for that position one of the widest known and most prominent criminal lawyers of Central Alabama—a man amply qualified to fill the position with credit to himself and honor to the Circuit—a man who is not only capable but will consider it his duty to look after the State's interests with justice and fairness but without fear or favor.

We refer to Hon. Thos. A. Curry, of Clanton, Ala.

Our man is a Democrat whose faith has never faltered, and the Democrats of Chilton County will stand behind him with unswerving loyalty. As former State Senator and as a prominent candidate at one time for lieutenant governor, he made many friends and we invite these friends now to aid us in landing for him this place.

OUR HAT IS OFF

Last week Col. J. B. Atkinson, who is at the head of the city street department, as chairman of the street committee of the City Council, turned his force loose for a day or so on a clean up campaign down town.

They invaded the back lots and unused allies, where the filth of ages seemed to have accumulated, and when they finished up a section it looked so nice and clean one almost wanted to stop and pull a game of marbles on the ground.

So far as they have gone their work is perfect and Councilman Atkinson is wearing a perennial smile on account of the praise that has been bestowed on him, and the other "dads" for this most excellent work.

The appearance has not only been improved a 1,000 per cent, but no one can estimate the amount and value of the sanitation accomplished.

There are some areas not yet cleaned up and we hope the Council can see their way to having the entire down town district made to look like that already attended to before they quit.

THE WAY THEY GO

"Nine men out of ten make a failure in life and die in poverty who enter upon a public career, while the tenth usually gets by", says a United States Senator, in an address to professional students in an eastern university the other day. This man spoke of the profession of politics.

He didn't mean the man who runs at times, when the runnings seem good but he meant the man who chooses politics as a career.

The successful politician doesn't remain so. There comes a time in his life, when he must listen to the cheers of the crowd for the other man, and he must follow the crowd that follows the popular leader. This he can't do, and he becomes a grouch, and his mind reverts to the good old days which are gone for him forever.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Ex Parte Petition of Lola Belle Davenport and Lois Delene Davenport, minors, suing by their next friend, Mrs. Lelia Davenport Vinson. Petitioners, in Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, in Equity.

By virtue of a decree rendered on February 8th Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described real estate—to wit:

All saw mill timber, measuring ten (10) inches and over in diameter eighteen (18) inches above the ground on the following described land, lying and being in Chilton County, Alabama, to-Wit:

North half of the Southwest ¼ Northwest ¼ of the Southeast ¼. Southeast ¼ of the Northwest ¼. Southwest ¼ of the Southwest ¼, Southeast ¼ of the Southwest ¼, all in section Twenty (20), and west half of Northeast ¼, Section Twenty-nine (29), all in Township Twenty two (22) Range Thirteen (13) with the right to cut and remove said timber from said land for a period of Three years, with right of way over and across said land for the purpose of removing said timber from said land, together with a Mill Site or Sites on any part of said land not in cultivation for the purpose of erecting and maintaining a Saw Mill to manufacture said timber into lumber during a period of Three years, to satisfy said decree.

This the 9th day of February, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

2-16-3t.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic
destroys the malarial germs which are transmitted to the blood by the Malaria Mosquito. Price 60c

The idol of the hour of one decade is not consulted by the leaders of the next decade, unless he is a rare genius.

So few people know when to quit, so few know when the people want another man for their place.

Here in Alabama we have few men who quit the game when their sun shows the brightest. They kept going back to the people for endorsement till the people failed them.

Start back with Gen. Oates, a man most of the older people of this generation know, and come on down to the present political leaders. They all met their disappointment if they lived the life of a politician.—Dothan Eagle.

Car Load of Mules.

I have just received a car load of assorted Mules and can fit you out with any kind you want to suit any kind of work. Call and see me at the New Sales Stables, near overhead railroad bridge.

D. Y. JOHNSON.

FOR SALE 80 acres of land on Lock 12 highway 6 miles from Clanton, will sell or trade for pracitally new Ford Touring Car. Write or see W. J. Bice Rt. 6 Clanton, Alabama. 3times

SALESMAN WANTED to solicit orders for lubricating oils, greases and paints. Salary or Commission. Address THE HARVEY OIL CO. Cleveland Ohio.

The Old Reliable

I am back on the job again, ready and anxious to do all your Shoe Repairing at pre-war figures.

Find me in rear of the Smith and Downs wholesale store in the Taylor Mill building.

N. B. EROWN.

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

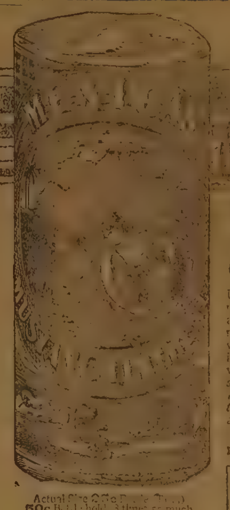
G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.



Penetrates to the bone!

That's Why It Soothes and Promptly Conquers Pain

Unlike other liniments, Mustang is made of healing oils—no alcohol, acids or pepper used. Mustang never burns or smarts, not even when applied to open wounds. Pain is relieved quickly by Mustang, which thoroughly permeates the system and hastens healing. Over 73 years' success guarantees Mustang as best for MAN, LIVESTOCK and POULTRY.

Sold by
DRUG and GENERAL STORES

Actual Size 25c [illegible]
50c Bottle holds 3 times as much
$1.00 Bottle holds 8 times as much as 25c size

FREE WITH 25c TRIAL BOTTLE [illegible] "PUT and TAKE" [illegible] the latest craze. Get [illegible] 25 cents stamps or coin for [illegible] Mustang Liniment and [illegible] absolutely free. Lyon Mfg. Co., [illegible] Fifth St., Brooklyn N. Y.

MUSTANG
"The Good Old Standby Since 1848"
LINIMENT

LYON MANUFACTURING CO., Proprietors, 41-43-45 South Fifth St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Watch Out!

Something is going to happen. Prices are going to jar the bottom out.

Say! Did you know we were paying the highest market price for Chickens and Eggs and all kinds of Country Produce.

F. M. Connell

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabama. Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

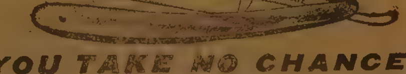
We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be duplicated. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps,Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is up to the minute in style and back below pre war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to get the best and pay the leabe come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile



YOU TAKE NO CHANCES

Shumate Written Guarantee With Each Razor

For Sale by

Alred Drug Co.

CLANTON, ALABAMA

ADVERTISING FACTS

Los Angeles Examiner.

Superiority of newspaper advertising over all other forms was emphasized by Thomas L. Emory, addressing the Advertising club in San Francisco last week. Definite proof of the newspapers lead in bringing together buyer and seller has been obtained times without number.

Highlights on the address to the advertising men are well worth remembering as telling the story in a few words:

News a r reading is universal, therefore newspaper advertising reaches the entire buying public

Selling costs are cut by newspaper advertising because there is no waste in locality of circulation.

Thorough and economical distribution is insured, because dealers are anxious to handle products properly advertised.

Alert business men know advertising values by experience. Considered from another viewpoint there is still further proof in the commercial agency statistics, which show that of the firms that fail, something like four-fifths are non-advertisers.

ANOTHER THIRD PARTY

From the Age-Herald.

The rumor of a split in the republican party is received with cheerful equanimity by democrats. They see in the possible formation of another Bull Moose party an opportunity to regain their lost power. According to Washington gossip, if they think approaching congressional elections show enough dissatisfaction with the Harding administration to justify such a step a new party will be formed by progressive republicans in the United States Senate. Senator Kenyon of Iowa, recently kicked upstairs by presidential appointment, presumably for the purpose of crippling the agrarian bloc is mentioned as the third party's nominee for President.

The Age-Herald's Washington correspondent says that the progressive republicans feel sure a new organization along Bull Moose lines would survive longer than its predecessor.

They count on drawing support from both the republican and democratic parties.

Possibly nothing will come of the movement, but before these adventurous statesmen break loose from the party of great moral ideas they might well recall the experiences of Theodore Roosevelt, an infinitely more resourceful politician with a far greater following than any of the latterday progressives.

This country seems wedded to the two-party idea, but so far as the democrats are concerned they would be delighted to see Kenyon, Borah and other disgruntled republicans go over, bag and baggage to a new camp.

A GROGGY CONGRESS

From the New York Herald.

Washington is giving us the spectacle of a groggy Congress. A week ago Congress had everything rigged for tobogganing through the soldier bonus to the tune of "Let the People Pay." A week ago Congress had everything rigged for a five billion dollar loot of the treasury—five thousand millions of dollars. A week ago Congress had everything rigged to cinch the bonus vote for this fall's elections.

But something has happened. The nation is aroused and in bitter protest has bombarded Congress it has never been bombarded before. Counting on a patient, supine public Congress went ahead and committed itself to the bonus propagandists without knowing where or how it could get the money to pay the bonus. And the bonus propagandists committed themselves to vote right in the fall elections.

Now Congress finds itself in a tight place with an aroused public on the one hand ranged against the bonus bill, and the bonus propogandists on the other hand demanding that Congress keep its word.

If Congress doesn't deliver the goods to the bonus propagandists it sees itself losing the bonus vote in the elections this fall. If it does deliver the goods to the bonus propagandists it sees itself buried by a public avalanche. This is what has made for a groggy Congress, so groggy that it can't see straight.

It is a good rule in business and should be a good rule in politics when one finds he is in wrong to get out before he wrecks himself, and get back on right lines. This is what the present Congress should do. It is its only chance to continue itself in statesmanship.

TOO "NICE" TO VOTE

From Montgomery Advertiser.

"It seems difficult to induce more than 50 per cent of the voters to vote," remarks the observant Selma Times-Journal. The other 50 per cent would have you understand they are too nice to vote. They long since lost confidence in politics. They don't want to expose themselves to contamination by participating in anything so "corrupt" as politics.

This 50 per cent affect the air of the snob and the Puritan, but the truth is they are just naturally indifferent to governmental questions and personalities. They have no taste for public affairs. In the language of the great Dempsey they will be "Johnny at the rat-hole" when they think something goes wrong in government. They are there with the bowl and the grumble, but they are not there with the vote, nor do they keep themselves reasonably well informed about questions and personalities. They disfranchise themselves, but they would fight anybody else who proposed their disfranchisement.

A NEEDED TEXT BOOK

From Montgomery Advertiser.

The National Security League would have the study of the Federal Constitution made compulsory in the schools of each State. We are not prepared at the moment to say that the study of this document should be compulsory in the public schools. But it would be profitable to speculate in your mind on what might have been the effect upon political thinking and political conduct for the past 100 years if every child had been made reasonably familiar with the text and spirit of the Constitution. We might have escaped much injustice and much of the consequences of class government, and we might today be more passionately and intelligently devoted to liberty. Most of our political wrongs are but the fruit of outrages upon the letter or the spirit of the Constitution

The average person is more familiar with the Declaration of Independence than the Constitution. The reason is that the Declaration is a more dramatic and sensational document. But the Constitution is by no means dull literature, and when read understandingly is capable of imparting thrills to the student. It can inspire in him a fighting love for the institution of his country.

THE LATEST IN PHONES

Chicago Herald and Examiner.

A device has been invented and tested which, when attached to the present telephone, assures secrecy of communication and security from interruption

More than it enables one line to carry a number of conversations simultaneously without interference. No longer would your temperature be excited by the exasperating reply; "The line is busy."

The new device is called the "super phone." It will never be popular in the country, where Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Brown count that day lost whose low descending sun finds their curiosity unsatisfied because they had been unable to "listen in" on Mrs Jones.

Its popularity in the city will depend on a factor as yet hoped for rather than realized—the super girl at the rural.

HURRY HIM ALONG

W. A. White in Judge.

This is the season of the year when democrats all over the country begin celebrating Andrew Jackson. They begin early in January celebrating Jackson Day, the battle of New Orleans, and intermittent Jacksonian outbursts may be expected from now until March 15 old Andy's birthday.

He was the first great unwashed democratic President, and it has been 84 years since he made his exit from the White House, in a blaze of fireworks. In all these years he has remained the symbol of the great unwashed. Jefferson was from the cloister.

His democracy was a faint squeaking, a small "d" democracy echoing the French academcians. But Jackson's democracy was with a large "d" for Damn.

Some day we shall have in the White House the Jackson equivalent of old "Andy". In his blood coursed the Bryanesque naivety and the Rooseveltian virility. He may have had even a jigger of the blood of the old booted and bewhiskered populists.

And in due time he will come again—the modern Jackson. What consternation will roll from the capitol back to the treasury building and go flapping and surging over to the monuments of Washington and Lincoln when this modern Jackson comes to town! Observe him getting out of the car ricing back from the capitol after dumping let us say, ex-President Hughes, after his eightyear term.

See him sailing into the White House and issuing general order number one "On and after this date all newspapers carrying stock market quotations and accounts of fictitious sales of stocks and bonds will be denied the second-class privileges of the post office department!" Bang! will go the blue sky over Wall street.

THE LEXICON OF A BOY

From Judge.

Enough—Three helpings of everything on the table, with the privilege of more Work—That which you are told to do when the gang is outside waiting.

Play—Important business which school is forever interrupting.

Schoolroom—A place where you are expected to sit still and behave at the same time.

Measles—Luck.

Sweetheart—The only person of your acquaintance to whom you would be willing to give more than the core of an apple.

Grown-ups—People who can stay up as long as they like.

Dog—A friend who understands.

Dirt—Something grown-ups are always claiming to notice on your face and hands.

Tonsils—Things you would like to take out of the doctor who took them out of you.

Mother—The place to go when you're hurt

AUTOMOBILE WAR

Montgomery Advertiser.

Henry Ford, according to Arthur Brisbane, is piling up money so fast that he is constantly looking for ways to spend it. An intimate friend of Ford's told Brisbane that Henry Ford now had one hundred and forty million dollars in cash, and that he is thinking of buying at least two other automobile companies, as one means of using his vast store of ready cash.

In the automobile Ford is called "The Lone Wolf." He walks alone and choses his own path. He is not afraid to fight the rest of the pack.

Ford opened up a new automobile war through his purchase of the Lincoln Motor Company. The Lincoln is a high-priced car, Ford fired the opening gun of the war by reducing the price of the Lincoln car by from $800 to $1,200 He has also cut the price of tractors and this is regarded as a declaration of war by the companies making tractors.

The General Motors Company, one of the largest elements of the automobile trade, must necessarily fight back in selfdefense, and it has begun to fight back. Some of the best informed men in the automobile business believe that the present will be the bitterest and costliest fighting that the trade has ever known.

Henry Ford, with the biggest single automobile business in the country, with a new company and an automobile war on his hands, certainly has enough to keep him busy. Perhaps that is why the question is being asked, "Does Ford really want Muscle Shoals?" That question arose out of his curt message to Congress over his offer for Muscle Shoals. "I will not make any change in the offer, or permit any to be made. Take it or leave it."

This is a rather arbitrary way with which to handle one end of a business proposition, under which the Government, according to Mr. Ford's own figures, must spend $30,000,000 to complete and which involves in the aggregate an expenditure of $116,000,000 by the Government. Then Ford has declined to go before the committee; he is too busy in Detroit, he says. This is not the ordinary way a man pushes a big business deal in which he is deeply interested.

"I don't see what on earth Henry wants with Muscle Shoals. I hope he doesn't get it. He has all in the world he can do now," said Mrs. Henry Ford, rather plaintively when the Ford party visited Muscle Shoals in December. If Mrs. Ford has remained of the same mind, and if after the fashion of wives, she brings a contested question up tactfully yet repeatedly, she is bound to influence her husband. Perhaps she has already done so.

EVIL AND ONLY EVIL

From Age-Herald.

Reports from Washington indicate that the Dyer anti-lynching bill will never become a law. Democrats would oppose it to a man, and they would have plenty of support among republicans who realize that it would do far more harm than good.

It is unfortunate that such a bill was introduced, and by a member of Congress who is suspected of trying to appeal to his colored constituency by a pernicious piece of legislation which would be unconstitutional in the first place and could never be enforced. The Dyer bill has revived sectional bitterness and created resentment in the south. It has also intensified the race question, which was being solved in the only way it can be solved—by promoting a better understanding between the races and educating public sentiment to oppose all forms of lawlessness.

Every worth-while citizen of this country, whether he resides in the north, the east, the south or the west, abhors lynching. Nearly every fair-minded student of the question admits that it is the task of the states and not of the federal government to eradicate this form of violence, which is by no means confined to the south.

The fact that the Dyer bill is designed to curry favor with negro voters of the north makes it all the more offensive to the southern people.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

Subscribe for The Chilton County News. $1.00 per year.

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your house keeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change. Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don't forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in quantities to meet all demands. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicken is hungry there is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt-Edge.

Sewing Machines

is my Middle Name, Come in and let me fit you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins

We Do Job Printing .

New City Garage

Just opened up. In the Honeycut & Thompson shop building.

All kinds of repair work done in First Class style and at short notice. New prices on work cut donw to suit the times. Come and see.

MaddOx & Williams

Farmers Save Money

By buying your Cotton Seed Meal Fertilizer early as the price is advancing most every day. We have just received a lot of High Grade Meal and bought it at the right price. We will give you the advantage of the raise by buying now. Try a sack of our high grade ELECT FLOUR.

Clanton Mill & Gin Co.

J. A. MADDOX, Manager.

Listen!

Save Money!

Just received a brand new lot of Ladie's and Misses OXFORDS at pre-war prices, ranging from $2.75 to $1.50. Same shoes sold just one year ago at from $5.00 to $7.50.

Remember

We carry staple Dry Goods, Men's Suits, Hats, Caps, Shoes and Staple Groceries. See us before you buy.

Hugh Jones' Cash Store

A. N. Miner W. J. Easterling

Miner & Easterling

Meat Market and Grocery Store

We wish to announce to the people who trade in Clanton that we have opened up our new Meat Market and Grocery Store in the building formerly occupied by G. C. Armstrong, and are prepared to sell you anything you may want in the way of Fresh Meats, Vegetables, Groceries and anything you want to eat.

Our service shall be the very best in town. Our policy will be to furnish our customers what they want when they want it.

We have a telephone in our store and will make a specialty of attending to any and all orders given us, making a delivery in the quickest possible time.

Your Trade Will Be Appreciated

Miner & Easterling

Clanton, Alabama.

Let Us Do Your Work

MARRIED

Mr. Grady Lodge, of Birmingham, and Miss Mattie Lou Kelly, of Clanton, were happily married last Saturday at the Court House here, Rev. A. O. Wells officiating.

PLEASANT GROVE

Dear Editor:-

Will you please allow me space in your valuable paper to say a few words about this part of the county.

Our singing society met Sunday afternoon and did some good singing, which seemed to be enjoyed by all. We had several visitors from Pates Chapel, whom we were all pleased to see. We are glad to have help from other communities, as we think it is so nice to co-operate together in this good work. Singing praises to God. We give the people from Pates Chapel a hearty welcome and want them to come again.

Our singing society meets every 1st and 3rd Sunday afternoons. We invite all singers and lovers of music to come and be with us.

Mr. I. B. Edwards and family visited Mr. S. M. Edwards and wife Sunday.

Rev. Honeycutt from Jemison visited Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gibson Saturday night.

Miss Verna Wright, who is teaching school at Collins Chapel, spent Saturday night and Sunday with home folks.

Mr. Allen Waldrop visited his sister, Mrs. James Franklin, Jr., Sunday night.

Mr. Monroe Franklin visited his cousin, Mr. Relious Franklin at Thorsby Saturday night.

Miss Virgie Deason dined with her friend, Miss Eldredge Wright Sunday.

Mr. Henry and Howard Hatcher and two of their friends visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Franklin spent Saturday night with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin.

Miss Fannie Pate visited her friend, Miss Coatine Maddox Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Childress dined with Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Dawson Sunday.

Miss Nettie Hodgens had as her guest Sunday, Mr. Isaac Waldrop.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Childress visited Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin Saturday night.

I think times must be picking up around Pleasant Grove now. We see that Miss Grace and Hollis Wells were at Sunday School and singing Sunday.

FRIENDSHIP BAPTIST CHURCH

If the weather is good, there will be "big doings" at Friendship Baptist Church Sunday. Prof W. O. Rich, Chairman of the Friendship Singing Society, promises to have the best singing in the afternoon that we have ever had at this church—and that is promising a lot. He says that he has the promise of some of the best singers of the county to be here next Sunday afternoon, including Profs. A. A. Beaird, W. M. Devaughn, O. L. Devaughn, and several other noted singers. The Singing Societies at Refuge, Liberty Hill, Poplar Springs, Maple Springs, and Providence are especially invited to come as a whole, if possible. Singing will begin at 2:00, p. m.

Sunday School will begin promptly at 10:00 o'clock, and preaching at 11:00. Rev. E. A. Norris of Verbena will preach at both the morning and evening services. The evening service will begin at 7:00, p. m.

All singers are invited to come Sunday, not only to the singing in the afternoon, but also to the morning services. Come and spend the day with us. We will do our best to make you enjoy it.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Circuit Court.—In Equity.

State of Alabama Complainant vs. J. F. Pool Defendant.

By virtue of a decree rendered on the 13th day of February Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described property to wit:

One Five Passenger Ford Automobile. 1919 Model, to satisfy said decree.

This 20th day of February, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER.

2-23-3t. Register.

MULES FOR SALE

I have for sale at my home in Clanton, Ala., 8 good mules that I used on my farm on the river. Ages from 4 to 10 years old, also 7 mule colts age two and one half to three years old

2 16-2tp B. F. HIGGINS.

CLANTON GROUP FOR READING CIRCLE MARCH 11, 1922

Devotional Service.

Discussion of the class room teacher.

Chapter IX—Miss Cora Massey.
Chapter X—Mr. Blanco Durbin.
Chapter XI—Miss Mildred Ford.
Chapter XII—Mr. Luther Little.
Chapter XIII—Mr. Euell Robinson.
Chapter XIV—Miss Nina Hall.
Chapter XV—Miss Catherine Bauder.
Chapter XVI—Miss Mary Stewart.

Home made services for teaching different subjects, Miss Lena Franklin, Mr. Leon Mullins, Mr. Johnie Plier, Miss Martha Jane Mims, Mr. H. L. Davis.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Circuit Court.—In Equity.

Esther Duncan Racine and Gordon Mooney, Minors, who sue by their next friend Sallie S. Duncan Complainent, vs. J. E. Gowan Defendant.

By virtue of a decree rendered on the 8th day of February Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described real estate—to wit:

Lots Five (5), Six (6), Eleven (11), Twelve (12), and the north thirty (30) feet of Lots Thirteen (13) and of Lot Fourteen (14) in Block Thirty (30), formerly Twenty-two (22), East of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, as shown by the official map of the Town of Clanton, recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama. Sold for division among the joint owners thereof. All of said land being in Chilton County, Alabama, to satisfy said decree.

This February 10th, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

2-16-3t.

MORTAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power therein contained executed T. C. McSwain by Isaac Kendrick and his wife Maggie Kendrick on the 25th day of October, 1919, and recorded in Mortgage Book No. 176, on page 128 in the office of the Probate Judge of Chilton County, Alabama, the undersigned T. C. McSwain, will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash on the seventh (7) day of March, 1922, at the Court House door, in the Town of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, at Twelve (12) o'clock noon, the following described property, consisting of real estate, lying and being situated in Chilton County, Alabama:

One lot, beginning at the Northeast corner of Section 27, Township 21, Range 15, in the town of Cooper, Alabama, Chilton County, running thence west 55 yards, thence southeast 185 yards to Poplar Street, fronting and running thence east on said Poplar Street 55 yards, thence in a Northwesterly direction to the point of beginning, lying and being in Sections 26 and 27, Township 21, Range 15.

Default has been made in the payment of the debt which is secured by the above mentioned mortgage and this sale is made for the purpose of foreclosing the mortgage and paying the debt and all cost and expenses of foreclosure, including a reasonable attorney's fee, which is provided for in said mortgage.

T. C. McSWAIN, Mortgagee.

G. C. Walker, Attorney. 2-16-3t.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the state the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

McDonald's Variety Store

BIRTHPLACE OF CUT PRICES

Come to see us. Shoes, Dry Goods, Staple and Fancy Groceries

McDonald's Variety Store

VERBENA, ALABAMA.

Railroad Avenue—East of the Postoffice

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

The New York Store

See the NEW YORK STORE before buying your Winter Needs. Our Stock is complete! Remember, our goods MUST be satisfactory to our customers.

The New York Store

Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, FEBRUARY 23, 1922 NUMBER 2

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Mrs. M. L. White Hostess.

The Round Dozen Sewing Club held its regular meeting at the residence of Mrs. M. L. White on last Wednesday afternoon. After conversation and finger work were indulged in the hostess served a salad plate. The visitors to the Club were Mesdames Nix, and Ross.

Wednesday Card Club.

Mrs. Guy Higgins was hostess to the Wednesday Card Club on Thursday afternoon. After several very interesting games it was found that Mrs. V. J. Heard held the highest score and was presented with the club prize, a set of dainty tea napkins. After which the hostess served delicious refreshments to the following ladies, Mesdames, Hugh Jones, Arthur Johnson, Eric Hart, Hosea Downs, Carrie Mullins, V. J. Heard, John VanDerveer and Kyle of Decatur.

Mrs. Hugh Jones Hostess.

On Monday morning Mrs. Hugh Jones entertained the Wednesday Card Club from nine until 11:30. The apartments were never more beautiful than on this occasion. The color scheme being yellow. Baskets of Jonquils and ferns, tied with yellow ribbon were placed throughout the apartment. After several interesting games it was found that Mrs. Tesh held the highest score, and was presented with a lovely towel, and Mrs Kyle, the guest prize, with a beautiful pair of silk hose. After which the hostess served a salad plate with chocolate and angel food cake to the following ladies, Mesdames V. J. Heard, John VanDerveer, Guy Higgins, Carie Mullins, Hosea Downs, Arthur Johnson, Eric Hart, Tesh, of Denver Colorado, and Kyle of Decatur.

Mrs. Upchurch Hostess.

On Wednesday at the residence of Mrs. Upchurch was the scene of quite a gathering of a few friends in honor of Mrs. W. W. Monroe. A five course luncheon was served to the following ladies, Mesdames W I. Mullins Hugh Foshee, Hinkle, Guy Higgins Watts Moore, White, Hayes and Ross Mullins.

Birthday Party.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Corrine Polk was hostess to her many little friends at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Polk. This occasion was honoring her ninth birthday. The table was made beautiful with crepe paper from the chandelier to the four corners of the table and the center being the beautiful birthday cake. Mrs. Polk, assisted by Mrs. Matyon Gore, served the little belles and beaux ice cream and cake.

Missionary Society Meets.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held its regular business and social meeting at the residence of Mrs. T. C. McSwain on Monday afternoon The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. J. C. Jones, who read the scripture from Mark, and prayer by Mrs. David Pearson. Then the following program was carried out. Subject Havana Cuba, Mesdames Barney Roberts, R. C. McDavid, Eric Hart and Fox read interesting pieces on Havana. After all business the hostess served an ice course, assisted by Mesdames Macy Jones, Luckie and Hugh Simpson.

Mrs. W. W. Monroe of Fayette, Ala., is visiting Mrs. Upchurch this week.

Mrs Durwood Broadhead spent last week in Montgomery, guest of relatives

Mr. Henry Gilbert of Florida, spent a few days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wade.

Miss French Evans returned home Monday after spending a month in Birmingham with relatives

Mesdames Watts Moore and Upchurch returned home Saturday after spending a week in Dothan as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. P. I. Hopkins.

The ladies on the west side of the Railroad gave a linen shower for the Central Alabama Hospital last Friday under the leadership of Mrs. Mallie White and Mrs. P. T. Hinkle.

The shower was quite a success from every standpoint. Many useful pieces of linen such as will be needed in hospital work was donated to the cause. This shows the hearty co-operation that the Central Alabama Hospital will have from the very opening day.

Dr. T. J Marcus was present and in a few well chosen and appropriate remarks thanked the ladies for the gifts to the Hospital and also for the hearty support they had already given to the cause

LAMAR JEFFERS ON THE FORD BID

February 21, 1922.

Editor Chilton County News,
Clanton, Ala.

Dear Sir:—

I have recently received many letters, telegrams, petitions and resolutions from individuals and organizations urging me to do what I could to help crystallize sentiment in Congress in favor of the approval of the Ford offer for the great Muscle Shoals project.

These representations have come to me from points in Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Virginia, and other states. Resolutions have come from Chambers of Commerce, Rotary Clubs, Exchange Clubs, Kiwanis Clubs, American Legion Posts, Merchants Associations, Farm Loan Associations, Advertising Clubs, and all are strong for Ford.

My office is busy making copies of these communications, which copies will be placed in the hands of the members of the Committees now considering Mr. Ford's proposal. I am sure the people of our section want these committeemen to know what the sentiment is.

The reason why the people are so solid for Mr. Ford, as against any and all other possible bidders, may be summed up as follows:

1st. The people believe Henry Ford is the practical business man of the country today, who has the money, the brains, and the inclination to successfully operate the great Muscle Shoals project.

2nd. The people believe Henry Ford will pay a better and fairer wage to all his workers, of every classification, than would other interests. This would be not only better for the workers, but would mean more and better business for all business interests of the entire community.

3rd. The people have great faith and confidence in Henry Ford as a fair business man who will sell any output of the project to the consumer at a fairer price than some other interest might.

The people have a real interest in this great government project, and the will and desire of the people, which has been expressed so strongly and so unanimously, should certainly be weighed and considered in making disposition of this government institution in which the people have a rightful interest

After the Ford contract was taken up by the committee here, then eleventh hour bidders came in to muddy the waters, but the only result so far has been that the people have redoubled their eforts to impress Congress with the fact that they want Congress to "let Henry Ford have Muscle Shoals."

I shall continue my effort to help crystallize sentiment here in favor of the aproval of the contract with Henry Ford.

Yours very sincerely,
LAMAR JEFFERS.

We now have in stock in bulk, Garden Seeds, Beets, Tomatoes, English Peas, Butter Beans, Turnips, bush and pole Beans. Field seeds: Early Corn, Soy Beans, pearl Millet, Sudan and Bermuda Grass, Water Melon and Cantelope.

Alred Drug and Seed Co.

A special session of Circuit Court has been in session here this week. Judge B. K. McMorris presiding. Up to the present time the cases have been chiefly cases against the Mobile and Ohio Railroad.

J R PARNELL TELLS OF REGISTRATION

Thorsby, Ala., Feb. 20, 1922.

Editor:-

I notice in the Union-Banner, issue of February 16th, a reply to C. Reese Mullins from Judge L. H. Reynolds which deals largely with the action of the Registrars. He says much about how things ought to be run, and in many of these I agree with him. He undertakes to trail the Registrars over the County and tell the people what they did. He claims to write from "Information," and writes in such a way that it would seem to be facts in the case. If he has been misinformed in the matter, I want to give him the facts. The Judge undertakes to give the exact time and places the Registrars have gone wrong. He claims we registered Mrs. Durbin under a wagon shed and that there was a Republican woman in the house that we failed to register. The Registrars did not know this Republican woman was in the house and that she wanted to Register. The Judge nor any other Republican did not furnish us with the names of Republicans that wanted to register or was entitled to register.

On January 5th we went to Pletcher and was in session all day at that place. We left there late in the afternoon to go to Beat 8. We were to spend the night with W. Hamp Foshee reaching his place after dark. On our way from Beat 15 to Beat 8 we passed the home of D. M. Apperson, who lives in Beat 8. The Judge well knows that a person can not register except in their own beat or at the Court House. Sec. 8 of the Acts of October 1920, provides that no person shall be registered except at the Court House or in the precinct or ward in which he or she resides. Now then we were scheduled to register voters in Beat 15 that day and late that afternoon we passed into Beat 8 on our way to Mr. Foshee's. Mr. Apperson and his wife lives in Beat 8, therefore, we could not register Mrs. Apperson that day. The Judge also makes the statement that Mrs. Apperson was sick and could not go and register. Let us state that we saw Mrs. Apperson as we passed out at the cow pen feeding and milking her cows. She did not appear to be sick at that time. We passed by Mr. John Ramsey's after dark. There was no light there and we supposed they had retired. And besides we did not know there was anyone there to register. We could not have registered this party for the same reason as in the case of Mrs. Apperson.

We spent the night at Mr. Foshee's and the next morning went on to Riderville to fill our advertised appointment there. We spent the entire day at Riderville and did not go out any where. On our way to Riderville from Foshee's the next morning we did stop at Mrs. Houston's and register those entitled to register. This was the day we were scheduled to be in Beat 8. Now as to this being contrary to the law, I refer the Judge to Sec. 11 of the Acts of October 1920, which reads as follows: "The board of registrars shall have power to examine, under oath or affirmation all applicants for registration, and to take testimony touching the qualifications of such applicants. Each member of such board is authorized to administer the oath to be taken by the aplicants and witnesses, which shall be in the following form and subscribed by the person making it, and preserved by the board, namely: I solemnly swear that in the matter of the application of ——— for registration as elector, I will speak the truth, so help me God." The law does not require the applicant to come before the entire board at any particular place. The registrars, however, must be in the Beat in which the applicant resides and on the day they are scheduled to be in that Beat. All applicants that were taken in this way were brought before the board and a certificate issued only after a majority of board had approved it. We construe our action to be according to the law. Section 34 of the Acts of October 1920, provides that, "The board of registrars shall have the power and authority to make such rules and regulations as it deems proper for the receipt of applications for registration and the accomplishing in as expedient a manner as possible for the registration of those entitled to register, provided, however, no person shall be registered until a majority of the beard of registrars has passed favorably upon such person's qualification. We claim we have a right to make our own rules and regulations in so far as we do not go contrary to the law.

With reference to going to the Democratic beats first, I want to state that I planned the route entirely to suit the Registrars and not to suit the Democrats nor Republicans. If the route went to the Democratic beats first, I want to call the Judge's attention to the fact that he planned the route of Registrars in 1920 and that the Republican beats were served first. He has no kick coming there. Turn about is fair play.

Now in conclusion I want to emphatically state that we tried to do our duty as we saw it and to the best of our ability. I am sorry to see that we displeased the Judge in the registration of voters. The board registered Republicans and Democrats alike as they found them, and the failure of any one to become registered is due to their own fault.

J. R. PARNELL,
One of the Registrars.

C REESE MULLINS SAYS A WORD

Clanton, Ala., Feb 21, 1922.

Editor Chilton County News:—

May I have a small space in your paper this week to reply in a few words to L. H. Reynolds' article appearing in your last week's issue. I am sure you noticed his miserable failure to answer my questions and did not attempt to say why he and the Commissioners did not come to our rescue on the tax question. I do not care to enter further into a newspaper controversy, as it is not at all my idea of conducting a political campaign, and especially I can not afford to with a man that will not confine himself to facts borne out by the records of his own office. The Judge is mistaken when he says that when he turned over the Court House Keys to Judge Deason in 1910 that he left more than $10,000.00 in the County Treasury and the county out of debt. You know as well as many others, that he left the county busted, as there was at that time more outstanding warrants against the county than there was money in the Treasury to pay. Nothing having been paid off for several months. Old man Bill Mahan could tell you about this if he was living. The Judge thinks we all have forgotten what happened twelve years ago, and even six years ago, but he is badly mistaken and at the proper time his attention may be called to some other things that has been happening all along,

With best of feelings, and for the well fare of one and all, I am closing my newspaper controversy for the time being.

Respectfully,
C. REESE MULLINS.

Communicated.

Clanton, Ala. Feb. 20, 1922.

Editor Chilton County News,
Clanton, Ala.

My Dear Sir:-

I note with interest your mention of my name in last weeks issue of your paper, as being a suitable candidate for Probate Judge of this county. I appreciate very highly the nice things you had to say of me, and I also appreciate what you say that others have said to you in regard to me becoming a candidate. I think I realize what it means to get in this race and I want to say to the Democrats of this county that if we win we must wake up. Yes, I too have been approached by several people to become a candidate and get in the race, and if this encouragment keeps up I may decide to do so, but I will have to know who would be my associates for the other offices before I can fully decide. This is all to be adjusted yet, and you know we have plenty of time yet to announce. We already have one good man in the race. I may get in the race and I may not.

Yours most truly,
C. REESE MULLINS.

Buy Garden and Field Seeds in bulk at home and save money. Our prices are much less than the mail order houses and quality superior. Try ours just once and be convinced.

Alred Drug and Seed Co.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Mr. B. L. Davenport, of Thorsby is here this week serving on the jury.

Mr. J. R. Taylor, one of Cooper's good citizens, is here this week serving his county on the jury.

Mr. J. M. Nix, of the Macedonia community, is in Clanton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wilson, of Pletcher, have been in Clanton this week visiting relatives.

W. C. Dickerson, Jr., of Beat 15, was here yesterday looking after personal matters.

Mr. Amos Davis, of Sylacauga, was in Clanton last Friday.

Messrs H. B. Oliver, Charlie Gulledge, and Mr. Plott were in Clanton last Friday.

H. J. Foshee, of Maplesville, was in Clanton the latter part of last week. He reports everything in a hustling condition in the live little city of Maplesville.

Sam Crysell, of Jemison, was in Clanton last Friday looking after personal matters.

Rev. W. A. Goss, of Mt. Creek, was in town Monday. He reporas that the church at Samaria will have a home coming day sometime in the future.

The ladies of Clanton request that an Easter Shower be given of growing plants for the Central Alabama Hospital on Friday before Easter Sunday.

Miss Nora Thompson of Selma, was visiting Clanton friends and relatives last week.

Dr. and Mrs. V. J. Gragg went up to the Magic City the latter part of last week.

Mr. W. M. Wagoner, of Minneola, Texas, has been in Clanton several days visiting friends and relatives.

Walter Gillespie, Federal Prohibition Agent, was in Clanton one day last week.

Mr. J. C. Culp, of Clanton Route 7, was in here Saturday.

Mr. N. J. Bice of Route 6, was here Saturday.

Mr. M. B. Adams, of Clanton Route 1, was in town Saturday looking after business matters.

Prof. Ira Pegues, Principal of the Grammar School, was a visitor to Alabama's Metropolis last Saturday.

H. J. Gilbert, of Miama, Fla., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Wade last Saturday and Sunday.

Several have suggested that we have the Sunday evening in Clanton.

J. W. Teel, of Livingston, has been in Clanton this week visiting relatives and friends.

One of our most appreciated friends and helpers in the days of the Clanton Press, Mr. Newton Arledge, is in town this week visiting his mother and family and his many friends here. Newt has entirely reformed from the printers' trade now and is pounding a key for the Western Union people in Montgomery.

This would be a fine way to elevate our people, both old and young, and give us that social training that we need so badly.

Messrs George Fox and George Kemp, of Maplesville, are here this week serving on the jury.

Mrs. Ella Hardee, mother of our hustling picture show young men, Messrs Frank and Steve Hardee, and Mrs. Hettie Hardee, wife of Mr. Frank Hardee, and also her two children have come to Clanton to make their future home with Mrs. Hardee's husband Mr. Frank Hardee. We are glad to welcome this esteemed family into our thriving town.

Rev. J. T. Nelson, of Clanton Route 4, was in town last Saturday. Brother Nelson is now 90 years old, and has been a Baptist Minister for 50; served his Southland through the Civil War; made a crop this year and bids fair to pass the century mark.

Rev. J. D. Deason, of Maplesville was here Monday looking after business affairs.

Our good friend, H. E. Smith, of Wilsonville, has been in Clanton this week hustling around.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Giles, of Clanton Route 2, were in town Monday shopping.

Hon. Loyd Tate, has been in Clanton this week attending the special session of Circuit Court.

Mr. W. J. Gray, of Mt. Creek, is here this week doing jury duty.

Miss Mildred Ford, one of the popular teachers at the County High School, went up to the Magic City and spent Saturday and Sunday with friends and relatives.

The 1st Sunday in February the Methodist Sunday School had 164 in attendance; the second Sunday 182 and the 3rd Sunday 185. The reports are that quite a large per cent of them are church members. Last Sunday they had 37 men in the Bible Class.

Mr. F. A. Gulledge, one of Chilton's eminently successful business men, was in Clanton Monday.

H B OLIVER WRITES

Editor Chilton County News:—

Some controversy has been carried through the County Papers recently in regard to the actions of the county Registrars and other things.

There is not one person who can thruthfully say that I have been unfair or shown partiality to any one from the time I begun in October 1920, to this day. We made mistakes, no doubt. They are made daily in all departments of the Government.

The Registrtion law that was adopted by the Constitution, which was opposed by the leaders of the Republican party, enables all WHITE PEOPLE, without regard to station in life, to REGISTER. These laws have been changed from time to time to meet changed conditions. They are not perfect, but ALL WHITE PEOPLE of proper age can REGISTER, and if they voluntarily pay the POLL Tax, which goes to school fund, they can vote.

Compare this law with the one that the Republican party would have made in 1901, in line with their past record in the State of Alabama.

Grant that Judge Deason was a financial failure, for the sake of argument. Sometimes we hear of an honest failure in business affairs. Do we find people going out of their way to criticise these unfortunates?

But I deny that Judge Deason's Administration was a failure. When he suggested the sale of Bonds, the practical thing to do, he was denied any encouragement from the leaders of the opposite party. Note the difference after he left office.

Again, it has been said that the roads built while Judge Deason was in office are not worth much. Any one familiar with the old and new roads know facts do not bear out that statement.

And too, the roads were built for much less than they could be built today. There are many people in this county who believe that if the funds spent for upkeep had been properly used, the roads now would be in good condition and not impassable, as in many places.

Yours truly,
H. B. OLIVER.

Dr. Gragg Thanks Ladies

Clanton, Ala. Feb. 22, 1922.

To the Editor:—

I would like to ask a short space in your paper to officially express the thanks of the Central Alabama Hospital to the ladies of Clanton, including both the committees and the many givers who participated in the linen shower for the hospital on the 17th Inst.

It was certainly a pleasant surprise to see the great number of donations and to know that they are still coming in as they are. Another thing that we would like to mention is that none of them were trifling gifts. They were all useful gifts and things of value, ranging all the way from table napkins and towels to expensive blankets and bedspreads. The great number of valuable gifts were far in excess of any reasonable expectation.

For all this the thanks of the hospital management is beyond that of words to express.

Respectfully,
V. J. GRAGG, President.

PLEASANT GROVE SINGING

Mr. W. J. Morris will sing at Pleasant Grove on the First Sunday of March in the old books, beginning at 9 o'clock and closing at preaching time, which is eleven. Everybody invited to come and bring their old books.

Mr. J. W. Thorton of Coopers was in Clanton Monday.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY.......................Editor
J. L. JOHNSON,.....................Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

The farmers, as a rule, seem less interested in the crop for this year than we have ever noticed them being befor.

Bonus, or no bonus? That's the question that has got the republican Congress jammed in between "the devil and the deep, blue sea."

Big Business is at the steering wheel of the Republican macbine as usual, but the common people are making the road awful rough for travelling now.

The axe murderers have invaded Montgomery. These hellish attacks on innocent people make the Dyer anti-lynching bill look even more damnable.

Father may be a fossil and mother a back number but 999,999 times out of a million if you will take their advice you will save yourself from trouble, disgrace and jail.

Camourflage has become such a hobby since the war that even when you go out to hear a sermon you come away undecided whether the preacher was really trying to preach the gospel or only attempting to make you believe he was, when truly his object was to skin you for a few bucks.

Here's hoping the farmers organize from mountain to seaboard and from ocean to ocean and go into politics with both sleeves rolled up. The "wool hat gang" don't go in strong for style and cheap diplomacy, but they stack up a mile high in good hard common sense and that is an element the politics of this country are woefully short on right now.

Gov. Kilby has come out in a strong indorsement of the Ford bid, with a few amendments, and is equally as strong against the bid of the Alabama Power Company. This matter of disposing of Muscle Shoals is bringing out more pep than an average presidential election. Ford has, at least, put Muscle Shoals on the map whether he ever operates it or not.

The present Congress, at this late day, is staging a bid for the soldier vote by the cry that the Republicans will pass a Soldier's Bonus Bill. They have been an awful long time about it and the impending fall elections is the only thing that has got them busy now. You can write all they have ever done for the soldier boys on the back of a postage stamp.

If, as seems probable, the Ford offer is turned down by Congress, it looks like the proposition of the Alabama Power Company would be the next best bet for the farmer. They propose to furnish 100,000 horse power free to the government, or any agent they may select, to operate the nitrate plant for fertilizer purposes. That should enable somebody to make some mighty cheap nitrate.

The colored race have their own particular place in the South and an overwhelming majority of them are absolutely satisfied with it and are the happiest and most contented people on earth. They are entitled to and they are given, full recognition and a fair deal, in the labor world, in business and in the courts so long as they peacesully remain in that place. When ever one of them allows northern Republican politicians to fill his head full of a lot of unrihteous, impracticable and impossible ideas, he becomes a misfit in the South and should emigrate at once to that haven up north, from which so many thousands have written back in recent years, to their former employer in the South, for money to "come back HOME."

We notice that mothers these days who are deluded into the belief that they have a real respectable son, pray more fervently for him to be delivered from the wiles of the female flapper than from any other temptation.

The Constitution a "Scrap of Paper."

Evey time the United States government dips into the govermental affairs of a state a grave mistake has been made. Not only that, but the Constitution of the United States has been flagrantly violated.

Every Federal law enforcement officer working today under the Volstead act is violating the constitutional law of the land. Neither a state legislature nor the Congress of the United States has the legal authority to override a single clause of the constitutional law of the State or nation without the authority of a majority vote of the people concerned.

This usurped authority by legislative bodies has produced more friction, more wrangling, more trouble and more dissatisfaction in the last few years than any other one thing. It is the most detestable evil that has ever fastened itself upon our form of government, and is one that must be thottled at once and kicked entirely out of the country if we ever expect to move forwad in peace, prosperity and harmony to the higher ideals to which our great country is entitled.

All legislative servants must be rudely awakened from their blissful dream of unfettered power and brought back to a full and fearful realization of the fact that there is a higher law than they have power to formulate and a limit to their assumption of an authority that was never dreamed of by the founders of a government by and for the people. The trend of such a state of affairs is away from freedom and directly towards autocracy.

They are making our country the gibe of nations, are a disgrace to their high calling and a curse to their constituency.

Thos. A. Curry for Circuit Solicitor.

According to all the rules of the game Chilton County should furnish the next Solicitor for this Judicial Circuit. We have done more than a child's part in helping the other fellow in the past and now we are looking for our share.

Our county has presented as a candidate for that position one of the widest known and most prominent criminal lawyers of Central Alabama—a man amply qualified to fill the position with credit to himself and honor to the Circuit—a man who is not only capable but will consider it his duty to look after the State's interests with justice and fairness but without fear or favor.

We refer to Hon. Thos. A. Curry, of Clanton, Ala.

Our man is a Democrat whose faith has never faltered, and the Democrats of Chilton County will stand behind him with unswerving loyalty. As former State Senator and as a prominent candidate at one time for lieutenant governor, he made many friends and we invite these friends now to aid us in landing for him this place.

OUR HAT IS OFF

Last week Col. J. B. Atkinson, who is at the head of the city street department, as chairman of the street committee of the City Council, turned his force loose for a day or so on a clean up campaign down town.

They invaded the back lots and unused allies, where the filth of ages seemed to have accumulated, and when they finished up a section it looked so nice and clean one almost wanted to stop and pull a game of marbles on the ground.

So far as they have gone their work is perfect and Councilman Atkinson is wearing a perennial smile on account of the praise that has been bestowed on him, and the other "dads" for this most excellent work.

The appearance has not only been improved a 1,000 per cent, but no one can estimate the amount and value of the sanitation accomplished.

There are some areas not yet cleaned up and we hope the Council can see their way to having the entire down town district made to look like that already attended to before they quit.

THE WAY THEY GO

"Nine men out of ten make a failure in life and die in poverty who enter upon a public career, while the tenth usually gets by", says a United States Senator, in an address to professional students in an eastern university the other day. This man spoke of the profession of politics.

He didn't mean the man who runs at times, when the runnings seem good but he meant the man who chooses politics as a career.

The successful politician does'nt remain so. There comes a time in his life, when he must listen to the cheers of the crowd for the other man, and he must follow the crowd that follows the popular leader. This he can't do, and he becomes a grouch, and his mind reverts to the good old days which are gone for him forever.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Ex Parte Petition of Lola Belle Davenport and Lois Delene Davenport, minors, suing by their next friend, Mrs. Lelia Davenport Vinson, Petitioners, in Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, in Equity.

By virtue of a decree rendered on February 8th Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described real estate—to wit:

All saw mill timber, measuring ten (10) inches and over in diameter, eighteen (18) inches above the ground on the following described land, lying and being in Chilton County, Alabama, to-Wit:

North half of the Southwest ¼, Northwest ¼ of the Southeast ¼, Southeast ¼ of the Northwest ¼, Southwest ¼ of the Southwest ¼, Southeast ¼ of the Southwest ¼, all in section Twenty (20), and west half of Northeast ¼, Section Twenty-nine (29), all in Township Twenty-two (22) Range Thirteen (13) with the right to cut and remove said timber from said land for a period of Three years, with right of way over and across said land for the purpose of removing said timber from said land, together with a Mill Site or Sites on any part of said land not in cultivation for the purpose of erecting and maintaining a Saw Mill to manufacture said timber into lumber during a period of Three years, to satisfy said decree.

This the 9th day of February, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

2-16-3t.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic
destroys the malarial germs which are transmitted to the blood by the Malaria Mosquito. Price 60c

The idol of the hour of one decade is not consulted by the leaders of the next decade, unless he is a rare genius.

So few people know when to quit, so few know when the people want another man for their place.

Here in Alabama we have few men who quit the game when their sun shows the brightest. They kept going back to the people for endorsement till the people failed them.

Start back with Gen. Oates, a man most of the older people of this generation know, and come on down to the present political leaders. They all met their disappointment if they lived the life of a politician.—Dothan Eagle.

Car Load of Mules.

I have just received a car load of assorted Mules and can fit you out with any kind you want to suit any kind of work. Call and see me at the New Sales Stables, near overhead railroad bridge.

D. Y. JOHNSON.

FOR SALE—80 acres of land on Lock 12 highway 6 miles from Clanton, will sell or trade for pracitally new Ford Touring Car. Write or see W. J. Bice Rt. 6 Clanton, Alabama. 3times

SALESMAN WANTED to solicit orders for lubricating oils, greases and paints. Salary or Commission. Address THE HARVEY OIL CO. Cleveland Ohio.

The Old Reliable

I am back on the job again, ready and anxious to do all your Shoe Repairing at pre-war figures.

Find me in rear of the Smith and Downs wholesale store in the Taylor Mill building.

N. B. EROWN.

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
RD & COLLIER
orneys
John Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.

Penetrates to the bone

That's Why

Soothes and Promptly

Conquers Pai

Unlike other liniments, Mustang made of healing oils—no alcoh acids or pepper used. Musta never burns or smarts, not ev when applied to open wounds. Pa is relieved quickly by Musta which thoroughly permeates t system and hastens healing. Ov 73 years' success guarantees M tang as best for MAN, LIVESTOC and POULTRY.

Sold by DRUG and GENERAL STORE

FREE WITH 25c TRIAL BOTTL

Actual Size 25c Bottle (Trial)
50c Bottle holds 3 times as much
$1.00 Bottle holds 8 times as much as 25c size

MUSTANG
"The Good Old Standby Since 1848"
LINIMENT

LYON MANUFACTURING CO., Proprietors, 41-43-45 South Fifth St., Brooklyn,

Watch Out!

Something is going to happen. Prices are going to jar t e bottom out.

Say! Did you know we were paying the highest market price for Chickens and Eggs and all kinds of Country Produce.

F. M. Connell

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Al
Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes. Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is uy to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the leabe come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

YOU TAKE NO CHANCES

Shumate Written Guarante With Each Razor

For Sale by

Alred Drug Co.

CLANTON, ALABAMA

ADVERTISING FACTS

Los Angeles Examiner.

Superiority of newspaper advertising over all other forms was emphasized by Thomas L. Emory, addressing the Advertising club in San Francisco last week. Definite proof of the newspapers lead in bringing together buyer and seller has been obtained times without number.

Highlights on the address to the advertising men are well worth remembering as telling the story in a few words:

Newspaper reading is universal, therefore newspaper advertising reaches the entire buying public

Selling costs are cut by newspaper advertising because there is no waste in locality of circulation.

Thorough and economical distribution is insured, because dealers are anxious to handle products properly advertised.

Alert business men know advertising values by experience. Considered from another viewpoint there is still further proof in the commercial agency statistics, which show that of the firms that fail, something like four-fifths are non-advertisers.

ANOTHER THIRD PARTY

From the Age-Herald.

The rumor of a split in the republican party is received with cheerful equanimity by democrats. They see in the possible formation of another Bull Moose party an opportunity to regain their lost power. According to Washington gossip, if they think approaching congressional elections show enough dissatisfaction with the Harding administration to justify such a step a new party will be formed by progressive republicans in the United States Senate. Senator Kenyon of Iowa, recently kicked upstairs by presidential appointment, presumably for the purpose of crippling the agrarian bloc is mentioned as the third party's nominee for President.

The Age-Herald's Washington correspondent says that the progressive republicans feel sure a new organization along Bull Moose lines would survive longer than its predecessor.

They count on drawing support from both the republican and democratic parties.

Possibly nothing will come of the movement, but before these adventurous statesmen break loose from the party of great moral ideas they might well recall the experience of Theodore Roosevelt, an infinitely more resourceful politician with a far greater following than any of the latterday progressives.

This country seems wedded to the two-party idea, but so far as the democrats are concerned they would be delighted to see Kenyon, Borah and other disgruntled republicans go over, bag and baggage to a new camp.

A GROGGY CONGRESS

From the New York Herald.

Washington is giving us the spectacle of a groggy Congress. A week ago Congress had everything rigged for tobogganing through the soldier bonus to the tune of "Let the People Pay." A week ago Congress had everything rigged for a five billion dollar loot of the treasury—five thousand millions of dollars. A week ago Congress had everything rigged to cinch the bonus vote for this fall's elections.

But something has happened. The nation is aroused and in bitter protest has bombarded Congress it has never been bombarded before. Counting on a patient, supine public Congress went ahead and committed itself to the bonus propagandists without knowing where or how it could get the money to pay the bonus. And the bonus propagandists committed themselves to vote right in the fall elections.

Now Congress finds itself in a tight place with an aroused public on the one hand ranged against the bonus bill, and the bonus propogandists on the other hand demanding that Congress keep its word.

If Congress doesn't deliver the goods to the bonus propagandists it sees itself losing the bonus vote in the elections this fall. If it does deliver the goods to the bonus propagandists it sees itself buried by a public avalanche. This is what has made for a groggy Congress, so groggy that it can't see straight.

It is a good rule in business and should be a good rule in politics when one finds he is in wrong to get out before he wrecks himself, and get back on right lines. This is what the present Congress should do. It is its only chance to continue itself in statesmanship.

TOO "NICE" TO VOTE

From Montgomery Advertiser.

"It seems difficult to induce more than 50 per cent of the voters to vore," remarks the observant Selma Times-Journal. The other 50 per cent would have you understand they are too nice to vote. They long since lost confidence in politics. They don't want to expose themselves to contamination by participating in anything so "corrupt" as politics.

This 50 per cent affect the air of the snob and the Puritan, but the truth is they are just naturally indifferent to governmental questions and personalities. They have no taste for public affairs. In the language of the great Dempsey they will be "Johnny at the rat-hole" when thdy think something goes wrong in government. They are there with the bowl and the grumble, but they are not there with the vote, nor do they keep themselves reasonably well informed about questions and personalities. They disfranchise themselves, but they would fight anybody else who proposed their disfranchisement.

A NEEDED TEXT BOOK

From Montgomery Advertiser.

The National Security League would have the study of the Federal Constitution made compulsory in the schools of each State. We are not prepared at the moment to say that the study of this document should be compulsory in the public schools. But it would be profitable to speculate in your mind on what might have been the effect upon political thinking and political conduct for the past 100 years if every child had been made reasonably familiar with the text and spirit of the Constitution. We might have escaped much injustice and much of the consequences of class government, and we might today be more passionately and intelligently devoted to liberty. Most of our political wrongs are but the fruit of outrages upon the letter or the spirit of the Constitution.

The average person is more familiar with the Declaration of Independence than the Constitution. The reason is that the Declaration is a more dramatic and sensational document. But the Constitution is by no means dull literature, and when read understandingly is capable of imparting thrills to the student. It can inspire in him a fighting love for the institution of his country.

THE LATEST IN PHONES

Chicago Herald and Examiner.

A device has been invented and tested which, when attached to the present telephone, assures secrecy of communication and security from interruption.

More than it enables one line to carry a number of conversations simultaneously without interference. No longer would your temperature be excited by the exasperating reply; "The line is busy."

The new device is called the "super phone." It will never be popular in the country, where Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Brown count that day lost whose low descending sun finds their curiosity unsatisfied because they had been unable to "listen in" on Mrs Jones.

Its popularity in the city will depend on a factor as yet hoped for rather than realized—the super girl at a nyral.

HURRY HIM ALONG

W. A. White in Judge.

This is the season of the year when democrats all over the country begin celebrating Andrew Jackson. They begin early in January celebrating Jackson Day, the battle of New Orleans, and intermittent Jacksonian outbursts may be expected from now until March 15 old Andy's birthday.

He was the first great unwashed democratic President, and it has been 84 years since he made his exit from the White House, in a blaze of fireworks. In all these years he has remained the symbol of the great unwashed. Jefferson was from the cloister.

His democracy was a faint squeaking, a small "d" democracy echoing the French academcians. But Jackson's democracy was with a large "d" for Damn.

Some day we shall have in the White House the Jackson equivalent of old "Andy". In his blood coursed the Bryanesque naivety and the Rooseveltian virility. He may have had even a jigger of the blood of the old booted and bewhiskered populists.

And in due time he will come again—the modern Jackson. What consternation will roll from the capitol back to the treasury building and go flapping and surging over to the monuments of Washington and Lincoln when this modern Jackson comes to town! Observe him getting out of the car ricing back from the capitol after dumping let us say, ex-President Hughes, after his eightyear term.

See him sailing into the White House and isuing general order number one "On and after this date all newspapers carrying stock market quotations and accounts of fictitious sales of stocks and bonds will be denied the second-class privileges of the post office department!" Bang! will go the blue sky over Wall street.

THE LEXICON OF A BOY

From Judge.

Enough—Three helpings of everything on the table, with the privilege of more Work—That which you are told to do when the gang is outside waiting.

Play—Important business which school is forever interrupting.

Schoolroom—A place where you are expected to sit still and behave at the same time.

Measles—Luck.

Sweetheart—The only person of your acquaintance to whom you would be willing to give more than the core of an apple.

Grown-ups—People who can stay up as long as they like.

Dog—A friend who understands.

Dirt—Something grown-ups are always claiming to notice on your face and hands.

Tonsils—Things you would like to take out of the doctor who took them out of you.

Mother—The place to go when you're hurt

AUTOMOBILE WAR

Montgomery Advertiser.

Henry Ford, according to Arthur Brisbane, is piling up money so fast that he is constantly looking for ways to spend it. An intimate friend of Ford's told Brisbane that Henry Ford now had one hundred and forty million dollars in cash, and that he is thinking of buying at least two other automobile companies, as one means of using his vast store of ready cash.

In the automobile Ford is called "The Lone Wolf." He walks alone and choses his own path. He is not afraid to fight the rest of the pack.

Ford opened up a new automobile war through his purchase of the Lincoln Motor Company. The Lincoln is a high-pried car: Ford fired the opening gun of the war by reducing the price of the Lincoln car by from $800 to $1,200 He has also cut the price of tractors and this is regarded as a declaration of war by the companies making tractors.

The General Motors Company, one of the largest elements of the automobile trade, must necessarily fight back in selfdefense, and it has begun to fight back. Some of the best informed men in the automobile business believe that the present will be the bitterest and costliest fighting that the trade has ever known.

Henry Ford, with the biggest single automobile business in the country, with a new company and an automobile war on his hands, certainly has enough to keep him busy. Perhaps that is why the question is being asked, "Does Ford really want Muscle Shoals?" That question arose out of his curt message to Congress over his offer for Muscle Shoals. "I will not make any change in the offer, or permit any to be made. Take it or leave it."

This is a rather arbitrary way with which to handle one end of a business proposition, under which the Government, according to Mr. Ford's own figures, must spend $30,000,000 to complete and which involves in the aggregate an expenditure of $116,000,000 by the Government. Then Ford has declined to go before the committee; he is too busy in Detroit, he says. This is not the ordinary way a man pushes a big business deal in which he is deeply interested.

"I don't see what on earth Henry wants with Muscle Shoals. I hope he doesn't get it. He has all in the world he can do now," said Mrs. Henry Ford, rather plaintively when the Ford party visited Muscle Shoals in December. If Mrs. Ford has remained of the same mind, and if after the fashion of wives, she brings a contested question up tactfully yet repeatedly, she is bound to influence her husband. Perhaps she has already done so.

EVIL AND ONLY EVIL

From Age-Herald.

Reports from Washington indicate that the Dyer anti-lynching bill will never become a law. Democrats would oppose it to a man, and they would have plenty of support among republicans who realize that it would do far more harm than good.

It is unfortnnate that such a bill was introduced, and by a member of Congress who is suspected of trying to appeal to his colored constituency by a pernicions piece of legislation which would be unconstitutional in the first place and could never be enforced. The Dyer bill has revived sectional bitterness and created resentment in the south. It has also intensified the race question, which was being solved in the only way it can be solved—by promoting a better understanding between the races and educating public sentiment to oppose all forms of lawlessness.

Every worth-while citizen of this country, whether he resides in the north, the east, the south or the west, abhors lynching. Nearly every fair-minded student of the question admits that it is the task of the states and not of the federal government to eradicate this form of violence, which is by no means confined to the south.

The fact that the Dyer bill is designed to curry favor with negro voters of the north makes it all the more offensive to the southern people.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

Subscribe for The Chilton County News. $1.00 per year.

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your housekeeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change. Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don't forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal atattention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. f your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt-Edge.

Sewing Machines

is my Middle Name, Come in and let me fit you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins

We Do Job Printing .

New City Garage

Just opened up. In the Honeycut & Thompson shop building.

All kinds of repair work done in First Class style and at short notice. New prices on work cut donw to suit the times. Come and see.

MaddOx & Williams

Farmers Save Money

By buying your Cotton Seed Meal Fertilizer early as the price is advancing most every day. We have just received a lot of High Grade Meal and bought it at the right price. We will give you the advantage of the raise by buying now. Try a sack of our high grade ELECT FLOUR.

Clanton Mill & Gin Co.

J. A. MADDOX, Manager.

Listen!

Save Money!

Just received a brand new lot of Ladie's and Misses OXFORDS at pre-war prices, ranging from $2.75 to $4.50. Same shoes sold just one year ago at from $5.00 to $7.50.

Remember

We carry staple Dry Goods, Men's Suits, Hats, Caps, Shoes and Staple Groceries. See us before you buy.

Hugh Jones'

Cash Store

A. N. Miner W. J. Easterling

Miner & Easterling

Meat Market and Grocery Store

We wish to announce to the people who trade in Clanton that we have opened up our new Meat Market and Grocery Store in the building formerly occupied by G. C. Armstrong, and are prepared to sell you anything you may want in the way of Fresh Meats, Vegetables, Groceries and anything you want to eat.

Our service shall be the very best in town. Our policy will be to furnish our customers what they want when they want it.

We have a telephone in our store and will make a specialty of attending to any and all orders given us, making a delivery in the quickest possible time.

Your Trade Will Be Appreciated

Miner & Easterling

Clanton, Alabama.

Let Us Do Your Work

MARRIED

Mr. Grady Lodge, of Birmingham, and Miss Mattie Lou Kelly, of Clanton, were happily married last Saturday at the Court House here, Rev. A. O. Wells officiating.

PLEASANT GROVE

Dear Editor:-

Will you please allow me space in your valuable paper to say a few words about this part of the county.

Our singing society met Sunday afternoon and did some good singing, which seemed to be enjoyed by all. We had several visitors from Pates Chapel, whom we were all pleased to see. We are glad to have help from other communities, as we think it is so nice to co-operate together in this good work. Singing praises to God. We give the people from Pates Chapel a hearty welcome and want them to come again.

Our singing society meets every 1st and 3rd Sunday afternoons. We invite all singers and lovers of music to come and be with us.

Mr. I. B. Edwards and family visited Mr. S. M. Edwards and wife Sunday.

Rev. Honeycutt from Jemison visited Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gibson Saturday night.

Miss Verna Wright, who is teaching school at Collins Chapel, spent Saturday night and Sunday with home folks.

Mr. Allen Waldrop visifed his sister, Mrs. James Franklin, Jr., Sunday night.

Mr. Monroe Franklin visited his cousin, Mr. Relious Franklin at Thorsby Saturday night.

Miss Virgie Deason dined with her friend, Miss Eldredge Wright Sunday.

Mr. Henry and Howard Hatcher and two of their friends visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Franklin spent Saturday night with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin.

Miss Fannie Pate visited her friend, Miss Coatine Maddox Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Childress dined with Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Dawson Sunday.

Miss Nettie Hodgens had as her guest Sunday, Mr. Isaac Waldrop.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Childress visited Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin Saturday night.

I think times must be picking up around Pleasant Grove now. We see that Miss Grace and Hollis Wells were at Sunday School and singing Sunday.

FRIENDSHIP BAPTIST CHURCH

If the weather is good, there will be "big doings" at Friendship Baptist Church Sunday. Prof W. O. Rich. Chairman of the Friendship Singing Society, promises to have the best singing in the afternoon that we have ever had at this church—and that is promising a lot. He says that he has the promise of some of the best singers of the county to be here next Sunday afternoon, including Profs. A. A Beaird, W. M. Devaughn, O. L. Devaughn, and several other noted singers. The Singing Societies at Refuge, Liberty Hill, Poplar Springs, Maple Springs, and Providence are especially invited to come as a whole, if possible. Singing will begin at 2:00, p. m.

Sunday School will begin promptly at 10:00 o'clock, and preaching at 11:00. Rev. E. A. Norris of Verbena will preach at both the morning and evening services. The evening service will begin at 7:00, p. m.

All singers are invited to come Sunday, not only to the singing in the afternoon, but also to the morning services. Come and spend the day with us. We will do our best to make you enjoy it.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Circuit Court.—In Equity.

State of Alabama Complainant vs. J. F. Pool Defendant.

By virtue of a decree rendered on the 13th day of February Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity. in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described property to wit:

One Five Passenger Ford Automobile. 1919 Model, to satisfy said decree.

This 20th day of February, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER.
Register.

2-23-3t.

MULES FOR SALE

I have for sale at my home in Clanton, Ala., 8 good mules that I used on my farm on the river. Ages from 4 to 10 years old, also 7 mule colts age two and one half to three years old

2-16-2tp B. F. HIGGINS.

CLANTON GROUP FOR READING CIRCLE MARCH 11, 1922

Devotional Service.

Discussion of the class room teacher

Chapter IX—Miss Cora Massey.
Chapter X—Mr. Blanco Durbin.
Chapter XI—Miss Mildred Ford.
Chapter XII—Mr. Luther Little.
Chapter XIII—Mr. Euel Robinson.
Chapter XIV—Miss Nina Hall.
Chapter XV—Miss Catherine Bauder.
Chapter XVI—Miss Mary Stewart.

Home made services for teaching different subjects, Miss Lena Franklin, Mr. Leon Mullins, Mr. Johnie Plier, Miss Martha Jane Mims, Mr. H. L. Davis.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Circuit Court.—In Equity.

Esther Duncan Racine and Gordon Mooney, Minors, who sue by their next friend Sallie S. Duncan Complainant, vs. J. E. Gowan Defendant.

By virtue of a decree rendered on the 8th day of February Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described real estate—to wit:

Lots Five (5), Six (6), Eleven (11), Twelve (12), and the north thirty (30) feet of Lots Thirteen (13) and of Lot Fourteen (14) in Block Thirty (30), formerly Twenty-two (22), East of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, as shown by the official map of the Town of Clanton, recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama. Sold for division among the joint owners thereof. All of said land being in Chilton County, Alabama, to satisfy said decree.

This February 10th, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

2-16-3t.

MORTAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power therein contained executed T. C. McSwain by Isaac Kendrick and his wife Maggie Kendrick on the 25th day of October, 1919, and recorded in Mortgage Book No. 176, on page 128 in the office of the Probate Judge of Chilton County, Alabama, the undersigned T. C. McSwain, will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash on the seventh (7) day of March, 1922, at the Court House door, in the Town of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, at Twelve (12) o'clock noon, the following described property, consisting of real estate, lying and being situated in Chilton County, Alabama:

One lot, beginning at the Northeast corner of Section 27, Township 21, Range 15, in the town of Cooper, Alabama, Chilton County, running thence west 55 yards, thence southeast 185 yards to Poplar Street, fronting and running thence east on said Poplar Street 55 yards, thence in a Northwesterly direction to the point of beginning, lying and being in Sections 26 and 27, Township 21, Range 15.

Default has been made in the payment of the debt which is secured by the above mentioned mortgage and this sale is made for the purpose of foreclosing the mortgage and paying the debt and all cost and expenses of foreclosure, including a reasonable attorney's fee, which is provided for in said mortgage.

T. C. McSWAIN, Mortgagee.

G. C. Walker, Attorney. 2-16-3t.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY

(Paid political adv., by Thos A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

McDonald's Variety Store

BIRTHPLACE OF CUT PRICES

Come to see us [illegible] Shoes, Dry Goods, Staple and Fancy Groceries.

McDonald's Variety Store

VERBENA, ALABAMA.

Railroad Avenue East of the Postoffice

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit its continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

The New York Store

See the NEW YORK STORE before buying your Winter Needs. Our Stock is complete!

Remember, our goods MUST be satisfactory to our customers.

The New York Store

Clanton, Alabama.

H D [illegible]

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, MARCH 2, 1922. NUMBER 25

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Round Dozen Spend The Day.

The Round Dozen Sewing Club held its regular monthly spend the day at the residence of Mrs. W. H. Sartor, with Mrs. Barney Roberts as hostess on last Wednesday. Quite a beautiful luncheon was spread at the noon hour. Quite an enjoyable time was spent in fancy work. Those being present were Mesdames Armstrong, David Pearson, Clyde Jones, M. L. White, Macy Jones, Simpson, McSwain, Luckie, Elmore, McDavid, Ross, Sartor and Rainer, of Florida.

Card Club Meets.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson was hostess to the Wednesday Card Club and a few friends on last Wednesday afternoon. The apartment was very lovely with pot plants and cut flowers. The George Washington idea was carried out. The score cards being red hatchets tied with white ribbon. After several interesting games it was found that Mrs. Hosea Downs held the highest club score and was presented with the club prize, a set of dainty tea napkins, and Mrs. Kyle held the highest score of the visitors and was presented with a dainty handkerchief. A salad plate with ice tea was served to the follownig ladies: Mesdames Guy Higgins, Carrie Mullins, Heard, John VanDerveer, Grady Reynolds, Eric Hart, Hosea Downs, Page, Kyle, Tesh, Hugh Jones and Gerald.

Thursday Embriodery Club.

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Grady Broadhead was hostess to the Thursday Embroidery Club. The decorations were very lovely carrying out the George Washington idea, with red hatchets every where, and the shaded light. Also the refreshments carried out the Washington idea with cherry salad, rolled log sandwiches. The dainty cakes in the hatchet shape and ice tea. Besides the club members were Mesdames Ross, Clint Jones, Rainer, Tesh and Heard.

Mrs. J. C. Jones was hostess Monday afternoon to the Presbyterian ladies society. After all business had been attended to the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mr. Newt Alridge spent last week with his mother.

Mr. Clarence Evans of Birmingham, spent several days last week with home folks.

Mrs. Jack Seales and little son, of Mississippi, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Otis Levie of Sylacauga arrived Friday afternoon, and at the the bedside of her mother, who is very ill.

Mrs. R. E. Luckie and children spent the week-end in Montgomery with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Y. Johnson spent Thursday in Birmingham.

Mrs. Rainer of Florida is visiting Mrs. V. J. Elmore.

Mrs. Reese Mullins has returned from St. Louis, where she went to buy the Spring Millinery for the Clanton Mercantile Co.

Mr. Will Adams of Tuscaloosa spent several days in Clanton last week.

Mrs. L. M. McSwain, of Coopers, returned home Saturday after spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin McSwain.

Miss Olie Stewart of Birmingham spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. John Brouder.

Mrs. John Browder is spending this week at Mitchell Dam, as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Deumon.

Mr. A. L. Carter of Birmingham was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Maddox spent Tuesday in Montgomery.

Preach at Methodist Church

Dr. O. L. Branscomb, editor of the Alabama Christian Advocate, will preach at the Methodist church Sunday next at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p m.

A cordial welcome is extended to all who will come and hear him.

Registration Notice.

The Registration Books will be opened for the Registration of all qualified electors of the county, at the Court House in Clanton, from March 13 to 17 inclusive.

J. W. E. Gulledge, Chr.
J. R. Parnell,
H. B. Oliver,
Registrars Chilion County.

PASTORS AND WORKERS CONFERENCE

The Union-Banner:—

Please allow me space in your columns to say a few words about the Pastors and Workers Conference of the Unity and Chilton County Baptist Association, which meets on Monday after the second Sunday in each month, and the next meeting will be held at the Mountain Creek Church.

True to the name it is a conference for pastors and all who are interested in church work, both men and women.

At these meeting vital matters of interest to pastors and laymen are discussed.

It is not as some have said, a Union of Pastors to try to raise salaries, arrange strikes and etc., although the majority of pastors would not be hurt if their salaries were raised some. We only ask the people to attend and find out for themselves what the Conference is for.

We do not want the entertaining church to make elaborate preparation for dinner. Just sandwiches or something of that kind, for our main thought is service.

Come to Mountain Creek March 13th. We will be disappointed if you do not.

Respectfully,
W. A. GOSS.

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Reds. Single Comb. Eggs now ready—15 for 75 cents. All fresh and fertile. Address,
3-2-4tp G. M. Durbin,
Clanton, Ala., Route 3.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Editor:—

Permit us to take this means to attempt to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness and assistance shown us during the sudden sickness and death of our husband and brother, Mr. Sidney W. Mims.

We pray God's precious blessings go with and assist each of you and we believe He will richly reward you in the great home of the soul.

Yours very truly,
MRS CORENE MIMS.
J. Z. MIMS.

HI-Y CLUB

The last meeting of the Hi-Y Club was one of the best meetings that we have had. All business came first. Then we initiated Willie Murpry and George Wyatt into the Club. The members had lots of fun, at Mr. Murphy and Mr. Wyatt's expense.

The Club is going to put on a Negro Minstrel in the near future. It is classed as one of the best ever staged any where. We have been practicing to a small extent yet. The man who runs the picture show is going to direct us. He is very much experienced in the way a negro minstrel should be staged. We have already ordered our costumes. Mr. Hardee, the man whom I am speaking of, is very interested in our work. Mr. Hardee also says if we can't stage a first class one, we won't stage any at all. This mistrel is full of "pep." If you can't laugh, stay at home.

Will give you date later.

N. ROBERTS.

We now have in stock in bulk, Garden Seeds, Beets, Tomatoes, English Peas, Butter Beans, Turnips, bush and pole Beans. Field seeds: Early Corn, Soy Beans, pearl Millet, Sudan and Bermuda Grass, Water Melon and Cantelope.

Alred Drug and Seed Co.

A special session of Circuit Court has been in session here this week. Judge B. K. McMorris presiding. Up to the present time the cases have been chiefly cases against the Mobile and Ohio Railroad.

CENTRAL ALABAMA HOSPITAL

Through the courtsey of Dr. Gragg we had the opportunity Tuesday of being shown all through the wonderful hospital building, with its many splendid improvements in scientific equipment.

We already knew that the Central Alabama Hospital had, in this structure, an infirmary that would favorably class up with anything in the state, but our visit was a revelation to us. We did not know that the builders of this beautiful institution had gone to the trouble of informing themselves as to all the errors and mistakes that has crept into other similiar concerns and then, had set themselves to profit by the error of the other fellow and made the neccessary change to assure absolutely the best results. But such is the fact, and by accepting all of the best ideas and correcting the mistakes and oversights they have suceeded in making a perfect institution out of this one so far as science and experience has progressed to date.

A detailed discription at this time would consume more space than we can command this week, but this much we do say: The exterior of the building is one of the most symetrical and classic we have ever seen. Every line is graceful and the whole is an absolute harmony of good taste and refinement. Taken as a whole and from every angle it is almost sublime in its chaste beauty.

The finishing touches are now being given to the interior. Here too you will find, from basement to top floor, not an inch space wasted and still, the whole scheme so perfectly worked out and blendid that every alcove and linen closet fits into the comcommon hole so beautifully, they almost seem to have been planned for the sake of artistic beauty rather than with an eye to efficient service.

The entire building inside and out is a beautiful realization af the most sanguine dreams of its founders and is a most beautiful credit to those who conceived the idea and thus made it come true.

Both of the county papers will carry next week an announcement of the formal opening of this grand institution and a most cordial invitation for every one who will to come out at that time and take part in the exercises. Look out for the announcement and be certain to come, for everybody is invited.

WE WANT A WINNING BALL CLUB

Of course, it goes without saying that Chilton High will put out a winning base ball team this year. They always do. But what we would like to see is for the hustling young men down in town to organize a team out of the splendid material they have and go out and clean up everything in sight.

They can do it if they set their heads to it, for they are the finest and cleanest bunch of athletes in Central Alabama.

There is hardly anything that advertises a town more successfully than a hightoned, clean, hard working winning base ball team.

Boys, get busy and do this much for your town this year. We all know you can do it and we are ready to get behind you and help all we can. Give us a season of good clean sport that will make you the talk and envy of every town in this sestion of Alabama.

MITCHELL DAM

A Union Sunday School has been organized here with a splendid attendance and bright prospects. Mr. Erwin Williams is the efficient Superintendent.

They also have a fine literary school here presided over by Miss Catherine Burke. About 40 pupils attend regularly.

Mr. Chas. A. Burke, manager of the commissary, was called to Birmingham this week on account of the illness of his wife.

Mrs. Jno. Woodson has gone to Atlanta. Her mother is dead over there.

Mrs. L. C. Sims gave a bridge party last Friday afternoon. A splendid time reported by all those who attended.

Mr. W. T. Moran, who has been ill at a Birmingham infirmary, is improving now.

The Alabama Power Company has a landscape artist at work on the grounds around the Dam, planning out a campaign for beautifying the site permanently. Mr. H. Brumma is his name and he is said to be an expert.

A GROWING MENACE

Idleness leads to crime. This is demonstrated on every hand. The boys are allowed to roam the downtown streets indiscriminately are forming habits that will eventually grow too strong for the boys to break. Marble playing as a sport is an interesting and harmless sort of recreation. But, when carried to the extent that pupils stay out of school to play marbles, it seems time for parents to call a halt. Tuesday of this week six boys stayed out of school all morning and were seen playing marbles in an out-of-the-way place. This is not the first time something of this kind has occured. I am too busily occupied with those who come to school to get out and chase those who are out; besides, I very seldom have the inclination to do so. I do not profess to know how children should be controlled, but as I see it there are quite a few who are not being controlled at all. Some have even gone so far as to say they do not know what to do with their boys. I would like for these parents to think seriously before they expect us as teachers to do ANYTHING with them.

Aside from the idle and unproductive habits that are being formed, too much time is being consumed that ought to be put to use in studying. I realize that some play is just as neccessary for the development of a boy as the proper kind of food. Everyone knows the result of eating too much food and that the harmful result is augmented if to much of the same kind of food is consumed. Intemperance is the doing or eating of anything to excess. The day has passed when people who stop to think argue that a person should be allowed to do just as he pleases. I know also that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," but on the other hand all play and no work makes Jack a WORTHLESS boy. Which do you want a dull boy of worth or an active boy that is WORTHLESS?

This article is not striking at any person in particular. But if a parent reads it and feels that his boy is not doing good work in school, let him do a little private investigating to ascertain if too much time is not being consumed in play. This will help the parent, the boy, and the school. If this has never met your attention, just observe the amount of time consumed every day by certain ones on the down-town sections. I consider it a growing menace that is sapping the results of the school. PARENTS WILL YOU ACT NOW OR WILL YOU WAIT UNTIL BAD HABITS ARE FORMED?

Yours for the school,
IRA PEGUES.

PLEASANT GROVE ITEMS

Dear Editor:—

I would thank you for space in your paper to say a few words about this place.

Rev. Dykes filled his regular appointment here Saturday and Sunday. Although the weather looked a little disagreeable both Saturday and Sunday, but still we had good services. I think if more would come out and listen to what he tells us that times would be better.

Our Sunday School met at the regular hour Sunday. We had very good attendance. Although our Sunday school could be much better if we would only go to work and make it better.

There was several from this place who enjoyed the good singing at Pates Chapel Sunday afternoon, and most everyone enjoyed the nice rain on their way home. Of course this was a little disagreeable but the singing was good and enjoyed by all.

Our singing society meets next Sunday afternoon. We invite all singers and lovers of music to come and be with us.

Buy Garden and Field Seeds in bulk at home and save money. Our prices are much less than the mail order houses and quality superior. Try ours just once and be convinced.

Alred Drug and Seed Co.

We do Job Printing.

Subscribe for The Chilton County News. $1.00 per year.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

J. L. Williams, of Route 4, was in town last Friday taking in the day mixing with his many friends.

Mr. W. Y. Keel of Beat 6, was among those in Clanton last week serving on the jury.

Mr. A. B. Burton went to Mountain Creek last Friday and spent the day with home folks. He came back and was on his job Friday night.

Mr. Dave Norris of Mountain Creek was here last Friday looking after business matters.

Raymond Duffie, R. F. D. carrier at Mountain Creek, was a Clanton visitor the latter part of last week.

Mr. J. P. Milford, of Maplesville Route 2, was in Clanton last week serving his county on the jury.

Mr. J. B. Sexton, of Maplesyille Route 2, was one of those from the hustling and wide awake Beat 8 here last week serving on the jury.

Col. S. J. Darby, of Alexander City, Ala., was in Clanton last week on legal business. For many years Col. Darby served his district as circuit solicitor

Mr. J. E. Lett, of Verbena, was one of the prominent citizens here last Saturday.

Mr. S. E. Summers, one of the esteemed citizens of Mulberry, was in Clanton last Saturday attending to business matters.

Mr. A. J. Penton, of Route 8, [illegible] here Saturday.

Miss Verna Wright, one of the most efficient teachers in Chilton County, was here last Saturday.

Mr. E. E. Edwards, one of the progressive farmers of Route 3, was here Saurday.

Mr. Robert M. Smith, bother of Col. A. C. Smith, was here last Saturday looking after personal matters.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Roper, of the Magic City, were guests of the formers parents Sunday and Monday, Mr and Mrs. H. B. Roper.

Hon. John W. Batson, Register of Chancery Court in Coosa County, was here last week on legal business. Mr. Batson no doubt can tell us, "To the victor belongs the spoils."

Mr. Robert M. Roebuck, an honorded and highly esteemed citizen of Beat 15, was here last Friday.

Miss Lissie Mims, of the Collins Chapel community, was in Clanton Saturday.

Mr. K. L. Summers, of Benson, was among those here last Saturday.

Ex-Governor William D. Jelks and wife were in Clanton last Sunday, guests of the Hotel Wilson.

Mr. W. C. Robinson, of Coopers, was here Monday.

Mr. R. L. Lewis was in town Monday on business.

Mr. J. P. Parrish of Route 3, was here Tuesday looking after personal affairs.

Mr. W. H. Lewis, of Coopers, was among those who came to town Monday.

Euell Woodyard, telephone operator at Mitchell Dam, was here Monday.

Ewart Corley and the business manager of the Chilton County News went down to Mitchell Dam Monday.

Broadus Connatser, Steve Hardee, Misses Virgal White, Edna Kemp and Agnes Kemp motored to Jemison last Sunday.

Dr. C. S. Strock, of Verbena, was here Monday.

Mr. Pink Giles, of Birmingham, was in Clanton Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. Giles has many friends and admirers in Clanton who are always glad to welcome him back into our midst.

Mr. W. T. Ennis went to Sylacauga Monday looking after business matters. Mr. Ennis is "on the job" when it comes to doing a first class job on plastering.

Mrs. Clara Mullins has returned from St. Louis, and other northern markets, where she went as special buyer for the Clanton Mercantile Co. to select their immense Spring stock. It goes without saying that their display will be beautiful, stylish and nifty under her tasteful selection

Clanton business has increased to such an extent that the railroad company has found it neccessary to enlarge their freight and express office room. They have made quite a nice addition to this department.

Some splendid improvements are being completed at the Fox Auction House. A new plate glass front with an attractive show window and a new shelving inside has added greatly to the apearance as well as convenience to this popular store

Mr. J. B. Downs is having quite a nice bungalow erected down in the Gowan addition.

Mr. W. T. Johnson, of Route 3, was here Tuesday shopping.

Rev. F. A. Gibson, of Route 3, went down to Troy, Ala., last Saturday and filled his regular appointment near that city. Rev. Gibson is one of the old Landmark ministers of Chilton county.

When the "city dads" stop the hitching of animals along the down town sidewalks another good step will have been made in the direction of neatness and sanitation.

Col. L. H. Ellis, of Columbiana, spent Tuesday night in Clanton enroute to the Ford rally at Montgomery yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Taylor left Monday for Jackson, Miss., where they will make their future home

GOOD, YOUNG MILK COW FOR Sale cheap. See, G. C. Walker

Stove Wood

Get your planing mill blocks for stove wood from, R. E Singleton

NEW HARMONY NEWS

Dear Editor:—

Will you please allow me space in your valuable paper to say a few words about this part of the country.

Mrs. Sam Jones was the guest of her mother last Friday and Saturday.

Miss Ollie Culp visited her sister, Mrs. Backwell Saturday night.

We are sorry to say that grandma and Miss Kate Durbin are on the sick list.

Many friends of Mrs. Stanley Cooper are glad to know that she is improving after an attack of the flu.

Mr. T. O. Bates and family visited Clanton Saturday.

Miss Allie D. was the guest of Miss Jeanette Durbin Saturday and Sunday.

Several of our young people attended the party at Mr. Jim Maddox's Saturday night and report a nice time.

Mr. John Jackson was a welcome visitor at Mr. F. O. Bates' Sunday before last.

Miss Mary Belle Wooley, of Mulberry, accompanied by Mr. Sumter Frith, walked out to Mr. Maddox's to the party Saturday night.

Miss Gladys Henley and Miss Ellar Frith also atended the party at Mr. Maddox's.

I think Mr. Cruvie Henley is stopping his buggy at Mr. Marlow Williams now.

Mr. Keath Gandy visited New Harmony school Friday afternoon.

Miss Ollie Culp was a visitor to the school also.

"OLD MAID."

COOPER DOTS

The school, under the leadership of Prof. Gravalee, is doing nicely with an enrollment of 175 pupils.

Prof Gravalee has as his efficient assistants Misses Marjarene Murphy, Johnnie Lee Thacker, and Thelma Bates.

Several new residences are going up and a general air of good times seems to predominate the entire town.

The Alabama Power Company has recently made additions to their large storage warehouse and are handling great quantities of material and other goods here daily.

There will be preaching next Sunday here. Everybody invited.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY.................................Editor
J. L. JOHNSON,.................................Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

A Peculiar Frame of Mind

You take the sentiment of the white people all over the South and it is absolutely a unit in regard to the race question. No matter what their religious faith or political creed may be, none can be found who are willing to espouse the cause of social equality in any of its phases. Race segregation is one point upon which all white people are unanimously agreed. We all want the colored race to have a fair show, and they are accorded that, in its broadest meaning, in the South, but none of us wish to send our children to school with theirs or to meet with them at the same table in public eating places and so on. Upon that point there is no difference of opinion.

We are proud to number among some of our warmest personal friends in Chilton county, gentlemen who have fallen into the strange habit of voting a ticket that openly and avowedly stands for the equality of the races, in all public places at least, which, of course, inevitably includes our public schools. These identical friends of ours are as bitterly opposed to mingling the races as we possibly can be, still, year after year, they vote for that very condition to be rivited upon us the same that it is upon the other states wherever their party has the power.

President Harding, by his public utterances, and the present Congress, by its actual deeds, have made it impossible for these good friends of ours not to realize the absolute truth of these statements and to fully understand that in voting a Republican ticket in the South, they are inviting conditions that would be equally as intolerable to them as to any Democratic neighbor of theirs.

The wonder is how they bring themselves in to such a peculiarly inconsistent frame of mind. What arguments they use to silence their own conscience that certainly must chide them for this strangely incongruous action. Are they satisfied to still leave it up to the Democratic party to protect their mothers, wives, daughters and little children from this blight of race contamination, as they have done in the past, and still fight and abuse the hand that is daily shielding and protecting their loved ones? We can't understand their process of reasoning. It is peculiar in the extreme. We, of the South, are all inevitably in the same boat, confronted by the same imminent monster that none of us are willing to tolerate and still, instead of lending a helping hand to guide our craft into safety, they endeavor with all their might to scuttle the ship and sink us all together in the gulf of social equality. How can you do it, friends?

For be it from our wish to intrude unpleasantly on your feelings, dear friends, but we feel it an impelling duty, at this critical moment of our history, to at least try to reason with you, in a spirit of friendship, and see if you will not awaken to the facts before you, and let this be the hour when you conclude to forsake the camp of the alien—the life long enemy of our fair Sunny South—and turn your influence back on the side of the only party that stands now, or has ever stood, between us and conditions under which we white men and women of the South would not and could not exist.

Wont you reason out this matter for yourselves? Your heart and conscience will guide you in to the right. Don't be led, nor misled, by anyone, but be a thinking, reasoning man or woman for yourself. If you will do that we, as well as the entire South, will be satisfied with the decission. We have nothing to fear from you except your habit of allowing self-interested politicians to play on your prejudice and warp your judgement. Be free one time and think for your self.

We need some segregated hitching places for stock. The foot passengers have use for the sidewalks, especially when it is muddy.

A bonus bill without any cash to back it up is like a doctor's prescription without the money to have it filled. Both are good as far as they go, but both like a darn sight of going far enough to help the patient,

---

Wonder how much more chaff the Republican Congress is going to try to fool the people with. It looks like they would dish out a little grain now and then to sorter keep the bluff working.

Bootleggers will be kept hustling around Muscle Shoals now for a spell. They will have to get ready to serve the Congressional picnic party the tax payers are going to send down there in a few days.

Impulsiveness is all o. k. when it happens to hit right, but an impulsive public sentiment has caused our people to bow their heads in sorrow and shame more than once. That old time gentleman spit out a mouthfull when he said: "Be sure you are right and then go ahead."

Can you name any public official in our day and time who is elected to fill a certain office and then does it? He is always provided with clerks and assistants who do all the work. He only "shoots the bull."

Everybody knows that it is costing 50 per cent more to operate our Federal and State governments these days than it has any right to. We are entitled to much better service for half the price. Then why don't everybody line up and have it stopped?

The dulcet songs and sophistries of the professional politicians keep about 75 per cent of the people in a semi-hypnotic condition all the time. The same of the old time burglar, only he used chloroform instead of hypnotism.

NOTES FROM ROUTE SEVEN

Hello, Mr. Editor, how about the weather? The farmers still have the blues on the account of so much rain.

Health here is very good except the old bad colds.

The singing was fine at Pleasant Grove Church Sunday p. m. They sang in the old books. Guess the old people did the singing.

Mr. T. C. Gandy and daughter, Miss Inez, spent a few hours with Mrs. R. M. Culp Sunday evening.

Mr. Keith Gandy spent Saturday night with his sister, Mrs. R. M. Culp.

Miss Inez Gandy was made glad the other day when Mr. Harris brought her a letter from her best friend.

"BLUE EYES."

AMEN, AND AMEN

From Centerville Press.

The present tendency of the lawmaking bodies is to regulate, restrain and supervise the social, moral and personal lives of the people, until they have reached the point where the people are becoming antagonistic to law and law regulations.

They now have laws that regulate a child before it comes into the world, and strict regulations until the child is old and is laid away from old age. They regulate and pass laws for the business man, and he must report at regular intervals his incomes and profits, and pay on his business.

The Government of the people is gradually being centralized at Washington, and this is being resented by the people. They are losing respect for law, and if continues much longer, it is going to be a serious problem for the Government to handle.

We boast of our American freedom, but this freedom is being curtailed and we now work and move by law.

Children used to be trained by their parents, but now they are turned over to the Sunday schools and the courts for regulation and rearing. Parental control is almost a thing of the past, and the times show that this has been a mistake on the part of the parents. No person or body has the same interest in the child that a parent should have, but it seems they have relinquished to the teachers and the courts and turned this responsibility over to others. The juvenile courts and the secular schools have taken over the regulation of the child, and until we get back to the old time home regulation, our children will not come up to the standard of the past.

TOO MUCH POWER

Justice John H. Clarke, of the United States Supreme Court, in addressing an audience of New York lawyers last week declared that the work of the court had become so fateful that the effects of many of its decisions upon the welfare of our country are as great as would be the results of decisive battles in a great war.

It would be well for those who love the Republic to ponder those words.

Nine men, appointed for life, not accountable in any way to the people, are in a position to render decisions—by a five-to-four vote, perhaps —which would help or hurt the nation as much as the results of decisive battles in a great war.

That is a power that free men can not with safety entrust to any body of men who are not chosen by popular vote.

The men who drafted the Constitution took that position. They refused to give the Supreme Court the right to declare acts of Congress unconstitutional. The court, under John Marshall, seized that power and has constantly extended the limits of its usurpation until today it is the only tribunal in Christendom which scraps the mandates of peoples, presidents, and parliaments.

It is fortunate that a member of the Court has called attention in such striking fashion to the dangers of the situation. Perhaps Justice Clarke's frankness may hasten the day when we will have a Congress which will end judicial tyranny.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Ex Parte Petition of Lola Belle Davenport and Lois Delene Davenport, minors, suing by their next friend, Mrs. Lelia Davenport Vinson, Petitioners, in Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, in Equity.

By virtue of a decree rendered on February 8th Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described real estate—to wit:

All saw mill timber, measuring ten (10) inches and over in diameter, eighteen (18) inches above the ground on the following described land, lying and being in Chilton County, Alabama, to-Wit:

North half of the Southwest ¼, Northwest ¼ of the Southeast ¼, Southeast ¼ of the Northwest ¼, Southwest ¼ of the Southwest ¼, Southeast ¼ of the Southwest ¼, all in section Twenty (20), and west half of Northeast ¼, Section Twenty-nine (29), all in Township Twenty-two (22) Range Thirteen (13) with the right to cut and remove said timber from said land for a period of Three years, with right of way over and across said land for the purpose of removing said timber from said land, together with a Mill Site or Sites on any part of said land not in cultivation for the purpose of erecting and maintaining a Saw Mill to manufacture said timber into lumber during a period of Three years, to satisfy said decree.

This the 9th day of February, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

2-16-3t.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic
Destroys the malarial germs which are transmitted [illegible] the blood by the Malaria Mosquito. Price [illegible]

SIDNEY W. MIMS DEAD

Last Thursday, at the home of his brother, Mr. Mr. Zeb Mims of our city, Mr. Sidney W. Mims, of Birmingham, passed away.

Mr. Mims was 32 years of age and for the past 10 years had been attached to the fire department of Birmingham, with the exception of some time he gave to his country during the war, when he was stationed at Muscle Shoals as part of the government fire department there.

He was a Chilton county boy and his father and mother, who both survive him, are still living on the old homestead three miles south of Clanton.

During the flu epedimic he was striken down and came near to deaths door, but finally got better and returned to his duties. He never entirely recovered from that attack, however, chronic troubles resulting which finally caused his death.

He leaves a devoted wife, a father and mother, six brothers and three sisters of his immediate family, besides a large number of other relatives and friends to sorrow because he is no more.

Funeral Director Martin had charge of the burial arrangements and the remains were given their last resting place at Maple Springs cemetery Friday afternoon.

The Masonic Lodge here turned out and gave to their departed brother from a neighboring Lodge, the last sad, impressive and beautiful rites of this grand order.

The News respectfully tenders its most profound sympathy to the family and friends who are so sadly bereaved.

LOOK OUT! 'RABBI

On February 22 what, to us, i er a unique organization was p ed here.

It is known as the Chilton C
Rabbit Hunter's Association a object is to celebrate each rec birthday of the illustrious "Fat
His County" by a gunless rabbit
Dogs and clubs are the only w admissable.

The offficers elected for the ing year as follows: J. D. C
President; W. W. Jones, Sec
and Treasurer; and J. P. Crun
Corresponding Secretary.

After perfecting the organi the members present proceeded pull off their first perfor
Trusty clubs were shouldered a dogs were loosed from their Almost immediately the ches on and when the shades of e began to gather over the scene, sounded the retreat and the was totalled up when it was that 23 mollie cotton tails h the dust.

TO THE CIVIC IMPROVEM CLUB

While I realize that the gif to the school, yet since I am th beneficiary, I take this meth thanking each member of the for their presenting my room
Grammar School a beautiful tea desk.

Sincerely,
IRA PEGU

Dr. W. S. Wilson, of Mont was here one day last week his farewell bird hunt for the

Car Load of Mules.

I have just received a car load of assorted Mules and can fit you out with any kind you want to suit any kind of work. Call and see me at the New Sales Stables, near overhead railroad bridge.

D. Y. JOHNSON.

FOR SALE—80 acres of land on Lock 12 highway 6 miles from Clanton, will sell or trade for pracitally new Ford Touring Car. Write or see W. J. Bice Rt. 6 Clanton, Alabama. 3times

SALESMAN WANTED to solicit orders for lubricating oils, greases and paints. Salary or Commission. Address THE HARVEY OIL CO. Cleveland Ohio.

The Old Reliable

I am back on the job again, ready and anxious to do all your Shoe Repairing at pre-war figures.

Find me in rear of the Smith and Downs wholesale store in the Taylor Mill building.

N. B. EROWN.

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
ARD & COLLIER
orneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.

Watch Out!

Something is going to happen. Prices are going to jar the bottom out.

Say! Did you know we were paying the highest market price for Chickens and Eggs and all kinds of Country Produce.

F. M. Connell

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central A ama.
ly Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be rupplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is up to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the leabe come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

YOU TAKE NO CHANCE
Shumate Written Guarante
With Each Razor
For Sale by

Alred Drug Co.
CLANTON, ALABAMA

The Business Prospects

What the Leading Business Men of Clanton See and Think About Present and Future Conditions.

A representative of the News, in an effort to get a reliable line on the real business conditions at present, called on the following prominent business men of Clanton, including almost every line of trade, for an expert expression from them as to the present and future business situation and out look. We give you below their honest estimae as hey visualize conditions now:

C. Armstrong, General Merchandise, sees no improvement as yet and is not especially optimistic as regards the future for some time.

Jones Hardware Co., by Mr. C. Fenn Jones, proprietor, can see some little improvement now and hopes for better things as the year advances.

Mr. J. Watts Moore, of Mullins & Moore, General Merchandise, don't see any improvement as yet and the prospect for a full farming acreage his year is rather gloomy. The lack of financial backing is going to cripple the crop for this season.

W. Z. Hodges, Dry Goods and General Store, says business is already on the up grade. Trade is improving and the general feeling is better. Thinks a gradual mend will continue to characterize trade conditions.

J. C. Jones, of Clanton Mercantile Company, see a nice improvement already in business and looks for a gradual climb up the hill until good times are with us again.

V. J. Elmore, General Dry Goods and Millinery, notes quite an improvement in the times of business already and sees no reason why better times should not be expected. Our expectations must not be governed by boom periods of war times but by normal conditions attending peace.

Tom Kemp, General Merchandise Establishment, says: Business is improving slowly and carefully on a sound basis. Sees no reason for grumbling. Everything points to better times as Spring opens up and people get to work. Looks for a fair business throughout the year.

G. O. McKee, Market, don't see much change in business yet, but is hopeful for the future.

Reynolds & Roberts, General Store, say they note some recent improvement in trade and look for still more improvement as the days go by.

B. L. Jones, Groceries, says there is a better time in trade and more [illegible] Believes the worst is over and that business will gradually im[illegible].

Joe Littlejohn, General Fancy and Family Groceries, says his business is holding out splendidly and he has no reason to complain. Looks for gradual improvement as Spring advances.

D. A. Wingard, General Store, don't see much improvement, though believes trade has improved some recently. Thinks we may reach normal times by next fall.

arcus Bros., Sanitary Market, see no cause for complaint. Price adjustments only thing in way. The future outlook is good.

Broadhead & Son, General Department Store: Business seems better for weather conditions and the opening up of Spring work the times will improve and a better feeling awaken in all business. We have passed the danger and have started back to normalcy.

Wyatt and Weldon, Garage and Drug Store: Business has already improved and we look for a continued improvement as the Spring opens up and work can be started.

Fox Auction House. Of course, times are getting better. More money in circulation and a general loosening up in trade conditions. We are going into better times as the winter passes away and Spring puts the wheels to turning.

The New York Store, Shoes, Millinery and Dry Goods and Clothing. Mr. Epstein, the new manager, says he finds business conditions better here than any place he has been. Trade is good and picking up. Looks for continued improvement.

Dr. Upchurch, speaking for the Upchurch Drug Co., says business is much improved and going to continue to grow better as Spring opens up. No use to have the blues now, the worst is behind us.

F. M. Connell, Fancy and Family Groceries, is pleased with conditions and with the outlook. Trade is better now and sees no reason why it should not continue to improve.

Dr. Neighbors, speaking for the Alred Drug Co., is quite optimistic. Business is already greatly improved and conditions indicate that times will continue to loosen up as Spring advances and people can get to work.

W. A. Kemp, Dry Goods and Groceries, sees an improvement in trade now and looks for steady increase as the weather gets better and the usual activities can begin to go forward.

Chilton Hardware Co., can't see much improvement so far. Hopes for better times later on.

Mr. Zeb Mims, speaking for the City Bakery, says there is marked improvement in business with them and he beleives we are going up hill now to better days.

Boys at the Sanitary Barber Shop say their is no doubt about it, business is much better. Money is easier and trade is fine. They are pleased with the outlook and say better times are here now and to stay.

Johnson Drug Co., says business is getting better every day and is on a solid basis.

Clanton Produce Co., says their business is on a boom. Hard times have passed away and the future looks good.

Miner and Easterling, Market and Groceries, says that every day shows an improvement in their trade. The future looks good to them.

M. A. Gore, Wholesale Feed, says there is no room for complaint. Times are getting better right along and the future looks inviting.

Carter Bros. Garage, says business is decidedly on the up grade with them. They see nothing in the future to be afraid of.

Mr. Nix, for the Clanton Bottling works, says there is some improvement in business now and he believes the times will grow better as the year advances.

Mr. Lawrence, of the Lawrence Garage, says it is time to quit grumbling now and get busy. Business is decidedly better and much more money in evidence than has been for some time. The future looks good to him.

Smith & Downs, Wholesale Grocers, are entirely satisfied with conditions. Their business is growing and collections are fine. They believe the worst is over and that solid and sane prosperity is right at the door.

Clanton Motor Co., are selling more cars and parts and doing more business than at any time in a year. They know times are getting better and are absolutely satisfied with the future outlook.

Hugh Jones, General Merchandise, says his business has inproved some over last month. Is not so very hopeful for general improvement before the fall.

SENSATIONAL ARRESTS

The duties of a newspaper man sometimes lead him into very unpleasant circumstances. Such is our position this week in regard to the arrests Tuesday afternoon of four of the young people who are well known here. Three of them having been practically reared among us.

The whole unfortunate occurance is linked up in some way with the killing, or drowning, of young Dewell Barrett, near Dollor, in Coosa county, some three weeks ago.

Mr. Jno. W. Henley, one of our best and most prominent citizens, a practical saw mill and public work contractor, accepted a contract to cut timber and lumber for the Alabama Power Company, across the river, near Dollar, some months ago. He gathered up a crew of laborers and established his camp over there. Two of his sons, Fred and Earl, were with him.

Later on Miss Jewel Popwell, daughter of Mr. Robert Popwell, also a well known and long time citizen of Clanton, accepted a school in the same vicinity and went over there also.

Rumor has it that the young man Barrett, who is dead, frequently was at the Henley camp and possibly, worked some for Mr. Henley. Later he disappeared and after a three weeks search his body was found in a creek with evidence of having been murdered. The father of the dead boy put out a reward, the State and county also added quite a sum to the reward, and Mr. Barrett also employed the Bodeker Detective Agency, of Birmingham to work on the case.

No one knows what they may have developed in the way of evidence, but at their instigation and with warrants sworn out by them, three suspects were jailed at Rockford on Monday and on Tuesday here, Messrs Chas. Levy, Fred Henley and Robert Tippett and Miss Jewel Popwell, together with a colored man named Geo. Williams, were also arrested.

These are the facts as we have been able to obtain them and we print them as matters of news for our readers, but with the earnest hope that nothing will really develop to connect any of these young folks with the sad affair. May the clouds of trouble for these families all speedily roll by and absolute vindication for the arrested ones follow upon investigation.

Parties Released Here.

A writ of habaes corpus was sued out and made returnable before Probate Judge Reynolds at 9 A. M. Wednesday. At that hour no one appeared for the prosecution, and no evidence was offered. A discrepancy was also discovered in some of the warrants, so the judge ordered them all released from custody.

Whether or not this will terminate the unpleasant incident, we do not know. But we hope these young people may be permanently removed from any connection whatever with the Coosa County tragedy.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

Alabama Power Company
A Domestic Corporation

Alabama Power Company has frequently been represented to the public as being a foreign corporation.

This is not correct.

Alabama Power Company was organized in December, 1906, by citizens of Gadsden and Wetumpka. It was chartered in this State and exists as a domestic corporation under its laws.

A majority of its directors are Alabamians.

Its 1,300 employes are all citizens of Alabama and many of them own property in this State.

Its entire pay roll goes to employes in this State.

It purchases in the State practically all supplies for its operation.

Its product, electricity, is used in Alabama for the benefit of Alabamians.

The extent and growth of its system has in the past, and continues, to make possible the industrial growth of Alabama. Its future development is needed and will be devoted to supplying the industrial power requirements of Alabamians.

Its rates and regulations are fixed by the Alabama Public Service Commission.

Its service lines extend over 25,000 square miles of territory.

It serves and pays taxes in 25 counties and 50 cities and municipalities.

It serves directly 1,000 industries in Alabama with power, and these industries give employment to 150,000 Alabamians

It serves indirectly 500 additional industries in Alabama, employing many thousands more.

It serves directly 17,000 consumers with lights and indirectly 35,000 more through other distribution companies.

It paid $150,000 in taxes in 1921.

It has spent in Alabama, since 1912, $21,000,000 in pay-rolls and for supplies and materials.

It is spending $8,000,000 in the construction of Mitchell Dam and $5,000,000 more for transmission lines and other facilities, giving employment to 2,000 men, in addition to its regular operating forces.

Of the total amount of securities outstanding, of both Alabama Power Company and Alabama Traction, Light & Power Company, over 70 per cent are owned in the United States.

It is an Alabama institution, and of its 2,934 shareholders, 2,850 live in the following cities and towns of Alabama:

City—	No. of Stockholders	No. of Shares
Albertville	1	1
Albany	100	347
Anniston	161	763
Auburn	64	440
Alexander City	9	38
America	19	324
Alabama City	9	14
Ashland	16	44
Attalla	20	43
Aldrich	3	6
Athens	1	5
Akron	1	27
Birmingham	[illegible]	3,417
Bessemer	30	83
Bankhead	13	11
Blocton	16	68
Boaz	9	26
Burnsville	1	[illegible]
Blue Mountain	1	5
Belle Mina	1	1
Burnwell	3	9
Benton	2	2
Belle Ellen	1	6
Brookwood	6	14
Catherine	1	4
Calera	1	6
Coleanor	2	15
Camp Hill	17	68
Carbon Hill	7	30
Clanton	121	456
Cordova	11	30
Centerville	1	6
Chase	3	5
Craigford	2	2
Corona	3	2
Cooper	6	6
Cuba	3	1
Columbiana	1	6
Decatur	13	24
Dora	23	78
Dadeville	3	8
Empire	12	31
Easley	19	87
Evergreen	1	1
Eden	6	6
Easonville	3	28
Elmore	3	2
Flat Top	2	4
Florence	7	18
Gadsden	183	483
Goodwater	3	6
Gorgas	187	317
Guntersville	17	31
Gantts Quarry	11	41
Gurley	1	1
Gamble Mines	3	3
Glencoe	3	2
Haleyville	3	3
Helena	3	14
Hobson City	2	2
Huntsville	146	419
Hartselle	3	24
Holt	3	5
Jasper	65	627
Jacksonville	30	146
Jones	3	9
Kellerman	1	6
Lafayette	2	2
Leeds	27	63
Lineville	10	25
Littleton	2	18
Leesburg	1	1
Lanthrop	3	3
Marion	48	292
Muscle Shoals	[illegible]	[illegible]

City—	No. of Stockholders	No. of Shares
Madison	1	2
Mountain Creek	3	16
Morris	[illegible]	[illegible]
Montgomery	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Mobile	[illegible]	[illegible]
Marion Junction	[illegible]	[illegible]
Minter	[illegible]	[illegible]
Murray Cross Roads	[illegible]	[illegible]
Midway	[illegible]	[illegible]
Munford	[illegible]	[illegible]
McFall	[illegible]	[illegible]
Notasulga	[illegible]	[illegible]
Oakman	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ozark	[illegible]	[illegible]
Oneonta	[illegible]	[illegible]
Opelika	[illegible]	[illegible]
Oxford	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ohatchie	[illegible]	[illegible]
Prattville	[illegible]	[illegible]
Piedmont	[illegible]	[illegible]
Pell City	[illegible]	[illegible]
Parrish	[illegible]	[illegible]
Paynes Bend	[illegible]	[illegible]
Palos	[illegible]	[illegible]
Piper	[illegible]	[illegible]
Prospect	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ragland	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ramer	[illegible]	[illegible]
Red Star	[illegible]	[illegible]
Reform	[illegible]	[illegible]
Rockford	[illegible]	[illegible]
Roanoke	[illegible]	[illegible]
Russellville	[illegible]	[illegible]
Republic	[illegible]	[illegible]
Rock Castle	[illegible]	[illegible]
Riverside	[illegible]	[illegible]
Summit	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sheffield	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sylacauga	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sycamore	[illegible]	[illegible]
Snowdown	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sayreton	[illegible]	[illegible]
Searles	[illegible]	[illegible]
Shelby	[illegible]	[illegible]
Selma	[illegible]	[illegible]
Scottsboro	[illegible]	[illegible]
Smith's Station	[illegible]	[illegible]
Springville	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sweet Water	[illegible]	[illegible]
Talladega	[illegible]	[illegible]
Tallassee	[illegible]	[illegible]
Tarrant	[illegible]	[illegible]
Talladega Springs	[illegible]	[illegible]
Townley	[illegible]	[illegible]
Tuscumbia	[illegible]	[illegible]
Tuskegee	[illegible]	[illegible]
Tuscaloosa	[illegible]	[illegible]
Uniontown	[illegible]	[illegible]
Verbena	[illegible]	[illegible]
Vida	[illegible]	[illegible]
West Blocton	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wilton	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wadley	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wetumpka	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wellington	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wylam	[illegible]	[illegible]
Waverly	[illegible]	[illegible]
Walker Springs	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wilton	[illegible]	[illegible]
Woodstock	[illegible]	[illegible]
Woodward	[illegible]	[illegible]
Yolande	1	2
York	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total Number Alabama Stockholders	2,850	Shares [illegible]

All the money originally provided by foreign interests has been subordinated as to both principal and interest to all other obligations of the Company, including its preferred stock. Even the interest on these subordinated securities is not payable except as earned over and above the claims of all other securities. There has never been a cent of dividends paid on any stock except preferred stock issued principally to Alabamians during the past two years.

The 2,850 owners of preferred stock in Alabama hold a security superior in standing to that of any stock or bond held or owned by any foreign interest.

Alabama Power Company
By THOMAS W. MARTIN, President

One Year One $

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your hou[se]keeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change. Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don't forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. f your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt-Edge.

Sewing Machines

is my Middle Name, Come in and let me fit you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins

We Do Job Printing.

New City Garage

Just opened up. In the Honeycut & Thompson shop building.

All kinds of repair work done in First Class style and at short notice. New prices on work cut donw to suit the times. Come and see.

MaddOx & Williams

Farmers Save Money

By buying your Cotton Seed Meal Fertilizer early as the price is advancing most every day. We have just received a lot of High Grade Meal and bought it at the right price. We will give you the advantage of the raise by buying now. Try a sack of our high grade ELECT FLOUR.

Clanton Mill & Gin Co.

J. A. MADDOX, Manager.

Listen!

Save Money!

Just received a brand new lot of Ladie's and Misses OXFORDS at pre-war prices, ranging from $2.75 to $4.50. Same shoes sold just one year ago at from $5.00 to $7.50.

Remember

We carry staple Dry Goods, Men's Suits, Hats, Caps, Shoes and Staple Groceries. See us before you buy.

Hugh Jones'

Cash Store

A. N. Miner W. J. Easterling

Miner & Easterling

Meat Market and Grocery Store

We wish to announce to the people who trade in Clanton that we have opened up our new Meat Market and Grocery Store in the building formerly occupied by G. C. Armstrong, and are prepared to sell you anything you want in the way of Fresh Meats, Vegetables, Groceries and anything you want to eat:

Our service shall be the very best in town. Our policy will be to furnish our customers what they want when they want it.

We have a telephone in our store and will make a specialty of attending to any and all orders given us, making a delivery in the quickest possible time.

Your Trade Will Be Appreciated

Miner & Easterling

Clanton, Alabama.

Let Us Do Your Work

VERBENA

Verbena no doubt has one of the best disciplined and well regulated schools in Chilton county. The faculty consists of Prof. W. E. G. Sutton, Mrs. Cordelia Ward, Miss Essie McCloud, Miss Martha Lewis, and Miss Lena Franklin.

In addition to the very efficient work done in the class rooms, the playground work is not overlooked as is very nearly always due in most schools. The playing is properly supervised by each teacher according to grades. When the recess and noon time is up as a result of the proper exercises each pupil is ready when he or she enters the building to do his or her text book work properly.

The school has enrolled 230 pupils there being four school wagons bringing in the pupils from the four schools that have been consolidated with the Verbena school.

More than $700.00 worth of improvements has been done on the present school buildin this year. The only drawback at present is the lack of a new modern up-to-date Junior High School building with the proper equipments for carrying on the work in such an excellent location as the town of Verbena is. We can truthfully say it would be hard to find any school having a higher toned grade of pupils and a more refined and cultured parents than this community has.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Editor Chilton County News:—

In behalf of our committee, I am glad to announce that the linen showers of last Friday afternoon, given for the benefit of the Central Alabama Hospital, were a signal success.

The large attendance, upon the occasion of the showers, as well as the large number of serviceable gifts, was very gratifying.

Our Committee extends thanks to Rev. P. G. Carter, who, as representative of the Chamber of Commerce, gave an inspiring address on "Our Hospital," the advantages to be derived by us through its establishment in our midst, etc. etc. The audience was appreciative and viewed from every view point through its mental camera "Our Hospital."

We extend our thanks to Dr. Marcus for his timely remarks. His reasoning, prompted by honest judgement, convinced his hearers, that the hospital, as a material investment, will be a paying one.

We thank Mesdames P. D. Wilson and J. Q. Wade for their hospitality and indispensable services rendered upon this occasion.

Lastly, we thank a generous Clanton public for the gifts that crowned with success the showers of last Friday afternoon, when our Central Alabama Hospital became the beneficiary.

Very truly,
MRS. M. L. WHITE.
Chairman of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Central Alabama Hospital Committee.

W. T. Garner, Optomist.

Will locate here. He will be at the store of Mr. P. L. Jones every second and fourth Saturday and the Monday and Tuesday following. Anyone desiring him to call at their home drop him a card. Come and have your glasses fitted. All work guaranteed, and prices to suit the times.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid politlcol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Circuit Court.—In Equity.

State of Alabama Complainant vs. J. F. Pool Defendant.

By virtue of a decree rendered on the 13th day of February Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the court-house door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described property to wit:

One Five Passenger Ford Automobile. 1919 Model, to satisfy said decree.

This 20th day of February, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER.
2-23-3t. Register.

MULES FOR SALE

I have for sale at my home in Clanton, Ala., 8 good mules that I used on my farm on the river. Ages from 4 to 10 years old, also 7 mule colts age two and one half to three years old.

2 16-2tp B. F. HIGGINS.

We do Job Printing.

MACEDONIA

Rev. W. P. Lowery filled his regular appointment here last Saturday and Sunday and preached two excellent sermons, and there were more present on Sunday than were at the ball game mentioned last week. Good.

Mr. Marvin Nix of Docena, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nix a few days ago

The Macedonia basket ball team played the Maplesville boys at the latter place last Friday. The score stood 14 to 7 in favor of Macedonia.

Miss Mary Bean,teacher at this place, spent the week end with her parents of Plantersville.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Circuit Court.—In Equity.

Esther Duncan Racine and Gordon Mooney, Minors, who sue by their next friend Sallie S. Duncan Complainant, vs. J. E. Gowan Defendant.

By virtue of a decree rendered on the 8th day of February Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described real estate—to wit:

Lots Five (5), Six (6), Eleven (11), Twelve (12), and the north thirty (30) feet of Lots Thirteen (13) and of Lot Fourteen (14) in Block Thirty (30), formerly Twenty-two (22), East of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, as shown by the official map of the Town of Clanton, recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama. Sold for division among the joint owners thereof. All of said land being in Chilton County, Alabama, to satisfy said decree.

This February 10th, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.
2-16-3t.

MORTAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Under and by virtue of a mortgage and the power therein contained executed T. C. McSwain by Isaac Kendrick and his wife Maggie Kendrick on the 25th day of October, 1919, and recorded in Mortgage Book No. 176, on page 128 in the office of the Probate Judge of Chilton County, Alabama, the undersigned T. C. McSwain, will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash on the seventh (7) day of March, 1922, at the Court House door, in the Town of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, at Twelve (12) o'clock noon, the following described property, consisting of real estate, lying and being situated in Chilton County, Alabama:

One lot, beginning at the Northeast corner of Section 27, Township 21, Range 15, in the town of Cooper, Alabama, Chilton County, running thence west 55 yards, thence southeast 185 yards to Poplar Street, fronting and running thence east on said Poplar Street 55 yards, thence in a Northwesterly direction to the point of beginning, lying and being in Sections 26 and 27, Township 21, Range 15.

Default has been made in the payment of the debt which is secured by the above mentioned mortgage and this sale is made for the purpose of foreclosing the mortgage and paying the debt and all cost and expenses of foreclosure, including a reasonable attorney's fee, which is provided for in said mortgage.

T. C. McSWAIN, Mortgagee.
G. C. Walker, Attorney. 2-16-3t.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,
THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

McDonald's Variety Store

BIRTHPLACE OF CUT PRICES

Come to see us. Shoes, Dry Goods, Staple and Fancy Groceries

McDonald's Variety Store

VERBENA, ALABAMA.

Railroad Avenue—East of the Postoffice

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

The New York Store

See the NEW YORK STORE before buying your Winter Needs. Our Stock is complete! Remember, our goods MUST be satisfactory to our customers.

The New York Store

Clanton, Alabama.

W D Spigner

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, MARCH 9, 1922. NUMBER 26

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C McSWAIN, Editor.

Wednesday Bridge Club.

On last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Carrie Mullins was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge Club. It was found at the conclusion of several interesting games that Mrs. Hosea Downs held the highest score and was awarded the club prize, a dainty set of tea napkins. The hostess served sandwiches, ice tea and cake to the following ladies: Mesdames Hart, Hosea Downs, Arthur Johnson, Guy Higgins, Heard, John VanDerveer, Grady Reynolds, and Miss Bettie Mullins.

Round Dozen Meets.

The Round Dozen Embroidery Club held its regular meeting with Mrs. Hugh Simpson, on last Wednesday afternoon. After some time spent in conversation and figer work, the hostess served a lovely salad plate with cream and cake to the following ladies: Mesdames Watts Moore, Luckie, Armstrong, Barney Roberts, Macy Jones and McSwain.

Mrs. Percy Pitts Hostess.

On last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Percy Pitts was hostess to the Thursday afternoon, at the residence of her mother, Mrs. W. A. Reynolds. After some time spent in conversation and needle work and several vocal solos by Mr. Percy Pitts the hostess served a salad plate, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Guy Roberts.

Study Club Meets.

The Study Club held its regular monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. H. F. Chandler. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Barney Roberts. Business taken up. It was voted to have a public library down town, and as soon as a place was located to have a book shower. Also to have charge of the grounds at the hospital, with Mrs. John Vanderveer as Chairman of these. After which the program was taken up: Subject, Household Bacteriology, Paper, History of Bacteriology, Mrs. Gowan; Bacteria, Our Secret Friends and Foes, Mrs. Wilson; Talk, relation of Bacteria to Disease, Dr. V. J. Gragg; Discussion, what have the Pacific and Far Eastern Questions to do with Armament? Leader; Mrs. Hester, assisted by Mesdames B. M. Roberts and McDavid, the hostess served a salad plate with hot coffee and cake, assisted by Mrs. Grady Reynolds. The visitors to the club were Mesdames Gragg Harper and Tesh of Denver Colorado.

Missionary Society Meets.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church held its regular business meeting on Monday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Pearson. After which the hostess served ice cream and cake. The society adjourned to meet with Mrs. McDavid on the third Monday.

Miss U. L. Jones spent several days last week with her parents, returning to Birmingham Sunday afternoon.

Miss Irene Jones, who is a student at Montevallo, came home for the week-end returning Monday afternoon.

Mrs Hugh Jones and daughter, Mary Courtney, returned home Sunday, after spending several days in Birmingham as the guests of Mrs. Geo. Fuqua.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Reynolds and sons, spent several days last week with her mother, Mrs. Morgan, in Montgomery.

Mr. Renfro Mullins spent several days in Montgomery this week.

Miss Mollie Hannon spent several days in Marbury with Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Blassingame.

Misses McMillan, Branch and Keith spent Sunday in Montevallo.

Dr. N. S. Johnson spent Wednesday in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. John Browder and Dr. and Mrs. Denmon motored to Montgomery Sunday.

C REESE MULLINS SAYS SOME MORE

Clanton, Ala., March 6, 1922.

Editor The News:—

Will you be so kind as to give me space in your paper again this week to reply to Judge Reynolds' article appearing in your last week's issue, addressed to me. I will promise you to be as brief as possible, and did not think that I would write any more at this time, as the Judge seems to want to give his feeble defense is perfectly pitiful. No wonder he doesn't want to write any more. The Judge reminds me of the old colored minister who, it was said, made three points in every sermon. First he took his text, second he left it, and third he never returned.

The Judge took his text on leaving $10,476.72 in the county treasury when turned over to Judge Deason, now he leaves this and tells you that this amount was in the Treasury on Dec 31, 1910, and that on Jan. 13th, 1911, he called all the Commissioners together, paid off quite a lot of debts owing by the county and leaving the amount then due by the county for the bridge across yellow leaf creek at Jumbo, which was contracted by him and his Commissioners to the Roanoke Bridge Co., and which I understand, amounted to $2600.00, which has been a matter of common knowledge and besides this. I understand that the county was owing quite a good deal for other bridge work at that time. So you see it is impossible for him to ever return to his text to having turned over the county to Judge Deason with the amount above stated in the Treasury and the county out of debt, as he did not turn the keys over to Deason until, as stated by him, Jan. 15th, 1911. The Judge in replying to Mr. Oliver, you see, is still going after his Republican Commissioners. When he says no one had any encouragement to put the county in debt, and that it was done over seventy-five per cent of the voters of the county. Well, I don't remember exactly about this, but I do remember that the roads was built and after this was done we all know, as Mr. Reynolds says in his letter, that the county had to issue $200,000 of bonds to take care of the out standing warrants against the county for building the roads. This we all know was inevitable, as well as the Judge, and as he now says and knows this is the only way all roads are built.

I also remember, and this is what I cannot understand, that when the Judge made his race for Probate Judge six years ago, he made the county bond issue, the issue in his campaign and said if Popwell was elected the bonds would be voted on the people, and that he was opposed to this, but after his election he was in favor of the bond issue and voted for it. Now, what do you think of that? The Judge is still chafing about that little good roads we had built during Deason's term and seems to think it was a great mis[illegible] I [illegible]fer to building the road from Lock 12 to Maplesville and the State Highway through our county, in all a distance of sixty-five miles, at an expense of $2000,000, and claims it was done by Judge Deason and his Democratic associates. I have never said that the building of these roads was a mistake, but I have said and repeat that their maintainence has, in my Judgment, been awfully neglected, and the scraping of the Highway last summer a shameful waste of the peoples money. Now let's figure a little and see if the building of these roads was a mistake. I am told by experienced road builders and engineers, that this class of roads we have would cost from $4000.00 to $5000.00 a mile, well to be on the safe side, we will say $4000.00. Then the sixty-five miles of good roads we have, or did have, is worth $260,000.00. So you see if this was done by Judge Deason and the Democrats, they have saved the county $60,000 in spite of all Judge Reynolds could do and say. The Judge winds up his letter to me by jumping on Mr. Parnell, for the careful and diligent manner the Registrars took in getting the voters qualified, and tries to convey the idea that they was showing special favors to the Democrats, but the Judge seems to be left alone. All that long list of his associates which was signed to his first accusation, seems to have dropped him. I wonder how many Democrats attention has been specifically called, by letter, or in person, by the Judge, to the importance of paying up their poll tax and registering. Well the Judge says that he and the Commissioners has nothing to do with the valuations of our lands. No, and I have never said that they did. The Judge says these values are fixed by an appointee of a Democratic Governor, one in each county. Yes, we all know that, but the Judge does say that the Commissioners Court, over which he presides, has the right, and does fix the Tax rate. Now why could they have not come to our rescue and lowered our tax rate. When Judge Deason turned over the keys to Judge Reynolds in 1917, our rate of taxes was, as I remember $1.50, but where are they now? Where has Judge Reynolds and his Commissioners put them to? They have put them up to the limit of the law. I say whats the use in spending any more time in a newspaper controversy with a man like this. So good by, and good luck.

Respectfully,
C. REESE MULLINS.

HOSPITAL OPENING

The management of the Central Alabama Hospital have at last reached that point where their untiring efforts and faithful work has enabled them to see the splendid realization of their dreams. The beautiful Hospital building is complete inside and out and is a lasting tribute to their judgement and vision, and a monument to their fidelity and faith in the ultimate advancement of our city and this section of our State.

Next Wednesday they are inviting all the people of this entire section to come, see and pass judgement upon their work. They want you all to come, and we assure you, that a visit to this sanitarium will not only repay the trouble, but you will go away surprised and gratified, that right here at home we have an institution that cannot be surpassed, in kind, by any city in the South.

As for the News, with all our heart we congratulate the Management and Stockholders of this institution, and we especially congratulate our city and county in possessing such a modern and complete adjunct to the march of progress on which we hav stated.

Our old time good friend, Mr. T. J. Henderson, of Mt. Creek, was in to see us yesterday. He is the same jolly and clever "T. J." as of other days and we sure were glad to see him.

Registration Notice.

The Registration Books will be opened for the Registration of all qualified electors of the county, at the Court House in Clanton, from March 13 to 17 inclusive.

J. W. E. Gulledge, Chr.
J. R. Parnell,
H. B. Oliver, [illegible]
Registrars Chilton Count[illegible]

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Reds. Single Comb. Eggs now ready—15 for 75 cents. All fresh and fertile. Address,
3-2-4tp G. M. Durbin,
Clanton, Ala., Route 3.

THORSBY NEWS

A moving picture show will be given Thursday night, March 9th. at Bates Hall under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Ekblad Thursday afternoon, March 9th.

Mrs. F. C. Paramore has returned from a week-end visit to her daughters, Mesdames Oneal and Perry in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Bentley were called to Birmingham Monday, March 6th, on account of the death of Mr. Bentley's sister, Miss Marie Bentley.

Mr. S. M. Bice of Montgomery is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bice.

Band practice has been changed from Wednesday and Friday nights to Friday night and Sunday afternoon. The band is making rapid strides under the able leadership of the band leader, Mr. J. O. Johnson. New instruments are arriving every day. Membership has reached thirty and several new members are expected to come in soon.

Grover A. Bice has been appointed Postmaster at Thorsby.

FOR SALE

A nice five room dwelling with large garden on Main Street, two blocks from Court House.

Cash or reasonable terms. A bargain. THOS. A. CURRY, Atty.

SPELLING MATCH

We are requested to announce that there will be a Spelling Contest at the Court House Tomorrow (Friday) night, at 7:30

It will be the Men vs. the Women and the admission will be 10 cents.

The old blue back spelling book will be used.

The proceeds will go to aid the building fund of the Methodist Church. Everybody come out and help this splendid cause along.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

On nex Sunday, March 12, the Baptist District Sunday SchoolConvention will convene with the Mulberry church, about 8 miles west of Clanton. All are invited to attend and take part.

The speakers on this occasion will be Messrs J. L. Johnson, Buford Lawrence, Prof. Griffin and P. G. Carter.

On the following Sunday, March 19, the Convention will meet at 10, A. M. with the Maplesville Baptist church. Speakers will be Messrs H. A. Harris, W. J. Ruddick, E. G. Moore and Miss Ethel Gregg.

Churces composing the Mulberry District are: New Cedron: Bethsalem, Pilgrim's Rest, Sardis, Shiloh, Highland, Macedonia and Union Springs.

I wish to urge every church to send delegates to these meetings.

W. T. Johnson, Sec'y.

FOOD, FEED AND FERTILIZER MAN

Hon. A. L. Kimbrough, the efficient Food, Feed and Fertilizer Inspector of the State Agricultural Department, was in our city Wednesday, looking after the interest of his department

Mr. Kimbrough is one among the few public servants of this day and time, who realizes the duties attendant upon his job and who attends to them jam up. He is courteous and kind to everybody and is one of these honest, big-hearted fellows, who is not given to the popular habit of trying to "grind his axe" for future slaughter, but goes forward, in the even tenor of his way, with an eye single only to being absolutely fair, just and honorable in all his dealings.

NEW POSTMASTER

On March 5th, Mr. J. J. Pickens, who has served us so efficiently as postmaster for quite a long time, retired from the position and was superceeded by Mr. W. M. Bean, the newly appointed incumbent.

While we all regret to see Mr. Pickens no more on the job, and thank him sincerely for the many courtesies he has extended to us during his administration, we feel like that in Mr. Bean we will also have an official [illegible] to all in his power for the acc[illegible] of the public

Our good wishes follow Mr. Pickens in whatever avocation he may now engage in, and we extend to Mr. Bean our congratulations and bespeak for him the friendship and co-operation of all the patrons of the office.

MRS. THOMAS DIES

On last Monday, at 11, A. M., Mrs. Elizabeth Nancy Thomas, a widely known lady of this section, breathed her last. The Reamins were taken the following day to Kellyton for burial.

Mrs. Thomas was 74 years of age and was formerly a Maxwell, one of the old time families of Central Alabama which left a most enviable stamp upon the history of this part of the State.

The deceased left three sons and five daughters living who sadly mourn her taking off. Her sons are: Messrs J. M. Thomas, of Colorado, Texas. F. M. Thomas, of Birmingham; C. D. Thomas, of Clanton. Her daughters are: Mrs. Robt. Goodgame, of South Pittsburg, Tenn; Mrs. Mable Levy, of Sylacauga; Mrs. W. D. Spigner, and Misses Emma and Bessie Thomas of Clanton.

The entire community unite in extending their sincere sympathy to the sadly bereaved ones.

Mrs. F. L. Popwell.

Master Edmund Lakeman, of Lock 12, was here last Friday.

Miss Eufaula Mahan, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mahan, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents at Mitchell Dam.

Mr. J. M. Mahan, an employee of the Ala. Power Co., spent Sunday with home folks near Lock 12.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Prof. W. E. G. Sutton, of Verbena, was in Clanton Friday.

Flem Higgins spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks.

Misses Francis Moore, Tommie Parrish visited Cooper friends last Saturday and Sunday.

Messrs W. T. Ennis and W. N. Taylor went over to Centerville last Sunday and spent the day with friends.

Prof. S. N. Davis, of Route 6, was in Clanton last Saturday. He is one of the teachers in the Enterprise school.

Mr. J. M. Culp, of Route 7, was here last Saturday looking after business matters.

Miss Lona Thompson, of the Central City, Selma, was a Clanton visitor last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Celia McMillan, visited friends at Calera last Sunday.

Seven ministers were present at the District Sunday school Convention at Thorsby last Sunday.

Mr. J. B. Gray, of Birmingham, spent Sunday with his family at Mountain Creek.

Mr. Herbert Peterson, one of the operators at Cooper, spent Sunday in Thorsby with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson.

Miss Della Williams, of Verbena, was among those who attended the District Sunday School Convention at Thorsby last Sunday. Miss Williams is one of the leading Sunday school workers of Chilton.

Mr. Tom Robinson, who holds down a good position in the Capital City, was a Thorsby visitor last Sunday.

Messrs Cliff Dansby and Mack Thomas, of Verbena, were in Clanton Sunday visiting friends.

Mr. M. L. Tucker, one of the Western Newspaper Union men of Birmingham, was in Clanton last Friday looking after business matters.

Mr. J. M. Parrish, of Beat 16, was among those in town last Saturday.

Rev. W. W. Robinson, of Beat 16, was here Friday.

Rev. J. E. Champion, of Thorsby, filled his regular appointment at Mt. Carmel church Sunday.

Tom Allen, of Coopers, was in Clanton last Friday.

Mr. H. Nelson, of Montgomery, was a pleasant caller at the News office recently.

Miss Irene Jones spent Saturday and Sunday here with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Jones, returning to Montevallo Monday to resume her studies.

Miss Mary Popwell, of the Montevallo college, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and

Mr. J. P. Parrish was in town Monday. He wants his friends and all others to remember that he can supply them with the Medicine they need; since he represents the Watkins Medicine Company.

M. N. Allen, of Coopers, was here Monday.

Mrs. W. C. Erwin, was here Monday as the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Culpepper.

Mr. J. B. Hardy, of Maplesville, was here Monday on business.

Mr. John S. Catts, of Verbena, was here Monday.

Mr. C. A. Retherford, of Mitchell Dam, was here Monday looking after personal affairs.

Rev. C. D. Messer, of Thorsby Route 1, filled his regular appointment at Pleasant Grove Church Sunday near Rev. F. A. Gibson's. His text was: "The wages of sin [illegible] death, but the gift of God is eternal life."

E. S. Jones, of Jonestown, [illegible] Clanton Monday wearing his usual smile.

Mrs. J. Wiley Foshee and her daughter, Miss Florence, of Coopers, were here Monday shopping.

Reverent P. G. Carter went to Birmingham today to attend the State Baptist Rally held in that city.

Mr. J. T. Thom[illegible] about two years ago [illegible] ton's best citizens. [illegible] Dallas's, was here Monday [illegible] of our worthy Blacksmith, Hugh Thompson.

Messrs E. B. Binion, Grover Binion, and Lum Binion of Stanton, were here Monday.

Our good friend and simon pue DEMOCRAT, Hill J. Foshee, of Maplesville, was among the out of town people who was here last Monday.

PARENT-TEACHER'S MEETING CLANTON GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Friday, March 10th, at 2:30, P. M.

Music, "Onward Christian Soldiers."—All.
4th grade number—Mrs. Vines.
Music by 4th grade pupil.
Address—Dr. Jas. Graham.
Music—5th grade pupil.
5th grade number—Mrs. Thomas.
Music—5th grade pupil.
Business.
Social hour and Refreshments.
Hostesses:—Mrs Gowan, Mrs. C. Reyn[illegible] Mrs. G[illegible] Harris, Mrs. Rees[illegible]
Program Commit[illegible] liams, Mrs. VanDerveer, Mrs. McSwain, Mrs. Grady Harris.

OPENIC DAY PROGRAM

PROGRAM AT BAPTIST CHURCH WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15, 10 O'CLOCK, A.M.

Invocation and Scripture Reading, Rev. P. G. Carter.
Welcome Address, Dr. V. J. Gragg.
Response, Dr. J. M. Graham, Mr. W. A. Gulledge.
Music, High School Band.
Address, Rev. Frank W. Barnett.
Music.
Address, Miss Jessie L. Marriner.
Music.
Invocation, Rev. D. M. Pearson.
Reception at the Hospital at 2:00 o'clock, p. m. Light refreshments served.

The hospital will be open for inspection from 2 to 9 o'clock, p.m. The management cordially invites everybody to atetnd during the entire program at the church, and to visit the Hospital Building in the afternoon.

Buy Garden and Field Seeds in bulk at home and save money. Our prices are much less than the mail order houses and quality superior. Try ours just once and be convinced.

Alred Drug and Seed Co.

PROGRAM

Isabella Consolidated School, March 11th, 1922.

7:45—"Old Maids Association." Time of Playing, 45 minutes.

8:30—"A Poor Married Man." Time of Playing, 2 hours.

Cast of Characters:

Prof. John B. Wise, A Poor Married Man, James LeCroy.

Doc. Matthew Graham, A Country Physician, Harold Smith.

Billy Blake, A Popular College Boy, Wallace Veazey.

Jupiter Jackson, A Black Tramp, Leonard McCraw.

[illegible] "Rome" Mother-in-[illegible] sie Dennis.

June Graham, A little Freshman, Nola D. Reynolds.

Rosalind Wilson, A College Reporter, Jewel Wright.

"Uncle Petes' Sarmon," between acts of "A Poor Married Man," by J. W. LeCroy.

Synopsis for Program.

Act I. Living room in the professor's bungalow decorated by students. The dummy bride. The bride's mother arrives. A befuddled bridegroom. His friends mistake the mother for the bride and relate to the professor Sundry Escapedes of the mother's husband and her daughter. Prof. Wise naturally thinks they are referring to his wife instead of her mother. Getting rid of Socrotes.

Act. II. Same scene as Act I. Billy and Zoie "Professor, I love your wife." Take her mother. Dr. Graham and his modest little daughter make a great impression on the professor. "We'll get a divorce." A peaceful little lunch. "Good lowsey me, I'se poisoned, I'se a dead nigger, I'se a gone coon." Off for Reno.

Act. III. Two years later. A happy family. Marriage is not a failure. Doctor Graham and his bride, June, mistakes Zoie for her new mamma. The professor's night mare. Billy's trip to China. "Marriage is a great and grand success."

TIME—Night of March 11, 1922. Beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

ADMISSION: 15 and 25 CENTS.

Proceeds to go to Public School.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR MARCH 12

AMOS WARNS ISRAEL (TEMPERANCE LESSON)

LESSON TEXT—Amos 6:1-8.

GOLDEN TEXT—Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging: and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.—Prov. 20:1.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Isa. 5:11, 12, 22, 23; 28:1-13. Hosea 4:11; Gal. 5:19-21.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Sends Amos on an Errand.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Prophet Who Was a Friend to the Poor.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Consequences of Self-Indulgence.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Social Evils Yet to Be Conquered.

The kingdom of Israel reached a high state of prosperity in the time of Jeroboam II, and with it came a condition of luxury, corruption and wickedness.

The judgment woe of this lesson is directed against the sins of the upper classes in Samaria. The same sins are practiced in America, in the nation and in the church. With the increase of wealth in America has come luxury, corruption and gross wickedness which staggers the imagination. It behooves all to give a listening ear, for God will eventually enter into judgment. Our lesson is a temperance lesson. Temperance applies to other things than indulgence in intoxicating liquor. Our age is intoxicated with pleasure, pursuit of gain and selfish ambition.

I. Reckless Security (vv. 1-3).

They were blind to the perils that surrounded them. They were living in a fool's paradise, closing their eyes to the approaching storm of judgment as predicted by Amos. They trusted in the mountains of Samaria for their protection. They regarded their city as impregnable. They no doubt regarded the utterance of Amos as impracticable—the dreams of a fanatic.

The tragic thing about this blindness on the part of the chief ones of the nation was they were so puffed up with pride that they failed to read the signs of the times in the light of history (v. 2.) The cities of Calneh and Hamath, though great and mighty, had fallen. To disregard the lessons of history, to dismiss the thought of impending judgment, is to bring near the "seat of violence" (v. 3). Let chaotic Europe and Russia be the red lights of warning to America, and let all injustice and class selfishness be laid aside.

II. Luxury (vv. 4-6).

The luxury of these upper classes in Samaria expressed itself in: 1. Extravagant furniture (v. 4). They had beds of ivory—perhaps wood inlaid with ivory. Costly as their furniture was in that day, it was commonplace as compared to some of the expensive furniture and fittings in our great cities.

2. Laziness (v. 4). They stretched themselves upon their couches—lived lives of indolence. Such is the way of many still.

3. Feasted on delicacies (v. 4). The implication here is that they had their dainties out of season. This is what many of the rich pride themselves in.

4. Adorn their feasts with music (v. 5). They sang idle songs—even invented musical instruments for this purpose. They prostituted the noble art of music to their sensual feasts.

5. They drank wine (v. 6). They were not content with ordinary drinking vessels. They drank from bowls, indicating excessive drinking. They were so mastered by the intoxicating cup that their feasts which were adorned with the refinements of music ended in drunkenness.

III. Failure to Grieve for Joseph (v. 6).

Joseph here stands for Ephraim and Manasseh, his two sons. Ephraim became the principal tribe of the northern kingdom, so Joseph is used as a synonym for the nation. The upper classes were indulging in these effeminate luxuries, entirely indifferent to the groanings of the masses. And whenever such a condition exist in a nation there is need of Amos to thunder God's judgment upon those who are guilty of it.

IV. The Inevitable Issue (vv. 7, 8).

1. They shall go into captivity (v. 7). The northern nation was first in sin, therefore first to go into captivity. What a striking contrast this picture! Instead of lying on ivory couches feasting upon dainties, they are with the suffering exiles.

2. The certainty of the issue (v. 8). It is inevitable because of God's nature. He is a God of justice. He has sworn that judgment shall fall. He is the God of hosts—the controller of the whole universe, therefore none can escape. God hates the wickedness of the world, and He will bring into judgment the men and women who revel in luxury with no concern for the poor and needy. Though God waits long, He does not forget. The only escape for America is repentance.

Abide In Him.

And now, little children, abide in Him; that when He shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed at His coming.—I John 2:28.

Great Mischiefs.

Great mischiefs happen more often from folly, meanness, and vanity, than from the greater sins of avarice and ambition.—Burke.

Chance to Be Saved.

Don't despair of a student if he has one clear idea.—Emmons.

SUGGESTIONS TO AID HAY GROWER

Eliminate Loss and Trouble by Having Clear Understanding of All Terms.

CONFIRM ALL TRANSACTIONS

Quantity, Quality, Time of Shipment and Routing Should Be Made So That There Will Be No Misunderstanding.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Many of the difficulties and losses that shippers of hay encounter would be eliminated if more care were exercised when making sales to see that all terms are clear and practicable and that both seller and buyer have the same understanding of them. This can be accomplished by observing the following suggestions by the bureau of markets and crop estimates, United States Department of Agriculture:

State clearly in all offers or acceptances all necessary factors, including quality and quantity of hay, together with time of shipment, routing, rates, price and terms of payment.

Confirm all sales and purchases by letter, in which is stated all terms as understood by the seller or the buyer, as the case may be.

Upon receipt of confirmation, correct immediately any items that appear to be incorrect.

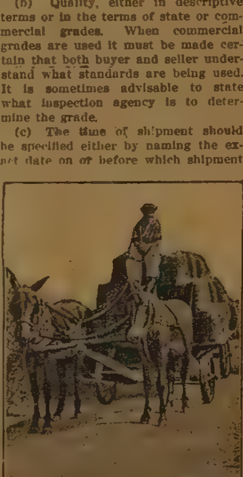
Make Terms Clear.

Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the matter of care in stating terms when making sales or purchases. A greater part of such transactions are usually by telephone or telegraph which makes brevity necessary. A few more cents spent in telephone or telegraph charges, however, is better than several dollars lost on an unsatisfactory shipment. On the part of the shipper, therefore, when offering hay for sale, whether the offer is by wire or letter, the following should be stated:

(a) Quantity by bales, tons, or carloads. If by bails, the size should always be given, and if by tons or carloads, it is well also to state the size of bales that will be shipped, as there is a decided preference in certain sections for certain types and sizes of bales.

(b) Quality, either in descriptive terms or in the terms of state or commercial grades. When commercial grades are used it must be made certain that both buyer and seller understand what standards are being used. It is sometimes advisable to state what inspection agency is to determine the grade.

(c) The time of shipment should be specified either by naming the exact date on or before which shipment will be made, or by using the trade terms of "immediate," "quick," or "prompt," which are given the following interpretation: "immediate" or "rush" is shipment within three calendar days, "quick" five calendar days, and "prompt" ten calendar days, Sundays and holidays excluded in each instance.



Hauling Hay to Railroad Station.

(d) The routing which can be made by the shipper, or that which is desired by the buyer, should be made in the first bid or offer, as it is an important item and, together with the rates applying, may be the determining factor in the transaction. Instead of stating the rate, the point at which the price applies may be given, such as "f. o. b. shipper's track" or "delivered buyer's station."

(e) The price should be stated clearly and it should also be made clear for what length of time the bid or offer holds good and whether or not the acceptance of either is subject to confirmation by the maker.

Send Confirmation Promptly.

When a bid or offer has been accepted and a sale consummated, whether by letter or wire, a confirmation by letter, setting forth in detail all the terms and conditions of the transaction, should be mailed by each party to the other. If, upon receipt of these confirmations, either party notes any item that is contrary to his understanding of the terms he should notify the other immediately by telegraph, so that all errors may be corrected before a shipment is made. If the hay was ready for shipment when the sale was made, however, it may not be possible for the shipper to wait for a written confirmation of the acceptance by the buyer, but he should forward a telegram to the buyer confirming the terms of his original offer and his understanding of the acceptance.

INDUCE SHIPPERS TO BOX GOODS PROPERLY

Chief Aim to Decrease Big Drain on Timber Supply.

Transportation Company Also Endeavoring to Decrease Enormous Waste of Goods Due to Defective Packing.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"Perfect package month," a movement recently promoted by the American Railway Express company in an effort to induce shippers to pack goods better, will receive additional impetus from scientific investigations on box and crate construction by the Forest Products laboratory, Madison, Wis., according to an announcement made by the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

In making a detailed study of boxes and crates, one of the chief objects was to eliminate waste of wood and thus decrease the drain on the timber supply. That this is highly important can be seen from the fact that nearly one-sixth of our total cut of timber goes into boxes and crates. The second chief object of the study was to diminish the enormous waste of goods in transit due to defective packing.

Box Testing Machine.

By the use of special machinery designed at the Forest Products laboratory, boxes can be artificially subjected to the same kind of shocks and strains they receive in actual transport. From these tests it has been possible to determine the correct amount and quality of material to use, the result of defects in the wood, the adaptability of different species of wood, and the best types of box and crate construction.

The results of these investigations have recently been compiled by the Forest Service and published in book form under a co-operative arrangement with the National Association of Box Manufacturers.

In addition the book includes the standardized specifications for boxmaking tentatively adopted by the American Society for Testing Materials, and also a key to the identification of the chief wood species used in the construction of boxes and crates. It can be obtained from the Secretary of the National Association of Box Manufacturers, Conway Bldg., Chicago.

GREEN FOOD FOR FOWLS.

It is very easy to have a few flats in the basement to raise green food for the chickens before it is time for the early spring grass on the vacant lot.

Oats, wheat, rye, barley, corn or other greens may easily enough be produced in quick succession. By planting a few days apart, a stand of the green food two or three inches in height may be had. By using judgment, a fresh flat of green food may be had for the poultry every few days. After the green tops have been devoured replant, set in a reasonably light place and have another crop within a few days.

MAKING SUCCESS OF GARDEN

Soils Must Be Deep, Mellow and Friable and in Crumbly State When Plowed or Hoed.

The success of a garden is largely due to the manner in which the soil has been prepared. The soil must be deep, mellow and friable, so that it will be in a crumbly state when plowed or hoed. That is, the minute particles of the soil must be granular, each maintaining its form and consistency. When such soil is wet, each portion is enveloped by a film of water which is retained for some time. The plant food is thus dissolved and this water-laden plant food is taken by the roots of the plants.

LIMITED SUPPLY OF MANURE

Behooves City Gardner to Secure Fertilizer Needed for Soil in His Garden Plot.

The supply of manure in cities is now quite limited, and it behooves the city gardener to secure enough somewhere to fertilize his garden plot, especially if his soil is heavy and lacking in organic matter. Where manure cannot be obtained, a number of crops, such as Irish potatoes, beans, peas, and tomatoes, can be grown fairly well by the aid of commercial fertilizers. Street sweepings are unsafe to use if they contain much oil or tar—United States Department of Agriculture.

TRADE MARK
F.S.R
REGISTERED

F.S. ROYSTER GUANO COMPANY

Norfolk, Va. Richmond, Va. Lynchburg, Va.
Tarboro, N. C. Charlotte, N. C. Washington, N.C.
Columbia, S. C. Spartanburg, S.C. Atlanta, Ga.
Macon, Ga. Columbus, Ga. Montgomery, Ala.
Birmingham, Ala. Baltimore, Md. Toledo, Ohio

Do not be afraid of going slowly, but of standing still.

Freshen a Heavy Skin

With the antiseptic, fascinating Cuticura Talcum Powder, an exquisitely scented, economical face, skin, baby and dusting powder and perfume. Renders other perfumes superfluous. One of the Cuticura Toilet Trio (Soap, Ointment, Talcum).—Advertisement.

"When the Devil Was Sick—"

Two old gobs had been at odds ever since the day of their enlistment. They were due for discharge within a few days when one of them was taken seriously ill and the doctors broke the news to him that he had small chance to live. He summoned his old-time enemy to his bedside.

"Mac," he said plaintively, "they tells me I'm goin' to kick over. If I do, will yer fergit our fights and sort of let bygones be bygones?"

"That'll be a'right," said Mac, in great embarrassment.

"And, Mac"—here the old gob's voice grew stronger—"if I ever get well and ye remind me I ever said that, I'll knock that fat wooden block off yer shoulders."

Painful Then.

"Do your shoes ever hurt you?"

"Not until I have to pay the bill."—New York Sun.

PURE WATER WITHOUT COLOR

Has Blue Tint Only When a Large Quantity of It Is Under One's Observation.

Water in its purest states is practically colorless, except that it has a blue tint when a considerable amount of it is viewed together. The water of Loch Katrine in Scotland is nearly pure chemically, although it contains a very small amount of carboniferous matter, which gives it a faint brown tinge. Water, under some circumstances, looks as if it was full of color, and this happens when light thrown upon it is reflected back again, as in the case of a soap bubble and of a rainbow, the latter being formed of drops of rain that reflect back the sunlight, broken up into its different parts, which resemble the colors of a rainbow. Stagnant or "bad" water seems to have colors on it because of the different forms of life growing on its surface and forming layers which reflect the light back and forth. The waves of light interfere with each other and cause colors. Perfectly pure water has a taste from the salts dissolved in it and from the atmospheric gases, nitrogen, oxygen and carbon dioxide which it contains.

Life seems to be made up of ardent desires and vain regrets.

Nu-Way The Stretch is in the Spring

No Rubber
but More Stretch
in Nu-Way or
EXCELLO
RUBBERLESS
SUSPENDERS
—and a Year's Wear Guaranteed
Ask Your Dealer
If he hasn't them, send direct, giving dealer's name. Accept no substitute. Look for guarantee label and name on buckles.
Price 75c
Ask for Nu-Way Garters and Hose Supporters
Nu-Way Strech Suspender Co., Mfrs., Adrian, Mich.

Mistaken Idenetity.

Helen was a freshman at Short ridge High school and was proud of her new ring bearing the school insignia.

The waiter at the restaurant where she went said something that to Helen sounded like "Shortridge?" to which she promptly replied, gazing at her ring, which she supposed he had noticed: "Yes, are you from there, too?"

The waiter looked bored, and then repeated his request: "Short ribs of roast beef?"—Indianapolis News.

Objection to Scrapping.

Mermaid—What is that sign you put up?

Neptune—Visitors are forbidden to throw ships in the water.

He beat the train to the crossing a good many times

"It's never touched me yet," he explained when they pointed out the risks.

That's the answer a good many people make when they hear that the drug element in tea and coffee often harms nerves and health. They say it's never touched them yet.

Sometimes they only think it hasn't.

Wakeful nights, drowsy days, headaches that keep coming more frequently—often are blamed on bad luck when the blame belongs on bad judgment in taking needless chances with harm.

Over on the safe side is Postum, a pure cereal beverage, delicious and satisfying—containing nothing that can harm nerves or digestion. Thousands who used to try their luck with tea or coffee are enthusiastic over having found safety and satisfaction in Postum.

It's worth your while to make the test with Postum for ten days. Postum is a delightful drink for any member of the family, at any meal.

Your grocer has both forms of Postum: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Postum for Health
"There's a Reason"

Made by Postum Cereal Company, Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

CALOMEL GOOD BUT NEXT DOSE MAY SALIVATE

Is Mercury, Quicksilver, Shocks Liver and Attacks Your Bones.

Calomel salivation is horrible. It swells the tongue, loosens the teeth and starts rheumatism. There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel. It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Calomel is a dangerous drug; besides, it may make you feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than treacherous calomel your money is waiting for you.—Advertisement.

Must Have Been.

"Look me in the face, sir."

He raised his eyes timorously.

"Now, sir, deny, if you dare, that you married me for my money!"

"It must have been for your money!" he faltered.—London Tit-Bits.

WORKS FOR CHILD MUST KEEP WELL

Mothers in a Like Situation Should Read This Letter from Mrs. Enrico

Chicago, Illinois.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious trouble. I had tried doctors and all said the same—an operation. At first I only felt the pain on my left side, but later I seemed to feel it on both sides. I am a power sewing-machine operator and have a little girl to support. I work in a tailor shop and that line of work has been very slack this year and I am home part of the time. I do not like to take any chances, so I consulted my friends, and one lady said, 'Take Lydia Pinkham's medicine,' so I did. I have felt better right along and am in good enough health to go to work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash to all."—Mrs. MARY ENRICO, 459 N. Carpenter St., Chicago, Illinois.

Often the mother is obliged to support her children and good health is necessary. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the medicine you can depend upon. It is a medicine for women's ailments and the relief it brought Mrs. Enrico it may bring to you. Keep well by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

ACHES AND PAINS—SLOAN'S GETS 'EM!

AVOID the misery of racking pain. Have a bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy and apply when you first feel the ache or pain.

It quickly eases the pain and sends a feeling of warmth through the aching part. Sloan's Liniment penetrates without rubbing.

Fine, too, for rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, sprains and strains, stiff joints, lame back and sore muscles.

For forty years pain's enemy. Ask your neighbor.

At all druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.

Sloan's Liniment (Pain's enemy)

Clear Your Complexion of pimples, acne and other facial disfigurement. Use freely Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. Good for eczema, itching skin, and other skin troubles. One of Dr. Hobson's Family Remedies.

Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment

Don't cough

THE violent paroxysms of coughing soon eased by Dr. King's New Discovery. Fifty years a standard remedy for colds. Children like it. No harmful drugs. All druggists, 60c.

Dr. King's New Discovery
For Colds and Coughs

Make Bowels Normal. Nature's way is the way of Dr. King's Pills—gently and firmly regulating the bowels, eliminating the intestine clogging waste. At all druggists, 25c.

PROMPT! WON'T GRIPE

Dr. King's Pills

MAMY OPERATIONS BEING RESUMED

STATE WIDE BUSINESS PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN WITH BLOWING IN OF BLAST FURNACES

COAL PRODUCTIONS INCREASE

Preparing For Probable Strike Emergency; Will Not Effect Alabama District

Birmingham.—Any strike in the soft coal fields of the United States next month will bring about increased demands in Alabama and preparations to that end have been made. The strength of the United Mine Workers of America in Alabama has been 'ncreased some lately, but there is hope that cessation of operations here will be avoided, conditions not existing in this district as elsewhere. Resumptions of operations at blast furnaces in Alabama are also bringing about an increased demand for coal and movements down the Warrior River, now that the coal storage plant is completed at Mobile and functioning, are showing a better tonnage.

The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company looks after all of its raw material sources when there is improved activities in its finishing industries and the starting up of two blast furnaces will necessitate an increase in coal and coke also. It is rumored that another furnace will be started up shortly.

Industrial conditions throughout the state in the iron and steel line are picking up steadily and as was predicted a few weeks ago the real turning point is being met this month.

Railroad officials report improved conditions in traffic of coal, pig iron, steel and other products. Preparations will also be made by the transportation companies just as soon as it is apparent that there will be a call for extraordinary amounts of coal, by reason of an emergency after the last of this month.

Syrup Rates Benefit Farmers

Montgomery—Alabama farmers will benefit materially from a recent ruling by the Alabama Public Service Commission, permitting the exercising of a transit privilege in the transportation of syrup and molasses by the A., B. & A., A. C. L., C. of G., S. A. L., Western of Alabama and Southern Railroads. Under the provisions of this ruling, farmers will have the privilege of shipping their molasses or syrup to cold storage plants where its original freshness will be preserved, and keeping it there until they are able to dispose of it at a favorable price, when they will have the privilege of shipping it out again to market. The transit privilege provided will enable them to store either of these products in transit to market by the payment of the same freight rate as for a direct haul.

ALL TOGETHER FOR AUBURN

Birmingham.—The tour of Alabama by General Robert L. Bullard in the interest of the Greater Auburn Campaign has given the movement of the alumni to raise one million dollars for necessary building and equipment a great impetus during the past ten days. General Bullard has been heard by large and enthusiastic audiences of representative citizens at Montgomery, Auburn, Mobile, Eufaula, Columbus, Georgia, Birmingham, Gadsden, Jacksonville, Anniston, and other places over the state. Accompanied by Dr. Spright Dowell, president of Auburn, and Chas. F. DeBardeleben, general chairman, at most of the engagements, the people of the state have been given first hand information of the needs at Auburn. While it is the intention of the alumni in charge of the campaign to conduct more or less active speaking campaigns in every county in the state at the time the actual canvas is made, the greater effort is now being devoted to completing the county and city organizations preparatory to making a canvas for funds.

Heavy Rainfall Reported

Anniston.—Almost continuous rains for the past week, following a previous rainy season of as great duration in February, have made many northeast Alabama roads almost impassable. All of the dirt roads that have no chert or macadam surface are practically past using, people from various parts of the county report. The rainy season in this county is declared by many the most prolonged in years.

Alabama Woman Honored

Mobile.—Mrs. James Hagan, Mobile, has received notice of her appointment as chairman for Alabama on the finance committee of the National Democratic Executive Committee. The appointment was made by Cordell Hull, chairman of the national committee. The finance committee is considered one of the most important of subcommittees of the national organization. Mrs. Hagan is president of the Alabama League of Women Voters.

Farmers Backing Farm Bureaus

Montgomery.—Following the spread of the farm bureau movement in less than one year into all sections of Alabama, resulting in 37 counties already having well organized, active county farm bureaus, information has reached the state office of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation that Clay, Henry and Washington Counties will each begin organization work at once, to be followed in short order by Marshall, Macon and other counties. Within two months after opening permanent state offices, the headquarters of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation has become one of the most active offices in the state, and is receiving a hearty response from every section of Alabama to its soil building, cooperative marketing and general rural improvement program being put into operation by the county farm bureaus. The 37 counties already organized are Lauderdale, Limestone, Madison, Colbert, Lawrence, Morgan, Franklin, Etowah, Cherokee, Lamar, Calhoun, Cleburne, Talladega, Shelby, Tuscaloosa, Pickens, Sumter, Hale, Coosa, Tallapoosa, Chambers, Lee, Elmore, Autauga, Choctaw, Bullock, Montgomery, Barbour, Pike, Dale, Geneva, Covington, Conecuh, Escambia, Baldwin, Mobile.

Cooperative Buying Plan Adopted

Anniston.—C. K. Snelling, Calhoun County's new county demonstration agent, has inaugurated a movement for cooperative buying of fertilizer which, it is believed, will mean a considerable saving to the farmers of the county this year. Mr. Snelling has outlined his plan to the Anniston Chamber of Commerce and also a plan he is making for the organization of a county truck growers' association, through which produce can be sold at Camp McClellan for the use of the citizen soldiers in training there this Summer and also shipped to markets.

Gas Please

Shreveport, La.—The sale of a birthright for a mess of pottage in Biblical days finds a parallel in the report that Lillie Taylor, 25-year-old negress, who was declared by the Louisiana Supreme Court to be the [illegible] valued from $10,00[illegible] time ago sold one-half of her royalty to oil concerns for $5,000 and gave the other half to her attorneys, who conducted the suit. The negress is a resident of Dallas, Tex., where she engaged in washing and house cleaning for white people.

Additional Sentence For Escapes

Montgomery—Hereafter all escaped state convicts, following their recapture, will be taken before the circuit court in the county where they made their escape and given an additional sentence of from 1 to 12 months imprisonment, in accordance with Section 6866 of the Code of 1907. This, in addition to the forfeiture by the escaped convict of his short time privilege.

Dairy Herd For Prison

Montgomery.—A complete dairy building, with a special milking room and all modern equipment, is ready at Kilby prison camp for the 78 head of pure bred Guernsey cattle, which have just been purchased by the state. In addition two large silos for the storing of green feed have been erected, also two special barns for housing the herd.

Ask For Bids On Highway

Lafayette.—Considerable interest is being manifested in Lafayette in the fact of the state highway commission asking for bids on the building of the highway from Lafayette to the Randolph County line, near Roanoke. Something like $100,000 will be spent in building the road and work will be furnished a great many now out of jobs.

Pay Up Campaign On

Birmingham.—This is a little circular that has been distributed by the Associated Retail Credit Men: "If all the money due the merchants of Alabama was paid this week business would be increased to such an extent that hundreds of men would be put to work at once. Those men would have needs to supply which would give still more men employment, the benefit accruing would be incalculable. 'Pay-Up-Week' is here. It is a nation-wide movement, designed to quicken prosperity and to restore business to normalcy."

Weevils Appear Early

Mountain Creek.—Already the boll weevil scare is on in this section. It is claimed that many of the pests have been induced by the warm weather to leave Winter quarters.

Mulga Citizens Elated

Mulga.—The people of this section are very much elated over the prospects for the proposed hard surface highway soon to be built by the county from Ensley through Mulga to Wylam and the surfacing of the new grade on to the port.

Oxford Unit Mustered In

Anniston.—Oxford's unit of the state national guard, battalion headquarters company of the Fourth Alabama Infantry, has been mustered in to the service

Libel on American "Kiddies."

In America children are even more "modern" than they are in this country. Two American children had a very bad effect on a family living quietly in Susseex.

After these two children had gone back to the States, the vicar called and said, quite playfully, to the youngest daughter of the house: "Well, my dear, and what do they call you?"

"Cut that out," was the reply. "I guess you ought to know, Mr. Preacher. You put the christening dope across me."—London Tit-Bits.

Men are the architects of their own misfortunes.

Wealth is as dross; righteousness is worth untold gold.

KEEPING WELL MEANS A CONSTANT FIGHT AGAINST CATARRH

Many diseases may be described as a catarrhal condition. Coughs, colds, nasal catarrh, stomach and bowel disorders are just a few of the very common ills due to catarrh.

Fight it! Fight catarrh with a remedy of assured merit, a remedy which has a reputation for usefulness extending over half a century—

DR. HARTMAN'S

PE-RU-NA

Tablets or Liquid Sold Everywhere

Net Contents 15 Fluid Drachm

ALCOHOL—3 PER CENT.
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food by Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS CHILDREN
Thereby Promoting Digestion Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC
Recipe of Old Dr. SAMUEL PITCHER
A helpful Remedy for Constipation and Diarrhoea, and Feverishness and Loss of Sleep resulting therefrom in Infancy
Fac-Simile Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

Mothers Know That Genuine Castoria Always Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

$50.00 REWARD

$50 will be paid for any case of eczema, itch, spasmodic cramp, catarrh, head colds, sore throat, headache, ear ache, toothache, bruise, rising, rheumatic pains or piles that R. V. Turner's Quick Relief Salve fails to relieve. Dr. Turner's Quick Relief Salve is one of the most powerful, penetrating germ-killing, pain-relieving and healing salves known to science. Will penetrate and remove corns in few hours without pain. Large box by mail 60c. Agents wanted. Write for special terms. R. V. Turner, Box 1122, Montgomery, Ala.

"Moana Necklaces," Broadway's latest sensation. Made from real roses. Permanent, rose fragrance. All colors and odors. Length 50 in. Beautiful flower creation. $2 postpaid. Norman H. Girk, Box 101, E. Rochester N Y

Have Your Character Read From Your best clear photo for 50 cents. Will return photo Shepherd, 119 Prospect St., Newark, N. J.

DROPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE

Short breathing relieved in a few hours; swelling reduced in a few days; regulates the liver, kidneys, stomach and heart; purifies the blood, strengthens the entire system. Write for Free Trial Treatment.

COLLUM DROPSY REMEDY CO., Dept. C. E., ATLANTA, GA.

Baby Chicks, Thorobreds. 20 breeds. Right kind, prices. Immediate shipment. Catalog A. T. Livingston Hatchery, Draw 37, North, S.C.

BARGAINS

Pianos, Organs, Phonographs and Player Pianos

TERMS to suit you. Good used ones at half price. Three $1.00 records for ONE dollar. Catalogues mailed free on request. Write for our special prices and save money

E. E. FORBES & SONS PIANO CO.
Birmingham, Ala.

Liggett & Myers

KING PIN PLUG TOBACCO

[illegible] "[illegible] good kind"

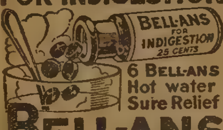
Try [illegible] will know [illegible]

What's in a Name?

Knicker—What is this peace dollar?

Bocker—A misnomer—try giving just one to your wife.—New York Herald.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION



6 BELL-ANS
Hot water
Sure Relief

BELL-ANS

25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

MITCHELL EYE SALVE

brings relief to inflamed eyes, granulated lids, styes, etc. A simple, dependable, absolutely safe remedy. 25c—all druggists or by mail from HALL & RUCKEL, Inc. 147 Waverly Pl., New York

Helps WEAK SORE EYES

Feminine Friendship.

"Is Bessie a friend of yours?"

"Yes—what has she been saying about me now?"—Judge.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Experienced.

Kirk Elder—Man. I'm shocked tae hear you're gaun tae get marrit tae a lassie o' nineteen.

Angus—Och, she's the same age as ma first wife when I marrit her.—Tit-Bits.

Her Case.

"She is perfectly crazy about cake and bread making."

"I see; a regular dough nut."

One seldom hears life alluded to as a lottery except by men who draw blanks.

Ferocious "Hairnet."

My little nephew and I were out walking one day when we heard a buzzing sound in the trees. He went closer to investigate and as usual "curiosity killed the cat"—for the little fellow was stung severely on the arm. I told him I thought it was a hornet that had injured him.

When he returned home, his uncle, seeing him crying, questioned him and received this answer: "Oh, uncle, I heard a buzzing noise in a tree and one of those hairnet things bit me."—Chicago American.

Inviting Trouble.

"Would I consider him a prudent man? I can't say that I would. Exactly the opposite, in fact."

"What reason have you for holding such an opinion of him?

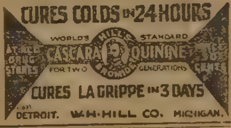
"I happen to know that he lets his wife and the lady who expects to succeed her have charge accounts at the same store."

A blind horse can never see what he's driving at.

The less we have the easier it is to share it with others.

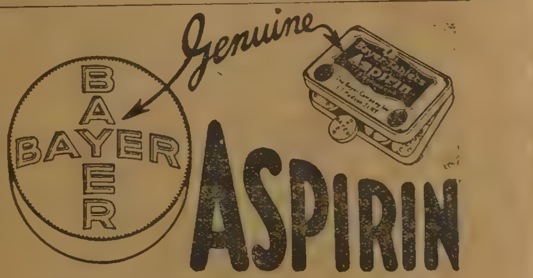
Cuticura Soap Clears the Skin and Keeps it Clear

Soap 25c, Ointment 25 and 50c, Talcum 25c.



Early Cretans.

Excavations in Crete have established the existence of a people whose form of civilization was the earliest in Europe. A huge palace has been unearthed at Knossos with a drainage system described as "absolutely English."



WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin.

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

Colds	Headache	Rheumatism
Toothache	Neuralgia	Neuritis
Earache	Lumbago	Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions.

Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

STANDARD FOR 50 YEARS

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC

Not Only For Chills, Fever and Malaria

BUT A FINE GENERAL TONIC

If not sold by your druggist, write Arthur Peter & Co., Louisville, Ky.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY..........Editor
J. L. JOHNSON,..........Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

That Bonus-bill sure gets the count on Congress every time they tackle it.

If all the union miners strike April 1st who is going to keep their home pots boiling?

The Volstead act has about become a joke even in the house of its friends.

One thing we can say for the weather. It's splendid for puddle ducks, tad-poles and bull frogs.

One thing about it. The farmers wont have to work so long now to make a crop as if they had got started January 1st.

If that new party developes this time we judge it will be named the "Boll Weevils" as it seems to be a borning in the family of the farmers bloc.

Another party is preparing to start for the North pole. Cook and Perry will soon be advertised as the greatest prevaricaters of this century.

Eggs are down to 15 cents per dozen again. Cut the bacon in proportion and we believe we can live again every Sunday.

The mystery of the death of Dewell Barrett, the Coosa county boy, is apparently as far from a solution as it was at first.

We are for the laboring man first, last and all the time, but this is not the time to strike—even if there ever has been such a time.

The breath of a person who is a habitual drinker of bootleg liquor exhales more different odors in a week's time than were ever dreamed of in a soap factory.

We are willing not to complain much about the weather so long as we are immune from a northwest blizzard and a southwest twister.

The Mayor of Savannah, Ga., is out in an article claiming that liquor is brouht in to all seaport towns about as safely now as in the days long ago. He must be trying to boost the population of his town.

The recently appointed Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia was sworn in last week He is a negro and he assumes now the job of bossing 34 white women.

Always when you write anything for publication be sure to sign your name. We wont publish the name unless you wish it, but we always wish to have it on file as protection to the paper.

Many compliments have been given us this week on the subject matter of last week's paper. We thank you all. Our earnest desire is to please and a word of encouranement now and then is certainly appreciated.

Three months of the new year will soon be gone and all of our "garden sass" is still in the seed store. We have about decided to plant the whole place in rice and pond lillies as they are the only two crops we can think of that are sown under water.

Passing the Buck Again.

The disposition of Muscle Shoals has developed into an intensely live wire for Congress to handle. Capitalists on the one hand are demanding that Henry Ford be entirely eliminated from any connection whatever with that project, while the people on the other hand are equally insistent that he be given the job regardless of all outside considerations and legal entanglements.

Capitalists, trusts or syndicates, which ever you choose to call the money power has the cash that can make the pockets of Congressmen and Senators jingle, while the people "back home" have the votes that regulate the tenure of office of these same windy gentlemen. This being true, the situation is fraught with disaster to them no matter which way they dispose of this matter.

To meet this unfortunate situation and enable them to play both ends of the game, Chairman Kahn, of the Naval Committee, which is conducting the preliminary investigation of all the bids for Muscle Shoals, has fallen upon the same old plan that has become so popular with bodies of elected representativs, and suggests that the only way out of the muddle is to appoint a "commission" of five non-elective persons and turn the whole thing over to them for final settlement, with power to do whatever they see fit. That plan is so old and transparent we wonder Mr. Kahn could muster up the nerve to suggest it, but he did.

The people of the whole country are utterly disgusted with this notorious system devised for the purpose of shirking responsibility. This "passing the buck" has become an absolute gorge to everybody, and what we want now is to see Congress, and all other elective bodies, line up and attend to their duties in person and not by proxy.

Just a few months ago the Congress were tearing their hair and swearing strange and terrible oaths because all the matters of government, from hiring an errand boy to fighting a great war, were not submitted to them for adjustment and direction. They have the opportunity of demonstrating their ability and efficiency now and we insist that they go to it.

The people of the United States are looking to them for the final settlement of this Muscle Shoals project and not to some irresponsible "commission." Put up or shut up. Rise to the emergency of service or admit you are incapable and afraid of the future.

Don't ever imagine it is bashfulness that causes the average man to cast his eyes to the sidewalk when he is meeting a lady. It is not that. He is looking at the beauties of nature, and, perhaps, making mental comparisons.

If you have not already registered, be sure to come to town between the 13th and 17th of this month and do so. All people over 45 who owe no back poll tax, can register and vote in the elections this year. Also all who have become 21 this year.

We do Job Printing.

A NEW PROPHET

Mr. W. R. Bradford, of Guntersville, who is a prominent lawyer, has turned prophet and delivers himself as follows:

Sand mountain has developed a holy prophet who, in his evangelistic campaigns, proclaims unto his congregation as follows: wicked, had to be brought to its knees. The Almighty say it, and sent the greatest war in all human history, destroying its millions and causing starvation to its other millions, but the war was sent in vain. The wicked would not repent.

Then a greater affliction, silent but terrible, grim and almost indistinct, the Almighty sent the epidemic of influenzy, takinn its terrible toll of greater millions than the horrows of war. But, Pharo-like, the hearts of men grew harder and their wickedness more vile.

And the Almighty said: I will send the pestilence that devours on the fruit of the land. The crops will I lay waste, and their prosperity will I destroy. So, He sent the pests, among which were the bean beetle and the boll weevil, but man had grow inteligent, and in spite of these disasters, his prosperity increased, and his opulence and wickedness did not cease.

And the Almighty said: Thou hast mocked me, oh, man! behold I will send upon thee the last great afflicion from fate's store. No opulence can withstand it no luxury ever survive it. So He poured out the vials of his wrath upon the favored spot of his creation, these United States, and afflicted the whole world at once with this republican administration.

Behold us now! Shrivled, toil worn and weary, poverty-stricken and sad, in tatters and rags, sack-cloth and ashes, penitent and hungry beseeching forgiveness and begging for membership in the democratic fold.

I have neither the wit to tell it nor the rhetoric to adorn it, but here is a story of the gospel which is hereby committed to the three apestles of the democratic faith. You polish and adorn it, sing it and relate it; speak it and proclaim it to the uttermost corners of out beloved and once blessed and, that all who have mind and memory may grasp and retain it.

Well, Call it That.

In France they make a brew with prunes and call it prunelle.

In America we make our stuff with raisins. Why not call it raisin 'ell?

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Ex Parte Petition of Lola Belle Davenport and Lois Delene Davenport, minors, suing by their next friend, Mrs. Lelia Davenport Vinson, Petitioners, in Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, in Equity.

By virtue of a decree rendered on February 8th Term, A. D. 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity, in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the courthouse door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday, the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922, the following described real estate—to wit:

All saw mill timber, measuring ten (10) inches and over in diameter, eighteen (18) inches above the ground on the following described land, lying and being in Chilton County, Alabama, to-Wit:

North half of the Southwest ¼, Northwest ¼ of the Southeast ¼, Southeast ¼ of the Northwest ¼, Southwest ¼ of the Southwest ¼, Southeast ¼ of the Southwest ¼, all in section Twenty (20), and west half of Northeast ¼, Section Twenty-nine (29), all in Township Twenty-two (22) Range Thirteen (13) with the right to cut and remove said timber from said land for a period of Three years, with right of way over and across said land for the purpose of removing said timber from said land, together with a Mill Site or Sites on any part of said land not in cultivation for the purpose of erecting and maintaining a Saw Mill to manufacture said timber into lumber during a period of Three years, to satisfy said decree.

This the 9th day of February, 1922.
W. D. SPIGENER, Register.
2-16-3t.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic
destroys the malarial germs which are transmitted to the blood by the Malaria Mosquito. Price 60c

A TIMELY PRAYER

Selected.

Harding is my shepherd, and I am in want; he maketh me to lie down on pork benches; he leadeth me beside free soup houses; he restored my doubt in the republican party; he leadeth me in the paths of destrucnion for his party's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of starvation. I do fear evil, for thou art against me, thy politicians and profiteers, they frighten me. Thou preparest a reduction in salaries before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my income with taxes, my expenses runnath over my income. Surely unemployment and poverty will follow me all the days of the Republican administration and I will dwell in a rented house forever.

Car Load of Mules.

I have just received a car load of assorted Mules and can fit you out with any kind you want to suit any kind of work. Call and see me at the New Sales Stables, near overhead railroad bridge.

D. Y. JOHNSON.

FOR SALE—80 acres of land on Lock 12 highway 6 miles from Clanton, will sell or trade for pracitally new Ford Touring Car. Write or see W. J. Bice Rt. 6 Clanton, Alabama. 3times

The Old Reliable

I am back on the job again, ready and anxious to do all your Shoe Repairing at pre-war figures.

Find me in rear of the Smith and Downs wholesale store in the Taylor Mill building.

N. B. EROWN.

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.

Subscribe for The Chilton County News. $1.00 per year.

When the coal and wood man turns you loose as the Spring sunshine ushers in the flowers, you fall automaticly into the hands of the ice man and the berry venders and the last stage of your existence is as tough as the first.

They say the Lord loves the poor and needy just as well as the rich and opulent. Perhaps He does, but He must enjoy the company of the rich the most, for they are mainly the only ones who can afford to meet Him at His churches these days.

Cheer up and get a smile on your mug. Soon the birds will be singing, the flowers blooming and the fish biting and life will be all smiles and sunshine in Dixie then.

A FAILURE

From The Advertiser.

Quite the most discouraging feature of experiments with aircraft is the practical failure of the dirigible. Aeroplanes are much more practical and useful, much less dangerous, and of course there is no comparison in the cost of the two types of ships. The great dirigibles cost around $2,000,0 while the aeroplane costs but a thousand dollars.

The British have already been c vinced that the dirigible is impra ical, and so their government abandoned all plans for the const ction of this type of ship. America however, have not given up hope ships of the Zeppelin type. At le they had not up to the hour of Tu day's disaster when the immense ma went to its ruin at Newport News in which people are known have l their lives. The Roma is the th ship of its class to be destroyed wi numerous passengers on boarb with the short space of 13 months, two them ships owned by America. T Associated Press recalls that of the Zeppelins sent into the air by Germa in the war, 63 were accounted for the allies. It will be remember that after a long and persistent tr of the Zeppelin, the Germans aba oned it for the Gotha, a splendid ty of plane.

Notice

Notice is hereby given that an a plication will be made to the Sta Board of Pardons for the restorat of my civil and political rights. T March 1922.

3-9-2tp Alonza Aldridge

Watch Out!

Something is going to happen. Prices are going to jar the bottom out.

Say! Did you know we were paying the highest market price for Chickens and Eggs and all kinds of Country Produce.

F. M. Connell

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabama, Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is up to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the leaSe come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

YOU TAKE NO CHANCES!

Shumate Written Guarantee With Each Razor

For Sale by

Alred Drug Co.

CLANTON, ALABAMA

OBITUARY

In Loving Memory of Sidney W. Mims.

Who departed this life on Feb 23, at 6:30, and joined God's angels in that home above, that is prepared for such as he, who had lived a life that God would have us all to live. He had been in bad health for several years. He severed his position with the Fire Department of Birmingham a year ago. But never one word of complaint did any one ever hear from him of his suffering. He left a loving wife, father and mother, six brothers and three sisters to mourn for him besides a host of other relatives and friends. But to these, I would commend them to the one who will help us our burdens to bear. Sometimes we are made to wonder why our loved ones are taken from us and in our blindness we almost rebell against our blessed Savior. But we should bow in meek submissions to His will. For the Lord only needed another angel and Sid was the one He needed or else he wouldn't have taken him from you. In a few short years you will be called to go to that home above where all is peace and love. A precious one from us has gone, a voice we love is stilled, a place is vacant in our home, which never can be filled.

We have lost a dear brother, one we loved most dear, but we soon will meet each other in that home up there. My dear companion from me has gone, his voice I hear no more But he is waiting for me, in that happy home where we will part no more.

God in His wisdom has recalled the boom of love He given and tho the body slumbers here, his soul is safe in heaven. His cross he bore, his crown he has won. It is God's way, His will be done.

Sleep on dear son and take your rest. God called for thee, He thought it best. Asleep in Jesus blessed sleep, from which none never wakes to weep.

ONE WHO LOVED HIM.

BAKER SCHOOL HOUSE

Mr. Editor:—

Here we come, asking for a space in your paper, to let the people know how we are. We have had several cases of flu.

D. W. Ward and wife had pneumonia; C. C. Ward and family and daughter Mrytle has the pneumonia also. Hope they will all soon be on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Vickers and Mrs. Dunlap have also been sick. Homer Sorrell was very badly burned Sunday week. He was burning powder and had some in his pockets and it caught fire. His clothes was most burned from his body.

Pass the camphor please to Jim D. Why? Because he saw his girl with another fellow Sunday afternoon.

It seems that Nancy and Delean were somewhat disappointed Sunday. Mabe the shoe repairer failed to put in his appearance, and Delean's fellow was the other fellow that had Jim's girl. Lena has been wearing a doleful expression for the last week. Her Mack came home with Eva one Sunday night from church. Po child such troubles are hard to bear.

James, Luther, and R. V. all dressed up Sunday. Nowhere had they to go. Marie says she is still keeping up her cooking lessons. Why, a certain boy at school looks so straight at her out of his crooked left eye.

Oh yu Addie Mae, and Eula. Cheer up. Don't worry your selves sick, because you failed to see them on your Saturdey afternoon walk to town.

Mr. W. J. Watson and wife spent Sunday at Arthur Cox's.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ward and children spent Saturday night at Mr. Dunlap's.

Mrs. Stanley Thornton of Birmingham is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Baker.

Myrtle is receiving the congratulations of her friends over a new pair of slippers.

Leenard says he don't like the lumber hauling in the rain.

ROUTE 7.

Editor The News:—

Please allow me space in your paper to write a little news from this community, which may be of interest to some of the readers.

The singing at Pleasant Grove in the Harmony song books was enjoyed by a large crowd. There will be a singing in the Harmony on the first Sunday in every month there, beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning and last lasting until preaching time at 11, A. M.

The preaching there was enjoyed by a large crowd. The pastor, Rev. C. D. Messer, can sure tell the good news.

Miss Rosa Bates stopped with Mrs. Minnie Payton Sunday.

Sorry to report Mr. Jeff Best and wife are thinking of leaving our community.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Durbin spent Sunday with Mr. J. C. Maddox and wife.

Miss Vivienne Best was the guest of her grand-mother, Mrs. L. T. Best Sunday.

Mack Durbin has at last got his D. T. Bohon Buggy out of Rev. C. Wilson's Garage, and hiked himself to church in it Sunday.

Miss Jeannette Durbin and Keith Gandy attended prayer meeting at Mt. Nebo Sunday night.

Syble Tidwell and Luther Traywick spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Ella Frith.

Mr. Aaron Roper was the guest of Miss Adelia Durbin Sunday afternoon.

Mack Durbin and wife spent Sunday night with F. M. Durbin and wife.

Messrs "Bud" and Leonard Williams attended the singing at Liberty Hill Sunday afternoon.

Best wishes to all for a good "cotton year."

"BOLL WEEVIL."

SHOULTS

Editor News:—

Permit me space for a few words.

The farmers here are wanting to see a few days of good weather in order to push their preparations for another crop.

Sunday school at Pleasant Grove is making good progress. The young people especially are very punctual in attendance.

Rev. J. D. Deason filled his regualr appointment at this place on last Sunday. The services were well attended and good attention given to two excellent sermons. It is through the gospel message of people that God lets His light shine. Then how thoughtful we should be for this light. Can you not imagine the condition a nation would be in without it. Why not everybody awaken to a full discharge of His duties.

A READER.

MACEDONIA

Vines-Nix Wedding.

Miss Etha Nix and Mr. David Vines were happily, but quietly married last Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nix. They will make their home at Mitchell Dam.

We wish for them a happy and prosperous life.

Mr. C. G. Glass went to Selma last Monday on business.

The young people had an enjoyable tackey party at Mr. Wooley Nix's last Saturday night. Miss Ollie Nix and Mr. Clifton Marchant took the cake.

Mr. Dudley Nix and wife, of Maplesville visited their parents here last Saturday and Sunday.

SPELLING MATCH

The ladies of Circle No. 2 of the Methodist Church will give an old fashioned spelling match at the Court House Friday night at 7:30. The old Blue Back Spelling Book will be used. The ladies will spell against the men. Everybody invited. Admission: 10 cents.

PASTORS AND WORKERS CONFERENCE

The Pastors and Workers Conference will meet Monday, March 13th, at the Mt. Creek Church, at which time Rev. W. R. Seymour and Dr. J. E. Barnes will be with us in the interest of the state work. All pastors and workers, both men and women, are urged to be present. An interesting program and dinner will be furnished. Meeting begins at 10 o'clock A. M. Pastors will please announce and have representatives appointed.

W. A. GOSS.

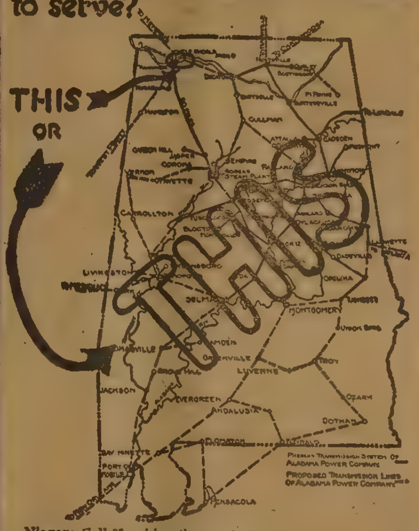
ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

Which territory shall Muscle Shoals be made to serve?



Niagara Falls furnishes the greatest water power in the world. This power is consumed by industries in the immediate community.

Buffalo, 23 miles from Niagara Falls, has recently invested $10,000,000 in a steam plant to supply its demands for power.

Are you willing to see the benefits of Muscle Shoals confined to one locality in the northwestern part of the state of Alabama?

Are you willing to see the ownership, possession and control of this great resource given to one man to be used in his own private industries, and to be inherited by generations coming after him?

Or would you prefer to see its benefits brought to your door for use by you?

An agricultural state like Alabama can never become really great unless the state is dotted with industrial centers to furnish markets to the farming communities.

Can you expect Alabama to reach its topmost position among the states of this country if you give away to an individual its greatest natural resource?

Alabama Power Company

THOMAS W. MARTIN, President.

Reynolds and Roberts

Dry Goods and Groceries

Shoes, Shoes!

We are offering all our Shoes at

Reduced Prices

and a lot of these are

Battle Axe Shoes

Our Work Shoes will go at the Lowest Prices you have seen. Also several hundred pair of Womens' shoes and slippers at low prices.

Phoenix Silk Hose

For Men or Women, just from the Factory are in our stock and at the NEW PRICES.

Ties, Ties, Ties.

Were $1.00, now 25 cents.
Were $1.50, now 50 cents.

Glance over the extra values we are offering today. Every item is one you need daily and one that we can save you money on.

CALICO—Several nice assorted patterns special at 7 1-2 cents per yard.

BLEACHING—Some "Indian Head," and several other grades just as good—all going during the next few days at 20 cents per yard.

SHEETING—An excellent grade for 7 cents per yard. Other grades—10 yards for $1

We are also offering several nice patterns in Ginghams, Voiles etc. Come in to see us before buying.

WE WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

Mens' and Boys' Suits—Suits that sold last year for $30:00 and up, going in this sale for $7:50 to $17;50

Boys' Suits that sold for $7:50 to $18:00 last year, going in this sale for $3:00 to $7:50.

MENS' HOSE—Good grade Lisle, 15 cents per pair. LADIES' HOSE - Good grade 15 cents per pair. CHILDRENS' HOSE—White, Black and Brown, from 10 to 25 cents. Handkerchiefs, Belts, Suspenders, Supporters, etc., marked at below wholesale prices. Come and see and buy. Mens' Collars—Regular 25 to 50 cent Collars going in this sale at 5 to 25 cents.

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your housekeeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change. Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don"t forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal at-attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt-Edge.

Sewing Machines

is my Middle Name, Come in and let me fit you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins

We Do Job Printing.

THE GIRL, A HORSE AND A DOG

By FRANCIS LYNDE

Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons

"STANNIE, OLD BOY, THERE'S YOUR FORTUNE!"

"Your portion of Grandfather Jasper's property was worth, at its latest valuation, something like $440,000. It lies in a perfectly safe repository, situated between 105th and 110th degrees of longitude west from Greenwich, and the 35th and 40th degrees north latitude. When you find it, you will be able to identify it by the presence of a girl with brown hair and blue eyes and small mole on her left shoulder, a piebald horse which the girl rides, and a dog with a split face half black and half white. You will be more than likely to find the three together; and if you make the acquaintance of the girl, you'll be on the trail of your legacy."

And there's that! Stanford Broughton is an attractive young society idler relying on the fortune his grandfather is going to leave him. But the will gives all the tangible property to Sanford's cousin, Percy. And Percy writes Stannie, as in the foregoing, sagely adding, "All you've got to do is to go to work and find it."

So Stannie, shocked into reliance on his own resources, sets out. He finds the dog and the horse. Next he finds the girl. And then he discovers that the "perfectly safe repository" is a drowned-out gold mine.

The mine was flooded and shut down, but as soon as Stannie gets to puttering around it he finds that other people want it, just the same. In fact, they want it bad enough to try to kill off Stannie and the girl's father, caretaker of the mine, in order to get possession. Rifles, dynamite, sulphur fumes—everything goes. Stannie gets his mad up and turns out to be a regular fellow. And as for the girl—she's worth a dozen gold mines.

Francis Lynde wrote this thoroughly good story. He long ago made himself famous by his railroad stories. Dollars to doughnuts he's proud of this mining story!

CHAPTER I.

—1—

Cousin Percy's Little Joke.

I suppose every one has had the experience of waking in the middle of the night to find everything perfectly still and quiet and normal, and yet with the impression persisting that there had been a tremendous crash of some sort just before the waking senses were alive enough to realize it. It was some such razing jolt as this that was given me on the morning when I was called in, with the other members of the family, to listen to the reading of my grandfather's will.

But, first, however, to give some idea of the conditions precedent, as a lawyer would say. My father—good, easy-going, comfort-loving Dad!—never owned what Grandfather Dudley, pursing his thin lips and snapping the words out, called "the money sense." As an architect high in his profession and with fine artistic feeling for the beautiful in buildings, he earned a liberal income—and spent it: or so much of it that there was barely enough left after his death to provide for my mother and sister, and to keep me going, as you might say, in an exceedingly modest manner. Without work, I mean. I may as well confess, at once, that I had never acquired the work habit. I was always "going to," but it was so fatally easy to keep on postponing the chilling plunge. I suppose I had been ready on at least half a dozen occasions to take a dive into some pool with a salary attachment; but always some good friend would bob up to say, "Oh, come on, Stannie, old man; we're lacking just one more to make up the bunch. Don't be a clam. Time enough to settle down when you have to," and then it would be all off.

Besides, you see, there was always Grandfather Jasper in the background. He had money—lashings of it, so we all believed; and it had been a family understanding for years that he intended splitting the bulk of it, fifty-fifty, between my cousin Percy and me. Before we go any farther, let me set it down that Cousin Percy was—and is—all the seventeen different kinds of things that I am not, and never wished to be; smooth, neat, well-groomed, a "grind" in college and a "perfect dear" with the girls, ambitious as the very devil, and measuring his friends by the amount of "pull" they might be able to exert in his behalf; there you have him from the crown of his well-brushed little head to his patent-leather pumps.

"You're a fright, Stannie," he would say, in his carefully polished diplomatic manner—he had a billet in the Department of State at Washington, and was in training for the legation service abroad—"you are a perfect fright. Three whole years out of college, and you haven't done a single, solitary useful thing yet. When are you going to begin? And, incidentally, how long are you going to keep Lisette waiting?"

Oh, Lord!—right there was another knot in the tangle—Lisette. We had agreed to agree—Lisette and I—some six months or so in advance of Grandfather Jasper's death, and we were both perfectly well assured, and had assured each other a dozen times, that my income from Dad's estate wasn't more than half big enough to marry on. You see, it was this way: Lisette was one of a family of four girls in a mighty expensive household, and there wasn't anything to lean on on that side of the fence. Though, of course, we never discussed it brutally in so many words, we were waiting for that fifty-fifty look-in at the will which family tradition declared had already been drawn up, signed, sealed, witnessed and put away in cold storage; otherwise in the safe-keeping of Grandfather Jasper's family lawyer.

All of which may serve to bring us back to that nightmare effect registered at the start. When the Dudley will was taken out of the icebox and read to the assembled members of the family, there were at least two shocking surprises. Jasper hadn't been anywhere near as rich as we had all been thinking he was; that his modest manner of living had been, perhaps, as much a matter of necessity as of choice. Bad investments—of which the family had never heard so much as a whisper—had cut his fortune down to something less than half a million, all told. That was shock Number One; and shock Number Two was strictly personal to me: Grandfather Jasper had left me his love and best wishes, and had willed the money and property—all of it, mind you—to Cousin Percy, giving as his reason that he thought Percy would make better use of it.

Of course, I had everybody's sympathy and condolence—even Percy's, for that matter. My mother wept; and, as I recall it, Lisette managed to compass a tear or so when I told her what had happened; or rather what had so ignominiously failed to happen.

"Whatever will you do?" she faltered. "I suppose you will really have to go to work now, won't you, Stannie?"

"Perish the thought!" I told her; then I gave the good reasons why there was no hope for us in that direction. "A fat chance I'd have to earn any real money. I can navigate a yacht—a little,—drive a motor, ride a polo pony, and play a fair hand at bridge and the other great American game. I think these are the sum total of my shining accomplishments. You needn't return the ring." I grinned, seeing that she was looking at it rather regretfully. "You can wear it on some other finger, you know."

"Yes; I suppose I could do that," she agreed; and I'm blest if she didn't shift it to a finger of the other hand right there and then!

It was less than a week after this little fade-out scene with Lisette that Percy's letter came. This is what it said:

"Dear Stannie:

"I know just about how you felt last week when you heard Grandfather Jasper's will read, and it isn't going to make you feel any better now when I tell you that I knew of its provisions more than a year ago. When the will was drawn, grandfather showed it to me, and gave me a sealed envelope, which I was to open after his death. That envelope, as I knew at the time, contained, among other things, a codicil to the will. By its provisions you are to receive a legacy under certain conditions which were to be revealed to you at such time as I might think best.

"Your portion of Grandfather Jasper's property was worth, at its latest valuation, something like $440,000. It lies in a perfectly safe repository, situated between the 105th and 110th degrees of longitude west from Greenwich, and the 35th and 40th degrees north latitude. When you find it, you will be able to identify it by the presence of a girl with brown hair and blue eyes and small mole on her left shoulder, a piebald horse which the girl rides, and a dog with a split face—half black and half white. You will be more than likely to find the three together; and if you make the acquaintance of the girl, you'll be on the trail of your legacy.

"So there you are, Stannie, old boy; there's your fortune. All you've got to do is to go to work and find it. Perhaps by that time you will have acquired the working habit—which is what Grandfather Jasper hoped might prove to be the case.

"Wishing you great joy in your search, I am.

"Your affectionate cousin,

"PERCY."

Naturally, I had a quiet little laugh over this screed of Percy's, taking it for a joke; a poor joke and in rather bad taste, I thought. In that mood I handed the letter to Lisette for her to read. She didn't laugh, but she did look a bit scornful and put about, if you know what I mean.

"I don't suppose the blue-eyed girl would appeal to you," she said, "though the horse and the dog might. When do you start?"

We discovered that Meridian 105 west of Greenwich split the state of Colorado just beyond Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, and the hunting-ground plotted out for me took in three-fourths of the remainder of the state, a slice of Utah, a good bit bigger slice of New Mexico, with a bite out of the northeastern corner of Arizona, just for good measure.

"Me for the wild and woolly!" I brayed. "Don't you see me rigged out in a nice, hairy pair of 'shaps' and riding hell-bent-for-leather—I believe that's the phrase—over the snow-capped peaks or the boundless prairies, as the case may be? But just imagine Percy the immaculate pulling a bonehead joke like this!"

"You are taking it for a joke?" she questioned.

"Sure I am; and it's a rather rotten one at that, I should say—considering the source."

"Then you won't go to look for the blue-eyed girl with nut-brown hair and the cunning little mole? Think of what you may be missing!"

For just one crazy minute I had a hunch, or a premonition, or whatever you like to call it, that the letter might not be a joke. Grandfather Jasper had always been a bit eccentric—a rich man's privilege and a rich old man's incontestable right. What if he had actually done this thing to me?—a thing scarcely less devastating than cutting me off without a penny? On the spur of the moment I said:

"If I should go, would you wait for me, Lisette?"

She took her time about answering—a good and sufficient plenty of it.

"I think perhaps I'd better not change the ring back, Stannie," she said, sort of wintrily. "If there is any money and you should happen to find it, you would probably fling it all away before you could get back to Boston. Besides, there is the blue-eyed girl; if she should bring you a fortune, you'd have to marry her, wouldn't you? You are big and strong, and—well—er—nice in a good many ways, Stannie, and much too good-looking for your own good; but when you marry—if you do marry—you'd better be sure that the girl has money enough to buy her own hats. I haven't enough, as you know."

"I know only too well that the love-in-a-cottage idea has never appealed to you," I said, with the regretful stop pulled all the way out in deference to the sentimental decencies.

"Not in the least, Stannie, dear; not in the littlest least."

This appeared to be the end of our rather lukewarm love-dream, and to be really honest and aboveboard about it, I am obliged to confess that it didn't break as many bones for me as I suppose it should have. Anyway, a half-hour or so after I had said good-by to Lisette I met Jack Downing; and when he asked me if I didn't want to go with him and a bunch of the fellows for a little spin down the coast of Maine in his motor cruiser, I fell for the invitation so suddenly that he hadn't a ghost of a chance to back out, if he had wanted to.

You Can Figure Me, If You Please, Spinning the Wheel of One of the Nattiest Little Boats on the North Shore.

So, a few hours beyond that touching little scene at "The Rockerie," you may figure me, if you please, spinning the wheel of one of the nattiest little boats on the North shore, with a fresh nor'easter blowing and the sea getting up to give me the time of my young life to hold the Guinevere to her course, nor' nor'east, half a point east, as we lifted the Shoals on our port bow.

In such jolly good company as we had aboard the stout ship Guinevere, three full days elapsed before a thought of Percy or his joke ever entered my head again; and it's a ten-to-one shot that I wouldn't have thought of him, or it, during the remainder of the cruise if we hadn't been obliged to tie up at Rockland for motor repairs. This, as I recall it, was on the fourth day, and it was a dog that made me remember; a mongrel cur that followed the motor repairman down to the wharf; a most disreputable looking mongrel, at that, but—by Jove! he had the magic markings! Half of his face, measuring from a line drawn straight down over the tip of his nose, was black, and the other half was a dingy, dirty white.

So then I did a little rapid figuring on train schedules. If Percy had left Washington as I knew he was planning to, my diplomatic cousin should have been, at that figuring moment, just about due in San Francisco. That being the case, or the likelihood, I toddled up to the telegraph office and sent a message, addressing it in care of the captain of whatever might be the next steamer due to sail for ports in China. All I said was: "Your letter was as funny as an hour in a dentist's chair. Bon voyage to you."

Night found us still tied to the Rockland wharf; and just as we were getting up from dinner in the yacht's saloon, here came a boy with a telegram. The wire was from Percy, and it said:

"Don't be a complete fool. It was no joke at all. Ask my lawyer."

Even then, I didn't go off at half-cock, though I have often been called an impulsive jackass. The thing was still too ridiculous to bite very hard. But farther along in the evening, when I got to thinking it over, and more especially when it was shoved in upon me that I really did owe it to Lisette not to turn down even the tenth part of a chance to provide her with the means of buying her future hats, the die was cast, as the play-writers say. I made some sort of a foolish excuse to Jack Downing and the other fellows, caught a night train for Boston, stopped off at the home station long enough to pack a couple of grips and to tell my mother and sister good-by, and the thing was—oh, no; not done—nothing like that. It was only just begun.

CHAPTER II.

A Needle in a Haystack.

Since my happy hunting-ground began in the middle of Colorado, I took a ticket to Denver by way of Chicago and Omaha. As I recall it now, it was after the train had passed North Platte that I first became sensibly conscious, as you might say, of the fact that the man in the opposite section of the sleeping-car had a little Pullman table set up in front of him, and was studying maps—and blue-prints. He was a rather efficient-looking fellow of maybe thirty-two or three, with dark hair and eyes, and what Lisette would have called a determined nose, and he sported a beard and mustaches, nut-brown as to color, and neatly trimmed.

Farther along we met in the smoking room, at a time when the stuffy little den had no other occupants. Mr. Opposite Section's only cigar turned out to have a broken wrapper, so I naturally tendered my own pocket-case. That served to break the ice and we talked, dribbling along from one commonplace to another until finally Brown-beard said:

"You don't by any chance happen to be a mining engineer, do you?"

"Far be it from me," I laughed; "nothing so useful as that."

"I didn't know," he hastened to say, half apologetically. "I saw you studying maps as we came along."

Now, ordinarily I'm apt to talk a lot too much about my own affairs—I'll admit it; but this was one time when I had a sort of hunch not to. So I merely said:

"I saw you doing the same thing."

"Sure you did," he admitted cheerfully. Then he told me his name—which I got as Bullton, or Bulletin, or something like that—and said he was a mining engineer, which was the reason why he had asked me if I wasn't one.

Past that, the talk ran mostly upon his profession, and since the mysterious hunch was still nudging me, I let him have the floor, so to speak, figuring chiefly myself as a good listener.

"Yes; we do run across some rather queer propositions in our trade," he said, after he had given me some sort of an idea of what a mining engineer's job is like. "In my own experience, for example, the only sure shot I have ever had—or possibly ever will have—got away from me."

It was up to me to bite, and, of course, I did it.

"How was that?"

"The man died," he replied laconically.

That sounded rather interesting, so I gave him another pinch.

"Tell me about it; if it won't bore you."

He grinned good-naturedly—and accepted another cigar out of my pocket-case.

"You'll be the one to be bored. It was this way: A little over a year ago I was on my way to Chicago with a report that I had been making on some properties in the Cripple Creek district. In the Denver-Omaha Pullman I fell in with a nice old gentleman who had been buying himself a gold brick in the shape of a flooded mine. The mine had at one time been a 'producer,' though not by any means what you'd call a 'bonanza.' After a rather extended dividend-paying period—I don't know just how long, though it was some years—the luck changed, as sometimes happens. In sinking and drifting the operators had uncovered another vein which was exceedingly rich. Don't let me talk your arm off."

"Go ahead," said I. "My arms are insured."

"Well, at about the time that they struck this new underlying vein, they also struck water; so much of it as to lead them to suspect that they had tapped an underground lake. The old gentleman wasn't exactly a woolly sheep—in the Wall Street sense of the term. He had owned stock in the mine for a long time, and it had been paying him dividends, right along. So naturally, after the new strike was announced, he was perfectly willing to own more. I don't know what his investment was, but he gave me to understand that it was something like half a million. In less than a month after the deal was closed the mine was drowned and went out of business."

He Grinned Good-Naturedly and Accepted Another Cigar.

"Still, I don't see your lost opportunity," I threw in.

"I'm coming to that. As it happens, my specialty as an engineer is the unwatering of wet mines. The old gentleman had maps and profiles with him; the records of a very careful and excellent topographical survey. I'm reasonably certain that I discovered a way in which that mine can be drained at comparatively small expense.

"I told him I thought I could do it; but I didn't give my plan away. Instead, I made him a proposition; offered to undertake the drainage job at my own costs. If I should succeed, he was to deed me a fourth interest in the property. If I didn't succeed, it was to cost him nothing—sort of a contingent fee, as a lawyer would say."

I laughed. "You made an offer like that to a stranger? and on a mine that you had never seen?"

He grinned good-naturedly and got back at me, quick.

"All business is a taking of chances. As the matter stood at that stage of the game, I had everything to gain and nothing to lose, and the only chance I was taking was in the bet on my own ability as an engineer. The old man was a queer old codger in some respects; as secretive and cautious as an old fox. For example: he had carefully clipped the name of the mine from the blue-prints and other papers, and in all our talk he never once let that name slip, and never even mentioned the name of the district in which the mine was located. But in spite of all this caution he drew up a sort of option agreement with me.

"We found a lawyer and had the agreement drawn up in legal form. The time limit was to be a year, and each of us was to put up a thousand dollars to make the agreement binding. If either of us should wish to withdraw within that time, he was at liberty to do so by forfeiting his ante of a thousand dollars to the other. If neither of us withdrew by or before the end of the year, I was to be at liberty to go ahead with my drainage project, and the agreement bound the owner to turn over a one-fourth interest in the property to me upon th completion of the job and the unwaten ing of the mine.

"At the moment I was under enga ment to go to Peru for a Chicago sy dicate, and I expected to be out of United States for at least six mont and maybe longer. As it turned o the South American job was a lot b ger than I had anticipated, and f that reason the time limit of a y expired a week ago, on the day th landed in New York. Yesterday called upon the Omaha banker, and gave me the cheering information t my old man was dead—had died j a few days earlier."

"Still, I don't see how you have l out," I put in.

"Wait; here comes the funny p of it. Mr. Banker tells me solem that I am remembered in my old g tleman's disposition of some cash le cies made just before his death. I'm to have the thousand dollars wh he put up as a forfeit. I took the pr down and spent some of it within t next few minutes wiring the old m home lawyer, whose name and addr the banker had given me. I brie the situation for the lawyer, said I ready to fulfill my part of the co tract, and asked him to wire me t name and location of the mine. Yo never guess in a thousand years t kind of an answer I got."

I shook my head.

"No; probably not. What was it?"

"It was a bolt from the blue, right. Mr. Home Lawyer wired his client had never owned a shar mining stock in his life, that there w nothing in his papers or records b ing upon the subject of my telegra and that I must be either drun crazy. Of course, he didn't put it that way in his reply, but that is w he meant."

"How do you sort it out?" I inquir

"The lawyer's telegram? I put i that my cautious, secretive old gen man never told anybody at home ab his mining investments; kept the a separate pocket, so to speak. Q possibly he didn't have any other cepting the one I've been telling about, and the one he regarded dead cock in the pit. That woul plain the situation nicely, don't think?"

The story had left me a bit fog as to the present state and stand of the thing, and I said so.

"Well, it stacks up about this w said Brown-beard. "There is a fectly good mine somewhere we us that is worth anywhere fro quarter to a half million, and at present moment it is kicking aro without an owner. So far as I can I'm the only man on top of earth has a claim on any part of it. have no more idea than the man moon where it is 'at.' No; I'm my handsome fortune is a lost d far as I'm concerned."

His mention of a lost dog hit right in the center of the solar pl and I laughed like a fool.

"What struck your funny-bone? demanded, sort of dubiously, I fe

"Nothing," I gurgled; "n worth mentioning—only I'm h for a lost dog, too."

But I didn't tell him any more. we'd smoked a while longer Brown-beard had apologized for ing me listen to his rather long of woe, we took the porter's hi he'd like to have the smoking roo his nightly shoe-shine, and turned

"I could see by his expre sion that he still thought m crazy."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Electric Refrigeration.

A brine tank in place of ice, by means of an electrical inst keeps a mean temperature in frigerator, is growing in popul suburban and country places w is difficult to obtain. Its adv are that it does away with the it gives a dry temperature a geous for the preservation o and there is no slime, dirt or with the use of ice. It is arra freeze a little ice for table use that is desired. It is not an sive luxury, costing about $40 stall in any refrigerator.

Terrens Registration Syste

This is a system of registra titles to real estate introduced Robert Torrens in Australi bears his name. This system cial examination and registra titles has been adopted in A England, New Zealand, British bia and parts of Canada. In a fied form it is used in several the Union, in Hawaii and in th ippines.

Peculiarities of Hair.

Examined through a micros hair may show certain pecu the hairs of different people va siderably. Apart from color, th be coarse, medium, or fine; th they may be round or oval; ture they may be made up of small rings. Certain races h hair of a very distinctive ty

Every Picture Tells a Story

Feel Stiff and Achy After Every Cold?

Do You Have Constant Backache? Feel Old and Lame and Suffer Sharp, Rheumatic Pains? Then Look to Your Kidneys!

DOES every cold, chill or attack of grip leave you worn-out and utterly miserable? Do you feel old and lame, stiff and rheumatic? Does your back ache with a dull, unceasing throb, until it seems you just can't stand it any longer?

Then look to your kidneys! Grip, colds and chills are mighty hard on the kidneys. They fill the blood with poisons and impurities that the kidneys must filter off. The kidneys weaken under this rush of new work; become congested and inflamed.

It's little wonder, then, that every cold leaves you with torturing backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities.

But don't worry! Simply realize that your kidneys are overworked at such times and need assistance. Get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and give your weakened kidneys the help they need. Assist them, also, by drinking pure water freely, eating lightly and getting plenty of fresh air and rest. Doan's Kidney Pills have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Grateful Folks:

Mrs. J. M. Miller, W. Laurel St., Scottsboro, Ala., says: "My kidneys were in a bad condition and I believe the trouble was brought on by a cold which settled in the small of my back. Dizzy spells came over me and colored specks floated before my eyes, blurring my sight. My back ached from morning until night and I was so weak I could just about drag one foot after the other. Upon the advice of a friend I started to use Doan's Kidney Pills. Less than one box rid me of this trouble entirely."

J. C. Eubanks, farmer, R. F. D. No. 2, Marion, Ala., says: "I took a severe cold and it settled on my kidneys, causing my back to pain. I was in awful misery. My kidneys acted too frequently and the secretions contained sediment. I was troubled with headaches and dizziness and was generally run down. One of the family recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me and I got a box. I took them as directed and they soon relieved me of all my trouble."

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

At All Dealers, 60c a Box. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfg. Chem., Buffalo, N. Y.

Self-Supporting.

An attorney of Los Angeles adver-ed for a chauffeur. Some twenty-l responded and were being ques-ned as to qualifications, efficiency whether married or single. Final-turning to a negro chap, he said:

"How about you, George; are you rried?"

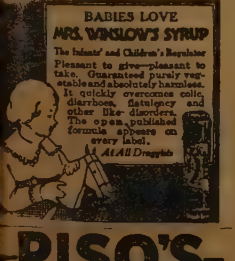
uickly the negro responded:

"Naw-sir, boss, naw-sir. Ah makes h own livin'."—Judge.

Mrs. Laura Kimbrough

olumbus, Ga.—"Doctor Pierce's lden Medical Discovery is certainly grand medicine for stomach trouble. ave suffered greatly all my life from isordered stomach. My food seemed set so heavy, no matter what I ate. I ve taken many of the medicines ad-rtised for this trouble, but none of m has ever come up to Golden Medi- Discovery for giving prompt and ting relief. Whenever I have a slug-h liver, with sick-headaches and nstipation, I have found Dr. Pierce's easant Pellets a very efficient rem-y. They do not gripe or cause any er distressing condition such as a nt many pills do."—Mrs. Laura Kim-ough, 3503 Erlene Avenue.

Obtain this Medical Discovery of ctor Pierce's at your nearest drug ore, in tablets or liquid, or send 10c. Doctor Pierce's Invalids Hotel in ffalo, N. Y., for trial package, and ite for free medical advice.



BABIES LOVE

MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP

The Infants' and Children's Regulator

Pleasant to give—pleasant to take. Guaranteed purely vegetable and absolutely harmless. It quickly overcomes colic, diarrhoea, flatulency and other like disorders. The open published formula appears on every label.

At All Druggists

PISO'S

SAFE AND SANE for Coughs & Colds

This syrup is different from all others. Quick relief. No opiates. 35c everywhere

The man who is unable to work and smoke at the same time usually smokes.

A GOOD TONIC FOR OLD PEOPLE

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Restores Strength and Prevents Illness.

Aged people often need a good blood tonic. When the blood becomes clogged with poisons from the system, Gude's Pepto-Mangan purifies it by driving off the waste matter. Good blood is full of vitality and prevents illness, giving the body greater power of resistance. The weaknesses of old age are greatly helped by a supply of rich, red blood. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is sold in liquid or tablet form by all druggists. It has been recommended by physicians for 30 years and is a valuable tonic and builder for the weak and run-down of all ages from childhood to old age.—Advertisement.

The most justice some men get the more they don't want.

SHE DYED A SWEATER, SKIRT AND CHILD'S COAT WITH "DIAMOND DYES"

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint her worn, shabby dresses, skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything, even if she has never dyed before. Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is sure because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to spot, fade, streak, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.—advertisement.

Fools throw kisses, but wise men deliver them in person.

TAKE ASPIRIN ONLY AS TOLD BY "BAYER"

"Bayer" Introduced Aspirin to the Physicians Over 21 Years Ago.

To get quick relief follow carefully the safe and proper directions in each unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin." This package is plainly stamped with the safety "Bayer Cross."

The "Bayer Cross" means the genuine, world-famous Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over twenty-one years.—Advertisement.

Wise is the fool who knows enough to keep it to himself.

BRIEF NEWS NOTES

WHAT HAS OCCURRED DURING WEEK THROUGHOUT COUNTRY AND ABROAD

EVENTS OF IMPORTANCE

Gathered From All Parts Of The Globe And Told In Short Paragraphs

Foreign—

The American firm of Belanger's, Inc., at Bluefields, Nicaragua, has failed. The liabilities were placed at three million dollars.

Max S. Green, chairman of the Irish prison board, was shot to death in Dublin, Ireland, recently. He was a son-in-law of the late John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader.

Numerous clashes occur almost daily in the dail eireann, the feeling running high. De Valera continues to press for recognition of the dail's supremacy, but the ministers of the provisional government hold firmly that they are supreme and responsible only to the public.

Three persons were killed and 24 others injured, some seriously, in a disturbance at Tanta, Egypt, 65 miles north of Cairo, says a Central News dispatch from Cairo. Native soldiers quelled the disturbance and restored order.

Japan is disposed to recognize the Soviet government of Russia under certain conditions, it is learned in Tokio from an authoritative source. Instructions to the Japanese delegates at the proposed Genoa economic conference are now being prepared, but have not been completed.

A strike affecting 90,000 coal miners in western Canadian fields is threatened for April 1. Robert Livett, chairman of the scale committee of the United Mine Workers of America, declares that a walkout is possible in the event that wage reduction announced were put into effect. The territory affected is district No. 18, comprising southern Alberta and part of eastern British Columbia.

March 8 is the date set by Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain for fulfillment of his ultimatum to Austen Chamberlain, according to a report in parliamentary circles. If by then he has not received satisfactory assurances of the loyal support of the Coalition Conservatives, it is said, he will present the king his resignation of the premiership, which he is now figuratively carryin_ in his pocket.

Lady Scott, widow of Capt. Robert F. Scott, Antarctic explorer, who, with four other members of his party, perished during a blizzard while returning from the South Pole early in 1913, married Lieut. Com. E. Hilton Young, financial secretary of the British treasury, in London, recently. The ceremony was performed in the crypt of the chapel in the house of commons by the bishop of St. Albans. Austen Chamberlain, government leader in the house of commons, gave the bride away.

All Paris is awaiting the outcome of an effort by Louis Latzarus, retiring editor-in-chief of the Figaro, to obtain satisfaction from the new editors of the newspaper for their initial editorial, to which he took offense. M. Latzarus first challenged Alfred Capus, but the latter, who is 64 years old, told Mt. Latzarus' secretary he had long ceased to be even amused by such challenges, and that anyway it was customary that the younger man should be challenged when two were jointly involved, referring to Marquis Robert de Flers, aged 50, his co-editor.

Washington—

Dr. Hubert Work, first assistant postmaster general, was nominated by President Harding and confirmed by the senate to be postmaster-general. He will suceed Will H. Hays resigned.

A deficiency appropriation of $108,415,287, approximately $75,500,000 less than the amounted requested by various departments, is recommended in a bill reported by the house appropriations committee.

The supremacy of the interstate commerce commission over state utilities commissions and similar state bodies in matters pertaining to the regulation of railroads has been established by the decision of the United States Supreme court in the Wisconsin rate case The case was over the higher rates put into effect in Wisconsin under act of the state legislature of 1920.

The Supreme court has upheld a decision of the Oregon courts giving the government a judgment of $18,204.84 against Willard N. Jones, who had a fraudulent scheme of putting old soldiers on homestead sites in Oregon and then binding them up in contracts under which the land would ultimately fall to him.

Mr. Heflin, senator from Alabama, has so far been unable to get a congressional investigation of the Federal Reserve bank at Atlanta.

Complete reorganization of the naval reserve is proposed in a tentative bill prepared by the navy department and forwarded to officials of the naval reserve association by Secretary Denby for comment before it is presented to congress. Includeed in the proposed act is the provision for a merchant marine reserve section and for certain merchant ships to fly a reserve emblem.

Taking its first ratification roll call on the series of international covenants negotiated during the arms conference, the senate ratified without reservation or amendments the treaty with Japan confirming American cable and radio rights on the island of Yap.

A "demand" was made on congress in a resolution adopted at the closing session of the national rivers and harbors congress that it approve at this session not less than the amount of money recommended by the chief of army engineers as necessary for improvements of national rivers and harbors.

The hearing on the Ford proposal for Muscle Shoals, Ala., government property has ended, and consideration of other propositions will now be taken up.

Thomas W. Martin, president of the Alabama Power company, told the house military committee that his company had made a thorough study of power markets within a radius of 400 miles of Muscle Shoals, Ala., and that this company was surt that a hydro-electrict power sufficient to industrialize a territory 800 miles in diameter could be generated.

The Supreme court, in a decision rendered by Justice Brandeis, has declared woman suffrage in the United States to be constitutional.

The Supreme court has held invalid the Arkansas state law prohibiting corporations doing business in that state from removing cases from state to federal courts.

Francis I. Jones, director general of the United States employment service of the department of labor, has been advised that employment agencies are exploiting the people and preying upon the unemployed with prospective operations at the Muscle Shoals, Ala., power and nitrate projects.

Domestic—

Judge Julian W. Mack of New York has been selected to serve the unexpired term of Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis, whose resignation is already effective.

Minor disorders accompanied the re-opening of the Hope company's textile plant at Hope Village, R. I., in the Pawtucket valley, with a score or more of employees.

William G. McAdoo and Mrs. McAdoo will, in the near future, respond to the lure of the wast and "open spaces" and settle in Los Angeles, Calif., permanently.

Kennesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, who resigned as a federal judge, will not go into politics in Chicago, he has informed a friend in a letter, it became known.

Sylvester S. Shoemaker, 72, Memphis, Tenn., could not raise enough money to pay his life insurance premium and suicide. His farewell letter to his wife asked her forgiveness.

Five men held up and robbed William Ormsby, payroll clerk of the Palm Olive company, of ten thousand dollars just as he was getting out of a taxicab in the company's Milwaukee plant.

Mrs. Mollie Turner, Kentucky's first woman moonshiner in so far as it is known, is under sentence to serve three months in jail and to pay a fine as a result of being convicted on that charge in circuit court at London, Ky.

The threatened nation-wide strike of bituminous coal miners on April 1 may be averted, it is asserted in Chicago, if the policy committee of the miners will allow district presidents to frame state wage agreements with operators.

Mrs. John Rupp recently told the Los Angeles police that she "kept house" for the six drug peddlers who are said to have been implicated in the murder of William Desmond Taylor, film director. The police attach much importance to her story, and say that if her story is true, the murder mystery is solved.

William F. Wendt, Los Angeles millionaire, formerly known as the "iron king" of Buffalo, N. Y., where the courts recently held him incompetent, has been found to be "mentally sick" at a session of the Los Angeles county lunacy commission, and paroled to Mrs. Jean McCracken, a court attache. It is planned to place him in a sanitarium.

The special grand jury investigating the Lexington hotel (Richmond, Va.) fire, February 7, found that the owners had been too prodigious in the use of the word "new" instead of fixing the hostelry for the safety of the lives of the guests and employees.

Theodore Roosevelt would give the country one of his broad smiles if he were alive. Mr. and Mrs. William Poteet of Brownsville, Ky., have been married six years, in which time, four sets of twins and one set of quadruples have come to bless their home—twelve in all.

Representatives of the manufacturers and of both unions involved in the strike in cotton mills in Rhode Island rejected the proposition of the state board of mediation and conciliation that the wage controversy be submitted to Judge J. Jerome Hahn, chairman of the board, as sole arbiter.

Mary Pickford does not have to pay Mrs. Cora C. Wilkenning any part of the $108,000 which Mrs. Wilkenning claims was due her as commission for getting the film star a raise to $10,000 a week, was the verdict of a federal jury at New York.

Six more indictments, naming ten men whose affairs have been investigated in the bucket shop inquiry, were returned by the grand jury, at New York, and three more brokerage houses became involved in financial troubles and were forced to suspend.

AFTER EVERY MEAL
WRIGLEY'S
P-K
WRIGLEY'S P-K CHEWING SWEET PEPPERMINT FLAVOR
P-K 10 PIECES
It's a DOUBLE treat —Peppermint Jacket over Peppermint gum
WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT THE PERFECT GUM
WRIGLEY'S JUICY FRUIT CHEWING GUM
10 for 5c
Sugar jacket just "melts in your mouth," then you get the delectable gum center.
And with Wrigley's three old standbys also affording friendly aid to teeth, throat, breath, appetite and digestion.
Soothing, thirst-quenching. Making the next cigar taste better.
UNITED PROFIT SHARING COUPONS
WRIGLEY'S DOUBLEMINT CHEWING GUM
THE FLAVOR LASTS
C30
AFTER EVERY MEAL

Gains 21 Pounds

IN SHORT TIME

MASTIN'S Vitamon Tablets

Now Used By Millions As A Natural, Quick and Easy Way To Help Increase Weight and Energy

So remarkable is the action of MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS in helping to increase the nourishing, health-giving power of what you eat, that one woman recently gained 21 pounds after being thin and ailing for years.

Weak, thin, run-down men and women everywhere—victims of undernourishment—are often amazed at the astonishing improvement in their health, weight, mental alertness and appearance after only a short course of MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS.

MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS contain all three vitamines, true organic iron, the necessary lime salts and other vitalizing elements which Nature provides for perfect vigor of body and mind, and to build up that powerful resistance which helps to guard you against the germs of disease.

Only by making the test yourself can you fully realize how MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS help to feed and nourish the shrunken tissues, build up renewed nerve force, strengthen the entire digestive and intestinal tract and help put on firm solid flesh in the places where it is most needed.

For your own safety and protection against cheap substitutes and imitations, insist upon MASTIN'S to get the original VITAMON TABLETS guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. At all good druggists, such as

MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS

THE ORIGINAL AND GENUINE.

YEAST VITAMINE TABLET

Vaseline

Reg U.S. Pat. Off.

PETROLEUM JELLY

For sores, broken blisters, burns, cuts and all skin irritations. Also innumerable toilet uses.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

CHESEBROUGH MFG. CO.

(Consolidated)

State Street New York

Agents: Newest, clean cut money making agency. Earn from $5 to $10 day. Easy work. Spare or full time. Send one dime for sample, particulars. John Roebuck Co., Selma, Ala.

W. N. U., BIRMINGHAM, NO. 10--1922.

Hard Job.

It is still pretty hard to get a woman who is compelled to do her own housework to believe her husband is successful, no matter how honestly he may be getting his income.

MOTHER! OPEN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Your little one will love the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" even if constipated, bilious, irritable, feverish, or full of cold. A teaspoonful never fails to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the sour bile, and undigested food out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Naturally.

"There is one industry which needs to keep on the jump." "What is that?" "Hop growing."—Baltimore American.

GUARD AGAINST COLDS AND INFLUENZA.

By keeping a little Vacher-Balm in your nose.

It helps to prevent the germs entering the system.

If you are taking cold, it makes you feel better at once.

Nothing better for Aches and Pains.

Keep it handy this time of year.

Ask your druggist, jars or tubes, 30c. E. W. Vacher, Inc., New Orleans, La. —Advertisement.

When you encourage sick people you are helping the doctor.

Many a married couple could save money out of what a bachelor spends.

WATCH THE BIG 4

Stomach-Kidneys-Heart-Liver

Keep the vital organs healthy by regularly taking the world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles—

GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES

The National Remedy of Holland for centuries and endorsed by Queen Wilhelmina. At all druggists, three sizes.

Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

BEST SHOE SHOP

Bring your shoe work here for first class service at moderate prices.

Laces and polishes—In fact everything for the shoe at bottom figures.

New and second hand shoes for men only at better prices than you can get elsewhere.

NOTICE our Panco Soles, for men women and children. Guaranteed for the life of the shoes.

Heavy shoes for Farmers and outdoor work. Guaranteed to last 12 months. Any repairs needed during 12 months will be done free of charge.

The Best Shoe Shop

Listen!

Save Money!

Just received a brand new lot of Ladie's and Misses OXFORDS at pre-war prices, ranging from $2.75 to $4.50. Same shoes sold just one year ago at from $5.00 to $7.50.

Remember

We carry staple Dry Goods, Men's Suits, Hats, Caps, Shoes and Staple Groceries. See us before you buy.

Hugh Jones'

Cash Store

A. N. Miner W. J. Easterling

Miner & Easterling

Meat Market and Grocery Store

We wish to announce to the people who trade in Clanton that we have opened up our new Meat Market and Grocery Store in the building formerly occupied by G. C. Armstrong, and are prepared to sell you anything you may want in the way of Fresh Meats, Vegetables, Groceries and anything you want to eat.

Our service shall be the very best in town. Our policy will be to furnish our customers what they want when they want it.

We have a telephone in our store and will make a specialty of attending to any and all orders given us, making a delivery in the quickest possible time.

Your Trade Will Be Appreciated

Miner & Easterling

Clanton, Alabama.

Let Us Do Your Work

CLANTON PAPTIST CHURCH

Last Sunday was a good day for this church with a good attendance in Sunday School, and fine congregations, especially in the morning. Next Sunday interesting services will be held both morning and night. The pastor will preach in the morning and Dr. J. E. Barnes, State Enlistment worker, will speak at night, in the interest of the 75 Million Campaign. On Thursday a special meeting is to be held in Birmingham at the First Baptist Church. Dr. L. R. Scarborough of Texas and several other good speakers will have part in the all day meeting that is arranged. The pastor will be absent from the city attending this meeting.

While we had a good Sunday School and a good increase over that of the previous Sunday we have not reached the 200 mark yet. A little more concentrated effort on the part of parents, officers and teachers will help us to reach this very soon. It is a fine thing to note in Clanton the great interest now being taken in Sunday School. Something like 400 were in Sunday school last Sunday at all of the three churches. This is an increase of 100% over two years ago. The value of the Sunday school is inevitable in the life of a child. and is very helpful to adult people as well. We welcome you if you attend no Sunday school to our building and church where we have the best equipment in the city for Sunday school work. You are cordially invited to attend the services of this church. P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

THE PASTORS AND WORKERS CONFERENCE

This Conference will be held on Monday next, March the 13th, at the Mountain Creek Baptist Church, beginning at 10 a.m., by invitation of the brethern there.

These meetings are open, not only to the preachers there, but to the laymen and everybody is cordially invited to attend. Interesting subjects relative to church work and the denomination ars discussed which prove to be both helpful and interesting. A good program will be arranged for next Monday. Dr. J. E. Barnes, Enlistment worker for this section of the State, will also be one of the speakers, Those present attending the meeting will be entertained by the Mountain Creek church. Remember the date and come to help us have a good meeting.

P. G. CARTER, Sec'y.

We now have in stock in bulk, Garden Seeds, Beets, Tomatoes, English Peas, Butter Beans, Turnips, bush and pole Beans. Field seeds: Early Corn, Soy Beans, pear Millet, Sudan and Bermuda Grass, Water Melon and Cantelope.

Alred Drug and Seed Co.

W. T. Garner, Optomist.

Will locate here. He will be at the store of Mr. B. L. Jones every second and fourth Saturday and the Monday and Tuesday following. Anyone desiring him to call at their home drop him a card. Come and have your glasses fitted. All work guaranteed and prices to suit the times.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid politlcol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

REGISTER'S SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Circuit Court.—In Equity.

State of Alabama Complainant vs J. F. Pool Defendant.

By virtue of a decree rendered on the 13th day of February Term, A. D 1922, of the Circuit Court in Equity in said cause, I shall proceed to sell to the highest and best bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the court house door in Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Monday the 13th day of March, A. D. 1922 the following described property to wit:

One Five Passenger Ford Automobile. 1919 Model, to satisfy said decree.

This 20th day of February, 1922

W. D. SPIGENER.
Register

2-23-3t.

MULES FOR SALE

I have for sale at my home in Clanton, Ala., 8 good mules that I used on my farm on the river. Ages from 4 to 10 years old, also 7 mule colts age two and one half to three years old.

2-16-2tp B. F. HIGGINS.

METHODIST NOTES

There were 191 present at Sunday School last Sunday. Let everybody come. You are cordially welcome.

Much interest is being manifested over the New Church building program. A new building is badly needed, so that the Sunday school may properly function in the training of the children at the formative perior. Just how valuable is this period may be realized from the boasts of the Catholic church that a child under Catholic influence from four years of age until it is ten will always be a Catholic. Does it not seem reasonable that a child under proper Christian influence for the full formative period would more than likely be a Christian? Solomon taught the doctrine of early training.

The sermon last Sunday was preached by Dr. L. C. Branscomb, editor of the Alabama Christian Advocate, of Birmingham. Dr. Branscomb is widely known, having served four years as pastor of the First Methodist Church, of Birmingham. He chose for his theme: Home and Religion. His text is found in verse 39 of the 8th chapter of St. Luke. The preface consisted of a brief recounting of the story of the maniac whom Christ healed. Great stress was given to the fact that the Lord is today as in days past, calling thousands of boys and girls to work in His Vineyard, but that their fathers are preventing by persuading the boys to follow in his line of business; or that the mothers are hindering by inducing their daughters to become Society Leaders. A few high points of the sermbon follow:

"The Master has work for each one [illegible]."

"Physicians found and offered the cure for many of the physical pains, but it is to Jesus Christ that we turn to find the balm for our soul's agonies."

"A great wave of crime has swept our land from North to South and from East to West. The aftermath of the World War has set in upon our country. There is a cure. If the homes of this nation were Christian homes from the Gulf to the Great Lakes and From the Atlantic to the Pacific, you would see a change sweep over this land that would make the angels in heaven rejoice."

"Out in the West there is a place called the Great Divide. At this point a few shovelfuls of earth would turn the course of a mighty river. The home is the 'great divide' in the life of the child. Just a few skillful or unskillful acts may make or mar the entire life. A true Christian home will turn the stream of life toward heaven while a home permeated by unchristain influences may turn the tide on the way to sadness and despair."

"God has laid the responsibility of the home upon the man. Man's blatant indifference cannot shift the responsibility. A home where the father or mother is not a Christian usually is not a happy home."

Dr. Branscomb closed with a masterful plea for the people to have family altars and give more attention to the religious training of their children. The sermon was thrilling, captivating, and inspiring throughout.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

How Would You Like to See What Irvin Nerhood (Pa.) Saw?

"One customer told me that after using one large package of Rat-Snap, he got FORTY-EIGHT dead rats. How many more dead he couldn't see, he doesn't know. Remember rats breed fast and destroy dollars' worth of property. 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by

We Want Your Job Work

New City Garage

Just opened up. In the Honeycut & Thompson shop building.

All kinds of repair work done in First Class style and at short notice. New prices on work cut donw to suit the times. Come and see.

MaddOx & Williams

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You-all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

The New York Store

See the NEW YORK STORE before buying your Winter Needs. Our Stock is complete! Remember, our goods MUST be satisfactory to our customers.

The New York Store

Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, MARCH 16, 1922. NUMBER 27

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN. Editor.

Mrs. Pearson Entertains.

On last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. David Pearson was hostess to the Round Dozen Club and the Thursday Embroidery Club, complimenting her mother, Mrs. Young and sister, Mrs. Moover, of Bay Minette. Quite an enjoyable time was spent in needle work and conversation. After which the hostess, assisted by Mesdames Guy Roberts, McDavid and Clyde Jones, served a delicious ice course.

Mrs. John Vanderveer Hostess.

On last Tuesday night, Mrs. John Vanderveer was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge Club and their husbands. Progressive Bridge was played at four tables. It was found that Mrs. Carrie Mullins held the highest score and was presented with the club prize, a dainty set of tea napkins. After which the hostess served a salad plate with hot coffee.

Philathia Class Meets.

The Philathia Class of the Methodist Church held its regular business and social meeting on Monday afternoon, with Mrs. Hugh Simpson. This class is studying the heroes and heroines of the Bible this year. The following program was carried out: Ruth being the subject of the afternoon. Prayer, Mrs. J. C. Jones; Roll call answered with quotations from the book of Ruth. How the Hebrew family came to know Ruth and Orpali, Mrs. McSwain; the story of the actions of each, Ruth and Orpali, as Noami begins her return journey, Mrs. Macy Jones; Ruth in the harvest field of Boaz, Mrs. Page; Discussion led by Mrs. Luckie as follows: What six pledges did Ruth make to show she was determined to be seen Naomi? What sacred duty was held by a Riusmon in the East? Whom did Ruth marry? Give the line of descent from Ruth to David? Then the business was taken up by the President, Mrs. Guy Roberts. The colors for the class are gold, white, flower, violet, and the motto, "all for Christ." After which the hostess served a salad plate with ice tea, assisted by Mesdames Armstrong and Luckie. Visitors to the meeting were Mesdames Polk and Alverson. Adjournment to meet with Mrs. Evan Parrish on the 2nd Monday in April.

Round Dozen Meets.

Mrs. John Armstrong was hostess to the Round Dozen Sewing Club on Tuesday afternoon. After conversation and finger work the hostess served a salad plate with ice tea to the followig ladies: Mesdames, Luckie, Alverson, Moore, Polk, Macy Jones, Clyde Jones and Roper.

On last Friday night at the court house, Circle No. 2 of the Methodist Church, had an old fashion spelling match, using the old Blue Back speller. Mr. Ira Pegues was the teacher. A great deal of merriment was enjoyed at the conclusion of the match. Mrs. Macy Jones was the lady that stood the longest and was given a rolling pin, and Mr. Dorcus Maddox, the gentleman to stand the longest, was given a cob pipe. Votes were cast for the laziest man in town, and Mr. J. C. Jones received the most votes and was presented with a juice harp, and Mr. Hugh Simpson was voted to be the smartest and given a tin horn. Quite a real sum was realized.

The Methodist Church had 205 present at Sunday School Sunday. Hope to have more next Sunday.

Rev. David Pearson spent last week at his old home, down at Dixon Mills.

Mesdames Wade, Fox, Marion Gore, Lilly Robinson and Mrs. Green Rutherford and Misses Mollie Hannon and Ruth Robinson, were visitors to Birmingham Monday.

Miss Gladys Mae Nix retured to Birmingham Monday, after spending the week-end with her parents.

Mrs. Guy Higgins and daughter Frances, spent Saturday in Birmingham.

Mrs. L. C. Ross left Friday for Athens, where she was joined by her husband . Both returning to Clanton Tuesday.

Mrs. H. D. Moore, of Bay Minette, has returned to her home after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Pearson.

Mrs. Young of Selma, has returned to her home after spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Pearson.

Miss Evelyn Hubbard returned to Clanton Friday, after spending several weeks in Greensboro.

Mr. Evan Edwards spent last week with home folks, returning to Auburn Sunday.

Mrs. Bama Cox is visiting in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Alverson and son, spent Saturday in Montgomery.

Mrs. Robert Powe of Birmingham, spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. VanDerveer.

Mrs. Ed Plier left Sunday for a visit to friends in Bartow, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Weeks, Mesdames Hugh Simpson and McSwain spent Tuesday in Montgomery.

C. REESE MULLINS ANNOUNCES FOR PROBATE JUDGE

Clanton, Ala., March 14, 1922.

Editor Chilton County News,
Clanton, Ala.

My Dear Sir:—

Will you be so kind as to allow me space in your paper this week to say a few words in regard to my announcement for the office of Probate Judge, which appears in this week's issue of your paper. I want to say to the voters of Chilton County, both men and women, that with the encouragement received from my friends over the county that I feel perfectly safe in having announced myself as a candidate. I came out free and under no special obligations to any man, or set of men. I believe that we should invite capital and industries of all kinds to our county, with the promise of a fair and square deal to one and all alike. I want to say to the voters and to all the people of this county that it is the political ambition of my life to serve the county for at least one term in this capacity and if elected I will give to the office my entire time and attention, and do every thing in my power to keep up our roads and to pull the county out of debt, which I am sure can all be done within a reasonable time if only properly managed. It seems to me that our county affairs could have been looked after in a more economical and profitable manner, and that the time has certainly come when the Republicans should be willing for the Democrats to try their hands a while, their leaders having made such a miserable failure in trying to keep up the roads and making other temporary inprovements after having raised our taxes up to the limit of the law. We as a people have been drifting along in the hands it seems, of unthoughted and careless leadership seeking only self graudisment and self gain for himself and family. Under his influence and controle he and his family holding the most important offices of the county within the gift of the people. This should not be allowed to continue. I don't think it fair, neither do I think it necessary for a one man rule and to hold office for practically a life time.

The one thing most needful in this county as I see it, is more education. We must educate or we must perish. I stand for improvements in equipment in every way for our schools, to enable our teachers to accomplish what they can and would like to do. We should help them more than we do in every way, and should furnish them all equipment needed. I am in favor of our county having a public library. This should not be neglected any longer.

I believe all violators of the law should be arrested and brought to Justice, but I don't believe in men being shot down like dogs. Give every man a fair and impartial trial of a Jury. We are no longer safe in the hands of a party like this.

I'm asking the voters of this county, in the coming Democratic Primary to give me the nomination, which I so earnestly desire, and to which I feel entitled. I want to say I was born and reared in this county. My grandfather, my father, my mother and all my family have been life long Democrats, and as true to the cause as the needle to the pole. Again, if elected, I will give my entire attention to the county's affairs and will have no other vocation or calling to take up my time and attention. Now in conclusion, I want to say that we should no longer drift along with a party that has proven their inability to manage our affairs, and a President that would have us placed on an equality with the negro. So let us hasten to retrace our foot steps, and regain the road that leads us safely back home, to peace, to liberty and to safety.

Respectfully,
C. REESE MULLINS.

MR. W. T. GALLEN SICK

Everybody in Clanton and the surrounding territory will be sorry to learn that the physicians carried Mr. W. T. Callen to a Birmingham infirmary this morning for treatment.

Mr. Callen is president of the Peoples' Savings Bank here and is known and loved by thousands of people in this entire section.

HE IS DEAD

LATER—As we were going to press a telegram came bringing the awful tidings that this great and good man had passed away.

Just a few days ago his faithful wife was laid to rest here and now he has followed her to that home where partings come no more.

This whole section of Alabama has suffered an almost irreparable calamity today when this active mind was put to rest and those faithful hands that had done so much for his community were peacefully crossed in the dreamless sleep of death.

REV. P. G. CARTER TENDERS RESIGNATION

We learn that the resignation of Rev. P G. Carter as pastor of the first Baptist Church here is before the membership for action.

Rev. Carter has been a live wire in the church, as well as business circles here and, in the event that he leaves us, Clanton will miss him.

We are not in position to forecast what action the church will take.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Services next Sunday as follows:
Sunday school at 9:45, A. M.
Preaching services at 11:00, A. M.
Sunbeam Band at 3:00, P. M.
Preaching services at 7:30, P. M.

The regular monthly conference of the church is to be held immediately after the morning preaching services. Matters of vital concern to the church are to be considered.

Everybody is cordially invited to atetnd all the services of the church at all times.

P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

HONOR ROLL

The following students of the Chilton County High School have made the First Honor Roll for the sixth scholastic month, having made an average of 90% or above:

Seniors.

Lera Johnson,
Mary Kennedy,
Lillian Mims,
Eufaula Mahan,
Una Belle Mahan,
Arrell Smitherman.

Juniors.

Clara Holley,
Willie Higgins,
Katie Johnson,
Gladys Kemp,
Clara Vines,
Lorene Parrish,
Elly Daniel.

Sophompres.

Charles Moore,
Addie Pearl Martin,
Flossie Wilson,
Dovard Cotton.

Freshmen.

L. V. Riggins,
Hubert Stroud.

Buy Garden and Field Seeds in bulk at home and save money. Our prices are much less than the mail order houses and quality superior. Try ours just once and be convinced.

Alred Drug and Seed Co.

THE PRELIMINARY AT ROCKFORD

On last Saturday at Rockford a preliminary hearing was given to eleven persons who had been arrested charged with the killing of young Dewell Barrett, near Dollar, who met his death, supposedly, on the 23 day of last January. All of our readers are familiar with the details of his disappearance and the finding of his body in a creek on February 12.

The business interests of Mr. John W. Henley, one of the leading saw mill men and contractors of our town, had carried him over there to work out an extensive contract for the Alabama Power Company, and he established his "camp" near the same creek where the body of Barrett was found Mr. Henley had in his employ there quite a gang of men, both white and colored, and among them two of his own sons and a Mr Robert Tippett from here. Later on Miss Jewell Popwell, a young lady whose home is here, and whose parents and a large number of influential relatives reside in and near Clanton, went over there to teach school.

The young man, Barrett, it seems was at the Henley camp late in the evening of the day he disappeared doing some trading at the commissary After that time no one could give an account of his movements, and for that reason, we suppose, the detectives who were working on the case had warrants issued for eleven of the people at the camp and among that number were two sons of Mr. Henley, Clarence and Fred, Robert Tippett and Miss Popwell. The preliminary Saturday was for the purpose of arraigning these parties.

The business manager of the News, Mr. J. L. Johnson, was present at the hearing and he informs us, as did also two of the attorneys present, that very little evidence was submitted by the prosecution and none whatever by the defense, and none of the evidence submitted was especially damaging to any particular person or persons. The hearing resulted in the discharge of seven of the suspects and the binding over without bail of Messrs. Clarence and Fred Henley, Robert Tippett, and also Miss Popwell, who were remanded to Birmingham to await the action of the grand jury."

From the fact that part of the large crowd attending the trial vociferously cheered for quite a bit when the verdict was announced, one might be pardoned for presuming that the attorneys for the defense had reasons for not offering any evidence or in any other way attempting to forestall the proceedings. The Justices who presided were no doubt wise also in terminating in that manner a trial where a large part of the audience were clamoring for vengence instead of justice.

The editor of the News regrets beyond expression that these young poeple of our community have become involved in this deplorable affair, and it is our sincere hope that when an opportunity is afforded them, they will be able to abundantly prove their entire innocense from any complicity with this unfortunate tragedy.

Preliminary hearings do not fix the guilt nor innocense of any one—they are not intended to do so—and the fact that these young people were bound over, in a court where they offered no evidence whatever, should not be prejudicial to them in the minds of an impartial public.

We are always on the side of law and order and in this case, as in all others, we hope to see exact justice done, and in the fulfillment of this desire, we trust these young folks will emerge unscathed from this unfortunate situation.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Mrs. Robert Kline, and little son and daughter, were Clanton visitors the latter part of last week.

L. H. Ellis, a prominent attorney of Columbiana, was in Clanton last Friday looking after business matters.

Mr. R. E. Carter, of Columbiana, was here the latter part of last week looking after personal matters.

Mr. W. N. Taylor, who has been in Clanton for some time doing some interior finishing work on the hospital, has left and gone back to Birmingham.

Mr. J. L. Payton spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Maplesville.

Robert Childress, formerly of Thorsby, but now of the Capital City, was here Friday.

Rev. P. G. Carter attended the Baptist Sunday Schcol Convention at Mulberry last Sunday.

Messrs William Vance, W. T. Johnson, and J. J. Pickens were among those who went to the Sunday School Convention at Mulberry last Sunday.

Mr. J. W. Woodyard, who is holding down a good position in the Magic City, was in Clanton Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Z. A. Tippett, of Shelby, spent Sunday here visiting home folks and friends.

Mr. Guy Higgins went to Deatsville Monday.

Miss Mollie Hannon is visiting Mrs. George Garrard in the Magic City this week.

Mack Broadhead is in Montgomery this week serving on the Federal Jury.

C. B. Cox has gone to South Ala., looking into the contracts that are to be let soon for the purpose of road building. Those who are in doubt need not be uneasy as a result of the recent bond election will soon see road building going on all over the State.

T. J. Henderson, of Mt .Creek, was in Clanton Thursday on business. Mr. Henderson is a live and progressive merchant.

Mr. A. F. Mims, of Thorsby, was in Clanton Monday.

The Board of Registrars has been here this week registering voters.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mullins, of Mitchell Dam, were some of the out of town people who atended the play at the County High School building Tuesday night.

The political "pot" is beginning to boil considerably.

H. R. Oden, of Maplesville, was in Clanton Tuesday. Mr. Oden is one of the good DEMOCRATS in BEAT 8.

Mr. W. T. Womble, of Mt. Creek, called on us Tuesday.

Rev. Buford Lawrence, of Jemison was in Clanton Monday.

Colonel J. Fritz Thompson, of Centerville, has been in Clanton this week looking after legal matters.

Every day this week large crowds of people have been in Clanton attending Circuit Curt.

Mr. Monroe Ramsey, of Maplesville was in Clanton Tuesday.

Visit the Strand Theatre Friday. Auspices Eastern Star. A program supreme.

Mrs. Guy Roberts seems to know more ways than one to raise the dough, especially when it is for a good cause.

Mrs. Fred Griggs and little daughter, Mary Elizzie, of Birmingham, were the week-end guests of her father and mother. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tyus.

Prof. Lee Popwell has beat all records and got an awful big chunk of thanks from the editor besides. He brought us the past week a fine mess of fresh headed cabbage just from his garden and a bunch of excellent onions also right from the ground. Oh, boy, they were fine.

Mr. W. W. Cobern, of Mt. Creek, made us a pleasant call last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mullins, of Mitchell Dam, were here Tuesday night attending the play given at the County High School building by the Senior Class.

Prof J. M. Parrish has closed his school at Pinedale for the present. He will teach a summer term there. He and Miss Evie Jones have taught quite a successful school there. They have enrolled more than seventy-five pupils.

Mr. F. A. Gulledge, of Verbena, suggests that Rev. F. A. Gibson represent Chilton County in the next Legislature.

Mr. J. W. Baily, of Minooka, is here this week serving on the jury. Mr. Baily is always on the right side of the question.

Mr. R. L. Jones, a prominent merchant of Woodville, Ala., is in Clanton this week on business.

Our good friend F. W. Stevenson. of Birmingham, has been in Clanton this week on business. He is salesman for the Sharp Hat Co. He reports Clanton to be one of the best towns that he visits in all of his rounds.

Mr. Alvin Champion, of Verbena, was here Tuesday looking after personal matters.

Miss Evie Jones is at Verbena this week teaching in Miss Lena Franklin's place. Miss Jones finished at the County High School last year. She made quite an enviable record both in the Grammar school and High school.

PETITION TO COUNTY BOARD

We, the teachers of Jemison Reading Circle, respectfully request the Chilton County Board of Education to devise some plan by which the health of the school children of Chilton County may be safe guarded against contagious and communicable diseases. (Signed.)

Committee:—H. P. Cooper, B. Lawrence, Miss Inez LaGrove, J. L. Harris, President; M. M. Biles, Maude Livingston, Willie Barnes, Retha Robinson, Mrs. J. L. Harris, Bertha Littleton, Gladys Hayes, Annie Vest, Hazel Cox, John G. Johnson, Orville Martin, Alma Ballow, Lucile Prosch, Marion Gillentine, Verna Wright, Celestia Bratton, Elsie Robinson, H. G. Steeley, J. H. Anderson, Lula Rice.

A PROMISING START

Even before the formal opening of the new hospital, seven or eight patients have been received and a number of successful operations performed.

This augurs well for the future of this institution and we are glad to see that the people already realize the worth of this splendid enterprise and manifest their confidence in it.

Mr. E. H. Lowe has returned from Birmingham to remain with us for the next 50 years. Says he is a full fledged citizen of Beat 4 now and his membership is here to stay.

PLAY GIVEN AT HIGH SCHOOL TUESDAY NIGHT QUITE A SUCCESS

"The Dream That Came True."

Those who were in the play, given at the High School Tuesday night, showed that they were well trained for the time and occasion and demonstrated beyond a doubt that they were far above the average High School student in ability. Each character did his or her part without making a mistake and were perfectly at ease on the stage.

Those in the play were:

Misses Louise Connatser, Eufaula Mahan, Nettie Dennis, Una Belle Mahan, Lillian Mims, Mary Kennedy, Lera Johnson, Mary Farley, Bertha Dennis, Ruth Jones, Arrell Smitherman, Cleo Broadhead, and Messrs Kenneth Danforth, Elmer Harris, Norman Roberts, William Orr, and Hoyt Reynolds. The play was given under the direction of Miss Monroe.

The Girl, a Horse and a Dog

By FRANCIS LYNDE

Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons

BULLERTON.

Synopsis. — Under his grandfather's will, Stanford Broughton, society idler, finds his share of the estate, valued at something like $440,000, lies in a "safe repository," latitude and longitude described, and that is all. It may be identified by the presence nearby of a brown-haired, blue-eyed girl, a piebald horse, and a dog with a split face, half black and half white. Stanford at first regards the bequest as a practical joke, but after consideration sets out to find his legacy. On his way to Denver, the city nearest the spot indicated in his grandfather's will, Stanford hears from a fellow traveler, Charles Bullerton, a mining engineer, a story having to do with a flooded mine.

CHAPTER III.

—2—

Waifs and Strays.

When I crawled out of my berth at the porter's call the next morning, my Pullman was standing in the Denver yard. While I was shaving in the washroom I asked the colored boy if my smoking-room chum of the night before was up yet.

"Yas, sah; he done been up an' gone, for the longest."

Of course, this was mere idle questioning on my part. Tracing the brown-bearded mining engineer who had used me as a convenient dumping ground for his story was the least of my intention at the moment. For that matter, since we hadn't exchanged cards, and I wasn't even sure that I'd heard his name straight, I couldn't have traced him if I had wanted to.

Recalling the story in the garish light of another day, it seemed a bit less credible than it had while I was listening to it, and I began to wonder if the teller of it might not be a member of the deathless guild of smoke-room romancers. I buried the story among the things to be smiled at and forgotten, when I took a taxi for the hotel. After an excellent breakfast I made a few inquiries about the meridian; the 105th, that the maps showed as passing just west of the city. The maps were right. The 105th meridian, which is the one from which mountain time is reckoned, ran a little west of the city proper, and, by consequence, west of the two other principal cities of the state, Colorado Springs and Pueblo.

I found that the 105th meridian, tracing it north from Denver, stops short against the 40th parallel of latitude just south of a little town called Erie. Traced south, it tracks the D. & R. G. railroad for about twenty miles and then takes to the mountain, barely shutting out Manitou, and passing, of course, well to the westward of Pueblo. This simplified matters—a little.

Yet this business of wandering aimlessly from post to pillar, combing the face of nature for blue-eyed maidens and piebald horses and harlequin-faced dogs was already beginning to strike me as about the most fantastic thing a body could conceive of doing. To attempt it without a plan of some kind seemed worse than useless; so, for perhaps the first time in a pretty rattle-brained life, I sat down to do some ground-and-lofty head work, with Cousin Percy's letter for a sort of nexus.

The third paragraph contained the meat of the matter: "Your portion of Grandfather Jasper's property was worth, at its latest valuation, something like $440,000." What single piece of property outside of a large city could be worth any such sum as that? I could think of nothing but a mine of some kind, unless it might be a cattle ranch, or a growth of standing timber; and in the area laid out for me, mines would outvote cattle or timber about a hundred to one, I thought.

Then there was that other phrase: "It lies in a perfectly safe repository. . . . "Repository" implied a receptacle or container of some sort; a brick wall, or a barbed-wire fence, or any inclosing thing you like to imagine. Could a mine be said to be a "repository"?

As you see, I kept coming back to the mine idea, in spite of all I could do; and at last, without a word of warning, and right out of a clear sky, as you may say, smack! a thing hit me squarely between the shoulder-blades—Brown-beard and his eccentric old gentleman!

After I got cooled off a bit I had to admit that there was something less than one chance in a thousand that, at the price of a couple of cigars given to a fellow traveler in distress, I had purchased any real clue to my own puzzle.

Yet I couldn't get away from the notion that I was on the verge of a discovery. Oddly enough, the miraculous part of it—the one chance in a million that I should run across the one person in a hundred million who could tell me that particular story—didn't impress me at the time. I was too busily engaged in trying to fit the puzzle pieces together to think of anything else at the moment.

Come to sum them up, they fitted astoundingly well. Grandfather Jasper had always been exceedingly close-mouthed when speaking of his investments. Added to that, he would be the last man in the world to have confessed that he had been bitten, even indirectly, by a "gold-brick" game. Then, too, the course he had pursued with the mining engineer (always granting the truth of Brown-beard's story) was just like him; he would have wanted a year in which to think it over—or maybe longer. Also, it was like him to keep all the identifying marks as carefully hidden as a nut meat in its shell.

At this point I began to think about getting action. One word from Bullton, or Bulletin, or whatever his name was, would settle the identities beyond question, and that word was his "old gentleman's" name. He hadn't mentioned it once in telling his yarn—which might have been by design, or just a happen-so. But, by heavens, I'd make him mention it!

I happened to think of the Mining exchange, and to wonder if somebody connected with it might not have a list of engineers and mining experts. A hike through the streets brought me to the exchange and the secretary not only had such a list, but was willing to show it to me. In its proper place I found the name, "Charles Bullerton." A query shot at the man behind the desk elicited the information that Mr. Charles Bullerton was in South America. At this, I could have shouted for joy, because it proved conclusively that Charles Bullerton was my man, and that the tale to which I had listened wasn't altogether made up out of whole cloth, as so many Pullman smoke-room romances are.

Then One Morning the Answer Came.

Bullerton's usual address, when he was in Colorado and not in Denver, was in care of a certain bank in Cripple Creek; or at least, that was the way it had been before he went to South America.

A telegraph office was the next thing on the program, and when I found one it seemed to be about a hundred-to-one shot that I'd never touch bottom, since I had no hint that Bullerton had been headed for Cripple Creek. My message, prepaid and answer prepaid, contained only a single question: "What was the name of the old gentleman who bought the watered mine and then died?" An answer to that would tell the story.

For two whole days, an interval which I spent in hither-and-yon chasings of piebald ponies and harlequin-faced dogs about the streets of Denver—and found no blue-eyed girls attached to any of them—I thought I had merely shot up into the air with my telegram, and missed the whole face of the earth. Then, one morning, the answer came in just two words, like this:

"To Stanford Broughton,
"Hotel Savoy,
"Denver.
"John Smith.
"CHARLES BULLERTON."

That settled it with a vengeance, you'd say. And yet it didn't. It merely proved that Mr. Charles Bullerton had acquired a sudden excess of caution, and was probably cussing himself plentifully for having been too loose-tongued with a perfect stranger in a Pullman smoker. He had answered my wire with a name that meant just as much or as little as if he'd said "Alexander the Great," and that was precisely the amount of information he had intended to convey.

Whether or not Bullerton's memorandum agreement with my grandfather would be binding upon me as Grandfather Jasper's heir, was a question for the courts to decide. But one thing was certain—that is, granting all the assumptions; if he should find the mine and go to work on his unwatering scheme, he would have a grip on things that might be handsomely troublesome to shake loose.

After I had argued it out thus far the next step suggested itself in a jiffy. I must have a heart-to-heart talk with the cautious Mr. Bullerton, telling him who I was, and perhaps giving him a chance to join forces with me in the search, if it should prove to be my grandfather's mine that he was looking for. Grabbing this impulse by the neck, so to speak, I took the first train for Cripple Creek. The next morning, when I made inquiry, I found that Bullerton had left town, though where he had gone the bank folks couldn't say.

I had gone into the chase more than half for the sheer fun of it; pretty much as the dog runs after the stick you've flung into the bushes, and which he hasn't much hope of finding. But now it was appealing to me as more of a man's job. There was a legacy; and however valueless it might be in its present condition, it had once been worth nearly half a million—and might be again. And a half-million is a whole lot of money, when you come to consider it.

From what little the bank folks told me it appeared that Bullerton was fairly well known in Cripple Creek and the region roundabout. Therefore, somebody in the near vicinity must know more than I had as yet been able to learn about the manner of his disappearance and his probable destination. My job was to find the somebody.

About the time I thought I had exhausted all the combinations, I found the one particular Bullerton friend I was hunting for. His name, as I recall it, was Hilton, or something like that, and he was the superintendent of a big drainage-tunnel undertaking designed to unwater a lot of flooded mines on the hills above the tunnel site.

"I can give you a little information, but not much," was his answer to my inquiry. "Bullerton is bughouse on the subject of a lost mine—not an unusual disease in any mining country—and he has gone to hunt for it. He has a sketch map of the location, but nothing to tie it to. I didn't ask him where the location was—or rather, where he thought it was."

"Then, of course, you have no idea where his hunt was to begin?" I threw in.

"Only a guess. In our talk, he asked me if I knew anything about a place called Placerville, in the Red desert; what sort of a town it was, and if a man could outfit there for a prospecting trip. I took it from this that he might be heading for Placerville, though he didn't say that he was."

As you'd imagine, this was enough for me. The next morning I was back in Denver, figuring out the quickest way to get to Placerville in the Red desert. I hoped Bullerton was on the true scent, but was mightily afraid he wasn't—in which case I, too, would go beautifully astray. But if he should happen to be on the right track, then I must beat him to the goal. True, he had a map to guide him, and was that much better off than I was. But, on the other hand, I had the girl, a horse and a dog.

CHAPTER IV.

At the Back of Beyond.

To my chagrin, the railroad ticket offices in Denver didn't know any such place as Placerville in the Red desert region, which was then, as now, traversed only by one railroad. The single "Placerville" they had listed was a station not far from Telluride, in quite another part of the state. Nor could the Mining exchange gentleman help me. However, he suggested that if I could find some old resident ("old-timer" was the word he used) whose memory reached back a ways, there might be something doing.

"Steer me," I begged; "I'm a half-orphan and a total stranger in Denver."

He laughed, and then thought for a minute, and said:

"The Du Pont Powder people have been doing business here for a good many years, and they know the powder buyers all over the state. It's just possible that they could tell you. Suppose you ask at their office."

I went, forthwith; and the gentleman to whom I presented my card at the cashier's window had the dope. The Red Desert Placerville, he told me, was strictly a "has been." The placers had long ago been exhausted, and the place had afterward figured as a shipping point for some mine or mines on the desert slope of the Eastern Timanyonis. He was not quite certain, but he thought the name "Placerville" had been changed to something else.

As to the manner of reaching the "has been," this, as he pointed out, was simple enough. There were through sleepers by way of the P. S-W. and Copah all the way to the Pacific coast.

Armed with this information, I quickly shook the dust of Denver (no slam here intended at the Queen City of the Plain) from my feet, taking a through ticket to Angels; and the following morning, when I ran my window shade up previous to turning out for breakfast, the train was rollicking along over endless reaches of the dryest, dreariest, most barren-looking country that the sun ever shone upon; red sand, it appeared to be, with withered bits of grass here and there and scattering bunches of what I afterward learned was called "greasewood." It was while luncheon was getting itself served that the train stopped to water the engine at the most desolate place that ever lay out of doors, I do think. The place was utterly deserted; there wasn't a human being in sight, either on the platform or in the street upon which the station faced; not even the bunch of loafers which usually materializes out of nowhere to see a train came and go. I was looking out of the window and wondering how anybody, even a hermit telegraph operator, could stand it to live in such a graveyard of a place when I got my shock.

It was a dog that connected up the high-voltage wires for me; a shaggy mongrel with his ears cocked and a red ribbon of a tongue hanging out as he jumped up on the high station platform as if to say "Hello, stranger!" to me. For, right down the center of that dog's face and dividing it as accurately as if it had been drawn by some mathematical draftsman, was a line marking off a black half from a white half!

I was just taking a swallow of hot chocolate when the dog appeared, and it nearly choked me. Luckily, I got the swallow down before I saw the horse—a grasshopper-headed cow pony, saddled and bridled and standing hitched to a gnawed wooden rail in front of one of the tumble-down shacks. "Piebald" is a sort of an elastic word, as the dictionaries define it, and it might apply to almost any beast-markings out of the ordinary. But the horse I was gaping at fell easily within any or all of the definitions; it was a true "calico," white and light sorrel in grotesque patchings; unmistakably "piebald," if a purist in the use of the mother-tongue—like Cousin Percy, for example—wished to call it so.

Before I could rush back to the steward's sentry-box in the vestibule of the car our train was chasing along again.

"Hey!" I shouted; "what's the name of that place where we stopped to water the engine?"

"Atropia."

"Death-sleep," I translated with a grin. "It fits, all the way down to the ground. What are the industries of Atropia?"

"I don't get you."

"Excuse me; I'll try to put it in simpler form. Why is Atropia?"

He appeared to have reached the conclusion that I was an escaped lunatic, safe enough, most probably a harmless one. He looked first at the little colored slip sticking in my hat-band and then consulted a note-book drawn from his pocket.

"H'm; ticketed to Angels," he muttered half to himself. And then to me: "Was you expectin' to have friends meet you at Angels?"

This was too much, and, anxious as I was to find out something more about Atropia, I felt it an imperative duty—fool-like—to do my small part toward enlivening a rather sad world. So I said, solemnly:

"H'm; Ticketed to Angels," He Muttered Half to Himself.

"I shall be met by a parade of the Angels fire department, in uniform, and with the apparatus, headed by a brass band. But this is irrelevant to the present burning question. What I am thirsting to know is why there should be a dog with a face half white and half black standing on the Atropia station platform, and a piebald pony hitched to the horse-rack on the Atropia public square."

That finished him.

"Say, young feller, you've got 'em bad," he commented. "But that'll be all right. Just you wait till we get to Angels, and then you can find out all these funny things you're so dead anxious to know."

"Hold on a minute," I interposed as he was trying to escape. "Atropia hasn't always been as dead as it is now, has it? What was its name when it was alive and able to sit up and take nourishment?"

"Huh?" he queried; and then: "Oh, I get you, now; it used to be called Placerville."

"Thank you; that helps. Now how much farther is it to Angels?"

"'Bout twenty miles."

"All right. And when will there be a train coming back to this Atropia place?"

"Way-freight — tomorruh mornin'—eight-thirty out o' Angels."

"Good. Now if those fire people and the brass band don't miss me—" I couldn't resist the temptation to give him a final shot, and it hit the bull's-eye. As he edged away I could see by his expression that he still thought me crazy.

When I got back to my Pullman after luncheon I perceived at once that the train conductor had promptly passed the word about the episode in the dining car. The Pullman conductor evidently had his weather eye on me, and the negro porter shied every time he passed my section. This was rich, but if I could have known the tenth part of what was going to pop out of this Pandora box that I had foolishly dug up in the dining car, the amusement feature would speedily have been forgotten in a pretty strenuous effort to straighten things out while there was yet time.

I descended from the train at my ticket-named destination of Angels, and found a typical mining camp of a single street and a tawdry, dusty dreariness scarcely exceeded by that of the dead-alive Atropia. The first thing I saw on the station platform was my train conductor talking earnestly to a large, desperadoish-looking man whose greatest need was for a clean shave. By the manner of the two I saw that their talk was aiming itself at me; the railroad man was only too plainly warning the Angelic person that Angels the Blest had a probably harmless, but possibly dangerous, maniac in its midst.

Still I saw only the humorous side of it and refused to be disturbed. Fired by the ambition to find some way of returning at once to Atropia, before the magic horse and dog should disappear, I tramped off in search of a place where I could leave my two grips. The place that offered, and the only one, was the "Celestial Hotel," and I wondered what sly wag had suggested the name, which was a double pun upon the name of the town and the fact that the tavern, half restaurant and half lodging-house, was kept by a Chinaman.

But I secured accommodation, and as I was turning to leave the restaurant-tavern trouble loomed up in the shape of the heavy-shouldered desperadoish-looking person whom I had seen at the station talking with the train conductor.

"I'm onto you with both feet," he remarked, boring me with an eye that I could easily fancy might strike terror into the heart of the most reckless criminal. "I'm givin' you warnin' right now that no funny business don't go in this man's town; see?"

"I'm quite harmless," I assured him. "Give me a little information, and I'll forthwith remove myself from the confines of your charming city. How far is it by wagon-road to Placerville-Atropia, and how can I get there?"

"My gosh!" he said gloomily; "two of you in the same dog-goned week!"

"Even so. When did the other one arrive?"

"Day before yistidday. He didn't look so much bughouse as you do, but I reckon he must 'a' been off his kawhoop, too, 'r he wouldn't 'a' gone to 'Tropia."

"Let him rest in peace. Do I get my information?"

"Shore: we speeds the partin' guest. You've come apast your place. Twenty-one mile back; and the way-freight 'll git you there to-morruh mornin'."

"I'm going to Atropia—this afternoon," I bragged.

He let me pass, and I tramped up the street until I found the one livery stable. Here, again, my fool reputation had quite evidently outrun me. The man had idle horses, plenty of them, as I couldn't help seeing, but I couldn't hire one for love or money. When it came right down to the pinch, he wouldn't even sell me one.

By this time I was in a hot sweat of impatience to be on my way; to bridge that twenty-one miles before the elusive clue—if it were the clue—could once more dodge me and vanish into thin air. In that frame of mind I told the cautious liveryman, in gentle phrase, what I thought of him and his kind, and hurried down to the railroad, hoping to be able to catch an east-bound train of some kind, any kind, whose crew could be bribed or cajoled into carrying me to Atropia.

It was just as I was about to inquire of the telegraph operator what the chances were that the great temptation rose up and slapped me in the face. Up the grade from the westward a tiny, three-wheeled car, carrying two men, came spinning along. I recognized it at once as a track-inspection car, driven by a small gasoline engine; an evolution of the old velocipede car, foot and hand-driven and used by road-masters and other railroad men making quick trips over short tances.

In half a minute the little car tled up to the station and made quick stop, the two men setting brakes and hopping off to dodge the telegraph office. They left the tle pop-popping engine running idling speed, and in a flash I saw chance. Of course, if I should st the car, I'd be caught and arrested hauled off somewhere to be tried fined; but before any of these un ward things could happen, I sho have settled that biting question the ownership of the piebald pony the harlequin-faced dog.

With a quick glance over my sh der to make sure that the coast still clear, I slipped into the driv seat, jerked the throttle open and leased the clutch, praying ferv that the switches might be set for me at the upper end of the A yard.

As the machine began to ga speed, I looked back. What I saw a-plenty. Three men, one of th whom I took to be the telegraph erator, in his shirt-sleeves, came ning up the station platform. shirt-sleeved man was yelling and w ing something that glistened in sunlight. Next I heard the dista diminished crack of a pistol an blunt-nosed bullet sang a whining tle lullaby to me as it tore past.

What I Saw Was a-Plenty.

I flung up an arm to show the pi firer that he had missed, and then small car swung around the shou of the nearest hill and Angels bec only a backward-flitting memory.

CHAPTER V.

The Magic Triad.

To be stopped before I could r my goal was no part of my plan. opened things up and gave the three-wheeled dinky all the ga could use, keeping a sharp loo ahead, and meaning to pull up a way short of the graveyard city, a doning the car and making the a approach on foot.

Judging from the way the sce was racing backward, I estimated the little car must be doing at l thirty miles to the hour; which m forty minutes or such a matte cover the twenty-one miles. If ing train or trains, whatever might be, would only keep out way for those precious forty minutes. . . .

I pushed the small motor to its and was getting along beautifully suddenly, on a grade that was steeper than usual, the popping haust quit short off, the engine sl down, and the car, squeaking grinding, came to a stand on a embankment between two of the cuttings.

There wasn't anything very c cated about the little motor, and I discovered that a broken ignition was what had killed it. Ha there was a small toolbox und seat, and in the kit there was a of pliers. But sometimes—and was one of them—a bit of mater as important as the tools to work The broken wire was too short to pie up again, and there wasn't an of spare wire to be found in kit.

They say that necessity is the er of invention; but I'll defy to invent a piece of wire in the of the Great Sahara desert. minute I was expecting to he rumble and roar of a train.

In this extremity it was a desert zephyr that gave me the idea. A gentle breeze came sig the draw from some overheate out beyond, and finding no tr the barren hills, it sang its litt in the thickly clustering tel wires on the poles. Why, s said to myself; here was my miles and miles of it. All I had was to climb up and get it.

"Have you a small br mole on your left shoulder?"

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Shouldn't Get Lost.

Scientists claim the earth has revolving around the sun for 000,000 years. Well, it ought to the way by this time.

Whale fat is used on a large s Denmark is making oleomarga

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. Advertisement.

Sunday at the Zoo.

It was Sunday at the zoo. "What's the trouble with the fellows?" inquired the orang-outang. "Most of them look as if they'd seen a ghost."

"It's, the economy stunt," explained the monkey. "They've decided to transfer the keeper of the elephants to the insect house, and they don't know how to break the news to him."

WHEN HAIR THINS, FADES OR FALLS, USE "DANDERINE"

35 cents buys a bottle of "Danderine." Within ten minutes after the first application you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping your hair to grow long, thick and luxuriant.

Girls! Girls! Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, thin, scraggy. A single application of delightful Danderine will double the beauty and radiance of your hair and make it look twice as abundant.—Advertisement.

Nothing New to Her.

Elizabeth's grandparents, although a devoted couple, were prone to excited argument.

Two little girls who were playing with Elizabeth paused in astonishment at some heated discussion between the old couple.

Elizabeth, impatient at the interruption, exclaimed, "Oh, come on! Don't pay any attention. They quarrel like that all the time."

HAVE YOU THESE SYMPTOMS?

If So, Commence Taking Gude's Pepto-Mangan and Get Back to Good Health

Lack of vitality, a feeling of tiredness, bad breath, pale lips, colorless cheeks, loss of weight, flabby flesh, lessened strength—all of these call for the immediate use of Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It will positively produce satisfactory results. Try taking it with your meals for a few weeks and be surprised with the improvement in your condition. Gude's Pepto-Mangan will help you back to strength during convalescence from any illness. It has been prescribed successfully by physicians everywhere for thirty years. It is a recognized iron tonic of honest merit. For sale in liquid and tablet form by all druggists. Ask for it by the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan."—Advertisement.

Zero Count.

Minister—"Yes, my boy, even the hairs on our heads are numbered."
Small Boy—"Dad's ain't; he's baldheaded."—Spare Moments.

A COLD TODAY—DONT DELAY
CASCARA QUININE
Cures Colds in 24 Hours
La Grippe in 3 Days
W. H. HILL CO., DETROIT.

Profit in Poultry. Make your feeds and egg mashes at home. Save many dollars. Ten special formulas for feeds, tonics, conditioner 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Poultry Specialty Co., Mableton, Ga.

WORD AD IN 100 MAGAZINES $1. weeklies $3. 10 dailies $5. QUALITY JOURNAL, 5449 Alaska Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

SINGLE COMB WHITE LEGHORN EGGS 1.25 Setting. Satisfaction Guar. Circular. Little Cypress P'ltry Fm., Little Cypress, Ky.

When You Need a Good Tonic
Take BABEK
THE QUICK AND SURE CURE FOR
Malaria, Chills, Fever and Grippe
CONTAINS NO QUININE
All druggists, or by parcel post, prepaid, from Kloczewski & Co., Washington, D.C.

YOU CAN'T TRUST CALOMEL AT ALL

It's Quicksilver, Salivates, Causes Rheumatism and Bone Decay.

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Advertisement.

Water Sport.

The Ancient Mariner shot the albatross.

"You should have shot the synura," we admonished him.

MINERALIZED WATER ROUTS CHICKEN LICE

Tablets Dropped into Drinking Founts Banish Vermin, Make Fowls Grow Faster and Increase Egg Yield.

Any poultry raiser can easily rid his flock of lice and mites, make chickens grow faster and increase their egg yield by simply adding minerals to the fowls' drinking water. This does away with all bother, such as dusting, greasing, dipping and spraying. The necessary minerals can now be obtained in convenient tablets, known as Paratabs. Soon after the fowls drink the mineralized water, all lice and mites leave them. The tablets also act as a tonic conditioner. The health of the fowls quickly improves, they grow faster and the egg yield frequently is doubled. Little chicks that drink freely of the water never will be bothered by mites or lice.

The method is especially recommended for raisers of purebred stock, as there is no risk of soiling the plumage. The tablets are warranted to impart no flavor or odor to the eggs and meat. This remarkable conditioner, egg tonic and lice remedy costs only a trifle and is sold under an absolute guarantee. The tablets are scientifically prepared, perfectly safe, and dissolve readily in water.

Any reader of this paper may try them without risk. The laboratories producing Paratabs are so confident of good results that to introduce them to every poultry raiser they offer two big $1 packages for only $1. Send no money, just your name and address—a card will do—to the Paratab Laboratories, Dept. 826, 1100 Coca Cola Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., and the two $1 packages, enough for 100 gallons of water, will be mailed. Pay the postman $1 and postage on delivery, and if you are not delighted with results in 10 days—if your chickens are not healthier, laying more eggs and entirely free from lice and mites—your money will be promptly refunded. Don't hesitate to accept this trial offer as you are fully protected by this guarantee.

SAWS.

For Fordson and up to 25M ft. They hold their teeth, and cut hard and frozen timber. Use only a file, for we keep the blade in order 1 year free. We can arrange terms. Saw pays YOU as YOU pay us. Three men are cutting 4M to 6M or 200 to 300 ties per day on a Fordson, clearing $35 to $60 per day, as the sawyer is the owner.

CUT YOUR NEIGHBORS' TIMBER ON SHARES.

Three Electric Factories, a 24-hour service, any saw repaired (except burned), returned same or next day, made into same as a Hoe. All repairs GUARANTEED, when we put saw in order.

Miner's latest Book—or a Fordson STEEL Guide with any Saw, $73 and up. 40 years in the business, ask your banker or any successful millman. Book on Hammering, $2.50, Guide, $5.00.

J. H. MINER SAW MFG. CO., Inc.
MERIDIAN, MISS. COLUMBIA, S. C. SHREVEPORT, LA.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Removes Dandruff-Stops Hair Falling
Restores Color and Beauty to Gray and Faded Hair
60c. and $1.00 at Druggists.
Hiscox Chem. Wks. Patchogue, N. Y.

HINDERCORNS Removes Corns, Callouses, etc., stops all pain, ensures comfort to the feet, makes walking easy. 15c. by mail or at Druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

DROPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE
Short breathing relieved in a few hours; swelling reduced in a few days; regulates the liver, kidneys, stomach and heart; purifies the blood, strengthens the entire system. Write for Free Trial Treatment.
COLLUM DROPSY REMEDY CO., Dept. C. E., ATLANTA, GA.

SMOKED FISH
Choicest of fine food caught in salt water; smoked immediately and shipped to you parcel post, direct from smoke house; generous supply for 50c. F. Noyes, Wulfert, Fla

MEN WANTED
Sell photos. 4 samples 50c.
S. MUSACK, 1615 Frederick St., Racine, Wis

IMPROVEMENT IN BUSINESS SHOWN

SEVEN BIRMINGHAM INDUSTRIES RUNNING FULL TIME—SEVENTEEN PART TIME.

K. K. K. MAKES DONATION

Huntington And Connelley Convicted—Clemency For Lambert Recommended—Farmers Of South Alabama To Grow Melons.

Birmingham.—Improvement in business conditions in Birmingham is shown by the advance sheets of the bulletin gotten out by the Department of Labor, which have just been received at the Municipal Federal Employment Bureau. During the period from January 15 to February 15, reports from 24 local industries employing less than 500 men each showed a net increase of 112 men employed. The Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Company was reported as operating at 75 per cent capacity, with seven out of its nine open hearth furnaces at Ensley in operation. The bulletin will show the A. G. S. shops have resumed operations in the car department employing 260 men, who have been idle for some time.

The advance figures, which were given out by H. E. Oliver, director of the Municipal Federal Employment Bureau, show that of the 24 Birmingham industries covered by the report seven are running full time, and 17 part time or with reduced forces. Plants producing steel rails, steel wire and wire products are reported fairly busy. Further improvement in conditions, due to the prospective building program here, are predicted.

7 CREAMERIES ESTABLISHED

REPORT SHOWS THIRTY-SEVEN STATIONS HAVE BEEN PLACED.

Auburn.—The establishment of seven creameries and 37 cream stations and the introduction of 461 heifers and bulls and 717 milk cows were the high points in the dairy development of Alabama in 1921.

In a 21 page report William Hardie, dairy specialist for the Extension Service, reviews the progress of the work for the year as a whole, making special references to the different sections and indicating that progress was made in every section of Alabama.

Comparing the situation at the end of 1921 with that at the beginning, Mr. Hardie states that there are now 21 creameries in Alabama, seven of which were established in 1911; and that 37 of the 48 cream shipping stations of the state were established during the year.

For Haleyville Improvements.

Haleyville.—The streets and roads improvement committee appointed by the Haleyville Civic Association met with some very enthusiastic talks by W. R. Teague, C. L. Webb, C. C. Burdette, H. P. Still, B. J. Cowart, J. R. Dozier and O. B. Hall on the future of the town and the need of good streets through the town, and good roads throughout the county. The purpose of the meeting was to formulate plans to raise necessary funds to improve streets and sewerage.

Farmers Will Diversify.

Hackleburg.—The farmers of this community are preparing to rotate crops. There are between 60 and 80 acres pledged by the farmers of this community for potatoes and 90 acres for peanuts with other crops that will help to take the place of cotton. The new plans are spreading very rapidly and it is believed that before Spring the greater part of the farmers in the county will fall in line for diversified crops.

K. K. K. Donates.

Greenville.—An envelope addressed to the editor of the Greenville Advocate containing $25 for the school fair and a short note was found on the desk of Gen. J. B. Stanley, editor of the paper, supposed to have been placed there by members of the Ku Klux Klan of Greenville. The letter caused considerable comment.

Breaks Arm Throwing Ball.

Tuscaloosa.—Roy Pearson, a young man of Cottondale, broke his right arm as the result of throwing a baseball during a game on the school diamond. The bone snapped just above the elbow.

"Flu" Closes School.

Hackleburg.—Both the public and high school have been closed because of the influenza. It is in a very light form and there has been no serious cases reported.

Road Survey Started.

Mulga.—Surveyors are on the ground making a survey of the proposed new road soon to be constructed from Ensley through Mulga to Wylam. The general talk is that this road will be among the first to be built from the funds made possible by the recent bond issue. Bids for construction will be advertised immediately, according to the action of the county board of revenue. It is expected that work on this road will begin early in the Spring.

PLANS ARE OUTLINED FOR AUBURN DRIVE

ALUMNI BEING URGED TO TAKE ACTIVE PART IN RAISING A Million.

Auburn.—The plan which has been adopted by the Greater Auburn Campaign to have each alumnus throughout the state to assume and be responsible for a minimum quota of $250 is meeting with a hearty response from the alumni of the institution.

Charles F. DeBardeleben, General Chairman of the Campaign, is receiving many replies to his letter to the alumni, proposing that they raise a sum of $250 to aid in the Campaign, for one million dollars. Chairman DeBardeleben explained that where an Auburn man was not financially able to give the entire sum himself, that he should raise the money in contributions from people in the state who are interested in the cause of education and in the agricultural and industrial development of Alabama.

"We are in touch with more than 3000 alumni of Auburn, scattered throughout the State of Alabama, with some in other states," said Chairman DeBardeleben. "If each one of the alumni will assume the minimum quota of $250 to be raised among outsiders, or subscriptions paid by themselves, it will be seen that we will have $750,000 of our million from that source. We have received sufficient encouragement from citizens of the state, not Auburn men, who are interested in the development of Alabama and in the cause of education, to be certain that we will receive the other $250,000 needed from that source."

Federal Court Convictions.

J. J. Huntington and J. H. Connelly, convicted in federal court of using the mails to defraud Marshal Hinchman, Glenwood, Ind., farmer out of a large sum of money, were each sentenced to a total of seven years in the penitentiary and fined $2,000 apiece, by Judge W. I. Grubb, following their conviction by a jury in federal court.

New Morgan County Agent.

Decatur.—Morgan County is to have a horticultural agent, C. J. Hayden, graduate of Clemson College, has arrived here as horticultural agent for the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and will open headquarters in the Twin Cities soon. The railroad is establishing agents in many of the counties through which the road passes.

Install New Organ.

Tuscaloosa.—A handsome pipe organ is being installed in the beautiful $100,000 Presbyterian Church which will soon be completed on Greensboro Avenue. The organ cost about $20,000 and is a fitting instrument to be placed in the beautiful new edifice, which will be ready for occupancy by Easter.

Pipe Plant Starts Up.

Anniston.—Through the organization of the Rudisill Soil Pipe Company by Mayor H. B. Rudisill, J. M. Eastham and W. C. Wilson, an idle pipe foundry known as the Eastham foundry, has been taken over and put into operation, 75 men being put to work on the first day of operations.

Birmingham Sugar Machinery.

Birmingham.—Peru, Mexico, Cuba and Louisiana have been receiving sugar machinery from Birmingham recently, and inquiries now coming in from Cuba and other places indicate that there will be a better trade in this class of work than for many months.

Clemency Recommended.

Montgomery.—The Alabama Pardon Board voted to recommend commutation of sentence from death to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary for Tom Lambert, sentenced to be hanged March 17, at Birmingham for the murder of Martha Gilleland, his sweetheart.

Plan City Improvements.

Albany.—Requests of the Boy Scouts and the Funeral Benefit Association for permission to look after and beautify parts of the city's unimproved park areas have been granted by the city council and work will begin soon under the auspices of the two organizations.

Rural Schools Close.

Roanoke.—On account of a shortage of funds there are a number of rural schools of Randolph County that have had to close one or two months ahead of time.

Broom Plant Installed.

Phil Campbell.—Phil Campbell is to have a new industry in the near future. G. W. Grainger will start up a broom making establishment. He already has the machinery on the spot.

To Grow Melons.

Auburn.—There is now a very active concerted movement on in at least seven South Alabama counties for the planting of watermelons for commercial purposes this year. The movement is being promoted by the farmers themselves through their organization, the farm bureau, and the county agents in the counties concerned are rendering necessary assistance to the end that the venture, which is new to a large number of farmers, may result in success for all.

Make Every Meal A Perfect Feast

Tanlac Makes Each Bite a New Delight

WHEN your digestive system is working efficiently and smoothly, extracting from your food abundant stores of vital energy and piling up a reserve force of vigor to meet any emergency, every bite is eaten with keen zest and appreciation.

If your meals are not a real event, if you do not approach the table with the most lively anticipation of its delights, then you are only half-living, because you are only half getting the value of your food.

Lack of appetite, or distress from indulging the appetite, are both due to the same cause—failure of the digestive system to properly do its important work. The undigested food remaining in the alimentary canal may merely cause a distaste for more food when it cannot take care of what it has, or it may undergo chemical and putrification changes that cause acute disease.

Besides, these chemical changes produce poisonous substances that are carried to every cell and organ of the body and that cause all sorts of distressing symptoms.

Tanlac, the famous digestive tonic and body builder, has achieved its wide success because it is able to invigorate the entire digestive tract.

It acts to cause vigorous stomach preparation of the food, both through the muscular churning action of that organ and through ample secretion of digestive fluids. It then promotes energetic action of all the bowel muscles and glands and enables the food to pass through the digestive canal in the normal time. Each of the thousands of little glands whose duty it is to pick up nourishment from the food and send this to all parts of the body are stimulated to their utmost. The whole result is that food is taken care of without distress of any sort in such manner as to derive the utmost benefit from it.

If your appetite is not keen, if your food seems to disagree with you, if you are underweight, nervous, irritable and lack energy, give Tanlac the chance to show you that it can work a miracle in your condition as it has in so many thousands of other cases.

If you are despondent, gloomy, with little taste for and enjoyment of life, try Tanlac and no doubt you will see the clouds of gloom roll away under the sunshine of health.

You are entitled to be healthy, vigorous, efficient and happy. Give yourself the chance to become so as thousands of others have, by taking Tanlac.

Get Tanlac from your druggist this very day. Why wait for tomorrow when Tanlac—and health—await you today?

Enthusiasm begets understanding.

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Hurry, mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

What is a cubist? A whatist? Yes.

Holy City in Early Days.

Ancient Jerusalem stood on four hills, now almost entirely molded together, and the intervening valleys filled with debris. Mount Zion is that height on the southwest, the city of David, made conspicuous today by the towers of the German ecclesiastical buildings for which the former kaiser gave the land. Mount Moriah is on the east, the site of Solomon's temple, separated from Mount Zion by the valley of the Tyropoeon, Mount Bezetha is on the north and Mount Akra on the northwest, the two latter representing the crowded quarters of the modern city.

Try and Say It.

An automobile in Belgium is known as a "suelpanrdelooszontrapoorvegpetrolcumrytuig." Litterally translated, it means "fast-horseless-without-rails-petrol vehicle."

A bright girl doesn't think herself an angel just because some man tells her she is.

ASPIRIN

WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin.

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

Colds
Toothache
Earache
Headache
Neuralgia
Lumbago
Rheumatism
Neuritis
Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions.
Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.
Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic
P 10

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY..Editor
J. L. JOHNSON,......................................Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

"The way of the transgressor is hard." So is the way of everybody else who has to dig up a living these days.

So far as the people of Chilton are concerned they would be glad if these foreign damage suits would be kept at home where they belong.

President Harding is enjoying a golfing tour on the east coast of Florida this week and incidentily showing those insurgent senators how successfully he can pout.

President Harding says: "No sales tax, no bonus." Congress says they will be eternally diug busted if they will add on any more visible tax and go back home ever again. So there you are.

In all criminal cases the accused party or parties are entitled to a trial by jury before they are tried and condemed by public sentiment. The law is supposed to consider every person innocent until he is proven guilty by the evidence.

We have known the time when men with families worked for a dollar per day and saved some money. Show us a family today who are forced to get their existance out of a dollar per day and we will show you a family that is starving on the installment plan.

The indications are now that the Muscle Shoal property will not be given to any bidder. If it operates at all it will probably be as an inefficient government plant. Business goes to the mat when it tries a fall with politics every time.

Now a modern Solomon has come to judgement and told the Muscle Shoals investigating committee that fertilizer can not be made at all at the No. 2 nitrate plant. It is certainly wonderful, wonderful what an amount of "expert" scientific wisdom goes to waste in this country.

That much talked of "four power treaty" seems to be a bastard so far as finding a dady for it is concerned. Nobody will own the brat, but it is living and thriving fairly well. Somebody slipped the darn thing in on the Harding League of Nations, but all of them swear they don't know it's dady. This begins to look like a piece of Hindu juggling.

The Bible has been almost eliminated from any sphere of influence in modern life, but there is one suggestive feature we notice as events transpire. Most all the horrible crimes and great disasters that occur, if you will only study them out closely you will find that they follow along the line of some persistent disobedience to a Scriptural "Thou Shalt Not."

All the scientific people who do their farming on paper, have agreed that the winter has been a favorable one for the boll weevil, and that he will arrive early and in force this [illegible] They were on hand last Spring at planting time locating the acreage. This year, we suppose, they will attend personally all the fireside conferences when the farmer is "pitching" his crop.

Rev. Francis Willis Barnett, for years connected with the Age-Herald, but now a fascinating feature writer for the Birmingham News, was in the city Wednesday. He is, perhaps, more widely known personally than any man in Alabama and is as widely popular as he is known. He was here to attend the formal opening of the Central Alabama Hospital and delivered a masterly address on that occasion.

Let's Have No Personalities Mud Slinging nor Sulking.

Candidates must all get their annoucements in before April 1 to compete in the primary August 8. Don't forget that. Another vastly important thing we want to impress on Democrats is that when two or more aspire to the same office only one can win and somebody must necessarily loose.

You all have a perfect right to make the race, but none of you have the right, if defeated, to sulk. No patriotic Democrat worthy of the name will do that.

If we have more than one candidate for any office in Chilton county in the primary, we want to suggest right now that each one pledge himself to do all he possibly can for the ultimate election of the nominee no matter who he is. When the primary is over and the various nominations have been made, we earnestly hope to see every defeated candidate take off his coat and get in the field with all his might to elect the ticket. If he fails to do so he should be a marked man in every succeeding election. He should be dead forever politically.

Democracy Is going to win in Chilton county this year unless it allows disgruntled candidates and their disappointed friends to sulk in their tents and prove traitors to the party. An absolutely unbroken front means victory beyond the shadow of a doubt, but the "sore head" will be as disastrous to our party this year as to a brood of little chicks.

Allow nothing to blight your loyalty and enthusiasm for the party. Leave all personalities severely alone and remember, at all times, that we, as a pafty, have no spleen to vent and no personal animosities to air, but that we are contending solely and honorably for a principle that is as necessary and essential to the peace and prosperity of the South as is the liberty we boast of to this great land of freedom. But for the Democratic party the South would have long since ceased to be endurable to us as a home and without its protection in the future our dearly loved Southland is doomed.

The friends of any candidate are in a better position to know him than you are if you oppose him. They know his personality better than you do. If he is a rascal, a crook or an incompetent they already know it. If he is a bootlegger or beats his wife they know more about it than you do. Then why vilify and abuse him?

The everlasting principles of right and justice—the privilige to live our lives in peace and happiness—the eternal damning to perdition this idea of "equal political and civil" rights for the negro. These are some of the great things we stand for and are the main principles which can only be upheld in the South by the Democrats, and for these principles we should fight.

Individuals are too small game to waste amunition on. When you prepare to shoot aim at wrong and dangerous principles and practices and not at some insignificant person.

FOR SALE

A nice five room dwelling with large garden on Main Street, two blocks from Court House.

Cash or reasonable terms. A bargain. THOS. A. CURRY, Atty.

A Splendid Man.

We carry this week the official announcement of Mr. G. D. Retherford for Sheriff of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Mr. Retherford possesses every qualification we could wish for in an official. His character is without blemish, he is capable and we do not believe there is any one who is acquainted with him but who has the utmost confidence in his integrity.

A NEW CLUB

An organization, known as the Pine Knot Club, was brought into existence the other night out in the woods between here and Maplesville, while a car was stuck in the mud, the wind sighed through the pines and the gentle rain drops patted a sad tattoo on the scene.

Messrs Clay Marcus, Prof. Mullins and Frank Hardee are the charter members of this club and will furnish you all information if you care to join.

POST OFFICE AT HOME AGAIN

The repairs are about completed on the recently burned out post office building and Postmaster Bean is expecting to move his office home again today or tomorrow.

We will all be glad to have the office back on the job again, and we know Mr. Bean is more than pleased to get back in a normal basis with more elbow room.

The interior of the buildng is neatly finished and we are going to have again an attractive home for Uncle Sam.

We invite your attention this week to the announcement of Mr. W. W. Cobern, of Mt. Creek, for Sheriff. We have intimately known Mr. Cobern for a number of years and we can say he is "all wool and a yard wide." The affairs of the office would be well taken care of by him. Will is a mighty clever fellow and has many friends.

STATEMENT OF CONGRESSMAN JEFFERS

During the eight months I have been here as representative of the fourth Alabama district, I have applied myself diligently to the task of familiarizing myself with the workings of Congress and the various governmental departments. I feel that I have made substantial headway.

I am anxious to give to all the people of our great district the courteous, prompt and efficient service which they should receive from this office.

As I stay here I shall endeavor to fit myself better and better all the time to handle the work of the office so as to merit the continued good will, friendship and support of the citizens of the district.

In announcing my candidacy for the sixty-eighth congress, I wish to respectfully ask the support of every citizen of our district.

I am fully appreciative of the honor already bestowed upon me.

LAMAR JEFFERS.

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

We carry this week the announcement of Hon. Geo. F. Smoot, of Elmore county, for Circuit Judge of this district.

We feel like in the election of Mr. Smoot the people will have placed upon the bench a man peculiarly fitted for the place. He is a man of eleven years of successful experience at the bar, a hard, consistent and close student and of unimpeachable character.

FOR SOLICITOR

We carry this week the announcement of Col. C. E. Alexander, asking for re-election to the office of Circuit Solicitor.

Col. Alexander has made a good showing during his incumbency of that office and his record is known.

He is an ex-service man, having put up over two years for his country. Fifteen months of this time being over seas as 1st Lieutenant in the 82nd Alabama Regiment. Was in the St. Miheil and Argonne battles and other severe scraps.

Notice

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made to the State Board of Pardons for the restoration of my civil and political rights. This March 5, 1922.

3-9-2tp Alonza Aldridge.

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Reds. Single Comb. Eggs now ready—15 for 75 cents. All fresh and fertile. Address,
3-2-4tp G. M. Durbin,
Clanton, Ala., Route 3.

We do Job Printing.

A MOTHER'S VIEWS

Editor Chilton County News:—

Allow me a small space in your valuable paper to express my views on a subject that seems to be discussed a great deal, especially among the male sex, to-wit: Womens dress, (or lack of dress,) as the case seems to be at present. I am a young mother of two small boys and if the female class keep on making abbreviations in dress for the next 10 years as they have the past ten, the future for our children seems a hopeless failure, and a road of degradation confronts the rising generation that is almost heartrending to those who look at the situation in its right light. Oh, mothers, hearing and seeing as we do the rapid downward course that the morals of the young, and a lot of the old people are traveling today, can we sit still and dumb and just let them drift along to ruin? I see a good many letters from all over this county and they are simply little silly nothings, as Mr. so and so visited Miss so and so, which is of no real good only to fill up the paper, and I know of some instances in which they were written simply for pure spite to the ones named. But, excuse me, Mr. Editor, I have gotten off my subject. I wish to call the attention of our readers back to the subject on which I started. I will venture to say that if all the mothers would be more careful with their girls, our young men would have a much brighter outlook. I have heard many people remark that certain young men would have made good citizens but they were deceived in some girl who was near and dear to them and the result is a dissipated life, all confidence in the opposite sex is lost and a miserable wretched life is the result. I wish to impress on you mothers, who have young girls, the need of more discipline and for God's sake and in the name of all that is good and pure let's set a better example before them in the future, or we are going to reap an awful harvest of bitter corruption. "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it." How many of us are training our children as they should be trained? If our young girls were trained as they should be, there would be fewer naked backs and bare knees to cause the opposite sex to blush at, if such a thing is possible. It used to be said that women were the weaker sex, but, if I see right they are the stronger at present, as they are leading the procession in the downward course. Of course we have a good many good mothers, who are powerless to do anything within themselves, but, I believe that if we are to do anything to reme this terrible evil one must get b at once and through united eff maybe we will win out, with the gr and almighty power in our favor, l try. I wish to hear from some m competent writers than myself this subject and if this communi tion escapes the waste basket, come again, as I see the great n of something being done about t subject. So readers, let's have y views, especially mothers of the ri stripe. Speak out, we cannot do thing sitting still.

With best wishes to the News it's readers.

A Democratic Mother

HOSPITAL AUXILLIARY COMMITTEE

The ladiles composing the ab commitee wish to extend their m sincere thanks to the colored peo of Clanton and vicinity, and espec ly to their efficient Chairman, L Wood, for the splendid Linen Sh ers they so liberally donated to t department of the Central Alaba Hospital.

Their Shower was certainly selected and of excellent quality is a credit to them and also to t works in the Hospital. We th you every one.

MRS. M. L. WHITE
Chm. Auxilliary C

"You con fool all of the people s of the time. You can fool some of people all of the time; but CA FOOL ALL of THE PEOPLE A of the TIME."

Car Load of Mules.

I have just received a car load of assorted Mules and can fit you out with any kind you want to suit any kind of work. Call and see me at the New Sales Stables, near overhead railroad bridge.

D. Y. JOHNSON.

FOR SALE—80 acres of land on Lock 12 highway 6 miles from Clanton, will sell or trade for pracitally new Ford Touring Car. Write or see W. J. Bice Rt. 6 Clanton, Alabama. 3times

The Old Reliable

I am back on the job again, ready and anxious to do all your Shoe Repairing at pre-war figures.

Find me in rear of the Smith and Downs wholesale store in the Taylor Mill building.

N. B. EROWN.

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
RD & COLLIER
orneys
John. Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.

Subscribe for The Chilton County News. $1.00 per year.

Watch Out!

Something is going to happen. Prices are going to jar the bottom out.

Say! Did you know we were paying the highest market price for Chickens and Eggs and all kinds of Country Produce.

F. M. Connell

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central A[illegible], [illegible]ly Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

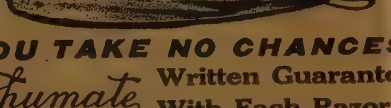
We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is uy to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the leabe come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile



YOU TAKE NO CHANCES
Shumate Written Guarante
With Each Razor
For Sale by

Alred Drug Co.
CLANTON, ALABAMA

PRIZE WINNING ESSAY GORGAS MEMORIAL

By Miss Mary Kennedy, of our County, who Won the Prize for High School Girls over the Entire State.

Why, I believe the Gorgas School of Sanitation will bring health and happiness to Alabama and the Southland.

The reson I believe the Gorgas School of Sanitation will bring health and happiness to Alabama and the Southland is that General Gorgas has demonstrated already that the most dreaded disease of the South (yellow fever) can be eradicated and also malaria which kills thousands every year. If the scientific researches will but keep up what General Gorgas has started it will bring blessings and happiness to this beloved Southland of ours. Not only to our beloved Southand, but to the whole world.

General Gorgas has done something for humanity that no other man has ever been able to do. He cleaned the canal zone of yellow fever, which was killing a great per cent of the workers. He also rid Panama of malaria. The French were unble to build the canal because of yellow fever. When the United States bought out the French Company, they sent General Gorgas to Panama in charge of the sanitary division. He searched out the cause of yellow fever and found it to be caused by the bite of the female stegomyia misquito. To become infected the misquito must first suck the blood of a person sick with yellow fever; after three to six days the person bitten will fall sick wilth the disease; after twelve to twenty days the misquito is unable to convey the disease. The disease itself is caused by a parasite, and the parasite is submicroscopic. After General Gorgas found this out, he immediately had all the houses screened. He soon noted a decrease in the disease. If this great work is continued don't you think it will bring health and happiness to the men and women of tomorrow and the scores of little children that would fall prey to this dreadful disease?

The Gorgas School of Sanitation will train men and women how to go out and aid in the prevention of the disease that are common to humanity today. These men and women will specialize in further research into tropical and preventive medicines. By the installation of the Gorgas sanitary methods this death rate will be greatly reduced. By preventing malaria and kindred diseases the men and women of tomorrow will be a much happier and healthier people than we are today. Preventing these disease will make the country wealthier by enabling the people to grasp the great opportunities given them by the richness of the soil, which could be cultivated to great advantage. The raw material in the mountains, which they might get and use in manufacturing to great benefit. Installing sanitary methods in such districts would make a healthy, prosperous people. But on the other hand if there were no sanitary methods the people would be backward.

To be a great nation we must have a healthy happy people. Health and happiness bring prosperity. We are now considered a great nation, but we will not be as great as some thing us to be until we rid the South of pellagra, malaria, hookworms and many other diseases that tend to lower standards.

The Gorgas Memorial Institute in Panama will be a fitting memorial to a man who has done so much for the world. He was respected and honored throughout the world. Every nation is interested in the erection of the memorial. We Alabamians should especially honor him for he was a native of Alabama, being born in Mobile. He spent his life working in the beloved Southland. He started his great work in Cuba in nineteen hundred and one by ridding Cuba of yellow fever. He was a major in the medical corps of the United States Army at that time. He served as surgeon general in the United States Army in the late world war. He received honors and degrees from numerous colleges. He held eight degrees of Doctor of Science, five of Doctor of Laws. France made him commander of the Legion of Honor, Italy gave him the Grand Cross of the Order of the Crown of Italy. King George of England awarded him with many honors. He was awarded many medals honoring him for his work for humanity. He died in London July 4, 1920, at the age of sixty five and nine months. He was the greatest doctor the world has ever known. Going down through the pages of history you can find but one man who has ministered to the people more than General Gorgas, that man was our Savior, Jesus Christ.

MULBERRY NEWS

The play at the Isabella Consolidated School was a success. The night was clear with moon light. A large crowd attended with best of order and everyone cheerful as they entered the front door. Mr. W. T. White sold them tickets. They were taken up at the entrance of the auditorium by Mr. W. F. DeShazo. The crowd gave ear to a string band of music. The first play on program was old maids Association, which was interesting. It made one think of years ago to see a crowd of young girls dressed in tight basque and long skirts. But the most attracting part was a machine that would change old maids to school girls and see them come gleefully skipping in.

The second on program was Prof. John B. Wise, A Poor Married Man, which was a lengthy play with three scenes, and eight characters. One of the most striking was the much abused mother-in-law, and Pete's Sermon, a typical negro preacher, was much appreciated and applauded. We want to congratulate our accomplished teachers and young folks for their good work and manner in which they entertained the well filled auditorium. The names of those that had parts in the plays were Messrs James Lecroy, Harold Smith, Wallace Veazey, Leonard McCraw, Jewel Wright, Eula Giles, Vera Wright, Lena Mae Rasberry, Eleanor Summers, Glois Manning, Cleo Roebuck, Lucy Delene Rasberry, Lois Peters, Annie Manning Pauline Veazey, Thomas LeCroy, Jessie Dennis, Lula Dee Barnes, and last but not least, our accomplished teacher, Mrs. Jessie Harmon, Miss Gussie Dennis and Miss Nola D. Reynolds. The money taken in will go for extension work at the school building, as we expect to have one of the best equipped country schools in this county.

Isabella Methodist Church to be held in the afternoon of every Sunday. We have had prayer service for more than a year. Every Sunday night it has been well attended, and we feel it has been a great blessing as our young folks readily take part in the service.

The Sunday School Convention was at Mulberry Baptist church on Sunday the 19th. The speakers were Messrs Pickings, Johnson, S. M. Adams, Prof. Griffin, and Rev. P. G. Carter. Their subjects were assigned them and very forcefuly delivered. A good dinner was spread and a great deal of enthusiasm shown in Sunday school work.

G. E. S.

ENTERPRISE

Please allow me space in the columns of your valuable paper to state a few facts in regard to the health and welfare of this community.

We are very glad to state that the health of this community is very good at present. We are also glad to state that Miss Prudie Brockholdt, who has been very ill of pneumonia is improving very fast now.

The farmers around here are very busy preparing their land for future cultivation.

Our school is progressing nicely now, except the mumps are grazing over quite an area of the community.

Mrs. L. P. Cagle spent the night Saturday night with Mrs. I. D. Huett.

Miss Alphia Cagle spent Saturday night with Miss Susie Huett. She reports a nice time.

Prof. H. G. Carter passed through this community last Sunday afternoon. He and his wife spent a few enjoyable hours at the home of Prof. J. W. Cagle.

We noticed a truck load of people from the Bethsalem community pass through here Sunday morning. They were going to view the Mitchell Dam.

Thanking you for this space I go.

STANTON NEWS

Mr. Henry Schurter came home Wednesday to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Schurter.

Miss Lorene Dyer spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dyer. Miss Dyer is a student at the Judson College.

Mrs. L. E. Parnell and daughter, Leslie Erl, returned to their home in Waycross Georgia. They have been spending several months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Parnell.

Miss Vivian Schurter spent Saturday in Selma.

Mrs. T. D. Parnell spent a few days last wdek in Summerfield with her brother, Mr. W. I. Martn. And a few days in Selma as the guest of her niece, Mrs. Anna Parnell.

Miss Elsie Schurter spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Schurter. Miss Schurter is a popular teacher at the Grammar School at Plantersville.

Mrs. Leon Dyer spent Friday in Birmingham.

Mrs. Eunice P. Leaverite spent a few days with her aunt, Mrs. T. D. Parnell.

MACEDONIA

Several of we Macedonians attended the play, "Old Maids Association" and "A Poor Married Man" at Isabella Consolidated School, last Saturday night, and enjoyed it. The play was a good one, and was carried out perfectly. The people of Isabella are proud of their school and we think they have a perfect right to be, as they have four very fine teachers, and by the way, we stayed over for the Sunday school convention, at Mulberry, and had a very pleasant and profitable time. Prof. Johnson was there and I know he is going to tell you of the Convention. So we find that the people of the Mulberry community are doing things. They cooperate. Well, we enjoyed our visit to Mulberry very much.

Mr. Gray Tucker and family of Bessemer, are here visiting Mrs. Tucker's mother, Mrs. Alice Glass.

Our Sunday school is not what it should be, but we are hoping it will get better when the weather becomes spring like.

We are glad to see the News making improvements that it has, and hope it will continue to be a clean paper, and we have reasons to believe it will.

READING CIRCLE HAS LAST MEETING

The last meeting of the Clanton Group of the Reading Circle met Saturday, March 11. Prof. W. E. G. Sutton, Principal of Verbena school, presided. Various persons discussed chapters in "The Classroom Teacher." Several interesting papers were read. Those by Miss Ford and Miss Stewart of the County high school faculty deserved special mention.

In the afternoon, each person was called on for some home-made teaching device. A goodly number responded by presenting the real device used.

Prof. Sutton told of the probable amendment to our A. E. A. constitution, which would tend to abolish so much "bossism" in the election of officers. He was followed by Mr. Pegues, who told something of the tricks used by the colleges and normal schools to retain control of the Association by passinb the offices around among different presidents of our higher institutions.

A motion was adopted to instruct our delegates to the A. E. A. to vote for any amendment which guarantees the nomination of all officers and of the executive committee from the floor of the assembly of delegates.

On April the 22nd, an examination will be given to those who have taken the Reading Circle work. Those passing this examination will be granted a Reading Circle Certificate which will extend a Teacher's Certificate one year.

EASTERN STAR TO GIVE FEATURE SHOW

Strand Theatre Friday afternoon and Strand heatre Friday afternoon and night, when Mrs. Guy Roberts and her committee of the Eastern Star presents one of the livest wire programs that has ever came down the pike.

Mrs. Roberts says there will be no advance in price of admission and they are confidently expecting to sell every available seat before 7:30 Friday evening. So you tell your friends to come early and avoid the rush.

The proceeds are to go towards furnishing a room at the Central Alabama Hospital.

If the Committee fails to find you in supplying tickets, phone Mrs. Guy Roberts for reservations.

Let everyone who can attend these shows and not only have a jolly time but aid these leaders in a good work.

RHODE ISLAND EGGS

I can furnish pure Rhode Island Eggs for setting. $1.50 for a nesting of 15 eggs. All guaranteed fresh and fertile. Address, Charley Jones, Maplesville, Route 1. 3-16-4t p.

Miss Augusta B. Martin, of the Capital City, was here Tuesday. She works for the State Child's Welfare Department. This is a noble work and should receive the support of all good citizens.

You Can All Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the face of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your [illegible] keeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the change Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishings of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chairs, Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattresses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets; Comforts and Bed Room Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. These goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hardly believe it.

Besides this immense line, don't forget we have the largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell anything you can possibly need, religion, and we keep that in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioneer

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

Reynolds and Roberts

Dry Goods and Groceries

Shoes, Shoes!

We are offering all our Shoes at

Reduced Prices

and a lot of these are

Battle Axe Shoes

Our Work Shoes will go at the Lowest Prices you have seen. Also several hundred pair of Womens' shoes and slippers at low prices.

Phoenix Silk Hose

For Men or Women, just from the Factory are in our stock and at the NEW PRICES.

Ties, Ties, Ties.

Were $1.00, now 25 cents.
Were $1.50, now 50 cents.

Glance over the extra values we are offering today. Every item is one you need daily and one that we can save you money on.

CALICO—Several nice assorted patterns special at 7 1-2 cents per yard.

BLEACHING—Some "Indian Head," and several other grades just as good—all going during the next few days at 20 cents per yard.

SHEETING—An excellent grade for 7 cents per yard. Other grades—10 yards for $1

We are also offering several nice patterns in Ginghams, Voiles etc. Come in to see us before buying.

WE WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

Mens' and Boys' Suits—Suits that sold last year for $30:00 and up, going in this sale for $7:50 to $17;50

Boys' Suits that sold for $7:50 to $18:00 last year, going in this sale for $3:00 to $7:50.

MENS' HOSE—Good grade Lisle, 15 cents per pair. LADIES' HOSE—Good grade 15 cents per pair. CHILDRENS' HOSE—White, Black and Brown, from 10 to 25 cents. Handkerchiefs, Belts, Suspenders, Supporters, etc., marked at below wholesale prices. Come and see and buy. Mens' Collars—Regular 25 to 50 cent Collars going in this sale at 5 to 25 cents.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. f your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Insurance

Fire, Life Accident, Storm, Auto and every other kind known in the business. Rates the Lowest and all my Companies Gilt-Edge.

Sewing Machines

is my Middle Name, Come in and let me fit you up with a Machine or any part of one.

C. Reese Mullins

We Do Job Printing .

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

USE SLOAN'S TO WARD OFF PAIN

LITTLE aches grow into big pains unless warded off by an application of Sloan's. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stiff joints, lame back won't fight long against Sloan's Liniment.

For more than forty years Sloan's Liniment has helped thousands, the world over. You won't be an exception. It certainly does produce results.

It penetrates without rubbing. Keep this old family friend always handy for instant use. Ask your neighbor.

At all druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.

Sloan's Liniment (Pain's enemy)

Liggett & Myers

KING PIN
PLUG TOBACCO

Known as
"that good kind"

Try it—and you will know why

TO KILL RATS and MICE

Always use the genuine

STEARNS' ELECTRIC PASTE

It forces these pests to run from the building for water and fresh air. Rats, mice, cockroaches, waterbugs and ants destroy food and property and are carriers of disease.

READY FOR USE—BETTER THAN TRAPS

Directions in 15 languages in every box.
2 oz. size 35c. 15 oz. size $1.50.

MONEY BACK IF IT FAILS

16799 DIED

in New York City alone from kidney trouble last year. Don't allow yourself to become a victim by neglecting pains and aches. Guard against this trouble by taking

GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles. Holland's National Remedy since 1696. All druggists, three sizes.

Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

Either Way.

"There are many little ways of practicing economy in the home," proclaimed Walter Wheese sagely to his guest, after making sure Mrs. Wheese was out of hearing.

"So?" encouraged the visitor politely.

"Yes. Last winter my wife said we must get a new sofa in the spring."

"Well?"

"Instead, I got a new spring in the sofa."

When a young man's best girl expresses a wish it's up to him to pay the charges.

There is something funny about a rabbit's tail—probably because brevity is the soul of wit.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

6 BELL-ANS
Hot water
Sure Relief

BELL-ANS

25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

COMELY HOUSE OF PRACTICAL TYPE

Has Everything to Make It Cheerful and Healthful.

SIX ROOMS AND SUN PARLOR

Nothing Extra Fancy in This Design, But It Makes a Good Substantial Home of Comfort—Not Expensive to Build.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

It is quite an interesting study to compare the methods of building homes of the present day with those of several centuries back. Today everything is on a more frank and open basis. Perhaps the more perfected organization for the maintenance of law and order is responsible. At least we know that back in the Middle Ages and even up to the beginning of the last century, a home with too many entrances, too many openings in the way of windows and doors, was far from being considered practical or safe. In the castles the windows were small, the doors were heavy and the gates ponderous. It was a case of protection.

Today we are not so much worried over marauding bands although we are by no means immune from the attacks of individual holdup men. We do not have to worry about bands of Indians or an army of soldiers of fortune from a neighboring town.

And this state of affairs has profoundly affected our ideas of building homes. Another thing we have learned the value of plenty of fresh air which some of our grandfathers did not appreciate, especially at night. We build our homes with plenty of window space, each bedroom must have ample ventilation and in most cases a sleeping porch is a necessary adjunct to the home. Front porches are large and inviting. The home has become a thing of beauty rather than one of strength. We have come to rely upon invested authority and not to our own fortress.

And because of this the modern home is a real delight and pleasure. Consider the home shown here. Not pretentious by any means, not even striking, but a sturdy and comely design of very practical type. It has what is necessary to make a home healthful, cheerful and comfortable—size and light.

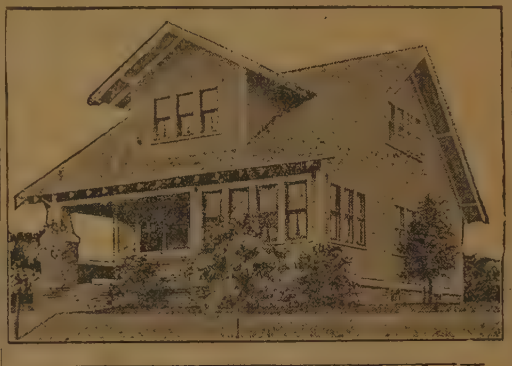
It has the advantages of two kinds of porches—the open and enclosed—the latter being known as the sun parlor. In construction it is frame, stoutly built and set on a brick foundation. The porch rails and posts are also brick.

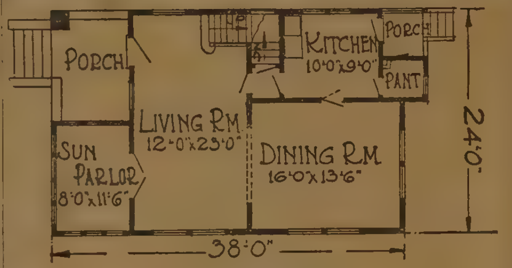
No vestibule is found upon opening the front door, that space being incorporated in the living room, which is 12 by 23 feet. The day of the old familiar double parlor has passed, at least for a good many years. Now the full-sized living room is prescribed If convenient, an open fireplace that burns should be placed in this room because it adds so much to the homelike comfort and informality of the place. The stairway to the upper floor is located in the far corner of the living room.

An open casing is the link between living and dining room. The latter room is of a good size, 16 by 13 feet 6 inches, and has windows on two sides, insuring plenty of natural daylight which adds immeasurably to the atmosphere of the dining room. Along side of the dining room is a small kitchen, 10 by 9 feet, with rear porch and pantry in the rear.

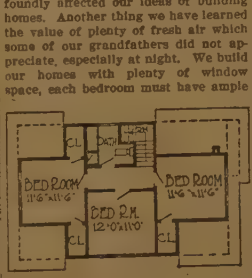
Two large roof dormers afford the space for bedrooms in the half story above, reached by a stairway from the living room. The bathroom is located on this floor also. There are three bedrooms in all, two 11 feet 6 inches square, the third 12 by 11 feet. Each bedroom has a triple window and ample closet space for clothes. The steep slope of the gable room allows fairly high ceilings in these upstairs rooms.

This is the type of home that will not only suit the requirements of a vast number of families but will also suit the limitations of their pocketbooks. It is free from exposure and freakish features that cause the bill to mount up rapidly. It is well built and will last a great many years. It is not too large, 38 by 24 feet, and not too small because of the excellent arrangement of the rooms. A large house is very often unsuitable because much space is wasted and the rooms poorly proportioned. Present-day building calls for maximum efficiency from each square foot of building. Inevitably this efficiency results in immeasurable comfort for the housewife who puts in most of her time in the home. The smaller the house the less steps she will have to take during the course of a day and consequently the less energy she will have to use up.





First Floor Plan.



Second Floor Plan.

CHILDISH SPORT IN JAPAN

Blowing of Soap Bubbles Is One of the Most Popular Amusements of the Youngsters.

It is by the merest chance that the path of the soap-bubble vendor is crossed in Tokyo. There may not be more than two such vendors in the whole of the city, their territory is widely extended, and their little patrons are on every street.

His stock-in-trade consists of a battered tin can half full of reddish soapy fluid, a small ladle, and a funnel to fill the bottles which he carries in a bag—bottles of all sorts and sizes that served in many a household for a great variety of purposes. A big bundle of bamboo reeds for blowing completes the outfit.

He was kept busy filling the bottles and reaping a harvest of coppers, for no small boy or girl could withstand the allurement of soap-bubble creation.

And, now and then to advertise his visit to the neighborhood more effectively, he dipped a very long and thick reed into his can, and the bubbles swirled and whirled in rainbow flocks.

Soon the bubble-makers were also busy, and the air was full of bubbles blown about by the wind, now blue with tints of the sky, again brilliant green against the trees, or purple, red, or orange, fading away against the gray of the old stone balustrade and steps and the hoary trees of the temple compound.—From the Continental Edition of the Londn Mail.

Wise Boy.

The little boy who had received his first jilting was eating far too many sweets. "Why can't you be contented with a few, like other boys?" asked his mother.

"Mummy," he answered, "Daddy told me that a man who smokes too much gets smoker's heart, and a man who rows too much gets rower's heart and—well—I'm eating sweets too much."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR MARCH 19

THE DOWNFALL OF ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 17:1-18.

GOLDEN TEXT—Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people.—Prov. 14:34.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Hosea 7; Amos 2:6-16.

PRIMARY TOPIC—What Came of Wrong Doing.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Israel's Punishment for Disobedience.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Results of Disobedience to God.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How National Sins Are Punished.

I. Israel Taken Into Captivity (vv. 1-6).

This was the fulfillment of that which Amos had predicted in the days of Jeroboam II, at a time when the nation was at the height of its prosperity. The northern kingdom was ruled by 19 kings, all of whom were wicked. Their wickedness was not because of lack of information or opportunity, but in spite of it. God promised the first king His blessing if he would be loyal to Him. Jeroboam departed from God and the apostasy thus begun continued downward to the end. In the reign of Hoshea, the last king, the king of Assyria came and besieged Samaria and carried the children of Israel captive to Assyria, from which they never returned.

II. The Sins Which Caused Their Doom (vv. 7-18).

1. Conformed to the ways of the heathen (vv. 7-9). God had commanded them not to follow in the ways of the heathen, but these Israelites, instead of maintaining lives of separation, secretly did that which was displeasing to God. Secret sins just as surely as open sins bring ruin, for all things are naked and open to Him with whom we have to do. One may maintain his reputation before men while practicing sins, but ruin will sooner or later overtake him. Even though God had cast out the heathen for practicing these sins, the Israelites followed in their ways. God demands separation (II Cor. 6:17).

2. Served idols (vv. 10-12). They not only compromised by "walking in the statutes of the heathen," but worshiped their gods. It was not a long step from following in the statutes of the heathen to worshiping their gods. Before they worshiped idols they cast off the true God. Idolatry came in because the race did not wish to retain God in its affection (Rom. 1:21-23). People today are worshiping idols because they have first cast off the authority of the living God. Man is a worshipful being. When he ceases to worship the true God, he worships other gods. Neutral ground is impossible.

3. They were rebellious (vv. 13-15). God by his prophet had said unto them "Turn ye from your evil ways and keep my commandments," but they stubbornly refused His testimony, even rejected His statutes. God, in love, tried to save them. He sent some of the noblest and best prophets who ever spoke to man to persuade them to turn from their sins, such as Elijah and Elisha, but they hardened their necks and plunged deeper into wickedness.

4. Caused their sons and daughters to pass through the fire (v. 17). This was the dreadful Moloch worship—the most cruel rite of heathen worship. It was done by kindling a fire in a hollow metal image until its arms were red hot and placing live children therein to be burned to death.

5. Resorted to magical practices (v. 17). When faith in the true God wanes, men always turn to the magical arts. In this way they sold themselves to evil in the sight of the Lord to provoke Him to anger.

III. Judgment Falls (v. 18).

At this stage of the drama the curtain falls. God could not be inactive longer.

1. God was very angry. God's anger is not raving fury, but the revulsion of His holy nature against sin. Sin cannot exist in His presence. His wrath must strike. Though He waits long, the debt must be paid and always with compound interest. There is only one way to escape God's wrath; that is, to turn from sin.

2. Removed them out of His sight. The land of Palestine is regarded as the land of God's sight; that is, the place of His manifested presence. Their national identity was blotted out forever. These people are still scattered among the nations, and as a separate nation doubtless they will never return to their land. The judgment was severe, but not more so than the sins merited. God had waited long. The despising of His grace must eventually work ruin. What judgment must fall upon the people today who reject His grace and mercy!

Bound to Materialize.

Every thought we think images itself in the mind and every image that is persistently held in mind is bound to materialize.—Jean Porter Rudd.

Perfect Peace.

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because he trusteth in thee.—Isaiah 26:3.

He That Diggeth a Pit.

He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall bite him.—Eccles. 10:8.

NERVOUS AND HALF-SICK WOMEN

These Letters Recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Will Interest You

For Your Own Good Please Read Them

Youngstown, Ohio.—"Last fall I began to feel mean and my back hurt me and I could hardly do my little bit of housework. I was played out when I would just sweep one room and would have to rest. I would have to put a cushion behind me when I would sit down and at night I could not sleep unless I had something under my back. I had awful cramps every month and was just nearly all in. Finally my husband said to me one day, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine?' and I said, 'I am willing to take anything if I could get well again.' So I took one bottle and a second one and felt better and the neighbors asked me what I was doing and said, 'Surely it must be doing you good all right.' I have just finished my eighth bottle and I cannot express to you how I feel, the way I would like to. If you can use this letter you are welcome to it and if any woman does not believe what I have written to be true, she can write to me and I will describe my condition to her as I have to you."—Mrs. ELMER HEASLEY, 141 S. Jackson St., Youngstown, Ohio.

"I was very nervous and run-down," writes Mrs. L. E. Wiese of 706 Louisa St., New Orleans, La. "I would often sit down and cry, and was always blue and had no ambition. I was this way for over a year and had allowed myself to get into quite a serious condition. One day I saw your advertisement in the daily paper and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. I have improved ever since taking the third bottle and find it is the best medicine I have ever taken."

Benefited by First Bottle

"I was completely run down and not able to do my housework. I just dragged myself around and did not have energy to get up when once I sat down. I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in our paper 'The Indiana Daily Times,' and learned all about it. I received results from the very first bottle and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends it is due to you."—Mrs. ELIZABETH REINBOLD, 403 N. Pine St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

You should pay heed to the experiences of these women. They know how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and afterwards, too. Their words are true.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts.

"baby improved wonderfully health" recommend th
excell

Thessalon, Ont.
Box 95
March 29, 1920

Anglo-American Drug Co.,
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—

In regard to Mrs. Winslow's Syrup: My baby suffered greatly with colic, and a friend told me of this Syrup and after I used it, baby improved wonderfully in health.

I can recommend this medicine to be excellent.

Yours truly,
(Name on request)

MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP

The Infants' and Children's Regulator

quickly relieves diarrhoea, colic, flatulency and constipation, and regulates the bowels. Non-narcotic, non-alcoholic. Formula on every label.

At All Druggists.

Write for free booklet containing letters from grateful mothers.

ANGLO-AMERICAN DRUG CO., 215-217 Fulton St., New York

General Selling Agents: Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Inc., New York, Toronto, London, Sydney

Love laughs at locksmiths? Nonsense! Aren't nearly all the locksmiths married?

It never rains on the unjust if he can get hold of the just man's umbrella.

About the best way to get along wit some people is to get along withou them.

The less religion a man has th more he thinks his wife ought t have.

Ask Your Deale

ASK your local dealer to recommend a practical decorator. If you are unable to secure one you can do the work yourself, tinting and stenciling your walls to give beautiful results.

Alabastine

Instead of Kalsomine or Wall Pape

Buy Alabastine from your local dealer, white and a variety of tints, ready to mix with cold water and apply with a suitable brush. Each package has the cross and circle printed in red. By intermixing Alabastine tints you can accurately match draperies and rugs and obtain individual treatment of each room.

MIX IN ONE MINUTE WITH COLD WATER
THE ONLY TOOL NEEDED TO APPLY

Write for special suggestions and latest color combinations

ALABASTINE COMPANY
1647 Grandville Ave. Grand Rapids, Mich.

Stifel's Indigo Cloth

Standard for over 75 years

No work that you farmers do is too rough for clothes made out of Stifel's Indigo Cloth.

All Overalls, Jumpers and Work Clothes made of this cloth last longer, wash better and keep their "looks."

See that you get it. Look for this boot shaped trade mark stamped on the back of the cloth.

Garments sold by dealers everywhere—We are makers of the cloth only.

J. L. STIFEL & SONS
Indigo Dyers and Printers
Wheeling, W. Va.
260 Church St., New York, N. Y.,

Mrs. Ruth Williamson

Birmingham, Ala.—"After becoming mother my health gave way. I sufred severely with a pain low down my right side. My sister-in-law. ving been cured of a bad case of minine trouble by taking Dr. Pierce's avorite Prescription, advised me to ke it, which I did. I am now startg on my third bottle and the pain s all left me. My husband said to e the other day, 'That Favorite Preription must be a wonderful medine, I don't hear you complaining any ore.'"—Mrs. Ruth Williamson, 4016 irst Avenue.

You should obtain this famous Preription now at your nearest drug ore, in tablets or liquid, or write Dr. ierce, President Invalids' Hotel in uffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.

Is That Cold and Cough Hanging On?

YOU will be convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery does just what it is meant to do—soothes coughraw throats, congestion-tormented chests, loosens the phlegm pack and breaks the obstinate cold and grippe attack, relieves the congestion in the head. No harmful drugs, therefore good for children as well as grownups.

Right away you will notice the change for the better. Has a convincing, healing taste that you will appreciate. Buy a bottle at any druggists on the way home to-night, 60c.

Dr. King's New Discovery
For Colds and Coughs

Lazy People, Lazy Bowels. Don't neglect constipation. It undermines the health, takes all vim out of you. Dr. King's Pills will invigorate the system, stir up the liver, move the bowels. All druggists, 25c.

PROMPT! WON'T GRIPE
Dr. King's Pills

Mitchell Eye Salve

AVOID dropping strong drugs in eyes sore from Alkali or other irritation. The old simple remedy that brings comforting relief is best. 25c, all druggists or by mail.

HALL & RUCKEL, Inc.
147 Waverly Place, New York

For SORE EYES

STANDARD FOR 50 YEARS
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
NOT ONLY FOR CHILLS AND FEVER BUT A FINE GENERAL TONIC.

W. N. U., BIRMINGHAM, NO. 11--1922.

Superstitious Islanders.

The inhabitants of the New Hebrides, composed of 12 large and 100 smaller islands, believe in witchcraft and all sorts of signs and omens, particularly of their departed ancestors and in gods which are thought to be incorporated in certain stones or animals. Every village has its dancing-ground. Here the natives meet on moonlight nights and perform wild and fantastic antics to the booming of their deep drums, some of which, six feet or more in height and carved from the trunks of trees, are capable of making terrible noises.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use for Over 30 Years.
Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Woman's Slogan.

Woman's dress nowadays may begin a little late and end a little early, but the cynic exaggerates when he says the modern girl's motto is, "Never put off till tomorrow what you can put off today."—London Opinion.

Pat. Process LOOM Products
Lloyd
Baby Carriages & Furniture

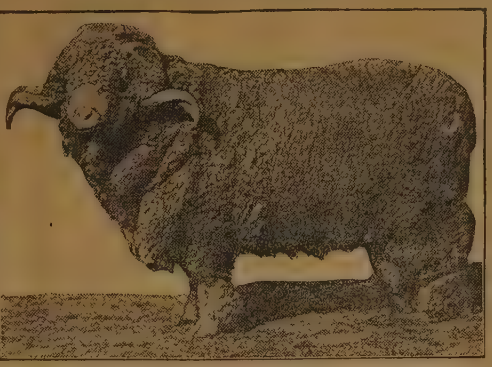
Ask Your Local Dealer

Write Now for 32-Page Illustrated Booklet

The Lloyd Manufacturing Company
(Heywood-Wakefield Co.)
Dept. E
Menominee, Michigan (16)

Ladies Let Cuticura Keep Your Skin Fresh and Young
Soap 25c, Ointment 25 and 50c, Talcum 25c.

MAINTAIN FLOCK OF SHEEP IN ADDITION TO OTHER LIVE STOCK



A Grand Championship Prize Winning Rambouillet Ram.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Recognizing the adaptability of sheep to a wide range of territory, extension workers of the United States Department of Agriculture and the state agricultural colleges have steadily encouraged the maintenance of a flock of sheep in addition to other live stock on the farm in sections where farm flocks can be profitably handled. The introduction of purebred stock and the establishing of breeding flocks has been an important feature of extension work in Connecticut and Pennsylvania in the East, and in Utah, Washington state, and New Mexico in the West.

Ram Club Comprises Three Flocks.

In Pennsylvania purebred ram clubs have been organized and are operating successfully. These clubs consist of three units of farm flocks each. A ram is purchased for each unit. He is used in each unit two years and then transferred from one unit to another until he has been used in all three units of the club. The county agent in McKean county aided in organizing three ram clubs during 1920, providing nine good rams of Shropshire breeding for the flocks of members of these clubs. All of these rams are grandsons of Minton's 51, one of the greatest show rams at the International in the past few years. Rape pasture is being used to fatten lambs. These clubs will also procure purebred Shropshire ewes, so that each member will eventually have a purebred flock.

Through the assistance given by the sheep specialist at the state agricultural college nine ram clubs were organized in Pennsylvania during 1920; $3,000 worth of purebred sheep were selected and purchased by farmers in the state in this connection. Supplementing the organization of these associations and the introduction of new stock, 35 shearing, docking, and dipping demonstrations were held, attended by over 700 people.

Utah has made notable progress in making the farm flock a factor of importance in its livestock production. In Iron county, where practically all the rams are now purebred, the sheep breeders have concentrated on the Rambouillet and grow enough stock of this breed to supply largely the demand in southern Utah for purebred animals. An outgrowth of this work is the Rambouillet sheep show, which is annually the big feature of the county fair in Iron county and at which the competition among sheep breeders is exceedingly keen. The county agent in this county co-operates actively with breeders in selecting and improving the management of the breeding stock.

A Club Member and His Pet.

Market Wool in State Pool.

In a number of states county agents have urged successfully an increase in the number of farm flocks kept. Johnson County, Neb., where the number of farmers keeping sheep was more than doubled in 1920, is a notable example. Although the condition of the wool market was discouraging, one group of 16 farmers in this county shipped a total of 5,000 pounds of wool to the state wool pool. In Jasper County, Mo., a sheep breeders' association was organized through the activity of the county agent to encourage sheep growing, to pool the wool crop, and to fight the wolf menace. This organization took steps to encourage the introduction of purebred stock, and held a co-operative ram sale, at which all the grade rams owned by members of the association were sold and replaced by purebreds.

Boys' and girls' club members have been encouraged to form sheep clubs and grow sheep, with marked success. Local banks have helped to finance these clubs, accepting the notes of club members and letting them run from 2 to 2½ years in order to enable the club members to establish small flocks and sell wool and surplus lambs before settling their indebtedness. Representatives of these banks have shown much personal interest in the work and have co-operated with extension workers in giving club members encouragement and advice. In Lake County, Minn., the cashier of the local state bank made a personal visit during the year to every boy and girl to whom money had been loaned for the purchase of sheep.

Boys Raise Orphan Lambs.

Orphan lambs in Carbon county, Utah, were taken care of last year by boys and girls who could not afford to start flocks by purchasing sheep. Those who could get milk or dried milk were given the lambs, and 19 boys and girls, altogether, took charge of 158 lambs. Only nine of these were lost during the entire season. Cows' milk was found to be the most satisfactory food, but dried milk was very convenient for use on grazing fields. One boy kept 15 lambs at his home, all of which did well. The same problem was met in a different fashion at Padillas, Bernalillo County, N. Mex., where five club members secured from two to five orphan lambs each and raised them with a goat for a mother.

Boys and Girls Have Shown Unusual Adaptability in Raising Sheep.

The outlook for an increase in the number of farm flocks generally throughout the United States is promising. Adult farmers and farm boys and girls are finding the breeding of purebred sheep a profitable line of production, fitting in well with farm activities already established. Extension workers generally should feel encouraged in advocating the adding of flocks of sheep to live stock on farms where conditions are reasonably favorable to wool and mutton production.

SQUASHES IN HOME GARDENS

Small-Growing Plants Are Best Suited for Average Garden—Use While Young and Tender.

Two distinct types of squashes are commonly grown in home gardens—the summer squashes, the fruits of which are used while they are young and tender, and the fall and winter squashes, which are ripened and used during the winter months. The small-growing summer squashes are best adapted to planting in the average garden. The larger, or standard, varieties are better adapted to field culture, although one or two hills might be planted in a corner or along one side of the garden. The hills in which summer squashes are grown should be fully four feet apart and a little manure and fertilizer should be worked into each hill as it is being made.

PLAN TO RAISE ARTICHOKES

Seed May Be Planted in Spring as Soon as Soil Is Warm—Use Well-Rotted Manure.

Deep, rich sandy loam, with a liberal supply of well rotted manure, is best suited for growing globe artichokes. Plant the seeds as soon as the soil is warm in the spring, and when the plants have formed three or four leaves they may be transplanted to rows three feet apart and two feet apart in the row. The plants do not produce until the second season, and in cold localities some form of covering will be necessary during the winter. This crop is not suited for cultivation north of the line of zero temperature.—U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are of finer quality (and hence of better taste) than in any other cigarette at the price.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

"I like 'em"

Chesterfield
CIGARETTES
of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—blended

"They Satisfy"

When Loafer Becomes a Pest.

"A loafer," said Uncle Eben, "don' do no special harm, 'ceptin' when he tries to be mistook for a worker an' insisses on gettin' in de way."

The Cuticura Toilet Trio.

Having cleared your skin keep it clear by making Cuticura your every-day toilet preparations. The Soap to cleanse and purify, the Ointment to soothe and heal, the Talcum to powder and perfume. No toilet table is complete without them.—Advertisement.

GAVE HIS NAME TO CALENDAR

Pope Gregory XIII Left Lasting Monument—Other Famous Heads of the Roman Church.

Of all the long list of popes, Gregory XIII has probably left the most lasting monument, for he framed the calendar we use today, and it still bears his name. Gregory completed his calendar in 1582.

In more modern times a pope of outstanding personality was Pius IX, who in 1846 broke the age-old tradition that the pope should never preach a sermon. It happened in this way. A famous preacher of the time, Padre Ventura, whose eloquence attracted great crowds, had arranged to preach at a church in Rome, but at the last moment he was taken ill and the disappointed people were about to disperse when suddenly the bells rang and it was announced that the sovereign pontiff had arrived in the church. The pope entered the pulpit and preached a sermon which the historian of the time has described as a "simple, good, plain sermon, easily intelligible to all." It was the first time a pope had preached for 300 years.

The Mark.

"Heaven save the mark."

"Yes, everybody is after him."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

If we could see ourselves as others see us the brotherhood of man could be hastened.

Tomorrow.

Wee Donald Angus—"Please, sir, what time will it be?" Literal Gentleman—"When?"—Punch.

Outside Influence.

Rub—"What do you think of short skirts?" Dub—"Well, it doesen't depend upon the skirts."

GUARD AGAINST COLDS AND INFLUENZA.

By keeping a little Vacher-Balm in your nose.

It helps to prevent the germs entering the system.

If you are taking cold, it makes you feel better at once.

Nothing better for Aches and Pains.

Keep it handy this time of year.

Ask your druggist, jars or tubes, 30c. E. W. Vacher, Inc., New Orleans, La. —Advertisement.

GOT BACK AT "BR'ER SIMCOX"

Fool Question Met Merited Rebuke From Colored Preacher—Surely Right on One Point.

Bishop Candler, of Atlanta, was condemning a certain theological controversy.

"Such idle controversies," he said, "remind me of the colored preacher who began a sermon with the words:

"'Breddern and sistern, when de fust man, Adam, was created, he was made outer wet clay and set up agin de palin's to dry.'

"A member rose in the back of the church.

"'Pawson,' he said, incredulously, 'does yo ser'ously state dat Adam was made outer wet clay and set up agin de palin's to dry?'

"'Dem's mah words, Br'er Simcox. Dem's mah words!'

"'Den, pawson, who made de palin's?'

"'Br'er Simcox, set down,' said the parson severly. 'Such fool questions as yourn would upset any system of theology.'"

State of Washington.

The state of Washington was formerly a part of Oregon and was created a territory in 1853. It was admitted to the Union as a state February 22, 1889.

It is easier for the average woman to make up her face than her mind.

Paternal Influence.

"Whom does Charles take his musical talent after?"

"Well, his father never liked work."—Judge.

DYED HER DRAPERIES, SKIRT AND A SWEATER WITH "DIAMOND DYES"

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple that any woman can dye or tint faded, shabby skirts, dresses, waists, coats, sweaters, stockings, hangings, draperies, everything like new. Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is guaranteed, even if you have never dyed before. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade, or run. So easy to use.—advertisement.

Eskimos Slaughter Musk Ox.

The Eskimo hunts the musk ox with dogs from which they do not flee. On sighting a small band he lets one or two dogs loose when the older animals immediately face outward in defensive formation with calves in the center, and prepare to give fight. As soon as the herd is thus "anchored" the Eskimo lets all his dogs loose and then proceeds to kill the musk ox with gun or bow and arrow. The musk ox are very fierce, and if a wounded bull charges the Eskimo, the dogs in turn immediately attack him, which gives the hunter a chance to shoot a second time. In this way the Eskimo is able to dispatch the whole herd.

An Old-Timer.

"Senator," said the master of ceremonies. "I'm sorry, but the sound amplifier is out of order, and I'm afraid people in the rear of the hall won't be able to hear you speak."

"Don't worry, sir," said Senator Snortsworthy. "I'm not one of your modern weaklings. I was brought up in a rugged school of oratory where a man developed his lung power before he learned to think."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

When people actually carry out their good intentions the millenium will be in full blast.

Did you ever try Grape-Nuts with stewed prunes or peaches?

THERE isn't anything better for breakfast or lunch than a dish of Grape-Nuts, with cream or milk, and stewed prunes or peaches.

This delicious combination gives you the elements of a well-balanced food. For it contains not only the material needed to build tissue and furnish energy, but it also supplies fruit acids, that help keep the system in good order.

Go to your grocer today and order a package of delicious Grape-Nuts. You will find that it will digest more readily than most other cereals, and it will "stay by" you longer—because it's so richly nourishing.

Grape-Nuts for Health
"There's a Reason"

BEST SHOE SHOP

Bring your shoe work here for first class service at moderate prices.

Laces and polishes—In fact‘ everything for the shoe at bottom figures.

New and second hand shoes for men onlv at better prices than vou can get elsewhere.

NOTICE our Panco Soles, for men women and children. Guaranteed for the life of the shoes.

Heavy shoes for Farmers and outdoor work. Guaranteed to last 12 months. Any repairs needed during 12 months will be done free of charge.

The Best Shoe Shop

Listen!

Save Money!

Just received a brand new lot of Ladie's and Misses OXFORDS at pre-war prices, ranging from $2.75 to $4.50. Same shoes sold just one year ago at from $5.00 to $7.50.

Remember

We carry staple Dry Goods, Men's Suits, Hats, Caps, Shoes and Staple Groceries. See us before you buy.

Hugh Jones'

Cash Store

A. N. Miner W. J. Easterling

Miner & Easterling

Meat Market and Grocery Store

We wish to announce to the people who trade in Clanton that we have opened up our new Meat Market and Grocery Store in the building formerly occupied by G. C. Armstrong, and are prepared to sell you anything you may want in the way of Fresh Meats, Vegetables, Groceries and anything you want to eat.

Our service shall be the very best in town. Our policy will be to furnish our customers what thev want when they want it.

We have a telephone in our store and will make a specialty of attending to any and all orders given us, making a delivery in the quickest possible time.

Your Trade Will Be Appreciated

Miner & Easterling

Clanton, Alabama.

Let Us Do Your Work

MOUNTAIN CREEK

The Pastor's and Worker's Conference met with the church at Mountain Creek on Monday, March 13, with a good attendance.

The following officers were elected: P. G. Carter, President; W. P. Lowery, Vice-President; W. A. Goss, Secretary-Treasurer. After which the folowing subjects were discussed:

1. How can we present the entire Baptist Program to the churches? Opened by W. A. Goss, and discussed by T. J. Deason, P. G. Carter and W. F. Green.

2. The right emphasis to place upon our distinctive doctrines in our preaching. When and how often should we preach them? By Rev. J. S. Judah.

3. How can we deal with the unconverted members of our churches? W. P. Lowery, P. G. Carter and J. S. Judah.

All these discussions were to the point and very profitable.

Following these discussions a bountiful dinner, furnished by the ladies of Mountain Creek and Marbury, was spread, which was very much enjoyed by all.

We were fortunate in having with us Dr. J. E. Barnes, Rev. W. R. Seymore and our State Secretary, D. F. Green, who were present in the interest of our Seventy-Five Million Campaign, so the afternoon session was given over to them and they inspired us with their able addresses.

The following pastors were appointed to get in touch with each church in the two Associations and urge them to pay all their campaign pledges due April 30. Also to confer with them in regard to grouping them in a simultaneous evangelistic campaign. Committee: P. G. Carter, W. P. Lowery, J. S. Judah, W. A. Goss, J. E. Moore, and T. J. Deason.

Everyone present seemed like the day had been well and profitably spent and expressed themselves as being glad they were present, and those who were absent missed a treat and it is hoped they will be present next time.

We were glad to have four visitors from the Elmore County Association, too.

W. A. GOSS, Sec'y.

We now have in stock in bulk, Garden Seeds, Beets, Tomatoes, English Peas, Butter Beans, Turnips, bush and pole Beans. Field seeds: Early Corn, Soy Beans, pearl Millet, Sudan and Bermuda Grass, Water Melon and Cantelope.

Alred Drug and Seed Co.

W. T. Garner, Optomist.

Will locate here. He will be at the store of Mr. B. L. Jones every second and fourth Saturday and the Monday and Tuesday following. Anyone desiring him to call at their home drop him a card. Come and have your glasses fitted. All work guaranteed, and prices to suit the times.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid politlcol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary August 8th. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

G. D. RETHERFORD.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton County in the coming Democratic Primary election, to be held on August 8th, 1922.

C. REESE MULLINS.

FOR SOLICITOR

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for Circuit Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

CECIL E. ALEXANDER.

(Paid political advertisement by Cecil E. Alexander.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination as Circuit Judge of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, composing the 19th Judicial Circuit, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

GEO. F. SMOOT.

(Paid political advertisement by Geo. F. Smoot.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, on August 8th, 1922.

W. W. COBERN.

(Paid political advertisement by W. W. Cobern.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aumust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

MULES FOR SALE

I have for sale at my home in Clanton, Ala., 8 good mules that I used on my farm on the river. Ages from 4 to 10 years old, also 7 mule colts age two and one half to three years old.

2 16-2tp B. F. HIGGINS.

MULBERRY NEWS

The Baptist Sunday School Convention of this district was held at the Baptist church here last Sunday.

The convention was presided over by Mr. T. L. LeCroy, the president.

The first subject, "How to put 'pep' into the Sunday School," was ably discussed by Mr. J. J. Pickens.

"Why a Baptist Suday School Civilization?" Presided in an interesting manner by Rev. Buford Lawrence.

"The influence of the Bible on Civilization," was discussed in an efficient manner by Rev. S. M. Adams.

Prof. J. D. Griffin did justice to the subject, "The contact of the Teacher with the pupil."

Rev. P. G. Carter, pastor of the Baptist Church at Clanton, was present and did his part in making the program a success by bringing out some good thoughts on, "The standard for Sunday School efficiency."

The people of Mulberry did not fail to sustain their well known reputation at the noon hour by having a bounteous basket dinner on the ground.

OPENING EXERCISES OF CENTRAL ALABAMA HOSPITAL

Promptly at 10, A. M., Wednesday the exercises attendant upon the formal opening of the Central Alabama Hospital, were called to order in the spacious auditorium of the new Baptist church.

As Dr. N. S. Johnson could not be on hand at that hour, Rev. P. G. Carter was requested to preside, which he did with his usual tract and efficiency.

First on the program came an appropriate Scripture reading and prayer by the Chairman.

Dr. V. J. Gragg then, in a few nice and truthful words, extended the welcome of the hospital building committee to the large audience that had assembled to take part in this momentous and epoch making occasion.

Miss Jessie L. Mariner was next on the program and she delivered to the audience a splendid message, couched in beautiful language and replete with gems of wisdom.

Following her came the notorious stumper of the State, Rev. Frank Willis Barnett, the ever ready and always loaded knight of the vostrum and quill alike. He entertained the crowd with an address that was characteristic of the man. It was witty, wise and instructive and was garlanded with vhetorical beauty and sparkling gems of thought.

Rev. D. M. Pearson closed the exercises with a most appropriate invocation.

The program was interspersed with much lovely music and the High School Band was also in evidence on the outside with some excellent band selections.

The commodious auditorium of the church was taxed to its utmost in taking care of the crowd.

In the afternoon a visit of inspection was made to the hospital by all who cared to attend and many went up an enjoyed the privilege of taking a "once over" of this beautiful structure.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

How Would You Like to See What Irvin Nerhood (Pa.) Saw?

"One customer told me that after using one large package of Rat-Snap, he got FORTY-EIGHT dead rats. How many more dead he couldn't see, he doesn't know. Remember rats breed fast and destroy dollars' worth of property. 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by

We Want Your Job Work

THE CONSOLING WEE

Montgomery Advertiser.

Here is an unauthorized intervie with a cigarette salesman: "Whe times are bad people smoke much m re than in good times. Didn't kno that? Oh, yes,—that's a fact. The worry more, and when men worr most they smoke most, and they che more tobacco then. And here's som ething you may not know, but whic we tobacco salesmen know because w have observed it over and again: I good times the cigarette and ciga stumps you find on the street are lon ger than the stumps you see in b times. In bad times the sense o economy causes men to smoke the weed to the end. In good times the are more reckless, and it is not u common to see cigars and cigarette half-smoked, lying on the ground an in cuspidors. Watching things lik these is part of the business of a tob acco salesman."

We do Job Printing.

New City Garage

Just opened up. In the Honeycut & Thompson shop building.

All kinds of repair work done in First Class style and at short notice. New prices on work cut donw to suit the times. Come and see.

MaddOx & Williams

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 | CLANTON, ALABAMA, MARCH 23, 1922. | NUMBER 28

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

The following is the program of the Philathia Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church for April 10, with Mrs. Evan Parrish as hostess at the residence of Mrs. Luckie: Roll call, Sayings of brave women; Paper, Describe oppression of Israel in time of Deborah, Mrs. John Armstrong; Talk, Describe battle with enemy, Mrs. J. C. Jones; Reading, Song of Triumph, Mrs. Malley White; Discussion, Leader, Miss French Evans, assisted by Mrs. Clyde Jones and Mrs. Willie Jones; What was Deborah's command to Barah? On what condition would Barak obey? What happened to Siser, the enemy's Captain?

Missionary Society Meets.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held its regular meeting with Mrs. McDavid on Monday afternoon. This being the Social service meeting. Mrs. Fox had charge of the program. Bible lesson from 4th chapter of Luke and Mark 1:21-45 and prayer by Mrs. Fox; Feeding the American Family, Mrs. Luckie; Poem, Mrs. John Armstrong; Mexican family life in Chinhauhua, Mrs. Martin Nix; Home Sanitation and Spirited life, Mesdames Clyde Jones and L. C. Reynolds; Centro Christiano serving the Christian home Mrs. Fox; fourteen points in making a church go, Mrs. Bob Jones. Business was then taken up. After which the hostess served a salad plate with ice tea, assisted by Mrs. Barney Roberts. The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Harvey Chandler on the first Monday in April.

Birthday Party.

On Saturday afternoon Master "Bill" Miner was host to his many little friends at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miner. This being "Bill's" 9th birthday he received quite a number of gifts. A great deal of merriment was enjoyed in [illegible] contest and Master Moses [illegible] was the lucky one and received a box of candy. After several games on the lawn, Misses Pearl and Lurline, sisters of the host, and Sarah Luckie, served cream and cake to the future bells and beaux.

Bridge Club Meets.

On last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Hosea Downs was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge Club. The apartments were lovely with hyacinths. At the conclusion it was found that Mrs. Guy Higgns held the highest score and was presented with a bottle of toilet water, and Mrs. Heard, the "booby," a hyacinth. After which the hostess served a salad plate and ice tea to the following ladies: Mesdames Heard, Guy Higgins, A. Johnson, Grady Reynolds, Eric Hart, Carrie Mullins, Ross Mullins and Miss Bettie Mullins.

Miss Alice Selman spent the week-end with her parents in Goodwater.

Miss Celia McMillan spent the week-end in Columbiana at a family reunion.

Mrs. J. Q. Wade spent Monday in Birmingham.

Miss Averytte, of Ensley, is the guest of Mrs. Wade.

Mrs. Lilly Robinson and daughter, Ruth, returned to Clanton Sunday, after spending a week in Birmigham.

Mr. Renfro Mullins spent the week-end in Montgomery.

Mrs. Weeks and Mr. and Mrs. Evan Parrish were visitors to Birmingham Monday.

Mr. Guy Roberts spent Tuesday in Birmingham.

Miss Kathleen Mullins spent the week-end with home folks and returned to Wetumpka Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Monroe and Mrs. Barney Roberts were visitors to Birmingham Saturday.

Dr. Clarence Roper of Leeds, Ala., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Roper.

Mrs. M. L. White spent the week-end in Birmingham.

Mrs. N. S. Johnson and daughters Jeane, Myra and Priscilla, spent Saturday in Birmingham.

Mrs. W. I. Mullins and Miss Kathleen Mullins spent Saturday in Birmingham.

Mr. L. F. Gerald made a business trip to Montgomery Monday night.

Mr. V. J. Heard spent Thursday in Wetumpka

Mr. Claudie Pipes came over from Tuscaloosa and spent the week-end with home folks.

Mr. Elijah Parrish and Miss Julia Parrish spent several days at West Blocton this week.

Miss Alee Stewart returned to Birmingham Friday night.

Mrs. Guy Roberts and Frances Higgins spent Wednesday in Birmingham.

Miss Mitt Moon is visiting her sister Mrs. Herbert Neighbors.

Mr. Grady Reynolds went up to Birmingham Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Neighbors are being congratulated on the arival of a son whom they will call Alex.

CARD OF THANKS

We are most grateful to our neighbors and friends for the kindness and expressions of sympathy extended to us during the recent sickness and death of our mother.

Frank and Curry Thomas and Sisters.

MR. LANDE BACK.

The many friends and customers of Mr. Lande, formerly with the New York Store, will be glad to note that he has returned and is going to open up another store here.

He will occupy the store where the Clanton Produce Co. is, and will be glad to see all his friends. The new store will be known as The Leader, and he intends to live up to that name.

TO MY FRIENDS:

I am this week entering the race for Sheriff of Chilton County. So many of my friends have requested me to make the race that in deference to their wishes I have decided to place myself in the hands of the Democrats of the county in that capacity.

I shall not feel called upon to wage an intensive campaign before the primary, but shall leave the result up to the friends I am proud to have made during my lifetime spent among you.

If I am nominated, my intention is allow nothing to prevent me from making the very strongest fight for my final election of which I am capable, and shall expect to be winner.

As you all remember, I held this position for four years at a former time, and I feel like the experience gained then will enable me to give you an administration that will be absolutely fair and just to all alike, without fear or favor. I will appreciate your support. I thank you.

BOWEN L. JONES.

CENTRAL ALABAMA HOSPITAL

On last Wednesday, according to program, the formal opening exercises of the Central Alabama Hospital took pace at the filrst Baptist Church.

The attendance was so large that even the auditorium of the church could not care for all the crowd. The audience was a representative one and was made up of people from all over this section and a number of visitors from the neighboring cities.

The program as announced last week was carried out in toto and each number was splendidly taken care of. The High School Band furnished some excellent music and in the inside of the auditorium some beautifully appropriate and classic vocal music was rendered.

All of the speakers acquitted themselves with credit. Miss Marriner was the recipient of many compliments on her splendid address. She was followed by Rev. Frank Willis Barnett, the only original all round speech maker of Alabama. He was invited to come and attend the opening and through the guneous cuortesy of the Birmingham News, to the staff of which great paper he is attached, he was sent and gave us all a great treat. His visit and the write up he gave us through the News was all complimentary to this section by that paper, while the great address we listened to was gladly contributed by the writer. He has always been a popular favorite here, and now he has endeared himself more to the hearts of the people.

The Hospital has started out under most favorable auspices. Quite a large number of patients have already been received and more are in prospect at present. The work being done is high class and the result is all that could be hoped for.

MR. W. T CALLEN PASSES AWAY

Last Thursday morning Clanton and Chilton county suffered the most serious blow at the hands of the grim destroyer that has been dealt them in many a long year. We refer to the sad passing away of Banker W. T. Callen.

He was sick only two days, but the call of death was so urgent that his malady developed rapidly, and on Wednesday morning the Panama special was stopped here at 5:12 and he was rushed to Birmingham for an operation. He survived the trip and was carried to an infirmary from the train and an immediate operation ordered. Upon making an incision the surgeons found that death had won in the race and that this brave veteran in the battle of life was already beyond all human skill. The incision was closed and he was made as comfortable as possible, but within fifteen minutes his spirit winged its flight to the land beyond, and all that was left on earth of this devoted father, warm-hearted friend and wonderful and safe financier was the casket of mortal clay in which had resided for 63 years the true heart of an honest man and the spirit of a true Southern gentleman.

Just five weeks before Mr. Callen died, he was called upon to bid farewell to his adored wife, and with a broken spirit and chastened heart he surrendered her back into the hands of the God who gave her. He bowed humbly to the rod and without a murmur lived before us daily the sentiment of "Thy Will be Done," but the sunshine had gone out of his life and he seemed to be only awaiting a message from her, on angel wings, telling him to follow over the dismal river that they might be united again in a home where sorrows are unknown and partings are no more. The summons came on that fateful Thursday and, as in life, he was doubtless happy to answer the call and join her in that celestial home not built by hands eternal in the skies.

On that same eventful day the remains were brought back home and on the following afternoon, promptly at three o'clock, all business in Clanton was suspended, the doors closed and the largest crowd in the recollection of some of our oldest citizens, turned out to do honor to the memory of this man who had lived out his long useful life here and who left to his children the heritage of a name that is spotless, and a record of honest integrity that should be a guiding star to them, and an example to all other young men who have known him.

Mr. Callen is gone but his example will live on after him like sweet incense, inspiping others to follow in the straight and narrow path of honesty and uprightness that their last days may be like his and that they may pass off of life's stage as he did, respected and honored by all who knew him.

The immediate family of the deceased consisted of two sons, Messrs. F. J. and Ed Callen, and one daughter, Mrs. Izora Alred, all of Clanton.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK

The Chilton County News is pleased to carry this week the announcement of Mr. Thos. M. Parrish for Clerk of the Circuit Court of our county.

Mr. Parrish is a splendid young man personally, and is well qualified in every way to make us a most efficient Clerk. He has extensive business experience and besides, he is an ex-service man who "put up his bit" for Old Glory in the days when our liberties were threatened by the "mailed fist" of the Kaiser. We sincerely hope to see him given this office and know that at his hands every citizen will meet with justice and courteous treatment.

WE MUST HAVE THAT BASEBALL CLUB

Boys, it is high time you were perfecting an organization for a Ball team. Get busy and give us the winning team for Central Alabama. You all can do it if you will. Clanton can and does do anything she sets her head to.

There are certain elements you should bear in mind in getting up a ball club and are main features in a harmonious organization with every player satisfied. Another all important thing is the cultivation of absolute team work. Try out and practice until every man can be assigned to the place he is best qualified to handle and put him in it. Then perfect your system until every player understands and realizes that it is not only his duty to fill his place well but to lend every effort he can in aiding and acking up the rest of the team. Train up each individual to feel like the result of the game depends on him. Select a live Captain with plenty of pep and lots of good common sense and all of you get right at his back and stick to him.

Organize a team along lines similar to these and show to the people that you mean to give us a team to be proud of and you need never fear but what Clanton will get right behind you with cash and encouragement enough to make your success a certainty. Don't ever doubt the loyalty of your home town. You have never seen Clanton fail to rise to the emergency in any meritorious cause.

Show them you mean business and they will do the rest. We want a good, high class ball team for the sake of clean healthful sport and we want the advertising a clean, gentlemanly winning ball team can give us.

BIG FIELD DAY

The Chilton County High School is making preparations for the big athletic meet here Friday, March 31st. Every school in the county doing high school work has been invited to compete in the events. The exercises will begin promptly at 10:00 the strong baseball team of Thorsby Institute will play the home team.

Valuable prizes will be offered by the business men of Clanton for the following events: Standing Broad Jump, 100 Yard Dash, Three Legged Race, Running Broad Jump, 220 Yard Dash, Tug of War, Potato Race, Standing High Jump, Relay Race, Running High Jump, 440 Yard Dash, Wheelbarrow Race, Sack Race, Shot Put, Hurdles, and Pie Contest.

Music will be furnished by the High School Band. The exercises are free and you are cordially invited to come.

BASEBALL TOMORROW

The baseball season will open tomorrow (Friday) with a game between the Chilton County High School and Marbury High School. The game will be called at 3:00, P. M. The boys are taking advantage of this pretty baseball weather and initial game of the season promises to be a good one. A game will be played with Thorsby Institute on the home ground Friday, March 31st.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their kindness and sympathy extended us at the recent death of our beloved father.

ED. S. CALLEN,
FRANK J. CALLEN,
MRS. J. HANCE ALRED.

CARD OF THANKS

Editor Chilton County News;—

Please allow me a small space in your paper to thank the kind people of our community and Dr. N. S. Johnson of Clanton, for their kindness shown us during the sickness and death of our son. May God's richest blessings rest upon each and every one is our prayer.

Geo. W. Hayes and Family.

MR. B. L. JONES FOR SHERIFF

We are pleased to call your attention this week to the announcement of Mr. Bowen L. Jones for Sheriff.

He is so widely known in the county that he needs no introduction from us. He was formerly Sheriff of Chilton County and his term is often referred to yet, as a splendid administrator of justice. Read his announcement and letter and see what he has to say.

Mr. L. H. Callen, of Birmingham, was among the large number of peopel from out of town who attended the funeral of Mr. W. T. Callen Friday.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

The many friends of Miss Byrdie Teel are glad to have her home again, after teaching a very successful school for the pest few months.

Messrs A. P. Turner and William H. Lanier, of Mitchell Dam, were Clanton visitors last Sunday.

Miss Alice Selman, one of the jovial and popular teachers at the Grammar School, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends and relatives at Goodwater, Ala.

Charile Chandler, of Prattville, was in Clanton last Sunday. Mr. Chandler spent two years serving his country over seas.

Mr. L. H. Stewart, of Birmingham, was among the large number of out of town people who attended the funeral services here last Friday of Mr. W. T. Callen.

Mr. E. H. Culp, a prosperous farmer of Route 3, was in town Monday.

Mr. J. L. Patterson and son of Verbena were in Clanton Monday.

Mr. W. J. Calloway, of Route 2, was here Monday spending the time

Luther Feltman, of the Capital City, was the guest of his mother last Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Mrs. Wolf.

The Redpath Chautauqua will be here this spring. "DON'T FORGET THE DATE."

Mr. E. Sanders and family of Spiegn[illegible]s, have recently moved to Clanton to make their future home with us. We are glad to welcome them to our town.

Miss Alee Stewart of Birmingham was here last Friday for the [illegible] of [illegible].

Mr. E. M. Lockhart, of Route 3, was in Clanton Monday on a business mission.

Mrs. J. Mell Martin is in the Magic City this week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Wilbanks.

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Powe and little daughter, Josephine, were here last week the guests of Mrs. Powe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. VanDerveer.

Mrs. T. L. Thompson and little son, Tom Thompson, Jr., spent last week with Mrs. Thompson's mother, Mrs. J. P. Gore.

Mr. J. R. Jackson, formerly of Lomax, but now a student of the college at Auburn, was in Clanton last Saturday. Mr. Jackson served his country over seas in the famous 4th Alabama Regiment.

One night during the latter part of last week the store of Mr. W. T. White who lives in the Mulberry community was broken into and several dollars worth of merchandise stolen. We have not learned whether the thief or thieves have been captured yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Giles were shopping in Clanton last Saturday.

Mr. J. W. A. Popwell, of Route 8, was in town Saturday attending to business matters. He reports farmers in his community are badly behind with farm work.

Mr. Walter Callen, of Selma, was here last Friday, owing to the funeral of Mr. W. T. Callen.

Mr. R. M. Smith, of Route 2, was in Clanton Saturday attending to personal matters. He reports that his brother, Col. A. C. Smith of Cooper, is improving.

Mr. W. T. Ennis left Monday for Sylacauga. We regret to see Mr. Ennis leave us.

Mr. H. S. Pipes was a visitor to the Magic City last Saturday.

Mr. W. G. Parker, one of the leading citizens of Columbiana, was here last week at the funeral of his brother-in-law, Mr. W. T. Callen.

Claudie Pipes, a student of the University of Alabama, was here Saturday and Sunday the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Pipes. We predict a successful career for Claudie and we expect to see him graduate with high honors in due season.

The Sunday evening Sing last Sunday at the Ideal Theatre was quite a success. The entire community under many obligations to the managers of the Theater, Messrs Frank and Steve Hardee, for their kindness in furnishing the building and help in making it a success. Mr. G. D. Rutherford led the singing. Sam Upchurch and Kenneth Smith were present with their cornets and rendered some excelelnt and entertaining pieces of music. Everybody come next Sunday and bring your books with you.

Miss Clara Thompson and Miss Everee Maddox closed their school in the Fairview (Chilton County) community last Friday. We have heard good reports of the work accomplished by these two young ladies. They enrolled more than 100 pupils.

Mr. B. B. Armstrong, of Montevallo Route 2, was here last week serving on the jury.

Miss Cathleen Mullins, who teache in the High School at Wetumpka, was here Saturday and Sunday spending the time with home folks.

Mr. H. L. Stewart, of Birmingham, was among the out of town people here at the funeral of Mr. W. T. Callen last Friday.

J. W. Cox, of Billingsley Route 1, was here last Friday attending the funeral services of Mr. W. T. Callen.

Brother E. H. Parrish, Miss Julia Parrish, Mrs. Rebecca Wyatt, Mrs Mattie Mims are at Blocton this week visiting Mr. J. W. Powell and family.

Mr. W. Z. Mim[illegible] Clanton last Sat- comm[illegible]

Mr. W. T. Hann, a prominent citizen of Jemison, was here Saturday.

Messrs John A. Wilson and W. B. Seals, Federal Prohibition Agents, of Birmingham, were in Chilton county the latter part of last week looking after business matters.

Mrs. J. H. Smith and Miss Lila Hester, of Lomax, were in Clanton last Friday shopping.

W. H. Killingsworth, one of the leading citizens of Beat three, was in Clanton Saturday.

Rev. S. M. Adams, of Thorsby, was here the latter part of last week mingling with his many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Perry, of Orrville, Dallas County, were here last Friday attending the funeral of our worthy and highly esteemed citizen, Mr. W. T. Callen.

Cecil Perry, of Orrville, Ala., was here last Friday oweing to the funeral of his uncle, Mr. W. T. Callen.

Prof. Luther Little of Clanton Route 6, has taught a successful school at Bethlahem School near Cooper. He closed his labors there last Friday. He was ably assisted by Miss Mamie Clark of Opelika. He succeeded in getting one room well equipped with good patent desks.

CIRCUIT JUDGE

Judge B. K. McMorris has his announcement for re-election in our paper this week. His record is before us all and in voting for him you will already know what to expect.

Judge McMorris is a high class, well bred gentleman and an able judge of the law and his term on the bench bears witness to his honesty and integrity.

FOR STATE SENATOR.

We carry this week the formal announcement of Mr. Roy Fitts of Beat 8 for State Senator. The reputation of Mr. Fitts as a safe and competent business man would indicate that he would make this district a first class Senator. We are glad that such splendid material is offering for office on the Democratic ticket, and the character of Mr. Fitts only adds lustre to the list.

DATE CHANGED

On account of the Annual Easter Singing at Poplar Springs, the time of holding the County Singing Convention at Clanton has een changed from the third to the fifth Suday in April. Announcement will appear later.

A Short Time Ago I Weighed Only 80 Pounds---I Now Weigh 112 Pounds and is what built me up so wonderfully, says Mrs. Barbara Weber, 315 Van Ness Ave., San Francisco. She is but one of thousands similarly benefited.

TANLAC

If you are under weight, if your digestion is impaired, if you are weak and unable to enjoy life to the fullest measure, you should take Tanlac. At all good druggists.

Kiddies' Colds Can Be Eased Quickly

Dr. King's New Discovery will do that very thing, easily and quickly. Don't say, "Poor little kiddie, I wish I knew what to do for you!" When the cough first comes, give a little Dr. King's New Discovery as directed, and it will soon be eased.

It's a good family cough and cold remedy, too. Loosens up the phlegm, clears up the cough, relieves the congestion. No harmful drugs. For fifty years a standard remedy for colds, coughs, grippe. At your druggists, 60c. a bottle.

Dr. King's New Discovery For Colds and Coughs

Constipated? Here's Relief! Cleanse the system, with Dr. King's Pills, They prompt free bile flow, stir up the lazy liver and get at the root of the trouble. All druggists, 25c.

PROMPT! WON'T GRIPE

Dr. King's Pills

[illegible] Needed.

Imagine living [illegible] name and in a house [illegible] without a [illegible]ber! If you are a writer, [illegible] waiting for a check from a magazine in such a residence! That is the predicament that certain Parisians are in who live in such a street near the Ourcq canal. The city government forgot to give it a name, and the only numbers on the houses are those put up by residents who sometimes duplicate each other's numbers. Now the natives are becoming aroused about it. The lot of the poor postman must be a difficult one as he gazes at a letter addressed to "Monsieur Pierre Bergeret, the third righthand house in the little street two blocks to the right of the Ourcq as you walk south."

Not Ever.

Rastus (to Sambo, in an undertone)—I ain't the man I useter wuz. Time wuz when I could whip the ol' woman in a fair, stan-up fight.

The Old Woman (overhearing)—You's a black liar, Rastus Johnsing. Time wuzn't, time ain't, an' time ain't gwine to wuz.—Nashville Tennesseean.

Britain's Balmy Climate.

London Daily Mirror—Her hair is always exquisitely dressed and her shoes in perfect shape. No more in the way of dress is required of any woman.

Mrs. Nannie Kelley

Lexington, Ky.—"I have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and the Golden Medical Discovery in my family for years, and I cannot recommend them too highly. During the period of middle life the Prescription and the Discovery were a wonderful help to me. No woman should try to do without them at that time."—Mrs. Nannie Kelley, 731 Jackson St.

Your health is most important to you. It's easily improved. If you suffer from heat flashes, dizziness, or any of the symptoms common to women at the critical period in life, just ask your nearest druggist for this Prescription of Dr. Pierce's in tablet or liquid form. Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., if you wish a trial pkg. and write for free, confidential medical advice.

FOR SALE—BIG TYPE POLAND CHINAS, all ages Liberator breeding. Prices reasonable. SUWANNEE FARMS, Live Oak, Fla.

EASY MONEY SELLING OUR GOODS Make $3 to $6 day. Men or women. Write quick for particulars. Box 652, Helena, Ark.

Women—$1.50 per hour selling silk hosiery. No [illegible] no collecting. Work whenever you [illegible] Quality [illegible] Co. [illegible]

Clear Baby's Skin With Cuticura Soap and Talcum

Soap 25c, Ointment 25 and 50c, Talcum 25c.

IMPROVING SOIL AT LITTLE COST

Sweet Clover Is Admirably Adapted Where Decreased Corn Acreage Is Advisable.

CROP MAY BE SEEDED ALONE

Fair Yield of Excellent Hay May Be Cut if Conditions Warrant—Farmer Must Judge for Himself What Crop to Grow.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Where a reduction of corn acreage seems advisable and the land has lime enough, sweet clover will lend itself admirably to soil improvement at low cost. While the usual way of seeding is on winter grain or with spring grain, the United States Department of Agriculture advises that it may well be seeded alone on land that is now without a crop. Such land should be harrowed as early as possible and the seed harrowed in, or where the land dries slowly the seed may be scattered directly on the ground as the frost is coming out. There is no need to plow, and so practically the whole expense will consist of the cost of the seed which at present is low. Scarified seed should be used.

Small Cost of Seed.

The price of white sweet clover seed is today considerably less than half that of red clover. If the seed is on the ground early the plants will keep ahead of the weeds and, by September or October, a fair crop of excellent hay can be cut if conditions warrant the expense of cutting. The hay will have practically the same value as alfalfa or red clover hay. In the spring of next year the new growth can be turned under for corn if that crop is desired, or the field can be used for pasture.

Sweet clover is one of the best pasture plants known. If pastured heavily enough it will keep green and growing all through the summer when most grass pasture dries up. It must be kept closely pastured, however, since otherwise it quickly grows tall, blooms and becomes woody. If the field is left in sweet clover during 1923 it can be plowed that fall for grain or go into corn in 1924.

Curing Sweet Clover Hay in Cock.

Do Not Improve Soil.

During the past few years large crops of small grain and of corn have been grown, but these have not always proved profitable, and, of course, have not helped to improve the land. The question of what to do under these circumstances is important. If cash returns are necessary the land not put into corn may be planted to soy beans. This crop will require as much labor as corn, however. Where the greatest possible economy in operation is to be combined with soil improvement the farmer will have to turn to grass or clover.

Every farmer must judge for himself whether to grow corn, whether to substitute soy beans or some other crop, or whether to rest the land and derive little or no income from it for one season. The above suggestion is offered by the Department of Agriculture as one way to improve the land while resting it, and to do this with the minimum of expense and labor.

BEST MACHINE FOR BLASTING

Where There Are but Few Stumps to Remove Device Firing Ten Caps Is Satisfactory.

Electric blasting machines are small portable dynamos, so arranged that an electric current is generated by pushing down a rack bar, which extends through the top of the machine. They are made in several sizes, some firing up to 3 electric blasting caps, other sizes firing up to 10, 30, 60, and even more. For the farmer with but a few stumps to blast, the United States Department of Agriculture has found the size that fires 10 caps will be large enough to meet all needs, but the size that fires 30 caps is more generally used than any other in agricultural work.

Blasting machines, as well as all other necessary blasting equipment, can generally be obtained from local dealers in explosives, usually hardware stores, or they may be had by writing directly to any manufacturer of explosives. These machines seldom get out of order, but they should be kept in a dry place and should not be thrown about or handled roughly.

HASTY CONCLUSIONS SHOULD BE AVOIDED

All Angles of Farm Enterprise Should Be Considered.

If Cows Were Sold There Would Be No Way of Using Roughage—Labor Also Would Be Lost, Adding Another Burden.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Hasty conclusions should be avoided in making use of the results of the year's cost accounts for improving the organization of the farm, warns the United States Department of Agriculture. All good farmers know that sometimes a positive decrease in profits may ensue if an enterprise be dropped because, taken alone, it has failed to pay. Cows, for instance, may not show a net profit, but if all the cows were sold there might be no other way of using the roughage which would become a dead loss. Labor devoted night and morning to milking and feeding cows, and charged to them, would be entirely lost if the cows were sold and nothing supplied to fill in the time. Thus an added burden for the maintenance of labor would have to be borne by the other enterprises.

Keeping of Cows May Be Responsible for Making Hogs So Profitable.

The fact that the hogs or the corn crop bring the most net money during the season is no reason for assuming that all the activities of the farm in the future should be devoted solely to hogs or corn. It may be that the keeping of cows is partly responsible for making hogs so profitable, or that the growing of wheat, clover, or other crops in rotation with corn makes the latter crop much more profitable than it would have been if grown alone. On all farms additions will be met with changes should be made on the basis of what a single year's accounts may indicate. All angles of the enterprise should be taken into consideration.

POTASH IN WOOL RECOVERED

Small Washer Has Been Designed and Is Being Tried by the Bureau of Chemistry.

A small wool washer made for recovering potash from fleeces in a solution of sufficient concentration to make the recovery of the potash profitable has been designed and is being tried out by the bureau of chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture. It is said that the average fleece contains about 4 per cent of potash by weight, but in the ordinary method of washing wool it comes out in such dilute solution that it does not pay to recover the salt.

About 600,000,000 pounds of wool are secured in the United States each year, and if only 3 per cent of potash is recovered it would amount to 18,000,000 pounds of actual potash that would be available for use in fertilizers. Some nitrogen is also recovered from wool along with the potash.

INOCULATION OF SOY BEANS

When Sown on Land Not Previously Planted to Crop It Is Advisable to Use Culture.

Natural inoculation now occurs quite generally throughout much of the area where soy beans are grown extensively. When sown on land which has not been previously planted to this crop, however, it is advisable to inoculate with the proper culture. Inoculation may be obtained, either through the use of a pure culture, a limited quantity of which can be procured from the United States Department of Agriculture free of charge, or by the use of inoculated soil from a field where soy bean plants have previously developed nodules. The inoculated soil may be drilled in at the time of seeding, using the fertilizer box, or by thoroughly mixing a gallon of the soil to a bushel of seed.

STRAWBERRIES ALL SUMMER

Popular Varieties Are Progressive and Superb—Resistant to Leaf-Spot Diseases.

Strawberry plants which will continue to produce strawberries until hard frosts occur may be grown in all of the northern United States and in the mid-western states. The two leading varieties of this type of strawberry, the progressive and the superb are notable because they are exceptionally resistant to leaf spot diseases. Another remarkable characteristic of these varieties is that if their blooms are killed by frost they soon flower again. Therefore, in sections subject to late spring frosts, which often destroy the crop, these varieties are particularly valuable.—United States Department of Agriculture.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR MARCH 26

REVIEW

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is righteous in all His ways, and holy in all His works.—Psalm 145:17.

DEVOTIONAL READING—Psalm 130.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Favorite Stories of the Quarter.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Israel's Heroic Prophets.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Estimate of Elijah, Elisha, Jonah and Amos.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Social Teachings of the Quarter's Lessons.

The method of review will largely be determined by the taste of the teachers and the grade in the school concerned. To the writer's taste, two good methods are available: the biographical and the summary. In using the biographical, the lives of four great prophets, Elijah, Elisha, Jonah and Amos may be considered. These four men are connected with nearly all the lessons of the quarter. This method can be used to good advantage in nearly all the grades of the school. In the summary method the principal fact of each lesson with its leading lesson should be set forth. This method can be used to good advantage in the adult departments. The following is a suggested summary:

Lesson I. Rehoboam refused to grant the request of the people for the lightening of the burdens of taxation. Because of this ten tribes under the leadership of Jeroboam revolted and formed another kingdom. The most effective cure for social and political unrest is justice by the rulers to those ruled.

Lesson II. Elijah, after announcing to Ahab the withholding of rain for a term of years, fled and was fed by the ravens and by the widow at Zarephath. God adapts himself to the circumstances of His servants, and sometimes in the most unlikely ways provides for His own.

Lesson III. At the request of Elijah, Ahab called the people together to witness a supreme challenge of Baal worship. Faith in God will stand the most severe test. The fire of God is the unfailing sign which differentiates the true from false religion.

Lesson IV. Elijah, though brave before the 450 prophets of Baal, fled for his life from Jezebel. God dealt most gently with his discouraged servant. We should learn from this that frequently we fail in our strongest point.

Lesson V. Naboth refused to sell his vineyard to Ahab, whereupon through Jezebel's plot he was murdered, and Ahab took possession. Nations and kings should respect the rights of individuals.

Lesson VI. When Elijah's work was finished, God took him to heaven by a whirlwind. Elijah had once requested death, but God had a better way for him to go to heaven than by way of death.

Lesson VII. The Shunammite woman, seeing Elisha passing by on errands for God, was moved to provide a comfortable lodging for him, whereupon Elisha sought to recompense her by promising that God would give her a child. Not infrequently has the prophet's chamber brought blessing to the home.

Lesson VIII. At the command of Elisha, Naaman dipped himself seven times in the Jordan and was healed of leprosy. In order to be healed of the leprosy of sin, human pride and vanity must be put away and obedience rendered to God.

Lesson IX. The king of Assyria sent a great army to apprehend Elisha because he had repeatedly informed the king of Israel concerning the movements of the Assyrian army. When the Lord opened the eyes of Elisha's servant, he beheld the mountains filled with horses and chariots of fire. "The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them." "Lord, open our eyes!"

Lesson X. At the preaching of Jonah, the wicked city of Nineveh repented and God showed mercy. God's mercy and forgiveness should move us to preach the gospel to the heathen.

Lesson XI. The children of Israel prided themselves in their security and gave themselves to luxury and sensual indulgences. God sent Amos to warn them of the judgment which must follow. The Lord will bring the ungodly to judgment for their ungodly living.

Lesson XII. In due time the prophecy of Amos came true. The Assyrians came and carried the children of Israel into captivity, from which they never returned. Rejection of God and the despising of His worship will be followed with judgment and destruction.

Mockery.

There is no mockery like the mockery of that spirit which looks around in the world and believes that all is emptiness.—E. H. Chapin.

True Morality.

To give a man a full knowledge of true morality, I would send him to no other book than the New Testament.—Locke.

The Tax to Be Paid.

Fear is the tax that conscience pays to guilt.—Sewell.

MRS. CARL LINDER
R. F. D. No. 2, Box 44,
Dassel, Minnesota

THANKFUL FOR GOOD PE-RU-NA DID HER YEARS AGO

Keeps the Medicine with Her for Safety

Mrs. Carl Linder, R. F. D. No. 2, Box 44, Dassel, Minnesota, writes: "I want to thank you for your kindness and the good your remedy did me years ago. I am perfectly well and visiting in Spokane, Wash. Were it not for Pe-ru-na I would not have been able to make this trip. I always take your medicine with me for safety should I take cold. Praise to Pe-ru-na."

As an emergency remedy for everyday ills, Pe-ru-na has been in use fifty years.

TABLETS OR LIQUID SOLD EVERYWHERE

DISTEMPER AMONG HORSES Successfully Treated With:

Spohn's Distemper Compound

At this time of year horses are liable to contract contagious diseases—DISTEMPER, INFLUENZA, COUGHS and COLDS. As a preventive against these, an occasional dose of "SPOHN'S" is marvelously effective. As a remedy for cases already suffering, "SPOHN'S" is equally effective. Give it as a preventive. Don't wait. On sale at drug stores.

SPOHN MEDICAL COMPANY GOSHEN, INDIANA.

STANDARD FOR 50 YEARS

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC

Not Only For Chills and Fever But a Fine General Tonic

Wards Off Malaria and Restores Strength. Try It

If not sold by your druggist, write Arthur Peter & Co., Louisville, Ky.

Fig Pickers' Platform.

To use a three-wheeled platform for the purpose of picking figs, was the timely idea of a grower of that fruit, in order to harvest his crop quickly, as described in a scientific journal.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Almost anyone will gossip a little; but the vast majority are careful who with.

Dignity and extreme politeness are often employed to keep foolish people at their distance.

His Deduction.

"Sister Amanda Ellen writes tha. Niece Geraldine, who is coming t visit us next week, has had eighteen love affairs," said Mrs. Hornbeak, looking up from the letter from her city relative.

"Well, I sh'u'd wonder!" interestedly ejaculated honest Farmer Hornbeak. "What in time can she do with eighteen imitation ivory toilet sets?"—Kansas City Star.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROO

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to nothing else but kidney trouble, or th result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a health condition, they may cause the other o gans to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of a bition, nervousness, are often times syn toms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. D Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's p scription, obtained at any drug store, n be just the remedy needed to overco such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle mediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test th great preparation send ten cents to D Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., fo sample bottle. When writing be sure a mention this paper. Advertisement.

Idle to Borrow Trouble.

Sorrow comes soon enough with despondency. It does a man no to carry around a lightning rod t tract trouble.—Aughey.

WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin.

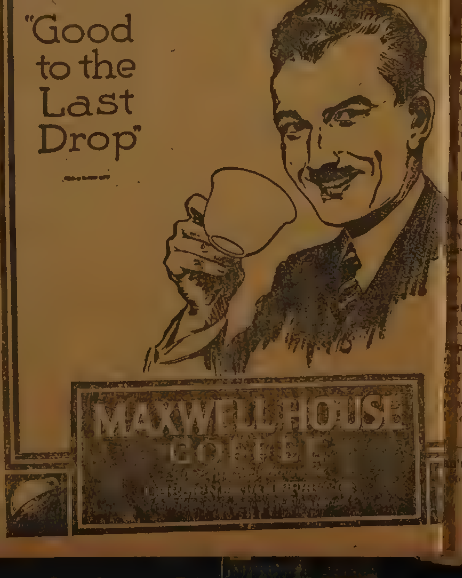
Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you ar not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physician over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

Colds Headache Rheumatism
Toothache Neuralgia Neuritis
Earache Lumbago Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions

Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggis

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylic



EVEN CAREFUL CALOMEL USERS ARE SALIVATED

ext Dose of Treacherous Drug May Start Misery for You.

alomel is dangerous. It may salivate and make you suffer fearfully from ness of gums, tenderness of jaws teeth, swollen tongue and exces saliva dribbling from the mouth. 't trust calomel. It is mercury; ksilver.

you feel bilious, headachy, consti- ed and all knocked out, just go to r druggist and get a bottle of Dod- s Liver Tone for a few cents which harmless vegetable substitute for gerous calomel. Take a spoonful if it doesn't start your liver and igh'en you up better and quicker nasty calomel and without making sick, you just go back and get your ey.

you take calomel today you'll be and nauseated tomorrow; besides, ay salivate you, while if you take son's Liver Tone you will wake up ng great. No salts necessary. Give the children because it is per- y harmless and can not salivate. dvertisement.

Improved Weather Map.

ree-dimension maps are being by the United States weather u as a result of the development lying, says Popular Mechanics azine. It was found necessary to wind directions at different lev- r the airmen. A weather map car- wind direction arrows for differ- levels is photographed from two s, and when the two pictures are through a stereoscope, they blend. ing the posts and arrows into relief.

ES YOUR HOUSEWORK SEEM HARD?

Your Strength Left You? ude's Pepto-Mangan Will Restore It

you have dyspepsia and head- and feel "all in," don't take it ranted that there is no relief. gth and ambition for your tasks come when you build up your ned blood with Gude's Pepto- n. Take it with your meals a weeks and see the permanent . It is just the thing to aid recover full health. This won- ly efficient form of food iron improves the appetite, adds o cheeks and lips and imparts h to the jaded muscles. Re- r to ask for "Gude's Pepto- n." Sold in both liquid and form.—Advertisement.

Slim Missed Something.

company clerk had been repri- by the first sergeant on sev- casions, and he was beginning a chronic grouch. One evening e into the company quarters gloomier than ever.

tsa matter, Slim?" asked his "You musta been havin' some rd luck!"

l luck?" said Slim. "I'll say I rd luck. The company com- came around this morning and out the top, and I wasn't there it."—The Leatherneck.

AGAINST COLDS AND INFLUENZA.

eping a little Vacher-Balm in se.

s to prevent the germs enter- system.

are taking cold, it makes you er at once.

g better for Aches and Pains.

t handy this time of year.

ur druggist, jars or tubes, 30c.

acher, Inc., New Orleans, La.

isement.

g the Old Man a Treat.

tter—I tell you, Nickelpinch, e town is talking about your our old father to the poor- your automobile.

inch—I reckon they see now n do a good turn once in a never charged the old man a it. Just sent the bill to the cura for Pimply Faces.

e pimples and blackheads em with Cuticura Ointment. in five minutes with Cuti- and hot water. Once clear skin clear by using them for t purposes. Don't fail to in- cura Talcum. Advertisement.

ockets in Hard Luck.

worker reports that New ockets who used to slip a a vest pocket and get a get only a scratch from a o hold the watchless chain

t get a man of big caliber rporation unless he has hi-

GIANT COTTON POOL IS BEING PLANNED

TO ASSEMBLE 100 000 BETWEEN NOW AND JUNE 1ST, 1922.

BALL TEAM INCORPORATES

Cotton Tests Announced—Seed Corn Advice—"City Beautiful" Prizes Offered—Poultry Promotion.

Auburn.—"The plan of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation to organize a giant cotton pool in Alabama to include, at least, 100,000 bales between now and June 15, 1922, will have the active support of the Alabama county agents and other extension workers," said Prof. L. N. Duncan, director of the Alabama Extension Service, in a statement, following a thorough investigation of the plan.

Explaining the reasons for this cooperation on the part of the extension service, Prof. Duncan states that the plan proposed by the Alabama Farm Bureau has been found to be absolutely sound, being identical to that put into operation last year by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, through which the Texas cotton farmers are now receiving better prices for their cotton to the extent of $10 to 15 per bale and in many instances more. The Alabama farmers are entitled to this better price, and can receive it by eliminating the waste in the handling of their cotton and substituting orderly marketing for dumping just as the Texas farmers have done, it is said.

CANDIDATES ARE IMMUNE

Candidates Must Not Be Asked To Contribute, Says Statute

Montgomery.—Patriotic workers in Montgomery for the Gorgas Memorial Campaign, who were engaged Wednesday in soliciting funds with which to provide an everlasting monument to the great Alabamian, were confronted at the capitol with an insuperable obstacle which greatly limited the number of prospects. In Alabama, it is a violation of the law to ask an announced candidate for office to donate any of his monetary wealth to even so worthy cause as the Gorgas Memorial, for the law applies to all "causes" to which the candidate was not a regular contributor prior to his, or her, candidacy. It was a telling blow, because the capitol fairly teems with candidates.

FORMER ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS REFUSE TO TESTIFY.

Mobile—Thirteen prohibition cases were nolprossed and others are scheduled to be dropped on account of the refusal of A. S. Cowan, of Birmingham, and Frank Boswell, of Montgomery, former state law enforcement officers, to come here and testify against the defendants. These cases were made by the officers in the operations here but they have declined to return here to testify.

Cotton Tests Announced.

Auburn—The results of the tests of 18 varieties of cotton conducted by the Alabama Experiment Station at Auburn, in 1921, have been tabulated by Prof. E. F. Cauthen, who had direct charge of the experiments, showing that the per acre yields of lint cotton by varieties were as follows: Boykin, 369; Wannamaker-Cleveland 360; Toole Wilt-resistant, 346; Cook, 1,346, 343; Piedmont, Cleveland 343; King, 324; Simpkins, 318; Cullpepper, 318; Rowden (Bottoms), 301; Lone Star, 296; Hawkins, 294; Trice, 282; Over-the-Top 279; Cook, 307-6, 277; Express, 267; Broadwell, 267.

Baseball Team Incorporates

Selma.—Selma's official representation in the national pastime arena this year, namely, the Selma Baseball Club Inc., has filed official notice of its formation in the office of Secretary of State William P. Cobb. The organization, which has an authorized capital stock of $6,000, with $1 600 paid in, asserts its privilege to buy or otherwise acquire, sell and manage a baseball team or teams etc. The incorporators are P. T. Sparks W. W. Byrnes, Hugh Mallory, J. G. Wilkins, W. H. Plant, W. P. Cook and others.

New Hartselle Industry

Hartselle.—A small window and door factory has been built recently by A. P. Howell, who runs several sawmills and planers in the country. Mr. Howell is beginning the new enterprise on a small scale. He has dry kilns and other conveniences for getting the soft pine timber with which to manufacture the products.

Poultry Promotion.

Hartford.—Miss Bertha Lee Furguson has been engaged for some weeks in promoting the raising of thoroughbred poultry. She is not only seeking to promote the growing of fine breeds, but she is standardizing in the county by establishing one breed. To that end she is purchasing and distributing 7 500 eggs for hatching. She has distributed 600 eggs at this station, and has ordered 900 more. She journeyed to Malvern to distribute a shipment of 600 eggs.

GREATER AUBURN CAMPAIGN RECEIVING ACTIVE SUPPORT

ALABAMA RANKS AT BOTTOM OF ALL SOUTHERN STATES IN POINT OF APPROPRIATIONS.

Reports received at headquarters of the Greater Auburn campaign on the eve of launching the canvass to raise $1,000,000 for necessary buildings and equipment indicate that the movement is receiving very active support in every section of the state. Charles F. DeBardeleben, general chairman, stated that many of the counties would launch their campaigns on March 22 while others would await the big meeting now being arranged in Birmingham for date later in the month when a speaker of national reputation will address a great rally of Auburn supporters.

"Alabama ranks at the bottom of all Southern states in point of appropriations for institutions of higher learning on both a per capita basis and on a basis of appropriations per $1,000 of wealth," said John V. Denson of Opelika, president of the Auburn Alumni Association.

In point of appropriations of southern states per $1 000 of wealth Alabama ranks with respect to other southern states as follows:

	Cents
Tennessee	.5
Mississippi	.3
South Carolina	.3
Florida	.3
Virginia	.31
North Carolina	.28
Georgia	.22
Alabama	17

"In per capita appropriation Alabama again brings up the rear with 21 cents as shown by the following figures:

	Cents
Tennessee	.58
Florida	.55
South Carolina	.48
Virginia	.43
Mississippi	.34
North Carolina	.29
Georgia	.24
Alabama	.21

INFORMATION SOUGHT ON AGRICULTURAL OPPORTUNITIES.

Montgomery.—General information in regard to the agricultural opportunities and possibilities of Alabama, is requested by Dr. Rudolph Kuraz, attache of the Czecho-Slovakian Legation, at Washington, in a letter received by F. O. Hooton, director of the state markets bureau. This information, which was promptly forwarded by Mr. Hooton, will it is understood be furnished to all Czecho Slovak immigrants, who intend to engage in the farming business in the United States.

In his letter Dr. Kuraz says: "The Czecho-Slovak Minister of Social Welfare intends to prepare a book containing information in popular form on agricultural possibilities and opportunities of different states of the United States, for the use of our immigrants intending to settle in the United States."

Wireless To Be Operated.

Fort Morgan.—The government wireless station at Fort Morgan, at the entrance of Mobile Bay, which has been closed for several months when the force at the post was reduced, has been leased and will be operated by the United Fruit Company. This station was used to report the arrival of ships at quarantine, in the lower bay, in order that tugs and pilots might go down the bay to bring the ships up the channel to the city. Shipping has been greatly inconvenienced since the station was closed.

Perry To Have Agent.

Marion.—As a result of recent action on the part of the Perry County Board of Commissioners, Perry County will soon have a county demonstration agent. By this action the commissioners made an appropriation, required under the law to supplement state and federal funds for demonstration work.

Big Explosives Shipment.

Birmingham.—High explosives in the form of heavy powder, from the factory of the DuPont Powder Company at Repauno, N. J., is being brought up the Warrior River on barges of the Mississippi-Warrior barge line to be distributed from the Port of Birmingham. The shipment consists of 145,000 pounds and is coming via Mobile and the Warrior.

Party Given For Veteran

Wetumpka.—Mr and Mrs. C. H Hawk gave a birthday party to veteran Jones, who is now 80 years old Close to 70 relatives and visitors were present.

To Observe Memorial Day

Soldiers' Home, Mountain Creek, Ala.—Arrangement has been perfected for the observance of memorial day at the Soldiers' Home. John F. Tilley, of Montgomery has been invited to deliver an address and he has accepted the invitation. The occasion will be on April 30.

Birmingham.—Birmingham is expected to send a large delegation to the eighth district convention of Rotary clubs to be held in Savannah Ga., March 23-24.

TRADE MARK
F.S.R
REGISTERED

F.S.ROYSTER GUANO COMPANY

Norfolk, Va.
Tarboro, N. C.
Columbia, S. C.
Macon, Ga.
Birmingham, Ala.
Richmond, Va.
Charlotte, N. C.
Spartanburg, S.C.
Columbus, Ga.
Baltimore, Md.
Lynchburg, Va.
Washington, N.C.
Atlanta, Ga.
Montgomery, Ala.
Toledo, Ohio

HAD NO "COMEBACK" TO THAT

Marine's Winterfield Uniform Scored Heavily on the Khaki Which Started the Controversy.

The marine's three uniforms hung side by side underneath his clothing shelf: one winterfield, one blue and one khaki. Suddenly the khaki uniform grew critical.

"You look pretty green," it said to the winterfield.

The winterfield uniform made no reply.

"And that outfit right next to you must be downhearted—it looks so blue," the khaki uniform went on.

The winterfield then spoke up: "I might be green," it said, "and that outfit right next to me might have the blues,' but doggone your hide—you're yellow!"

The khaki uniform piped down.—The Leatherneck.

Honest.

"Yes, I can give you a job. You may gather eggs for me if you are sure you won't steal any." "Youse could rust me wid anything, lady. I wuz manager of a bathhouse for fifteen years an' never took a bath."—Judge.

Our instincts tell us not to do wrong; unfortunately, they also tell us not to do right.

DOGS GIVEN VICTORIA CROSS

Three Have Been Awarded Highest British Decoration for Bravery in Face of the Enemy.

The English in asking that the Victoria Cross be awarded to the cat which so heroically saved her young during the fire of the Printemps only follow an example given by the queen of England herself. To appreciate the value of this reward we must remember that the Victoria Cross is for a soldier, general or private, the highest military order.

In the last war at the utmost 50 have been awarded. However, several dogs belonging to the British army have received this honor. These were: Bob of the Royal Berkshire, which in the Afghanistan war saved the life of several soldiers; Jack, which accomplished the same feats at the battle of the Alma, and Jerry, the hero of the Crimean war, which received from the city of Dublin a medal and—a dinner. The odds are that the mess made the dog happier than the medal.—New York Tribune.

Our own heart, and not other men's opinion, forms our true honor.—Coleridge.

Who saves nothing has nothing. Who has nothing is nothing.

WHY SOME MEN LEAVE HOME

This Kind of Thing, Served Up Daily, Would Drive Almost Anyone From His Loved Fireside.

"George, dear," cried wifey from the bedroom, "have you shut the dining room window?"

"Yes, love."

"Put the plate basket behind the bookcase?"

"Um!"

"Have you put the dog out?"

"Yes."

"Sure you bolted the scullery door?"

"Sure."

"Turned off the gas in the cellar?"

"Yes, precious."

"Wound the clock?"

"Yes, darling."

"Brought in the mat from the porch?"

"I have, my ownest."

"Have you locked up the wine?"

"Yes, yes, my sweetheart. I have done even that."

"Well, there's no need to get wild about it. Why can't you come to bed at some decent hour? What on earth have you been doing down there all this time?"—London Tit-Bits.

Proper Place.

Judge—Where were your supporters in this crime?

Prisoner—I had 'em on, judge.

Wishing for sleep is a poor way to get it.

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when its use is continued there's usually a penalty which no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Even the little children can share in the enjoyment of Postum at any meal.

It's better to anticipate warnings than to be driven by them.

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and complete health than to listen to the clock ticks at night and say, "I wish!"

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold and served. An order today may be the beginning, for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Postum for Health—"There's a Reason"

Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY……Editor
J. L. JOHNSON,……Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

Money may be the "root of all evil" but nothing don't prosper these days without a little cash behind it.

We want the rains to hold up for a while and let the high waters recede. We are hungry for a big mess of "yaller cat."

"Be sure you are right and then go ahead," and if you do that, nine times out of ten somebody will bump your head.

"Look not on the wine when it is red." That admonition is unnecessary now. All the "moonshine" is white.

"Three yards will make a dress."—Fashion Note. Boys, calico is only 7 1-2 cents per yard now. It's cheaper to marry than not to.

"It is easier for a camel to go thru the eye of a needle" than for an editor to make every issue of his paper please everybody.

"A fool and his money is soon parted." The same is true of the poor devil who has to buy rations these days.

"Honesty is the best policy," but look at the profiteer. He "toils not, neither doth he spin" but "he flourisheth like the green bay tree."

The boll weevils have concluded their investigation of the proposed cotton acreage for this year and their estimate is that there will be no appreciable reduction.

The delightful sunshine and soothing zephyrs of the Florida east coast have restored President Harding to a normal state of mind and cured him of the "pouts," so he has gone back to tackle that rough neck crowd in the senate again.

So far the announcements for office on the Democratic ticket are a credit to the party. Not a name has been presented but what the owner is a high class man with an absolutely clean record. No matter who wins in the primary we are sure of a clean, competent candidate.

It is conceded now that all the union miners, some 500,000 strong, will go on strike April 1. Winter will be practically over with us by that time and we believe we can all make out to do our cooking with wood as long as the miners can make out to do without anything to cook.

The Congressional wards of the tax payers will pull off their pic nic at Muscle Shoals Saturday. The only thing they will learn from that visit is whether the moonshine of the Alabama mountains has as much kick as the brew made along the banks of the Potomac.

We predict that the next race for United States senator in Alabama will be between Tom Heflin and Emmett O'Neal. If that does happen, it will be a case of "Greek meet Greek" on the stump and eloquence and lurid oratory will certainly flow. That would be an all star cast and the central event of recent years.

"Camp stew" is supposed to have a little of everything in it that can't be eaten any other way. Every time we think of camp stew we are reminded of the social conditions in the "down east" states. Their population these days has degenerated until they have a regular camp stew mess of it with hardly a drop of Americanism in the whole kettle.

A LITTLE COURT DOPE

Most of last weey was taken up by a jury term of the Circuit Court. Among other cases there are two that we wish to refer to. One of these was that damage suit against the L. & N. Railroad brought from away up in Indiana to be tried in Chilton county.

That sort of a hokus pokus game is one of the freaks in modern law methods that has a tendency to cause the general public to lose sight of all idea of justice in the courts and carries people to imagine that the whole system of law has degenerated into a battle of wits between the lawyers.

Normally every county in which an offense is committed, or cause for a civil suit arises, has jurisdiction in that specific case and to the courts of that county belongs the duty and the expenses of taking care of whatever litigations may follow. It is a reflection on the morals and intelligence of a county that does not do this and such suits as these recent ones, brought from a distant Northern State to be tried here is a broad insinuation on the moral status of our county and one that we resent as being without proper reason.

The time has come when Chilton county should put herself on record against such things as these, even if it requires a few well merited verdicts for the defendant to cause the public abroad to realize that we want none of their litigation here.

The other case that was of wide interest locally was the suit against the Farmers Warehouse Company, or rather Mr. Fate Popwell, growing out of the unfortunate burning of the warehouse and a large amount of cotton some time ago.

This suit was to hold Mr. Popwell responsible for certain cotton burned in the warehouse and on which the owner had no insurance.

The cotton receipts from this warehouse show in the face of them that the company was not responsible for any loss by fire. Hence, the effort was made to make Mr. Popwell responsible for the loss as operator of the warehouse, on the ground of undue negligence in protection from fire.

As to this allegation, we can not bring our imagination to the point of being able to see even a reasonable ground for negligence when we remember that Mr. Popwell had approximately 100 bales of cotton in the warehouse himself without one penny insurance. Under these circumstances we can hardly believe that any one would have been careless or negligent.

On this case the jury failed to agree and made a mistrial. We learn that eleven of the jurors were opposed to any damages and the lone one stood pat and caused a no verdict.

Mr. C. B. Cox made a tour last week nearly all over South Alabama and he says it never rained a drop while he was down there, that farm work is well advanced and that they have the best roads down there he ever saw.

The fellow who said he "would rather be right than to be king," would be an utter misfit in this day and time. The faculty of being able to "get by with the goods" is the popular thing now.

The tri-weekly rains continue and the fields remain too wet to plough, still the farmers manifest their confidence in the God of Nature and their faces are cheerful, while every breeze is laden with the familiar fumes of commercial fertilizer as droves of wagons go out daily with tons of the doubtful preparation.

CIRCUIT SOLICITOR.

This week Col. Victor J. Heard formally enters the race for Circuit Solicitor. You will find his announcement in our columns.

Mr. Heard is a young man of high moral ideas and of unimpeachable integrity. He has been for a number of years a prominent lawyer at the Clanton bar, and is well and favorably known by all the people in this section. In case Col. Heard is the successful candidate, the duties of the office will be honestly and fairly executed.

Politics vs. Friendship.

Looming [illegible] is [illegible] contest. Before we enter seriously into this conflict let us all stop and take stock of the situation.

Many of us have our lists of personal friendships divided on political lines. Is it necessary or is it reasonable that these pleasant ties of comradeship should be sundered by a difference of opinion in regard to the political complexion of the next official incumbents? We hardly think so.

Our faith in Democracy is as deeply grounded within us as it can be remotely possible for any earnest and lasting conviction to be. We are a Democrat on principle and because we see in the fixed principles of that party, as abundantly demonstrated by their record in the South, the only bulwark that we have against threatened conditions that would be equally intolerable to us all, republicans as much so as to democrats, and in our humble capacity we intend to preach that gospel because we believe it is right and the only safe doctrine for us all. But while we expect to do this, with all the earnestness and sincerity we can command, we will do so only in a spirit of fainess and with the assurance that nothing we say [illegible] personally, but at what we conceive to be a most dangerous and threatening condition.

We are some of us Baptists, some Methodists, some Presbyterians and so on, but so far as our social and friendly relations are concerned, these divergent religions views rarely ever make the slightest difference. Then why should we fall out and sever the ties of friendly and mutually pleasant associations because we differ politically? It is absurd beyond expression.

Our political views are shaped from the point of view of a Southern man, and candor induces us to say that we cannot possibly understand how any other Southern man or woman can see the situation in any other light than as we do, but still, we are all certainly entitled to our political opinions the same that we are to our religious convictions, and from that stand point, where is the excuse for waning friendships or bitter animosities?

Let us establish a new record in Chilton county this time and wage one earnest, intensive political campaign, distinguished by its freedom from bitterness and personalities and in a spirit of friendliness on both sides.

STATEMENT OF CONGRESSMAN JEFFERS

During the eight months I have been here as representative of the fourth Alabama district, I have applied myself diligently to the task of familiarizing myself with the workings of Congress and the various governmental departments. I feel that I have made substantial headway.

I am anxious to give to all the people of our great district the courteous, prompt and efficient service which they should receive from this office.

As I stay here I shall endeavor to fit myself better and better all the time to handle the work of the office so as to merit the continued good will, friendship and support of the citizens of the district.

In announcing my candidacy for the sixty-eighth congress, I wish to respectfully ask the support of every citizen of our district.

I am fully appreciative of the honor already bestowed upon me.

LAMAR JEFFERS.

Notice

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made to the State Board of Pardons for the restoration of my civil and political rights. This March 5, 1922.

3-9-2t Alonza Aldridge.

FOR SALE: Rhode Island Reds. Single Comb. Eggs now ready 15 for 75 cents. All fresh and fertile. Address,

3-2-4tp G. M. Durbin,
Clanton, Ala., Route 3.

THAT BALL TEAM

Some of the boys are doing a little practice ball tossing now and then but no organized start has yet been made to get up the kind of a ball team we want. Boys, when those long summer days come and the teams from other [illegible] their names on the first page, you may regret the lack of Spring practice you are failing to get.

We have seen you boys play and we know you can [illegible] will make [illegible] section loo[illegible] have the goo[illegible] organization and pep. Go to it, boys and give us the team in Central Alabama. Clanton is the queen of this section and we must demonstrate to the world that we do everything we do just a little better than the other fellow.

THE BARRETT CASE

As all of our readers will remember, at a preliminary hearing at Rockford about two weeks since, Messrs Clarence and Fred Henley, Robert Tippett and Miss Jewel Popwell, all of this community, were bound over without bail charged with the murder of Dewell Barrett and were remanded to the Birmingham jail to await the action of the Coosa County Grand Jury.

We learn this week a writ of habeas corpus has been sued out before a Birmingham court, returnable tomorrow and that these prisioners will ask for bail. Judge Longshore, who presides on the Circuit in which Coosa County is located, passed up the hearing of these habeas corpus proceedings to the Birmingham Court.

These being the facts, it is more than probable that the court, after hearing evidence from the defence as well as the prosecution, will fix bail [illegible] means they may regain their liberty until the regular term of Coosa Circuit Court.

Next Saturday proptly at 1 o'clock a WHITE FRUIT CAKE will be auctioned off in front of Mr. Fox's auction house. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Eastern Star

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
C. O. Mc[illegible]
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

[illegible] J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, …… ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

FORD FOR SALE. Practically new Ford, [illegible] model, good shape. [illegible] cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.

Subscribe for The Chilton County News. $1.00 per year.

The New York Store

Our New Spring Goods are open for your inspection.

A complete line of Mens, Ladies and children Ready-to-wear and Shoes.

We still Issue Coupons for Chinaware.

The New York Store
Clanton, Alabama.

Watch Out!

Something is going to happen. Prices are going to jar the bottom out.

Say! Did you know we were paying the highest market price for Chickens and Eggs and all kinds of Country Produce.

F. M. Connell

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabama.
[illegible] Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Sho
Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is uy to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the leaÞe come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

YOU TAKE NO CHANC
Shumate Written Guaran
With Each Raz
For Sale by

Alred Drug Co.
CLANTON, ALABAMA

YOU CAN'T MISS THIS!

TO BUY YOUR GROCERIES

We have the best assorted stock of goods in Central Alabama and if you have not looked thru our line of goods it will be money to you to do so, because we sell strictly for cash and therefore we can give you more for your money than if we did a credit business.

We have a nice line of staple groceries that we are going to sell regardless of the price, and here are a few of the many bargains that we have to offer:

Notice
Our
Show Windows
NEXT
Saturday

Kenny's Special Blend Coffee, per pound	Regular Price	25c	Sale Price	18c
Big 5 pound package Competition Coffee	"	1.25c	"	1.00
Peanut Butter	"	10c	"	08
"	"	15c	"	12
Army Corned Beef, 2 lb can,	"	20c	"	15
Genuine Sock Eye Salmon, per can,	"	45c		35
Bank Salmon,	"	20c		12
Big Size Vienna Sausage	"	15c	"	12
Lippenscot Apple Jelly, per glass	"	20c	"	15
Thoma's Pork and Beans, per can	"	15c	"	12
Army Bacon 12 lb can	"	2.00c		1.75
Old Dutch Cleanser per can	"	15c	"	12
6 Packages of Soda,		1 for 5c		24
6 " Grandma's			"	25
Rice, 5c per pound.

Anything
For The
Kitchen

In addition to this, we have the sole agency of John Lucas Paint, which in the paint line, is a scientific perfection and any one buying paint from us we will guarantee perfect satisfaction or refund the money you paid us and also the price of the labor for putting the paint on.

We are behind you. John Lucas is behind us.

We also handle Reliance Aluminum ware, Greystone Enamel ware, and an assorted stock of Hardware, Furniture of all kinds, such as wood and iron bedsteads, chairs, dressers, washstands, rockers, davenports, porch furniture, rugs, art squares, bed sprinps, mattresses, blakets, cots and cot pads.

In the farming line we have plow collars, wagon collars, check lines, plow lines, bridles, collar pads, backbands, plow points, all kinds of plow clevises field and garden hoes, field and garden seeds.

The best always comes at the last and this time it is the wire fencing we handle. It is the Anthony fencing made by the American Steel and Wire Co. We have this wire from 28 inches to 60 inches high. If you havn't tried us come and look us over and we will appreciate your patronage.

W. W. FOX, THE AUCTION MAN

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal atattention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

To my friends and Customers

I Will be open next week with a full line of new and up-to-date Dry Goods, Shoes, Clothing and furnishing for the entire family.

I will occupy Baker & Taylor's present place

I will be glad to see all of my friends.

Formely of the New York Store.

My store will be known as the LEADER.

M. Lande

Subscribe for the Chilton County News $1.00 per year.

We do Job Printing.

ENTERPRISE

Dear Editor:—

Please allow me space in the valuable columns of your paper to state a few more facts in regard to the progress of this community.

We are very glad to state that the mumps are gradually dying out.

Mrs. J. W. Cagle spent Saturday night with her sister, Mrs. L. P. Cagle.

The weather around these parts is beginning to be quite rough. We hope to have a good crop year.

Some of the farmers around here have at last succeeded in getting their land prepared and are waiting patiently for some beautiful weather to plant their corn.

Mr. Dewey Huett spent a few enjoyable hours at the home of Mrs. J. M. Dykes Saturday night.

Several people from this community went to the singing at Indian Grave Sunday afternoon. They report a good time as usual.

Miss Florence Farmer left this community last week for her home near Eclectic. She will be missed by the entire community. However, we are glad to know that she is to teach again at Enterprise next winter.

Miss Sadie Belle Stroud took dinner with Miss Cloie DeLoach Sunday.

We have singing at Bethany every fourth Sunday afternoon. All singers and lovers of music are cordially invited to come and be with us.

Mr. Willie Dykes spent a few enjoyable hours at the home of Mr. G. W. Gray's Saturday night.

BAPTIST CHURCH REFUSES TO ACCEPT PASTOR'S RESIGNATION

Last Sunday the resignation of Pastor P. G. Carter, of the first Baptist Church, was taken up for action by the church in conference. The matter was submitted to a secret ballot of the membership and when the votes were totalled it was found that a majority had voted not to accept the resignation and so the pastor was retained.

Rev. Carter has been a live and hustling adjunct to the citizenship of Clanton during his administration here and has at all times been active in promoting the civic interests of the town and community. Under his administration the first Baptist church has erected a lovely expensive church edifice.

We do not know whether the Pastor will accept the action of the church Sunday as a final settlement of the question of his resignation, or whether he will insist on moving to a new field.

He was granted leave of absence by the church for next Sunday and, in consequence, no preaching will be there either at the morning or evening services. Other services will proceed as usual.

Rev. Gilbert, Dr. C. N. Parnell, of Maplesville were here Monday. They made their stay rather short on account of the muddy road from here to Maplesville.

CONDENSED STATEMENT
of the condition of the

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA, MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$187,510.99
Overdrafts	2.46
United States Bonds	30,000.00
Other Bonds	10,100.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,361.14
Redemption Fund	1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank	1,100.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks	49,187.82
Total	$281,762.41

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	$ 30,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	9,340.29
Circulation	30,000.00
Deposits	212,422.12
Total	$281,762.41

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, CHILTON COUNTY.

I, Jno. C. Page, Cashier of the above-named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

JNO. C. PAGE, Cashier.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this the 13th day of March, 1922.

J. R. MULLINS, Notary Public.

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT:
Deposits March 10, 1920—$151,205.32
DEPOSITS MARCH 10, 1921—$167,759.83
Deposits March 10, 1922--$212,422.12
NOTE OUR GROWTH.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in quantities to meet all demands. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicken is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Mone to Loan 3-4 of $100,000

I am in position the above amount to the farmers of Chilton County with which to Insure their property.

The Insurance contract is for five years and we Insure all your property against Fire, Lightening, and Wind Storms.

You pay one fifth cash and the other four fifths in four annual installments without interest.

This is an Old Line Company and Old Line rates. I also sell Old Line Life Insurance for one of the large Old Line Companies.

I also sell the old reliable Singer Machines on easy payments, and take old Machine in exchange.

C. Reese Mullins Agt.
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

We Do Job Printing.

The Girl, a Horse and a Dog

By FRANCIS
LYNDE

Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons

"THE GIRL!"

Synopsis. — Under his grandfather's will, Stanford Broughton, estate, valued at something like $40,000, lies in a "safe repository," latitude and longitude described, and that is all. It may be identified by the presence nearby of a brown-haired, blue-eyed girl, a piebald horse, and a dog with a split face, half black and half white. Stanford at first regards the bequest as a practical joke, but after consideration sets out to find his legacy. On his way to Denver Stanford hears from a fellow traveler, Charles Bullerton, a mining engineer, a story having to do with a flooded mine. He guesses at the possibility of a mine as a "safe repository." Bullerton refuses him information. Broughton starts for Placerville, in the Red Desert. At Atropia, just as the train pulls out, Stanford sees what appear to be the identical horse and dog described in his grandfather's will. Impressed, he leaves the train at the next stop, Angels. Unable to secure a conveyance, Broughton seizes a track-inspection car and escapes, leaving the impression on the town marshal, Beasley, that he is demented. Pursued, he abandons the car, which is wrecked.

CHAPTER V.—Continued.

—3—

Gentle reader, I wonder if you've ever tried to climb a telegraph pole without the contrivances that a lineman buckles upon his feet? If you haven't, the advice of this amateur is—don't. Half a dozen times I shinnied up to perhaps the height of a man's head, only to come sliding down again on a run. At last, by a series of inchings I contrived to get within arm's-reach of the lowest crosspiece. Pliers in hand, I strained for the nearest wire, progged it, and began to twist it back and forth to break it.

Not to let me miss any of the thrills, it was at the precise instant of the wire-breaking that my straining ears caught the sound they had been listening for; a far-away, drumming rumble that seemed to come from nowhere in particular. Then, out of the same indefinite circumambience came a warning that was still more unmistakable—the long-drawn blast of a locomotive whistle.

I didn't climb down that pole; I came down like the time-ball on the flagstaff in Washington at high noon. Moreover, I struck the ground running, as one might say. All thoughts of tinkering that confounded motor had vanished and my one great object in life was to get the car off the track before a worse thing should happen. I was doing fairly well with the lifting and tugging when the enemy hove in sight less than five hundred yards away. And that wasn't all, either. At precisely the same instant, as if it had been timed by the same mechanism that had brought the freight train, here came a wild engine around the curve in the opposite direction, with its whistle valve held open and making a racket to wake the dead. The bereft motor-car riders had found a locomotive somewhere and were chasing me.

One mad heave at the stranded gasoline car, a mighty boost that got all but one wheel of it in the clear, and I was gone—streaking it like a jack-rabbit for the tall timber—only there wasn't a stick of timber nearer than the slopes of the backgrounding mountains.

One glance over my shoulder as I fled showed me what I was in for: that the story was to be immediately continued in our next. Both engineers tried to stop; did stop in time to avert the greater catastrophe. Three or four men jumped from the freight and two from the wild engine to come tearing after me. I fancied I could give them their money's worth at that game—being in pretty fair training—so I pitched out to try to turn the hypothetical theory into a condition.

It was a great race. Through one gap and into another we went, making figure eights around the hills and back again, dodging into new ravines and out of them into others, circling among great sandstone boulders that took all sorts of weird shapes in the passing glimpse.

I don't know just how long the chase lasted, but it was long enough to give me a very considerable degree of respect for the nerve and persistence of those highly indignant railroad men. We must have been miles away from the scene of the disaster when I finally left them behind and lost them. When I looked back and found myself alone with the solitudes I sat down upon a flat rock to gasp and laugh. It had all been so supremely ridiculous, and so beautifully in keeping with the reputation I had left behind me at Angels, that I felt sure that now nothing less than a verdict of expert alienists would ever serve to convince these Red Desert folk that I was anything but an escaped lunatic.

After the breathing spell I kept on up the valley, heading away from the setting sun, and feeling certain that, sooner or later, I must come out somewhere in the neighborhood of Atropia.

Two hours later I came into a sort of an excuse for a road. Being pretty well winded by the stiff climb out of the wagon ravine, I sat down at the roadside to rest a bit and to decide which way I should go, to the right or to the left. Just as I was making up my mind I heard a patter of feet and a dog barked.

A moment later I could see the beast, indistinctly. He had been coming up the road and had stopped at the sight—or scent—of me. Since a dog argued the proximity of a dog-owning human being, I called coaxingly: "Here, Towser—here—come on, old fellow—that's a boy!" and the curious thing about it is that he did it, running up a little way and stopping, and finally coming to squat before me and to lift a paw for me to shake.

I jollied him a bit and let him nose me to his heart's content. Then suddenly, as if he had discovered a long-lost master, he broke away and began to leap and dance around me, barking a furious and hilarious welcome. In the midst of this hubbub I heard hoof-beats and the squeaking of saddle leather, and the dog's owner rode up. At first I thought the dimly outlined Stetson-hatted figure in the saddle was that of a boy. But it was a woman's voice, and a mighty pleasant one, that called to the dog: "Down, Barney, and behave yourself—what's the matter with you, sir!"

I stood up and pulled off my cap.

"I'm chiefly the matter," I said. "Your dog seems to think he knows me, and I'm awfully sorry that his memory is so much better than mine."

You'd think—anybody would think—that a woman riding alone in the dark on a solitary mountain road would be handsomely startled, to say the least, at seeing a man rise up fairly under her horse's nose. But if my little lady were scared, she certainly didn't parade her fright.

"Barney is such a foolish dog, sometimes," she said apologetically. "He has a double brain, you know; half of it is good-natured and silly and the other half is—well, it's—"

The dog had come around again wagging his tail and at that magic word "half" I stooped to let him stick his cold nose into my palm. The act brought me near enough to enable me to see him better, and I had to clap a hand over my mouth to keep from shouting out and scaring the entire combination into a wild stampede. For, if you'll believe me, the dog was my dog. One-half of his face was white and the other was so black that it merged and faded harmoniously into the night!

"I know," I said, straightening up again; "my brain acts that way, too, sometimes." Then: "Pardon me, but would you mind telling me the color of the horse you are riding?"

The young woman laughed and her laugh was just as jolly and pleasant as her speaking voice.

"Winkie is what the cow-men call a 'pinto'—a calico horse," she answered promptly.

"Sure!" I bellowed, "I knew it!" and the horse shied and the dog barked in sheer sympathy. Then I apologized. "Please forgive the explosion. As I said a minute ago, my brain sometimes acts like Barney's: half of it being good-natured and silly and the other half—well, we'll omit the description of the other half for the present, if you'll permit me. May I—er—will you have the goodness to tell me where I am?"

"I—why—dear me! Don't you know where you are?"

"Not any more than a harmless, necessary goat, I assure you."

I couldn't be certain, but I thought she took a little firmer hold upon her bridle rein.

"Did you—did you come from Angels?" she asked in a sort of awed little voice.

"How did you guess it? I was, indeed—for a very short space of time this very day—a member of the Angelic band. And if you should ask me, I might say that I feel as though I had walked most of the way here from Angels. I—I—my car broke down, you know."

"Yes," she said: "I know"—just as if she did. Then: "I can at least tell you where you are. This is the southern slope of Cinnabar mountain. This road leads on down to Atropia, about three miles below."

"Y-es; Atropia was the place I was trying to come at."

She stopped and appeared to be thinking about something. Then she said:

"Really, I think you would better not go to Atropia. It's—well, it's quite a long walk."

"The walk doesn't specially appal me. I've done so much walking this afternoon that a few hundred miles, more or less, in addition wouldn't be worth mentioning. But for some other reasons—"

"Yes; for some other reasons," she said, repeating it right after me. Then: "I—we—Daddy and I, might give you some supper and put you up for the night, if—if you wouldn't mind sleeping in the—in the loft."

My Lord! I hadn't so much as seen her face clearly yet, but I could have worshiped her! She had just come from Atropia, and she knew! Of course, she knew. That little dry-as-dust hamlet must have been sizzling for hours with the wire news of the escaped lunatic who had alighted in Angels only to light out again with a stolen inspection car. And in the face of all that she was willing to take a chance on me! If she had only known that I would cheerfully risk sleeping in the cellar—to say nothing of a loft—rather than lose sight of her . . . but she was going on a bit breathlessly: "It is only a short mile to our cabin and—and if you are very tired, I might let you ride Winkie."

"I shall be most delighted—to walk," I hastened to say.

"Straight on up the road, then," she directed.

We had traversed possibly half of the promised mile in plodding silence when we came to a place where the grade was so steep that it cut what was left of my sea-level wind to the small end of nothing.

"Stop a minute and get your breath," said the pony's rider; and when I had halted: "You are not used to these high altitudes, are you?"

"N-not so that any one would remark it," I gasped. "How high up are we?"

"About five thousand feet. The mine is exactly five thousand three hundred, I believe."

There it was, you see: THE MINE!

"Pardon me," I blurted out; "but would you mind telling me if your eyes are blue?"

Her laugh was like a drink of cool spring water in the middle of a hot summer day; refreshing, you know, like that.

"I sup-pup-pose my eyes are blue; people tell me they are."

"Thank you," I returned. "There is only one other little matter and that can very well wait until we are—er—a bit better acquainted, you know. Shall we go on, now?"

She spoke to her pony and we went on. Ahead of us and diagonally up a steep slope I could see the dim shapes of a number of buildings, all dark. Then we came to a great dump, looking as if the mountain had at one time opened to pour out a cataract of broken stone.

Beyond the dump there was another building with a light in it; and as the dog ran ahead of us, barking, the figure of a man silhouetted itself in the open doorway.

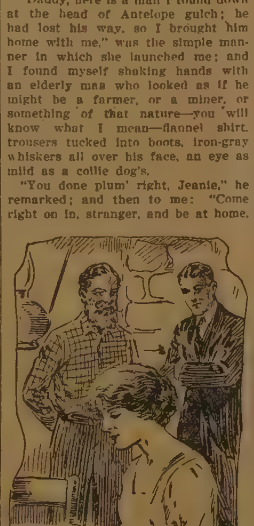
"Here we are and you are welcome to the Old Cinnabar," said my companion to me. Then she "hoo-hoo-ed" cheerily to the man in the doorway and slipped out of her saddle, letting her pony stand while she led me across to the lighted, log-built cabin.

CHAPTER VI.

The Old Cinnabar.

"Daddy, here is a man I found down at the head of Antelope gulch; he had lost his way, so I brought him home with me," was the simple manner in which she launched me; and I found myself shaking hands with an elderly man who looked as if he might be a farmer, or a miner, or something of that nature—you will know what I mean—flannel shirt, trousers tucked into boots, iron-gray whiskers all over his face, an eye as mild as a collie dog's.

"You done plum' right, Jeanie," he remarked; and then to me: "Come right on in, stranger, and be at home. If you don't see what you want, ask for it." After which he went to take care of the piebald pony.



A Little Later the Girl Returned to Set the Table.

The log cabin proved to be primitive only on the outside. The interior was a dream of cozy homeliness. A hanging lamp lighted it, and in its mild glow I had my first real look at the girl.

She wasn't beautiful in any show-girl meaning of the word; she was something far better—piquant, charming. A round little face, wind-tanned to a tint as delicious as the blush in the heart of an apple-blossom, a jolly bit of a nose, tip-tilted enough to bespeak a healthy sense of humor, a mouth neither too large nor too small upheld by a firm, round chin, and the chin upheld by an extra firm little jaw. As she had admitted, her eyes were blue—the blue that shades into violet—and they were well-set; wide apart and perfectly fearless; the kind of eyes fit to match the straight-lined brows that usually go with them.

I sat before the cheerful blaze, chuckling quietly to myself over the mad adventures of the day and their highly romantic, not to say miraculous, outcome. Beyond all manner of doubt I had stumbled upon the three talismans of Cousin Percy's cryptic letter. By the most marvelous of accidents I had discovered the girl, the horse and the dog; and, if the remainder of Percy's letter were to be taken at its face value, I should now be in touch with my legacy.

As to the character of that legacy, there could be no further question. Grandfather Jasper had left me a mine; and I was fully prepared to find it the drowned mine of Bullerton's story. What I might be able to make of it was a matter which could well be postponed to another day. Just as I reached this postponing conclusion the girl's father came in, drew up a chair on the opposite side of the hearth, and began to make me welcome in a mild-mannered way, saying that they didn't have much company, and were always "master" glad to see a new face. He did not ask me any troublesome questions; and beyond telling me his name, which was Hiram Twombly, did not volunteer any information about himself or his daughter, nor did he explain how they came to be living in so much comparative comfort in such an out-of-the-way place.

A little later the girl returned to set the table, and presently we had supper. It was an amazingly good meal; crisp bacon, fried potatoes, hot biscuits and honey, and coffee that was most delicious in spite of the condensed milk which was made to serve as cream.

After we left the table the blue-eyed maiden got housewifely busy, and the old man and I sat before the fire and smoked. I don't remember just how it was that we finally drifted around to automobiles and motor boats and such things, but we did, and maybe I may have bragged a bit about having driven and tinkered pretty nearly all the breeds of go-cart on land and water—as I really had.

"Know about machinery, do you?" said my hearth-mate; and then, with a humorous glint in his mild eyes: "Shouldn't wonder if you could be sort of a Godsend to me, if you wanted to. To-morruh, if you ain't in too big a hurry to be leavin' us, I'll get you to show me a few things that I don't know, 'long them lines, maybe."

Of course, I acquiesced, cheerfully. By and by the girl came in and sat down to knit, just as her grandmother might have done, and at that her father got up, and, lighting a lantern, went out. I was fairly perishing by this time to know a vast number of things, but hardly knew how to begin asking about them. So, as the old man clapped on his hat and left the cabin, I blew out the first foolish remark that came uppermost:

"All dressed up, and nowhere to go; isn't that about the way of it for you two up on this mountain?"

"Meaning Daddy, and now, particularly?" she said, smiling across at me. "He has gone to make his regular round of the mine buildings and cabins. Not that there is the slightest use of it; only he likes to feel that he is at least pretending to earn his pay."

"The mine?" I queried.

"Yes; this is the old Cinnabar, you know; and Daddy is the—well, I suppose you might call us the caretakers, though there isn't much to take care of. The mine has been shut down for a year and more."

"Is it a gold mine?"

"It was."

"Why the past tense?"

"Water," she said, briefly. "It's a drowned mine. That is why it was shut down."

Of course, this was exactly what I was expecting to hear, and yet this plain unvarnished confirmation of things gave me a damp and soggy feeling of despondency. Percy had wired, you remember, that his letter was no joke; but it seemed that it really was one, and that the joke—which was a mighty grim one—was on me.

"Can't the water be pumped out?" I asked.

"It seems not. I understand the company spent thousands of dollars trying to pump it out. It's—it's rather pitiful."

"You mean the company's loss?"

"No; the company didn't lose anything. It was just one old man."

Now we were coming to the real meat of the thing and I looked my hand of cards over carefully to the end that I should not overplay it.

"I'm fond of stories," I ventured; "especially mining stories," and thereupon she told me the story of the Cinnabar. It was a fair repetition of Bullerton's tale, with a few more of the particulars thrown in.

As my blue-eyed little Scheherazade understood it, my grandfather had been a minority stockholder in the company during its prosperous period. When the water debacle came, the fact of it was carefully concealed from him and he was generously permitted to come to the rescue—which he did by paying a fabulous sum (Scheherazade did not know how much) for his fellow-stockholders' holdings. In other words, they had sold him a gold brick; soaked him for a final clean-up on a doomed mine. That was about all there was to it.

"Did my—did the old gentleman you speak of ever come out here himself?"

She nodded.

"Once that we know of; that was after it was all over and the place was deserted. At that time Daddy had taken up a claim just west of here in the next gulch and we were living in this cabin; squatters, I guess you'd call us. So we camped down."

"That was quite right and proper. And this Mr. Jasper Dudley; he didn't turn you out when he came, did he?"

"Oh, no, indeed; he was very kind. When he found that Daddy's gulch claim wasn't going to pan out anything, he said he needed a caretaker here, and since that time he has sent us money every month. But now I suppose it will all be different. Mr. Dudley is dead."

"But the heirs?" I suggested.

"We don't even know who they are. When Mr. Dudley went away he left a sealed envelope with Daddy. He said he might come back again, some time, but if he didn't, or couldn't, Daddy was to keep the envelope and give it to his—Mr. Dudley's—representative, whoever that might be."

Talk about plots thickening! This one was already as thick as molasses in the dead of winter!

"How were you to know this representative if one should come?" I edged in cautiously.

"I don't know," she replied simply. "I should suppose he would be able to identify himself in some way, though; shouldn't you? That is, if he ever comes."

"Sure; nothing easier, of course," I agreed; and then, since we seemed to have scraped the bottom of the Cinnabar dish clean I switched off to something else.

"When we were coming up the road a while back, Miss Jeanie, you gathered the impression that I was a crazy man, didn't you?"

"Didn't you try to give me that impression?" she countered.

"I fancy I didn't have to try very hard—inasmuch as you had been spending the afternoon in Atropia."

She forced a queer little laugh and bent lower over her knitting.

"When you were in Atropia, did you see or hear anything of the other crazy man?"

"Is there another one?" she asked, a bit breathlessly.

"I was told so in Angels this afternoon."

"Is this other man a friend of yours?" she wanted to know.

"You could scarcely call him that; I've met him only once. He is a mining engineer and his name is Bullerton—Charles Bullerton."

If I had reached up and got her pistol out of its holster over the mantel to bang it off into the fireplace she could hardly have been more startled.

"Ch-Charles Bullerton?" she stammered. "Is Mr. Bullerton here?"

"Not here, exactly, but he was in Atropia two days ago. Do you, by any chance, happen to know him?"

"Oh, yes; qui-quite well."

"Then, naturally, you know best whether or not he is in my class—the crazy class, I mean."

Once more she let the blue eyes drop to her knitting, and if I wasn't mistaken the pretty lips were twisting themselves in a sort of wry smile.

"The last time I saw him he told me he was crazy," she admitted.

"Isn't this delightful!" I murmured. "Bullerton is crazy and I'm crazy; perhaps we are all a bit crazy. Do you know, Miss Jeanie, that I have come thousands of miles to find you?"

"To find me?"—the blue eyes were as round as the full moon.

"Even so; you, your horse and your dog. Would you—er—would you permit an exceedingly personal question? Remembering always that it is put by a man who has lost his wits? Have you a small brown mole on your left shoulder?"

She blushed very fetchingly; even the handsome mountain wind tan wasn't brown enough to hide it.

"I think you are crazy—completely crazy."

"Certainly I am; there hasn't been the slightest doubt of it since—well, since about two weeks ago, when I started to hunt for you and a piefaced dog and piebald horse."

There was silence before the fire for a long minute and I began to be afraid Daddy Hiram would come back before anything else happened. Then she said, with more curiosity than resentment, I thought:

"How did you know about the mole?"

"Then there is one?" I questioned eagerly.

"Y-yes."

"Glory be!" I chanted. "You don't know what a load you have lifted from whatever poor fragment of a mind I have left!"

Again she said: "I don't know what you mean."

"Just you wait," I begged. "I have lucid intervals at times; all crazy folks do, you know. When my next one comes along I'll explain as much as I can—which isn't nearly as much as you might think, at that."

It was just at this moment that her father returned, so she went on with her sock-knitting while we two men talked a bit and had a bed-time smoke. Pretty soon I began to get sleepy—a natural consequence of the strenuous day—and at the third yawn, which I was trying vainly to hide, Daddy Twombly lighted a candle and offered to show me my bunk.

This proved to be in the cabin loft, as the blue-eyed maiden had threatened, and the stair was just a common ladder. Father Hiram left me the candle, and I had blown the light out and rolled myself in the blankets before I realized that the loft must be directly over the room with the fireplace in it.

I was so workmanly tired that I fell asleep almost at once, and why I should have awakened before morning, I don't know. But I did awaken, and though I don't know what time it was, it seemed as if I hadn't been asleep more than a few minutes. There were voices in the room beneath; Twombly and his daughter had not yet gone to bed, so it must have been reasonably early. I had no manner of right to listen in, but short of stuffing cotton in my ears there didn't seem to be any easy way of staying out—and I didn't have any cotton.

"I heard something today—something that you won't like to hear. Charles Bullerton is somewhere in this neighborhood. He was in Angels yesterday or the day before."

I Stuck My Head Out of the Blankets and Listened Greedily.

"Huh!" grunted Twombly; "I wonder what sort of a crooked deal he's tryin' to pull off now? Did he stay in Angels?"

"N-no. What I heard was that he had left there to go to Atropia."

"I don't want to see him come foolin' 'round you any more, whatsoever, Jeanie girl. I kep' still the other time, but that was afore I'd found out how everlastin' crooked he is."

"You needn't be afraid for me, Daddy," said the girl, and I could hear her low laugh. "You know you've always said I'd have to marry money, and Charles Bullerton hasn't enough to tempt even me."

I heard something that sounded like a deep-throated "Gosh!—listen at that, will ye?" then: "If Charley Bullerton's been in 'Tropia he'll be bustin' in here, next, tryin' to get his claws into this here Cinnabar carcass. And me, I hain't got no boss to stand behind me. That'll be a nice kettle o' fish!"

I stuck my head out of the blankets and listened greedily. It seemed to be very highly necessary that I should be made acquainted with the precise ingredients of that kettle of fish. But my luck had exhausted itself. In a few minutes there was a stir in the living-room below, and I heard Daddy Twombly shoveling up ashes to cover the fire. That meant goodnight; and though I continued to listen, there were no more sounds, and I was finally obliged to go to sleep, leaving the fish-kettle still unanalyzed.

"Well, hello, Charley Bullerton! What in Sam Hill are you doin' up in this neck o' woods?"

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Origin of Wedding Cake.

The wedding cake dates back to the laws of Romulus and the early days of Rome. Instead of elaborate marriage festivals Romulus instituted the confarreatio. The union of the man and woman was solemnized simply and quickly by the eating of a loaf of barley bread together. This marriage ceremony was in force for some generations among the Romans. Then, as civilization developed, the barley bread became a cake.

Birds and Cyclones.

One naturalist has expressed the opinion that birds habitually make use of storms in traveling from one part of their range to another. He points out that if a bird cannot find shelter, it must be more comfortable on the wing than on the ground during a storm, because in the fiercest gales the air, as a mass, is at rest; that is, the bird is in a moving, supporting medium, like a swimmer in a strongly-flowing river.

Don't Neglect Eyes.

The majority of people do not care for their eyes as they should. The eye is too delicate an organ to be subjected to haphazard treatment. A sudden change from a very bright light to darkness should be avoided and, if the eyes are at all weak, the prevailing color in the room in which such a one spends much time, should be in some tint that is soothing and restful to the eyes.—Detroit News.

NT HALF HER TIME IN BED

r's Wife Tells How Lydia E. ham's Vegetable Compound lade Her a Well Woman

r's Creek, Tenn. — "Three years s almost an invalid. I spent half of my time in bed, being afflicted with a trouble which women of a certain age are apt to have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a well woman now and have been for two years. I can work as well as who is younger and as I am a s wife I have plenty to do for I my own garden, raise many and do my own housework. ay publish this letter as I am do anything to help other as I have been so well and happy y troubles are past."—Mrs. E.T. WAY, Carter's Creek, Tenn. women find plenty to do. If upset with some female ailment ubled with such symptoms as alloway had, the smallest duty a mountain.

ou find it hard to keep up, if you rvous and irritable, without ambi- out of sorts generally, give the ble Compound a fair trial. We it will help you greatly, for it lped others.

UMATIC ACHES CKLY RELIEVED

racking, agonizing rheumatic e is quickly relieved by an ap- ation of Sloan's Liniment. rty years, folks all over the have found Sloan's to be the enemy of pains and aches. etrates without rubbing. an just tell by its healthy, ing odor that it is going to do d. Sloan's handy for neuralgia, lame back, stiff joints, sore strains and sprains. druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.

loan's iniment Pain's enemy

Makes Sick Skins Well One of Dr. Hobson's Family Remedies. For a clear, healthy complexion use freely Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment

VICTIMS ESCUED

ey, liver, bladder and uric acid les are most dangerous be- se of their insidious attacks. the first warning they give they need attention by taking

GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES

rld's standard remedy for these s will often ward off these dis- nd strengthen the body against attacks. Three sizes, all druggists. for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

FOR SALE ockle Velvet bean seed $1.50 bushel. EE FARMS, LIVE OAK, FLA.

OPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE Short breathing relieved in a few hours; swelling reduced in a s; regulates the liver, kidneys, stomach rt; purifies the blood, strengthens the stem. Write for Free Trial Treatment. DROPSY REMEDY CO., Dept. C.E., ATLANTA, GA.

T SMELL? Our remedy for sore, tired, k feet stops excessive perspiration and ive odors. Price $2 postpaid. WE, 1232 Dewey, BELOIT, WIS.

Sentiment Vs. Reality.

—"Alas! What boots this of true love?" Unfortunate —"That's easy. Her father."

our years of strength prepare r years of weakness.

CURES COLDS IN A DAY CASCARA QUININE BROMIDE World's standard cold and la grippe remedy. Demand red box bearing Mr. Hill's portrait and signature. W. H. HILL CO., DETROIT armless, purely vegetable, infants' and hildren's Regulator, formula on every label. uaranteed non-narcotic, non-alcoholic. MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP The Infants' and Children's Regulator Children grow healthy and free m colic, diarrhoea, flatulency, nstipation and other trouble if ven it at teething time. fe, pleasant—always brings re- arkable and gratifying results. t All ruggists

YES HURT? For burning or scaly lids, and to relieve inflammation and soreness, use Mitchell Eye Salve, according to directions. Soothing, healing. HALL & RUCKEL 147 Waverly Place New York

FRANCE'S WAR COST GREATER THAN U. S.

BRITAIN'S ARMY BURDEN ALSO MORE THAN THE UNITED STATES

ESTIMATE PER CAPITA GIVEN

U. S. Is Far In Rear Of Other Nation's Of World In Way Of Expenditures

Washington.—For every dollar per capita which the United States is spending on her army, France is spending seven and Great Britain is spending four, according to figures made public by the general staff.

Figuring the population of the United States at 106,418,000, and the amount expended on the army at $343,155,363, War Department officials estimate the per capita expenditure at $3.22. This contrasts with $22.52 per capita for the French army, $12.35 per capita for the British empire forces, $6.70 per capita for Italy and $3.38 for Japan.

Considered from the point of view of national wealth, the United States is far in the rear of other nations of the world from the amount expended for military establishment. With an estimated wealth of $350,000,000,000, the United States is expending .10, or ten-hundredths, per cent on her army, while the British empire, with an estimated wealth of $800,524,500,000, is spending .45 per cent; France, with $100,000,000,000, is spending .93 per cent; Italy, with $30,000,000,000, is spending .82 per cent, and Japan, with $25,000,000,000 is spending .76 per cent.

These figures leave out of account the fact that the American soldiers is the highest paid soldier in the world and that in proportion to manpower the American army is scarcely superior to many of the comparatively insignificant Balkan states.

After enumerating the essential purposes for which the army must be used if the national defense act of 1920, is to be carried out the report of the general staff says:

"Any further reduction in the enlisted strength will at once force a decision as to which of the missions of the army must be altered, curtailed or abandoned altogether."

Officials of the War Department are particularly concerned over suggestions that appropriations for instruction to the National Guard and the Reserve Corps, both officers and enlisted personnel, be reduced. If these appropriations are cut down, they contend, the whole spirit of the national defense act, which they regard as the first definite statement of military policy for the United States, will be lost, and the whole value of the experiences of the World War will be dissipated.

Indictments Charge Railroad Thefts

Buffalo, N. Y.—Thirty-four indictments were reported by a federal grand jury here in connection with thefts from the New York Central railroad, said to have aggregated more than $2,000,000 in the last year. The persons indicted are said to include several men connected with the New York Central's police force. One witness before the grand jury is said to have placed the railroad company's losses at more than $4,000,000 since 1919.

Again On Trial On Murder Charge

Rustburg, a.—The second trial of the case of Lonnie Moran and R. T. Shields on the charge of murder in connection with the death of W. H. Johnson, whose body was found near Lynchburg, was commenced recently. Johnson's body was not found for nearly a year after the man disappeared. In the first trial of the two defendants the jury was unable to agree on a verdict.

Anarchy Threatens Again In Fiume

Fiume.—Party strife again threatens to plunge Fiume into anarchy. Immediately after the fall of the Zanella government, partisan feeling subsided, all joining in choosing Major Giovanni Giuriati as head of the government, but now that he has refused the position, each party is again rivalling the others for control of the city.

Mellon Objects To Enlarging Board

Washington.—Objection to increasing the membership of the federal reserve board, with a view to giving the agricultural interests representation as proposed in a bill passed by the senate, was voiced by Secretary Mellon at a hearing before the house banking committee. The measure provides that the board shall have eight instead of seven members, and stipulates that the president in making appointments shall give "due regard to a fair representation" of agriculture as well as commercial and industrial interests.

New York Thug Slays Policeman

New York.—In a daylight pistol battle waged among monuments in a stonecutter's yard, an unidentified thug was shot in the neck and captured after he had killed a policeman. Patrolman McMail, hearing a woman's screams, rushed from his post to intercept burglars who had been surprised "at work." He grasped the man, and was dropped with a bullet through his head. A special policeman pursued the slayer into the stoneyard, and finally killed the man. McMail died in a hospital.

TREATY VOTE WILL BE CLOSE

26 Democrats Voted For Reservation, While Four, Including Underwood, Support Treaty

Washington.—The vote in the senate on the proposed Robinson amendment to the four-power Pacific treaty has confirmed belief that the decision on ratification will be extremely close.

While not conclusive, the vote revealed the extent of the opposition to the pact. The amendment was rejected, 55 to 30.

Since only a majority was required, the defeat of the amendment was overwhelming.

But to ratify the treaty, two-thirds is required, and the 30 votes in support of the amendment indicate the opposition lacks only a few votes to accomplish rejection. Counting probable absences on the final vote, it is likely that not more than 31 votes will be needed to prevent ratification and undo the entire work of the arms conference.

However, some of those senators who supported the amendment will, in the final test, vote for the treaty itself. Leaders lost none of their confidence that ratification as things now stand, is assured, although by a narrow margin.

The roll call showed:

Twenty-six Democrats voting in favor of the amendment.

Four Republicans supporting them.

Four Democrats voting with the Republicans.

The four Republicans who deserted their leadership were Borah, Johnson, LaFollette and France. The three Democrats who joined with their leader, Senator Underwood, in opposing the amendment were Pomerene, Ransdell and Williams.

The Robinson amendment would have provided for the participation of other powers than the four that signed the treaty in conferences called under its terms. The senate also rejected a similar amendment offered by Walsh of Montana as a substitute; the vote was 50 to 27 on this.

Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader, failed to show the strength that had been expected. Before the roll was called, Underwood made a speech in the nature of a plea, although he emphasized that in advocating the treaty he was not acting in his capacity as leader of the minority. Several Democrats voted for the amendment because they desired to have the four-power union more closely resemble the league of nations.

May Operate On President Obregon

Mexico City.—Arrival of Dr. William P. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., here, revived rumors that President Obregon must submit to an operation on his right arm which has never completely healed since he was injured in the battle of Celaya in 1914. Dr. Mayo was accompanied by several physicians. He said that the purpose of his visit was to combine pleasure with an inspection of health conditons here in general.

A. T. & T. Accused Of Infringement

Washington.—Maj. Gen. George O. Squier, chief signal officer of the army and recognized by American and foreign scientific organizations as an authority on radio telegraphy, announces that he has filed suit in the United States district court for the southern district of New York against the American Telephone and Telegraph company charging infringement on several patents he holds for wireless devices.

Hoover Rejects Exposition Proposal

Washington.—Declaring President Harding had "strongly expressed the wish" that he remain in the director-generalship of the food-relief campaign, Herbert Hoover recently informed Mayor J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia that he could not accept the director generalship of the qui centennial exposition to be held in Philadelphia in 1926.

"Aggressive War Is Now Impossible"

Berlin, Germany.—Minister of Defense Gessler, speaking on defense estimates in the reichstag recently, declared there was no question of an aggressive war by Germany, adding that the German military men were much too sensible to undertake an aggressive war with the means now at their disposal.

Home-Brew Case Defended By Son

Lynn, Mass.—When the case of Mrs. Dora Cornitz, charged with making home brew, was called in district court here, a slender youth with a dignified face, arose and, in quavering tones, announced himself as her counsel. Then the boy, his eyes blazing, launched into a dramatic defense of the gray-haired woman. She was a widow, he told the court, who was struggling to earn enough to feed and clothe her five children and to give them a good education. She made home-brew, he said, for a livelihood

Women Protest Against "Civic Virtue"

New York.—New York clubwomen and leaders in civic affairs recently sent out what may prove to be a feminine battle cry against Sculptor Frederick MacMonnies' depiction of "Civic Virtue," as a nude young man enthusiastically kicking the prostrate form of two sirens, representative of urban temptation and vice. Protest was voiced by Mary Garrett Hay and Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, champion of woman's rights, at the announcement that the sculpture was about to be completed and erected.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON SOLDIER BONUS

FORDNEY IS REPORTED TO BE STILL ANXIOUS TO BRING UP THE MEASURE

WILL COST $4,098,719,350

Estimates Based On Guesses As To Percentage Of Veterans Would Take Certificates

Washington.—There were just two developments in the soldiers' bonus muddle. One was the filing by Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee of the majority report of the compromise bill, which was estimated to cost the government a total of $4,098,719,350. The other was the circulation of a petition by Representative Lineberger of California, a former service man, for a conference of house republicans to discuss the bonus legislation.

Mr. Lineberger announces that there are sixty signatures to the petition, or ten more than the number required under the rules, for a conference call. He says, however, that he hopes it will not be necessary to present the petition to Representative Towner, chairman of the republican house committee. Its presentation, he adds, will depend on the outcome of the conference between house leaders and Speaker Gillett regarding procedure for the calling up of the bill on the floor.

If there is a decision at that conference to consider the bill under a suspension of the rules, Mr. Lineberger says, the petition will be presented. There is some speculation as to whether a formal conference would operate to delay consideration of the legislation. Chairman Fordney emphatically declares that it is still his determination to bring the bill up under a suspension of the rules, if that can be done, and, if not, to call it up under a special rule, if such a rule can be obtained.

Valera Launches New Irish Body

Dublin, Ireland.—Eamon de Valera has issued a manifesto launching a new Irish organization to be called the "Cumann Na Poblachta," or republican association, and has asked financial and moral support of it. According to the manifesto the new organization takes its stand on the proclamation of the Irish republic in Easter week, 1916, and its ratification in the declaration of independence of January, 1919. De Valera signed the manifesto himself.

Sultan of Egypt Proclaimed King

Cairo, Egypt.—The proclamation of the sultan, Ahmed Fuad Pasha, as king of Egypt, was accompanied by the firing of salvos of 101 guns in Cairo, Alexandria and Port Said, and of 21 guns in all the other provincial capitals. Field Marshal Viscount Allenby hitherto the British high commissioner, accompanied by members of his staff, called at the royal palace and congratulated King Fuad, whom he addressed as "Your Majesty."

Central Applies To Issue Certificates

Washington.—The Central of Georgia railroad applied to the interstate commerce commission recently for permission to issue $825,000 in equipment trust certificates The issue would bear interest at five and a half per cent and funds from its sale would be expended in the purchase of new rolling stock.

3 Women Sitting On Arbuckle Jury

San Francisco.—Attorneys for the state announce that they have accepted the jury as it stands for the third trial of Roscoe Arbuckle, film comedian on a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress. The jury contains three women.

Kennedy Shooting Case Is On Trial

Los Angeles, Calif.—Neither Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain nor Arthur C. Burch, her co-defendant, had anything to do with the shooting of J. Belton Kennedy, according to the burden of argument of Alfred F. MacDonald, defense attorney, at Mrs. Obenchain's trial on the charge of murdering Kennedy.

Alabama Woman Runs For Congress

Montgomery, Ala.—Secretary of State Cobb announces receipt of the declaration of Mrs. W. D. Edmondson of Decatur, Ala., to oppose Congressman Edward B. Alman for representative from the Eighth district. The declaration was filed under the corrupt practices act. Mrs. Edmondson is the first woman in Alabama to seek membership in congress, and the third woman to enter the Democratic primaries August 8. Dallas and Bibb counties have women candidates for the legislature.

20% Increase Is Asked By The Miners

New York.—Demands of the anthracite mine workers, including one for a twenty per cent increase in wages, have been presented to the mine owners, and when the workers' representatives finished outlining the nineteen an adjournment was taken. The operators are expected to make a response at once. The miners have no inkling as to what reply the operators will make. It is understood they plan to tell the union men that an increase in wages at this time is not in accord with the trend of the times.

FOUR KILLED IN TORNADO

Streets Are Littered With Bricks As Windstorm Sweeps Over Western Town

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Four persons were killed and 40 injured by a tornado which swept Sulphur, Okla., according to word received here.

Early reports declared that more than two hundred houses and buildings had been damaged and the streets were littered with bricks and other debris. The court house was badly damaged.

Telephone and telegraph communication was practically impossible, with miles of wire and poles leveled by the storm.

The disturbance swept from the part of Texas and was reported to be moving northeast from Sulphur.

The town of Sulphur has a population of three thousand, and is ninety miles from Oklahoma City.

Relief parties have been organized to search for any further victims of the storm.

Kahn Will Not Limit Shoals Hearings

Washington.—Hearings by the house military committee on the various proposals it has received for private development of the government properties at Muscle Shoals, Ala., will be continued indefinitely, Chairman Kahn announced that new witnesses would be called and all available information would be sought which would throw light upon the puzzling legal phases which have grown out of investigations of the war department Alabama Power company contract and option claimed by the power company for exclusive rights to purchase the Warrior steam plant.

Decision Stops Compensation Of Many

Washington.—Approximately 8,000 government employes, holding their positions by presidential order, are held to be not entitled to the benefits of the retirement act in an opinion rendered by Attorney General Daugherty and transmitted to the interior department, which administers the act. Secretary Fall, in announcing the opinion, said that out of 8,000 employes who have been retired under the act, 6,400 had been receiving compensation illegally, and that upon receipt of the attorney general's ruling an order was issued that no more certificates for payment be issued.

"Pay-As-You-Leave" Plan Is Adopted

Bend, Oregon.—That the "pay-as-you-leave" plan adopted here recently by two motion picture theaters is resulting in bigger houses and at least as large revenue as formerly was the declaration of J. B. Sparks, manager of the theaters. Many still pay at the old rate, a few pay less and practically none walk out without dropping some change in the box left at the door. It is optional with each patron how much he shall pay, or whether he pays at all.

Deficiency Money Bill Passes Senate

Washington.—The senate has passed the deficiency appropriation bill, carrying a total of $136,895,000 or $28,358,000 more than was appropriated by the measure as passed by the house. The principal amendment added by the senate was an appropriation of $27,468,000 for use in repayment of illegally collected taxes. The bill supplies an additional $73,714,000 for the use of the veterans' bureau in vocational rehabilitation of former service men.

Floating Liquor Palaces Are Planned

New York.—Plans for a floating liquor palace off New York beyond the three-mile limit, are going forward according to James V. Martin, the promoter, in spite of the announcement of Roy A. Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner, that the vessel will not be permitted. Furthermore, declares Martin, a second, and possibly a third, liquor palace will be constructed, should the first be successful.

Employed Cripples To Beg On Streets

New York.—Two crippled women, a little crippled boy and an armless man appeared in a Brooklyn court as witness against John Stefan, who admitted that he employed the four to beg for him. Their wages, he said, were $3 a day, board and liquor "when they wanted it." They agreed to give him all the money that tinkled into their tin cups.

Camp Benning, Ga., Gets $435,000

Washington.—With provisions which would necessitate reduction of the size of the regular army to 115,000 enlisted men and 11,000 officers, the army appropriation bill, carrying $270,363,030.37 was reported by the house appropriations committee. The amount recommended for the military and nonmilitary activities of the war department during the fiscal year is a reduction of $116,000,000 from the total appropriated for the current year and $87,996,086.80 less than budget estimates.

British Outposts Seething In Revolt

London.—A momentous week in British history ended with the flames of social and political revolt sweeping through three far distant quarters of the empire and an embittered domestic controversy in progress which, even in the face of this crisis, may drag down the Lloyd George ministry. Five grave issues developed to harass the already troubled administration of Lloyd George. In Ireland Republican forces broke from the control of the Free State and subjected Limerick to an approximate state of seige.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

6 BELL-ANS Hot water Sure Relief

BELL-ANS

25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

Liggett & Myers KING PIN PLUG TOBACCO Known as "that good kind" Try it—and you will know why

The youngster who asked his father why God hadn't given the zebra stars as well as stripes has a match in the little girl who wrote this description of the Ark:

"Overhead was a gorgeous rainbow and beneath it the little Ark rode proudly over the waters, with smoke pouring from her smokestack and the United States flag flying at the bow." —Boston Transcript.

NAME "BAYER" IS ON GENUINE ASPIRIN

Take Tablets Without Fear, If You See the Safety "Bayer Cross."

If you want the true, world-famous Aspirin, as prescribed by physicians for over twenty-one years, you must ask for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin."

The "Bayer Cross" is stamped on each tablet and appears on each package for your protection against imitations.—Advertisement.

Just the Boy for Papa.

"There is something," he said, "that I have wanted for a long time to tell you. I am not rich, as you know, but I am young, strong and willing to work. Miss Millyuns—Edith—I—"

"Oh!" she cried, "I will tell papa about you. I think I heard him say this morning that he wanted to hire an office boy with just the qualifications you mention."—Pittsburgh Press.

DYED HER SKIRT, DRESS, SWEATER AND DRAPERIES WITH "DIAMOND DYES"

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint her worn, shabby dresses, skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything, even if she has never dyed before. Buy "Diamond Dyes" no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is sure because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to spot, fade, streak or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.—advertisement.

Proof.

"I am a philosopher," admitted the gentleman whose frontispiece was as elongated and solemn as that of a rare old fiddle.

"What makes you think so?" we skeptically inquired.

"Because," he answered, "although I am aware that I am not appreciated it does not hurt my feelings in the least." —Kansas City Star.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher In Use for Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

True friendship will survive the telling of the same old anecdote over and over again.

Moral obligation binds men without promise or contract.

No Rubber but More Stretch in Nu-Way or EXCELLO RUBBERLESS SUSPENDERS —and a Year's Wear Guaranteed Ask Your Dealer If he hasn't them, send direct, giving dealer's name. Accept no substitute. Look for guarantee label and name on buckles.

Price 75c

Ask for Nu-Way Garters and Hose Supporters

Nu-Way Strech Suspender Co., Mfrs., Adrian, Mich.

FOR SALE—BARRED ROCK COCKERELS, pullets, hens. Eggs for hatching. Thompson's Ringlets, Suwannee Farms, Live Oak, Fla.

SMOKED FISH Choicest of fine food caught in salt water, smoked immediately and shipped to you, parcel post, direct from smoke house; generous supply for 50c. F. Noyes, Wulfert, Fla.

AT LAST SOMETHING EVERYBODY NEEDS.

WANTED—IMMEDIATELY, to do fancy work at home. terial furnished. Stamp brings particulars

WANTED TO BUY: ANTIQUES, JEWELRY, shawls, coverlets, silver, furniture, peafowl fans. Address BOX 139, RICHMOND, VA.

SINGLE COMB WHITE LEGHORN EGGS $1.25 Setting. Satisfaction Guar. Circular. Little Cypress P'ltry Fm., Little Cypress, Ky.

BEST SHOE SHOP

Bring your shoe work here for first class service at moderate prices.

Laces and polishes—In fact' everything for the shoe at bottom figures.

New and second hand shoes for men onlv at better prices than vou can get elsewhere.

NOTICE our Panco Soles, for men women and children. Guaranteed for the life of the shoes.

Heavy shoes for Farmers and outdoor work. Guaranteed to last 12 months. Any repairs needed during 12 months will be done free of charge.

The Best Shoe Shop

Listen!

Save Money!

Just received a brand new lot of Ladie's and Misses OXFORDS at pre-war prices, ranging from $2.75 to $4.50. Same shoes sold just one year ago at from $5.00 to $7.50.

Remember

We carry staple Dry Goods, Men's Suits, Hats, Caps, Shoes and Staple Groceries. See us before you buy.

Hugh Jones'

Cash Store

A. N. Miner W. J. Easterling

Miner & Easterling

Meat Market and Grocery Store

We wish to announce to the people who trade in Clanton that we have opened up our new Meat Market and Grocery Store in the building formerly occupied by G. C. Armstrong, and are prepared to sell you anything you may want in the way of Fresh Meats, Vegetables, Groceries and anything you want to eat.

Our service shall be the very best in town. Our policy will be to furnish our customers what they want when they want it.

We have a telephone in our store and will make a specialty of attending to any and all orders given us, making a delivery in the quickest possible time.

Your Trade Will Be Appreciated

Miner & Easterling

Clanton, Alabama.

Let Us Do Your Work

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce my candidacy for State Senator from the Fifteenth Senatorial District of Alabama, which is composed of the Counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held in August, 1922.

If elected to the Senate of Alabama, I shall support every measure, which proposes to reduce public expeses and thereby relieve the people of the State of some of the burdens of taxation. I shall support every measure, which will abolish useless and unnecessary offices, of which there are many. I shall oppose every measure which directly or indirectly exempts corporations from the payment of lawful taxes. I am not directly or indirectly connected with any corporation in Alabama, nor will I accept any place upon the pay rol of any corporation in this or any other state in the event of my nomination or election to the office of Senator. I am for Henry Ford first, last and all the time.

R. E. FITTS.

(Paid political advertisement by R. E Fitts, Stanton, Alabama.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner from the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on August 8.

H. E. ROBINSON.

(Paid political advertisement by H. E. Robinson.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8, 1922.

BOWEN L. JONES

(Paid political adv. by Bowen L. Jones, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid politicol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary August 8th. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

G. D. RETHERFORD.

(Paid political advertisement by G. D Retherford, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton County in the coming Democratic Primary election, to be held on August 8th, 1922.

C. REESE MULLINS.

(Paid political advertisement by C Reese Mullins, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SOLICITOR

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for Circuit Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

CECIL E. ALEXANDER.

(Paid political advertisement by Cec E. Alexander.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination as Circuit Judge of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, composing the 19th Judicial Circuit, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August 1922.

GEO. F. SMOOT.

(Paid political advertisement by Geo F. Smoot.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, on August 8th, 1922.

W. W. COBERN.

(Paid political advertisement by W. W. Cobern.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

We Want

Your Job Work

STRAND THEATRE is showing Feature Pictrres Every Day Except Monday.

The place where Friends meet.

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Circuit Court. In Equity.

Mrs. C. G. Deramus, Administratrix Complainant, vs. Arthur Tyus, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of G. C. Walker that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that his place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the beilef of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that publication be made in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him the said Arthur Tyus to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 22nd day of April, 1922, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office in Clanton, this 22nd day of March, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

3-23-4t.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8th.

THOS. M. PARRISH,

(Paid political advertisement by Thos. M. Parrish, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT SOLICITOR

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination as Circuit Solicitor for the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

VICTOR J. HEARD.

(Paid political adertisement by Victor J. Heard, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit composed of the counties of Chilton, Autauga and Elmore, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

B. K. McMORRIS.

(Paid political advertisement by B. K. McMorris, Wetumpka, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

W. T. Garner, Optomist.

Will locate here. He will be at the store of Mr. B. L. Jones every second and fourth Saturday and the Monday and Tuesday following. Anyone desiring him to call at their home drop him a card. Come and have your glasses fitted. All work guaranteed, and prices to suit the times.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF

THE BANK OF VERBEN

LOCATED AT VERBENA, ALABAMA,
AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

1. Loans and Discounts		$ 62
4. Other Bonds, Stocks and Warrants
5. Banking House		3
6. Furniture and Fixtures		1
8. (a) Currency	$ 5,954.00
(b) Gold	267.50
(c) Silver, Nickels and Pennies	933.49
Total		7
9. Due from Banks		14
13. Cash Items in Transit
14. Other Resources (Revenue Stamps)
Total		$ 89,

LIABILITIES:

1. Capital Stock Paid in		$ 15
2. Surplus Fund		1
3. Undivided Profits, less Expenses and Taxes paid		1
4. Reserve for Taxes and Interest
5. (a) Individual Deposits	$ 69,601.78
(d) Due to Banks	152.64
(f) Cashier's Checks	142.65
Total		69,
6. (b) Time Certificates		1,
Total		$ 89,

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, CHILTON COUNTY.

Before me came H. W. Davis, Cashier of Bank of Verbena, wl duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is true and actual condition of said Bank, as shown by the Books on file in said

H. W. DAVIS, Cashie

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 16th day of March, 192

R. G. CORNELIUS
Notary

ATTEST:
W. A. GULLEDGE,
S. L. GIBSON,
D. I. DERAMUS, Jr.
H. T. WILLIAMS,
H. B. OLIVER, Directors.

New City Garage

Just opened up. In the Honeycut & Thompson shop building.

All kinds of repair work done in Firs Class style and at short notice. New price on work cut donw to suit the times. Com and see.

MaddOx & Williams

Moved!

Into the new building of To Rocket, across the street i front of Court House. You patronage will be apprecsate Call on me when in need of any thing. One block of soda wi be given FREE with every doll cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are yo friends. Now listen. We have the large stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ev put on sale between Birmingham and Mon gomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMON BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Sol Leather. Times are hard now and we ha marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 · CLANTON, ALABAMA, MARCH 30, 1922. · NUMBER 29

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Round Dozen Entertained.

On last Wednesday Mrs. Geo. Polk was hostess at a spend-the-day party to the Round Dozen Sewing Club. At the noon hour the guests were invited into the dining room to a very elaborate dinner. After which the guests indulged in finger work and conversation. During the afternoon very appetizing drinks were served to the following: Mesdames, White, Barney Roberts, Clyde Jones, Armstrong, McSwain, Macy Jones, Hugh Simpson, Watts Moore, Alverson, Evan Parrish, Luckie and Marion Gore.

Thursday Embroidery Club Meets.

Mrs. Macy Jones was hostess to the Thursday Embroidery Club on last Thursday afternoon. After some time spent in doing needle work the hostess served a delicious salad plate and ice tea, assisted by Mrs. McSwain. The members of the Round Dozen Club were invited guests.

Bridge Club.

On last Friday afternoon Mrs. Eric Hart was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge Club. After several interesting games it was found that Mrs. Guy Higgins held the highest score and was presented with a deck of Congress Cards, after which the hostess served a delicious ice course.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McDavid and little son spent Saturday in Montgomery.

Mrs. Grady Reynolds spent last Wednesday in Birmingham shopping.

Mrs. Gerald was a visitor to Birmingham Thursday.

Mrs. Gilvey McKee and two little sons spent several days last week in Birmingham.

Mrs. Geo. Polk and two daughters, Corine and Alice, spent several days last week in Birmingham.

Mrs. W. W. Fox spent several days last week in Birmingham.

Circle No. 3 of the Methodist church will have a flower sale down town on April 13. So be sure to come out and buy your flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holmes and daughter Helen of Dothan spent several days last week here with relatives.

Mrs. J. P. Hayes and daughter, Katehrine, spent several days in Birmingham last week.

Mr. D. Y. Johnston spent Thursday in Birmingham.

Dr. and Mrs. Hosea Downs were visitors to Birmingham Monday.

Messrs Oscar Jones and Macy Jones spent Monday in Birmingham.

Mrs. Guy Higgins and daughter, Frances, spent Sunday in Deatsville.

Mrs. Blasingame returned home Sunday after spending some time in Marbury with her son, Mr. Sidney Blasingame.

Miss Mollie Hannon has returned home after spending several days in Birmingham.

Mrs. Clint Jones and little son returned to Ashville, N. C., last Thursday after spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Curry.

Mrs. Curry Thomas and Miss Emma Thomas spent Saturday in Montgomery.

Circle No. 2 will have a porch covering bazaar down town on April 13. Be sure to come out.

Mrs. V. C. Herndon and three children of Standing Rock, have returned home after spending several days with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. David Pearson.

HELP THE BALL TEAM

Mr. G. C. Polk and Mr. Albert Pyron were around this week soliciting funds to build a ball park and buy uniforms for the players.

This is Clanton's opportunity to again show how much patriotic pride she has and to stage the best advertising medium at the same time.

We know times are hard but Clanton has never backed up yet on financing public enterprises and we look for her to quietly and calmly put up the cash for the ball team. We hope they do at all events. We want a winning ball team this year.

Taking a Special Course.

Dr Arthur Johnson left Tuesday night for New Orleans where he goes to take a special course in the treatment of the eye, ear, nose and throat. He will be gone about four weeks.

Taking Post Graduate Course.

Dr H. M. Nix, of Maplesville, announces that he will be out of his office from April 4 to 11, taking a Post Graduate Course.

SUNDAY SCHOOL DISTRICT CONVENTION

There will be a session of the District Sunday School Convention convened at the Marbury Baptist church on Sunday, April the 9th.

All Sunday Schools are urged to send delegates.

W. T. JOHNSON, Sec'y.

MR. F. J. CALLEN PRESIDENT

The directors of the Peoples Savings Bank have elected Mr. F. J. Callen, son of the late lamented Mr. W. T. Callen, to succeed his father as president of that institution.

In our opinion that was a most wise selection and also a high compliment to young Mr. Callen, who has been with the bank for a number of years as assistant cashier. Under his management we confidently expect to see this financial institution maintain in the future, as it has in the past, its reputation for absolute safety and stablity. The News congratulates Mr. Callen on his success and the Board of Directors on thier wisdom in the choice of such an efficient and competent leader.

MARRIED THURSDAY

Last Thursday evening Mr. Thos. C, Foshee and Miss Ludie Mae Hand were happily married in Clanton, Rev. A. C. Wells being the officiating clergyman.

These young people are well known in this vicinity and have many friends who congratulate them.

PREACHING AT BAPTIST CHURCH TONIGHT

Dr. W. Y. Quisenberry of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board will preach to-night (Thursday) at the Baptist Church. He is a very interesting talker, and a good audience is requested to hear his address. The meeting will begin at 7:30, p. m.

P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

CONDENSED STATEMENT
of the condition of the

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA, MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$187,510.99
Overdrafts	2.46
United States Bonds	30,000.00
Other Bonds	10,100.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,361.14
Redemption Fund	1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank	1,100.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks	49,187.82
Total	$281,762.41

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	$ 30,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	9,340.29
Circulation	30,000.00
Deposits	212,422.12
Total	$281,762.41

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, CHILTON COUNTY.

I, Jno. C. Page, Cashier of the above-named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

JNO. C. PAGE, Cashier.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this the 13th day of March, 1922.

J. R. MULLINS, Notary Public.

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT:

Deposits March 10, 1920—$151,205.32

DEPOSITS MARCH 10, 1921—$167,759.83

Deposits March 10, 1922--$212,4 2.12

NOTE OUR GROWTH.

AN APPEAL TO BOYS

By the Editor.

It is a sad sight to we older people to helplessly look on and see our boys and young men carelessly traveling the road that experience has taught us has its inevitable ending in physical, moral and religious ruin. We older people know so well, by past experience and observation, where the pathway being traveled by many of our boys and young men leads. Some of us have traveled it in the years gone by to our everlasting sorrow and are paying the price demanded by Nature's laws day by day as we toil on towards the sunset of life. For some of us the shadows cast by the eternal going down of our sun are growing fearfully long and we realize that just a few more tomorrows and we will be no more.

How gladly would we point out to these young voyagers on life's journey the horrors and the eternal ruin, here and hereafter, that lurks just ahead of them on the road they are traveling, but, alas, the pitiful part of it is that they only laugh your admonitions to scorn and tell you that you are out of date they live and move in a modern age, that times and conditions have changed and that your ideas may have been all right in the fossilized years gone by, but in this fast era things are altogether different and that you need not worry, they know the game and will come out winners in the end.

How sad and pitiful is their condition! What a sorrowful picture they make to older men and women who have passed over the same road with perhaps the same heedless disregard to wise counsel, and are paying the penalty daily in, many instances, of transgressing these same immutable laws of Nature.

The hours we borrow in youth from Nature and squander in late revels and carousals at night, are spent with no thought of the future, when Nature will demand and collect her own. Don't ever get it in to your head, young man, that you can beat Nature out of one single second. You can't do it. You may go on for quite a while, burning the candle of life at both ends, but there is a rigid bookkeeper marking the hours you borrow and computing the compound interest on them from day to day, and as sure as you are a living being, you will pay it every second back with accumulated interest.

About the time you should be in the vigorous prime of life you will worder why those white hairs are begining to show in your temples. You will be shocked to notice some day that your step has lost its elasticity and your back is creaking like a rusty hinge. Why your memory is not true and active as of yore; and why the zest and joy of living has departed from your life.

Young man, this is not a dream picture, but is a truth as immutable as God Himself. Customs may change The booze you drink may be different, but it is only more deadly. The lacivious and seductive wiles of the devil that lure your soul to damnation may be done up in a different padkage, but the results are the same. The only difference is that your "fast age" has progressed more successfully in speeding up its vices than in any other way and, while we older follows could sometimes last out the game for several years, you will ripen in decay and drop off much more rapidly than we did.

How we do wish the young men and boys of today would profit by the experience of their fathers and mothers and begin their moral life where we older follows left off and thus shun the pitfalls that send them in to years of sorrow and affliction. If you would only see this, boys, how simple it would be to save yourselves from many a sad memory that will rise up and haunt you in after years. Many a scar on your heart that only the eternal sleep will heal. Many a blot on your soul that will stand between you and the path that leads to the pearly gates.

The older men and women are daily sign boards on life's highway. You have no excuse for missing the way except your own infatuated egotism.

UNITED SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY

A United Sunday School Rally is to be held next Sunday morning and afternoon at Clanton Baptist Church under the auspices of the Chilton County Sunday School Association, when all the schools of the various churches of Clanton, and it is hoped of the county, will gather to hear two great addresses by Mr. E.W. Halpenny, Superintendent of the Alabama Sunday School Association, and an international worker for the Adult Division throughout the U. S.

Mr. Helpenny comes to us thoroughly trained as a good speaker with wide experience in various parts of Canada and America.

The Sunday Schools of the city will meet as usual at their respective churches, and then gather at the church for the 11 a.m. hour and in the afternoon at 2 p.m. Those coming from a distance desiring to stay for the afternoon service are invited to bring a basket lunch, and coffee will be served free to all in the basement story of the building.

We are sure that this will be a really great occasion and of interest and profit to all who attend the services.

P. G. CARTER,
Chairman Ex. Committee,
Chilton County S. S. Assn.

BAXLEY WILL MAKE SPEECHES IN INTEREST OF FARMERS.

A. B. Baxley, of Blytheville, Ark., is in the county in the interest of the farmers. Mr. Baxley represents an organization known as United Farmers of America. This Association according to their records has done some very effective work in Arkansas. Mr. Baxley wants to tell you about it. He will visit practically every school house in the county. Hear him at:

Cano Creek—Friday night, Mar. 31.
Mineral Springs—Sat. night, Apr. 1.
Collins Chapel—Mon. night Apr. 3.
Union Grove—Tues. night Apr. 4.
Rocky Mt.—Wed. night April 5.
Oak Grove—Thurs. night Apr. 6.
Jackson Chapel—Fri. night Apr. 7.
Maple Springs—Sat. night Apr. 8.

FIELD DAY AND BASEBALL TOMORROW

All preparations have been made for the big field day tomorrow (Friday) on the High School campus. In the afternoon The High School baseball team will meet the Thorsby Institute team.

First and second prizes have been offered by the merchants of the town for each of the following events: Sack Race, Standing Broad Jump, 100 Yard Dash, Three Legged Race, Running Broad Jump, 220 Yard Dash, Hurdles, Tug O' War, Potato Race, Standing High Jump, Relay Race, Running High Jump, 440 Yard Dash; Wheelbarrow Race, Baseball Throw, and Pie Contest.

The exercises are free and you are cordially invited to attend. The morning program will begin at 10 o'clock. The game will be called at 3:00, p. m.

THE HUMAN FLY

Last Friday at 2:00 p. m., the party who goes through the country gathering up nickles by scaling tall brick walls, (with plenty of convenient window ledges built in,) went up against the Court House front and climbed out to the top in about 4 minutes.

Quite a crowd assembled to see the stunt, and they saw it. The "Human Fly" was not so spectacular as the name would indicate. There was nothing "fly" about him, not even his clothes, but he got by very nicely. With a taller wall and less windows and parapets he might pull off a real stunt—or break his neck.

Misses Julia Parrish, Martha Jane Mims, and Evie Jones left Monday to enter the Jacksonville, Ala. Normal School. These young teachers realize the importance of getting thoroughly trained for their profession in order that they may render efficient service for the communities where they labor next year.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

IF YOU READ
Magizines or Newspapers
I have them for you.
Subscriptions taken for any Newspaper or Magizine in print.
See me at the Alred Drug Co. Store. Evan Parrish.

Mr. W. L. Roper of Route 7, was here Monday.

How can it be done? Buying for cash and selling for cash, one price marked in plain figures. That is the answer to Elmore's lower prices for same money. Buy at the Big Easter Sale and save money.

E. W. Robinson left last Saturday for Jacksonville, where he expects to enter the Normal School for several months work. Mr. Robinson is a deserving young man who has been engaged in the teaching profession for one year.

James Raspberry made a flying visit to the Magic City Sunday.

Mr. Dave Norris, of Mt. Creek, an old time "buddie" of the editor, was up at the ball game last Friday in his car and came around and carried the editor and wife down to the game. These kind and considerate acts come as natural to Dave as getting his breath. Thank you, old boy.

P. F. Mitchell, of Verbena, was here Monday waiting on his many customers.

The first 50 customers at Elmore's Easter Sale Saturday morning will receive one 10 pound bag of best white granulated sugar for 59c.

Mrs. J. P. Hayes and little daughter, Cathrene, spent the week-end in Birmingham last week.

Mr. G. G. Wallace, of Meridian, Miss., was here Monday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Calloway.

Everybody wants to look their best on Easter morning. This being the case you had better visit Elmore's Big Spring Sale and dress yourself up. For ladies Ready-to-Wear and Millinery they can't be beat.

Elmore's 15 day Easter Sale, which starts Saturday morning, no doubt will be the biggest event of the season along the Sale line, coming at the time of year just when such lines as they carry are most in demand. Slippers, Dresses, Coat Suits, Piece Goods, and the biggest line of Millinery in town.

McD. Ruffin of Fairfield, who for many years was a citizen of Clanton, whom everybody always spoke of "as a good man," has been in Clanton this week associating with his many friends.

Our sincere friend, T. C. Gandy, of Route 3, was here last Saturday.

Rev. Millard Fillmore Lett, of Route 3, was here last Saturday.

Mr. Jesse Woodyard, of Birmingham, spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks here.

We are pleased to learn that Judge E. S. Lyman, of Montevallo, who has been confined to his bed for some time with Flu, is improving rapidly from this dreaded malady.

Rev. P. G. Carter, pastor of the Baptist church at Clanton, preached at the Baptist church Wednesday night.—Fayette Banner.

Mr. J. E. Moore, of the Bethsalem community, was in Clanton Friday.

Rev. J. H. Limbrick preached to a large congregation last Sunday at Cedar Grove church near Thorsby.

Mr. S. R. Powell, of Mt. Creek, was here last Friday attending the ball game.

Dr. H. F. Downs and wife went to Birmingham Monday, returning Tuesday.

Messrs H. G. Jeffries, G. M. Collum and Ray were in Clanton Tuesday.

Mr. G. T. Guy, his son Curtis, and his daughter, Miss Nora Guy, and Mrs. Marie Adams, of Mt. Creek, were here Friday.

Mr. Tom McDonald, of Marbury, was here last Friday taking in the ball game.

Mr. C. E. Wyatt, of Route 2, was among those who attended the ball game here last Friday.

Mr. A. M. Baker, of the Magic City, spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Baker.

Mr. J. B. Adams, of Cooper, was here Friday looking after business matters.

Rev. M. J. Parrish filled his regular appointment last Sunday at New Cedron church near Billingsley.

Mr. A. D. Mahan, of Randolph Route 1, was here the latter part of last week greeting his friends.

Mr. G. M. Fuqua, of the Metropolitan City, was here last Friday on a business mission

Dr. G. C. Roper, of Acmar, has been in Clanton for several days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Roper. The doctor was reared here and his many friends are glad to know that he is pushing on toward the goal of success.

Rev. C. D. Messer, of Thorsby Route 1, filled his regular appointment at Antioch church near Pletcher last Sunday. Rev. Messer has served churches in many parts of Chilton County and he is universally loved by his congregations and people in general.

The Big Spring Sale starts at Elmore's Saturday morning at 8 o'clock. Be there on time and share in many of the big bargains that's going to be on Sale.

Mr. S. B. DeLoach, of Route 2, was here Monday.

Subscribe for the Chilton County News $1.00 per year.

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Capital and Surplus, $65,000.00,

STATEMENT OF CONDITION
CLANTON, ALA.
AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH-10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$146,379.63
Overdrafts	846.82
United States Bonds	47,800.00
Real Estate	12,500.00
Banking House	2,700.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,727.25
CASH IN VAULT and IN BANKS	173,766.53
Total	$386,720.23

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	49,903.16
DEPOSITS	321,817.07
Total	$386,720.23

FROM THE PAGES OF HISTORY—and in 1901, Chilton County's first Bank was organized. This institution has weathered the storms for over TWENTY YEARS, and is known to-day by the citizens of Chilton County as the—

Old Reliable Peoples Savings Bank Since 1901

The Girl, a Horse and a Dog

By
FRANCIS LYNDE

Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons

BULLERTON AGAIN.

Synopsis. — Under his grandfather's will, Stanford Broughton, society idler, finds his share of the estate, valued at something like $440,000, lies in a "safe repository," latitude and longitude described, and that is all. It may be identified by the presence nearby of a brown-haired, blue-eyed girl, a piebald horse, and a dog with a split face, half black and half white. Stanford at first regards the bequest as a joke, but after consideration sets out to find his legacy. On his way to Denver Stanford hears from a fellow traveler, Charles Bullerton, a mining engineer, a story having to do with a flooded mine. He has a "hunch" this mine is the "safe repository" of the will. Bullerton refuses him information. On the station platform at Atropia, just as the train pulls out, Stanford sees what appear to be the identical horse and dog described in his grandfather's will. Impressed, he leaves the train at the next stop, Angels. Unable to secure a conveyance, Broughton seizes a track-inspection car and escapes, leaving the impression on the town marshal, Beasley, that he is demented. Pursued, he abandons the car, which is wrecked, and escapes on foot. In the darkness he is overtaken by the girl, the horse and the dog. After he explains his presence, she invites him to her home, at the Old Cinnabar mine. Broughton's hosts are Hiram Twombly, caretaker of the mine, and his daughter Jeanie. Stanford does not reveal his identity. Hiram and Stanford go puttering about the mine.

CHAPTER VII.

Honorable Scars.

If I had been what I had invited Jeanie Twombly to imagine me: merely an ordinary drifting tourist set afoot in the wilds by circumstances over which I had no control, my cue to be on my way the following morning couldn't have been delayed much beyond the appetizing breakfast to which I sat down a little after seven o'clock. But once I had reached the end of the rainbow, and had no intention of moving on before I could have my chance to dig for the pot of gold which is said to be the reward of successful rainbow chasers, I was casting about for an excuse to prolong my stay when Twombly, in accordance with the bit of talk which I had overheard in the loft chamber, took the matter out of my hands.

"When we was talkin' about autermobiles and such, las' night, you let on to me that you knowed something about machinery," was the way he began. "If you ain't in a tearin' hurry to be goin' somewheres, maybe I could get you to hang 'round for a spell and show me how to take a steam engine to pieces so 't I could clean it up and keep it from goin' to rack and ruin."

"With all the pleasure imaginable," I hastened to say, before he could have time to change his mind.

While the cerulean-eyed maiden was carrying the dishes out of the kitchen, the old man donned overalls and a jumper, and a few minutes later I was introduced to the mine—my mine, if you please—or rather to so much of it as was open to any visitor other than a submarine diver.

My heart went not in sympathy for good old Grandfather Jasper. The scoundrels who had done him up had not been content with merely selling him the gold brick; they had let him spend thousands more for the pumping machinery, after they, themselves, were well assured that he was merely throwing money away.

I asked Daddy what he wished to do with the machinery. He said he was afraid it might be rusting inside, standing unused so long, and he wanted to take it apart; especially the steam engine. So I told him how to begin, and he fell to work; but in just a few minutes his awkwardness with the tools gave me a fit of the willies.

"See here," I said; "if you've got another pair of overalls and a jumper—"

"Sure pop, I have," he admitted; and that was how I discovered my first real job of honest-to-goodness work.

We stuck at it until noon, disassembling, and scraping rust, and polishing and oiling, and incidentally finding the machinery in a great deal better condition than it had any right to be after standing idle for so long a time. Of course, I bunged my soft hands all up, and got as dirty as a pig, and all that; but that first forenoon is written down in my life as one of the most enjoyable I've ever known. And when Daddy Hiram called the noon halt, and we went across to the cabin to wash up for dinner, I was hungry. I think that forenoon measured about the only useful half-day's work I'd ever done; and the afternoon made it a full day. Say, people—it was great! For the first time in an idle, happy-go-lucky life I had a job with a concrete object in view, and a keen ambition to see it through. I was thirstily eager to get that machinery in shape and to start those old he-pumps, and this in spite of Daddy Hiram's repeated assurances that it "wouldn't do no good a-tall."

During a hard-working interval of two weeks a number of things had happened. One was a visit from the desperadoish-looking Angelican who had impressed me with the fact that he belonged to the Ancient and Honorable Order of the Silver Star. I'll have to tell about that visit, because it proved what a tremendously lucky thing it was for me that I had fallen among friends.

It was this way. On the second day of my stay in the bosom of the Twombly family I noticed that a battered surveying instrument—a transit which was probably a left-over from the time when the Cinnabar was a working proposition, with an engineer to figure out its dips and angles—had been moved from its place in the corner of the living room and was stood upon its three legs at a small, square window which looked out over the plateau-bench of the mountain to the southeastward.

Two mornings afterward I found out the why and wherefore of the old transit and its "set up," as an engineer would say. Daddy Hiram and I were standing with our backs to the hearth fire, waiting for breakfast to be put on the table, when Jeanie came in from the kitchen with a great stack of hot batter-cakes. As she darted out again after the coffee and bacon, she paused just a fraction of a second to put her eye to the telescope. I didn't see what kind of a signal it was that she passed to Daddy Hiram, but whatever its nature, it made him get action in a tearing hurry.

"Up into the loft with you, quick, Stannie!" he yipped at me; and as I went stumbling up the ladder in blind obedience I saw him hastily helping his daughter to remove my plate, knife and fork, spoon, coffee cup and chair; in other words, to obliterate swiftly and completely all signs of the presence of a third member of the family.

In a minute or so there was a gruff hail from somebody outdoors and Daddy got up to go and look out.

"Why, hello, Ike, you old geezer!" he called. "What under the shinin' sun fetches you up on old Cinnabar this early in the mornin'? 'Light down and come in; you're just in the nick o' time for breakfast."

While I was cudgeling my brain in a vain effort to recall what, if any, memory association there should be awakened in me by the mention of an "Ike" person, this particular Isaac presented himself at the cabin door and clumped in with the stiff-legged walk of a man who has ridden horseback far and hard. I knew then why I should have been able to dig that memory association. This was Mr. Isaac Beasley, my Angelic friend of the overgrown silver star and the unshaven countenance.

"Huh!" he grunted, "them griddlecakes shore do look mighty righteous to me! I been ridin' sense two hours afore sun-up; wild-goose chase clear over on t'other side o' Lost mountain. Couple o' prospectors blew into Angels day afore yistidday and said they'd seen that con-dummed lunatic that got loose from us and busted up a car f'r the railroad; them yoddleheads said they'd seen him workin' in the Lost Creek placers."

"Up in the Loft With You Quick, Stannie!" He Yipped at Me.

"A looney?" said Daddy Hiram, as innocent as a two-weeks-old lamb.

"Yep; that feller that stole an inspection car and got it smashed up and then took to the hills. You hain't seen anything of him, have ye?"

"Nary a lunatic," said Daddy Hiram calmly.

His breakfast eaten, Friend Isaac showed no disposition to hurry away—much to my chagrin. He took time to smoke a leisurely pipe with Daddy Hiram and to ask a lot of indifferent questions about the drowned mine.

"Hain't heard nothin' fr'm yer owners yit, have ye, Hiram?" he wanted to know, after—as it seemed to me—the subject had been pretty thoroughly talked to death.

I heard Daddy's reply, made as to one with whom the matter had been canvassed before.

"Nothin' but that clippin' from some newspaper back East, tellin' about Mr. Dudley's passin' out."

"Kind-a curious somebody don't tell ye somethin', ain't it?" the marshal put in. "Looks like the heirs 'd be either fishin' 'r cuttin' bait on this here Cinnabar layout—not as it'd do 'em any good if they did. Didn't any letter come with the newspaper piece?"

"Nary a pen-scratch."

"Whereabout was the envelope posted?"

"Washin'ton."

"Aha!" said I to myself, "I have you, Cousin Percy! For some reason best known to yourself you didn't want Daddy Hiram to get hold of Grandfather Jasper's proper address!"

His pipe smoked out, the marshal prepared to take horse. Daddy went with him to the far side of the dump and the murmur of their voices came to me in diminishing cadences. After a bit Daddy came back and called up to me in the sing-song of the miners after the final blast has been fired: "A-a-l-l over, Stannie. I reckon ye can come down now and get you some breakfast."

Jeanie served me in silence when I took my place at table and the good old man stood in the doorway, keeping watch, as I made no doubt, against a possible second-thought return of Friend Isaac, the bristle-bearded. Throughout the working day which followed he never made the slightest reference to the episode of the morning and, truly, I think the whole incident would have been buried in oblivion by those two simple-minded souls if I hadn't first spoken of it myself.

This I did in the evening of the same day, when Daddy had gone to make his entirely useless night round of the mine property. As on most evenings, Jeanie sat at her corner of the hearth, knitting, and I was filling a bedtime pipe.

"Jeanie," I broke out, "I wish you'd tell me why you and your father are so good to me. How do you know that I'm not the crazy criminal that other people believe me to be? I did steal the car and get it smashed, you know."

"You are not a criminal and I am sure you didn't mean to get the car smashed. Besides, you had taken shelter under our roof."

"You are true Bedouins," I laughed. "Is that the code in the West?—your code?—to defend anybody who has eaten salt with you?"

"I should think it would be anybody's code."

"You and your father were expecting this man Beasley to come here looking for me?"

"Daddy thought he might just happen along. We are only four miles from Atropia, you know."

"And was that the reason you put the old transit at the window?—so you might watch for him?"

"Of course."

By Jove! Another woman, any other woman in the world, I thought, would have let some little shred of sentiment show; she couldn't have helped it. But this one didn't. A boy couldn't have looked me in the eyes any more frankly and squarely than she did when she said "Of course." Since I had eaten their bread, I was, for so long as I chose to stay, a member of the clan.

It was near the end of the fortnight, and Daddy Hiram and I had scoured and rubbed and scraped and reassembled the engine and pumps, and were finishing the cleaning of the boilers. These were pretty badly rusted and scaled, and to do the job properly, we had taken the manhole heads out of the holes left to give access to the interior of the shells, and had had a good-natured squabble as to which of us should crawl inside to do the scraping; Daddy insisting upon doing it, because as he pointed out, he was the smaller man, and I arguing that I should because I was the younger and stronger.

To settle it finally we flipped a coin—one of those inch-wide copper pennies that Daddy carried for a pocket-piece—and I won the toss. The job wasn't exactly a picnic, but I got along all right until we came to the last of the battery. I found that the repairers had at some past time inserted a couple of extra stay-rods, so that there was little enough room left in the old steel shell for a professional boiler-monkey to wriggle about in, to say nothing of a husky young chap who tipped the beam at around a hundred and seventy pounds, stripped.

Just the same, I made shift to knock the worst of the scale off and rattle it down so that it could be washed out from below, and was backing out to make my escape, when I found that one of the extra stay-rods was loose. At my asking, Daddy screwed up the nut on the outside of the boiler head to tighten the rod, and then passed the wrench in to me so that I could screw up the nut on the inside. To this good day I don't know just what did happen, but I guess the big S-wrench must have slipped off the nut while I was pulling on it. Anyhow, something hit me a stunning crack over the eye, and I promptly faded out, blink, like a penny candle in a gust of wind.

When I came to myself again it was night, and I was lying undressed and in a real bed in a room that was totally unfamiliar. In the looking-glass which hung on the opposite wall I got a glimpse of myself with a regular Turk's turban of white stuff wound around my head and skew-angled to cover one eye. When I stirred, Jeanie popped in from somewhere to ask what she could do for me.

"What was it?" I asked; "an earthquake?"

"Daddy says you hit yourself with a wrench. Does it hurt much now?"

"Not more than having a sound tooth pulled; no. But I was inside the boiler, wasn't I? How did you manage to get me out?"

She turned her face away and even with one eye I could see that she was trying to hide a smile.

"It was funny," she confessed, "though we were both scared stiff at the time. Daddy called me and I ran over. You were all doubled up inside of the boiler, and there wasn't room for Daddy to crawl in and straighten you out. And unless you could be straightened out, we couldn't pull you out."

"I see. What did you do?—send for a boiler-monkey?"

"What is a boiler-monkey?"

"It isn't a 'what'; it's a man; usually the littlest man in the shop."

"I was the monkey," she said.

I tried to sit up, but the blinding headache I had somehow acquired said No.

"You crawled into that rusty old coffin?"

She nodded.

"Daddy lent me his overalls and jumper. It wasn't hard; but when I got in and saw how badly you were hurt . . . there wasn't anything to laugh at then. Daddy says you'll be apt to carry the scar as long as you live."

"Honorable scars," I muttered. "You straightened me around—I'll believe it if you say so—and then what?"

"Then I got out, and we pulled you out—Daddy and I. I was glad you didn't know; that you were past feeling things, I mean. We must have hurt you frightfully. I don't see how you ever crawled in through that little hole."

"It's much easier when you're alive," I offered.

"I'm going to bring you a cup of herb tea, and then I'll go and lie down for a while."

Since, as I afterward learned, the dose she gave me was some sort of home-brewed sleeping draft, I very nearly slept the clock round. Daddy came in and helped me into my clothes—they were eating their noon meal when I woke up and called—and apart from being still a bit headachey and tottery, I was all right again. But for two whole days they made me sit around and be waited on, hand and foot, and coddled and petted, those two; for their own flesh and blood they couldn't have done more.

CHAPTER VIII.

The Laboring Pumps.

On the third day after I had tried to brain myself in the old boiler I was pretty nearly as good as ever, and my two Good Samaritans reluctantly consented to my going back to work, Jeanie renewing the bandage on my broken head, and laying many injunctions upon Daddy Hiram to send me right back to the cabin if I didn't behave; "behaving," in her use of the word, meaning that I was to take it easy on the job.

That sounded mighty good to me, the way she said it. Most men, I fancy, are only overgrown children in the sense that they like to be fussed over by their womankind. Don't mistake me, please; I wasn't in love with her—then. Candidly, I don't think I knew what a real love was. But it was mighty pleasant to live in the same house with her, and to eat her delicious cooking; to be with her every day, and to have those undisturbed evening half-hours with her in front of the fire. If I had had to get out; or if there had been another man . . . but I won't anticipate.

In due time and after we had completely overhauled the rusted and gummed-up machinery, Daddy and I happened upon a day when we were ready to put fire under the boilers and we did it. If I should live to be a hundred years old, I shall never forget the tense, suppressed excitement that gripped me as we brought the wood for the furnaces that bright, hot, July morning. By eight o'clock we had ninety pounds of steam pressure on the boilers, but we held off until it had climbed to the regular working pressure of one hundred and twenty. Then I started the pumps; two big centrifugal suctions, mounted on a platform in the shaft mouth and so arranged that they could be lowered to follow the water level down—if it should go down; pumps that each threw a stream six inches in diameter.

After the pumps were started and the indicators showed, or seemed to show, that they were working up to full capacity, I rigged up a measuring gauge; a bit of wood for a float, with a string tied to it, and the string passing over a pulley in the shafthouse roof-beaming with a weight on the end of it. If the water level should go down, the float would sink with it, pulling the weight up. A smooth board, with feet, inches and fractions penciled on it, was stood up beside the weight to answer for a measuring scale.

At the end of the hour the float hadn't moved a hair's breadth; not a hundredth part of an inch, so far as we could see.

"I don't believe the pumps are working!" I exploded. "Surely they'd make some little difference in the level unless that shaft's got all the underground water in the world to back it up. Those indicators must be out of whack in some way. Where does the discharge water empty itself?"

Daddy knew this, too.

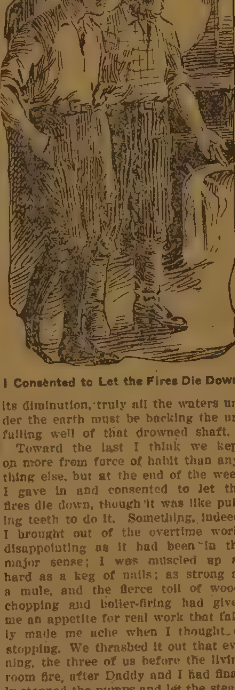
"Over in the left-hand gulch—into the creek."

"Show me," I directed.

We found the discharge from the pumps a little way below the end of the path; a ten-inch pipe which had been laid underground from the shaft-house, presumably to keep it from freezing in winter. The end of the pipe stuck out over the stream and it was projecting pretty nearly a solid ten-inch jet of water. The pumps were working all right; there was no doubt about that. I dug up enough of my college 'math to figure that two six-inch streams would just about fill a ten-inch pipe, and here it was, running full and pouring like another torrent into the gulch. So back we went to the mine buildings to pile more wood into the furnaces and to resume our watching of the indicator and its pencil-marked scale.

Noon caught up with us after a while—with nothing doing save that we were rapidly diminishing our woodpile. For a solid week we chopped down trees and split them up, Daddy and I, and kept the fires roaring under the boilers and kept those monster pumps whirring and grinding away at the shaft mouth—night and day, mind you; watch on and watch off. And, right straight through it all, that little indicator weight I had rigged up stood stock still; never moved the width of one of the pencil marks I had drawn on its gauge board.

By this time my stubbornness was yielding something to the still more stubborn fact. If all this pumping hadn't even started the flood toward its diminution, truly all the waters under the earth must be backing the unfailing well of that drowned shaft.



I Consented to Let the Fires Die Down.

Toward the last I think we kept on more from force of habit than anything else, but at the end of the week I gave in and consented to let the fires die down, though it was like pulling teeth to do it. Something, indeed, I brought out of the overtime work, disappointing as it had been—in the major sense; I was muscled up as hard as a keg of nails; as strong as a mule, and the fierce toil of wood-chopping and boiler-firing had given me an appetite for real work that fairly made me ache when I thought of stopping. We thrashed it out that evening, the three of us before the living room fire, after Daddy and I had finally stopped the pumps and let the steam run down.

"I reckon you hain't no call to take it so hard, Stannie," Daddy said, after I had growled and grouched like a bear with a sore head over our failure. "After all, you must ricollect that it ain't no skin off 'm you if the old Cinnabar stays right where she is and soaks till kingdom come."

"No skin off of me?" I yelped, with a sort of wild laugh. "Listen—both of you," and then I told them the entire heart-breaking story of Cousin Percy's letter and my grandfather's joke; of my starting out on the fantastic search for the girl, a horse and a dog—a search which would doubtless have failed before it had fairly begun if I hadn't happened to ride in a Pullman smoker with the man, Charles Bullerton.

I remembered afterward that I had got just that far—to the naming of Bullerton—when Barney, the pie-faced collie, got up from his corner of the hearth, stalked to the door and began to growl. The next minute we heard a horse's sh-r-r-, and Daddy Hiram rose, pushed the dog aside and opened the door. Then Jeanie and I, still sitting before the fire, heard him say gruffly: "Well, hello, Charley Bullerton! What in Sam Hill are you doin' up in this neck o' woods?"

I turned to look at Jeanie—and missed. In the moment when I had glanced aside she had vanished.

When Bullerton came in, which was after Daddy Hiram had lighted the lantern and shown him where to put his horse, he didn't seem half as much surprised to find me sitting before the Twombly house fire as I thought he might have been.

"Well, well!—look who's here!" he bantered. "How are you, Broughton? This old world isn't so infernally big as it might be, after all, is it? Who would have thought that our next meeting would be in such an out-of-the-way corner of the universe as this! I hope you've been well and chipper, all these weeks."

I said what I was obliged to, and wasn't any too confoundedly cordial about it, either, I guess.

Bullerton drew up a chair and began to talk, much as if we'd invited him to, about his hard-working year in South America; about the fabulously rich mines in that far-away Utopia of the gold-diggers; about his voyage up from the Isthmus; about the oddness of his meeting me on the train, combined with the more excruciating oddness of his meeting me again, here in the Eastern Timanyonis; things like that.

He was just comfortably surging along in the swing of it when a door opened behind us and he jumped up with another "Well, well, look who's here!" and when I turned, he was holding Jeanie's two hands in his and braying over her like a wild ass of the plains. And, if you'll believe me, that girl had gone and changed her dress! That is what she went to do when she slipped out and left me to stare at her empty chair, after she had heard her father say, "Well, hello, Charley Bullerton!"

It was all off with me from that time on. For what was left of the evening, Bullerton played a solo. I got full-up on the performance about nine o'clock, and climbed my ladder and went to bed, muffling my head in the blankets so that I wouldn't have to lie there and listen to the bagpipe drone of Bullerton's voice in the room below.

I hoped—without the least shadow of reason for the hope, of course—that the next morning would show me a hole in the atmosphere in the space that Bullerton had occupied. But there was no such luck. He was present at the breakfast table, as large as life and twice as talkative.

I made my escape from the cabin as soon as I could and tramped over to the mine. A glance into the shaft showed the black pool in its depths as placid and untroubled as if we hadn't just lifted a million or so cubic feet of water out of it by hard labor.

In morose discouragement I recalled the few things I had learned about drowned mines while I was knocking about in the Cripple Creek district trying to trace Bullerton. Particularly I remembered my talk with Hilton, the man who had finally put me upon what had proved to be the right track in the tracing job. He had talked quite freely. Sometimes the flood was only the tapping of an underground stream, as when one digs a well; in other cases—and these were most common in the Cripple Creek region—the source of the flood would be found in a buried lake or reservoir, large or not so large, as the luck might have it. If the source were a lake—so Hilton had said—there was little use in trying to pump the mine dry.

Mulling over these discouraging bits of information, I was naturally led back to the Pullman smoking-room talk with Bullerton. I remembered, with a sharp little flick of the memory whip, that he had given an expert opinion, which, as it seemed, he had backed up a year earlier with a thousand dollars of real money—the deposit in the Omaha bank made to cover my grandfather's bargain binder. What he had said was, "I'm reasonably certain that I discovered a way in which that mine can be drained at comparatively small expense."

Had he really discovered a way?—and with no better data than a study of the maps? Staring down at the black pool which Daddy and I hadn't been able to lower by so much as a fraction of an inch in a week's pumping, I doubted it.

I was stumbling out toward the engine room, with my head down and my hands in my pockets when I heard footsteps coming from the direction of the cabin beyond the dump. Looking out, I saw Bullerton sauntering over toward the shaft-house. Though I knew that some sort of a wrangle with him was inevitable, I was perfectly willing to postpone it, so I edged into the blacksmith shop and sat down on the anvil, hoping he might miss me and go away. But there was nothing coming to me on that bet.

"I saw your lead when you left the house," he began, after he had found me and had dusted off an empty dynamite box for a seat. "Don't you think you've played it rather low down on me?"

"How so?"

"By taking in my story of this mine when I told it to you without giving me a hint that you were the person most deeply interested—since my old gentleman was your grandfather."

"It didn't strike me that way, and it doesn't yet," I shot back. "I noticed you were mighty careful not to tell me the name of your old gentleman—or rather, I should say, you lied about it when I wired you."

"An ordinary business precaution," he chuckled. "But we needn't waste our time bickering over what might have been—and wasn't. I have a contract with your grandfather which is legally binding upon you as his heir to this particular piece of property—always provided you can prove that you are his heir. What I'm here to say is that I'm ready to carry out my part of the contract; to unwater this mine. What do you say?"

"How are you going to do it?"

"That, my young friend, is particularly my own affair."

I felt pretty scrappy that morning; there is no use in denying it.

"No, by Jove! I want you to marry me!"

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

United States Millionaires.

There are 20,000 millionaires in the United States, with a family population of 50,000, or one to each 2,100 units of the population, according to an analysis of the 1919 income tax returns.

YOU CAN'T MISS THIS!

TO BUY YOUR GROCERIES

We have the best assorted stock of goods in Central Alabama and if you have not looked thru our line of goods it will be money to you to do so, because we sell strictly for cash and therefore we can give you more for your money than if we did a credit business.

We have a nice line of staple groceries that we are going to sell regardless of the price, and here are a few of the many bargains that we have to offer:

Notice
Our Show Windows
NEXT
Saturday

	Regular Price	Sale Price
Kenpy's Special Blend Coffee, per pound,	25c	18c
Big 5 pound package Competition Coffee	" 1.25c	" 1.00
Peanut Butter	" 10c	" 08
"	" 15c.	" 12
Army Corned Beef, 2 lb can,	" 20c	" 15
Genuine Sock Eye Salmon, per can,	" 45c	35
Bank Salmon,	" 20c	12
Big Size Vienna Sausage	" 15c	" 12
Lippenscot Apple Jelly, per glass	" 20c	" 15
Thoma's Pork and Beans, per can	" 15c	" 12
Army Bacon 12 lb can	" 2.00c	1.75
Old Dutch Cleanser per can	" 15c	" 12
6 Packages of Soda,	1 for 5c	24
6 " Grandma's		" 25
Rice, 6c per pound.

Anything
For The
Kitchen

In addition to this, we have the sole agency of John Lucas Paint, which in the paint line, is a scientific perfection and any one buying paint from us we will guarantee perfect satisfaction or refund the money you paid us and also the price of the labor for putting the paint on.

We are behind you. John Lucas is behind us.

We also handle Reliance Aluminum ware, Greystone Enamel ware, and an assorted stock of Hardware, Furniture of all kinds, such as wood and iron bedsteads, chairs, dressers, washstands, rockers, davenports, porch furniture, rugs, art squares, bed sprinps, mattresses, blakets, cots and cot pads.

In the farming line we have plow collars, wagon collars, check lines, plow lines, bridles, collar pads, backbands, plow points, all kinds of plow clevises field and garden hoes, field and garden seeds.

The best always comes at the last and this time it is the wire fencing we handle. It is the Anthony fencing made by the American Steel and Wire Co. We have this wire from 28 inches to 60 inches high. If you havn't tried us come and look us over and we will appreciate your patronage.

W. W. FOX, THE AUCTION MAN

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A full line of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

To my friends and Customers

I Will be open next week with a full line of new and up-to-date Dry Goods, Shoes, Clothing and furnishing for the entire family.

I will occupy Baker & Taylor's present place

I will be glad to see all of my friends.

Formely of the New York Store.

My store will be known as the LEADER.

M. Lande

Mr. Tom Kemp, one of our leading merchants, went down to the Capital City last Friday.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Jordan, of Ensley, is the guest of Mrs. J. M. Willis this week.

STANTON NOTES

Miss Vivian Schurter left Wednesday for Livingston, where she will attend the State Normal School.

Mrs. S. J. Maddox of Riderwood, has been visiting Mrs. Sam Garner.

Mrs. W. H. Duncan and little daughter, Rosemond, returned to their home in Riderwood Tuesday, after a visit to Mrs. T. D. Parnell.

Mrs. W. C. Dyer spent the week-end in Marion with her daughter, Miss Lorene Dyer, who is a student at the Judson College this year. Mrs. Dyer also attended the W. M. U. State meeting there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dyer have recently visited Mrs. Dyer's mother, Mrs. Jessie Crotwell of Bessemer.

Mr. and Mrs. Linsley of Tennessee have returned to their rome, after spending several days with his sister, Mrs. J. D. Thrash.

Mr. Cannon of Marbury spent several days with Rev. and Mrs. Connell last week.

Misses Thelma Fitts and Mildred Schurter went to Selma Thursday, with the Plantersville basket ball team, where they played basket ball.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Davis are sorry to learn their little daughter, Marie, has been very ill.

Miss Mildred Kealey of Plantersville spent Tuesday night with Miss Mildred Schurter.

Mrs. Harry Gandy of Selma spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCarty.

Mr. John McCarty spent last Sunday week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCarty.

Mrs. S. C. Henry is visiting relatives in Jacksonville.

STANTON, NEWS

Our little city will soon have a modern up-to-date new school building. The building when completed will cost something like $10,000. It will be located on the east side of the Southern R. R. and facing the highway leading toward Clanton and also the Railroad. Already 5 3-4 acres of land have been deeded for this purpose and $7,000 raised on the proposed building. It is the purpose of the hustling citizens of Stanton and surrounding country to have the building completed before the fall term of school opens.

All the grades, including grammar grades, and also high school will be taught in our newly consolidated school. Several teachers will be used.

In the near future this district is going to hold an election to determine whether the 3-mill tax shall be levied for school purposes. From the present interest in education in Stanton and surrounding territory it is a foregone conclusion that the tax will carry by a large majority.

ISABELLA NEWS

Our school at Isabella closed Friday, March 17th, with a nicely prepared program, and well attended by patrons. Glad to see them show their appreciation to our force of teachers. J. D. Griffin, Principal; Miss Gussie Dennis, Second Assistant; Miss Nola D. Reynolds, Third; and Mrs. Jessie Harmon, Primary. As the time came for pupils and teachers to part, there was lots of tear filled eyes.

The play here by our teachers and young folks was carried to Fairview, March 16th. We thank those good people for their co-operation.

The wave of crime is reaching the rural districts as well as in the cities. Mr. W. T. White's store at Benson cross road was robbed Thursday night The loss could not be ascertained.

We had a few plough days this past week. The whistle of the plough boy could be heard. Potatoes were bedded and ribbon cane planted. The farmers are behind with their farming on account of rain, but the one that sends the rain will send sunshine in time to make a crop.

Mrs. Maud DeShazo has been critically ill but is slowly improving. Her friends will be grateful to see her out again with her cheerful smiles.

The friends of Mr. Callen are saddened to hear of his death, as Mr. and Mrs. Callen were occasional visitors to this community and church. We will miss him here and at his usual post, the Peoples Savings Bank.

Let us not forget we have preaching at Isabella church every first Sunday and Sunday night. Sunday school every Sunday at 3 p. m. Prayer meeting at 7:30, p. m.

Preaching at Mulberry every second Sunday and Saturday before. Sunday school at 10, a. m. every Sunday morning.

MEMBER COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

We take pleasure in announcing this week the name of Mrs. Lucie L. Parnell, of Maplesville, as a candidate for a Member of the County School Board, subject to the endorsement of the Democratic primary August 8.

(Paid political advertisement by Mrs. Lucie L. Parnell.)

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicken is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Money to Loan 3-4 of $100,000

I am in position to loan the above amount to farmers of Chilton County with which to Insure their property.

The Insurance contract is for five years and we Insure all your property against Fire, Lightening, and Wind Storms.

You pay one fifth cash and the other four fifths in four annual installments without interest.

This is an Old Line Company and Old Line rates. I also sell Old Line Life Insurance for one of the large Old Line Companies.

I also sell the old reliable Singer Machines on easy payments, and take old Machine in exchange.

C. Reese Mullins Agt.
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

We Do Job Printing.

Mrs. I. Rierson

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"I suffered for about eight months with nervous indigestion. and had several doctors to see me but found no relief until a friend suggested Dr. Pierce's Medicines. I was not able to sleep at night and could not eat, just lived on sweet milk and bread. I began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and took one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, with wonderful relief. I am now past 40, but feel just as I did at 19. I also gave the Discovery to my children, and now I am giving it to my grandchildren.

"You will always find a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in my home, and I will recommend it to anyone suffering from nervousness."—Mrs. Izie Rierson, 2415 Hege St.

You can quickly put yourself in A-1 condition by going to your druggist and obtaining Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablets or liquid, or write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for free advice.

"A God-sent Blessing" is what one mother writes of Mrs. Winslow's Syrup. Thousands of other mothers have found this safe, pleasant, effective remedy a boon when baby's little stomach is upset. For constipation, flatulency, colic and diarrhoea, there is nothing like

MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP

The Infants' and Children's Regulator

It is especially good at teething time. Complete formula on every label. Guaranteed free from narcotics, opiates, alcohol and all harmful ingredients.

At all Druggists

Write for free booklet of letters from grateful mothers.

ANGLO-AMERICAN DRUG CO.
215-217 Fulton St. New York

General Selling Agents:
Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Inc.,
New York, Toronto, London, Sydney

The worst thing about a bore is that it is almost impossible to insult him.

WORRIED HUSBANDS—READ THIS

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Is the Best Tonic for Nervous, Tired-Out Wives

Is your wife "all tired out" and cross and irritable much of the time? Do the children "bother her to death" every day, and do the ordinary household tasks that she formerly performed with ease seem now to overtax her? In other words, do you often come home to a house of trouble instead of a house of joy and happiness? If your answer is "yes" to these pointed questions, don't blame your wife until she has taken Gude's Pepto-Mangan with her meals for a few weeks. She is simply run-down and nervous and needs the kind of iron that she will get in Gude's Pepto-Mangan to give her more vitality and strength. For thirty years doctors have recommended Gude's Pepto-Mangan as a first-class building-up tonic. Sold by your druggist in both liquid and tablet form.—Advertisement.

That's Different.

"I heard the speech last night was extempore." "It was nothing of the kind; it was rotten."

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION 25 CENTS

6 BELL-ANS
Hot water
Sure Relief

BELL-ANS

25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

DROPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE

Short breathing relieved in a few hours; swelling reduced in a few days; regulates the liver, kidneys, stomach and heart; purifies the blood, strengthens the entire system. Write for Free Trial Treatment.

COLLUM DROPSY REMEDY CO., Dept. C.E., ATLANTA, GA

EYES HURT?

Don't ignore the danger signals of aching eyes, red lids, bloodshot eyeballs. Mitchell Eye Salve removes irritation, reduces inflammation, soothes pain.

HALL & RUCKEL
147 Waverly Pl., New York

PLAN OUTLINED FOR ORGANIZING CLUBS TO PROMOTE GARDEN WORK

Potomac Park Gardens Near Washington on June 30, 1920, on Land Where Clearing Began March 22.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The United States Department of Agriculture and the state colleges of agriculture are frequently asked for the best method of organizing for garden work. Among the most successful city, town and village organizations, those that are organized on a co-operative basis, including all branches of the local government, the citizens' associations, the merchants' and other business men's associations, also schools and churches, have proven most effective. In order, however, to centralize the direction of the work the United States Department of Agriculture advises that a special garden committee or governing board be appointed. Under the direction of this committee, or board, all matters pertaining to securing the use of land, the purchase of seeds, fertilizers, plants and other materials are handled and the general supervision of the garden work maintained.

Formation of Club.

Where the work has not already been started, the formation of the organization should be perfected before the garden season begins, and all arrangements for the use of land and the purchase of materials, consummated before they will be wanted. Someone, usually a public-spirited citizen, who can spare time for the work, should be appointed as director or chairman of the board. A membership fee of 50 cents to $1 is frequently paid by those who plant gardens and who receive benefit from the organization.

In some cases a special trained garden leader has been hired to give information and help to those who need it. Very often this supervisor has been employed for a few months only, but this type of supervision pays, provided the person employed understands his business. In most cases prizes have been offered by the merchants and business interests, first, for the best individual gardens, both in back yards and on vacant land, and, second, for the various products of the gardens. Usually an exhibit is held at some convenient time during the latter part of the garden season, and a contest between the gardeners is staged. These exhibits and contests have been of wonderful value in promoting a spirit of rivalry to produce the best. As a rule, however, the gardeners have considered the garden products as they came upon their home tables the greatest reward for their efforts.

Where a group of gardens is located on one piece of land it is often necessary to provide special means for financing the clearing, plowing and fitting the soil and later for policing the gardens to prevent losses, either from stray live stock or from theft. The fees collected from each gardener to cover these costs have varied in different instances from $1 to $5 per garden, but rarely more than $3. Any funds that are left in the treasury at the end of the season can be used for promoting the garden movement the following year or returned to the gardeners.

Success in organizing city, town or village garden work depends upon leadership, and the harmonious working together of all concerned. One of the most successful garden clubs of which there is record is governed by a board of nine directors who are elected annually by ballot. The directors elect a chairman, secretary and treasurer, who constitute the officers of the club. This club has been in existence for several years and has grown stronger in its organization each year.

The formation of clubs consisting of those who plant gardens in their back yards is a little more difficult and must include provision for rendering a distinct service to its members. This service may consist of the purchase of manure or fertilizers, plowing the back yards, and supplying early plants or seeds. The gardeners must be made to feel that they are getting something in return for their participation in the club and the payment of dues, otherwise little interest will be taken in the organization.

Co-Operative Spraying.

In a few instances the spraying of crops to control insects and diseases has been handled in a co-operative way, using power sprayers which go over the gardens at such stated intervals as may be necessary for good results. These power sprayers are simply driven into the alleys, and lines of hose discharging the spray mixture carried into the gardens. In this way effective spraying can be secured at a less cost than if the gardeners provided spray equipment to do the work themselves. There are numerous other ways in which back yard gardeners can secure benefits from organized efforts. The greatest opening, however, for active organization in the home garden line is among those who plan gardens on a community basis.

RECORD INVALUABLE IN ARRANGING WORK

It Is Often Means of Saving Labor Costs.

Farmer Enabled to Determine Number of Days Necessary to Produce an Acre of Any Crop, or for Care of Animals.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Keeping a record of farm labor does not require much time, yet it is often the means of saving labor costs. The United States Department of Agriculture has found such records of great value in the cases of many farmers whose experience has come to its notice. The labor records should show just how much man labor and team work is required on each crop and the season when it is used. They should show what proportion of the labor is devoted to work that directly produces income, and the amount that is consumed by odd jobs or indirectly productive tasks.

This will enable the farmer to determine the number of days of man labor and horse labor necessary to produce an acre of any crop, or for the care of any class of animals for a year. Thus he may be able to rearrange his system of management so that he can get along with less labor and, at the same time, maintain production.

A year's labor records show, also, just how much man power and horse power is necessary to run the entire farm at different seasons, and point out accurately just what are the requirements of the rush seasons. With such records before him, the farmer knows in advance approximately what his labor requirements will be when the peak load comes. Thus he is able to increase or decrease the different farm enterprises and fit them together until he has outlined a complete year's work with a fairly even load of labor for the entire season.

WAR EXPLOSIVES FOR ROADS

Trinitrotoluol Has Become One of Most Desirable Agencies for Construction Work.

Trinitrotoluol, one of the most efficient of war-time explosives, has become, by adaptation, one of the most desirable agencies for the peace-time task of road construction, according to reports received from many states by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. The use of this powerful explosive is becoming general throughout the Union wherever highways are under construction. Out of the surplus war materials turned over by the War Department to the Department of Agriculture and distributed by the bureau of public roads among the various states, approximately 20,000,000 pounds of T. N. T. has found its way to the road builders' supply houses. This is more than four times as much as the total of powder of all grades distributed by the department among the states.

The quantity of T. N. T. distributed up to September 15, among the states, was 19,613,295 pounds. In addition there has been distributed 1,798,988 pounds of blasting powder and 2,781,313 pounds of hand-grenade powder. Among other materials of this nature distributed among the states were 6,566 pounds of dynamite, 267,600 pounds picric acid, 938,409 detonators, 131,674 exploders, 75,098 electric blasting caps, 27,840 feet of fuse, 7,340 yards of detonating cord, and 198 tampers.

TRY NEW GARDEN VARIETIES

Excellent Plan to Test Out Recently Introduced Plants in Addition to Old Ones.

Most gardens are large enough to enable the gardener to try a few new varieties each spring. This is a good idea. It is hardly safe, nor is it true generally, that the old, tried varieties are the best that can be had. There are many new varieties being introduced every year and why not test out a few in addition to the old favorites

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

SundaySchool Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR APRIL 2

ASA RELIES ON GOD

LESSON TEXT—II Chronicles 14:1-12.

GOLDEN TEXT—Help us, O Lord our God; for we rest on Thee.—II Chron. 14:11.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—II Chron. 14:13-16; Isa. 41:10-13.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A King Who Trusted God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—God Helping Asa.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Ruler Who Relied on God.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Source of Personal and National Power.

I. Asa's Reformation (vv. 1-5).

Asa was the grandson of Rehoboam. Both his grandfather and father favored idolatry, but in spite of this record of his ancestors, Asa had a will of his own, and though young when he came to the throne, inaugurated a campaign of reform which brought great good. He not only had the handicap of the idolatry and immortality fostered by the two former kings, but he had to contend against the influence of his mother who had encouraged immoral worship (I Kings 15:13). In order to carry out his reformatory measures he had to wrest authority from her by deposing her. Asa did that which was good and right in the eyes of the Lord (v. 2).

1. Cleared the land of idolatrous emblems and images (vv. 3, 5). (1) Strange altars. These were the altars devoted to other gods. (2) High places. These were places where unlawful sacrifices were offered. (3) Broke down the images. These were upright stones connected with idolatrous worship. (4) Cut down the groves. These were trees or poles connected with tree worship. He had all these relics of idolatry destroyed in Jerusalem and other cities through out his kingdom.

2. Commanded Judah to seek the Lord (v. 4). He knew that if the reformation was to be effective it must be by the positive seeking after and worshiping of God, accompanied by obedience to His commandments. Destructive work avails little unless followed by constructive.

II. Asa's Defensive Preparations (vv. 6-8).

1. Built fortified cities (v. 6). The cities are not named, but the meaning, doubtless, is that it was a general system of defense which involved the cities at strategic points.

2. He erected walls about the cities (v. 7). These were usually of stone. Upon the walls were observation towers from which the position and movements of the enemy could be seen, and from which defensive warfare could be waged.

3. Made gates and barred them (v. 7). The reason he assigns for these defensive preparations was that they had sought the Lord God. Those who really trust God will make every effort to provide defense.

4. Had an army of spearmen (v. 8). These spearmen were also protected with large shields. The army was made up of 480,000 brave men. They were prepared to wage an offensive as well as a defensive war.

III. Asa's Victory Over Zerah, the Ethiopian (vv. 9-12).

1. Asa set the battle in array (v. 10). He went out to meet the enemy. He first made a disposition of his means of defense. This was wisdom on his part. Intelligent faith moves the possessor to do first that which is within his power.

2. Asa's prayer (vv. 11, 12). He cried unto the Lord. He sought the source of national power. In this prayer note (1) his conscious helplessness. As he faced the Egyptian army two to one against him, he was clearly conscious of his impotency. The first requisite in obtaining help from God is conscious weakness. The Christian conquers not by self-reliance, but by self-distrust and faith in God. (2) Appeals to God for help. He knew that though they were helpless before the mighty enemy, with God's help they could win the victory. One man with God is a majority. (3) Reposes faith in God. The word "rest" means to lean upon—to cast the entire weight upon. In the measure that we realize our need of support will we lean hard upon God. (4) Advanced courageously. He went forth depending upon God to fight for him. Real faith does not wait until it sees its way clear, but goes forth expecting God to clear the way. (5) Flung himself upon God's arms. "O Lord, thou art our God." His cause was God's cause. If God has taken us for His people, and if we have taken Him for our God, no enemy can prevail against us. May we experimentally say, "Thou art my God," and hear Him say, "I am thy God!"

3. The Egyptians smitten (v. 12). The enemy fled before Israel and could not recover themselves.

Love, Faith and Hope.

A little love from day to day, and strength enough to preach it; a glimpse of heaven along the way. And faith and hope to reach it.

Console Thyself.

If thou suffer injustice, console thyself, the true unhappiness is in doing it.—Democritus.

Mistake Gold for Good.

Misers mistake gold for good, whereas it is only a means of obtaining it.—Rochefoucauld.

SAYS CALOMEL SALIVATES AND LOOSENS TEETH

The Very Next Dose of This Treacherous Drug May Start Trouble.

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Advertisement.

Where Did He Get It.

Two men had just passed by the porch where a young man and his best girl were enjoying the porch swing. Spoke one:

"That couple certainly lend color to their surroundings—she with red cheeks—"

"Yes, but artificial," interrupted the other.

"And he with a red nose," continued the first.

"Yes," was the supplemental remark, "that's genuine." — Houston Post.

A Feeling of Security

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs.

Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

The same standard of purity, strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root.

It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for everything.

It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to try this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

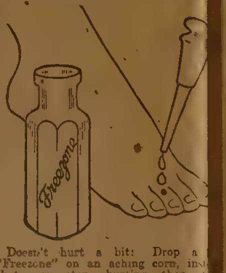
The Hopeless Search.

Every once in a while we read of a man living in poverty falling heir to millions. And every time we read that sort of news item we scan the horizon of our family sky in the hope of finding some distant relative who might some day do that thing for us, but always with the same result. If there are any millionaires in our family we haven't located them.

Some men are of no more consequence than a thermometer on a pleasant day.

CORNS

Lift Off with Finge



Doesn't hurt a bit: Drop a "Freezone" on an aching corn, ins that corn stops hurting, then sh you lift it right off with fingers. T

Your druggist sells a tiny bott "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficie remove every hard corn, soft cor corn between the toes, and the cal without soreness or irritation.

DID PAIN DISTUR YOUR SLEE

THE pain and torture of r matism can be quickly reli by an application of Sl Liniment. It brings warmth, ease comfort and lets you sleep soundly

Always have a bottle handy apply when you feel the first twin It penetrates without rubbing.

It's splendid to take the pain ou tired, aching muscles, sprains strains, stiff joints, and lame b

For forty years pain's enemy. your neighbor.

At all druggists—35c, 70c, $1.

Sloan's Liniment

TOO LATE

Death only a matter of short ti Don't wait until pains and ac become incurable diseases. A painful consequences by taking

GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kid liver, bladder and uric acid troubles National Remedy of Holland since Three sizes, all druggists.

Look for the name Gold Medal on every and accept no imitation

SAWS

For Fordson and up to 25M ft. They hold their teeth, an and frozen timber. Use only a file, for we keep the blad 1 year free. We can arrange terms. Saw pays YOU as YO Three men are cutting 4M to 6M or 200 to 300 ties per Fordson, clearing $35 to $60 per day, as the sawyer is the c

CUT YOUR NEIGHBORS' TIMBER ON SHARES

Three Electric Factories, a 24-hour service, any saw (except burned), returned same or next day, made into same All repairs GUARANTEED, when we put saw in order

Miner's latest Book or a Fordson STEEL Guide with $75 and up. 40 years in the business, ask your banker or any ful millman. Book on Hammering, $2.50, Guide, $5.00.

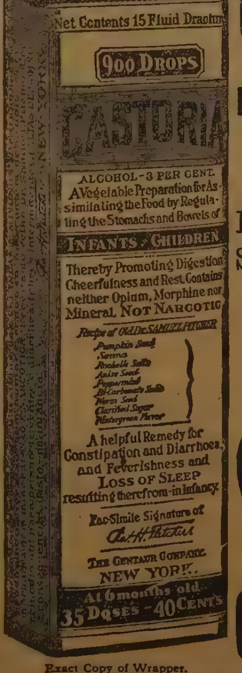
J. H. MINER SAW MFG. CO.,

MERIDIAN, MISS. COLUMBIA, S. C. SHREVEPO

ROCKY FORD CANTALOUPE SEED. LINE. I make a specialty of growin grade cantaloupe seed. Write for pri O. W. WEST, ROCKY FORD, CO

SMOKED FISH

Choicest of fine food caught in salt smoked immediately and shipped parcel post, direct from smoke house. ous supply for 60c. F. Noyes, Wulfert



Net Contents 15 Fluid Drachm
900 DROPS
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL-3 PER CENT.
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food by Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN
Thereby Promoting Digestion Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC
A helpful Remedy for Constipation and Diarrhoea, and Feverishness and Loss of Sleep resulting therefrom in Infancy.
Fac-Simile Signature of
THE CENTAUR COMPANY.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 Doses - 40 Cents

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORI

For Infants and Children.

Mothers Know Tha Genuine Castoria

Always Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

I

Us

For Ove Thirty Year

CASTORI

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

BEST SHOE SHOP

Bring your shoe work here for first class service at moderate prices.

Laces and polishes—In fact' everything for the shoe at bottom figures.

New and second hand shoes for men only at better prices than you can get elsewhere.

NOTICE our Panco Soles, for men women and children. Guaranteed for the life of the shoes.

Heavy shoes for Farmers and outdoor work. Guaranteed to last 12 months. Any repairs needed during 12 months will be done free of charge.

The Best Shoe Shop

Listen!

Save Money!

Just received a brand new lot of Ladie's and Misses OXFORDS at pre-war prices, ranging from $2.75 to $4.50. Same shoes sold just one year ago at from $5.00 to $7.50.

Remember

We carry staple Dry Goods, Men's Suits, Hats, Caps, Shoes and Staple Groceries. See us before you buy.

Hugh Jones'

Cash Store

A. N. Miner W. J. Easterling

Miner & Easterling

Meat Market and Grocery Store

We wish to announce to the people who trade in Clanton that we have opened up our new Meat Market and Grocery Store in the building formerly occupied by G. C. Armstrong, and are prepared to sell you anything you may want in the way of Fresh Meats, Vegetables, Groceries and anything you want to eat.

Our service shall be the very best in town. Our policy will be to furnish our customers what they want when they want it.

We have a telephone in our store and will make a specialty of attending to any and all orders given us, making a delivery in the quickest possible time.

Your Trade Will Be Appreciated

Miner & Easterling

Clanton, Alabama.

---

et Us Do Your Work

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce my candidacy for State Senator from the Fifteenth Senatorial District of Alabama, which is composed of the Counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held in August, 1922.

If elected to the Senate of Alabama, I shall support every measure, which proposes to reduce public expeses and thereby relieve the people of the State of some of the burdens of taxation. I shall support every measure, which will abolish useless and unnecessary offices, of which there are many. I shall oppose every measure which directly or indirectly exempts corporations from the payment of lawful taxes. I am not directly or indirectly connected with any corporation in Alabama, nor will I accept any place upon the pay roll of any corporation in this or any other state in the event of my nomination or election to the office of Senator. I am for Henry Ford first, last and all the time.

R. E. FITTS.

(Paid political advertisement by R. E Fitts, Stanton, Alabama.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner from the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on August 8.

H. E. ROBINSON.

(Paid political advertisement by H. E. Robinson.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8, 1922.

BOWEN L. JONES

(Paid political adv. by Bowen L Jones, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid politicol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary August 8th. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

G. D. RETHERFORD.

(Paid political advertisement by G. D. Retherford, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton County in the coming Democratic Primary election, to be held on August 8th, 1922.

C. REESE MULLINS.

(Paid political advertisement by C. Reese Mullins, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SOLICITOR

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for Circuit Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

CECIL E. ALEXANDER.

(Paid political advertisement by Cecil E. Alexander.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination as Circuit Judge of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, composing the 19th Judicial Circuit, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August 1922.

GEO. F. SMOOT.

(Paid political advertisement by Geo. F. Smoot.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, on August 8th, 1922.

W. W. COBERN.

(Paid political advertisement by W. W. Cobern.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

We Want

Your Job Work

STRAND THEATRE is showing Feature Pictrres Every Day Except Monday.

The place where Friends meet.

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Circuit Court. In Equity.

Mrs. C. G. Deramus, Administratrix Complainant, vs. Arthur Tyus, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of G. C. Walker that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that his place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that publication be made in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him the said Arthur Tyus to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 22nd day of April, 1922, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office in Clanton, this 22nd day of March, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

3-23-4t.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8th.

THOS. M. PARRISH,

(Paid political advertisement by Thos. M. Parrish, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT SOLICITOR

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination as Circuit Solicitor for the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

VICTOR J. HEARD.

(Paid political adertisement by Victor J. Heard, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit composed of the counties of Chilton, Autauga and Elmore, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

B. K. McMORRIS.

(Paid political advertisement by B. K. McMorris, Wetumpka, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

W. T. Garner, Optomist.

Will locate here. He will be at the store of Mr. B. L. Jones every second and fourth Saturday and the Monday and Tuesday following. Anyone desiring him to call at their home drop him a card. Come and have your glasses fitted. All work guaranteed, and prices to suit the times.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF

THE BANK OF VERBENA

LOCATED AT VERBENA, ALABAMA,
AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

1. Loans and Discounts		$ 62,244.60
4. Other Bonds, Stocks and Warrants		930.00
5. Banking House		3,200.00
6. Furniture and Fixtures		1,000.00
8. (a) Currency	$ 5,954.00
(b) Gold	267.50
(c) Silver, Nickels and Pennies	933.49
Total		7,154.99
9. Due from Banks		14,674.76
13. Cash Items in Transit		377.07
14. Other Resources (Revenue Stamps)		20.00
Total		$ 89,601.42

LIABILITIES:

1. Capital Stock Paid in		$ 15,000.00
2. Surplus Fund		1,200.00
3. Undivided Profits, less Expenses and Taxes paid		1,521.78
4. Reserve for Taxes and Interest		82.57
5. (a) Individual Deposits	$ 69,601.78
(d) Due to Banks	152.64
(f) Cashier's Checks	142.65
Total		69,897.07
6. (b) Time Certificates		1,900.00
Total		$ 89,601.42

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, CHILTON COUNTY.

Before me came H. W. Davis, Cashier of Bank of Verbena, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is true and gives the actual condition of said Bank, as shown by the Books on file in said Bank.

H. W. DAVIS, Cashier.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 16th day of March, 1922.

R. G. CORNELIUS,
Notary Public.

ATTEST:
W. A. GULLEDGE,
S. L. GIBSON,
D. I. DERAMUS, Jr.
H. T. WILLIAMS,
H. B. OLIVER, Directors.

New City Garage

Just opened up. In the Honeycut & Thompson shop building.

All kinds of repair work done in First Class style and at short notice. New prices on work cut donw to suit the times. Come and see.

MaddOx & Williams

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit its continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

The Leader

Clanton New Dry goods Store will be open Saturday
With a new and complete line of Dry Goods, Shoes, Men's and Boy's Suits, Ladies and children dresses and Ready-to-wear
M. LANDE
BAKER & TAYLOR OLD STAND

(Advertisement.)

REPORTS OF STATE EXAMINERS ON THE FINANCIAL AFFAIRS OF CHILTON COUNTY

PREDICTION IS MADE THAT COUNTY WILL SOON BE OUT OF DEBT IF PRESENT ECONOMICAL POLICIES ARE CONTINUED IN CONDUCT OF BUSINESS BY COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

If there are any citizens of Chilton county, Democrats or Republicans, who have any question in their minds as to the conduct of the affairs of the county by the Probate Judge and Commissioners Court during the past few years, it might be of interest to them to know what has been said by the State Examiners who have been sent here by the Governor to check up the records of these officers.

Reports on Judge Reynolds.

The following report was made by State Examiner L. A. Easterly, on Jan. 27, 1920, being his findings of conditions in the Probate office covering the period from Dec. 1st, 1917, to Nov. 30, 1919:

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 27th, 1920.

Hon. Thos. E. Kilby,
Governor of Alabama,
Montgomery, Alabama.

Dear Sir:—In obedience to instructions received from Judge C. E. McCall, Chief Examiner of Accts., State Alabama, I have examined the books, accounts and vouchers of Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of Chilton County from the 1st day of December 1917 to the 30th day of November, 1919.

I find that Judge Reynolds has kept his books and accounts in a remarkably correct manner and that he has promptly remitted all money collected by him for the State and the county, having only made a few errors in his remittances and those errors were against himself and in favor of the State and county.

As Judge of the County Court of Chilton County I have found that he has been diligent not only in trying to eforce the laws of the State but has collected and paid into the County Treasury all moneys imposed as fines and costs against defendants tried in his Court.

A statement marked "Exhibit A" is hereto attached which shows his collections and remittances to the State on account of privilege license, Mortgage Privilege Tax, Motor Vehicle Tax, Charter Fees of Domestic Corporations, Hunters License and redemption of lands, which is made a part of this report. He remitted to the State, $15.30 more than he collected on account of privilege taxes during this period and did not remit the amount of 92 cents on the Motor Vehicle License, this leaves the State due Judge Reynolds the amount of $14.38.

A statement marked "Exhibit B" is hereto attached which shows his collection and remittances to the County on account of privilege license, Mortgage Privilege Tax, Motor License and redemption of land, he is due the County $1.01 on account of privilege license, but overpaid the County $7.60 on account of Mortgage Taxes, this leaves the County due Judge Reynolds the amount of $6.59.

A statement marked "Exhibit C" is hereto attached which shows his collections and remittances on account of the County Court which shows his collections and remittances on account of the County Court, which statement is made a part of this report, this statement shows that Judge Reynolds has overpaid the county $5.25 on account of Court Costs collected and remitted. The County Court of Chilton is proving itself to be valuable as an asset to the County Treasury.

A statement marked "Exhibit D" is hereto attached which shows his collections and remittances on account of road taxes and wagon taxes collected during the year of 1918, this statement is made a part of this report. Judge Reynolds is due the County $1.00 because of an error in substraction of his commissions on the road taxes collected for the month of July, 1918. Both these taxes were abolished by the Commissioners Court and have not been collected since the close of the year 1918, while these taxes were levied and collected they were the source of considerable revenue for the public roads of the County but were abolished because of their unpopularity with the people of the County.

I have examined Judge Reynolds record as hard labor agent of Chilton County and find he has promptly paid into the County Treasury all moneys collected from account of convicts sentenced to hard labor for Chilton County.

I have examined Judge Reynolds' collections and remittances of Motor Vehicle tax to the cities of Clanton, Maplesville, Jemison, and Thorsby, towns located in Chilton County and find that he has made the remittances to those towns promptly and regularly as shown by receipts on file in his office, but I prepared no detailed statement of the collections and remittances of this account, satisfying myself that the remittances had been made in accordance with the law.

Judge Reynolds rendered me much courteous assistance in the course of my stay in Clanton and my examination of his books and those of the other officers of Chilton County.

Respectfully submitted,
L. A. EASTERLY, Examiner.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this the 28th day of January, 1920.
M. D. FOSHEE,
Clerk Circuit Court.

The following is the report of State Examiner Frank Peabody, made to the Governor on March 17th, 1922, which takes up the affairs of the Probate office where Mr. Easterly left off on the report above, Dec. 1st, 1919, and covers the period from that date up to January 31st of this year:

Clanton, Ala., March 17th, 1922.

Hon. Thos. E. Kilby,
Governor of Alabama,
Montgomery, Ala.

Dear Sir:—In obedience to instructions received from the Executive Office thru Hon. Chas. E. McCall, Chief Examiner of accounts, State of Alabama, and in compliance with same, I hereby certify that I have examined the books, accounts and vouchers of Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate, Chilton County, from December 1st, 1919, to January 31, 1922, and beg to submit the following report:

I found all the reports in this office to be neat, and correctly kept, it being quite a noticeable fact, the very few errors that have been made in the posting of the books. I had two or three corrections to make, of a minor nature, and after this was done, I found that in his settlements with the State, the Judge has overpaid on Mortgage Tax $15.29, and owes the State 20 cents on Motor Vehicle License, leaving a balance of $15.09 due Judge Reynolds.

In his settlements with the county, I found the Judge had overpaid on Privilege License, 10 cents and Mortgage Tax $7.62, making a total of $7.72 due Judge Reynolds.

All remittances to the State and County were made promptly each month in compliance with the law, and I have no suggestion to make that will help in the conduct of this office.

In the settlements with Incorporated Towns for Motor Vehicle License due them, all have been paid, but I found that Judge Reynolds was holding $77.50 due the Town of Maplesville because there is no regularly elected Mayor or Clerk to receipt him for the money.

The Judge is pursuing the proper course in this matter, the town is incorporated, but has no officials, and the Judge in issuing Privilege License does so on that basis.

I further certify that a copy of this report has been mailed to Hon. B. K. McMorris, Judge of the 4th Judicial Circuit, Wetumpka, Ala.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK PEABODY,
Asst. Examiner of Accounts.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of March, 1922.

REPORTS ON COMMISSIONERS COURT

The following is the report of State Examiner L. A. Easterly, made to the Governor of Alabama on Jan. 27, 1920, covering the affairs of the Commissioners Court from Dec. 1, 1917, to December 31, 1919:

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 27, 1920.

Hon. Thos. E. Kilby,
Governor of Alabama,
Montgomery, Alabama.

Dear Sir:—In obedience to instructions received from Hon. Chas. E. McCall, Chief Examiner of accounts, State of Alabama, I have examined the books, accounts and vouchers of the Commissioners Court of Chilton County from Demember 1st, 1917, to December 31st, 1919.

I find that the Commissioners Court of Chilton County has adhered strictly to the rules laid down in section 147 of the Code as to the payment or allowance of claims against the County as all claims allowed during this period covered by this examination were itemized and sworn to in accordance with the provisions of that section and I found that no claims had been passed and allowed which were illegal but all were found to be proper charges against the county for materials furnished the county or for work done for the County.

I find the indebtedness of Chilton Couty to be as follows as shown by the register of claims of Chilton County:

Bonds, issued June 1, 1917, due June 1st, 1947, bearing interest at the rate of 5% per annum....	$190,000.00
Road Warrants issued previous to 1917 bearing interest at the rate of 6% per annum	31,000.00
Warrants issued to rebuild Court House and for Tick Eradication, 1919	40,948.74
Total	$261,948.74

The assessment of real and personal property for Chilton County for the year 1919 totals $6,004,918, which would permit a debt limit for the County of $210,171.95, which being deducted from the indebtedness of the County, December, 31, 1919, would show an excess indebtedness of $51,177.79, but on January 1st, 1920, after the Tax Collector made his December payments to the County Treasurer, there was in the County Treasury the sum of $34,132.39, and there still remains on the Tax Collectors Books more than $9,000.00 of uncollected taxes which will give the County when collected and paid in $43,132.39, in cash and pay its expense for the year 1920 and apply to the payment of such of the warrants issued to build the Courthouse and to eradicate ticks as will fall due during the latter part of the year 1920.

The Courthouse of Chitlon County was destroyed by fire on August 31, 1918 and a law passed by the Legislature of Alabama in 1919 requiring that all Counties in the State engage in tick eradication and the necessity for the erection of a new Court House to protect the records of the County and the mandatory requirements of the law for the eradication of the cattle ticks left them, the members of the Commissioners Court with no alternative but that of incurring further indebtedness of the County.

But it would seem that the economy now being practiced by the Court in the expenditure of money and the anticipations of an increase in the assessmet of property values in Chilton County, that the Commissioners have before them the prospect of being within their debt limit as provided by Section 224 of the Constitution of the State of Alabama, adopted in 1901, within another year at least.

Respectfully submitted,
L. A. EASTERLY,
Examiner.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this the 28th day of January, 1920.
M. D. FOSHEE,
Clerk Circuit Court.

The following is the report of State Examiner Frank Peabody, of affairs of the Commissioners Court, from the time of Mr. Easterly's report as above, to Jan. 31, 1922:

Clanton, Ala., March 17th, 1922.

Hon. Thos. E. Kilby,
Governor of Alabama,
Montgomery, Ala.

Dear Sir:—In obedience to instructions received from the Executive Office, thru Hon. Chas. E. McCall, Chief Examiner of Accounts, State of Alabama, and in compliance with same, I hereby certify that I have examined the claims and Minutes of the Commissioners Court of Chilton County and beg to submit the following reports:

The present Board is composed of the following:

Hon. T. J. Dorminey,
Hon. D. H. Gentry,
Hon. C. T. Walker,
Hon. J. W. Littlejohn,
Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate.

I find that all claims against the County are passed on by the Board and these claims have been carefully checked and found in order.

Two years ago the County was above the debt limit allowed by law, but by practicing economy, adhering strictly to the laws, conducting the affairs in business like manner, have greatly reduced this indebtedness and are now within the limit, as the financial report will show, and by following the present methods it will not be many years before the County is out of debt.

A road law passed in 1920 by the County, requires all male citizens between the ages of 18 and 45 to work 10 days on the roads. This 10 days work is required and no provision is made for a cash substitution. This law brought a great many protests in the past but I understand that it is now favored by the majority of the citizens and it has been the cause of the County having roads which are far above the average and they are kept in good condition with small expenditure of the funds of the County.

The county is now spending very little money on Tick Eradication, the quarantine being lifted, only one man is now employed in this work being an inspector on the Shelby County Line, and is paid the sum of $50.00 for this work.

I further certify that a copy of this report has been mailed to Hon. B. K. McMorris, Judge of the 4th Judicial District, Wetumpka, Ala.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK PEABODY,
Asst. Examiner of Accounts.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of March, 1922.

The total indebtedness of the county is..................................	$227,905,02
Cash on hand in Bank	20,468.55
Debts less the cash on hand	$207,436.47

The above reports are copies of the official records, as made and filed by the State Examiner, who were sent to Chilton County by Governor Kilby to check up the affairs of the office of the Judge of Probate and the Commissioners Court.

They are published as a matter of information to the people of the county, in order that they may know just what has been done by the men who have been conductig the affairs of the county.

The attention of every citizen of Chilton County is invited to these reports.

Respectfully,
L. H. REYNOLDS,
Probate Judge.

Hot weather is Here
Those old tires will soon blow out. Let us put on new set so that driving will be a pleasure.
We have a large stock of new Goodyear tires and tubes. We deliver casings or tubes during work hours, within 10 miles free. Call on us when in trouble
Lawrence Garage,
CLANTON, ALABAMA

Keep Cool and Come to
JOHNSON DRUG Co.
For Ice Cream And Drugs Also
Pure Drugs, Druggist Sundries, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Cigars, Tobacco of all kinds and Complete line of candies
Johnson Drug Company
Clanton, - - - - Alabama.

Closino Out Our Stock of Clothing
This is your chance to get a real bargain in that suit which you are thinking of buying.
5 Young men's Suits worth $20.00 now 12.50
6 Young men's suits worth $22.50 now $15.00
3 Men's blue serge suits worth $15.00 now $10.00
9 men's blue serge suits worth $20.00 now $15.00
18 boy's suits worth $7.50 to $10.00 now $5.00
We have a big stock of men's and boy's which we can save you money on. Let us show you before you buy.
W. Z. Hodges Dry Goods Co
Clanton, - - - Alabama.

SENATE RATIFIES FOUR-POWER PACT

TREATY WINS BY CLOSE MARGIN, THE VOTE TAKEN BEING 67 TO 27

U. S. FIRST TO RATIFY PACT

This Action Makes U. S. Partner With Great Britain, France And Japan To Keep Peace Of The Pacific

The United States went into partnership with Great Britain, France and Japan to keep the peace of the Pacific, when the senate ratified the four-power Pacific treaty. The vote was 67 to 27.

The United States is the first to ratify the treaty, which also scraps the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

Attached to the treaty was the Brandegee reservation, approved by President Harding, which states that the United States, in ratifying the treaty, understands that it contains no commitment to armed force, no alliance, except the one sponsored by Brandegee.

Ratification came after administration forces, in more than four hours of roll calls, had swept down to defeat all reservations and amendments, except the one sopnsored by Brandegee.

The action clears the way for rapid ratification of the naval limitation treaty and other pacts growing out of the arms conference, hostile forces having concentrated their attack on the four-power treaty.

The vote showed four more than the necessary two-third and the roll-call showed twelve Democrats votng for ratification and four Republicans against ratification.

The dozen Democrats favoring ratification were Broussard, Dial, Fletcher, Kendrick, McKellar, Myers, Owen, Pomerene, Ransdell.

The four Republican opponents were Borah, France, Johnson and LaFollette.

Two absent senators, Crow, Republican, Pennsylvania, and Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, were announced as supporters of the treaty.

Senate approval of the pact was voted after all proposed amendments and reservations except the "no alliance" declaration accepted by President Harding had been defeated.

A long succession of proposed amendments and reservations to the four-power Pacific treaty were voted down one after another by the senate as it approached a final roll call on ratification.

For the most part the majorities were overwhelming and virtually coincident with party lines. Only a handful of Democrats stood with their titular leader, Senator Underwood, of Alabama, against the effort to qualify the ratification resolution, and only the little group of irreconcilables opposed the Republican leadership of Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, to vote with the reservationists.

The strength recorded for the proposed qualifying declaration hovered close to thirty on succeeding roll calls, but was not sufficient to suffle the confidence of the two party chiefs, both of whom were members of the American arms delegation, that the final count on ratification later in the afternoon would show a safe margin over the necessary two-thirds.

Scene Of Lincoln Conspiracy On Block

Washington. — A forlorn-looking, dark gray old house was placed on the auction block here but the auctioneer thought it was worth more than the bidders bid. It was the home of Mrs. Mary Surrat, who was executed as one of the Lincoln conspirators, and it was in the little front parlor of the once pretentious residence that the conspirators met and planned the death of the martyred president. The house, standing then in the center of the residential section, was used as a boarding house by Mrs. Surratt for many years prior to 1865.

Liquor, Automobiles and Drugs Seized

Memphis.—Narcotic drugs, imported whiskey and automobiles values at almost $35,000 were seized by police in a series of raids which resulted in a number of arrests on charges of violation of the liquor and narcotic laws.

Father Is Acquitted For Killing Son

Chicago.—Frank Piano, Sr., who killed his son "to save his soul," was acquitted by a jury here. The father testified that his son was hanging around pool rooms with a gang of boys he feared would lead his boy into trouble. He tried to get the boy to come home with him one night when he found him with these boys. The son refused and the father shot and killed him. The jury declared him insane when the crime was committed, but since recovered, insuring the father's discharge.

Scribbles Will And Jumps To Death

New York.—Despondent because of ill health, Esther Davidson, 28-year-old office employee, pencled a will on a piece of scratch paper and jumped from a twenty - third story window. Miss Davidson fell upon a fine mesh over an eighteenth floor skylight and shortly afterward died in a hospital of a broken back and other injuries. A shower of glass, tinkling down an elevator shaft when her body struck the skylight, attracted the attention of the building superintendent, who found her in a sitting posture

P. O. BILL PASSES IN SENATE

Bitter Attack Made On Item For Gotham By Several Democrats, Charging "Steal."

Washington.—The postoffice appropriation bill, carrying $623,773,000, was passed by the senate after a heated fight, carrying $63,309,000 more than as passed by the house, $50,000,000 of the increase going for federal highway aid.

The bill also carries provisions for restoring to service the New York pneumatic mail tubes and for continuing the New York to San Francisco air mail service. The vote on the tube amendment was 39 to 19 and came after a bitter attack had been made on the proposition by several Democrats. The $50,000,000 was accepted by the senate without debate and without a roll call.

A fight centering around postoffice appointments, originating early in discussion of the bill, resulted just before adjournment of the senate in the introduction by Senator Harrison—Democrat, Mississippi—of a resolution calling on the president to supply the senate with the number of executive orders he has issued removing postoffices from civil service classification. The resolution went over under the rules.

The fight which culminated in the Harrison resolution was precipitated by an amendment increasing the number of postal inspectors from 420 to 520, a move which Mr. Harirson asserted was to make more places for Republicans. The debate quickly entered the subject of postmaster appointments and the president was charged with having removed the Marion, Ohio, office from civil service by executive order so that he could appoint the postmaster in his home town.

This amendment involved $235,000—but it required two hours of discussion and a record vote of 40 to 21 before it was finally put into the bill.

ALL AMERICAN TROOPS ORDERED FROM RHINE

Washington.—Orders directing the return to the United States by July 1 of all American troops now on the Rhine have been issued by Secretary Weeks. The order includes the return by the end of the fiscal year of the entire force of approximately 2,000 men excepted from the previous order of several weeks ago under which the homeward movement of the majority of the American Rhine contingent is now in progress.

Coblenz.—Twelve hundred American troops of the army of occupation have left for the United States by way of Antwerp.

Hundreds Of Roads Ask Injunction

New York.—Injunction proceedings have been instituted by the counsel for nearly one hundred railroads against the government in connection with the rate order promulgated by the interstate commerce commission effective March 1, which the petitioners assert is arbitrary and outside the powers of the commission. Practically all of the eastern lines except the New York Central, Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio joined in the application to set aside the order which reduced by 15 per cent the proportion of rates on inter-regional shipments given to eastern lines, and added this percentage to the amount allocated to the New England carriers.

Federal Probe Is Nearing Completion

Washington.—The retail price investigation of the department of justice is practically completed. A few prosecutions are anticipated but the benefits claimed for the investigation have been "largely psychological," officials said. The investigation covered the majority of trade associations, retail stores and special cities where prices seemed abnormally high. The investigation, it was said, had served as a warning to all merchants and trade associations, and had helped to lower prices.

Submarine Sinks With All Hands

London.—The British submarine H-42 has been lost with all hands in the Mediterranean, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Gibralter. She collided with a destroyer during maneuvers. The destroyer was the Versatile. The latest naval list says the submarine, commanded by Lieutenant Douglas Sealey, had a complement of 23 men.

Coal Miners Seeks To Prevent Eviction

Knoxville, Tenn.—An appeal for a congressional investigation of the threatened eviction of coal miners, their wives and children of eastern Tennessee and southeastern Kentucky has been made to all representatives in congress from that territory, S. A. Keller, president of District 19, United Mine Workers, announces. The appeal made by the district executive board of the union recites that, in spite of the fact that the miners of this district had a wartime agreement running till March 31 they accepted a cut.

Trying To Find Work For Veterans

Washington.—The nation-wide campaign to find work for 700,000 idle war veterans has been put under way by the American Legion. First, the legion will make an effort to put the needy veterans—those with dependents—to work and after that the others. Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of the president's unemployment commission, urges national co-operation in the drive. He urges the creation of more jobs and also called upon the idle to make every effort to find jobs. He asks a living wage for the men.

SOLDIER BONUS PASSES IN HOUSE

GREAT EXCITEMENT PREVAILED WHILE DEBATING WAS IN PROGRESS

VOTE ON MEASURE 33 TO 70

President Is Expected To Make Fight For Delay — Measure May Be Vetoed

Washington.—The house passed the $4,000,000,000 soldier bonus bill.

Since no amendments were permitted under the rule, the measure as passed was in the same form as reported from the house ways and means committee. It provides cash payments to men entitled to receive $50 or less; an endowment insurance certificate on which service men may borrow up to 50 per cent of its face value for others, and service men are given the option of these two provisions, or home aid, farm aid, land settlement or vocational training.

The bill now goes to the senate, where President Harding will make a fight to have it delayed.

Under the rule a two-thirds majority was required to pass the measure.

The vote was 333 to 70, vastly more than sufficient to put the measure through the lower branch. Four voted present.

The president's fight for delaying or entirely rewriting the bill in the senate, so that it may definitely provide funds for the soldiers' compensation, was started ever before the measure had passed the house. The treasury department let it be known that collections on the March 15 installment of the income and profits taxes indicated that they would fall about $60,000,000 below the estimates for the quarter.

On the basis of collections thus far, the March 15 installment, it was said, will be only about $400,000,000 as compared with $460,000,000 expected. If this proves true after all collections are compiled at the end of them onth, the treasury will face a shortage of over $200,000,000 in the estimated revenue from this source during the calendar year of 1922, entirely upsetting the treasury's pogram for continuing reduction of the public debt and making necessary further borrowing by the government to meet appropriations made upon the basis of budget estimates.

The falling off in tax revenues is attributable, treasury officials said, to the industrial deperssion, and the extent of this may be indicated from the fact that he $400,000,000 expected from thef irst quarter's collections this year are as against $728,000,000 collected from the same sources for the corresponding quarter last year.

To add a bonus drain to this, treasury officials indicated, would render even more difficult the government's financial operations.

Twelve Are Injured In Trolley Crash

Cleveland, Ohio.—Twelve persons were hurt, some of them seriously, when a heavily laden Detroit avenue trolley car crashed into the rear of a Cleveland and Southwestern interurban car in the downtown section of the city. Both cars were crowded with men and women passengers bound for work when the crash occured. Several of the injured were taken to hospitals suffering from cuts and bruises.

Attack Workers In Mill Strike

Pawtucker, R. I.—Workers in some of the mills affected by the strike were attacked by strike sympathizers in the Fairlawn district. The police said stones were thrown and revolvers fired and that about 35 workers were forced to flee. So far as the police learned no one was injured The scene of the trouble was a mile from any of the mills affected by the strike.

Couple Found Dying From Wounds

Paterson, N. J.—Miss Elsie Smith, 19, and Alphonse Beyer, 22, were found in the drying room of the Maple Silk company's plant, each with bullet wounds in the head. The girl died shortly afterward in a hospital. Beyer, who is maried and the father of two children, is alleged to have shot her and then himself. He is not expected to live.

House Provides Army of 115,000 Men

Washington.—The house gave its approval to a provision of the army apporiation bill which would require the reduction by July of the regular army enlisted strength to 115,000 men and then proceeded to enter upon a prolonged discussion of whether Congress should direct the return to the United States of certain troops stationed in China, Hawaii, the Panama canal zone and on the Rhine. Secretary Weeks has already ordered the withdrawal of the troops from the Rhine.

Whiskey Cargo Seized At New Orleans

New Orleans.—The lugger World, together with her crew of nine men and cargo of whiskey, said to be worth $30,000 fell into the hands of federal prohibition agents on Lake Ponchartrain, near Milneburg. Troy Vassan, skipper of the World, was arrested about a week ago as he was bringing his oyster craft, Honest Clay, said by agents of the prohibition office to have been loaded with liquor, through the Chef Menteur, and was out on bond.

MINERS' STRIKE INEVITABLE

Non-Union Production, Together With Supplies On Hand, Expected To Outlast Shutdown

Indianapolis, Ind.—Suspension of work by all union coal miners at midnight, March 31, was ordered by officers of the United Mine Workers of America, the call being the first ever issued for both bituminous and anthracite workers to walk out simultaneously. Six hundred thousand men will be directly affected by the order, it is officially estimated. The suspension, the order provides, will continue until stopped by union officials.

The order, which was sent to the 3,000 local unions, directed the miners to give the operators their fullest cooperation in the protection of mine property and counseled against violence and violations of the law. In addition to affecting all union miners in the United States, the order also directed approximately 6,650 union men in western Canada to join in the walkout, but did not apply to 14,000 miners in Nova Scotia.

Never before in the history of the coal industry has a suspension or strike order called for cessation of work by all unuion miners in the United States. In the past, wage contracts in the bituminous and anthracite fields have not expired at the same time, but a complete tie-up in union fields was considered during the great anthracite strike in 1902.

A sympathetic strike by the bituminous miners at that time was rejected by the union's convention, it being argued that the soft coal workers were bound by contract.

miners not completely tabulated, but it was said officially that the work of gressed to such a point as to show every field voting overwhelmingly in favor of a suspension. Indications are that nine-tenths of the miners favor the walkout.

Cessation of the suepension, in whole or part, is left to the union's policy committee, composed of more than 100 union officials, which will meet in Cleveland soon to consider plans for conducting the strike. Outstanding among the questions to be considered by the committee is that of negotiating single state wage agreements

To Investigate Wrecked Mystery Ship

New Orleans.—A government cutter probably will be sent to the wrecked sailing vessel, discovered recently bottom up near Isle Dernier, off the south Louisiana coast, in an effort to learn the identity of the boat and the fate of its crew, according to local customs officials. Claude Blancq of the steamship division of the customs service said the cutter probably would be dispatched from Galveston. Officials began a search of their records, hoping to find some clue to guide them in identifying the vessel, a lumber carrier which was sighted by the Louisiana conservation commission's boat Opelousas.

Slayer Of Lady Alice White Is Held

London.—Henry Jacobi, 19 years old, pantry boy at the hotel where Lady Alice White was fatally injured, was arraigned in police court charged with the murder. It is alleged he confessed striking Lady White with a hammer. She was found unconscious in her room and died. Her skull had been fractured. Lady White was the widow of Sir Edward White, late chairman of the London county council and was between fifty and sixty years old. In a lucid moment after her injury she declared a burglar had entered her room and struck her.

Texas Judge Kidnaped By Masked Men

Dallas, Texas.—Judge J. A. Pelt, 63 years old, was spirited away from his home by unmasked men, and it is stated at his home that he has not returned. He was justice of the peace at Sour Lake for several years.

Petition President For War Prisoners

Washington.—Release of all war prisoners serving terms for expressions of opinion and not for overt acts was urged in a petition signed by fifty members of the house of representatives and presented to the president. The joint amnesty committee of the American Civil Liberties Union, in announcing the presentation of the petition, said that twenty children, whose fathers are in jail, would come here next month to make a personal appeal to the president.

Government Sets Up Liquor Blockade

Washington.—A twentieth century booze blockade, composed of airplanes, subchasers and speed automobiles linked together by wireless—is being set up by the prohibition bureau. Plans are maturing for a ten thousand mile wall about the United States to stop the flow of alien rum. With this blockade 100% effective, prohibition chiefs are confident the only source of supply of "good" liquor will be completely cut off and that drinking will pass because of inability to obtain pure booze.

Warden Frustrates Big Jail Delivery

Chicago.—The second attempt in two days at a jail delivery has been frustrated by armed guards under Jail Warden Westbrook, who checked the uprising and forced seventy prisoners back to their cells. When the prisoners refused to return to cells after the exercise hour, Warden Westbrook stationed guards with riot guns at advantageous positions, stepped to the front and told the prisoners he would give them ten minutese to return to their cells or direct the guards to fire

A UNION OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Healthy Housewife---Happy Home

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Helped Form Many

For the ailing, half-sick housewife such a union is impossible. Often times even the slightest form of housework cannot be accomplished. Yet the work must be done.

Many women struggle along for years suffering from some form of female trouble that make their lives miserable and their homes far from happy.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands of just such women regain their health and strength. Just give your thought to the following letters and remember that the women who wrote these letters knew how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound and again afterwards. It helped them—let it help you.

Had Nervous Spells

Horatio, Ark.—"I had nervous spells and awful bad feelings. My right side and my back hurt me all the time and I had been going down in health for six or seven years. For three years I had not been able to do my work without help. I weighed only 95 pounds when my husband's mother persuaded me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I heartily recommend it to all suffering women, as I have gained weight and health. I can do all my work, anything I want to do."—Mrs. JIM REARICK, Horatio, Arkansas.

Reading, Pa.—"I was a nervous wreck and could hardly do my housework. I always had to have help or I would never have got it done. Through the advice of friends I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my nerves and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine for my blood and I am feeling fine and doing my work all alone. I can recommend these medicines to any one, for they certainly helped me. I suffered for five years and Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines pulled me through."—Mrs. WALTER U. STOYER, 1218 Mulberry St., Reading, Pa.

Recommends the Vegetable Compound

New Orleans, La.—"I have found relief from my troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I praise it wherever I go. I could not do my work as it should be done for I would sometimes have to lie down because of the pains I had. A friend induced me to take your Vegetable Compound and I have got great results from it. I keep house and am able to do all my own work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine."—Mrs. T. FOECKLER, 1915 N. Derbigny St., New Orleans, La.

STANDARD FOR 50 YEARS
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
Not Only For Chills, Fever and Malaria
BUT A FINE GENERAL TONIC
If not sold by your druggist, write Arthur Peter & Co., Louisville, Ky.

Liggett & Myers
KING PIN
PLUG TOBACCO
Known as "that good kind"
Try it—and you will know why

Cuticura Soap
—IS IDEAL—
For the Hands
Soap 25c, Ointment 25 and 50c, Talcum 25c.

When a pretty girl begins to work her dimples a wise man forgets his wisdom.

If you are nervous, relax. Forbid annoyance to annoy.

A Fish as a Mousetrap.

A large brook trout was caught by J. E. Barbour of Paterson, N. J., in the St. John's river, Gaspe, Canada, June 20, 1921, and when opened it was found that its stomach contained nine mice, five of them quite large.

DYED HER BABY'S COAT, A SKIRT AND CURTAINS WITH "DIAMOND DYES"

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint her old, worn, faded things new. Even if she has never dyed before, she can put a new, rich color into shabby skirts, dresses, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything. Buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is guaranteed. Just tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade or run.—advertisement.

If men had the gift of second sight there would be fewer cases of love at first sight

Lack of cash causes more poverty than anything else.

WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin.

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

Colds Headache Rheumatism
Toothache Neuralgia Neuritis
Earache Lumbago Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions.
Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.
Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

Thedford's
BLACK-DRAUGHT
(Vegetable)
Liver Medicine
F. 8

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY..........Editor
J. L. JOHNSON,..........Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

TO OUR READERS.

Owing to an unexpected rush of advertising matter this week we have been forced to omit almost all of our correspondence and editorial matter. You see how it is so don't grumble this time, but rather be glad that the new business for your paper indicates better times are coming back. Will get back on the job next week as usual.

They are after bootleg smugglers along the Atlantic coast in the air, on the water and under the water. Still a fellow must have his morning mint julip and evening night cap so the smuggling goes merrily on.

So far as is publicly known now the greatest labor strike this country has ever experienced will begin tomorrow night at 12 o'clock. The Harding administration will go down in history as the one that succeeded in breaking the back of union labor in the United States.

One of the main things we hope to see a majority, at least, of the next General Assembly of Alabama who will have brains enough to know that we have a State constitution and that it means something.

Two negro men committed a most brutal murder on a negro woman at Mitchell Dam last week. They are in jail here to await the action of the grand jury. They are said to rather boast of their cirme. If Chilton county ever expects to stretch any hemp it looks like this will be a propitious occasion.

A negro named Holly has been appointed to the Naval Academy by Republican Congressman Ansorarge, of New York. If he gets by he will be the only negro at the academy. Ansorage was fullfilling a campaign pledge. It is a most unfortunate condition when a politician is so lost to all sense of the fitness of things that he will do such acts as this to win a few votes. In cases of that kind the public interests are utterly lost sight of and a two-for-a-nickel politician crawls in to misrepresent a respectable constituency.

JUST LOOK AT FOX

The ever hustling W. W. Fox has built up such good times at his main store that he got crowded out and had to have more room. But you can't stop him. He just crossed over the railroad and secured the large store house formerly occupied by Mr. "Baz" Foshee and has filled it jam full of furniture and all kinds of house keeping goods.

When Fox don't sell 'em everybody else better close up shop. W. W. is one of the livest wires that ever came down the pike and so clever that everybody likes him.

MR. WILL R. CLEMENTS FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

We invite your attention this week to the announcement of Mr. Will R. Clements, of Jemison, for County Commissioner.

Mr. Clements is a most efficient and high class man of business. In his election to this office the voters of Chilton County can not go wrong, nor can the business of the county be placed in safer hands no matter who is chosen. We are glad to see his name on the Democratic ticket.

MRS. PARNELL FOR SCHOOL BOARD

It is peculiarly pleasant for us to invite your attention this week to the announcement of Mrs. Lucie L. Parnell, of Maplesville, as a candidate for a place on the County School Board.

We are proud to see that such earnest and high class ladies as she is on feeling constrained to take part in the management of local affairs. The voters of Chilton County will make a great mistake if they fail to place her on the School Board.

REV. C. D. MESSER SAYS A WORD

Thorsby, Ala., Mch. 27, '22
Chilton County News:

Dear Editor:—Will you be so kind as to allow me space in your paper? We are now entering an important campaign in which every voter in the county should be interested regardless of what party they belong to.

We have a lot of good men in the field to select our officials from, the men who are to look after the welfare of our county and state. Therefore we should endeavor to conduct this campaign on a clean, christian plane because the great Law Giver taught us that "When the wicked rule the people mourn." Let us see to it that we elect GOOD men—the BEST men—men who will stand for the best type of good morals and official conduct.

In casting lots if the choice should fall on me, (and permit me to say, I think my chance good,) I should endeavor to serve all the people alike. I am under no obligations to any one but to do my duty. I believe in the observing and strict enforcement of all laws without partiality to any.

Yours to Serve,
C, D. MESSER.

LOST FIRST GAME

Last Friday afternoon the first base ball game of the season was pulled on the campus of the High School here between the 1922 team of Chilton and the High School team of Marbury.

Both teams showed up from the start as lacking in practice and the team work necessary for first class base ball playing. Of course, this defect will be obviated as the season advances.

The game opened beautifully and some real ball was played for three innings when Marbury had put two men across the plate while Chilton Hi was represented by a nest of goose eggs. In the fourth inning the home boys rallied a little and scored one man. Marbury then increased the lead by two runs and the Chilton Hi boys went up in the air.

For the rest of the game Marbury had it all their own way and scored almost any time they wanted to.

Marbury had in the box a left wheeler and he seemed to be a complete enigma to the home boys.

The final score was 5 and 8 in favor of Marbury.

We hope to see the team of our High School repair their machine in the box and infield. Their out field don't need a thing but practice. They already have the speed and pep.

Another thing absolutely necessary if you want to play winning ball is earnest, close and painstaking team work. Also a spirit of confidence in each other and a constant effort to back up every play. Then, above all, don't grouch and find fault with each other in a match game. Make light of errors and encourage the delinquent one to do better next time. Fight hard and die fighting no matter what the odds. Do your very clean best if the jinx is after you and when defeat comes, as it always does sometimes, meet it with a smile and courtesy that will augur well for victory next time.

The season is young yet, boys. stop the holes and let's go. You must win the High School pennant this year.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

We are authorized to announce as a candidate for County Commissioner, from the Jemison District, the name of Mr. Will R. Clements, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8.

(Paid poitical adv. by Will R. Clements.)

Dick Hayes, a student of University of Aalbama, was here Saturday and Sunday visiting home folks and friends.

To the Voters of Chilton County.

Clanton, Ala., March 28, 1922.

Dear Friend:—

As you, perhaps, already know, I am a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton county subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, and for that reason I am taking the liberty of addressing you this letter.

Like most of us these days, I have to work for what I get and my time is so entirely taken up that I fear I will not be able to call on you all personally, hence, I ask your attention by letter for a moment and solicit your support.

Most of you already know me personally and I hope your opinion is at least impartial. If elected I pledge myself to give you an administration that will be absolutely fair with out fear or favor.

Hoping that you can see your way to lend me your support and thanking you most sincerely for anything you can do for me, I am

Your friend,
G. D. RETHERFORD.

Paid political Advertisement by G. D. Retherford, Clanton.

Samaria Sunday School.

The business manager of the News attended Sunday school last Sunday at Samariah church.

We are pleased to know that they have a well organized Sunday school. Each teacher took charge of his or her classes and the lesson was gone into thoroughly.

The number was a pleasant surprise. A good many fathers and mothers were present, and a large number of young people were on hand. However, the best of all things that might be truly said is that a fine worshipful spirit was dominant.

J. C. Billinsley Dead.

Mr. J. C. Billingsley, a prominent citizen of Autauga county, died at an infirmary in Montgomery Saturday night and his remains were brought back to Billingsley Sunday.

Mr. Billingsley was one of the very best of citizens, and he will be missed in his community and county as well. He was an active church and Sunday School worker, having always realized the importance of service to his God and fellow man. We realize, "that all men are mortal" but it is a genuine pleasure for us to state in regard to Mr. Billingsley that a useful honest, conscientious, Christain citizen has gone to his reward, "In that house ETERNAL in the HEAVENS, not MADE with HANDS."

Mr. Billingsley is survived by a devoted wife and seven children.

He was laid to rest in the Indian Grave cemetery Monday, Rev. John Mitchell, his pastor, having charge of the funeral services.

Mr. J. L. Payton, who has been one of the important men who helped to build our magnificent hospital, has gone over to Centerville to assist the Chastang Company in building the new Baptist church there.

STATEMENT OF CONGRESSMAN JEFFERS

During the eight months I have been here as representative of the fourth Alabama district, I have applied myself diligently to the task of familiarizing myself with the workings of Congress and the various governmental departments. I feel that I have made substantial headway.

I am anxious to give to all the people of our great district the courteous, prompt and efficient service which they should receive from this office.

As I stay here I shall endeavor to fit myself better and better all the time to handle the work of the office so as to merit the continued good will, friendship and support of the citizens of the district.

In announcing my candidacy for the sixty-eighth congress, I wish to respectfully ask the support of every citizen of our district.

I am fully appreciative of the honor already bestowed upon me.

LAMAR JEFFERS.

Notice

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made to the State Board of Pardons for the restoration of my civil and political rights. Thi March 5, 1922.

3-9-2tp Alonza Aldridge.

FOR SALE:—A Limited amount of Cook's Improved Cotton Seed. Call on, W. S, WILLIS, Route 1.

Wanted to Buy

Some Good, Heavy Cattle.
G. O. McKee,
Clanton, Ala.

Professional Cards.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

FORD FOR SALE—Practically new Ford, 1920 model good shape $250 cash, see H. A. Turner Clanton, Alabama.

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Reds. Single Comb. Eggs now ready—15 for 75 cents. All fresh and fertile. Address,
3-2-4tp G. M. Durbin,
Clanton, Ala., Route 3.

Subscribe for The Chilton County News. $1.00 per year.

The New York Store

Our New Spring Goods are open for your inspection.

A complete line of Mens, Ladies and children Ready-to-wear and Shoes.

We still Issue Coupons for Chinaware.

The New York Store
Clanton, Alabama

WATCH!
F. M. Connell's
Stock

Some overalls, work shirts, underwear, ladies' and men's hose, towels etc. have arrived and he says they will be sold right. Try him and be convinced.

He is yet buying chickens eggs and country produce of all kinds that he can re-handle.

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabamr.
Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps,Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases; and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is up to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to act the best and pay the leake come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

YOU TAKE NO CHANCES
Shumate
Written Guarantee
With Each Razor
For Sale by
Alred Drug Co.
CLANTON, ALABAMA

ERALIZED WATER UTS CHICKEN LICE

Dropped into Drinking Founts h Vermin, Make Fowls Grow er and Increase Egg Yield.

oultry raiser can easily rid his lice and mites, make chickens aster and increase their egg simply adding minerals to the rinking water. This does away bother, such as dusting, greasping and spraying. The necesnerals can now be obtained in ent tablets, known as Paratabs. ter the fowls drink the mineralter, all lice and mites leave

The tablets also act as a tonic ner. The health of the fowls improves, they grow faster and yield frequently is doubled. nicks that drink freely of the never will be bothered by mites method is especially recommendraisers of purebred stock, as no risk of soiling the plumage. blets are warranted to impart r or odor to the eggs and meat. markable conditioner, egg tonic remedy costs only a trifle and under an absolute guarantee. blets are scientifically prepared, ly safe, and dissolve readily in reader of this paper may try without risk. The laboratories ng Paratabs are so confident of sults that to introduce them to poultry raiser they offer two big ages for only $1. Send no money. ur name and address—a card to the Paratab Laboratories. 26, 1100 Coca Cola Bldg., Kany, Mo., and the two $1 packnough for 100 gallons of water, mailed. Pay the postman $1 stage on delivery, and if you are ighted with results in 10 days— chickens are not healthier, layre eggs and entirely free from nd mites—your money will be ly refunded. Don't hesitate to this trial offer as you are fully ed by this guarantee.

avy Cold? Chest All Clogged Up?

N'T let it get a start, Dr. King's ew Discovery will get right to work, relieving the tight feeling e chest, quieting the racking , gently stimulating the bowels, eliminating the cold poisons. ys reliable. Just good medicine to ease colds and coughs.

fifty years a standard remedy. e family can take it with helpful s. Eases the children's croup. armful drugs. Convincing, healaste that the kiddies like. At all gists, 60c.

r. King's ew Discovery
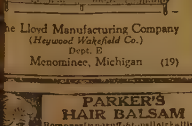
Colds and Coughs

el Badly? Bowels Sluggish? n't any "pep" in work or play. re constipated! The stimulating n of Dr. King's Pills brings back time energy. All druggists, 25c.

PROMPT! WON'T GRIPE
r. King's Pills



Pat Process LOOM
Lloyd Products
aby Carriages & Furniture

sk Your Local Dealer

rite Now for 32-Page Illustrated Booklet

e Lloyd Manufacturing Company
(Heywood Wakefield Co.)
Dept. E
Menominee, Michigan (19)

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM
Removes Dandruff-Stops Hair Falling
Restores Color and
Beauty to Gray and Faded Hair
60c. and $1.00 at Druggists.
Hiscox Chem. Wks. Patchogue, N. Y.

DERCORNS Removes Corns, Calles, stops all pain, ensures comfort to the feet, makes walking easy. 15c. by mail or at Druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

COMB WHITE LEGHORN EGGS etting. Satisfaction Guar. Circular ypress Ltry Fm., Little Cypress, Ky.

OUR ORANGEADE, CHERRY OR BERRY. It reaches the spot, when nks fail. Enough for 10 glasses 9c f each, 25c. UNEKE SALES CO., H. NEVADA, MISSOURI.

NTED—FRUIT TREE SALESMEN Good Business for Hustlers l Nurseries, Dept. 301, Concord, Ga.

nd Girls earn a genuine EVERSHARP PLATE PENCIL distributing 25 MILFORD household necessities each. Order your stock today. We ou. Send name, age, teacher's name. l Sales Co., Box 3272, Milford, Conn.

TS MAKE BIG MONEY taking orders mpoo powders. Huge sellers. Write P. BEDARD, NORWAY, ME.

ITUS DANCE OR CHOREA RE- D PROMPTLY; safe and sure. One bottles usually gives permanent re- Price $3.00 per bottle. ACME MED. CO., 1230 53rd St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

ooklet "From Railroad Clerk to Oil Magnate." Address E. Hildreth, Bx 1565, Ft. Worth, Tex.

TO INVESTIGATE TELEPHONE RATES

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION TO INSPECT BOOKS AND ACCOUNTS.

LICENSE INCREASE IS LARGE

Much Guano Being Sold—Farm Work Rushed—Electric Lights For Thorsby—Gadsden to Have New Park.

Montgomery.—With the intention of determining whether or not charges now being made for telephone service by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company are excessive, the Alabama Public Service Commission issued an order directing a general inspection of the books and an investigation of accounts of the company. The order provides that engineers and auditors of the Public Service Commission shall have the authority to make the inquiries in Alabama, or at the principal office of the company. Officials of the company were directed to throw open their books and records to the representatives of the commission and all cities and towns of Alabama were invited to make suggestions regarding the investigations with the statement that such suggestions will be considered in the general investigation.

DECREASE IS SHOWN IN ANIMAL VALUES

Montgomery—Animals to the value of $72,497,000 were on hand on Alabama farms on Jan. 1, 1922, as compared with a value estimated at $90,767,000 on the same date in 1921, and $128,943,000 on Jan. 1, 1920. This somewhat startling decrease in values over a period of four years as set out in a summary prepared by F. W. Gist, state and federal agricultural statistician, appearing in the Alabama Markets Journal for February and March, does not in all cases represent a decrease in numbers.

For instance it is shown that 130,000 horses on hand in 1921, were valued at only $9,880,000. The value of 6,027,000 chickens in 1922, is placed at $3,122,000 whereas 5,910,000 chickens in 1921 were valued at $4,314,000. The number and value of other livestock on Alabama farms on Jan. 1, 1922, is given as follows: Mules, 299,000, value $28,206,000; milch cows, 506,000, value $14,674,000; other cattle, 515,000, value $5,550,000; brood sows, 220,000, value $2,641,000; other hogs, 1,087,000, value $8,600,000; sheep 83,000, value $224,000.

REDUCTIONS IN RATES OBTAINED AT GADSDEN.

Gadsden.—One of the results of Gadsden's recent fight against discriminatory freight rates has been a reduction on lumber rates from 2 1-3 to 5 cents per 100 pounds on lumber from this city and vicinity to all Central West, Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania points. The reduction is announced by the Southern Railway and associated lines. This is but one of the numerous reductions that have been made and are to be made by all of the roads operating in this territory. Several cuts have been made in commodities other than lumber. Others will come slowly but surely, it is announced.

Walked In Sleep; Fell In Well.

Jasper—Mrs. Belle Whitehead, who fell in a well with her baby in her arms at Bexar, Marion County, is slightly improved, according to her father, W. H. McLain, of Oakman, Route 1. Mr. McLain stated that Mr. Whitehead was awakened by the cries of his wife and found upon investigation that she and her baby had fallen in the well, which contained water several feet deep. She had walked out in her sleep, waking when she struck the water. She went under, baby in arms, but called for help when she came to the surface. With the aid of the well bucket rope Mr. Whitehead rescued his wife, who was then in a critical condition. The baby died from the accident.

Supporting The Plan.

Montgomery—The first ten days of work in connection with the cotton pool marketing plan in progress in Alabama, under the auspices of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, has brought to light the fact that the bankers and business men of the state are eager and anxious to support the plan as soon as it is understood. This is shown by the daily and almost hourly reports now reaching the Farm Bureau offices located here.

Farm Work Is Rushed.

Russellville—Since the heavy rains of last week a great deal of farm work has been done here. Everybody is busy preparing for a large crop this season, a number of farmers have said that they would not plaint any cotton this year.

Roanoke—If the selling of guano is an indication of a big cotton crop the farmers of Randolph are going against the advice of experts this year. Guano is a big seller here.

$2,500 RADIO EQUIPMENT PRESENTED AUBURN BY THE BIRMINGHAM NEWS.

The Birmingham News recently announced the gift of $2,500 to the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn for the purchase and equipment of a one kilowat broadcasting station.

This station will be as powerful as that of the Westinghouse Electric Company at Pittsburgh, whose nightly concerts and Sunday sermons are enjoyed by every amateur receiving station in Alabama.

Through this gift The Birmingham News contribution to the Auburn drive, Auburn will be the fifth college in the United States to have a radio broadcasting station.

Radio telephony promises to be the biggest and most popular development in the scientific world since the invention of the ordinary telephone. It seems now that it will be only a few years until hundreds of farm houses in Alabama will be equipped with receiving sets. Auburn's and The Birmingham News opportunity to serve will be increased with every new receiving set that is installed.

Nightly programs of primary service to the farmer will be given. Lecturers on scientific agriculture will give nightly talks to farmers in their own homes on how to combat the boll weevil, what fertilizers to use, the best time to plant various crops weather forecasts, market conditions, when, where and how to sell their various crops, etc. In addition, doubtless, from time to time, there will be musical programs, lectures on other subjects; in short, all that would go to make rural life in Alabama more profitable, more pleasant and more convenient and attractive.

Dr. Spright Dowell, the able president of Auburn, has been consulted and he regards a radio broadcasting station as absolutely essential to the proper equipment of a modern, up-to-date technical college. Auburn has several expert student operators, amply capable of installing the outfit and making it of the largest service to the people, as well as in dissemination of scientific instruction.

GADSDEN INDUSTRIES WILL BEGIN WORKING AT FULL TIME SOON.

Gadsden—It is stated upon good authority that all the pipe shops in the city will go on full time and full crews in a few weeks. Nearly every manufacturing plant and industry in the city has increased its working force within the past month and the prospects for full time at all the plants is very encouraging.

The starting up of the Gadsden car works on full time with 500 employes has given an impetus to all lines of business and everyone is more optimistic than they have been for many months.

MORTGAGE DEBT ON FARM HOMES 38.9 PER CENT OF TOTA.

According to a preliminary report that has just been issued by the Department of Commerce, through the Bureau of the Census, the total mortgage debt on owned homes and farms in the state of Alabama in 1920 was $53,570,501 and the total value of these mortgaged homes and farms was $137,592,806, the mortgage debt thus representing 38.9 per cent of the total value. Rented homes, tenant farms and farms that are partly owned and partly rented it should be noted, are not included in this report.

Bull Path Road Reopened.

Corona.—The old Bull Path road, famous in this section a generation ago, which intersects the Fayette-Jasper road near the Chapel Church, near here, is being rebuilt and put in commission again as a public road after having been out of commission as such since 1902. This road, when completed, will admit traffic passing to and from Old Coal Valley and Oakman and mean much for the farmers near here.

Gadsden Council Buys Lot.

Gadsden—The city council has authorized the purchase of four lots on Hill Avenue for park purposes. The property is said to be ideally situated for a small park. The offer of the council is in line with its policy to provide park sites in the various sections of the city.

Road Contract Let.

Cullman—Contracts for the construction of a hard surfaced road from Hartselle to Cullman on the Bee Line Highway have been let by the state highway commission to the Texas Roads Company of Dallas, Texas, which was the lowest bidder on the two projects.

Randolph Gets Road Machinery

Roanoke—The road building machinery to go with the large and small tractors bought recently by the commissioners of Randolph arrived and work on the roads will begin at once. Work has already started to improve the road from the Chambers County line on the route to LaFayette to Roanoke and this will be a great help as a great deal of traffic goes over this highway. The big 10-ton Hoyt tractor is being overhauled and will handle the heavier road work

Watch Cuticura Improve Your Skin. On rising and retiring gently smear the face with Cuticura Ointment. Wash off Ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water. It is wonderful what Cuticura will do for poor complexions, dandruff, itching and red rough hands.—Advertisement.

Time Limit Set.

Because my nephew had been reminded to remove his rubbers before coming into the house and rather urged to depend more on soap and water and less on the towel he remarked: "Well, auntie, I may stand this house of rules till Saturday, but I'm going home then."—Chicago Tribune.

GUARD AGAINST COLDS AND INFLUENZA.

By keeping a little Vacher-Balm in your nose.

It helps to prevent the germs entering the system.

If you are taking cold, it makes you feel better at once.

Nothing better for Aches and Pains.

Keep it handy this time of year.

Ask your druggist, jars or tubes, 30c. E. W. Vacher, Inc., New Orleans, La. —Advertisement.

The Joy of Hardships.

After a man has once succeeded he always gets a lot of pleasure recalling the struggles and failures he has been through.

MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

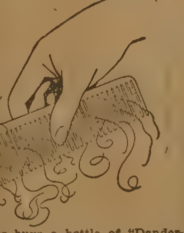
Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

The man who does right seldom gets left.

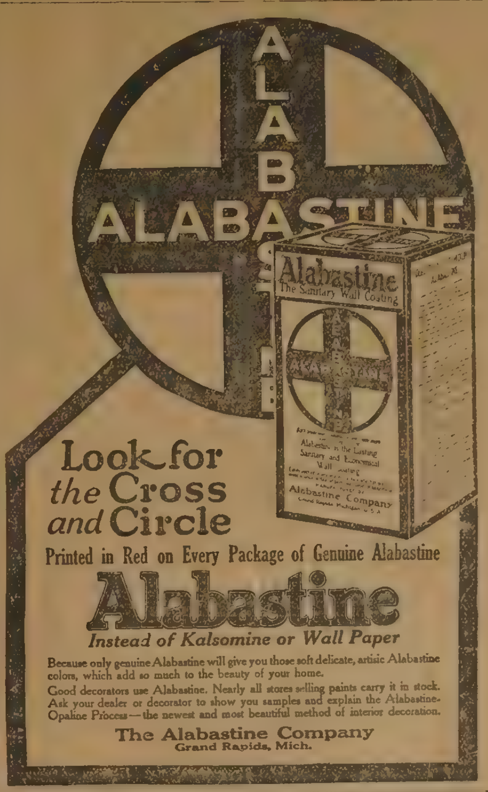
DANDERINE

Stops Hair Coming Out; Thickens, Beautifies.



35 cents buys a bottle of "Danderine" at any drug store. After one application you can not find a particle of dandruff or a falling hair. Besides, every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and abundance.—Advertisement.

It's safer to throw stones at random than idle words.



Look for the Cross and Circle
Printed in Red on Every Package of Genuine Alabastine

Alabastine
Instead of Kalsomine or Wall Paper

Because only genuine Alabastine will give you those soft delicate, artistic Alabastine colors, which add so much to the beauty of your home.

Good decorators use Alabastine. Nearly all stores selling paints carry it in stock. Ask your dealer or decorator to show you samples and explain the Alabastine-Opaline Process—the newest and most beautiful method of interior decoration.

The Alabastine Company
Grand Rapids, Mich.

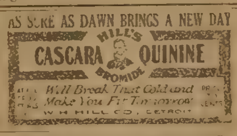
Whipping Ended Romance.

This little episode in my life occurred when I was but six years of age. A neighbor's boy, Jack, and I loved each other. All was settled between us that we should get married and start housekeeping in our coal house, which was not used during the summer. We had to furnish our house first. All went on well until our parents began missing things—dishes, etc. A whipping apiece and our romance ended.—Chicago Journal.

A pessimist's life is seldom as great a burden to him as it is to his neighbors.

People who know the least are apt to assume the most.

Love's young dream never yet kindled the kitchen fire on a cold morning.



AS SURE AS DAWN BRINGS A NEW DAY
HILL'S
CASCARA QUININE
BROMIDE
Will Break That Cold and Make You Fit Tomorrow
W. H. HILL CO., DETROIT

ELIXIR BABEK A GOOD TONIC
And Drives Malaria Out of the System.
"Your 'Babek' acts like magic; I have given it to numerous people in my parish who were suffering with chills, malaria and fever. I recommend it to those who are sufferers and in need of a good tonic."—Rev. S. Szymanowski, St. Stephen's Church, Perth Amboy, N. J. Elixir Babek, all druggists or by Parcel Post, prepaid, from Kloczewski & Co., Washington, D. C.

Stifel's Indigo Cloth

No work that you farmers do is too rough for clothes made out of Stifel's Indigo Cloth.

All Overalls, Jumpers and Work Clothes made of this cloth last longer, wash better and keep their "looks."

See that you get it. Look for this boot shaped trade mark stamped on the back of the cloth.

Garments sold by dealers everywhere—We are makers of the cloth only.

J. L. STIFEL & SONS
Indigo Dyers and Printers
Wheeling, W. Va.
260 Church St., New York, N. Y.

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are of finer quality (and hence of better taste) than in any other cigarette at the price.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Chesterfield
CIGARETTES
of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—blended

G. REESE MULLINS WRITES AGAIN

MULLINS REPLIES TO WALDROP

Clanton, Ala., March 21, 1922.

Editor Chilton County News:—

A small space in your paper this week will be highly appreciated for me to reply to an article appearing in The Union-Banner of March 16, directed to myself, and to Mr. Oliver, by Mr. S. E. Waldrup. My friend Waldrup seeks to criticize the Deason administration by saying the county's warrants had to discounted at a loss in order to get them cashed. Now the wayfaring man, though a Republican or Democrat either, should remember how all this occured. Mr. Waldrup and all the balance of us know that this county was put in debt by a majority of Republican Commissioners.

I do not say, like Mr. Waldrup, that this was a mistake, but I do say, if it was, the Republicans are to blame, in fact I do not think it was a mistake, for it has been shown from actual figures that the sixty-five miles of road built was worth at least $4,000 a mile or $260,000 at an expenditure of $200,000. I want to ask Mr. Waldrup if he is opposed to good roads. If not, then I want to ask him if he can devise any way to build them without going in debt. If so, I am sure that the State will be glad to employ him at a fancy salary. Now if Mr. Waldrup thinks that our high tax money has been carefully spent on the upkeep of our roads, built at all this expense by Deason and the Republican Commissioners, he certainly has not been out much in the last year over these roads. If Mr. Waldrup passed over our highway last summer just after the attempt made by his Judge and Commissioners to have it put in jim dandy shape, by having it scraped at an expense of several hundred dollars, I am sure he would join in with a host of Republicans and Democrats, that have said it was the most pitiful failure and shameful waste of our county's funds. I know I want to be fair and I believe Mr. Waldrup wants to be fair, but I feel sure that Mr. Waldrup possibly doesn't know about this, and did not see the highway after that miserable light-currying last summer. I will ask Mr. Waldrup to please take a day off now and drive over to Jemison and just come down the highway to Thorsby and inspect the last scraping job done only a few weeks ago and see if he approves of it. He will find the nice gravel scraped off from the middle of the road to either side, leaving the middle of the road full of holes and the gravel lying there washing off into the side ditches. Now Mr. Waldrup, suppose you come over and look over this much of the road at least, and make a report as to what you think. You can do this in a half day and get back home for dinner, but if you are not convinced by the time you get to Thorsby and disgusted, you can come on down to Clanton and take dinner with me and you will find the road gets worse all the way down. Come on down, Mr. Waldrup, you will be just as welcome as the flowers in May.

My friend Waldrup doesn't seem to think it would do for the Judge and Commissioners to reduce our tax rate. They could do this you know if they would. The Judge has said in a recent letter to me that this was all in their hands, the setting of our tax rate. which is true. Mr. Waldrup said the Judge had quite an enormous expense to meet in dipping the cattle over the county. Well, yes, that's true. but who is to blame for this? We had an election on this and the county went against it, and I was satisfied. but the Republicans sent W. A. Reynolds down to the Legislature, and there is where the law was passed to dip our cattle. You know, Mr. Waldrup, that the Judge happened to have quite a good many cattle on hand at this time and he could not ship them off until they were dipped, but I don't suppose you know that he and W. A. are any kin. You ouyht to come out once and in a while, look around, make some inquiries and inform yourself.

My friend Waldrup seems to think that I want to criticize my home folks. but I do not want to do this unjustly. I only want the facts known and it seems that Mr. Waldrup doesn't understand. If there is any wilful criticism, it certainly comes from Mr. Waldrup when he criticizes the administration that built our roads, with a majority of Republicans as Commissioners, and he himself one of the bunch.

I imagine my friend Waldrup's idea in getting into this newspaper cantroversy was to have a chance to tell us about President Harding's Birmingham speech in which he stated that the negroes should have just the same social rights politically as we white people. I also imagine that Mr. Waldrup is going to tell us about the Anti-Lynching bill passed by his Republican party in congress some weeks ago, which provides that if a burley headed brutish negro rapes his wife, or mine, and that if we, in the heat of an outrage like this, should take this brute and swing him to a limb, the innocent tax payers of this county must pay to the family of this bullish brute $10,000.

I am sure Mr. Waldrup does not believe in lynching, neither do I, but what are we going to do? When the Republican party reconize these hellish negroes politically, which causes them to think they are as good as we, and to commit these outrages on our white women. Now Mr. Waldrup, in all candor, as you say to me, can't you see? Or is it that you are so preduciced against the Democratic party that you don't want to see? It is all as plain as the nose on your face, that the Democratic party is our only political friend in this country. Now, if Mr. Waldrup is the man I think he is, he will not stand for a party like this any longer, for if he does, I am of the opinion that he will find himself some day within the near future, practically standing alone. I believe that in the face of all the facts now confronting the Republican party, that Mr. Waldrup, as well as many others, will leave the Republican party to join the folds of true Democracy, for which our forefathers fought and died, to spend the remainder of their lives.

Respectfully,

G. REESE MULLINS.

SHILOH

As I haven't seen any news from this community in quite a while, will drop a few lines if the editor will permit.

Farmers are very busy in their crops when the sun is shining. Tho the rains are getting us behind; yet we will make up for all lost time if the sun will shine in a few days.

The exercises at the close of Miss Julia Parrish's school on last Friday afternoon were enjoyed by all present. We will miss Miss. Julia in our community for a while, but are looking forward to the time when she will return to take up her school next fall, as she has been eelcted as Principal of our school. We will gladly welcome her back.

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely under the careful management of our superintendent, Bro. B. L. Williams.

The singing at this place last Sunday evening was a success for the time we had after Sunday school. The Directors were F. I. Popwell, T. W. Billingsley and M. S. Deason.

Also we organized a singing society to be held here every first and third Sunday at 3:00 p. m. We hope to make our society a success and we cordially invite all singers and lovers of music to come and be with us.

M. S DEASON, Sec'y.

LOCK 12

We are having quite a bit of rain here this week. Although everyone seems to be taking it nicely.

Messrs J. M. Mahan and W. H. Mitchell were visitors to Mrs. J. M. Mahan and family Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. R. J. Mahan carried his wife to the infirmary at Birmingham on last Friday for another treatment, returning Sunday night.

Miss Eufaula Mahan visited her cousin near Lock 12 last week.

Mr. Charlie Daniel and Tom Lesley were visitors to Mr. Geo. Daniel Saturday and Sunday. They inform us they will be ready to begin their saw mill by Wednesday anyway.

Mr. Sylvester Robinson of Thorsby is employed in this community hauling lumber for Mr. Geo. Daniel.

There is going to be preaching at the Holiness church near Macedonia the second Sunday in April. Everybody remember the day.

A SUBSCRIBER.

DOWNS-FOSHEE

On last Saturday afternoon Mr. Joe Ben Downs, a popular young business man of our city and Miss Florence Foshee, formerly one of the fair maids of Clanton, but now residing in Coopers, were happily married at the home of the bride. Rev. P. G. Carter officiating.

The groom is the son of Mr. J. B. Downs, wholesale merchant here, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. J. Wiley Foshee, well known farmer and trader.

They are all prominent in this section and have many friends who wish for them a long and joyous life.

S. S. CONVENTION

On the fourth Sunday in April there will be a Baptist Sunday School Convention held at the Samaria Baptist church near Clanton.

The following Sunday Schools are earnestly urged to send four delegates from each school:

Liberty Hill, Cane Creek, Refuge. Maple Springs, Poplar Springs, Samariah, Friendship, Concord, Highland and Clanton.

In the near future an interesting program will be arranged and everything will be done to make the day beneficial to all who attend.

We do Job Printing.

A TRUE LOVER

Once there was a girl who moved to America. Her home was in Italy, and her name was Rosa Lee.

Rosa was very attractive. She had golden hair and sky bule eyes. She was not very long getting acquainted with her neighbors.

One day one of Rosa's friends said to her, "Rosa we are to have a party at my house to-night, so you might learn some more of the people." This pleased her very much.

Rosa went to the party and enjoyed it very much. Fred Jones, one of the boys, was her partner playing games. She grew very fond of him. However, she was not yet sixteen and not allowed to have beaux.

Fred wished very much to be with Rosa, but she was afraid to have him come to her house. She finally said "I will let him come and then take the consequences," So he came. There was a continued quarrel in the home. However, Fred kept coming.

One day Rosa's father said, "Rosa, if you continue to have that boy come to see you I'll move right back to Italy. I do detest that boy." Rosa was very sorry she was to leave him, but was going to put in good time while here.

The next Sunday Fred came and Rosa told him what her father had said. Fred said, "If you will only listen to me you shall not go. Rosa said, "I'm too young to marry you yet, but wait until I'm 18 then I'll marry you."

Soon Mr. Lee moved back to Italy. Rosa cried as she told Fred good bye, but said she would be back to stay by and by. "So be true to me." Patiently Fred watched for a letter from Rosa. Day after day still no letter came. He had all kinds of excuses, for he couldn't believe Rosa untrue. Finally there was a letter to come, which was very thick. In this letter was her picture. Under this picture was written "Mrs. Rosa Jones" (to be). How glad he was. He was not blue any longer. Only wished to see her. The correspondence continued for 18 months. They grew dearer to each other each day.

Finally the post mistress, who had grown very fond of him, became very jealous. She did not like for him to write to this girl so often. The Post Mistress (Jean) wished to put a stop to his writing to her. She said, "I will open each letter, answer as I like, and tell each that there is someone here I love more than them and wish to be free from my engagement." This she did and both were grieved much. Fred felt as though his heart would break, and said "How can I give her up." But rather than ruin her happiness he gave her up. The Post Mistress seemed very sympathetic and he grew to love her. Soon they were married.

He often thought of Rosa and how she had treated him. However, he did not tell Jean.

They were very happy. One day when they were talking of the good times they had had Jean was struck dumb. Se was white as cotton when Fred noticed her and asked her what was the trouble He at once put her to bed, and called a physician. He said, "your wife will never be well again, she has a heart trouble." Jean lay for days and days very ill. Fred tried in every way he coul dto comfort her. One day after months she called to Fred. "Fred, as you know I cannot live long, I've ruined your life of happiness. When you were corresponding with Rosa Lee I was very jealous of you. I opened your letters. Answered to suit myself, and did Rosa's also. I told Rosa you had found a girl whom you loved and wished to break the engagement. As I did you." She said she was very sorry you was forsaking her, but would give you up. However, she would always live single for you, the one so dear to her, and if at any time you thought you could love her come back and she would gladly accept you again.

So, please go, as soon as I'm dead, to Italy the place she was when you was writing to her. You will find her waiting for you. Please take her for your wife. Tell her my sins were the cause of her trouble and forgive me."

With this she said no more. Three days later she died. Fred saw that she was properly put away, then for some few days he wondered if Rosa was as much in grief as he.

Fred left for Italy 3 months later. When he reached her home he asked to see Rosa. The nurse said, "she is sick and no one can come in." Fred asked her to tell Rosa that Fred Jones was to see her. As she told Rosa her eyes grew large and said, "sure, send him in." Was very sorry Rosa was in such bad health. He was very good to her. She grew better very fast. Soon she was well. Then Fred told her how his wife had told him of her action just before her death and he thougt se was married. Now, says he, "I've come to make you my wife if you will forgive me (or Jean).

In response Rosa said, "I've waited all these long years for you. It's too good to be true that I'm to be yours.

Now they were married one night and then he said, "now to think you are my own dear wife, there shall never be a want of yours as long as I'm able to provide.

Y. W. A. ORGANIZED.

The young ladies of the Clanton Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Gowan on Wednesday afternoon and organized a Y. W. A. The following officers were elected: President, Miss Lurline Cox; Vice-President, Miss Byrdie Teel; Secretary, Miss Ila McKee; Treasurer, Miss Jewel Minor. After the year's work was mapped out, a delicious ice course was served by the hostess.

PLAY AT HIGH SCHOOL SATURDAY NIGHT

A play entitled "An Arizona Cowboy," will be presented at the County High School in Clanton next Saturday at eight P. M. The presentation will be made by a Maplesville company of school folks. Proceeds will be used for benefit of the Maplesville Consolidated School. Admission will be 15 and 25 cents. Everybody is invited to come.

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

SLOGAN OF FAILURE

"IF I had gone after that contract I would have landed it," said the manager of a business firm to one of his subordinates, who had returned empty-handed from a business trip.

"Sure you would," said the subordinate, cheerfully, and if I had your brains instead of you, I'd be sitting in your chair, and you would be out pulling boners on the road."

The foregoing is typical of a conversation which, in some form or other, takes place in every business institution of importance on an average of twenty times a week.

It may be that the bosses are overconfident in their own ability and over severe on the men under them.

But the excuse beginning "If I had your brains," which bosses and employers hear till they weary of it, is the most inexcusable excuse that there is in existence.

The man who admits that he has not the brains to succeed will, of a certainty, never succeed.

The man who is convinced that he can never do as well as the boss does has stopped trying, and when a man stops trying he begins to slide back down the hill.

Of all the futile unprofitable employments, that of envying another man's brains is the worst.

An employer who hires a man for a position of trust and responsibility has the right to expect him to do what he is told to do, and to act, when out of the office, as the employer would act.

If he fails, he fails. Nobody can expect 100 per cent performance. But he at least should not make the excuse that he has failed because he lacked the energy, the intelligence and the resourcefulness to succeed.

The employer who spoke the words we quoted above used to be an employee himself. He made failures, of course, but he never excused them.

When he was "called" for these failures he resolved not to make them again and sometimes to show the boss that he had as many brains as the average employee. That is how he got where he is, which is at the head of one of the most important concerns in America. (Copyright.)

YOUR HAND

How to Read Your Characteristics and Tendencies—the Capabilities or Weaknesses That Make for Success or Failure as Shown in Your Palm.

THE FINGER NAILS

AS A general rule, when the nails are short, it is a sign of sharpness and quickness of intellect and the ability to learn easily. These indications must be confirmed, of course, by a study of the line of the head, which must be good; that is, clear and strong.

If the line of Apollo, which runs up into the finger of Apollo, the third finger, is also good, the short nails mean wit, and in some cases irony.

"Short-nailed subjects make the best journalists, by reason of their love of criticism and their readiness to engage in any dispute or contention," says Heron-Allen, a well known writer on palmistry. He holds also that in a good-natured and happy hand, or in a lazy hand, short nails denote a spirit of mockery and of good-humored sarcasm, frivolity, criticism and contradiction.

Of course, it must be understood that by "short nails" are meant those that are short from base to tip, not those that are shortened by the nervous habit of biting them. The latter is an indication of nervousness melancholy, and worry, especially if the finger tips are spatulated.

(Copyright.)

Hey There, Mr

You Lovers of Baseball

You can't afford to buy your Baseball outfit bef you see my line. It is the niftiest, most complete up-to-date line that ever came to this man's town.

Mits, Shin Guards, Balls, Bats, Masks, Sliding Pads,
Baseman's Mits, Shoes, Body Protectors, Ankle Brac
Fielder's Gloves, Elastic Supporters, Uniforms Comple

All These Are in Stock

And I can get anything for you upon short noti from Base Ball to Golf.

Come in Anyway and le
Us Show You

BROADUS CONNATSE

:—: AT :—:

FOX'S AUCTION HOUS

KIDDIES SIX

By Will M. Maupin

GOOD NIGHT—SLEEP TIGHT

THE old clock strikes the hour of eight,
And worn with childish play
My little ones kneel gently down
At mamma's knee to pray.
Then off to bed each sleepyhead
To dream till morning light;
But ere the fairies' wings are spread,
They whisper low: "Good-night—
Sleep tight!"

All day the house rings with their play,
And nought they know of care.
The childish griefs that come their way
Are trifles light as air.
A sob, a kiss, and all is well,
And grief has taken flight;
The fairies weave their magic spell
And then we hear: "Good-night—
Sleep tight!"

"Good-night—sleep tight!" God guard your rest.
Then wake to greet the day.
"Good-night—sleep tight!" by angels blest
As night hours drift away.
When at the close of day they kneel
In little robes of white,
The sweetest thrills of love I feel
To hear them say: "Good-night—
Sleep tight!"

(Copyright.)

The Friendly Path

By WALTER I. ROBINSON

NO ONE IS PERF

"IF MEN are so wicked
ligion, what would they quit it?" Those who are with criticism of what rel ganizations are trying to seldom found helping whole-h in making their work more
It always is much easier to than to offer helpful advic ligious work or anything el sequence there are always be those who devote most time to criticising. In con by fault-finding, without comm or pointing the way to overc things to which exceptions a the natural tendency is to weaken and frequently destr of the good that otherwi make the world better and t more happy. Let those who free with their criticism of activities keep the lesson of erb that they'll get more day, because they'll see so even among the bad condit claim to deplore.
Those who become dishe doing good, because of the fault-finding, need a new es the importance of the work they are engaged. Instead sensitive of criticism, it w much more to their credit if cepted fault-finding as some be expected; then their effor likely be more effective in a ing the amount of good the to do.
On the whole, the influen ligious work, even though disappointing at times, is r for the high moral code und virtually all the civilize operates. There may be e the true course which is ge cepted as the pathway everyo tread. But, nevertheless, people don't side-step very o out experiencing a pang of without lowering their themselves.

You Can All
Marry Now

Auctioneer Fox, who likes to see joy shine in the fa of everybody, has arranged it so you can get your ho keeping outfit so cheap you won't ever miss the chang
Last week he bought out the entire Hotel Furnishin of the Talladega Springs Hotel. It includes Chai Chiffoniers, Dressers, Wash Stands, Bedsteads Mattre
ses, Pillows, Quilts, Blankets, Comforts and Bed Roo Suits to please anybody and suit any pocketbook. The goods are going to be sold so cheap you will hard believe it.

Besides this immense line, don't forget we have th largest variety Store in Central Alabama. We sell an thing you can possibly need, religion, and we keep th in stock.

W. W. FOX
The Auctioner

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, APRIL 6, 1922. NUMBER 30

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Little Fellow Honor Guest.

On last Friday afternoon Master [illegible], the 4 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Reynolds, was honor guest to his little friends at his 4th birthday. A number of out door games were enjoyed, after which the little guests were invited into the dining room where the table was very lovely and the centre piece being the cake with four little candles. The young folks were served cream and cake. Mrs. Reynolds was assisted in entertaining the little folks by Mesdames Earl Gowan, and Luckie.

Bridge Club.

On last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. V. J. Heard was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge Club. Mrs. Carrie Mullins held the highest score of the club and Miss Bettie Mullins held the highest score of the visitors and each was presented with a deck of Congress Cards. After which the hostess served a salad plate and ice tea.

Thursday Embroidery Club.

On last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. V. J. Elmore was hostess to the Thursday Embroidery Club. After some time spent in conversation and needle work the hostess served ice cream and cake. Besides the club members were Mesdames Barney Roberts, Ross and John Armstrong.

Wednesday Sewing Club.

Mrs. Earl Alverson was hostess to the Wednesday Sewing Club on last Wednesday afternoon. After some time spent in finger work, the hostess served a salad plate with ice tea, assisted by Mrs. R. E. Luckie.

Measuring Party.

Circle No. 3 of the Methodist church gave a measuring party on last Thursday night at the residence of Mrs. T. C. McSwain. The decorations being white and wisteria and green. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Macy Jones. A very interesting program was carried. Several readings by Mrs. Hardee and Miss McMillian, several solos by Mrs. [illegible] and also piano selections by Mrs. Barney Roberts and Miss Selman, after which a contest "what is in a stitch'." Quite a neat sum was realized for the "new church fund." After which ice cream and cake was served.

Missionary Society Meets.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held its regular business meeting at the residence of Mrs. Harvey Chandler, on Monday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. J. C. Jones. A scripture reading from Luke. After which Mrs. Barney Roberts led in prayer. As this was the business meeting there was not any program. After which the hostess served an ice course.

Civic Improvement Meets.

The Civic Improvement Club held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. R. E. Luckie. The apartments were lovely with tulip and early Spring flowers. The President, Mrs. Hugh, Jones called the meeting together. Business was taken up. After which the meeting and an hour was turned over to Mrs. T. A. Curry and an hour was spent in memoriam of Mrs. W. T. Callen. After which the hostess, assisted by Mesdames Simpson and Alverson served an ice course.

Mrs. Renfro Mullins and son John Durwood, came up Saturday from Montgomery and returned Sunday night.

Misses Marzelle Mullins and Allie Crumpthon came up from Montgomery to spend the week-end.

Mrs. Hugh Foshee is spending this week in Montgomery with her daughter, Mrs. Renfro Mullins.

Miss Agnes Arerytt of Birmingham has returned home after spending several days with Mrs. J. Q. Wade.

Mrs. Harry Roper has returned after spending some time in Birmingham.

Mrs. Eric Hart is spending several days in Birmingham this week.

Miss Lilly Spence of Ensley spent several days with Mrs. Herbert Neighbors.

Mrs. Guy Higgins spent Monday in Wadsworth.

Mrs. Martha Atchley and daughter of Merryville, Tenn., spent the week-end with Mrs. W. W. Fox.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Parrish and two sons have returned to Birmingham after spending some time with relatives.

Mrs. Hance Alred spent last Wednesday in Birmingham.

Miss Esther Davis and Mrs. Jack Scales were visitors to Birmingham last week.

Mr. S. A. Johnson of Montgomery spent last Thursday with his daughter, Mrs. L. C. Reynolds.

Mrs. Lewis Reynolds was in Birmingham this week at the funeral of her brother.

Mrs. Jones of Comer, spent Monday and Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Polk.

Mrs. Horace Davis and daughter, Frances, of Verbena, spent Tuesday in Clanton guests of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Kin Vinson announce the arrival of a son, on March 27.

Mrs. Pipes and daughter Mrs. Hoke Pipes spent Tuesday in Montgomery.

MR. JOHNSON FOR REPRESENTATIVE

At the last moment, the friends of Mr. J. L. Johnson, Business Manager of the News, induced him to allow them to use his name as a candidate for Representative.

Mr. Johnson is known personally all over the county and has many friends. As a democrat, his recent wonderful labors for the party without hope for reward, settles that question. The Democrats are due him their hearty support and will give it to him to the last vote, we beileve.

He is a hard worker and competent and if elected would make us an official truly of and for the people.

Messrs Andress, Winston and James three old Confederate heroes, who are peacefully living out their last days at the Soldiers Home, called on us Tuesday. They are looking hale and lively. Yet, although time has already planted more than 80 milestones along their pathway of life. They spoke highly of the Home and especially so of the commandant, Dr. T. J. Fowler.

Lots of people wonder how Elmore's Store can sell cheaper than other Stores, the answer, they buy for cash and sell for cash, and those who buy from them buy at the one marked price.

Mr. S. D. McCary, of Thorsby, was in our city Saturday.

CONDENSED STATEMENT
of the condition of the

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA, MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$187,510.99
Overdrafts	2.46
United States Bonds	30,000.00
Other Bonds	10,100.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,301.14
Redemption Fund	1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank	1,100.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks	49,187.82
Total	$281,762.41

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	$ 30,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	9,340.29
Circulation	30,000.00
Deposits	212,422.12
Total	$281,762.41

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, CHILTON COUNTY.

I, Jno. C. Page, Cashier of the above-named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

JNO. C. PAGE, Cashier.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this the 13th day of March, 1922.

J. R. MULLINS, Notary Public.

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT:

Deposits March 10, 1920 $151,265.32

DEPOSITS MARCH 10, 1921—$167,759.83

Deposits March 10, 1922—$212 42.12

NOTE OUR GROWTH.

RECENT MARRIAGES

Last week cupid was doing a thriving business in the western part of the county.

He succeeded in putting the marital strings on two young couples.

Mr. Walter L. Culp and Miss Lillie Belle Arant were happily united in wedlock. Rev. C. D. Messer tying the knot.

Mr. Mixon and Miss Alma Klinner were also joined in the happy bonds by the same efficient knot ties.

The Quarterly Conference of the Protestant Methodists was held last week with the Pleasant Grove Church.

A good crowd was in attendance and splendid session developed. The condition of the churches locally were found to be prosperous and the work going forward nicely.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for State Senator from the fifteenth Senatorial district composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8. S. M. ADAMS.

(Paid political advertisement by S. M. Adams, Thorsby, Ala)

HI-Y MINSTREL

"The Bon-Ton Minstrels," presented by the C. C. H. S. Hi-Y Club will give a performance at the High School auditorium in Wetumpka, Friday, April 7, 1922

Chilton Hi will play a base ball game with Wetumpka Hi Friday afternoon at Wetumpka.

ISABELLA NEWS

Dear Editor:

Will you allow me space in your paper again I am not a [illegible] and am not a penman by far, but I stand for the uplift of our community, we have a noble and promising community of young folks, of whom the leaders of tomorrow must come from and I appeal to the leaders of today to so conduct themselves as to encourage and interest the young people. Sometimes any one would think by stopping in at church or sunday school that we had an orphans home near and that there were no parents in the community. Now that spring has come let us crawl out of our torpid state, and put on new courage. Our prayer meeting, Sunday School and church services has kept alive, now lets go forward with renewed energy. Let us show our neighbor and brother that we are interested in him. There is a great consolation in that verse that says, where one or two gathered together in my name, there I will be also, if the world had [illegible] more God would be absent at many a gathering.

Our Sunday School lesson for April 2nd, taught where evil is practiced Destruction is sure to come, and where God is supreme, and His law kept, prosperity comes.

Now back to farming a little. People are [illegible] cotton in this section than for several years past, let us not forget to plant lots of potatoes, feed stuff and other things that we can make at home, for if we leave these things off, and plant [illegible] Mr. Boll Weevil comes along and destroys the cotton, we are in bad shape.

Mrs. Maud DeShazo is still improving. We are grateful for that.

Mr. J. C. Edwards and wife are visiting relatives in Birmingham.

We see some intrest manifested in our roads. Mr. Tomie Nix had his crew of hands on his road this past week. Let us keep it up and have good roads.

Mr. A. D. Martin spent several days in Birmingham on business last week.

Mr. Roebuck went to Montgomery last week on business.

Mr. H. A. Williams and wife from Jemison spent the day on their farm and went back loaded with flowers.

Rev. R. T. Gilbert preached two forceful sermons Sunday.

Rev. C. D. Messer will preach at Isabella church the fifth Sunday of this month, April 30th, 1922.

Elmore's will sell to the first 50 ladies visiting their store Saturday, 1 Bungaolw Dress for 89c. They are worth twice the money.

Mr. James B. Farley, Manager of sales department for Patterson & Ingalls, who handle Dodge Brothers cars, was in Clanton Friday looking after the interest of this company.

Rev. S. M. Adams, of Thorsby, was here Saturday.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

The many friends of Mr. J. L. Johnson hereby announce him as a candidate for Representative from Chilton County in the next assembly, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

FOR COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

We are pleased to announce the name of Mrs. Beverly Hester, of Clanton, as a candidate for Member of the Chilton County School Board, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by Mrs. Beverly Hester,)

Beautiful Bungalow aprons for 98c at The Leader. Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Mrs. J. R. Mullins spent Saturday and Sunday here with friends and relatives.

J. & P. Coat's 150 yard spool thread for 5c at The Leader. Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Miss Pearl Messer, of Verbena, visited Clanton friends Monday.

Remember the first 50 customers getting to Elmore's Easter Sale Saturday morning will get a ten pound bag of sugar for 59 cents. Only 50 will be sold at the price, and only one to the customer.

Mr. L. F. Hester, of Lomax, was a Clanton visitor last Saturday.

Big Opening Sale at The Leader. Clanton's new Dry Goods Store. M. Lande, Manager.

POT FLOWER DONATION AT CENTRAL ALABAMA HOSPITAL

The Ladies Hospital Committee wish to announce that Friday, April 14, will be Pot Flower Day at the Hospital and everyone who will do so is urgently invited to bring to the Hospital on that occasion whatever they may be willing to donate in the way of potted flowers towards beautifying this splendid sanitorium.

SEVENTH GRADE EXAMINATION

The county seventh grade examination will be held at the following places in the county on April 24 and 25. Clanton, Cooper, Verbena, Thorsby, Jemison, Maplesville, Stanton, Lock 12, Isabella, and Fairview, in each place at the public school building.

The examination will be based on the six subjects covered in the regular seventh grade work.

The examination will begin at each place at 9:00 A. M.

[illegible] grade Overalls $1.50 at The Leader. Clanton's new Dry Goods Store. M. Lande.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION

The next regular examination for teachers will be held at the Court House on April 17-19; begining promptly at 9:00 A. M.

Those taking for second and turning in a third need not report until Monday at 3:00 P. M., and those taking for First and turning in a second need not report until noon Tuesday.

Anyone taking for Second must present certificates showing that they have completed at least nine grades of work, and those taking for First must present certificates of graduation from high school.

Any applicant with whom I am not personally acquainted must present recommendations as to character.

The Reading Circle Examination will be held at the Court House on Saturday, April 22, 1922, beginnnig at 10:00 A. M.

REWARD:—I will pay a liberal reward for the return of one turkey hen that has strayed from my home.

Mrs. G. C. Polk.

FOR SALE:—Rhode Island Eggs. Pure bred, fresh and fertile. $1.50 for 15 eggs. Charley Jones. Maplesville, Route 1

Mr. T. L. Lecroy, one of the best citizens of the Mulberry community, has been in Clanton this week serving on the jury.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Big Opening Sale at the Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Mr. J. Wiley Foshee, of Cooper, was in Clanton Sunday.

Big Opening Sale at the Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Mr. W. W. Fox visited friends and relatives at Thorsby last Sunday.

Big Opening Sale at the Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Mr. J. P. Woodson, Mitchell Dam, was in town Monday.

Elmore's Big Easter Sale now going on, and new bargains being added daily.

Mr. J. M. Moore, Route 8, went over to Maplesville last week on a business mission.

Hundreds visited Elmore's Big Easter Sale and took advantage of the low prices last Saturday, and are still crowding the store daily.

Messrs J. E. and J. L. McDowell, of the Poplar Springs community were here Monday.

Rev. C. D. Messer will fill the pulpit at Isabella church the 5th Sunday in April.

It affords us much pleasure this week to offer to the voters of Chilton the opportunity of electing such an efficient and high class lady as Mrs. Beverly Hester on our School Board. If you want to enjoy the satisfaction of knowing that your school affairs are in competent hands and that they will be executed with absolute fairness to every one, then vote for Mrs. Hester.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our most sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness to us during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father, Jno. H. Jones.

Mr. Jno. H. Jones Dead.

On Sunday, April 2, Mr. Jno. H. Jones, a well known and substantial farmer of our county, passed away at the age of 66 years.

He was buried at New Salem the following day, Rev. S. G. Haughney officiating at the grave.

NOTICE

This is to certify that H. V. Thompson has on this the 27th day of March, 1922, sold his interest in and to The Thorsby Garage to E. N. Bentley, who will continue the operation of said business under name of The Thorsby Garage. Said E. N. Bentley hereby assumes all the liabilities and assetts of said business as of this date.

H. V. THOMPSON,
E. N. BENTLEY.

The Cowart Brothers will open up within a few days a complete line of 5 and 10 cent goods in the Headley store house just west of the railroad on Second avenue.

Mrs. Guy Higgins is having some extensive repairs made on the J. W. Stanfield home which he recently purchased. When completed he will have one of the lovliest homes in the city.

Buy your boy a new Easter Suit at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

The planing mill of the Forest Lumber Company is now, and has for quite awhile, been running on full double time. A few more hustling industries like that would soon help Clanton business. Let's go out after them.

See the beautiful line voile waists for 98c at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Messers F. A. Grimsley, L. A. Easterwood, F. H. Johnson, W. A. Leevie, C. Major, and W. J. Rucker, who are prominently connected with the Dixie Construction Company, were in Clanton Sunday.

Beautiful line of dress skirts at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Mr. G. W. Mahan, who has a prosperous business at Mitchell Dam, was here Monday.

Former Judge R. M. Honeycutt was here Monday associating with his many friends.

For Shirts, Hats, Caps, Shoes, underwear, overalls, Men's and Boy's Suits, Men's and Bay's pants, Ladies and children dresses, Waists, Ladies Suit, Petticoats, Skirts, Hosiery, Beautiful piece goods. You will find all you need for Easter at The Leader Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Misses Elsie and Brace Robinson, of Jemison, were in Clanton last Saturday shopping.

Rev. J. T. Nelson, of Route 4, was in Clanton one day last week. He walked to town rather than stop his plow for the purpose of purchasing some more ploughs. He lives 4 miles from town. Rev. Nelson will soon be ninety years old.

Mr E F Taylor and wife were among those who came to Clanton last Saturday.

Mr. Jasper Calloway has gone to the "Land of Flowers," for an extended visit to friends and relatives.

Misses Marzelle Mullins and Allie Crumpton, of the Woman's College at Montgomery, were Clanton visitors Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Lila Hester, of Lomax, was in Clanton Monday shopping.

Burton Higgins, until recently of Clanton, but now of Maplesville, was here Sunday. Burton is always in a good humor and greets his friends with a smile that makes you feel like life is worth living.

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Capital and Surplus, $65,000.00,

STATEMENT OF CONDITION
CLANTON, ALA.
AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$146,379.63
Overdrafts	846.82
United States Bonds	47,800.00
Real Estate	12,500.00
Banking House	2,700.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,727.25
CASH IN VAULT and IN BANKS	173,766.53
Total	$386,720.23

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	49,903.16
DEPOSITS	321,817.07
Total	$386,720.23

FROM THE PAGES OF HISTORY—and in 1901, Chilton County's first Bank was organized. This institution has weathered the storms for over TWENTY YEARS, and is known to-day by the citizens of Chilton County, as the—

Old Reliable Peoples Savings Bank Since 1901

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N. Y.—"I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."—Mrs. CHAS. BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N.Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

Aunt Ada's Axioms: Order means peace for the home, sanity for the mind, and security for the state.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use for Over 30 Years.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Salads remain perennially popular because a salad is something you don't have to cook.

Miserable With Backache?

Why put up with that nagging backache? You can't be happy when every day brings morning lameness, sharp, shooting pains and that all-worn-out feeling. The best way to get well is to find the cause of your trouble and correct it. Likely, a cold or a chill has slowed up your kidneys and that is why you have backaches, stabbing pains, headaches and dizziness. Just take things easier and help your weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

An Alabama Case

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

Mrs. A. H Wright, 18 Auburn St., Opelika, Ala., says: "My back was weak and lame and the least work tired me out. I was troubled with backaches and dizzy headaches and my sight blurred. I was run down and had no energy, but Doan's Kidney Pills helped me wonderfully. The aches and pains left my back and I felt better in every way."

Get Doan's at Any Store, 60c a Box

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

SLOAN'S RELIEVES NEURALGIC ACHES

FOR forty years Sloan's Liniment has been the quickest relief for neuralgia, sciatica and rheumatism, tired muscles, lame backs, sprains and strains, aches and pains.

Keep Sloan's handy and apply freely, without rubbing, at the first twinge.

It eases and brings comfort surely and readily. You'll find it clean and non-skin-staining.

Sloan's Liniment is pain's enemy. Ask your neighbor.

At all druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.

Sloan's Liniment Pain's enemy

Stops Itching Skin Troubles

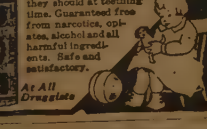
The torture of skin itch will quickly be relieved by applying before retiring, Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. One of Dr. Hobson's Family Remedies.

Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment

Keep Stomach and Bowels Right

By giving baby the harmless, purely vegetable, infants' and children's regulator.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP



brings astonishing, gratifying results in making baby's stomach digest food and bowels move as they should at teething time. Guaranteed free from narcotics, opiates, alcohol and all harmful ingredients. Safe and satisfactory.

At All Druggists

"BEAUTY'S NEW CREED"

Every woman must have a copy, tells you how to win and hold beauty by the safest, best methods. The beauty aids you are now using may be very harmful, take no chances, make sure you are safe—use methods approved by the best authorities. Sent prepaid 50 cents.

ATWOOD, Box 534, MINEOLA, L. I., N. Y.

SKIN BLEMISHES, FRECKLES, PIMPLES

Dr. Culpeper's cure removes all skin marks and makes beautiful skin. Mailed $1. Stell Co., 1426 Center St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Who Put the "C"-feet in Cotton Seed?
ROBT. E. HUDSON, AUBURN, ALA.
See? Write for facts.

GROWTH OF STRAWBERRY INDUSTRY DUE TO INTELLIGENT MARKETING

Paper Labels for Special Shipments.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Within six years Louisiana has taken first place among the states as regards value of strawberry production. The 1921 season was the best ever known in the industry, 1,400 carloads of Louisiana berries being marketed in 74 cities in the United States and Canada. In Chicago the 24-pint crates brought as much as $6.50 each, and during practically the entire marketing season Louisiana strawberries sold at a higher price than any other berries on the market, due to the high quality of the product.

With such a record of achievement, much interest centers in the opening of the 1922 marketing season. As heretofore a field station of the United States Department of Agriculture will be maintained in the Hammond district during the season to keep producers and shippers informed daily of strawberry marketing conditions in the principal consuming markets, prevailing prices, carlot shipments from competing areas, and other marketing data essential in the scientific marketing of agricultural products, and granted favorable conditions the 1922 season should surpass even the 1921 record.

Nation-Wide Distribution.

The Louisiana strawberry industry is of national importance. The crop has nation-wide distribution, the carlot shipments spreading out like a fan from the Atlantic coast to the Rocky mountains. Last year 29 carloads also went to four cities in Canada. Chicago is the principal market for the fruit, Detroit, Boston, Pittsburgh and New York ranking next in the order given. Heat, cold and distance—marketing obstacles that seemed insurmountable a few years ago—have been overcome by the growers and shippers, and with continued careful selection, grading, packing and shipping, marketing experts say that the industry will enjoy increasing prosperity.

Tray Used for Shipping Berries.

During the early years of the strawberry industry in Louisiana several varieties of berries were grown, and Chicago was the main market outlet. Today the Klondike variety is grown exclusively, and Louisiana strawberries have a wider distribution than the strawberries from any other section of the country. The quality of the fruit is dependable, and there is everywhere a demand for the berries. When picked the berries are carried to packing sheds, where practically each one is handled separately. Both the 24-pint Hallock crate and the 24-pint ventilated crate have been used in packing the fruit, although during the past few seasons there has been a considerable decrease in the use of Hallock's crates, which are known locally as "coffin" crates. Practically all growers are now using ventilated crates, as berries shipped in such containers arrive at market in sound condition and usually command a premium over the price paid for berries in non-ventilated crates.

Trains of Strawberries.

Fully 90 per cent of the marketed crop is shipped by express, the railroad company providing two or three express fruit trains daily. These trains run on a schedule of 40 miles an hour, which puts the fruit on the Chicago market before daylight the second morning. Less than carload shipments are cared for by the express company, which operates local iced cars to pick up small shipments. The growers have good transportation facilities, deliveries are prompt, and few instances are known where cars have not arrived at destination on time. Strawberry buyers from the large consuming markets establish headquarters at Hammond during the marketing season, sales being made on a cash f. o. b. shipping point basis. The fruit is inspected at shipping point and acceptance taken before the cars move. At Ponchatoula all cars are sold at public auction.

Several strawberry preserving plants in the district utilize overripe and soft stock in the preparation of fruit for the ice cream and soda fountain trade in northern cities.

Perhaps the principal reason for the prosperity enjoyed by Louisiana's berry growers is that they keep themselves closely informed upon day-to-day market conditions. The producers appreciate that "knowing the markets" enables them to meet the consumers' desires as regards quality and quantity, and that to overstock one market when another market is undersupplied is unsound from both an economic and financial viewpoint. Every day during the marketing season a daily report of conditions and prices at the principal marketing centers throughout the country is issued by the local representative of the United States Department of Agriculture. This information is obtained by trained market reporters at consuming points.

The growers are also informed as to daily carlot shipments everywhere in the United States. Thus the producers not only know the prices being paid for berries at the various consuming markets, but exactly what competition may be expected from other sections shipping strawberries at about the same time. The department also furnishes daily information regarding temperature and weather conditions, so that the necessary icing and refrigeration can be provided for the shipments.

Information for Growers.

The department's station at Hammond was opened in 1915, and was the first field station established anywhere by the United States Department of Agriculture for the issuance of market news reports. Here, in the heart of Louisiana's strawberry producing district, arrangements were first made to study methods of packing, shipping, and distributing strawberries in the United States; to keep growers informed of strawberry movements from other regions, and to inform them daily of prices and conditions in the leading consuming markets. Hammond was selected as the location for the department's first field station because of the large proportions that the Louisiana strawberry industry had attained. Louisiana then ranked fourth in commercial strawberry importance. Today the state ranks second in carlot shipments.

ROUND POSTS MOST DURABLE

One Kind of Timber Will Last as Long as Others if Amount of Heartwood Is the Same.

Is a split fence post as durable as a round fence post? This is a question frequently asked of the United States Department of Agriculture. The fact is, says the forest products laboratory, one kind of post will last about as long as the other if the amount of heartwood is the same in both. But if the percentage of sapwood is increased by splitting, the split post will be less durable and if the percentage of heartwood is increased, it will be more durable than a round one. Posts of spruce, hemlock, or any of the true firs are exceptions to this rule, because their heartwood and sapwood are about equally durable.

When posts are to be treated with creosote or other preservative, a round post is preferable to a split post, because of the comparative ease with which the sapwood can be treated. The heart faces on split posts do not, as a rule, absorb preservative well. Split red-oak posts will take treatment, because the wood is very porous, but the heart faces of split posts of many other species, notably white oak, red gum, and Douglas fir, resist the penetration of preservative, even under heavy pressures.

TOO MUCH MANURE INJURIOUS

Fertilizer May Burn Crop if Season Is Very Dry—No Fear of Harm if Worked In.

The claim that too much manure will burn up the crop is only partly true. It may if it is a very dry season and the manure is not worked well into the soil. But there is little likelihood of injury from a heavy application, if worked in right. Far more corn has been lost through too little than through too much manure.

PLANT ENGLSH PEAS EARLY

Seed Should Be Put Into Ground as Soon as Soil Will Permit—Some Good Varieties.

English peas should be planted just as soon as the soil will permit. Thomas Laxton, Alaska, Horsford's Market Garden, and Telephone are excellent varieties, and the Telephone late. The seed should be sown thickly in the drill in rows 3 feet wide and covered 5 to 8 inches deep.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR APRIL 9

THE LORD PRESERVES JOASH

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 11:1-17.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord preserveth all them that love Him.—Psalm 145:20.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—II Kings 11:18-20; II Chron. 23:1-21; Matt. 2:13-23.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Takes Care of a Boy.

JUNIOR TOPIC—How a Boy Became King.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Boy Saved for a Great Career.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Secret of Personal and National [illegible].

Joash, viewed in the light of his ancestors, was a poor prospect for a king. His grandmother was the wicked Athaliah and his great grandparents were Ahab and Jezebel. There was enough bad blood in his veins to assure his doom. Despite this fact, he brought about some noble reforms and turned the people back to God.

I. Athaliah Usurps the Throne (vv. 1-3).

1. Her attempt to destroy the seed royal (vv. 1). In order to remove any rival claimant to the throne she tried to kill all the royal male children.

2. Joash preserved by Jehosheba (vv. 2, 3). Though Athaliah was keen-eyed she was checkmated by another woman. Her fatal omission was not to get rid of the women too. This woman, the wife of the priest, stole away the child and hid him in the bedchamber for six years. God had promised that through the Davidic line the Messiah should come. In order that this line be unbroken Joash must be preserved. No purpose of God can fail.

II. Joash Crowned King (vv. 4-12).

1. Jehoiada's preparations (vv. 4-11). The high priest and his wife were intelligent and strong characters. As the high priest, Jehoiada felt that it was his duty to thwart the heathen project of Athaliah. Doubtless his co-operation with his wife made possible the saving of Joash.

(1) Secured the aid of the military leaders (v. 4). He knew somehow that these men were not loyal to Athaliah. (2) Bound them under solemn oath (v. 4). He took an oath of them in the house of the Lord. Honest men will stand by their word. (3) Excited their spirit of patriotism (v. 4). He gave them a sight of the king's son. This, no doubt, was a great surprise. Now having seen the heir to the throne they would risk everything, even their lives, in order to set him on the throne. (4) Co-ordinates all matters (vv. 5-11). The soldiers were divided into companies and arms were distributed to them. Each group was assigned to specific duties.

2. The coronation (v. 12). (1) The king's son brought forth. This was a great day in Jerusalem. After six years of usurpation, the people all the while supposing that all the heirs to the throne were dead, now to gaze upon the king's son would be a notable event. (2) Put the crown upon him. This was the formal induction into office. (3) Gave him the testimony. This was a copy of the law, showing that the king was to rule according to the law of God. The act of putting the law upon his head showed that the king himself would be under the control of the law. (4) Made him king. This shows that he was made king by the choice of the people. (5) Anointed him. They poured oil upon his head. This was the usual method of consecrating prophets, priests and kings. (6) Clapped their hands. This was a token of joy.

III. Athaliah Slain (vv. 13-17).

1. The noise of the coronation of Joash brough Athaliah to the temple (v. 15). Up to this time she thought her place on the throne was secure and that her heathen religion had free course.

2. Her dismay (v. 14). Upon her arrival at the temple she saw the king wearing the crown and surrounded by the guards, so that she could do nothing. In her despair she exclaimed: "Treason, treason!" How prone wicked men and women are to cry out as though they had been wronged when their wicked plots and conspiracies are exposed and thwarted!

3. Athaliah executed (vv. 15, 16). The orders were that she should not be killed in the temple. They led her out by the way of the horses' entrance to the king's palace and slew her. What a tragic end for the sinner! Sin can only prosper for a time.

IV. Worship of the True God (vv. 17, 18).

Joash was seven years old when he was made king. The high priest made a covenant between the Lord, the king and the people that they would be the Lord's people. In carrying out this covenant they broke down the temple [illegible] Baal and slew the priest of Baal.

The Way to God.

Prayer carries us halfway to God, fasting brings us to the door of His palace, and alms-giving procures us admission.—Koran.

The Saddest Thing.

The saddest thing that can befall a soul is when it loses faith in God and woman.—Alexander Smith.

Hope and Joy.

A propensity to hope and joy is real riches; one to fear and sorrow, real poverty.—Hume.

AFTER EVERY MEAL
WRIGLEY'S
WRIGLEY'S JUICY FRUIT CHEWING GUM
THE FLAVOR LASTS
WRIGLEY'S P-K CHEWING SWEET
WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT THE PERFECT GUM
WRIGLEY'S DOUBLEMINT CHEWING GUM
UNITED COUPONS

Juicy Fruit, Peppermint and Spearmint are certainly three delightful flavors to choose from.

And WRIGLEY'S P-K—the new sugar-coated peppermint gum, is also a great treat for your sweet tooth.

All are from the Wrigley factories where perfection is the rule.

Save the wrappers

Good for valuable premiums

C31

Ignorance is bliss—generally—when there is something suspicious the matter with one's insides.

One consideration that checks kneed revolutions is that people to die in revolutions.

COMPANION TO THE GOODYEAR ALL-WEATHER TREAD

In a factory devoted exclusively to manufacturing Goodyear Tires for small cars, the two tires illustrated above are made.

One is the famous 30x3½ Goodyear All-Weather Tread Clincher.

By long wear, superior traction, freedom from skidding, and ultimate economy, the Goodyear All-Weather Tread has won unquestioned leadership.

As a companion to this tire there is the Goodyear 30 x 3½ Cross Rib.

Built of the same high grade Egyptian fabric and with a long wearing but differently designed tread, this tire offers unusual value.

Over 5,000,000 of these tires have been sold in the last five years.

Their quality and serviceability have proved to thousands of motorists the folly of buying unknown and unguaranteed tires of lower price.

Ask your Goodyear Service Station Dealer to explain their advantages.

30x3½ Cross Rib Fabric . . .	$10.95
30x3½ All-Weather Fabric .	14.75
30x3½ All-Weather Cord . .	18.00
30x3½ Heavy Tourist Tube .	2.80
30x3½ Regular Tube	2.25

Manufacturer's tax extra

GOODYEAR

STONECYPHER'S IRISH POTATO BUG KILLER

Every year you plant Irish Potatoes.
Every year you have Potato Bugs.
Every year you should use
STONECYPHER'S
Irish Potato Bug Killer

Guaranteed to destroy the bug without damage to the plant. Also destroys all leaf eating insects on cabbage, cucumber, cantaloupe, squash and tomato vines. Apply lightly. Cost low. Applicaton easy. Results sure.

For Sale by Drug, Seed and General Stores

STONECYPHER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO.

Westminster, - - - S. C.

VITALITY! VITALITY! VITALITY!

You Must Have It to Keep Your Job, Your Friends, Your Happiness

Thousands of thoughtless people needlessly let themselves run down in health. The day comes when, with a terrible shock, they suddenly realize that they are permanently broken in health. For your own sake keep well. If you feel weak or run down or do not sleep well or are nervous and have a poor color, don't wait until it is too late. Gude's Pepto-Mangan taken with your meals for a few weeks will restore your good health, give you renewed strength and vitality for your daily work. The healthy life is the only happy life—do not let it slip from you. For thirty years Gude's Pepto-Mangan has been helping people who were run-down back to good health. It was made famous by the medical profession. Sold by druggists in both liquid and tablet form.—Advertisement.

Feel a smile and the right kind of smile will show up; but drat the artificial ones.

SHE DYED A SWEATER, SKIRT AND CHILD'S COAT WITH "DIAMOND DYES"

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint her worn, shabby dresses, skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything, even if she has never dyed before. Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is sure because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to spot, fade, streak, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.—advertisement.

It remains unhappily true that an utter optimist can provoke as many yawns as an utter pessimist.

Don't Forget Cuticura Talcum

When adding to your toilet requisites. An exquisite face, skin, baby and dusting powder and perfume, rendering other perfumes superfluous. You may rely on it because one of the Cuticura Trio (Soap, Ointment and Talcum). 25c each everywhere.—Advertisement.

Don't think for a minute that man wants but little here below.

Sure Relief
FOR INDIGESTION

6 BELL-ANS
Hot water
Sure Relief
BELL-ANS
25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

Increase Your Weight to Normal by Taking
TANLAC
The World's Greatest Tonic

BETTER DEAD

Life is a burden when the body is racked with pain. Everything worries and the victim becomes despondent and downhearted. To bring back the sunshine take

GOLD MEDAL
HAARLEM OIL
CAPSULES

The National Remedy of Holland for over 200 years; it is an enemy of all pains resulting from kidney, liver and uric acid troubles. All druggists, three sizes.

Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

CURES COLDS — LA GRIPPE
in 24 Hours — in 3 Days
HILL'S
CASCARA QUININE
BROMIDE
STANDARD remedy world over. Demand red box bearing Mr. Hill's portrait & signature.
At All Druggists—30 Cents
W. H. HILL COMPANY, DETROIT

CANCER Hospital
Serum Treatment.
Booklet upon request.
Lock Box No. 2127, ATLANTA, GA.

BARGAINS
Pianos, Organs, Phonographs and Player Pianos
TERMS to suit you. Good used ones at half price. Three $1.00 records for ONE dollar. Catalogues mailed free on request. Write for our special prices and save money.
E. E. FORBES & SONS PIANO CO.
Birmingham, Ala.

The Mystery Principle Will Solve Your Problems whatever you Wish, whatever you WORRY about. Enclose stamped addressed envelope. Cooperative Service, 312, Lewiston, Idaho

Mrs. Ella Mullins

Covington, Ky.—"For a long time I suffered severely every month with headache and pains in my back and limbs. Then I began using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I can testify that it gave me much relief and that it has been the same great benefit to my daughter for similar trouble. All women who suffer with trouble of a feminine character should try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."—Mrs. Ella Mullins, 2037 Center St.

Start on the road to Health and Beauty by obtaining this "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce's from your neighborhood druggist, in tablets or liquid. Write Dr. Pierce, president Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.

DROPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE
Short breathing relieved in a few hours; swelling reduced in a few days; regulates the liver, kidneys, stomach and heart; purifies the blood, strengthens the entire system. Write for Free Trial Treatment.
COLLUM DROPSY REMEDY CO., Dept. C.E., ATLANTA, GA.

THE BEST WAY NOW TO GROW COTTON is to plant thin land well fertilized, planted as early as possible with the earliest variety of cotton you can get, which is Broadwell's Double-Jointed. We are ready to ship these seed at any time. Be sure to ask about Broadwell's Choice Seed Corn. Address John B. Broadwell & Co., Alpharetta, Ga.

SINGLE COMB WHITE LEGHORN EGGS $1.25 Setting. Satisfaction Guar. Circular. Little Cypress P'ltry Fm., Little Cypress, Ky.

WANTED—FRUIT TREE SALESMEN
Good Business for Hustlers
Concord Nurseries, Dept. 301, Concord, Ga.

Boys and Girls earn a genuine EVERSHARP SILVERPLATE PENCIL distributing 25 guaranteed MILFORD household necessities at 25c each. Order your stock today; we trust you. Send name, age, teacher's name Milford Sales Co., Box 3272, Milford, Conn

FREE LAND
If interested in homesteads send self addressed stamped envelope to FRED W. BRAY, MEDICINE BOW, WYO.

Don't be afraid to ask questions. That's the only way you can find out a good many things.

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription.

Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

Cloves often savor of the spice of wickedness.

If You Need Strength and Reserve Power
Take
TANLAC
The World's Greatest Tonic

Ask Your Dealer for Nu-Way & EXCELLO
RUBBERLESS
SUSPENDERS
Year's Wear Guaranteed

Always comfortable. No rubber to rot. Phosphor Bronze Springs give the stretch. If your dealer doesn't carry Nu-Ways or Excellos, send direct, giving dealer's name. Accept no substitute.

The Nu-Way Line
Nu-Way and Excello Suspenders—75¢
Men's Garters—50¢
Ladies-Misses-Children's Hose Supporters 25¢
Ladies' Corset "Sew-On" Hose Supporters 25¢

Nu-Way Strech Suspender Co., Mfrs., Adrian, Mich.

Liggett & Myers
KING PIN
PLUG TOBACCO
Known as "that good kind"
Try it—and you will know why

Any Bank or Mercantile Agency will tell you The Kenton Shoe Hospital is reliable. Send your shoes to us and get factory results, and either leather soles or Panco soles. The Panco will outwear the best Oak or Chrome leather.

	Men's	Ladies'
½ soles sewed	$1 25	$1.10
½ soles and heels, sewed	1.65	1 45
½ soles, rubber heels, sewed ...	1.76	1.60

Send for our complete price list, or send a pair of shoes for repairs and our price list will be returned with the shoes; and you will send us all your work.

Kenton Shoe Hospital
L. C. Kenton, Mgr.
1001-1009 Market St., Chattanooga, Tenn.

LET CONTRACT FOR NEW INSTITUTIONS

ESTIMATED COST BETWEEN EIGHT OR NINE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS.

CONTRACT COST PLUS BASIS

Includes New Prison at Speigner Overhauling of Wetumpka Institute and Construction of New Building at Kilby Prison.

Montgomery—Erection of a new state prison at Speigner to replace the one now in use there, overhauling of the penitentiary at Wetumpka for ocupation by female prisoners exclusively, and construction of the building at Kilby prison, which will house the new state cotton mill and shirt factory, are provided for in a contract which has just been signed by the state with Hugger Brothers contractors of Montgomery. The contract, prepared and entered into by C. B. Rogers, chairman of the state board of control and economy, and William F. Feagin, warden general and associate member of the board, has been approved by Governor Kilby. These extensive additions to and changes in these penal institutions will begin without delay. The contract between the state and Hugger Brothers ison a cost plus basis. The contracting company will furnish the organizatian and equipment and will direct the work. Material will be furnished by the state, and convict labor, both skilled and unskilled, will be utilized to the greatest extent at all institutions. No definite estimate on the cost of the work has as yet been announced but it is believed it will range between $800,000 and $900,000. This of course, includes the work to be done at all three institutions. Supervision of the building and overhauling operations by the contracting company is provided for under the terms of the contract. Lumber, sand and gravel, which will be used extensively in the building operations will be furnished from the state's own lands.

Much Damage By Tornado.

Cullman—Several persons are reported killed and a number injured in a tornado which wiped out Crane Hill, 15 miles southwest of Cullman last week. All connections by telephone were down and late reports were meager in regard to the killed and injured. Doctors and nurses were sent to the village from Cullman. In Cullman it is estimated $60,000 damage has been done, the tornado striking the business section of West Cullman and laying waste a strip a mile long and 50 yards wide.

Coal Mines In Operation.

Jasper—Reports given out by some of the mine superintendents indicate that the mining business is beginning to improve. Mr. Jackson states that the Brilliant Coal Company, which operates the Calumet Mine, has "railroad contracts" sufficient to keep the mines running. Walter Killingsworth of Carbon Hill states that the big mines at Carbon Hill are running more regularly now and getting out more coal weekly than any time during the past two years.

New Dairy Stock Arrives.

Montgomery—Eighty head of fine dairy cattle which will stock the new dairy at Kilby State Prison have been received at Kilby State Camp. Immediately upon their removal from the East, where they were purchased by Warden General Feagin, some three or four weeks ago, the cattle were installed in the modern dairy quarters. Milk and butter produced by the dairy herd will be used at the new state prison, to supply all demands, and the remainder is to be disposed of on the market at the most advantageous price.

To Improve Mail Service.

"Postal Improvement" week will be observed, beginning May 1, according to an order of Hubert Works, postmaster general. The committee named to make plans for the campaign will devise a scheme whereby the personnel of the Postoffice Department will be urged to take a greater interest in the postal service, and the general public will be encouraged to lend a greater cooperation with postal authorities and employes in bringing about a more perfect mail service throughout the country.

Big Poultry Shipment Planned.

Roanoke—Randolph County is to ship a number of carloads of poultry to Eastern markets this year, if plans now on foot are accomplished. The first carload will leave Wadley in the next few days and several carloads will be gathered from time to time as the trade demands. The farmers are taking to this new plan for raising money and indications point to a success for the undertaking.

Farmers Organize Hay Marketing.

Montgomery — Final plans were made for formation of a farm bureau hay marketing pool, to consist of at least 10,000 tons in Alabama, to be sold on a plan identical to that proposed by the farm bureau for the marketing of cotton at a meeting in the office of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, attended by some of the leading hay growers of Alabama. A hay marketing organization committee was selected, with Col. James M. Williams, of Montgomery, as chairman and the other members of the committee being J. F. Compton, Allenville; Charles Johnson, Uniontown; Dr. Sam Clark, Danew; Dr. T. H. G. Cook, Cochran; J. J. Thornton, Boligee; W. C. Harrison, Gallion; J. R. Suter, Massillon; S. S. Cough, Uniontown, and D. F. Walker, Allenville. To facilitate the formation of the pool, the hay growing section of Alabama was divided into seven districts, with Pickens and Sumter counties forming District No. 1, Greene County No. 2, Perry County No. 3, Hale County No. 4, Marengo County No. 5, Dallas and Wilcox counties No. 6, and Montgomery, Macon, Bullock and Lowndes Counties No. 7. The association proposes to handle only alfalfa and Johnson grass hay.

Claim Tax Too High.

Birmingham—Tax assessments of the Republic Iron and Steel Company for 1920 and 1921 have been appealed from the tax adjustors to the board of revenue. The company's property for 1920 was valued at $4,422,460 and for 1921 at $4,224,-87. These assessments were recently made by the State Tax Commission sitting here to review the assesments of corporations whose taxes for 1920 and 1921 had been held up because of litigation over the right of the tax adjustors to examine the books of corporations. Following the Supreme Court decision giving them the right, all cases have been settled except that of the Republic Iron and Steel Company. The taxes of the company amounted to $126,000 for 1920 and 128,000 for 1921. The company claims the valuation of its property is too high.

Illiteracy Figures Compiled.

Birmingham—Figures compiled by the Federal Census Bureau, showing that in Alabama there are 278,082 illiterates 10 years old or more than 0, is evidence that the illiteracy problem is yet a long way from final solution in this state, according to educators. This estimate, contained in the April issue of the Alabama School Journal, places the percentage of illiteracy in all counties taken as a whole at 16.1. Jefferson, largest of the counties, leads with 26,063; Dallas is second with 13,512, while Montgomery County is given third place with 11,435. In the city of Montgomery alone, it is stated, ther are 4,554 illiterates.. 4,502 in the city of Mobile and 12,200 in Birmingham.

Plan Get-Together Selling Day.

Goodwater—Goodwater will have a co-operative sales day on April 17. This promises to be a great success. The merchants of the town are going to give the farmers the highest market price for all their produce in exchange for merchandise. It will be mutually beneficial for farmers and merchants. There will be a number of attractions for this day and a large crowd is expected. The Goodwater Commercial Club is behind the movement and every effort will be made to bring the town and surrounding country into a closer relation for the common good. Goodwater merchants have always sold their goods at less prices than surrounding towns.

School Nearing Completion.

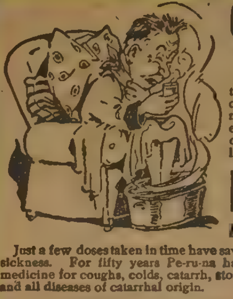
Tuscaloosa—The Northport School building on Academy Hill is nearing completion and is one of the most attractive schools in the county. The school is a graded and high school and is up to date in every respect. It is built of red brick and stucco, will accommodate about 400 pupils and when completed will cost $25,-000.

Planting Large Corn Crops.

Piedmont—Indications now are strong for heavy planting in this section. The order of the day among the farmers is corn planting. A drive in the county reveals a great amount of preparations and quite a lot of planting already. The indications also are that the icreage to cotton will be increased over last year's crop.

Road Through Piedmont.

Piedmont—The announcement that the War Department is interested in the construction of a permanent highway from Camp McClellan to the Georgia line has been received in Piedmont with much enthusiasm. The Piedmont Chamber of Commerce has been active for several months on the project and with the cooperation of Anniston and Jacksonville, succeeded in having this road placed on the map of designated federal and state aid roads



ONLY A COLD
BUT DON'T NEGLECT IT

A cold is an acute catarrh which can easily become chronic. A great many diseases may be traced to a catarrhal condition of the mucous membranes lining the organs or parts.

PE-RU-NA
AN IDEAL EMERGENCY REMEDY

Just a few doses taken in time have saved thousands from serious sickness. For fifty years Pe-ru-na has been the popular family medicine for coughs, colds, catarrh, stomach and bowel disorders and all diseases of catarrhal origin.

KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE
Tablets or Liquid — Sold Everywhere

HORSES COUGHING? USE
Spohn's Distemper Compound
to break it up and get them back in condition. Twenty-eight years' use has made "SPOHN'S" indispensable in treating Coughs and Colds, Influenza and Distemper, with their resulting complications, and all diseases of the throat, nose and lungs. Acts marvelously as a preventive, acts equally well as a cure. Obtainable in two sizes at drug stores.
SPOHN MEDICAL COMPANY — GOSHEN, INDIANA

Roltgen Razors
The Finest Razors Imported
Full Hollow Ground
⅝—$2.25 ⅝—$1.75
Parcel Post Prepaid
S. P. HEITSHU, Lancaster, Pa.

Don't worry about your looks. You will always look good to your friends.

FEED THE BEST!
Our feeds are well balanced and every sack guaranteed. When buying feed, demand the following brands, and you will be sure to obtain Quality Products: Dyerco Horse & Mule Feed, Larico Horse & Mule Feed, DMC Horse and Mule Feed, Dyerco Dairy Feed, Dyerco Hen Feed, Dyerco Chick Feed, Larico Hen Feed, DMC Hen Feed, DMC Chick Feed. If your local dealer is unable to supply you, write or wire us for delivered prices.
Dyersburg Milling Co., Dyersburg, Tennessee

There is one compensation for the man up a tree—he lives high.

ASPIRIN

WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin.

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

Colds — Headache — Rheumatism
Toothache — Neuralgia — Neuritis
Earache — Lumbago — Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions

Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists
Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

Makes Penny-a-Pound Soap
Giant Lye

Saves money.
Use Giant Lye for every batch of soft or hard soap. It is pure, strong lye.
Soap made with Giant Lye costs only one cent a pound.
Our FREE booklet tells you how. Send for it.
B. T. BABBITT, Successor
The Mendleson Corporation, 15 West 34th Street, New York

BIG OPENING SALE

The Leader

Clanton's New Dry Goods and Ready-to-wear Store

Sale starts Saturday April 8th and last 15 days. Our stock is complete and you are sure to get new clean goods

If you need any clothes we have the very newest styles and prices are so cheap yon will be astonished.

M. LANDE Manager

Look for the yellow front store. Next to Johnson Drug Co. Baker & Taylor old stand

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY ---------- Editor
J. L. JOHNSON, ---------- Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

A Better Spirit.

We believe we note an increasing tendency on the part of the leaders of both the local political parties to get on a higner and cleaner plane in this campaign than has been the custom heretofore, We hope so, at least.

Last week Editor Wyatt,. of the Union-Banner, joined with us in advocating such a policy and we most sincerely appreciate the position he has taken. With both the opposing papers contending for a clean, high class campaign in friendship, and on principles alone, we are encouraged to believe that we will be able this time, no matter which party wins, to shake hands after the battle is over and unite in the common cause of boosting Chilton county and Clanton as the BEST place on earth to live and do business.

Political conditions here in the past have left our county under a ban abroad. Let's show to the world that we are big enough, broad enough, clean enough and honorable enough to stage a friendly fight on party lines to its legitimate finish without soiling our honor or our souls with the filth and pollution of former years.

About Sanitation.

We are not an extremist on the question of sanitation, like some folks. The Bible says: "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," and we believe the Bible, and self preservation is supposed to be the first law of Nature, and we guess that is a fact also.

Well, then. We notice in the papers that the State Health Department is going to institute right away a rigid inspection all over the State. You may not know it, but it is a fact, that they have behind them some of the most drastic laws you ever heard of and they can enforce them every time. You can't dodge, but you can pay a fine or go to jail so quick it will make your head swim,

So much for that. Now, it looks like it would be the part of good business and wisdom for our city authorities to put on at once some sort of a sanitary system, partly in line, at least, with the State regulations, so that possibly we might "get by" without having the State to clean us up.

The main things they are going after in this Spring campaign is the proper screening and protection in markets, fruit and green vegetable stands, cafes, carta, wagons, or any other place where such commodities may be offered for sale.

They are also going to assess heavy fines and penalties for allowing open pig pens, stables, or other places where hogs or live stock may be handled, and they especially stress the order that all towns and cities must discontinue the practice of allowing the droppings from animals indiscriminately parked all over the streets to lie there and putrify as fly incubators.

A hint to the wise is sufficint. You all know what particular lines Clanton is lacking. Regulate these things if you want to, if not, the State will probably attend to it, and incidentally we might get some undesirable notoriety.

Hurry up, boys, and get organized and trained. The baseball season is right at the door.

Innocent mischief and fun is one thing and malicicions devilment is another. It takes a smart boy these days to discriminate between the two.

The Congressional junket to Muscle Shoals came, saw and returned just as ignorant as they were before. They had a good time, however, and the people paid the freight.

The latest dope is to pass up all action on the Muscle Shoals proposition until the December session of Congress. That is the sharpest scheme yet. The fall elections will be over then and the danger back home will not be so imminent. You can trust a Republican Congress to get by with anything if you give them time.

Harding won out and put over a bonus bill with sale tax attachments Wages going down and taxes going up tells the story of republican rule.

President Harding is not altogether the "figure head" you heard he was. He is showing the senate that he is like Collin's ram—got a head of his own.

Hon. Bibb Graves has promised us a hot campaign from now on against Plain Bill. Go to it, gentlemen, the rank and file will enjoy the fun.

The way the sidewalk paving movement is progressing now is a delight to us all. You can grouch if you feel like it, but Clanton is bound to be a city and that right away.

Senator Norris will introduce a bill this week providing for the government to complete and operate Muscle Shoals. Any old way will do just so they can pass the buck and unload the consequences on somebody else.

Ex-Governor O'Neal closed his pre-election ballot of the candidates in Alabama for the next legislature Friday night. He got a good many expressions, none of which mean anything. Mr. O'Neal launched his boom too early. It will be a hard matter to keep it inflated until election time.

The other day a wreck on the railroad caused train No. 1 to stop in Clanton for about an hour. Judges J. J. Mayfield and Leon McCord chanced to be on that train and they disembarked during the delay. In a few moments quite a crowd had assembled to welcome them, and shake hands and it was pleasing to note the cordiality with which they were greeted. It demonstrated conclusively that the people really honor and respect absolute honesty and distinguished ability in office. Both of these gentlemen are favorites all over Alabama and deservedly so. Our best wishes always go with them.

The Savior said, "ye cannot serve two masters." Congress is trying that statement out this term. That they are serving first and before all the capitalists goes without saying—they were born that way—but they are also attempting to play up to the common people for their votes' sake. They are making an awful mess out of the whole business and loosing frends among both classes.

The next legislature will have momentous questions to hammer on, but if any of them ever expect to see inside the legislative halls the second time they better arrange to lop off about half of the offices that are in vogue now and forget how to name "committees" and "commissions" to do the work. The people demand service now and are detirmined to have it.

Just as We Expected.

(This article was prepared for the News last week but was accidentnily left out.—Editor.)

Last Friday the four young people of our city, who had been confined in the Birmingham jail, charged with the killing of Dewell Barrett, at Dollar, were arraigned before Judge Dan Green, in that city, in a hebeas corpus suit, and the defense had an oppertunity to offer a little evidence on their side.

The Judge heard the case and immediately released them all on small bonds. They had only asked for bail but Judge Green rather left the impression in rendering his decision that he would have released them without bond just the same if they had asked for it.

From the very first the air was filled with wild and blood curdlingr rumors about this case and we all heard many conflicting stories until we hardly knew what had happened over there. To the writer it took on a flavor early in the agitation of too much private detective. They all work for money and arrests have to materialize under their manipulation if the pocket book of their employer is ever induced to open very wide.

Most of these private detectives are blessed with a vivid imagination and could build pretty blood and thunder fiction, but it is a wise course not to eat up too greedily, the propaganda they put out when working on a case. "Case" means "cash" with them and it is wise to await final results before making up your verdict on testimony promised by them. That part of the game is all in the day's work from their point of view.

As we have said before, we want to see the guilty punished in this case as well as in all others, but we fear the real culprit has successfully escaped while imaginary tales of romance have led the sleuths on the back track.

Subscribe for the Chilton County News $1.00 per year.

WATCH!
F. M. Connell's
Stock

Some overalls, work shirts, underwear, ladies' and men's hose, towels etc. have arrived and he says they will be sold right. Try him and be convinced.

He is yet buying chickens eggs and country produce of all kinds that he can re-handle.

Hot weather is Here

Those old tires will soon blow out. Let us put on new set so that driving will be a pleasure.

We have a large stock of new Goodyear tires and tubes. We deliver casings or tubes during work hours, within 10 miles free. Call on us when in trouble

Lawrence Garage,
CLANTON, ALABAMA

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabamr.
Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be rupliocater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps,Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is up to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the least come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

YOU CAN'T MISS THIS!

TO BUY YOUR GROCERIES

We have the best assorted stock of goods in Central Alabama and if you have not looked thru ur line of goods it will be money to you to do so, because we sell strictly for cash and therefore we an give you more for your money than if we did a credit business.

We have a nice line of staple groceries that we are going to sell regardless of the price, and here re a few of the many bargains that we have to offer:

Notice
Our Show Windows
NEXT
Saturday

Kenny's Special Blend Coffee, per pound	Regular Price 25c	Sale Price 18c
Big 5 pound package Competition Coffee	" 1.25c	" 1.00
Peanut Butter	" 10c	" 08
"	" 15c	" 12
Army Corned Beef, 2 lb can,	" 20c	" 15
Genuine Sock Eye Salmon, per can,	" 45c	35
Bank Salmon,	" 20c	12
Big Size Vienna Sausage	" 15c	" 12
Lippenscot Apple Jelly, per glass	" 20c	" 15
Thoma's Pork and Beans, per can	" 15c	" 12
Army Bacon 12 lb-can	" 2.00c	1.75
Old Dutch Cleanser per can	" 15c	" 12
6 Packages of Soda,	1 for 5c	24
6 " Grandma's		" 25
Rice, 6c per pound.

Anything
For The
Kitchen

In addition to this, we have the sole agency of John Lucas Paint, which in the paint line, is a scientific perfection and any one buying paint from we will guarantee perfect satisfaction or refund the money you paid us and also the price of the labor for putting the paint on.

We arə behind you. John Lucas is behind us.

We also handle Reliance Aluminum ware, Greystone Enamel ware, and an assorted stock of Hardware, Furniture of all kinds, such as wood and iron dsteads, chairs, dressers, washstands, rockers, davenports, porch furniture, rugs, art squares, bed sprinps, mattresses, blakets, cots and cot pads.

In the farming line we have plow collars, wagon collars, check lines, plow lines, bridles, collar pads, backbands, plow points, all kinds of plow clevises eld and garden hoes, field and garden seeds.

The best always comes at the last and this time it is the wire fencing we handle. It is the Anthony fencing made by the American Steel and Wire Co. e have this wire from 28 inches to 60 inches high. If you havn't tried us come and look us over and we will appreciate your patronage.

W. W. FOX, THE AUCTION MAN

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

fulline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic ises. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. lotor Hearse service in town or country Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

To my friends and Customers

I Will be open next week with a full line of new and up-to-date Dry Goods, Shoes, Clothing and furnishing for the entire family.

I will occupy Baker & Taylor's present place

I will be glad to see all of my friends.

Formely of the New York Store.

My store will be known as the LEADER.

M. Landc

et Us Do Your Work

HARD FOUGHT GAME

Chilton Hi and Thorsby Institute pulled of the closest and cleanest base ball game of the season last Friday afternoon.

Thorsby took the head in the start and it looked for awhile like they had the situation by the tail and a down hill pull, but the Chilton boys crossed their fingers and double-crossed the jinx and nosed out winners in the last half of the 12th inning.

Riggins was in the box for Chilton Hi until the 4th frame and Thorsby was treating themselves to a batting feast but Coach Heard came to the relief of Riggins and put Julius Burnett on the firing line instead. His benders put Thorsby out of joint and before the 9th went dead on its last hit, Red Wagoner at bat, piled out a three bagger on third strike and tied the score.

The game then went up to the last half of the 12th with neither side eating any cake, when burnett put out a two bagger and Wagoner scored and all was over except the shouting.

Following is the box score;

Chilton Hi.

	AB	R	H	E
Sims, c	4	0	2	0
Hays, s s	6	2	1	0
Wagoner, 2 b	5	2	4	0
Roberts, 1 b	5	1	2	1
Burnett, 3 b & p	5	1	1	3
Jones, c f	5	1	2	0
Wyatt, r f & 3 b	5	0	2	0
Reynolds, l f	6	0	3	0
Riggins, p	4	0	0	0
Cox, r f	2	0	0	0
Total	48	7	17	4

Two base hits: Burnett, 1, Jones, 2, Wyatt, 1, Reynolds, 2. Three base hits: Wagoner, 1. Double play, Jones to Roberts.

Thorsby Institute.

	AB	R	H	E
Glasscock, c	6	0	3	1
McCrary, s s	6	1	1	0
Littleton, p	6	0	2	0
Tatum, 1 b	6	2	2	0
Langston, 3 b	6	2	0	0
Leary, c f	5	0	1	0
Nolen, r f	5	1	1	0
Bell, l f	6	0	0	1
Deason, 2 b	5	0	0	0
Total	51	6	10	2

Strike outs: Riggins, 5, Burnett, 7, Littleton, 11. Walked: Riggins, 4, Burnett, 2, Littleton, 2.

Hoyt Reynolds in left field for the locals especially starred in accepting all chances and making good.

NEW STORE BUILDING

Dr. Gowan is having erected a nice pressed brick and glass front business house joining the Tom Rockett building on the north.

We learn that the Easterling cafe will occupy the new building as soon as it is completed and that the place it is now in will be filled up with a 5 and 10 cent stock as soon as the cafe vacates.

We do Job Printing.

Keep Cool and Come to JOHNSON DRUG Co.

For Ice Cream And Drugs Also

Pure Drugs, Druggist Sundries, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Cigars, Tobacco of all kinds and Complete line of candies

Johnson Drug Company

Clanton, - - - - Alabama.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. f your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Money to Loan 3-4 of $100,000

I am in position to loan the above amount to farmers of Chilton County with which to Insure their property.

The Insurance contract is for five years and we Insure all your property against Fire, Lightening, and Wind Storms.

You pay one fifth cash and the other four fifths in four annual installments without interest.

This is an Old Line Company and Old Line rates. I also sell Old Line Life Insurance for one of the large Old Line Companies.

I also sell the old, reliable Singer Machines on easy payments, and take old Machine in exchange.

C. Reese Mullins Agt.
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

We Do Job Printing.

THE GIRL, A HORSE AND A DOG

By FRANCIS LYNDE

Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons

"IT'S A HOLDUP!"

Synopsis. — Under his grandfather's will, Stanford Broughton, society idler, finds his share of the estate, valued at something like $400,000, lies in a "safe repository," latitude and longitude described, and that is all. It may be identified by the presence nearby of a brown-haired, blue-eyed girl, a piebald horse, and a dog with a split face, half black and half white. Stanford at first regards the bequest as a joke, but after consideration sets out to find his legacy. On his way to Denver Stanford hears from a fellow traveler, Charles Bullerton, a mining engineer, a story having to do with a flooded mine. He has a "hunch" this mine is the "safe repository" of the will. Bullerton refuses him information. On the station platform at Atropia, just as the train pulls out, Stanford sees what appear to be the identical horse and dog described in his grandfather's will. Impressed, he leaves the train at the next stop, Angels. Unable to secure a conveyance, Broughton seizes a track-inspection car and escapes, leaving the impression on the town marshal, Beasley, that he is demented. Pursued, he abandons the car, which is wrecked, and escapes on foot. In the darkness he is overtaken by the girl, the horse and the dog. After he explains his presence, she invites him to her home, at the Old Cinnabar mine. Broughton's hosts are Hiram Twombly, caretaker of the mine, and his daughter Jeanie. Stanford does not reveal his identity. Hiram and Stanford go puttering about the mine. Stanford gets interested in the work and falls in love with Jeanie, who saves his life. Bullerton shows up at the mine.

CHAPTER VIII.—Continued.

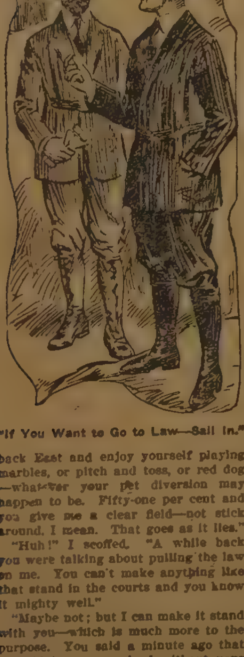
—5—

"You're not the only pebble on the beach, Bullerton," I said, looking him squarely in the eye. "What you can do with this mine, another mining engineer can do quite as well; and the other man will probably be willing to do it without asking the fenced-in earth for his reward."

"Humph!" he grunted; "so that's your play, is it?" Then, after a scowling pause: "You're licked before you begin. You're fighting without ammunition, Broughton. You haven't any money, and you'll look a long time before you'll find an engineer able to finance his own experiment on your drowned proposition."

"That may be," I retorted. "But if you told me the story straight that night in the Pullman, you can't turn a wheel until I tell you to go ahead. So your contract, if you've got one, doesn't amount to a hill of beans."

"That point may make a nice little question for the courts to decide," he snapped. "But I don't want to go to law about this thing, and neither do you. As a matter of fact, you haven't any money to throw away in a legal scrap. You make me a deed to fifty-one per cent of the Cinnabar property, just as it stands, and then you may go back East and enjoy yourself playing marbles, or pitch and toss, or red dog—whatever your pet diversion may happen to be. Fifty-one per cent and you give me a clear field—not stick around, I mean. That goes as it lies."



"If You Want to Go to Law—Sail In."

"Huh!" I scoffed. "A while back you were talking about pulling the law on me. You can't make anything like that stand in the courts and you know it mighty well."

"Maybe not; but I can make it stand with you—which is much more to the purpose. You said a minute ago that I couldn't turn a wheel without your consent. You can't turn a wheel at all—without money."

His rubbing the poverty gibe into me made me madder than ever and I thought it was about time to tell him where he got off.

"Then, by Jove, the wheels needn't turn!" I considered. "And that lets you out. If you want to go to law about that contract—sail in. That's all I've got to say."

"Oh, hold on!" he protested, with mock concern. Then he showed me plainly what he'd been doing in the interval between his first and this second appearance in the Red Desert region. "I've had time to look you up, you know. You're engaged to a girl back East and you can't marry her because you haven't money enough. Half a loaf is better than no bread; and I'm offering you very nearly the half loaf. Take a day or so to think it over. I'm in no hurry." And with that he went back to the cabin across the dump and left me warming the anvil.

I guess it will say itself that the next few days stacked up about as wretched an interval as I had ever been called upon to put over.

Bullerton had a masterful sort of grip that seemed to give him a strangle-hold upon everything he tackled. At table and in the evenings before the fire he monopolized the talk and the rest of us sat around like stoughton-bottles and let him do it.

It didn't help matters out much when Daddy Hiram, chasing me up on one of the days when I was dodging Bullerton, gave me the sealed envelope which my grandfather had left with him. As will be remembered, it was on the night of Bullerton's arrival at the Cinnabar that I had told Daddy and his daughter who I was, and the subject hadn't been again referred to by any of us. But now Daddy, having overtaken me on one of the trails above the mine, sat beside me on a flat rock and we had it out together.

"You knew who I was from the first, Daddy?" I asked.

"Not right plumb at first, no," he qualified. "You see, I didn't know who I was looking for. Always reckoned somebody'd be along, 'f course, but I hadn't had any idea who 'r when."

"I'm afraid I've been a pretty sorry disappointment to you," I muttered. "I have no money and I don't know enough to be any good at the mining game. And that reminds me: my grandfather paid you a regular salary for the caretaking, didn't he?"

"Uh-huh."

"That has been discontinued since his death?"

"I reckon so."

"I have a little income of my own; not much, but enough for the way we're living here. It must be understood that I share it with you and Jeanie, so long as I stay with you."

"Ain't no need o' your doin' that, Stannie. I got a little stake hid out for a pinch."

In all this, you will notice, there was no word said about Bullerton. We sat in silence for a while, Daddy chewing a spear of grass. After a time he called attention to the envelope which I still held unopened in my hands.

"Don't ye want to know what your gran'paw says?" he asked mildly.

At this I slit the end of the envelope. Its contents were a deed in fee simple to the Cinnabar and a note to me, written in Grandfather Jasper's cramped, old-fashioned handwriting. In the note he merely said that he was leaving me a property which had cost him pretty well up to half a million and that he hoped I'd brace up and go to work and make something out of it, adding that if I hadn't been such a hopeless idler all my life he might have considered the propriety of adding an experimental fund to the gift. As it was, I must work out my own salvation—if I were anxious to possess any of that commodity.

I think it was on the fourth day after his arrival that Bullerton cornered me again and again it was in the deserted blacksmith shop.

"Well, Broughton," he began abruptly, seating himself once more upon the empty dynamite box, "I've given you plenty of time to think it over. Where do you stand now?"

"Right exactly where I did in the beginning," I snapped. "I don't want any forty-nine-fifty-one per cent partnership with you; neither that nor any other kind."

"All right," he rejoined, brusquely; "we'll call that phase of it a back number and go on to something else. I'll buy your mine, just as it stands, water and all—and that's what nobody else would do, you'd better believe."

"For how much?"

"For fifty thousand dollars—cash."

"No," I grated. "I don't need a little money that badly."

"Fifty thousand isn't a little; at a good, safe, investment interest it will give you an income of three thousand a year. And that's more than you're getting now out of what your father left you."

"You seem to know a good bit about my private affairs," I growled.

"You said a mouthful, then. I've made it my business to find out about them. There's nothing much to you, Broughton, when you come right down to brass tacks. You had a good education, but you haven't had get-up-and-get enough in you to make any use of it."

"The less you dig in my private garden patch, the better we shall get along," I told him.

He was silent for a moment. He had picked up a bit of iron rod and was tracing hieroglyphic figures with it in the dust of the shop floor. Presently he looked up with a sort of mocking leer.

"Been trying to carry sentimental water on both shoulders, haven't you? I'm telling you right now, Broughton, it's no use. I filed on the little Blue-eyes claim over yonder in Twombly's cabin a long, long time before you ever saw or heard of it."

That remark of his carried things over the edge for me.

"See here, Bullerton," I said, and I suppose I stuck out my jaw at him as people say I do when I'm beginning to feel ugly, "there are limits, and I'll pay you the compliment of assuming that you are not quite a born fool. We are going to leave Miss Twombly out of it; completely and absolutely out of it."

"You may; but I shan't," he grinned back at me. "In point of fact, my dear fellow, now that I come to think of it, you'll have to leave her out."

"Not for anything you may say or do, or leave unsaid or undone."

"Yes, you will; and for something that I may say. And I guess this is as good a time as any to mention it. Have you forgotten that you have advertised yourself in this out-of-the-way corner of the world rather successfully as one of two things: a pretty dangerous sort of lunatic, or—a criminal? As a matter of fact, the railroad detectives have been looking high, low and level for you ever since you stole that inspection motor at the Angels platform and got it smashed."

"Mr. Broughton—Stannie, Are You Here?"

"Twombly knows about that; and so does Miss Twombly," I cut in.

"They wouldn't give you away, of course; in a certain sense you are Twombly's guest, and in another you're his employer. But you'll notice that neither of these restrictions apply to me. Now, perhaps, you can understand just why you are obliged, in ordinary prudence, to leave the girl out of it—and why I am not so obliged."

"Miss Twombly, herself, has the casting vote on that," is what I flung at him.

"She has already voted," he said coolly. Then: "You're not in the game, Broughton; you don't hold anything higher than a seven-spot, and you are bucking a straight flush. Do you take fifty thousand and vanish? That is the one live question of the moment."

"No."

"Very well; I'll give you another day to think it over; but I'm warning you here and now that the price will shrink. It is fifty thousand today, say up to sunset; tomorrow it will be forty thousand."

I slid from the anvil and half unconsciously picked up the blacksmith's hand-hammer.

"You go straight to h—l," I said; and at that he left me.

I sat down to try once more to think things out to some sort of an action focus. Should I take Bullerton's fifty thousand and quit? Common sense said Yes, spelling it with a capital and underscoring it for emphasis. What was the use in hanging on? Hadn't we proved that the mine was undrainable, save, perhaps, at the enormous cost of driving an underrunning tunnel from a lower slope of the mountain?

Then there was Jeanie. Then, again, there was Lisette. Fifty thousand dollars at six per cent would buy her hats—but it wouldn't buy much else. I could picture the calm and collected way in which she would say, "Yes, Stannie; you've succeeded nicely in financing the hats. But you know as well as I do that we couldn't buy hats and keep a car on three thousand a year."

I had just climbed down to this bottom round of the ladder of dejection when I heard a bit of noise and looked up to see a small, trim figure darkening the engine-room door. Then a voice that I would have recognized in a thousand voices all speaking at once, said:

"Mr. Broughton—Stannie, are you here?"

CHAPTER IX.

To Fish or Cut Bait.

It is nothing short of wonderful how the sourest grouch can sometimes be banished by a single word. That word "Stannie," you know; she had never called me that before; though her father had been using the familiar handle, western-wise, right along, almost from the day I landed on the Cinnabar reservation.

"Yes," I said, and jumped up and went to her.

"Did you ever hear of such a thing as a bear with a sore head?" she asked, in the tone of a schoolma'am asking the dull boy if he'd ever heard of the letter "A."

"Often," I admitted.

"Well, isn't that the way you've been acting?"

"Haven't I some little cause?"

"Maybe, of course, I'm willing to make some allowances. It does seem provoking that your grandfather should have left things in such a dreadful muddle."

"How much do you know about the muddle?" I asked.

"I know that old Mr. Dudley let, or partly let, a contract for the draining of the mine, to a man who was almost a total stranger to him."

I saw how it was. Bullerton, always readier to talk than a stuck pig is to bleed, had been giving her his own version of things. But I let that part of it go.

"Grandfather Jasper was laboring for the good of my soul. He knew his 'medium,' as the artists say. He wanted to make me work—something that nobody else has ever been able to do."

"Don't you like to work?"

"Why-e-e, I guess I'm like other folk in that respect. I don't mind working if I can pick my job—and my company. I've been having a bully good time hammering around this old bunch of junk with your father. Or I was having one until Satan came also."

"Meaning Mr. Bullerton?"

"Quite so; meaning Mr. Bullerton, christened 'Charles.'"

"Ought I to stay here and listen if you're going to say things about him?"

"Not if you are going to marry him, you shouldn't."

"Well, why shouldn't I marry him if I want to? Hasn't he plenty of money? And haven't I told you that I'd marry for money?"

"Humph!" said I; "when you talk that way you are saying out loud just what Lisette says to herself—only you don't mean it and she does. But tell me how did you get permission to come over here and talk with me?"

"Whose permission—Daddy's?"

"No; Bullerton's, of course."

"I don't have to ask it—yet."

"Not yet, but soon," I grinned. "All things come to him—or her—who waits. Just the same, you shouldn't have come. It's cruelty to animals. After a man has traveled thousands of miles to sit at the feet of the one girl in the universe, only to find himself elbowed by a brown-whiskered jeet—"

"Hush!" she chided. "Can't you ever be serious? You are not sitting at anybody's feet. What are you going to do about the mine?"

"Bullerton offered to unwater the Cinnabar if I'd deed him a bit more than a half interest—and possibly he'd still be willing to do that, which would mean that he'd form a stock company and freeze me out completely when he got good and ready."

"And what is the other way?"

"He offers to buy the mine outright, just as it stands, for fifty thousand dollars."

"But your grandfather paid nearly half a million for it, didn't he?"

"Even so. But, you see, in the present scrap I'm the under dog. The man you are going to marry has none of the nice little scruples in a business transaction—if you'll permit me to go that far. He even threatens to turn me over to the authorities for stealing that inspection car and getting it smashed."

"Oh, I don't believe he'd do that!" she deprecated.

"It is perfectly right and proper that you shouldn't think so—in the circumstances. Just the same, you'll pardon me if I say that I'm swearing continuously and prayerfully at the circumstances."

"You don't want me to marry money and have good clothes and all the other nice things, and travel and see the world, and all that?"

"No, by Jove! I want you to marry me."

Her laugh was just a funny little gurgle.

"Bluebeard!" she said, just like that. "And you haven't even killed Miss Randle yet! Thank you, ever so much; but I don't want to be one of several. Besides, you haven't any money."

Talk of impasses and impossible situations! What could a man say, or hope to say, to such a girl as that!

"Did you come over here just to torment me?" I gasped.

"Woof!" she shivered, "here comes the bear again!" and then, right smash out of a clear sky: "Kiss me—just once, Stannie-bear."

Did I? She was gasping a bit when she got up rather unsteadily to go back to the cabin across the dump head and wouldn't stay another minute, though I begged and pleaded with her.

"No, indeed, Bluebeard man," she said with that queer little gurgle of a laugh. "I—I think I have found out what I wanted to. Goodby." And then, after I thought she was clean gone, she turned back to say, airily: "Oh, yes; I had almost forgotten what I came over here to tell you. You mustn't sell the Cinnabar, Stannie; not for any price that anybody might offer you. Goodby, again."

Can you beat it? When the good Lord made women He doubtless had many patterns; but I do believe the mold was broken and thrown away after this Jeanie girl had been fashioned. For a solid hour or more I sat on that slab bench at the shafthouse door in a sort of bewildered daze, wondering if I had been asleep and dreaming, or if the bedazzling thing had really happened.

At breakfast the next morning everything passed off as usual and for anything that Jeanie said or looked there needn't have been any bench beside the shafthouse door and the dream theory I had been playing with might have been the sober fact. An hour later, after I had gone across to the mine, Bullerton came over to dig me out, as before.

"Forty thousand this morning," he announced as chipper as an English sparrow over an unexpected heap of street sweepings. "Say, Broughton, can you afford to let your capital shrink at the rate of ten thousand dollars a day? If you should ask me, I should say not."

"You never miss what you haven't had," I shot back. "There are no takers on the floor this morning."

"Right-o; it'll be thirty thousand tomorrow, you must remember. At that rate you'll be owing me quite a chunk of money by this time next week. That's about all I have to say—excepting one more little thing: No more chinny little tete-a-tetes in the starlight, old man, or I shall be obliged to put the gad to you; the railroad gad, you know."

It made me so boiling hot to have him admit, thus baldly, that he had been spying upon Jeanie and me the previous evening that I could scarcely see straight.

"That will be about enough!" I barked. "I told you the other day that there were limits, and you've walked up and looked over the edge two or three times. You may think you have as many lives as a cat, but I doubt it!"

He laughed and threw back the lapel of his coat to show me a regulation six-gun slung by a shoulder strap under his left arm.

"You pulled a hammer on me yesterday," he said, letting the laugh lapse into a grin that showed his fine mouthful of teeth; "and you probably didn't know that you would have been a dead man before you could swing it. Oh, yes; I could do it, and any coroner's jury in the Red desert would acquit me; dangerous lunatic—self-defense, you know. That's a word to the wise, and it ought to be sufficient. But I have a better life-insurance policy than any that the six-gun could write me: you're in love with Jeanie Twombly—in spite of that girl back East; and because you are, you are not going to make her a widow before the fact. You're not selling your mine for forty thousand—cold cash—this morning?"

"Not this morning or any other morning."

"Good. I can afford to stick around here a few days longer, I guess—at the rate of ten thousand dollars a day. So long." And he picked his way out of the clutter of the shop and went across to the cabin—and Jeanie.

Later, along in this same day, while I was standing at the shaft mouth and staring down at the water that was keeping me out of my heritage, Daddy Hiram came up.

"Still a-puzzlin' over it, Stannie?" he asked, in the sympathetic tone that he always used when he spoke of the Great Disappointment.

"There's nothing to it, Daddy," I gloomed. "Bullerton has me by the neck, and he knows it."

He tiptoed to the door and peeped out.

"You've heard 'em say 'at curiosity killed a cat?" he said, out of the corner of his mouth; "well, the cat's a-comin'. Skip out o' that other door, Stannie, and hit for the timber. I'll ketch up with you in a little spell."

I didn't know exactly what he was driving at until after I got clear of the mine buildings and was climbing the slope of the mountain above. Then I looked back and saw Bullerton sauntering across the dump head. He was evidently bent on another little job of spying; either that, or else he didn't want Daddy and me to get together by ourselves.

Under cover of the forest I sat down and waited; and in a short time Daddy joined me, making an excuse for the dodge-away that didn't mean at all.

"I got a claim over yonder right-hand gulch—the one 'at workin' when your gran'paw along," he said. "Thought you'd like to mog over with take a look at her."

Of course, I said I'd be de so we made a detour around nabar, keeping out of sight fr cabin and shaft-house, and pus around the western slope for half a mile until we came to th in which the abandoned claim

Working entirely alone, Dad driven a tunnel possibly a hund deep straight into the solid rock mountain side, following the th and hoping that it would wid a "pay-streak." After he had a few yards into the tunnel, he me to a seat on a pile of broke and took one himself with h against the opposite wall.

"I'm gettin' just naturally so a gosh-dummed crowd," he re switching suddenly from his tal abandoned claim. "Feel som if I'd like to swap skins with dummed gopher and duck plu a hole."

"Well," said I, grinning a "you've ducked, for once in a w so have I. What about it?"

"Charley Bullerton," he sp without further preface. "Th tongued word artist sure does my nerves. What-all's he tryin to you, anyway, Stannie?"

I didn't see any reason shouldn't know, so I told him it, from start to finish, offers, ings, and threats, but, of course ing about the Jeanie factor.

"Great Moses!" he ejaculated, end of the sorry tale. "Why Methusaleh!—it's a hold-up! I reckon he kin unwater the Ci

"Surest thing in the world could you or I, if we had the to drive a long drainage tunn the lower slope."

The old man smoked thoughtful silence for a few Then he said:

"'Bout that there tunnel job thin' like two hundred thous figerd that'd cost, with no didn't we, Stannie?"

"That was the figure."

"And, first off, Charley I'l was willin' to give you fifty th for your rights—though now he's shaved it down to forty. mean an investment of at le hundred and fifty thousand; all out and nothin' a-comin' in. where that's fetchin' us to. I know what your gran'paw paid mine, but it was less'n half a and I reckon he paid ever' d was worth, don't you?"

He Waved Me to a Seat, on of Broken Rock.

"Doubtless he did," I admitt

"So there's where we land," h on speculatively. "Two hundr fifty thousand tacked onto half lion gives her a capital of thre ters of a million sunk in her, fi last. Question is: Is she worth

I was beginning to get his last. He was wondering if a that had once sold at a to price of half a million could the investment of a quarter of lion additional and still hope a paying proposition.

"You mean that Bullerton is ing upon spending a quarter of lion more on it?" I queried.

"Nope; I reckon I can't. The nigger in the woodpile, somew Stannie, as sure 's you're born

"Bullerton has stolen deed to the Cinnabar!"

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

The bank wrecker may be out, but the bank usually sink

CALOMEL IS A DANGEROUS DRUG

Next Dose May Salivate You, Loosen Teeth or Start Rheumatism.

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up, better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Advertisement.

As a Friend.

"Is Flubdub a free thinker?"

"No, he's married."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

MOTHER! OPEN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Your little one will love the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" even if constipated, bilious, irritable, feverish, or full of cold. A teaspoonful never fails to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the sour bile and undigested food out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

That Started Him.

Staylate (at 11:30 p. m.)—"My motto is to live and let live."

Miss Bright (stifling a yawn)—"I wish it was to sleep and let sleep."

ADVANTAGES OF PARCEL POST.

You make a secure bundle of your shoes and perhaps Father's or sister's or a friend's, that needs ½ sole or heel, or some other work to put them in good shape. You send them by Parcel Post to The Kenton Shoe Hospital, which is really a well equipped small Shoe Factory. The repairs will be done by factory methods that will more than please you, and your shoes returned in a surprisingly short time looking nearer like new than you would believe possible. The work will be done by Expert Shoemakers, having wide experience in shoe factories making high grade shoes. We also have men experienced in all kinds of leather goods repairs, suit-cases renewed, and repaired. The Kenton Shoe Hospital, 1001-1009 Market St., Chattanooga, Tenn.—Advertisement.

Historic Date.

On June 2, 1875, while experimenting on his harmonic telegraph, Alexander Graham Bell made the discovery that led to the construction of the first telephone.

DON'T FEAR ASPIRIN IF IT IS GENUINE

Look for Name "Bayer" on Tablets, Then You Need Never Worry.

To get genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" you must look for the safety "Bayer Cross" on each package and on each tablet.

The "Bayer Cross" means true, world-famous Aspirin, prescribed by physicians for over twenty-one years, and proved safe by millions for Colds, Headache, Earache, Toothache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Neuritis, and for Pain in general. Proper and safe directions are in each unbroken "Bayer" package.—Advertisement.

Now and then you hear of an ideal husband—but, honest, now, did you ever see one?

YOU CANNOT AFFORD

To let your little hurts and ailments get bad.

Keep Vacher-Balm handy for Burns, Boils, Cuts, Corns, Piles, or Soreness anywhere.

"Ask your druggist. Avoid imitations. —Advertisement.

Why isn't a wealthy actor a fixed star?

All Played Out at Quitting Time?
You Need
TANLAC
The World's Greatest Tonic

WARS IN IRELAND ARE STILL RAGING

DESPITE AGREEMENT, SEVERAL MEN ARE SHOT, INCLUDING TWO POLICEMEN

INCENDIARY FIRES NUMEROUS

Ulster Citizens Express Fear That Sinn Fein Army Along Border Cannot Be Controlled.

Belfast, Ireland.—Despite the Irish peace agreement signed one night recently in London, violence continues in Ulster province. Four men, two of them policemen, were shot down in the streets. Tremendous damage was done by a series of incendiary fires in the business district. One bomb was thrown.

A member of the Ulster constabulary was killed and another wounded when a detachment of Sinn Feiners, armed with rifles and a machine gun, ambushed and attacked a police patrol at Newry. The attackers escaped.

Rebel troops of the Irish Republican army held up a train near Newton-Cunningham and burned a quantity of goods, says a dispatch from Londonderry.

Other rebels ejected loyal members of the Irish Republican army from barracks in Cardenagh and Moville. The Swilley hotel at Moville was commandeered by the raiders.

News of the peace agreement was received in Belfast with mixed sentiments, the Unionists expressing doubt as to whether troops of the Irish Republican army can be controlled along the Ulster border.

SIAMESE TWINS DIE, BAFFLING FAMOUS DOCTORS

One Sister Follows Other To Death In Few Seconds—Operation Was Refused.

Chicago.—Josefa and Rosa Blazek, the "Siamese twins," died at a hospital here. Josefa's death occured first and was followed in a few seconds by the death of her sister. Physicians declared that in the event of the death of one of the sisters the other would die quickly, as their brother, Frank Blazek, had refused to permit an operation which would sever their bodies.

The twins had been in the hospital ten days. Josefa was ill with yellow jaundice, and that was followed by pneumonia. Shortly before her death Rosa was afflicted with bronchitis.

Preparations had been made for the severing operation and the physicians were ready to make every effort to safe the life of at least one of the women.

Hope of saving the life of Josefa was finally abandoned according to Dr. B. H. Breakstone, chief of the surgical staff at the hospital.

"I tried to get the consent of the brother to operate to save the life of Rosa, but he refused to give his permission," the physician added.

Doctor Breakstone explained that a delicate operation would have been necessary. Before their death he had expressed the opinion that the physiological affinity of the twins was so vital that if one should die the other might also succumb before the band of flesh and bone that joins them could be severed.

British Miners Support U. S. Miners

London.—The British Miners' Union is going to give its support to the American miners, in their national strike, which begins April 1. The British coal miners, however, will not take any action to stop the shipment of coal to the United States unless the United Mine Workers of America request it. This information comes from Vernon Hartshorn, M. P., head of the South Wales Miners' Federation and a member of the executive committee of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain.

Deficit in Income Tax Receipts Shown

Washington.—If the already immense deficit in income tax receipts confronting the treasury keeps mounting, Republican leaders admit that congress may be called on to provide additional new tax legislation before the end of the present session.

Makes First Leg Of Ocean Flight

Lisbon.—The Fairey hydro-aeroplane (a 400-horse power machine), which is flying from Lisbon to Brazil, reached the Canary islands, 1,000 miles from here after a flight of eight hours, and reported "all well." Two Portuguese officers are making the flight, Pilot Coutinho and Captain Seadura. After examining their machine and repairing any defects which may have developed during the first leg of the flight, they are expected to take advantage of the first favorable weather to go on to the Cape Verde islands.

College May Get "Siamese Twins"

Chicago.—An investigation of the deaths of Mrs. Josefa Blazek and her sister, Rosa, known as the "Siamese twins," was started after their death by Coroner Hoffman. Following a conference with the doctors connected with the case, however, the coroner abandoned his plans for a postmortem examination and authorized the issuance of a death certificate. Frank, Jr., brother of the twins, who had been joined since birth, indicated that he would make arrangements for giving the bodies to a medical college.

TELLS OF LEAGUE'S ACTIVITY

Wide Ramifications Of League's Activities Disclosed in Testimony Of Wayne B. Wheeler

Washington.—Testimony of Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon league, before the house appropriations committee, made public, revealed that the organization had protested the nomination "of half a dozen or more federal judges." Mr. Wheeler added that he had never asked for the transfer of a federal judge.

Asked by Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, if he had ever recommended the appointment of a federal judge, Mr. Wheeler replied:

"We have protested the appointment of some, and I think that when some have come up I have sent across letters stating that such and such men have made very effective, faithful public officials and if they were appointed to those places would doubtless make the same kind of a record. We did not go into the question of picking personalities."

Pressed as to the number of judgeship nominations which he had protested on behalf of the league, Mr. Wheeler replied that it was done in the cases "of half a dozen or more federal judges."

Mr. Wheeler was questioned by Mr. Tinkham as to his dealings with government officials in his general desire to bring about rigid prohibition enforcement.

"I now want to ask along these lines and I think it is legitimate," said Mr. Tinkham, "about your approach to public officials—whether you have approached them or not. Did you approach the president in relation to the appointment of a secretary of the treasury—who should be secretary of the treasury."

"I sent him a communication, I think," Mr. Wheeler replied, "asking that no one be placed in that position who was hostile to the enforcement of law, inasmuch as he would have something to do with it. We did not take up with him particularly the personnel or anything else as I recall it."

Mr. Wheeler said there were a number of good officials now enforcing the law who did not believe in prohibition.

Touching on the question of the league's [illegible] policy, Mr. Tinkham introduced a statement signed by Mr. Wheeler and filed with the clerk of the house October 29, 1920, showing the expenditure of about $554. Some of it in the Minnesota district represented by Chairman Volstead, of the house judiciary committee, author of the Volstead law.

To Teach Short Story Writing

Macon.—Mrs. Helen Topping Miller, short story writer, who has a number of stories published in The Saturday Evening Post and other magazines, has accepted a position to teach short story writing at Mercer university and will meet her class for the first time soon. Mrs. Miller is the author of more than 250 short stories. She is a graduate of the A. & M. college of Michigan and has been writing for several years.

Four Surrender On Liquor Charge

Macon.—Four alleged moonshiners who federal prohibition officers say figured in the raid near Adrian, Ga., recently, in which F. Barwick, alleged moonshiner, was killed and Ed F. Newberry, prohibition officer, was wounded, surrendered here. They are charged in a federal warrant with manufacturing liquor. The man gave the names of George Hutchison, Manning Hutchison, Will Moore and Elijah S. Skinner.

Did Fishing Boat Fail To Heed Signal?

Miami, Fla.—The charges of Pilot Robert Moore, sole survivor of the Miss Miami, that a fishing boat failed to heed his signals and passed the wrecked plane, leaving Moore and his five passengers to the mercy of the sea, will be investigated by the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce, it is said here.

Woman Shoots Self; Turns On Gas

Scranton, Pa.—Believed to have been mentaly unbalanced, Mrs. P. J. Morgan, 50, wife of a banker here, and a sister of Dr. James G. Walsh, member of the Fordham University faculty, attempted to end her life in her home in North Scranton recently. She shot herself and then turned on the gas. Her condition is critical. She had been ill a long time and had just returned from a sanitarium at Buffalo, N. Y.

Big Oil Well Gushes In Pittsburg City

Pittsburg, Pa.—Oil, said to be of an unusually high grade, has been brought in with a natural flow of more than a hundred barrels a day, from a well located on a one hundred-acre tract of land in the heart of the Twenty-eighth ward of Pittsburg. The well is claimed to be the strongest ever tapped in this district, and is also reported to be the first oil well to be brought in within the city limits of Pittsburg. On reliable authority, it is stated that the flow is in big paying quantity and quality.

Prisoner Wounded In Court Room

Fayetteville, Ga.—After being convicted for burglary and sentenced in open court room here, Genus Cofield sprang suddenly upon Weyman Cofield, his nephew, whose sensational confession had convicted him, plunging a dagger deep into his chest. And through the long night, the wounded man hovered between life and death and early the next morning physicians declared he could not recover. Judge Searcy had just sentenced each of the men to serve terms ranging from three to five years in the penitentiary.

SENATE ASSENTS TO NAVAL LIMITATION

BY LARGE VOTE SENATE RATIFIES FACT RESTRICTING NAVIES AND SUBMARINES

USE OF CHEMICALS BARRED

General Far Eastern Treaty Before Senate, and Leaders Predict Its Early Adoption

Washington.—The two arms conference treaties limiting the navies of the great powers and restricting the use of submarines and poison gas were ratified in a landslide approbation by the senate.

To the naval limitation covenant, declaring a naval building holiday, and fixing a ratio of capital ship strength for the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, the senate gave its final assent by a vote of 74 to 1, and then almost without debate it accepted, 71 to 0, the pact designed to prevent submarine operations against merchantmen and to outlaw chemical warfare altogether. No amendments or reservations were proposed to either.

The only negative vote was cast against the naval treaty by Senator France, Republican, of Maryland, who said he regarded naval reduction as a dangerous expedient under present world conditions. Every other member of the "irreconcilable" treaty bloc who was present cast a vote in the affirmative, although Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, told the senate he regarded the treaty as only a beginning, and Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, declared he accepted the fortifications "status quo" provisions for the Pacific with "grave misgivings."

A speech assailing the poison gas articles of the submarine and gas treaty was made on the senate floor by Senator Wadsworth, Republican, of New York, chairman of the military committee, but before the ratification roll call he left the chamber and did not vote.

The New York senator disagreed with the statement in the treaty text "justly condemned in warfare had been "jusly condemned by the general opinion of the civilized world," argued that chemical warfare had not proved actually more brutal than other accepted methods of destruction, and expressed a fear that the treaty pledges would be violated in any emergency.

As soon as the two pacts had been disposed of, administration leaders brought formally before the senate the general far eastern treaty. Debate on it will begin shortly, with the indications pointing to opposition from a small group of senators who believe that China's interests were not sufficiently protected. It is the hope of the leaders, however, that both this pact and the Chinese tariff treaty, the last remaining covenant of the conference, will be ratified during the present session.

Nurse Collapses On Witness Stand

New York.—Olivia M. P. Stone, a graduate nurse, collapsed on the witness stand at her trial on a charge of murdering Ellis Guy Kinkead, former Cincinnati corporation counsel, in front of his Brooklyn home. Two state alienists, after examining her, said it would be inhuman to question her further, and Supreme Court Justice Aspinall adjourned court until the next day.

Denies The Rumored Republican Split

Washington.—Congress and President Harding are not at loggerheads, despite the impression created by "certain writers and certain newspapers," Representative Mondell, Wyoming, Republican leader, declared in a statement which he said he had prepared for delivery as an address in the house.

Burns Sees End Of The Crime Wave

Washington.—The peak of the postwar crime wave has been reached and a barely perceptible decrease has begun, William J. Burns, chief investigator for the department of justice, stated, in reviewing the three years of crime history in the wake of the world war. It may take more than three years more for the crime wave to settle back to normalcy, he declares.

Bryan Is Upset By Near Auto Crash

Philadelphia.—William Jennings Bryan, weak from colapse during an address at Bridgeton, N. J., stopped for a short time in Philadelphia en route to Baltimore. On the way to Bridgeton the car in which Bryan was riding narrowly missed being crashed into by a speeding motor truck. The incident upset all members of the party. A few minutes after launching into his address the commoner became ill and had to leave the platform. He returned ten minutes later looking pale and worn, and continued his discourse.

Woman Fined For Contempt Of Court

Washington.—Mrs. Emma D. Bergdoll, mother of the arch-slacker, Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, again experienced difficulties with court procedure here, as a result of her violent and heated interruptions of the trial in the District of Columbia supreme court, in which she is seeking to recover the property seized by the government as belonging to her son. She was fined $50 for contempt of court, and the trial halted. Mrs. Bergdoll waxed too hot during a statement of the government's attorney.

NORTH POLE TRIP PLANNED

Explorers Will Talk Daily By Radio From Ice-Locked Plains With Washington, D. C.

New York.—As fascinating as a tale by Jules Verne was the plan for aerial exploration of the "roof of the world," sketched recently in full form the first time by Capt. Roald Amundsend, discoverer of the South Pole.

Arriving from Norway on the Stavangerfjord, the explorer plunged at once into the work of organizing the expedition which sails June 1 from Seattle to drift across the North Pole, an expedition which Amundsen expects will revolutionize polar exploration and provide a short cut to invaluable scientific knowledge.

The expedition which sails this time for the North Pole will not be like those which have preceded it, according to its leader.

Its vision will not be confined to a few miles on either side of the ship, but from the air it will be able to take in at a glance objects two hundred miles away.

It will not be for years cut off from touch with the outside world, leaving friends and relatives to wonder if the northland had smashed in its icy fist the hardy adventurers who encroached on its fastnesses. Instead, it will talk by radio four times a day with Washington and when it returns in three or five years, it will know what the civilized world has been doing during its absence.

It will not have spent years charting merely a narrow strip, but with the aid of aviation will be able to chart 1,000,000 square miles, sketching the currents of the air as well as those of the sea. For centuries scientists have believed that currents of the North Pole have been responsible for climatic phenomena in the part of the world in which civilized man lives, and Amundsen hopes to accomplish with his airplanes in a five years' voyage what would take 40 years, millions of dollars and many lives if only a ship and dog sleds were employed.

It is upon his airplanes—two in number—that Amundsen pins his chief hopes, and it was upon one of them that he focused his attention as soon as he stepped ashore recently.

"Suspect" Held Job As Police Officer

Seattle, Wash.—While three of his photographs graced the rogues' gallery in the central station here and detectives seeking him throughout the Pacific Northwest, Fred Tromblv—wanted as a suspect connected with robberies—served six months on the local police force, investigators announce. The erstwhile patrolman is now doing time behind the bars awaiting trial.—His "gallery card" credited him with a term for grand larceny and escape from the state reformatory, a six months sentence for larceny and a sentence of six to fifteen years in the state penitentiary for theft of diamonds.

New York Women Must Not Smoke!

New York.—Effective March 27, all women of New York City were prohibited from smoking in public places anywhere in the city. This new city ordinance, passed by the board of aldermen and signed by Mayor Hylan, on March 21, failed to become known until patrons of gay cabarets, hotels and restaurants on Broadway, in Greenwich Village and the Bronx were astounded to have the news brought to them by details of uniformed policement sent out to apprise proprietors of the new law which the aldermen had enacted.

British May Form Irish Neutral Zone

London.—Dispatches from Ireland reporing continued disorders on a wide scale along the Ulster border continued to pour into London, affording the house of lords opportunity for a vigorous debate on the Irish bill in which the question of lawlessness and civil war were frequently injected by both sides.

Order Issued Against N. C. Company

Washington.—The federal trade commission has issued an order to "cease and desist" against the Planters' Manufacturing company, Mt. Olive, N. C. The order is directed against the action of the respondent in stimulating so closely as to cause confusion, the name of the "Planters Manufacturing Company of Portsmouth, Va." It forbids the use of the word "Planters" as part of the corporate name of the respondent.

The "Rhine Army" May Be Sent South

Washington.—A tentative selection of posts for troops returning to this country from Germany has been made public by the war department. The announcement shows that the eighth infantry will debark at Charleston for Forts McPherson or Moultrie or Screven, Georgia. Other posts to receive detachments of the occupational forces include Camp Meade, Maryland; Camp Humphreys, Virginia; Fort Sheridan, Illinois; Fort Hamilton, New York, and Camp Vail, New Jersey.

Federal Prisons Are Overcrowded

Washington.—Such has been in the increase in federal offenses throughout the country that all the government penitentiaries are overcrowded. Not only have male prisoners increased within the last year, but female prisoners as well have increased in numbers so much that the government is urgently pressed for a solution of the housing problem. One state institution—that located at Moundsville, Va.—able to take in women prisoners within recent months, has now adv'sed that it can house no more.

Take Yeast Vitamon Tablets To Round Out Face and Figure With Firm Flesh

If you are hollow-cheeked, sallow-skinned, sunken-chested and generally weak or run down and want to round out your face and figure to pleasing and normal proportions you will find this simple test well worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take Mastin's VITAMON—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking Mastin's VITAMON regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. Mastin's VITAMON tablets contain highly concentrated yeast-vitamines as well as the two other still more important vitamines (Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble C) together with organic iron and real lime salts. They will not upset the stomach or cause gas, but on the contrary are a great aid to digestion, to overcome constipation and as a general conditioner of the whole system. Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish like magic under its purifying influence, the complexion becomes fresh and beautiful, the cheeks rosy instead of pale, the lips red instead of colorless, the eyes bright instead of dull. So rapid and amazing are the results that thousands of people everywhere are now taking to them as a quick way to put on weight and increase energy. Be sure to remember the name Mastin's VI-TA-MON—the original and genuine yeast-vitamine tablet—there is nothing else like it so do not accept imitations or substitutes. You can get Mastin's VITAMON at any druggist.

"Vaseline" Carbolated Petroleum Jelly
is an effective, antiseptic first-aid dressing for cuts, wounds and insect bites. It helps prevent infection.
CHESEBROUGH MFG. CO.
(Consolidated)
State Street New York

Dyspepsia Soon Disappears When You Take
TANLAC
25,000,000 Bottles Sold

MAKE MONEY If you are well acquainted and want to make some profitable side money in congenial work, write Chas. Murdock, 10th Floor, W. T. Waggoner Bldg., Ft. Worth, Texas.

Safe Remedy for granulated lids, styes, pink-eye. Avoid powerful dangerous drugs—use MITCHELL EYE SALVE FOR Sore Eyes 25c—all druggists

STANDARD FOR 50 YEARS
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
NOT ONLY FOR CHILLS AND FEVER BUT A FINE GENERAL TONIC.

COCKROACHES
Waterbugs
ANTS
Easily killed by using the genuine
Stearns' Electric Paste
Also SURE DEATH to rats and mice. These pests are the greatest carriers of disease. They destroy both food and property.
READY FOR USE—BETTER THAN TRAPS
Directions in 15 languages in every box.
2 oz. size 35c. 15 oz. size $1.50.
MONEY BACK IF IT FAILS

Cuticura Soap
—The Safety Razor—
Shaving Soap
Cuticura Soap shaves without mug Everywhere 25c.

Map of Muscle Shoals, showing the nitrate plants with 400 square miles of territory, railroads, postoffices, complete. Price $1. G. T. REID, SHEFFIELD, ALA

50c BUYS ATTRACTIVE SMALL BOTTLE of best imported French perfume. Send money order or postage stamps. Elissa Perfumery Co., 69 Washington, New York City.

ST. VITUS DANCE OR CHOREA RELIEVED PROMPTLY; safe and sure. One or two bottles usually gives permanent relief. Price $3.00 per bottle. ACME MEDICINE CO., 1230 53rd St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

World's Standard Shorthand Taught by Mail. Cheapest correspondence course. Trial free. Geo. B. Thornton, So. Uni., Baton Rouge, La.

Agents: Be a Manufacturer, double your profits. We teach you. Send 25c silver for instructions. Internatl. Sales Co., Norris City, Ill.

Keep Your Motors, Bodies, etc., in Good Condition. "17 Auto Specialty Formulas" tell how. $1.00. C. B. Fox, Sulphur Springs, Ohio.

The New York Store

Our New Spring Goods are open for your inspection.

A complete line of Mens, Ladies and children Ready-to-wear and Shoes.

We still Issue Coupons for Chinaware.

The New York Store

Clanton, Alabama.

BEST SHOE SHOP

Bring your shoe work here for first class service at moderate prices.

Laces and polishes—In fact' everything for the shoe at bottom figures.

New and second hand shoes for men only at better prices than you can get elsewhere.

NOTICE our Panco Soles, for men women and children. Guaranteed for the life of the shoes.

Heavy shoes for Farmers and outdoor work. Guaranteed to last 12 months. Any repairs needed during 12 months will be done free of charge.

The Best Shoe Shop

Closing Out Our Stock of Clothing

This is your chance to get a real bargain in that suit which you are thinking of buying.

5 Young men's Suits	worth $20.00	now	12.50
6 Young men's suits	worth $22.50	now	$15.00
3 Men's blue serge suits	worth $15.00	now	$10.00
9 men's blue serge suits	worth $20.00	now	$15.00
18 boy's suits	worth $7.50 to $10.00	now	$5.00

We have a big stock of men's and boy's which we can save you money on. Let us show you before you buy.

W. Z. Hodges Dry GOOds Co

Clanton, - - - Alabama.

Let Us Do Your Work

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce my candidacy for State Senator from the Fifteenth Senatorial District of Alabama, which is composed of the Counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held in August, 1922.

If elected to the Senate of Alabama, I shall support every measure, which proposes to reduce public expeses and thereby relieve the people of the State of some of the burdens of taxation. I shall support every measure, which will abolish useless and unnecessary offices, of which there are many. I shall oppose every measure which directly or indirectly exempts corporations from the payment of lawful taxes. I am not directly or indirectly connected with any corporation in Alabama, nor will I accept any place upon the pay rol of any corporation in this or any other state in the event of my nomination or election to the office of Senator. I am for Henry Ford first, last and all the time.

R. E. FITTS.

(Paid political advertisement by R. E Fitts, Stanton, Alabama.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner from the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on August 8.

H. E. ROBINSON.

(Paid political advertisement by H. E. Robinson.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8, 1922.

BOWEN L. JONES

(Paid political adv. by Bowen L Jones, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid politicol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary August 8th. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

G. D. RETHERFORD.

(Paid political advertisement by G. D Retherford, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton County in the coming Democratic Primary election, to be held on August 8th, 1922.

C. REESE MULLINS.

(Paid political advertisement by C Reese Mullins, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SOLICITOR

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for Circuit Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

CECIL E. ALEXANDER.

(Paid political advertisement by Cecil E. Alexander.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination as Circuit Judge of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, composing the 19th Judicial Circuit, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August 1922.

GEO. F. SMOOT.

(Paid political advertisement by Geo F. Smoot.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, on August 8th, 1922.

W. W. COBERN.

(Paid political advertisement by W W. Cobern.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

We Want Your Job Work

STRAND THEATRE is showing Feature Pictrres Every Day Except Monday.

The place where Friends meet.

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Circuit Court. In Equity.

Mrs. C. G. Deramus, Administratrix Complainant, vs. Arthur Tyus, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of G. C. Walker that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that his place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that publication be made in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him the said Arthur Tyus to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 22nd day of April, 1922, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office in Clanton, this 22nd day of March, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

3-23-4t.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8th.

THOS. M. PARRISH,

(Paid political advertisement by Thos. M. Parrish, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT SOLICITOR

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination as Circuit Solicitor for the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

VICTOR J. HEARD.

(Paid political adertisement by Victor J. Heard, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit composed of the counties of Chilton, Autauga and Elmore, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

B. K. McMORRIS.

(Paid political advertisement by B. K. McMorris, Wetumpka, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

W. T. Garner, Optomist.

Will locate here. He will be at the store of Mr. B. L. Jones every second and fourth Saturday and the Monday and Tuesday following. Anyone desiring him to call at their home drop him a card. Come and have your glasses fitted. All work guaranteed, and prices to suit the times.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF

THE BANK OF VERBENA

LOCATED AT VERBENA, ALABAMA,
AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

1. Loans and Discounts		$ 62,24
4. Other Bonds, Stocks and Warrants		930
5. Banking House		3,200
6. Furniture and Fixtures		1,00
8. (a) Currency	$ 5,954.00
(b) Gold	267.50
(c) Silver, Nickels and Pennies	933.49
Total		7,154
9. Due from Banks		14,674.7
13. Cash Item in Transit		377.0
14. Other Resources (Revenue Stamps)		20.0
Total		$ 89,601

LIABILITIES:

1. Capital Stock Paid in		$ 15,000
2. Surplus Fund		1,200
3. Undivided Profits, less Expenses and Taxes paid		1,52
4. Reserve for Taxes and Interest		8
5. (a) Individual Deposits	$ 69,601.78
(d) Due to Banks	152.64
(f) Cashier's Checks	142.65
Total		69,897.0
6. (b) Time Certificates		1,900.0
Total		$ 89,601

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, CHILTON COUNTY.

Before me came H. W. Davis, Cashier of Bank of Verbena, who bei duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is true and gives t actual condition of said Bank, as shown by the Books on file in said Bank.

H. W. DAVIS, Cashier.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 16th day of March, 1922.

R. G. CORNELIUS,
Notary Publ

ATTEST:
W. A. GULLEDGE,
S. L. GIBSON,
D. I. DERAMUS, Jr.
H. T. WILLIAMS,
H. B. OLIVER, Directors.

New City Garage

Just opened up. In the Honeycut & Thompson shop building.

All kinds of repair work done in First Class style and at short notice. New prices on work cut donw to suit the times. Come and see.

MaddOx & Williams

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit its continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, APRIL 13, 1922. NUMBER 31

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Mrs. Clyde Jones Entertains.

On last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs Clyde Jones proved a very charming hostess, when she entertained the Round Dozen Sewing Club. The apartments were lovely with potted plants and cut flowers. The hostess served a very tempting salad plate and ice tea to the following ladies: Mesdames, Barney Roberts, McSwain, Macy Jones, Simpson, Alverson, Watts Moore, Luckie, Armstrong, Polk and Monroe Wyatt.

Mrs. Gerald Entertains.

Mrs. Lawrence Gerald proved to be a very charming hostess on last Thursday afternoon, when she entertained the Thursday Embroidery Club. The apartments were very attractive with spring flowers. After some time spent in conversation and needle work, the hostess served a very delicious ice drink and cake. Besides the club members were Mesdames Heard, John VanDerveer and Hayes.

Study Club.

The Study Club held its regular meeting on last Friday afternoon, with Mrs. Grady Broadhead as hostess. The living room was very attractive with potted plants and roses. The President, Mrs. Barney Roberts, called the meeting to order. After some time spent on the business the following program was carried out. Subject, Household and personal Hygene: Paper, Building and Furnishing of a Healthful Home, Mrs. Sam Johnson, read by Mrs. McDavid; Paper, Relation of Household Hygiene to public health, Mrs. Hayes; Talk, Ethics of personal Hygine, Mrs. VanDerveer; Discussion, Former Conference that have failed and succeeded, Mrs. Curry Thomas; Leader, assisted by Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Arthur Johnson. After which the hostess served a delicious salad plate with ice tea, assisted by Mrs. L. F. Gerald. Besides the members of the club that were present were Mrs. Watts Moore and Miss Roberta Curry. The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. P. D. Wilson in May.

Philathia Class Meets.

Mrs. Evan Parrish was hostess to the Philathia S. S. Class of the Methodist Church at the residence of Mrs. Luckie. The dining room was made very attractive with early spring flowers. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Guy Roberts. The class will have a mothers program at the residence of Mrs. J. Jones, on May 8th. Each member to invite her mother or some one to take her mother's place at this meeting. After all business, the following program was carried out: Subject, Deborah and Joel. Answer to roll call with sayings of brave women. Paper, Describe oppresion of Irrael in the time of Deborah, Mrs. John Armstrong; Talk, Describe battle with enemy, Mrs. J. C. Jones; Reading, Song of Triumph, Mrs. Mallie White; Discussion, Leader, Mrs French Evans, assisted by Mrs. Clyde Jones and Mrs. Barney Roberts. What was Deborah's command to Borok? On what condition would Borok obey? What happened to Sicera, the enemys Captain? After which the hostess served sandwiches and ice tea, assisted by Mesdames Luckie and Simpson. The class adjourned to meet with Mrs. J. C. Jones on May 10th.

Mr. L. C. Ross left Saturday afternoon for Guntersville, where he goes to accept a position.

Mrs. Sam Johnson of Memphis, Tenn., is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. C. Harper.

Miss Lurline Harper, who is teaching at Munford, spent the week-end with her mother.

Mrs. Durwood Broadhead had as her guest last week, her sister, Mrs. Covington and Miss Hazel Covington, of Montgomery.

Miss Margaret Hester, who is a student at the Judson, spent the week-end at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hester.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorcas Maddox and little daughter and Mr. Howard Cooley spent several days this week in Birmingham.

Mr. John Martin came up from Wetumpka Monday to visit his brother, Mr. Mell Martin.

Mrs. J. A. Hester and Miss Margaret Hester spent Monday in Birmingham.

Mrs. Jesse Greer of Florida, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodyard.

Dr. Clarence Roper left Wednesday for Leeds, after spending some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Roper.

Mr. T. C. McSwain spent Monday and Tuesday in Montevallo on business.

Mr. Clark Harper of Columbus, Ga. arrived Tuesday afternoon to see his mother, Mrs. A. C. Harper.

Mrs. Hugh Jones and little daughter, Mary Courtney, left Tuesday afternoon for a visit in Montgomery.

Miss Mary Bess Sims spent Sunday in Elmore as guest of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell Roper and little daughter of Birmingham spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roper this week.

Prof. S. E. Alverson left Tuesday night for Birmingham, where he went to atend the A. E. A.

SARDIS SAYINGS

The health of this part was never better.

We sadly cronicle the death of Uncle Lewis Patrick. He was the oldest citizen of this community.

The singing at Mr. P. Adams' Saturday night was enjoyed by all present.

Mr. Reuben Scott escorted Miss Eula Edwards to the singing. She seemed to enjoy his company very much.

Mr. Alonza McCary was Miss Eva Hayes' escort from the singing.

Miss Eula Edwards found her long lost Union coming from the singing. Guess she will hold to him till Charley comes around again.

The school at McCary's School House is out.

Pclitics: Nothing much is said about anyone except Rev. Mr. Messer, B. L. Jones and Tom Parrish. Great interest seems to be taken in the election of these. I'll bet a dead dog that the majority of those that have announced will get beat. What says you, Mr. Editor.

Well, if the waste basket don't swallow this I may come again.

CONDENSED STATEMENT
of the condition of the

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA, MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$187,510.99
Overdrafts	2.46
United States Bonds	30,000.00
Other Bonds	10,100.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,361.14
Redemption Fund	1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank	1,100.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks	49,187.82
Total	$281,762.41

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	$ 30,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	9,340.29
Circulation	30,000.00
Deposits	212,422.12
Total	$281,762.41

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, CHILTON COUNTY.

I, Jno. C. Page, Cashier of the above-named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

JNO. C. PAGE, Cashier.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this the 13th day of March, 1922.

J. R. MULLINS, Notary Public.

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT:

Deposit, March 10, 1920 $151,205.32

DEPOSITS MARCH 10, 1921 —$167,759.83

Deposits March 10, 1922--$212 42. 2

NOTE OUR GROWTH.

DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF CHILTON COUNTY CALLED TO MEET APRIL 22

The Chilton County Democratic Executive Committee is hereby called to meet in the Parlors of the Wilson Hotel at Clanton, at 10 a. m., on Saturday, April 22, 1922.

Business of vital importance to be attended to and every member is urged to be present.

W. W. FOX, Chr'm.

L. F. Gerald, Sec'y.

DR. J. M. DANNELLY WILL PREACH AT METHODIST CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

Dr. J. M. Dannelly will preach at the Methodist Church Sunday, April 16th, at 11, a. m. There will be no evening services, but congregation is urged to attend Knight Templar services at the Baptist Church Sunday night.

The Sunday School offerings Sunday morning will go to the Methodist orphanage. All are urged to bring a good offering.

D. M. PEARSON.

SEVENTH GRADE EXAMINATION

The county seventh grade examination will be held at the following palces in the county on April 24 and 25. Clanton, Cooper, Verbena, Thorsby, Jemison, Maplesville, Stanton, Lock 12, Isabella, and Fairview, in each place at the public school building.

The examination will be based on the six subjects covered in the regular seventh grade work.

The examination will begin at each place at 9:00, A. M.

ALL DAY SINGING AT FRIENDSHIP

There will be an all day singing at Friendship Church, one mile north of Clanton the fourth Sunday in April. Singing will begin at 9:00 o'clock sharp. There will be lots of good singers there, but there is always room for a few more. So everybody come and have a good time singing praises to God.

T. E. WYATT,
J. D. COLLINS,
W. J. MINOR,
Committee.

MEMORIAL DAY AT THE SOLDIER'S HOME

On April 30th Memorial Day will be observed at the Old Alabama Soldier's Home.

Hon. John S. Tilley, of Montgomery, will deliver an address, and other exercises will be arranged.

The management extends an invitation to the people of Clanton, Marbury, Verbena, Mountain Creek, and the communities in the neighborhood to visit the Home on April 30th, Sunday.

Ample provision to park autos and vehicles will be made, and in this connection, it will be in order for visitors to bring with them lunch baskets for their own use, as it will be impossible for the Home to furnish tables to accommodate the crowd of visitors anticipated.

The management has made many improvements in the general conditions at the Home.

PROGRAM OF SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

To be Held at Samaria Baptist Church
The Fourth Sunday in April.

9:30—Devotional services, by G. F. Harris.

9:45—The Sunday School and Its Relation to the Social Problem. W. I. Mullins and H. A. Harris.

10:40—Address, Miss Wiley, one of the Baptist State Workers.

11:30—Putting Pep into the Sunday School, J. J. Pickens.

12:00—Adjournment.

1:30 P. M.—Devotional services, G. C. Harris.

2:00 P. M.—The Neccessity of Securing Good Teachers for the Rural Sunday School, Mrs. Hester.

2:30 P. M.—The Contact of the Teacher with the Pupil, Rev. P. G. Carter.

3:00 P. M.—Business.

3:20—Adjournment.

The following Sunday Schools will please send 4 delegates from each Sunday School: Clanton, Liberty Hill, Cane Creek, Concord, Poplar Springs, Maple Springs, Samaria, Friendship, Highland and Refuge.

EASTER SERVICES AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. I. F. Bilbrow to Preach Special Easter Sermon. Knight Templars To Attend in Full Regaliar.

We are pleased to announce that Dr. I. F. Bilbrow, of Ft. Deposit, who was formerly pastor of the First Methodist church here, will deliver an Easter sermon at the Clanton Baptist church next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

This will be a special service and every one is most cordially invited to attend. The Knight Templars will attend in full dress. All visiting Sir Knights are especially requested to come out.

A musical program in sympathy with the occasion will be rendered and a most splendid service is promised to all who attend.

ANNUAL EASTER SING

The Annual Easter Singing will take place as usual next Sunday at Poplar Springs church.

The exercises will begin at 9:30 a. m. and continue until 4:00 p. m. All are cordially invited to attend. Bring your 1922 song books and a full basket of dinner.

J. W. Cooper,
J. L. McDowell, Com.
H. W. DeVaughn,

Y. W. A. MEETS

On last Thursday afternoon Miss Lurline Cox delightfully entertained the Young Woman's Auxziliary. A very interesting program was carried out as follows:

Roll Call—Each answering with the name of a missionary.

Song—My Faith Looks up to Thee

Scripture Readings—Misses Sophia Mullins, Addie Pearl Martin and Jewel Minor.

Prayer—Mrs. J. E. Gowan.

Piano Solo—Miss Willie Higgins

Talk—Life and works of Mrs. Clyde Metcalf Stamps—Miss Eula Mae Vines

After being dismissed by watchword, a delicious salad course was served by the hostess.

We bet there wont be centenarians develope in the rising generation in the United States. At the speed young America is living at now, if one of them chances to pass the fifty year mile post he will have consumed at least 150 years of sane existence.

Beautiful line of dress skirts at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

FOR SALE

ONE 4-horse power Stationary Engine in first class running order. CHEAP. Call at News Office.

Miss Margaret Hester, a student at the Judson College, has been in Clanton for several days spending the time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hester.

Buy your boy a new Easter Suit at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

J. & P. Coat's 150 yard spool thread for 5c at The Leader. Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Seals, of Maplesville, were here Monday.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Judge E. S. Lyman, of Montevallo, was here on business Wednesday.

Mr. Geo. R. Moore, of Beat 13, was mingling with his many friends here Wednesday.

Mr. R. E. Carter, of Columbiana, formerly connected with the Chilton County News, was here Monday.

Governor Kilby, his private secretary, Mr. Darden, and Hon. H. F. Lee were guests at the Exchange Hotel last evening. They were enroute to Birmingham.

Big Opening Sale at the Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Mr. J. C. Calloway made a business trip to Montgomery Tuesday.

Rev. A. C. Wells is absent in Birmingham this week visiting relatives.

Our local piscatorial artists are beginning to spin yarns erplaining why they did not happen to make a big catch. Now and then a lonesome little fish is also produced.

For Shirts, Hats, Caps, Shoes, underwear, overalls, Men's and Boy's Suits, Men's and Boy's pants, Ladies and children dresses, Waists, Ladies Suit, Petticoats, Skirts, Hosiery, Beautiful piece goods. You will find all you need for Easter at The Leader Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

From the number of fine looking young men and beautiful girls seen on our streets daily it looks like the wedding bells would be chiming almost continuously.

Big Opening Sale at the Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

From the large number of cars parked around the local hotels every evening it would seem that auto traffic along the highway must be pretty heavy.

Miss Lurlene Harper, who is teaching school at Munford, Ala., was here several days recentlly on account of the illness of her sister, Miss Annie Mae.

C. Reese Mullins served on the jury last week. Mr. Mullins is a live and progressive business man who knows how to dot his "i's and cross his t's."

Mrs. Sam Johnson, of Memphis, Tenn., has been in Clanton for some time owing to the fact that her sister, Miss Annie Mae, has been confined to her bed with pneumonia.

FOR SALE:—Rhode Island Eggs. Pure bred, fresh and fertile. $1.50 for 15 eggs. Charley Jones. Maplesville, Route 1

A Bargain

One Ford Coupe in first class condition. Has new tires. See W. H. Sartor, at Elmores.

Messrs T. R. Williams and Ed Goodgame, of Maplesville, were in Clanton, Monday.

Mr. R. E. Roper, of Adams, was here Monday.

Mr. Y. E. Smith, of Mulberry, was here Monday. Mr. Smith is another one of those stalwart citizens who lives near Jonestown.

Charlie Henderson, of Mt. Creek was a Clanton visitor Sunday and Monday.

Beautiful Bungalow aprons for 98c at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Mr. Joe Gore, of Mitchell Dam, was among those who attended court here last week.

Messrs D. M. and A. D. Martin, of the thriving Mulberry community, were among those who served on the jury last week. They both served on the same pannel of jury that tried a case. This is remarkable to see father and son have this distinction.

Big Opening Sale at The Leader. Clanton's new Dry Goods Store. M. Lande, Manager.

Mr. J. H. Williams, of Thorsby, was in Clanton last Friday incidentally attending to personal business.

Mr. J. A. Sample, of Beat 8, served on the jury last week. Mr. Sample is a live and progressive citizen, who always stands for the right.

Messrs J. E. and Dock Dennis, of Maplesville, were in Clanton last Friday attending to business matters.

We are pleased to know that Joe Mullins is going to graduate at Gulf Coast Military School this year. Joe is a Clanton boy who has batted "a home run."

Miss Louise Orr, who has been engeged in working for the Auburn College during the past few months is at home for a few days.

Hon. George F. Smoot, of Wetumpka, was in Clanton last Friday. Mr. Smoot is a candidate for Circuit Judge of this district.

MAPLESVILLE NEWS

The money is ready for the Maplesville High School. Hope to see the building going up soon. That means several more teachers will be needed. We hope to retain our same teachers as we have a fine school here. Several new families have moved in recently to school their children.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Coleman, Mrs. W. W. Earnest, Delina Earnest and Mrs. Shanks were in Selma Thursday.

The order of the Eastern Star will have its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3:30, at Masonic Hall.

Quite an interest seems to be manifested in the meeting at the Methodist Church. Will be on for ten days. The State Evangelist, Rev. Rheinhardt, of Montgomery, is conducting the meeting.

The many friends of Mrs. C. N. Parnell hope to have her elected on the Board of Education.

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Capital and Surplus, $65,000.00,

STATEMENT OF CONDITION
CLANTON, ALA.
AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$146,379.63
Overdrafts	846.82
United States Bonds	47,800.00
Real Estate	12,500.00
Banking House	2,700.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,727.25
CASH IN VAULT and IN BANKS	173,766.53
Total	$386,720.23

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	49,903.16
DEPOSITS	321,817.07
Total	$386,720.23

FROM THE PAGES OF HISTORY—and in 1901, Chilton County's first Bank was organized. This institution has weathered the storms for over TWENTY YEARS, and is known to-day by the citizens of Chilton County, as the—

Old Reliable Peoples Savings Bank Since 1901

The Girl, a Horse and a Dog

By FRANCIS LYNDE

Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons

"SHE'S GONE, TOO!"

Synopsis. — Under his grandfather's will, Stanford Broughton, society idler, finds his share of the estate, valued at something like $440,000, lies in a "safe repository," latitude and longitude described, and that is all. It may be identified by the presence nearby of a brown-haired, blue-eyed girl, a piebald horse, and a dog with a split face, half black and half white. Stanford at first regards the bequest as a joke, but after consideration sets out to find his legacy. On his way to Denver Stanford hears from a fellow traveler, Charles Bullerton, a mining engineer, a story having to do with a flooded mine. He has a "hunch" this mine is the "safe repository" of the will. Bullerton refuses him information. On the station platform at Atropia, just as the train pulls out, Stanford sees what appear to be the identical horse and dog described in his grandfather's will. Impressed, he leaves the train at the next stop, Angels. Unable to secure a conveyance, Broughton seizes a track-inspection car and escapes, leaving the impression on the town marshal, Beasley, that he is demented. Pursued, he abandons the car, which is wrecked, and escapes on foot. In the darkness he is overtaken by the girl, the horse and the dog. After he explains his presence, she invites him to her home, at the Old Cinnabar mine. Broughton's hosts are Hiram Twombly, caretaker of the mine, and his daughter Jeanie. Stanford does not reveal his identity. Hiram and Stanford go puttering about the mine. Stanford gets interested in the work and falls in love with Jeanie, who saves his life. Bullerton shows up at the mine. He offers $50,000 for the Cinnabar. Stanford says "No."

CHAPTER IX.—Continued.

—6—

"Can you carry it any further?"

"Nope; I reckon I can't. There's too many darned things a-puzzlin' me. One of 'em is where in Sam Hill did Charley Bullerton get all the money that he's flashin' around so peacocky?"

"I don't know where he got it, but he has it, all right; carries it with him," I said sourly.

"Yes; but see here, Stannie, son, I'll bet a fice dog worth a hundred dollars that it ain't his money."

"What makes you say that?"

"Well, for one thing, because I know Charley Bullerton; been knowin' him since Adam was a little boy in kneebreeches. He can't keep any money of his own; just naturally ain't built that-away."

"Gambles it?" I suggested.

"Big gambles, yes; stocks and that sort o' truck. No sir-ee; these yeller-backs he's a-flashin' around ain't his'n, not by a long chalk, and I'd bet on it. Somebody else is settin' 'em up; and if that's so, Stannie, there's a reason for it."

"Sure," I conceded. Then: "Could you make a long, high, running jump and guess at the reason, Daddy?"

"Not so 's it'd hold together, I reckon," he replied dubiously. "But there's a few little notions 'at I've picked up from folks that's older in this neck o' woods than I am—been here longer. The old Cinnabar never was what you'd call a 'bonanza.' Plenty of ore, to be sure, but mostly low grade, 'cepting them rich little pockets now and then."

"Those rich pockets," I put in. "A strike of one of them would be about the right time to sell, wouldn't it?"

He nodded.

"You're shoutin', now. I reckon that's about how they caught your gran'paw. But Buddy Fuller—he's the 'Tropia telegraph operator and a sort o' half-way nephew o' mine—says there's more to it than that. 'Long back couple o' years 'r so there was a copper strike made in Little Cinnabar gulch, about four mile west o' here, and follerin' it there was a heap o' talk about the railroad runnin' a branch to it. That there branch, if it was built—'r when it's built, for it's goin' to be, some day, to open them copper mines—that there branch 'll go right along our bench within a hundred yards of the old Cinnabar; so close you could mighty near dump from the ore sheds into the cars."

I began to see more crookings in the sacrificial road over which Grandfather Jasper had been led; many more and more devious ones.

"In that case, even the low-grade Cinnabar would come a bit nearer being a bonanza, wouldn't it?" I asked.

"She sure would, Stannie. That long, hard wagon haul to 'Tropia was what was puttin' the cuss in the cost o' handlin'."

"And with the railroad right at the door, so to speak, it might even pay to recapitalize at three-quarters of a million and drive that long drainage tunnel we have been figuring on?"

"Somethin' like that; yes. Can you see any furder into the millstone? I'll say I've got about to the end of my squintin'."

I refilled my pipe and did a bit of cogitating. Supposing I had been the boss figurer in the bunch that did Grandfather Jasper the honor to bilk him; as conscienceless as that pirate, whoever he was, and in the secret of the conditions as Daddy had just outlined them, what would I have done?

The answer came as pat as you please. With a railroad in prospect which would turn a small profit into a big one, I should quite probably have shut the mine down to wait until I could hear the whistle of the locomotive.

This conclusion led promptly and logically to another. Supposing, at the moment when I had decided upon the shut-down, some doddering old gentleman had come along and offered to buy the mine? Add, as a corollary, the supposition that the water problem was daily growing more insistent, with the ultimate threat of flood. As an ordinary, garden-variety mining shark, what would I have done?

That answer came pat, also. I should have taken the old gentleman's money, trusting to the rising flood to make him sick of his bargain in due course of time and thus willing to sell out for anything he could get.

"I believe I have it doped out," I told Daddy at the end of the cogitating pause; and then I passed the inferences along to him. The immediate effect was to evoke a couple of his quaint substitutes for profanity.

"Jehoiachim-to-breakfast!" he exclaimed; "I'll be ding-swizzled if I don't believe you've struck the true lead, Stannie, my son! If you have, here's what follers: Charley Bullerton's here to do the dickerin' for that same old high-bindin' Cinnabar outfit that did your gran'paw up. They sold for half a million 'r so and now they're willin' to buy back for thirty or forty or fifty thousand. By Jezebel! I just knew that slick-tongued rooster was tryin' to work some skin game!"

"Yet he is going to marry your daughter," I put in grimly.

At this the old man turned gloomy-serious in the batting of an eye, drawing his mouth down at the corner and sucking hard at the pipe which had long since burned out.

"That's been a-pinchin' me like a tight boot, Stannie," he admitted. "If you'd ast me afore he come, I'd 'a' told you she hadn't a morsel o' use for that con-dummed blowhard. But just you look at the way things are stackin' up now! He's snoopin' 'round her mighty near all the whole time and she hain't never once give me the wink to send him a-kitin', like I'm itchin' to!"

He told me to look. I had been looking until my eyes ached. The indications were all one way, tons of them; with only one little impulsive kiss to put in the other pan of the scale. I didn't tell Daddy about the kiss; but I did tell him that Jeanie had told me not to sell the Cinnabar.

"So?" he commented, livening up a little. "That brings on more talk. Reckon you can make out to hang onto the old cow's tail for a spell longer?"

I took time to consider my answer.

"I've been wondering if, all things given their due footing, it were worth while to hang on, Daddy. As matters stand now, Bullerton is stuck unless I sell out to him. If I should take my foot in my hand and walk out, he'd be left up in the air. But, on the other hand, there's Jeanie. If she's going to marry Bullerton, why, that's a horse of another color. I'm not enough of a dog-in-the-manger to bite her nose off to spite Bullerton's face."

"Um," was the grunted response. Then, with a side swipe that I wasn't looking for: "Charley Bullerton's been hintin' 'round that you're tied up with a girl back East. Is that so?—or is it on'y another one o' his frilly lies?"

I laughed.

"I wish I knew, Daddy; I'd sure tell you if I would anybody. We were really engaged—the back-East girl and I; but I don't think we are now, and I don't think she thinks so. Anyway, she called it all off when we found out—or thought we found out—that my grandfather hadn't left me anything in his will. She's like Jeanie says she is, you know: she's got to marry money."

"Jus' so," he said, with a rather grim glint in the mild blue eyes. "All the same, if you had the old Cinnabar in slap-up workin' order, I reckon you'd have to go back yonder and marry her, wouldn't ye?"

"I'd be in honor bound to offer to, anyway."

"That don't sound much like you was carin' a whole lot for her," he objected gravely.

I despaired in advance of making him understand the lack of sentiment in the case, or the viewpoint from which any such condition could be considered as a human possibility. He was much too simple-hearted. So I got rid of the Lisette obstacle, or got around it, as best I could.

"She has been free for several weeks, now; in all probability she is wearing some other fellow's ring by this time. But about the Cinnabar: assuming that my string of guesses is hitched up to the true state of affairs, what would you advise me to do? Shall I hang on—with no prospect, that I can see, of getting anywhere on my own hook? Or shall I sell out to Bullerton and thus let your daughter in for a wife's share of a possible fortune?"

"Gosh-all-hemlock!" he sputtered, "when you line it up that-away, I reckon I ain't the man to tell you what to do!" Then, as upon a second and belated thought: "Jeanie says for you not to sell; if she said that to me, I'd hang on till the cows come home. I would so!"

I got up and knocked the ashes from my pipe.

"And that, Daddy, is precisely what I'm going to do," I said; and the saying of it ended the conference in the abandoned tunnel of the "Little Jeanie."

CHAPTER X.

The Deep-Wells.

The next morning I turned out at break of day, before anybody else was up, slipped into my clothes, straightened up my bunk, and dropped through the ladder hatchway to the main-deck.

I had told myself that the reason for the daybreak turn-out was a desire to see if the railroad people really had been sufficiently in earnest about the proposed copper mine branch to make a survey for it; but the true underlying push was a biting reluctance to have anything more to do with Bullerton, or even to sit at table with him.

Tiptoeing through the common room, so as not to wake Daddy Hiram, I broke into Jeanie's kitchen and raided the cupboard for a bite of something to eat. There was plenty of bread, and some cold fried ham, and cutting a couple of generous sandwiches, I hiked out to make my breakfast in the open.

The sandwiches disposed of, I began to quarter the bench woodland back and forth, searching for some indications of the railroad survey. In due time I found one of the location stakes, and from its facing and the markings on it, got the direction of the proposed line and was able to trace it for some distance along the bench. As Daddy had said, it ran within a few hundred yards of the Cinnabar claim, and a short sidetrack would make his suggestion perfectly feasible; our ore could be shot into the cars with but a single handling.

From tracing the railroad survey, I edged around to take another look at the possibilities of the drainage tunnel Daddy and I had figured on. Going over the ground this second time, and with some better knowledge of the difficulties, it appeared that we must have ridiculously underestimated the probable cost. Pacing the distances carefully, and guessing at the differences in altitude by the heights of the trees, I saw that it wouldn't be safe to count upon less than a mile of tunneling, and this, in the solid porphyry of Old Cinnabar, and in a situation remote from the nearest base of supplies, would run—no, it wouldn't run; it would fairly gallop into money.

Was this what Bullerton meant to do if he could oust me? That he was utterly confident of his ability to drain the Cinnabar was evident. But how was it to be done? Would he, or his backers, be willing to spend a quarter of a million or more, and the better part of a year's time, driving that mile-long tunnel?

The longer I thought about it, the larger the conviction grew that no such expensive expedient was to be resorted to. Bullerton, or his backers, or both, knew some other and far cheaper and more expeditious way of getting rid of the water. Sitting on a big rock that had in some former earth convulsion tumbled from the broken cliffs above the mine, I gave the mechanical fraction of my brain (it was a small fraction and sadly under-developed) free rein.

Raided the Cupboard for a Bite of Something to Eat.

Two possibilities suggested themselves. A siphon, a big pipe, starting at the bottom of the shaft and leading out over the top and down the mountain to a point lower than the shaft bottom, would, after it was once started, automatically discharge a stream of its own bigness, whatever that should be. But the cost of over a mile of such pipe was beyond my means; and if two six-inch pumps driven night and day had failed to make any impression upon the flood, what could be expected of a siphon which, in the nature of things, couldn't be much bigger than an ordinary street water main?

The other possibility was even less hopeful. It was the driving of a short tunnel, which Daddy and I might undertake without additional help, from the level of the high bench straight in to an intersection with the mine shaft. This, I estimated, might tap the water at a point possibly twenty feet below its present level in the shaft. Its success, as I saw at once, would depend entirely upon the location and volume of the underground lake which was supposed to be supplying the flood. If this reservoir were shallow and high in the mountain, the short tunnel might drain it. If it were deep and low, nothing would be accomplished.

The question was still hanging hopelessly up in the air when I made my way around to the mine buildings by the left-hand gulch path, sneaked in and began to shuck myself into Daddy's extra pair of overalls; just for what, I hadn't the least idea; only I needed to be doing something to keep me from going completely dotty in the guessing contest.

By this time, as I knew, they would be getting up from breakfast in the cabin across the dump head, which would most likely be Bullerton's cue to come over and ride me some more. When I looked out in sour anticipation, here he came, smoking one of his high-priced cigars and swaggering a bit, as he always did in walking.

"This is your thirty-thousand-dollar day, Broughton," he tossed at me as soon as he stepped over the threshold of the shaft house door; but I fancied I could notice that, some way, he didn't seem quite so chipper and careless as he had the day before.

"See here," I ripped out; "what's the use? You can't buy this mine at any price! It's not in the market and it isn't going to be. Not in a thousand years!"

"But see here; what's the use of butting your head against a stone wall? You're stuck, world without end, and you know it. This flooded hole in the ground is of no more use to you than a pair of spectacles to a blind man!"

"Perhaps not; ''tis a poor thing, but mine own.' I guess I can keep it as a souvenir if I feel like it, can't I?"

"Oh, h—l!" he gritted, and turning on his heel went away.

After he had gone I patted myself on the back a bit for not losing my temper and then, just to have an excuse for staying away from the cabin and the Bullerton vicinity, I made fires under the boilers and got up steam. In the former pumping spasm Daddy and I had operated only the two big centrifugals, ignoring the deep-well pumps designed to lift the water from the lower levels of the mine.

Just to try something that we hadn't tried before, I got steam on the deep wellers, and soon found that the machinery, which we hadn't taken down in the general overhauling, needed tinkering before it would be safe to run it. Banking the boiler fires, I went at the job single-handed and managed to wear out the livelong day at it.

It took me all the afternoon and then some to get the machinery cleaned and tinkered up and reassembled. In pawing over the supplies in the mine storeroom—stuff left by the former operators—we had found an acetylene flare torch and a can of carbide and I rigged the torch so that I could go on working after dark.

It was along about nine o'clock when I got the deep-wells ready to run and freshened up the fires and turned the steam on. In curious contrast to the care which had been taken to provide a discharge outlet for the centrifugals, the Cornish pumps had merely an iron trough which ran to a ditch leading down to the bench below the mine buildings. After a few minutes of the clanking and banging, the water began to come. It was horribly smelling stuff, thick and discolored; evidences sufficient that it was coming from the bottom of the mine. The two pumps together were lifting about an eight-inch stream, and it occurred to me at once that if I could set the centrifugals going at the same time, the mass attack might accomplish what the piece-meal assault couldn't.

Throwing in the clutch that drove the big rotaries, I ran up against what Daddy would have called a "circumstance." There wasn't power enough to drive both sets of pumps coupled in together; at least, not with the steam pressure the boilers were carrying. Thinking to get more power by pushing the fires a bit harder, I went to the detached boiler room to stoke up, leaving the deep wells clanging away in the shafthouse. I had fired two of the furnaces and was at work on the third when a series of grinding crashes in the machinery sent me flying to find out what was going wrong.

What was happening—what had already happened—was a plenty. As I have said, the great Cornish water-lifters were driven through a train of gearing. When I reached the scene, the steam engine was still running smoothly, but the pumps had stopped. The reason didn't have to be looked for with a microscope. The gear-train was a wreck, with one of the wheels smashed into bits, and half of the cogs stripped from its mesh-mate, if that's what you'd call it.

Mechanically I stopped the engine and went to view the remains. The deep-wells were done for—there was no question about that; they'd never run again until a new set of gears should be installed. That much determined, I began to look for the cause of the calamity. Naturally, I supposed that a cracked cog in one of the wheels had given way, and with this for a starter, the general smash would follow as a matter of course. But a careful and even painful scrutiny of the wreckage failed to reveal the cog with the ancient fracture. Each break was new and fresh and clean; there wasn't a sign of an old flaw in any one of them.

I think I must have knelt there under the gear train for a half-hour or more, handling the fragments of iron and fitting them together. It was like a child's broken-block puzzle, and after a time I was able to lay all the larger bits out upon the floor in their proper relation to one another. It was in the ground-up debris remaining that I found something which suddenly made me see red. Battered into shapelessness, but still clearly recognizable, were the crushed disjecta membra of our twelve-inch monkey-wrench!

"No, She's Gone, Too."

I tried not to go off the handle in a fit of mad rage. With a sort of forced calm I considered every beam and projecting timber where I might incautiously have left the wrench, and from which it might have jarred off to fall into the gears. There was no such chance. I had used the wrench in reassembling the machinery, but now that I came to recall all the circumstances, I distinctly remembered having put it, together with the other tools, on the little work bench back of the engine. The alternative conclusion was, therefore, fairly inevitable. While I was firing the furnaces, somebody—and doubtless somebody who had been watching for the opportunity—had taken advantage of the moment when my back was turned and had thrown the wrench into the gears.

It was the final straw. There was only one person on the Cinnabar reservation who could have any motive for wrecking my machinery; and while I was banking the fires and setting things in order for the night, I charted my course, as the navigators say. The dawn of another day, I told myself, would schedule the ultimate limit. Unless he should prove to be a good bit quicker with his gun than I was with my fists, Bullerton was due to get the man-handling he seemed to be aching for; and beyond that, he'd quit the Cinnabar, if I should have to tie him on his horse and flog the beast half-way to Atropia.

It was with this most unchristian design seething and boiling in my brain that I finally went over to the cabin, let myself in, and climbed stealthily up the loft ladder to my blankets, and the next thing I knew, it was broad daylight, the sun was shining in at the little window over the head of my bunk, and from the kitchen at the rear a juicy and most appetizing odor of frying ham was wafting itself up through the cracks in the unchinked walls of my cubicle.

CHAPTER XI.

An Arctic Bath.

It's an old saying that coming events have a knack of foreshadowing themselves. While I was struggling into my clothes and reviving that overnight determination to have it out with Bullerton the minute I should lay eyes upon him, it struck me all at once that the house was curiously quiet. To be sure, somebody was stirring and the breakfast was cooking, but the premonition that something had happened was strong upon me when I descended the ladder.

In the living room I found a mighty sober-faced old Daddy putting breakfast on the table.

"It's just you and me for it, this mornin', Stannie," he muttered, laying plates for two; and his mild old eyes looked as if they were about to take a bath.

"What!" I exclaimed. "Has Bullerton gone?"

"Uh-huh; bright and early—'fore day, I reckon; leastwise, I didn't hear him when he went."

"But where's Jeanie? She isn't sick, is she?"

He shook his head dolefully.

"No; she—she's gone, too."

"Not with Bullerton?" I gasped.

"It sure does look that-away, Stannie. She left a li'l' note on the table for me, a-tellin' me not to worry none, and sayin' I needn't look for her till I saw her ag'in."

At first I could hardly believe my own ears. It was so incredibly out of keeping with Jeanie as I had been idealizing her.

"Are you going after them?" I demanded.

"What for?" was the despondent query. "'Tain't a morsel o' use, any way you look at it. Jeanie's a woman growed, and she don't have to have the old daddy say she can, 'r she mustn't. Besides, they was probably pitchin' out to catch one o' the early trains—there's one each way, east and west—and them trains 've been gone a couple o' hours."

Daddy had done his best with the breakfast, but I don't recall any meal of my life that ever came so near choking me. I told Daddy about the smashing of the machinery, and the proof I had that it had been a piece of sabotage.

"Reckon maybe he allowed you'd find out he done it and try a dogfall 'r somethin' with him to pay him back?" Daddy queried.

"I don't know," I confessed.

I went on eating in silence, or rather trying to eat, and turning over the puzzling and bad-tasting questionings in my mind. How could Jeanie go off with Bullerton, knowing him to be the scamp he was? And why, if she had been meaning all along to do this thing, had she blocked his game by telling me that I wasn't to sell him the Cinnabar?

It was in the midst of these reflections that I chanced to feel in the coat pocket where I had been carrying the deed turned over to me by Daddy Hiram; and for the second time that morning I nearly choked. The pocket was empty!

"What's hit you now, son?" Daddy inquired; seeing my jaw drop, I suppose.

"The last thing there was in the box that could fall out and hit me," I gurgled. "Bullerton has stolen my deed to the Cinnabar!"

"The mischief he has! Plum sure you hain't lost it out o' your pocket?"

We made sure, without the loss of a moment; looking in my loft sleeping-place and in the mine buildings. The deed was gone, safely enough, and we both agreed that Bullerton had had plenty of chances to steal it. Wearing overclothes while I was working about the machinery, I had often left my coat hanging in the cabin. As a matter of fact, I hadn't worn it at all on the previous day.

"Well, Daddy," said I, after the prolonged search had proved futile, "where does this leave me?"

Threshing the facts out, we soon found where it left me. Grandfather Jasper, as you may remember, had made no mention of the mine, or, indeed, of any legacy to me in his will as it had been probated; there was no need of it because he had already deeded the Cinnabar to me, and at the time of his death it was no longer among his assets. Moreover, his lawyers had told Bullerton (according to Bullerton's story told me in the Pullman smokeroom) that there was no record of any mining transaction whatever in his papers. Therefore, in the absence of the memorandum which my grandfather had given Cousin Percy—and which Percy had doubtless carried with him to China—there was nothing but the deed to show for my ownership; absolutely nothing.

At that, the loss of the deed wouldn't have been fatal if the document had been properly recorded. It hadn't been. And now, with the unrecorded deed gone, there was nothing to prove that I had ever owned the Cinnabar. The loss was total—with no insurance.

Daddy Hiram was shaking his head sorrowfully after we had run this last bunch of straw through the threshing machine.

With things looking as blue as the bluest whetstone that ever clicked upon scythe, we tried to settle upon some line of action. Copah was the county seat, and the obvious first step would have been for me to go there for a search in the county records for evidence of the sale of the mine to my grandfather. But the minute I should show myself on the railroad, I'd be nabbed for the theft of that infernal inspection car. Daddy offered to go in my place, but that alternative didn't appeal to me at all. I knew perfectly well how helpless he'd be in any such lawyerlike search as would have to be made in the county recorder's office.

"Climb your horse and get off the map!"

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

The best antidote for the vices a boy comes up against nowadays is a wise and sympathetic mother.

YOU CAN'T MISS THIS!

TO BUY YOUR GROCERIES

We have the best assorted stock of goods in Central Alabama and if you have not looked thru our line of goods it will be money to you to do so, because we sell strictly for cash and therefore we can give you more for your money than if we did a credit business.

We have a nice line of staple groceries that we are going to sell regardless of the price, and here are a few of the many bargains that we have to offer:

Notice
Our Show Windows
NEXT
Saturday

Kenny's Special Blend Coffee, per pound	Regular Price 25c	Sale Price 18c
Big 5 pound package Competition Coffee	" 1.25c	" 1.00
Peanut Butter	" 10c	" 08
"	" 15c	" 12
Army Corned Beef, 2 lb can,	" 20c	" 15
Genuine Sock Eye Salmon, per can,	" 45c	35
Bank Salmon,	" 20c	12
Big Size Vienna Sausage	" 15c	" 12
Lippenscot Apple Jelly, per glass	" 20c	" 15
Thoma's Pork and Beans, per can	" 15c	" 12
Army Bacon 12 lb can	" 2.00c	1.75
Old Dutch Cleanser per can	" 15c	" 12
6 Packages of Soda,	1 for 5c	24
6 " Grandma's		" 25
Rice, 6c per pound.

Anything
For The
Kitchen

In addition to this, we have the sole agency of John Lucas Paint, which in the paint line, is a scientific perfection and any one buying paint from us we will guarantee perfect satisfaction or refund the money you paid us and also the price of the labor for putting the paint on.

We are behind you. John Lucas is behind us.

We also handle Reliance Aluminum ware, Greystone Enamel ware, and an assorted stock of Hardware, Furniture of all kinds, such as wood and iron bedsteads, chairs, dressers, washstands, rockers, davenports, porch furniture, rugs, art squares, bed sprinps, mattresses, blakets, cots and cot pads.

In the farming line we have plow collars, wagon collars, check lines, plow lines, bridles, collar pads, backbands, plow points, all kinds of plow clevises field and garden hoes, field and garden seeds.

The best always comes at the last and this time it is the wire fencing we handle. It is the Anthony fencing made by the American Steel and Wire Co. We have this wire from 28 inches to 60 inches high. If you havn't tried us come and look us over and we will appreciate your patronage.

W. W. FOX, THE AUCTION MAN

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A full line of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Exchange Hotel Building.

To my friends and Customers

I Will be open next week with a full line of new and up-to-date Dry Goods, Shoes, Clothing and furnishing for the entire family.

I will occupy Baker & Taylor's present place

I will be glad to see all of my friends.

Formely of the New York Store.

My store will be known as the LEADER.

M. Lande

Campaign is Coming. Subscribe News.

HONOR ROLL

The following students of the Chilton County High School have made the First Honor Roll for the seventh scholastic month, having made an average of 90% or above in all subjects including Deportment:

Seniors.

Lera Johnson,
Mary Kennedy,
Lillian Mims,
Eufaula Mahan,
Una Belle Mahan,
Arrell Smitherman,
Cleo Broadhead,
Nettie Dennis,
Mary Earl Farley,
Ruth Jones.

Juniors.

Clara Holley,
Willie Higgins,
Gladys Kemp,
Clara Vines,
Lorene Parrish,
Elly Daniel,
Julius Bunett,
Jewel Armstrong,
Gertie Mae Davis.

Sophomores.

Charles Moore,
Sophia Mullins,
Addie Pearl Martin,
Flossie Wilson,
Dovard Cotton
Myra Moore,
Otto Miller,
Raymond Roberts,
Mollie Robinson.

Freshmen.

Hubert Stroud,
L. V. Higgins,
Harry Eyler.

The following students have made the Second Honor Roll having made an average of 85% or above:

Seniors.

Bertha Dennis.

Juniors.

Aaron Dennis,
Lincoln Devaughn,
Katie Johnson,
Anna Prince,
Tommie Parrish,
Reedie Taylor,
Maud Wagoner.

Sophomores.

Mary Pearl Johnson,
Horace Franklin,
Lawton McDowell,
Lola Sanford,
Prudie Smith,
Lois Williams,
Mae Williams,
Udah Curlee.

Freshmen.

Elizabeth Duncan,
Harlem Daniel,
Ora Jones,
Myrtle Keel,
Girdie Baker,
Gladys Culp,
Pearl Minor,
Lula Mae Mims,
Whit Millsap,
David Moore,
Grady Popwell,
Russell Parrish,
Ethel Powell,
Ila Mae Owens,
Leona Smith,

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic

estroys the malarial germs which are transmitte [illegible] blood by the Malaria Mosquito. Price 50c

---

Keep Cool and Come to JOHNSON DRUG Co.

For Ice Cream And Drugs Also

Pure Drugs, Druggist Sundries, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Cigars, Tobacco of all kinds and Complete line of candies

Johnson Drug Company

Clanton, - - - - Alabama.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need.

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Money to Loan 3-4 of $100,000

I am in position to loan the above amount to farmers of Chilton County with which to Insure their property.

The Insurance contract is for five years and we Insure all your property against Fire, Lightening, and Wind Storms.

You pay one fifth cash and the other four fifths in four annual installments without interest.

This is an Old Line Company and Old Line rates. I also sell Old Line Life Insurance for one of the large Old Line Companies.

I also sell the old reliable Singer Machines on easy payments, and take old Machine in exchange.

C. Reese Mullins Agt.
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

We Do Job Printing.

"---and we are a healthy, happy family now"

—Louis Gingras

TINGLING with abundant energy, appetites hearty, nerves strong and steady and their faces radiant with the glow of perfect health, the entire family of Louis Gingras, 9 Harrison Ave., Providence, R. I., are an eloquent tribute to the powers of Tanlac, the greatest family medicine the world has ever known.

"I've put Tanlac to the test four times right in my own family and it hasn't failed me once," declared Mr. Gingras. "My wife, my son and my daughter, as well as myself, have all been built up from a half-sick, run-down, worn-out set of people into a healthy, happy family brimful of new life and energy."

And the experience of this family is only typical of thousands of others whose statements are on file in the Tanlac offices. Hardly a day passes that does not bring scores of such messages of praise from every part of the United States and Canada from families where mother, father, son and daughter have all found health, contentment and the joys of living through simply taking a course of Tanlac.

Take, for instance, the case of John Widner, 1571 Roosevelt Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., who says: "My wife, myself and little boy are now as healthy, happy family as you will ever see—and it's all due to Tanlac."

Or that of Mrs. John Marquis and her family of sixteen living in Manchester, N. H., at 292 Belmont St., She says: "Tanlac has been the only medicine used in our house for two years and it has kept every one of the sixteen here in the best of health."

In Chicago, Frank R. Richards, of 441 South Wood St., writes: "We will never be without Tanlac in our house after the remarkable way it has built up my wife, my son and myself to where we are the very picture of health."

Representative of New York is the case of Chas. E. Van Colt's family, residing at 129 Fourth Ave., Albany. He says: "Every member of our family is enthusiastic over Tanlac. It's certainly a medicine for all the family."

From far-away Canada comes this message: "My little girl, my son and myself are all enjoying splendid health now and Tanlac brought it all about." Mrs. Bert Hewer, 193 East Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

"We call Tanlac 'The Family Medicine' here in our Virginia home, because it restored my mother and sister to perfect health, just the same as it has done me," is the enthusiastic statement of Mrs. J. F. Robertson, Danville, Va.

And on through the list, men, women and children from every state in the Union and every province of Canada unhesitatingly come forward and tell in words ringing with sincerity of the wonderful benefits of health and happiness that Tanlac has brought into their homes that were formerly, darkened by the gloom of sickness, suffering and despair.

And should yours be one of those homes where any member of the family is thin, run down and weakened from loss of appetite, caused by indigestion and stomach troubles, you have at your very door the means that will no doubt bring the sunshine of vigorous health back into their lives and yours, just as it has done in so many thousands of other cases. Do not delay. Get a bottle of Tanlac from your druggist today.

STANDARD FOR 50 YEARS

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC

Not Only For Chills and Fever

But a Fine General Tonic

Wards Off Malaria and Restores Strength. Try It

If not sold by your druggist, write Arthur Peter & Co., Louisville, Ky.

George's Future Home.

She was one of the richest widows in Washington and owned a magnificent home. Therefore the marine considered himself very fortunate when he won her heart.

They sat side by side in the Hostess house at Quantico, while the leathernecks and lassies swayed to the music of the latest waltz.

Finally she murmured: "George, dear, will I always have as fine a home as I've got now?"

George looked worried. "Why, you ain't thinkin' of movin', are you?" he asked.—The Leatherneck.

Speaking of Furniture.

Bride—"I want to buy an easy chair for my husband." Salesman—"Morris?" Bride—"No, Clarence."

Not a Debatable Point.

The Woman was calling on her next-door neighbor, and while seated in the living room the front doorbell gave a sharp ring. As it happened to be the maid's day out, the small daughter of the house answered the ring.

A penetrating voice reached us from the open door: "Is your mother engaged?"

Mary Ellen's shrill treble was a mingling of astonishment and indignation. "My mother engaged! No, ma'am; she's been married for years."

It's high finance if you win, but it is highway robbery if the other fellow wins.

Any fish a boy catches tastes good to his way of thinking.

WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin.

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

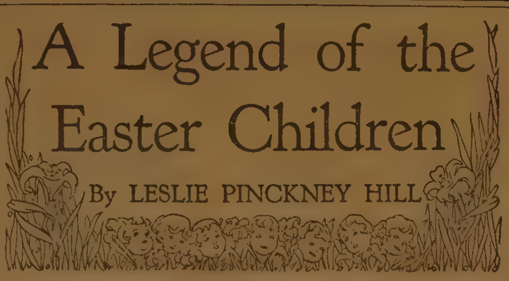
Headache	Colds	Rheumatism
Toothache	Neuralgia	Neuritis
Earache	Lumbago	Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions.
Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.
Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

F 10



A Legend of the Easter Children

By LESLIE PINCKNEY HILL

THE legends say children were first
To be abroad that Easter day
When morning out of darkness burst,
And angels rolled the stone away.
For children's hearts are quick to feel
The deadening pall of mortal pain,
And children's hearts are first to heal
When light and comfort come again.
And they had loved the Lord Christ's face,
And on His knees had laughed and cried,
And heard Him say the heavenly place
Is where all child-like souls abide;
And they had often heard Him tell
Strong men by pride and greed defiled
That they could never please Him well
Till they were humble as a child.
And they had heard the tale that grieves
All little hearts: how One so dear
Was nailed upon a cross with thieves,
And tortured with a poisoned spear;
And how the temple's wondrous veil
Was riven by the lightning stroke,
While, mingled with the women's wail,
The earthquake and the thunder broke;
And how black night came down at noon,
And ghosts from graves that opened wide
Skulked out beneath a blood-red moon,
When He that loved the children died.

For two long days no girl or boy
In Galilee or Jordan plain
Could laugh or sing, for hope and joy
In every little heart was slain.
But when the earth that third day morn
Was flooded with such golden light
As never since the world was born
Had come to dazzle human sight,
Then every child, the legends say,
Knew that the time was at an end,
Knew that the stone was rolled away,
And flew to meet the risen Friend.
And long before the Magdalene
Had reached the empty sepulchre,
Or Peter heard what she had seen,
Or fleet John hastened after her,
The children had gone forth and found
The Master in the garden walk,
And scattered lilies on the ground,
And seen His smile, and heard Him talk.
No child was puny, halt, or lame,
Or hungry, or in tatters clad,
But clothed as if in light they came,
And all were whole, and strong, and glad.

They throng along the Kedron rill,
They thread the city through the gates,
Straight up to Joseph's garden hill,
Where He that loves the children waits.
They dance, they sing, they climb the trees,
They circle round in ring and file;
They know they cannot fail to please,
And win the guerdon of His smile.
He lifts His hand: "I bore the pain
Of death for men by sin defiled;
I rise henceforth to live and reign
Lord of the Kingdom of the Child."
They vanish, and He stands alone;
And when the women come to weep,
The garden flames with flowers new-blown—
The children are at home asleep.

"What makes that garden spot so bright?"
The learned rabbis stroked their chins;
They knew not yet that love is light,
That knowledge fails where love begins.
But somehow still on Easter morn
The world is beautiful again,
And in each child-like heart is born
Some yearning of good will to men—
Some haunting sense, some happy dream
Of singing birds, of daffodils,
Of olive branches, or the gleam
Of dew-shine on the Syrian hills.
—Philadelphia Ledger.

EASTER LILIES

The lily rests for many a month
Within the bulb entombed,
In dust and darkness, where it once
So radiantly bloomed.

And from the altar Easter day
In all its pure perfection,
It proves anew the miracle
Of death and resurrection.
--MINNA IRVING

From a Bride:

"As a young housewife of only two and one-half years' experience I am glad to find that even we amateurs can cook successfully if we use Royal Baking Powder."

Mrs. J. L. M.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

Contains No Alum Leaves No Bitter Taste

Send for New Royal Cook Book—It's FREE

Royal Baking Powder Co., 130 William St., New York

No Doubt.

"Put and take isn't always a gamble. It's sometimes a sure thing. When you put more effort into your business you'll take more profit out of it."—The Kodak Salesman.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores. Advertisement Poets Laureate.

There is no poet laureate of America and no such appointment has ever been made. The first and only state to appoint a poet laureate is Nebraska, which in 1921 declared John G. Neihardt, a native of that state, entitled to that honor.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher

In Use for Over 30 Years.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

A noisy argument draws disputants as custard pie draws flies.

The girl with the dreamy eyes is not apt to put men to sleep.

Great Expectations.

Young Doctor—Look here, Isabel, considering that I have just started practicing, isn't that string of pearls rather an extravagance?

"My dear boy, I wouldn't love you as I do if I hadn't implicit confidence in your future success."—Life.

TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN

It Is the Safe and Reliable Tonic Used by Physicians for Thirty Years

There are "new styles" even in medicines. A new "fad" comes, is popular for a while, and then fades out of public view. A remedy that has stood the test for thirty years must have remarkable merit and cannot be called a "fad." Such is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, originated by Dr. A. Gude over a quarter century ago, which has helped many thousands of people back to good health by improving the blood. Pepto-Mangan is an iron tonic. It contains iron in a special form easily absorbed by the system. It puts color into the lips and cheeks and improves the entire body by improving and enriching the blood. It is sold by druggists in both liquid and tablet form. If you want to be well and strong and look fine and healthy, take Gude's Pepto-Mangan.—Advertisement.

There's a Reason.

"Is your new maid prompt in answering the doorbell?"

"Yes, indeed. She has a sweetheart somewhere who sends her a special delivery letter every day."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

YOU CAN WALK IN COMFORT

If you Shake Into Your Shoes some ALLEN'S FOOT=EASE, the Antiseptic, Healing powder for shoes that pinch or feet that ache. It takes the friction from the shoe and gives relief to corns and bunions, hot, tired, sweating, swollen feet. Ladies can wear shoes one size smaller by shaking Allen's Foot=Ease in each shoe.—Advertisement.

Some women marry in order to be independent, and some men get married for the same reason.

Thinkers, not tinkers, get the most from their machinery.

CUT grease and dirt with Giant Lye. It is so powerful that a little goes a long way.

Write for FREE booklet with pictures that show many uses of Giant Lye.

B. T. BABBITT, Successor
The Mendleson Corporation
15 West 34th St., New York

Mothers of the World

Mothers!! Write for 32-Page Booklet, "Mothers of the World"

Pat. Process
Lloyd
Loom Products
Baby Carriages & Furniture

The Lloyd Mfg. Co. (Heywood-Wakefield Co.) Dept. E Menominee, Mich.
Please send me your booklet, "Mothers of the World."

Use This Coupon
The Lloyd Mfg. Company (Heywood Wakefield Co.) Menominee Mich.

Name....................
Street....................
City.................. State..........

MANAGER WANTED
Exclusive contract, resident representative, farmer preferred, advertising farm equipment for large manufacturer. No investment. Highest bank standing necessary. Address
SALESMANAGER
Box 212 Atlanta, Ga.

IN USE FOR 35 YEARS
BABEK
The Quick and Sure Cure for
MALARIA, CHILLS, FEVER AND LA GRIPPE
It Is a Powerful Tonic and Appetizer
Will cure that tired feeling, pains in back, limbs and head. Contains no quinine, arsenic or habit-forming ingredient.

Cucumber's History.

A strange recipe was once given for the use of cucumbers. It stated, peel off the cucumber, slice it, pepper it, put vinegar to it, and then throw it out of the window. It is, of course, difficult to account for tastes; but this rather suggests advice prompted by an enfeebled digestion. The cucumber has for centuries had a place in the world's dietary table. We have biblical authority for the statement that when the Israelites complained to Moses, they said: "We remember the fish which we did eat in Egypt; the cucumber and the melons." There may be imaginative minds who will see here a link with that popular English dish of salmon and cucumber.—Chicago [illegible]

Poor Human Nature.

"Is Penfield's novel of a small town any good?"

"It must be. The characters are so true to life that the originals don't recognize themselves."—Judge.

Somehow, the average man doesn't feel called upon to worry over the loss of his neighbor's money.

Army-Navy Surplus
Tents, Blankets, Clothing, Camping Equipment, Boots, Shoes, Tarpaulins, Slickers. Astounding bargains.
Send for list.
Frank & Sons
324 L Street, S. W. Washington, D. C.

SPECIAL OFFER
Ladies' Pure Silk Hose, $1.40 pair; 4 pair $5. Regular $2.50 grade, with seam up back. Send cash with order to M. & C. KNIT WEAR CO., 2044 E. Albright St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die
This is no catch phrase but sober truth clearly demonstrated from the Bible and fulfilled prophecy. Book of 128 pages by greatest Bible scholar tells all about it. Fascinating. Only 25c stamps.
E. LUTTRELL, Agent, BREWTON, ALA.

EVERY FAMILY OUGHT TO KNOW! The EASY WAY to make first class, high grade ice cream at home, cost about seventy-five cents a gallon, you need no eggs, or sugar, or flavoring, no cooking or heating. The ICE CREAM POWDER contains everything except the milk. Made from the purest ingredients and guaranteed under the United States pure food laws, put up in four delicious fruity flavors, Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry and Lemon. Full directions for using sent with each order. Complete recipes for making, etc. During spring and summer we will send postpaid, ingredients for making five full gallons for $3.00. Satisfaction guaranteed. Send money by post office or express money order. Address A. BISHOP CO., Box 257, Tuscaloosa, Ala.

YOU CAN MAKE BIG MONEY When You Can Sell Goods. Get the right idea from "Fundamentals of Selling," a New Book. Agents wanted. Sample book 50c. CAPITAL PUB. CO. 9 E. 6th St., ST. PAUL, MINN.

BOOK OF COMFORT
Specially designed gift for the bereaved, at cost. Beautifully printed and decorated. Contains Masterpieces from 75 world-famous writers. Memorial Record for the deceased. Regular price is $3.50 but will send for $2.00 postpaid. This special offer limited one to a family. A. B. LIPSCOMB, Publisher, Box 514, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE.

ST. VITUS DANCE OR CHOREA RELIEVED PROMPTLY; safe and sure. One or two bottles usually gives permanent relief. Price $3.00 per bottle. ACME MEDICINE CO., 1230 53rd St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE BEST WAY NOW TO GROW COTTON is to plant thin land well fertilized, planted as early as possible with the earliest variety of cotton you can get, which is Broadwell's Double-Jointed. We are ready to ship these seed at any time. Be sure to ask about Broadwell's Choice Seed Corn. Address John B. Broadwell & Co., Alpharetta, Ga.

Boys and Girls earn a genuine EVERSHARP SILVERPLATE PENCIL distributing 25 [illegible] MILFORD household necessities at 25c each. Order your stock today; we trust you. Send name, age, teacher's name. Milford Sales Co., Box 3273, Milford, Conn.

How Would You Like to Receive Mail from all parts of the country? Stamp for particulars. BOX 686, PORTLAND, MAINE.

DO YOU SHAVE YOURSELF? Will send you one of my $5.00 polished plate glass mirrors with your name in pure gold leaf, also appoint you as my representative on salary or commission. Send $1.75 for mirror and my proposition. W. C. THURSTON, Dept. 4, Box 201, JACKSON, TENNESSEE.

DROPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE
Short breathing relieved in a few hours; swelling reduced in a few days; regulates the liver, kidneys, stomach and heart; purifies the blood, strengthens the entire system. Write for Free Trial Treatment.
COLLUM DROPSY REMEDY CO., Dept. C.E., ATLANTA, GA.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR APRIL 16

EASTER LESSON

LESSON TEXT—John 20:19-31.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is risen indeed.—Luke 24:34.

PRIMARY AND JUNIOR TOPIC—The First Easter.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why We Observe Easter Day.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Effect of Belief in the Resurrection.

I. Jesus Manifests Himself to the Disciples, Thomas Being Absent (vv. 19-25).

He appeared to several of His disciples at several different times during that day. This is the first appearance to the disciples as a body. The rumors of His several appearances on that day caused the disciples to assemble to talk over the matter. For fear of the Jews, they met in a private room and barred the door. While they were discussing the strange happenings of the day, the Lord mysteriously appeared before them with the greeting of good cheer, "Peace be unto you." He did not come with censure for their failure and desertion. At His birth the angels announced "Peace." Just before he took His departure, He said: "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you" (John 14:27); "Let not your heart be troubled" (John 14:1); and now the first word after His resurrection is "Peace." Having calmed their fears, He gave them an unmistakable evidence of His resurrection. "And when He had so said, He showed unto them His hands and His side. Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord." Their doubts needed to be scattered, and His peace needed to be upon them. Consider:

1. The disciples' commission (v. 21). "As my Father hath sent Me, even so send I you." This commission was not simply to a class, as the eleven, but is to all Christians. In Luke 24:33 we find that there were others there in that meeting besides the eleven when Jesus showed himself to them and commissioned them, showing that the commission is not confined to a class or order, but is wide as the Christian body itself. All Christians, therefore, are envoys and representatives of Christ. The exercise of this great function is not merely optional with the individual, but is obligatory upon him. The Lord placed it upon a plane with His own commission from the Father—"As my Father hath sent me, so send I you."

2. The disciples' equipment (v. 22). "He breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost." The mission of the disciple is a very great one, but every one who goes forth in its execution He clothes with the power of a new life by the bestowment of His spirit. No one who has this equipment shall ever fail. The Lord's representatives have His life in them. The barrenness of our efforts is due to our failure to take by faith our equipment.

3. The disciples' authority (v. 23). "Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained." This authority was not by virtue of office, but by virtue of having the Holy Ghost. This would give the spiritual discernment to know who had or who had not repented, and consequently, to pronounce pardon or not.

II. Jesus Manifests Himself to the Disciples, Thomas Being Present (vv. 26-29).

Thomas was absent at the first appearance of Jesus. His absence deprived him of a vision of the Lord. Absence from the assembly of believers always occasions loss. The other disciples go to Thomas at once with the glad news of the resurrection, but he will not believe. His stubborn disbelief is such that he doggedly declares that unless he sees the prints of the nails, etc., he will not believe. It is right to demand evidence, but to prescribe terms is rank unbelief. Note:

1. The Lord's kindness to those who have difficulties. Thomas deserved rebuke, but the Lord kindly supplied the evidence which he demanded.

2. The revelation of the Lord transforms a doubter into a possessor.

III. The Conclusion of the Gospel (vv. 30-31).

In these verses John's arguments are summarized, and an explanation is given as to why he wrote this Gospel. Many other things could have been written, but these that he wrote he judged adequate to prove his point: To prove that (1) Jesus of Nazareth was the expected Messiah; (2) that He was divine—the very Son of God; (3) that those who believe on Him as God's only Son—the Messiah—would receive eternal life. Eternal life is in Him and only as He is appropriated by faith can men be saved.

What Christ Saw in World.

Christ saw much in this world to weep over, and much to pray over; but He saw nothing in it to look upon with contempt.

Happiness in Our Heart.

The happiness that we vainly seek the world over is all the time within us, nestled close to our own hearts.—Bruce Calvert.

Our Comforts.

Most of our comforts grow up between our crosses.—Young.

Harrison Shepard
Elgin, Tenn.—"I can say that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and the Pleasant Pellets have been the means of restoring my health. I was weak and run-down, had such headaches, and my kidneys were out of order. It was a misery for me to walk around. I began taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' and they put me on the road to good health right away. I want to speak a good word for Dr. Pierce's remedies to all sufferers."—Harrison Shepard, R. F. D. 1, Box 18.
Start right by obtaining this 'Discovery' at once from your neighborhood druggist in tablets or liquid, or write to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.

CANCER Hospital
Serum Treatment.
Booklet upon request.
Lock Box No. 2127, ATLANTA, GA.

INFLAMED EYES
Don't treat sore, inflamed, smarting eyes with powerful drugs "dropped" in by hand. A soothing, effective, safe remedy is best. 25 cents—all druggists.
MITCHELL EYE SALVE

Keep Your Skin-Pores Active and Healthy With Cuticura Soap
Soap 25c, Ointment 25 and 50c, Talcum 25c.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Removes Dandruff-Stops Hair Falling
Restores Color and Beauty to Gray and Faded Hair
60c. and $1.00 at Druggists.
Hiscox Chem. Wks. Patchogue, N. Y.

HINDERCORNS Removes Corns, Callouses, etc., stops all pain, ensures comfort to the feet, makes walking easy. 15c. by mail or at Druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

Clerks for Govt. Positions. Railway Mail, Postoffice, Departmental, Field. Examination soon. Salary $130 mo. Exp. not required. Particulars free of positions, exams. Columbia Sch. Civil Service., 354 Pope Bldg., Wash., D.C

FREE A $1.00 BOX OF
BULGARINE THÉE
These tablets are used universally for indigestion, stomach and bowel troubles. They stimulate the liver, kidneys, bowels to healthy action and purify the blood.
NOTHING BETTER FOR CONSTIPATION
Clip this ad and send with 10c to the
MARVEL MEDICINE COMPANY
2130 Forbes St. Pittsburgh, Pa.
Agents Wanted

Different Interpretations.

That all people do not have the same slant of humor is illustrated in the following story:

One of the wealthiest men in Youngstown recently said to a friend:

"I had a funny dream last night."

"What was it all about?" the friend encouraged.

"I dreamed I got into a little flivver that climbed up a telephone pole turned a somersault on the wires, and then slid down another pole."

"Well, that certainly was some dream."

"Yes," the rich man exclaimed. "Imagine me in a flivver."

A Distinct Benefit.

"The world conference will result in many benefits," remarked the observer.

"True," rejoined Senator Sorghum; "and one of the most important of them lies in the fact that a number of gentlemen from abroad were detained long enough to get actual information before going home and writing their impressions of America."

Marriage may be a failure in some cases, but with the advent of twins it becomes a howling success.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION
BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION 25 CENTS
6 BELL-ANS Hot water Sure Relief
BELL-ANS
25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

Liggett & Myers
KING PIN
PLUG TOBACCO
Known as "that good kind"
Try it—and you will know why

SHOALS TO GULF RAILROAD PLANNED

THE COMPANY HAS QUALIFIELD TO DO BUSINESS IN ALABAMA; FRED S. BALL, ATTORNEY.

JITNEY ORDINANCE IS UPHELD

Montgomery—The Muscle Shoals Birmingham and Pensacola Railroad, organized in Florida for the purpose of constructing a railroad from the Muscle Shoals district to Pensacola, qualified to do business in Alabama by filing a declaration with William P. Cobb, secretary of state. The company named Fred S. Ball, Montgomery attorney, as its agent in Alabama, the certificate showing that the railroad will have a capital of $2,500,000 and the authority to increase this capital to $25,000,000.

The plans of the railroad provide for the construction of 309.41 miles of track within Alabama on its main line and 29 miles of side track. John T. Steel, of Buffalo, N. Y., is president of the corporation with H. A. Mandeville, of Elmira, N. Y., as vice president, and R. C. Greenaway, as secretary.

Jitney Ordinance Upheld.

Birmingham—Action of the city of Birmingham in restriction of jitney routes was upheld by the supreme court, which maintains the city retains right to designate the routes jitneys shall operate within a municipality.

To Vote On Bond Issue.

Birmingham—Voters of Birmingham will pass upon a proposed $7,000,000 bond issue and the three-mill increase in the tax levy for the expansion of the school system, auditorium, playgrounds and library about the middle or latter part of May, according to plans of the City Commission.

Juvenile Amendment Upheld.

Montgomery—Validity of the act of 1919 amending the juvenile court act of Jefferson County was sustained by the supreme court by a decision which affirmed the judgment of the Jefferson Circuit Court in the case of the state ex-rel Ira J. Sellers vs. S. D. Murphy, judge of the juvenile court.

To Round Up Loafers.

Huntsville—Mayor W. T. Hutchens has instructed the police to run in the vegrants from now on. Negro pool rooms, which are generally filled with young negro men without jobs, will be the objects of special attention. The mayor declares that there are plenty of jobs for all who want work now and that there must be no more loafing.

Rose Bushes In Anniston.

Anniston—The final shipment of the summer for rose bushes in connection with the city beautiful movement has been received. The roses were ordered by W. W. Stringfellow in an effort by the local financier to make this a "rose city." Previous shipments received by him had been eagerly sought by Anniston people, thousands of bushes being distributed and planted.

Judson's Eighty-Fourth Session.

Marion—Judson College will soon close its eighty-fourth successfull session. It is among the oldest colleges of America for the education of women, and since its doors were opened in 1838 it has maintained a high standard of Christian education for young ladies. Commencement exercises at Judson College is always a gala time for Marion, as parents of students and many other visitors from all parts of the country gather here at that time to attend these enjoyable exercises.

Salmon Joins Auburn Forces.

Auburn—The most recent addition to the experiment station staff at Auburn is W. D. Salmon, who will be engaged in general animal husbandry research work. Mr. Salmon came to Auburn directly from Clemson College, South Carolina, where he was engaged in similar work, and prior to his work at Clemson he finished a course in agriculture at the University of Kentucky, a post-graduate course at the University of Missouri, and following one year of experience he comes to Auburn well prepared for his new position.

Farmers Catching Up.

Huntsville—North Alabama farmers have made rapid progress toward catching up with their farm work during the last two weeks and some cotton is being planted, only a few days later than usual. With a continuation of fair weather next week will be the great cotton planting week in this section. Fear of the boll weevil, it is believed, is going to result in material reductions of the cotton acreage in this section this year.

MULES IMMUNE FROM BONE DRY CONFISCATION

Supreme Court Renders Decision That a Mule Is Not a Vehicle.

Montgomery—A horse or mule caught with liquor on its back is immune from confiscation under the bone dry prohibition law. The supreme court defined the rights of horses and mules not attached to vehicles in a case from the Madison County court which was started by the solicitor in an effort to confiscate a mule because he had been used in transporting liquor.

The bone dry law says any vehicle used in transporting liquor may be seized, condemned and sold by the state. But this mule was not attached to a vehicle. If he carried liquor at all he carried it on his back. The supreme court's decision was that this would not constitute a case wherein the animal could be sold. If the mule had been attached to a vehicle and the vehicle had contained liquor he would have been condemned. The court's opinion pointed out various sections of the bone dry law which showed that vehicles and not animals were intended to be seized under the bone dry law.

Piedmont Grows Cabbages.

Piedmont—Ivy C. Turner has demonstrated the fact that head cabbage can be grown in this section through the winter. From a small plat in his garden he has produced about 500 pounds of nicely headed cabbage from 75 cents worth of plants set last October. And it has been suggested that if the farmers in this community were to receive the value at the market price of such vegetables as can be grown successfully here each month in the year as are shipped in to Piedmont there would be no boll weevil problem as it exists today to the extent of financial ruin to the farmers in the absence of effective means of curbing the ravages of the weevil.

Seven Road Propects Let.

Montgomery—The state highway commission at a called meeting awarded seven contracts and rejected an eighth for a paved road in Limestone County, following protests presented by citizens of that county who objected to the expenditure of so much money on one piece of road.

Bessemer Chamber of Commerce.

Bessemer—Progress is being made on plans for the formation of a Chamber of Commerce at Bessemer and committees were appointed for definite arrangements for effecting the organization.

STATE NEWS NOTES.

The Alabama Bar Association will meet in Birmingham April 28th and 29th.

* * *

Roy Dickerson was convicted in the Russell County Circuit Court on the charge of conspiracy in the Phenix-Girard Bank two years ago and sentenced to 25 years in the penitentiary.

* * *

Judge Edward DeGraffenreid, prominent Alabama lawyer and jurist of Tuscaloosa, died suddenly of acute indigestion in Greensboro, where he had gone on legal business.

* * *

The new Hackleburg Public school building will be completed and ready for occupancy in about six weeks.

* * *

The Selma Chamber of Commerce is conducting a membership campaign. All business men of the Central City are to be visited and asked to join the chamber.

* *

The ladies of Gadsden have petitioned the City Council to buy a plot of ground and establish a playground for the children.

* * *

Effective April 16 two new passenger trains will be put on by the Seaboard Air Line. The new trains will operate between Birmingham and Jacksonville.

* * *

W. E. Eubanks, prohibition enforcement officer, charged with killing Curtis Tidmore, Blount County farmer, was freed by a Jefferson County jury.

Report on Warrior Traffic.

Tuscaloosa—The following report was recorded with reference to traffic passing through Lock 10 on the Warrior for March: Total freight, 21298 tons; freight up river, 3,444 tons; freight down river, 17,854 tons; coal, 13,688; manufactured steel and iron, 4,130 tons; general and miscellaneous, 930 tons; lumber, 1,330 tons; sugar, 43 tons; sand and gravel, 43 tons; logs, 100 tons; tow boats, 65; barges, 124; lockages, 30.

Why Men Take Mastin's Yeast Vitamon Tablets—To Clear The Skin and Put On Firm Flesh
Easy and Economical Results Quick

Of what use are fine features with an ugly, mottled skin, flabby flesh, sunken cheeks, pouches under the eyes, or a careworn, sickly-looking face?
If you want to quickly clear your skin and complexion, put some firm, healthy flesh on your bones, increase your nerve force and power and look and feel far better, simply try taking two of MASTIN'S tiny yeast VITAMON TABLETS with each meal and watch the results.
MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS contain not only the purest form of concentrated yeast vitamines, but all three vitamines scientifically combined with specially prepared organic iron for your blood, the necessary lime salts and other true vitalizing brain, bone and tissue making elements which Nature provides to produce real "stay-there" flesh, clear skin and increase energy.
Under their purifying influence, many embarrassing skin eruptions seem to vanish as if by magic, leaving the skin and complexion fresh, clear and glowing with ruddy health.
To protect yourself against imitations and cheap substitutes INSIST upon MASTIN'S to get the original and genuine VITAMON TABLETS, recommended by physicians and used by millions. At all good druggists.

MAN'S BEST AGE
A man is as old as his organs; he can be as vigorous and healthy at 70 as at 35 if he aids his organs in performing their functions. Keep your vital organs healthy with
GOLD MEDAL
HAARLEM OIL
CAPSULES
The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles since 1696; corrects disorders; stimulates vital organs. All druggists, three sizes.
Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

USE SLOAN'S TO EASE LAME BACKS
YOU can't do your best when your back and every muscle aches with fatigue.
Apply Sloan's Liniment freely, without rubbing, and enjoy a penetrative glow of warmth and comfort.
Good for rheumatism, neuralgia, sprains and strains, aches and pains, sciatica, sore muscles, stiff joints and the after effects of weather exposure.
For forty years pain's enemy. Ask your neighbor. Keep Sloan's handy.
At all druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.
Sloan's Liniment (Pain's enemy)

Self-Supporting.

An attorney for Los Angeles advertised for a chauffeur. Some twenty odd responded and were being questioned as to qualifications, efficiency and whether married or single. Finally, turning to a negro chap, he said:

"How about you, George; are you married?"

"Naw-sir, boss, naw-sir. Ah makes mah own livin'."—From Judge.

Is It Progress?

"It may be progress or it may be another form of motion," said Old Ma Doodle, "but it is apparent that nowadays the loss of a reputation for probity and virtue is not so much of a handicap as it was a few years ago. In fact, I have heard some handicapping on the technical acquittal of self confessed notorious crooks."—Chicago Daily News.

AT ALL DRUG STORES
AT THE FIRST SIGN OF A COLD—USE
CASCARA QUININE
World's [illegible] remedy [illegible] Grippe [illegible] Hill's portrait [illegible]
W. H. HILL COMPANY DETROIT
PRICE 30 CENTS

Kill All Flies! THEY SPREAD DISEASE
Placed anywhere, DAISY FLY KILLER attracts and kills all flies. Neat, clean, ornamental, convenient and cheap. Lasts all season. Made of metal, can't spill or tip over; will not soil or injure anything. Guaranteed.
DAISY FLY KILLER at your dealer or 5 by EXPRESS, prepaid, $1.25.
HAROLD SOMERS, 150 De Kalb Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

BIG OPENING SALE

"THE LEADLR"

Clanton's New Dry Goods and Ready-to-wear Store

Our stock is complete and you are sure to get new clean goods.

If you need any clothes we have the very newest styles and prices are so cheap yon will be astonished.

M. LANDE Manager

Look for the yellow front store. Next to Johnson Drug Co. Baker & Taylor old stand

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY............Editor
J. L. JOHNSON,............Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

"Come, Let us Reason Together."

In approaching a discussion of what we honestly believe to be the best, and, in fact, the only reasonable or safe political affiliation for every Southern man or woman to endorse, we first desire to impress upon the minds of our readers that we do not hold to the opinion that all the good people, all the honest people, all the capable people nor all of the patriotic people belong to any one religious organization nor to any one political faith or creed. We believe there are, more or less, good, honest and conscientious people affiliated with practically all religious and political creeds. Let that statement soak in.

This being the fact, we also feel like it behooves us all to follow out the old Biblical injunction to "come, let us reason together," so we invite you as friends and as citizens, in whose hearts burns an earnest desire to see only the happiness and prosperity of our Southland, to join with us in seeking the best and safest policies by which these objects may be attained.

Locally our county has been confronted for years by a situation that is absolutely unexplainable even by those who control. We have watched the situation for several years. Have kept tab on several of our local political campaigns, and we have never seen one sane or tenable reason urged by any one why we should willfully ostracise ourselves from all touch with a "Solid South" and doom our own selves to be an absolute nonentity in the councils of the land in which we live. We have played the game of politics in such a way that we have invariably held the loosing hand at every stage of the game. We have systematically played to loose and we have systematically succeeded.

Now listen! The local government of a county is in no sense influenced or controlled by the creeds, policies nor national platforms of any party. That idea is too absurd for consideration. Clean, honest officials is all that is essential to insure a good administration of your local affairs The handling of the business affairs of a county is as foreign to politics as middight is to high noon, if they are honestly haneled to the best interest of al the people. The real clean, honest, fair and square administration of the county's business cannot ever be a political issue.

As we said before, no church or party has a monopoly on honesty or efficiency. The Democratic party is offering the people this year as candidates for county offices, men whose honesty, integrity and capability will stand unimpeached long after this campaign has been forgotten, and there does not exist the slightest obligation to their party, or to any other party, for them to turn thieves, robbers and crooks and fleece you out of your money. There is not, and never has been any clause in the Democratic faith that required its adherents to be crooks.

In plain words, you all know the affairs of Chilton county would be just as safe in the hands of your honest democratic neighbor as in the hands of your honest republican neighbor. The party they belong to has not a thing on earth to do with their efficiency.

The South is solidly Democratic. Our State is part of that South and it is solidly Demosratic to all intents and purposes. Any tendency of that solidity to crumble around the edges just after the war was most efficiently attended to by President Harding in his Birmingham speech and by Congress with the anti-lynching bill. They effectually cemented up any possible cracks that might have been made by the shock of war, and today the same grim menance that forced the Solid South to exist in the early days of reconstruction following the civil war has been brazenly shaken in our faces again with the effect that the ranks have been closed up and it will be long after we are all dead and forgotton before there will ever be a rift in the bond of self protection that has kept, and will continue to keep the South solidly democratic.

Hence, by alligning ourselves in Chilton county with the party that continuously, for more than fifty years, has carried and threatened us with the club of social equality, we automatically put ourselves out of touch and sympathy with our State and our entire section and render aid and comfort to the enemy of our own peace and happiness. We also stab in the back the very party that has protected our womanhood from the contamination of social equality for fifty years, and also the very party we are necessarily depending on to protect them in the future. We do this too without any possible hope of reward or the slightest possibility of benefitting anyone except, perhaps, a half dozen office seekers.

Wont you all calmly reason this matter out for yourselves and see if you don't decide it is time for us all to unite again in defense of the unalterable ideals of this great Southland?

It Wont Work.

President Harding, realizing no doubt, that he has no chance of occupying the white house ever again after the expiration of his present term, is in favor of Congress extending the presidential term from 4 years to 6 years, to become effective during his tenure of office.

We would have supposed that he knew Congress had no constitutional power to do this, as the duration of the presidential term is fixed by the constitution and only a vote of the people can legally change that.

And again we would have thought he knew that the salary of no public official can be changed or the terms under which he accepted office altered during his tenure of service.

He is as thoughtless as the recent Alabama legislature. He seems to have forgotten that such a document as a Constitution exists.

The real League of Nations is in session now and your Uncle Sam has a representative there along with the rest. Don't forget that, please.

Mr. C. B. Cox shipped his immense grading, concreting and road building outfit to Marshall county last week and will construct $200,000 worth of Federal aid road over there. From the number of railroad cars it required to transport his outfit it looked like a whole division of the army might be making a move. Charley is one of the most efficient road builders in Alabama.

An open enamy is always to be preferred to a two-faced friend.

Considerable corn has been planted during the past week but no cotton yet so far as we have heard.

It is very doubtful is a person who manifests no loyalty to his convictions is worth very much to his party, his church or his community.

Miss Flapper, why don't you kill a man or two, join the movies and get rich? Don't hesitate, for that is the latest and most approved route to prosperity.

"A great break in the shoe market."—Financial News. We had already observed that fact. Shoes that were selling for $8.00 are now being offered for $7.98.

Clanton has an enclosed ball park now, a nicely uniformed team and is waiting for victims. Our boys are going to eat 'em up alive this year—if they don't they better move.

The world is full of men who think they know it all until they fall into the hands of a first grade flapper. The next report they make on their mentality after that will hardly ever do to print.

Uncle Dock Wells is going to have quite a complicated job of praying on his hands if he decides to be Chaplain for the Chilton county candidates and pray for the success of them all.

Look not upon the flapper when she bobs her hair, blows cigarette smoke through her painted nostrils and smirks at you with poke berry lips, for, behold, there is nothing there but vanity and vexation of spirit.

The coal operators have cut the price of coal $2.00 per ton. This, we suppose, is intended by them to convince the public that the union miners have been responsible for the high price prevailing for the past several years.

Editor S. R. Hoover, of the Knox County (Mo.) Democrat, spent a few days in Clanton on business this week. He is a booster for Missouri, a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat and an all round clever gentleman. He is happy now, for he says his people have tried out the republican party to an eternal finish, and are anxiously looking forward to the election so they can let the world know they have got back home.

We do Job Printing.

Subscribe for the Chilton County News $1.00 per year.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

From the Chicago News.

Some girls grow up and become credits to their parents and some others become lady elocutionists.

Most men appreciate the nonsense of a pretty woman far more than they do the sense of a homely one.

The man who makes mistakes and manages so that the other fellow pays for them does not need any praying for.

No matter how much a woman is sure that a man loves her, she wishes it was more so she could ask him to say it in bigger language.

One of life's peculiarities is that the world is seldom watching a man when he is doing good.

In the race for wealth the average man acts like a horse of the long-eared breed.

Give us Your Repair Work

We save you money on Repair Work and we give you the very best service that it is possible to give. Our repair work is increasing very fast—there must be a reason.

Lawrence Garage,

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Next Saturday Only

We will allow $1.00 credit on any one pair of men's worn out dress shoes to be applied on the purchase of another pair of dress shoes.

This is an opportunity to dispose of those old shoes at a fair value

Why let your feet suffer when you can get a new pair of "Walk-Overs," John C. Roberts, or other good Solid Leather Shoes we handle?

We are going to give Special Reduced Prices on Piece Goods, Men's and Children's hats, and Men's and Boy's Clothing, etc.

You will be pleased to see our reduced prices for we will save you money.

W. Z. Hodges Dry GOOds Co

Clanton, - - - Alabama.

HOW TWO WOMEN ESCAPED OPERATIONS

Doctor Advised Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Happy Results in Both Cases

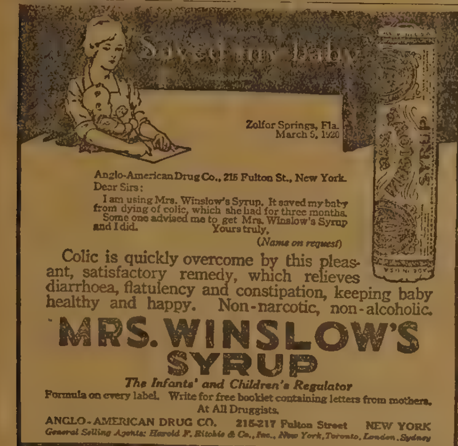
St. Joseph, Missouri.—"Both of my sides swelled and hurt me so that I could not move or do any of my work. There was heavy pressure and pains through my lower organs and the doctor told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for these troubles. He said I had this one chance, and if the Vegetable Compound did not help me nothing but an operation would. After taking several bottles I felt it was helping me and now I am able to do my own work. If my testimonial will help others I shall be glad for them to read it and hope your Vegetable Compound will do them as much good as it did me."—Mrs. WM. LOCKMAN, 513 N. 4th St., St. Joseph, Mo.

White Plains, N. Y.—"I had such a pain that I could hardly walk and the doctor said that I needed an operation. I was sick for a year before I started taking your medicine and I could not work. I saw your advertisement in a little book and that is how I came to take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, also Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and the capsules and prescription recommended. I am doing all my work and have gained twenty pounds. I am taking the medicines still, but I feel fine. You have my permission to use this letter for the good of others."—Mrs. MARY MARK, 37 Hamilton Ave., White Plains, N. Y.

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But most of the commoner ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors, or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same.

When disturbing ailments first appear, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.



Zolfor Springs, Fla.
March 5, 1920

Anglo-American Drug Co., 215 Fulton St., New York.
Dear Sirs:

I am using Mrs. Winslow's Syrup. It saved my baby from dying of colic, which she had for three months. Some one advised me to get Mrs. Winslow's Syrup and I did.
Yours truly,
(Name on request)

Colic is quickly overcome by this pleasant, satisfactory remedy, which relieves diarrhoea, flatulency and constipation, keeping baby healthy and happy. Non-narcotic, non-alcoholic.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP

The Infants' and Children's Regulator

Formula on every label. Write for free booklet containing letters from mothers.
At All Druggists.

ANGLO-AMERICAN DRUG CO. 215-217 Fulton Street NEW YORK
General Selling Agents: Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Inc., New York, Toronto, London, Sydney

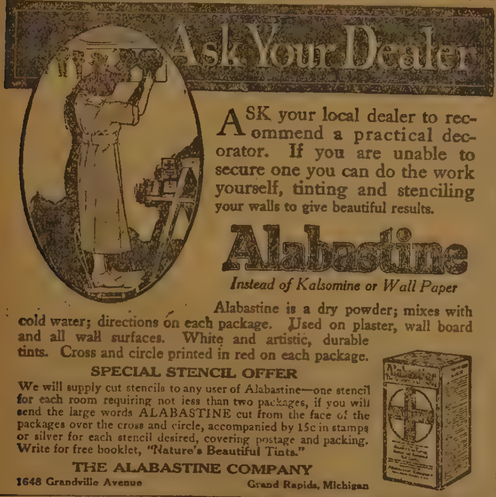
Really New.

Agent—"I've got a device here for getting energy out of the sun." Mr. Jones—"Here! Give me one for mine."

Thoughts of what might have been are an injustice to today.

When a man is continually talking about his troubles his neighbors never trouble about his talk.

A man may not be able to find his wife's pocket, but she always knows where his are located.



Ask Your Dealer

ASK your local dealer to recommend a practical decorator. If you are unable to secure one you can do the work yourself, tinting and stenciling your walls to give beautiful results.

Alabastine

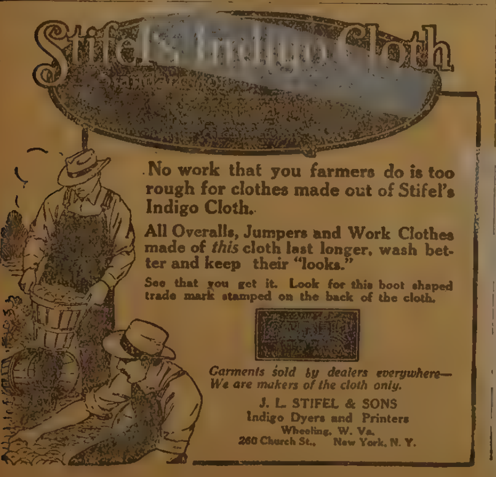
Instead of Kalsomine or Wall Paper

Alabastine is a dry powder; mixes with cold water; directions on each package. Used on plaster, wall board and all wall surfaces. White and artistic, durable tints. Cross and circle printed in red on each package.

SPECIAL STENCIL OFFER

We will supply cut stencils to any user of Alabastine—one stencil for each room requiring not less than two packages, if you will send the large words ALABASTINE cut from the face of the packages over the cross and circle, accompanied by 15c in stamps or silver for each stencil desired, covering postage and packing. Write for free booklet, "Nature's Beautiful Tints."

THE ALABASTINE COMPANY
1648 Grandville Avenue Grand Rapids, Michigan



Stifel's Indigo Cloth

No work that you farmers do is too rough for clothes made out of Stifel's Indigo Cloth.

All Overalls, Jumpers and Work Clothes made of this cloth last longer, wash better and keep their "looks."

See that you get it. Look for this boot shaped trade mark stamped on the back of the cloth.

Garments sold by dealers everywhere—We are makers of the cloth only.

J. L. STIFEL & SONS
Indigo Dyers and Printers
Wheeling, W. Va.
260 Church St., New York, N. Y.

LIVE STOCK

SERUM WILL PROTECT SWINE

Erroneous Impression Prevails That Hog Cholera Will Be Eradicated In Few Years.

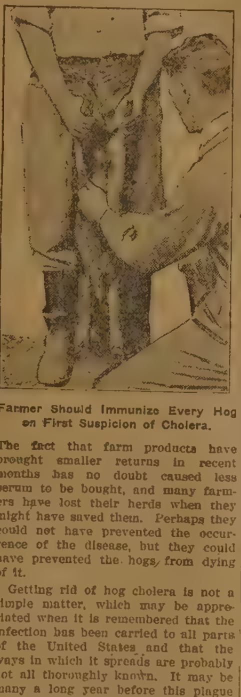
(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The impression that hog cholera is a disease that will be eliminated before many years through the use of anti-hog-cholera serum has been spread throughout the country, but there is little ground for such a belief, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The serum treatment, when properly given, will protect hogs against the disease, but it does not go to the source and eliminate the germs from the country, which would be necessary if hog cholera is to become a thing of the past. It might be possible to eliminate the disease if every hog in the United States could be kept immunized all of the time, but such a measure would be impractical, if not impossible.

Hog cholera is of varying prevalence, both as to the time of the year and as to periods of several years. In the fall—October and November—there is more of this disease than in the other months. The number of hogs per thousand affected by it changes greatly from year to year, also. There have been years, such as 1887, 1897 and 1913, when cholera raged throughout the corn belt, causing great losses to farmers. In the years intervening between these high points the losses were relatively low.

Since 1913 hog cholera has been but slightly prevalent as compared with the worst years, but there is no assurance that other great waves of the disease will not occur as they did before serum was used. It has been but eight years since the last high point in losses from cholera, and the records of the Department of Agriculture show that the period between the high points of prevalence is usually 10 years or longer.

This fall there are reports of increased losses from cholera, but some increase is to be expected every fall.



Farmer Should Immunize Every Hog on First Suspicion of Cholera.

The fact that farm products have brought smaller returns in recent months has no doubt caused less serum to be bought, and many farmers have lost their herds when they might have saved them. Perhaps they could not have prevented the occurrence of the disease, but they could have prevented the hogs from dying of it.

Getting rid of hog cholera is not a simple matter, which may be appreciated when it is remembered that the infection has been carried to all parts of the United States and that the ways in which it spreads are probably not all thoroughly known. It may be many a long year before this plague of the swine industry is eliminated. The best thing to be done now is for each farmer to keep close watch over his herd, and on the first suspicion of the disease immunize every hog.

Some men now consider immunization against hog cholera as one of the regular expenses of pork production and have it done every year. They realize that it is not a cure, but only a prevention against loss. Even when serum is used there is sometimes a loss, but in nearly all cases the method is very successful. It is the only dependable means available for preventing losses from hog cholera.

Easy to Make Runts.

It is easy to make runts out of well-bred pigs by not feeding the sow well. A brood sow should receive, therefore, all the concentrates she will clean up as soon as the pigs are large enough to take the milk.

Balanced Feed for Cattle.

Corn alone is excellent for fattening cattle. Add to it, say, 10 to 20 per cent of its weight in linseed meal, cottonseed meal or tankage, and you get a ration that is still better balanced. Or feed the corn with oats and alfalfa, instead of all corn stalks and other roughage.

Time to Buy Sheep.

The present price of wool and mutton is so far out of proportion to the present price of sheep that it looks like now is the time to buy sheep.

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are of finer quality (and hence of better taste) than in any other cigarette at the price.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Chesterfield CIGARETTES

of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—blended

20 for 18c
10 for 9c
Vacuum tins of 50 - 45c

Lots of men go short on fiction because it is stranger than truth.

YOU CANNOT AFFORD

To let your little hurts and ailments get bad.

Keep Vacher-Balm handy for Burns, Boils, Cuts, Corns, Piles, or Soreness anywhere.

Ask your druggist. Avoid imitations.—Advertisement.

At the age of forty a man is either an old bachelor or a pessimist.

Cuticura Comforts Baby's Skin

When red, rough and itching, by hot baths of Cuticura Soap and touches of Cuticura Ointment. Also make use now and then of that exquisitely scented dusting powder, Cuticura Talcum, one of the indispensable Cuticura Toilet Trio.—Advertisement.

HAD TO HAVE CONSERVATORY

Most Parents of Six Marriageable Daughters Will Sympathize With This Home Seeker.

Charles M. Schwab said at a reception in New York:

"The world is hankering after disarmament and universal peace as the househunter hankered after a conservatory.

"A househunter was looking for a cheap, smallish house with a large conservatory. The agent showed him a number of houses, but as they all lacked conservatories the hunter turned them down. Finally the agent said in a disgusted tone:

"'Of course I thought your conservatory idea was just a whim. A cheap nine-room house with a conservatory! Why, man, it ain't to be found. What's the reason you're so crazy after a conservatory, anyhow?'

"'Well, confidentially,' said the househunter, 'it's like this. Wife and I have got six daughters, and all six have had young fellows kind of sparkin' round 'em for a long, long time; so what we need, you see, is a conservatory. The girls want somewhere to do the ripenin' off in.'"

A self-conqueror is a man who never gets mad on a street car.

STONECYPHER'S IRISH POTATO BUG KILLER

Every year you plant Irish Potatoes.
Every year you have Potato Bugs.
Every year you should use
STONECYPHER'S
Irish Potato Bug Killer

Guaranteed to destroy the bug without damage to the plant. Also destroys all leaf eating insects on cabbage, cucumber, cantaloupe, squash and tomato vines. Apply lightly. Cost low. Applicaton easy. Results sure.

For Sale by Drug, Seed and General Stores

STONECYPHER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO.
Westminster, - - - S. C.

MADE POOR RENT COLLECTOR

Indianapolis Man Evidently Too Good-Natured to Succeed in That Line of Business.

Bachelor Joe Stokes, the druggist, never gets peace from his story-telling friends.

Joe owns some rental property in one of the industrial districts. Things have been a bit slow in industry lately and Joe has had trouble collecting his rents. His real estate broker constantly was returning word that he could not collect.

"I'll go out and collect it myself." Mr. Stokes said, a bit peevishly—that is, if Joe ever gets that way.

Anyhow, a day or two later Joe started out on a rental collection tour. Late that afternoon he returned to his drug store. An unusual little smile was working at the corners of Joe's mouth.

"Any luck?" one of the clerks inquired.

"Any luck? Boy, you're crazy! Instead of paying me, they borrowed money from me everywhere I went."—Indianapolis News.

One Man Not Henpecked.

"Does your husband ever take your advice?"

"Only as a joke."

Marriage.

Woman's trip into the business world usually is an excursion. Permanent sojourn generally is prevented by Cupid.

How long should a girl remain in business before marrying?

About five years, advises Prof. Ralph L. Powers of the University of California.

Women in business are going to college—training themselves to be better home managers.

Neutral.

A prisoner in court was asked the usual question—"Guilty or not guilty?"

"Yes," responded the man at the bar.

"What's that?" asked the judge.

"I was asked whether I was guilty or not guilty, and of course I am! Of the two conditions I could not well escape both."

"But which are you?"

"Oh, go on, judge! What's the jury for?"

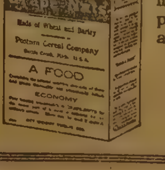
Explained at Last.

Elsie—Why does a clock start all over again when it gets to twelve?

Bobby—'Cause thirteen's an unlucky number, I s'pose."

Something In It.

Juliet—"What's in a name?" Romeo—"Well, if you take mine you might get a good home out of it."



When Will There Be A Disarmament of Dining Tables?

Suppose everybody would recognize the fact that there's no gain but much loss in keeping up hostilities with the stomach!

Suppose the ancient aggravation of improper food on indignant digestive organs should be settled with guarantees of sensible diet and tranquil digestion!

The saving would be beyond all possibility of counting.

Yet millions go on declaring war on the stomach and accepting war in return—loading up on starchy, heavy, unbalanced and highly-seasoned food at breakfast or lunch—and wondering why comfort, happiness and efficiency are out of reach.

Grape-Nuts makes a friend of the taste and an ally of the stomach.

There's a charm and satisfaction to this delicious food which prompts appetite to say, "There's a meal!" and digestion to answer, "Thank goodness, here's peace at last!"

Grape-Nuts is the perfected nutriment of wheat and malted barley—sweet, crisp, and wonderfully nourishing. It digests quickly, and provides the necessary elements, including the vital mineral salts, for body, nerve and brain.

Order Grape-Nuts from yo grocer today, and let a delig taste pass a treaty of peace to an enthusiastic digesti assimilation.

Grape-Nuts—the Body Bu

"There's a Reason"

Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Cre

The New York Store

Our New Spring Goods are open for your inspection.

A complete line of Mens, Ladies and children Ready-to-wear and Shoes.

We still Issue Coupons for Chinaware.

The New York Store
Clanton, Alabama.

BEST SHOE SHOP

Bring your shoe work here for first class service at moderate prices.

Laces and polishes—In fact' everything for the shoe at bottom figures.

New and second hand shoes for men only at better prices than you can get elsewhere.

NOTICE our Panco Soles, for men women and children. Guaranteed for the life of the shoes.

Heavy shoes for Farmers and outdoor work. Guaranteed to last 12 months. Any repairs needed during 12 months will be done free of charge.

The Best Shoe Shop

WATCH!

F. M. Connell's Stock

Some overalls, work shirts, underwear, ladies' and men's hose, towels etc. have arrived and he says they will be sold right. Try him and be convinced.

He is yet buying chickens eggs and country produce of all kinds that he can re-handle.

d to learn that Miss who has had a eumonia is now im-

line voile waists
Clanton's new de Manager.

nt

k

W. T. Garner, Optomist.

Will locate here. He will be at the store of Mr. B. L. Jones every second and fourth Saturday and the Monday and Tuesday following. Anyone desiring him to call at their home drop him a card. Come and have your glasses fitted. All work guaranteed, and prices to suit the times.

Big Opening Sale at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Best grade Overalls $1.15 at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, Mr Lande Manager.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce my candidacy for State Senator from the Fifteenth Senatorial District of Alabama, which is composed of the Counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held in August, 1922.

If elected to the Senate of Alabama, I shall support every measure, which proposes to reduce public expeses and thereby relieve the people of the State of some of the burdens of taxation. I shall support every measure, which will abolish useless and unnecessary offices, of which there are many. I shall oppose every measure which directly or indirectly exempts corporations from the payment of lawful taxes. I am not directly or indirectly connected with any corporation in Alabama, nor will I accept any place upon the pay roll of any corporation in this or any other state in the event of my nomination or election to the office of Senator. I am for Henry Ford first, last and all the time.

R. E. FITTS.

(Paid political advertisement by R. F. Fitts, Stanton, Alabama.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner from the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on August 8.

H. E. ROBINSON.

(Paid political advertisement by H. E. Robinson.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton county. subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8, 1922.

BOWEN L. JONES

(Paid political adv. by Bowen L. Jones, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid politicol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary August 8th. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

G. D. RETHERFORD.

(Paid political advertisement by G. D Retherford, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton County in the coming Democratic Primary election, to be held on August 8th, 1922.

C. REESE MULLINS.

(Paid political advertisement by C Reese Mullins, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SOLICITOR

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for Circuit Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

CECIL E. ALEXANDER.

(Paid political advertisement by Cecil E. Alexander.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination as Circuit Judge of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, composing the 19th Judicial Circuit, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August 1922.

GEO. F. SMOOT.

(Paid political advertisement by Geo F. Smoot.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, on August 8th, 1922.

W. W. COBERN.

(Paid political advertisement by W W. Cobern.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

The many friends of Mr. J. L. Johnson hereby announce him as a candidate for Representative from Chilton County in the next assembly, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

FOR COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

We are pleased to announce the name of Mrs. Beverly Hester, of Clanton, as a candidate for Member of the Chilton County School Board, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by Mrs. Beverly Hester.)

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Circuit Court. In Equity.

Mrs. C. G. Deramus, Administratrix Complainant, vs. Arthur Tyus, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of G. C. Walker that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that his place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that publication be made in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him the said Arthur Tyus to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 22nd day of April, 1922, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office in Clanton, this 22nd day of March, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

3-23-4t.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8th.

THOS. M. PARRISH,

(Paid political advertisement by Thos. M. Parrish, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT SOLICITOR

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination as Circuit Solicitor for the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

VICTOR J. HEARD.

(Paid political adertisement by Victor J. Heard, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit composed of the counties of Chilton, Autauga and Elmore, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

B. K. McMORRIS.

(Paid political advertisement by B. K. McMorris, Wetumpka, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for State Senator from the fifteenth Senatorial district composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8.

S. M. ADAMS.

(Paid political advertisement by S. M. Adams, Thorsby, Ala)

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabamr.
Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplieater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is uy to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the leabe come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

New City Garage

Just opened up. In the Honeycut & Thompson shop building.

All kinds of repair work done in First Class style and at short notice. New prices on work cut donw to suit the times. Come and see.

MaddOx & Williams

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son
Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 — CLANTON, ALABAMA, APRIL 20, 1922. — NUMBER 32

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN. Editor.

sday Bridge Club.

ast Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. iggins proved to be a very ng hostess, when she entertain- Wednesday Bridge Club. After interesting games the one the highest score was found Irs. Arthur Johnson, who was ed with a deck of cards. The served cream and cake to the g ladies: Mesdames, Heard, Reynolds, Arthur Johnson, Hosea Downs, Carrie Mullins, oberts and Misses Louise Orr egler of Deatsville.

ay Embroidery Club.

Eric Hart was hostess to the ay Embroidery Club on last ay afternoon. The apartments ry attractive in cut flowers. ome time spent in conversa- hostess served delicious re- ents. The Club to meet next s. Arthur Johnson.

h League Picnic.

Junior Epworth League boys had quite a jolly time last when they all meet at the st Church on last Friday , when a truck and several e loaded. When these star- urry's Camp out near Lock e young had a jolly good time ng boats up the yellow leaf A very bountiful lunch was at the noon hour. These people were chaperoned by s, Macey Jones, Clyde Jones, wain and Prof. J. L. Johnson.

ry Society Meets.

Woman's Missionary Society ethodist Church held its busi- social meeting at the resi- f Mrs. J. M. Nix. Subject for noon was Mexico. Mrs. T. C. eader. Scripture and Inevi- position, by Mrs. J. C. Jones; al Center of Mexico, Mrs. Roberts; Gospel of Monterrey Mrs. L. C. Reynolds; Story of Coversion, Mrs. M. L. After the business the hostess salad plate and ice tea, as- y Mrs. White.

ary Celebrated.

d Mrs. G. C. Polk celebrated th anniversary on Monday The apartments were never ractive than on this occasion. schemev of pink and white ied out. Mesdames John ng and McSwain met the the door and urshered them library, where Mrs. Clyde sided over the brides book each one to register. This very attractive with white roses. Then the guests were the punch bowl which was of lovliness, still carrying out ea and with roses and Easter This beverage being served mes Hugh Simpson and Then the guests were car- the living room to meet the d groom. This room also out the tin idea, with large white and pink roses. Here rion Gore introduced the these in the receiving line re Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Polk daughters, Corrine and Alice, Mrs. W. M. Polk and daugh- set, of Columbiana. The 10 years wore a handsome dutches satin and carried d pink carnations. From the guests were shown into the dinning room to view the numerous gifts. This room also carried out the tin idea and pink verbena were used. Mrs. Evan Parrish gave several piano slections. Mrs. John Armstrong gave a solo and little Miss Sunset Polk of Columbiana sang very sweetly, "I love you truly and Dreamland." After which a very interesting contest under the management of Mrs. Macy Jones was very much enjoyed. Mrs. L. C. Reynolds and Messrs John Armstrong and L. C. Reynolds tied and had to cut, which fell to Mrs. Reynolds, who was presented with a bottle of toilet water. After which, still carrying out the tin and Easter ideas, pink and white cream in egg shape and dainty white cakes were served in tin plates. A tiny tin spoon tied with pink ribbon was given to each as a souvneir of this occasion.

Party for Bride.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs J. J. Pickens gave a very pretty party for her sister, Mrs. Joe Ben Downs, a bride of several weeks. The entire apartments were thrown together and was very attractive in sweet peas and roses. The punch table was very attractively banked with roses and fern. Here Mrs. J. P. Hayes and Mrs Hosea Downs presided. Eight tabels were arranged throughout the apartments for the game of hearts. At the conclusion of the very interesting games it was found that Mrs. W. Z. Hodges held the highest score and was presented with one half dozen of cut class ice tea glasses. The guest of honor with a lovely cut glass violet basket and the consolation fell to Miss Bettie Mullins, a box of candy. The hostess was assisted in serving an ice course by Mesdames Hayes and Hosea Downs.

Don't fail to see "The Maker of Men," at the Count House Monday night.

Mrs. Charley Adams of Thorsby spent Tuesday with Mrs. J. J. Pickens.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Polk and two daughters spent Monday and Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Polk.

Mr. E. S. Parrish of Montgomery spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Luckie.

Mr. Brooks Lawrence of Birmingham was in Clanton Tuesday.

Mrs. Tom Lowe and Miss Marvarine McKee of Birmingham, are visiting relatives here this week.

Miss Alee Stewart spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. N. S. Johnson.

Mrs. Grady Broadhead and son, Hal, are visiting in Birmingham.

Mrs. Bamma Cox returned to Clanton Sunday after spending some time in Birmingham.

Be sure to see "The Maker of Men" Monday.

Messrs Eric Hart and V. J. Heard spent Saturday and Sunday in Demopolis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pickens spent several days last week in Birmingham.

Miss Ziegler of Deatsville spent several days last week with Mrs. Guy Higgins.

Miss Lessie Reynolds, who is teaching at Jasper, spent several days last week with home folks.

Mrs. M. A. Lancaster and Mr. Hudson Wiliams and two children, of Birmingham, spent the week-end with their parents.

Miss Irene Jones of Montevalle and Miss U. L. Jones of Birmingham, spent several days with their parents last week.

12 yards 36 inch Sheeting at Elmore's next Saturday for 95c.

Miss Gladys Mae Nix returned to Birmingham Monday morning, after spending some time with her parents.

Mrs. Renfro Mullins and Miss Marzell, returned to Montgomery Tuesday after spending the Easter holiday with relatives.

Buy your boy a new Easter Suit at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Mr. Evan Edwards spent several days with relatives last week, returning to Auburn Monday.

Miss Elizabeth Luckie, who is teaching at Adjer, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Luckie.

J. & P. Coat's 150 yard spool thread for 5c at The Leader. Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Mr. and Hrs. Luckie have as their house guest, Mrs. Goodwyn of Montgomery.

Mesdames Alverson and Luckie were among the shoppers to Birmingham Friday.

Beautiful line of dress skirts at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Mr. Clarence Evans spent several days with his parents last week.

Mrs. Hester and daughter, Julia Ruth, spent Wednesday and Thursday in Birmingham, where they went to hear Miss Beverly Hester play.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Pow and three daughters of Birmingham spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. VanDerveer.

Mrs. Harry Tarply of Tuscaloosa, returned home Thursday, after spending some time with her sister, Mrs. L. C. Reynolds.

Mrs. S. A. Johnson of Montgomery has returned home after visiting her daughter, Mrs. L. C. Reynolds.

Miss Allie Crumpton and John Durwood Mullins returned to Montgomery Sunday night after spending the Easter holidays with relatives and friends.

Mr. M. Meyers, from Baltimore, has arrived in our town and will be in charge of the New York Store in future. Mr. Meyers is a genteman of fine personality and we are glad to have him with us. Mr. Meyers has a family and will move here and be a regular citizen of our town.

STORM AT LOMAX

Tuesday morning about 4:45, a twister dived down at Lomax and made things hum for a few seconds.

It tore down and uprooted a number of trees, picked up three railroad telephone poles and put their train order department out of commission for an hour or so, wrecked a considerable amount of fencing, destroyed several barns and out buildings and demolished one dwelling. It may have been guilty of more depredations but these are all we have heard of so far. Fortunately no one was injured.

For Shirts, Hats, Caps, Shoes, underwear, overalls, Men's and Boy's Suits, Men's and Boy's pants, Ladies and children dresses, Waists, Ladies Suit, Petticoats, Skirts, Hosiery, Beautiful piece goods. You will find all you need for Easter at The Leader Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

BON-TON MINSTREL AT HIGH SCHOOL LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

The Bon-Ton Minstrel held at the County High School building last Friday night was quite a success from every standpoint.

The characters in the play, each one, did his part well and remarkably so when you consider the fact that several of them had never had any experience of the kind before. In fact several of them proved to be real Star Characters.

The audience had many hearty laughs from the beginning of the play until the last scene was pulled off.

The Minstrel was under the efficient management of Messrs Steve and Frank Hardee.

Rev. P. G. Carter, pastor of the First Baptist Church, is absent this week attending the Alabama State Sunday School Convention in Gadsden. Revi Carter will bring us back some good thoughts on Sunday school work.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912,

Of Chilton County News published weekly at Clanton, Alabama for April 1st, 1922

State of Aalbama, County of Chilton.

Before me, Lawrence F. Gerald, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared J. L. Johnson, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Business Manager of the Chilton County News and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form,-to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, and business managers are:

Publisher Chilton County Publishing Co., Inc., Clanton, Ala. Editor W. B. Corley, Clanton, Ala. Business Managers J. L. Johnson, Clanton, Ala.

2. That the owners are: (Give names and addresses of individual owners, or, if a corporation, give its name and the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of stock.)

R. E. Carter, Columbiana, Ala. C. R. Mullins, W. W. Fox, J. E. Gowan, T. C. McSwain, J. P. Lawrence, M. L. White, J. J. Pickens, J. L. Johnson, C. B. Cox and L. F. Gerald. All Clanton, Ala.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.) W. W. Fox, Clanton, Alabama.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affint's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

J. L. JOHNSON.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 1st day of April 1922.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD.
Notary Public.

My commission expires Sept. 6th, 1922.

Beautiful Bungalow aprons for 98c at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

ARE GRATEFUL

The management of the Hospital wish to extend to the ladies of the Eastern Star their most earnest thanks for the splendid service rendered by them in so perfectly furnishing and equiping a maternity room at the Hospital.

In recognition of this service an emblematic star has been ordered placed on the door of this room as a silent reminder to the public of this deed of love this great organization did for their suffering sisters.

NOTICE

The estate of William T. Callen, deceased.

Letters testamentary upon the last will and testament of William T. Callen, deceased, having been granted to the undersigned on the 5th day of April, 1922, by the Probat eCourt of Chilton County, Alabama, notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate are requested to present the same within the time required by law, or same will be barred.

FRANK J. CALLEN.

Executor of the last Will and testament of William T. Callen, deceased. 4-20-3t.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pickens went up to Birmingham last week to attend the Alabama Educational Association.

Buy the little girl a pretty Gingham Dress at Elmore's Saturday for 98c.

Prof. S. E. Alverson and wife were among those who went to Birmingham last week to attend the A. E. A.

Big Opening Sale at The Leader. Clanton's new Dry Goods Store. M. Lande, Manager.

Miss Irene Jones, of the Montevallo College, spent several days recently with friends and relatives in Clanton.

For 95c you can buy 10 pounds of Sugar at Elmore's Next Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Headley and their son Albert, were in Clanton last Saturday shopping.

Evan Edwards, a student of Auburn College, was a Clanton visitor several days recently.

One big lot of newest Style Strap Slippers at Elmore's Saturday for $2.98.

Miss Elizabeth Jordan, of Ensley, has been the guest of Mrs. J. W. Willis for several days.

Big Opening Sale at the Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

On next Saturday you can buy a beautiful pattern hat at Elmore's for $1.98.

POPWELL DISTRICT

Editor:

Pelase allow me a short space in your paper to say a few words.

Health is very good at present.

Farmers are planting cotton seed right along. It seems that the acreage has been increased instead of decreased. I fear that the boll weevil will have a good time this year, as it wont be hard to find plenty of cotton.

Mr. Editor, what will become of our roads from now until the election is over? The candidates are wearing them out all ready, and us boys have got to make a crop and the county won't help us out down here, so I don't see how we are to get along unless the candidates contridute something to help us out, or Judge Reynolds get us a market for boll weevils so we can get him up some more money. He has done so many good things for the dear people, it looks like he would do something for the common people, as he is a candidate for Probate Judge again.

Well, Easter has past and was as fine a weather for Easter as I ever saw. There was an Easter picnic and egg hunt at Mr. R. F. Deason's that was enjoyed by a bunch of about thirty-five people at eleven o'clock. The eggs were hid and the hunt lasted about an hour and they found them all but two eggs. Then dinner was spread under a big oak tree and you can guess what happened for the next half hour.

Well, I will close for this time. If this escapes the trash pile I may come again later.

"BLUE JAY."

Mr. W. T. Franklin, of Route 3, was here last Saturday. Mr. Franklin is one of Chilton's stuanch DEMOCRATS.

Big Opening Sale at the Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

ANOTHER GOOD PICTURE

The Southern Church Film Producing Company, Inc., have contracted to present their second film, "A Maker of Men," at the Court House, on Monday night, April 24th, under the auspices of Woman's Missionary Society.

They claim for this picture, which is in six reels, that it equals in high moral tone and religious influence "The Stream of Life," recently exhibited here, meeting with universal approval. The story is by the same author, Rev. Jas. K. Shields, and contrasts the value of a money-loving, money-grabbing foster-father and his son, who is A Maker of Men.

Two exhibitions will be given, one at 6:30 P. M.., for Children and Adults who cannot easily attend the second at 8:00 P. M. Tickets will be on sale in a few days.

BASE BALL

High School vs. Wetumpka.

On next Friday afternoon, promptly at 3 o'clock, the base ball warriors of the Wetumpka Agricultural School will cross bats with the game defenders of the prestige of Chilton Hi.

Two weeks ago the Wetumpka boys went down to defeat on their home grounds before the consistent slugging of the Chilton Hi, and now they are coming with a burning desire for revenge and are gomg after our boys with a fierce determination to make them eat a dish of the same pie.

This will be a splendid battle of the bats and every fan in this section will miss a treat if they fail to attend.

LESSLEY POWELL DROWNED

We regret to announce this week that Lessley Powell, a well known Chilton County boy, who was attached to the Navy, was drowned last Saturday at Norfork, Va.

He was raised in our County and had many friends here who will be saddened by his untimely death.

Ladies Gingham Dresses $1.98 good quality and Style, Saturday at Elmore's.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner of Chilton County for District No 1, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8, 1922.

WILL R. CLEMENTS.

(Paid political advertisement by Will R. Clements, Jemison, Ala.)

Nitrate of Soda

We have Nitrate of Soda on hand now and more for early shipment. Give us your order at oncc if you want any.

Gulledge Bro's,
Verbena, Ala.

CONDENSED STATEMENT
of the condition of the

RST NATIONAL BANK

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA, MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

d Discounts	$187,510.99
ts	2.46
ate Bonds	30,000.00
nds	10,100.00
e and Fixtures	2,361.14
ion Fund	1,500.00
Federal Reserve Bank	1,100.00
Vault and in Banks	49,187.82
Total	$281,762.41

LIABILITIES:

Stock	$ 30,000.00
nd Undivided Profits	9,340.29
on	30,000.00
	212,422.12
Total	$281,762.41

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, CHILTON COUNTY.

no. C. Page, Cashier of the above-named Bank, do solemnly swear above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

JNO. C. PAGE, Cashier.

rn to and subscribed before me, this the 13th day of March, 1922.

J. R. MULLINS, Notary Public.

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT:

Deposits March 10, 1920—$151,205.32

DEFOSITS MARCH 10, 1921—$167,759.83

posits March 10 ,1922--$212 42.

NOTE OUR GROWTH.

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Capital and Surplus, $65,000.00,

STATEMENT OF CONDITION
CLANTON, ALA.
AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$146,379.63
Overdrafts	846.82
United States Bonds	47,800.00
Real Estate	12,500.00
Banking House	2,700.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,727.25
CASH IN VAULT and IN BANKS	173,766.53
Total	$386,720.23

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	49,903.16
DEPOSITS	321,817.07
Total	$386,720.23

FROM THE PAGES OF HISTORY—and in 1901, Chilton County's first Bank was organized. This institution has weathered the storms for over TWENTY YEARS, and is known to-day by the citizens of Chilton County, as the—

Old Reliable Peoples Savings Bank Since 1901

The Girl, a Horse and a Dog

By FRANCIS
LYNDE

Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons

BESIEGED!

Synopsis. — Under his grand- [illegible] Stanford Broughton [illegible] and escapes [illegible] the [illegible] on the [illegible] that he is detected [illegible] does [illegible] car which is wrecked, and escapes on foot. In the darkness he is overtaken by the girl, the horse and the dog. After he explains his presence, she invites him to her home, at the Old Cinnabar mine. Broughton's hosts are Hiram Twombly, caretaker of the mine, and his daughter Jeanie. Stanford does not reveal his identity. Hiram and Stanford go puttering about the mine [illegible] the [illegible]

CHAPTER X—Continued.

[illegible] sort of fashion [illegible] package of the [illegible] steam up, we [illegible] to see that everything was in working order again, and I threw in the clutch of the centrifugals, merely for the satisfaction of hearing the flood rushing through the outlet. When the pumps were going at full speed I went to look down the shaft. As before, when we had run the pumps for a week on end, there was a slight disturbance of the water, but nothing more. My makeshift float-and-pulley gauge showed no change in the level.

Suddenly a freak notion seized me that I'd like to know just what was going on down in those black depths into which the suction pipes of the big pumps led.

"Daddy, I'm going to try to find out something," I declared and forthwith began to strip my clothes off. "We've seen the water coming out at the other end of things, and now, by George, I mean to make sure that it's going in at this end."

He didn't try very hard to dissuade me, and a minute or so later I was crawling down the shaft ladder in the habiliments that old Mother Nature gave me. It was my first exploration of the shaft, and I was surprised to find it so well and tightly timbered; "boxed" is the better word, since the timbering was really a substantial wooden box built within the square outlinings of the pit. Common sense told me that this must have been done to prevent the caving in of the sides; and afterward I remembered wondering, at the time, that the shaft should have been sunk in caving material when the remainder of the bench upon which the buildings stood appeared to be little else than solid rock.

By feeling with a free foot I could determine that the pump suction pipes went on still farther, and then the real adventure began. The ladder suddenly gave out, quit, ended. There were no more rounds below the one upon which I was standing. That being the case, there was nothing for it but to dive, feet foremost, and taking a deep breath, I let go of the ladder and began to swim downward. Almost before I realized it I was fighting desperately for dear life. One of the big suction pipes had taken hold of a foot and leg, like a tentacle of an enormous octopus, and I was unable to get loose.

After all, it was Daddy Hiram who saved my life. Suddenly the thunder of the pumps, magnified a thousandfold for me in that icy pit of death, stopped short and the mechanical squid let go of my leg. With lungs bursting I shot to the surface and weakly clutched the ladder. Framed in the square of daylight a dozen feet overhead I could see Daddy hanging over the mouth of the pit; saw him and heard his shouted words: "Freeze to the ladder, boy—I'm a-comin' down after ye!"

I was freezing all right, in both senses of the word, but I found breath to warn him back, and presently managed to crawl up the ladder and roll out upon the shafthouse floor. Instantly the old man pounced upon me, buffeting, slapping and rubbing, mauling me worse than any Turkish-bath pirate would have dared to. It was keen torture, but it turned the trick, and by the time I was able to breathe comfortably again, I had acquired a beautiful spanked blush where I had been blue—all but the great bruise, ring-shaped, where the suction pipe had bit [illegible]

Of course, Daddy was chock-full of sympathy and concern, mixed up with a good bit of curiosity.

"[illegible] one of the suction pipes," I explained, beginning to crawl back into my clothes. "I was foolish enough to [illegible] and [illegible] the pumps [illegible]. I was just [illegible]"

"Well, you found out the pumps are [illegible] all right, anyhow," he remarked.

"They sure are; you'd think so if you'd been where I was." Then I began to recall some of those mixed and mingled impressions I had gathered. "What kind of soil is there under this floor, Daddy?" I asked.

"Huh!" he snorted; "what soil there is on this here ledge you could mighty near put in your eye, I reckon. 'Tain't nothin' but rock, and blame' hard rock, at that."

Framed in the Square of Daylight I Could See Daddy Hanging Over the Mouth of the Pit.

"That was my notion. But if the shaft is in rock, why did they box it so strongly with timber? Surely there wouldn't be any danger of a cave in solid stone."

"Well, now, I'm dinged!" he returned musingly. "Long as I've been monkeyin' 'round mines and such, it never once come to me to wonder about that!"

Speaking of the wooden bulkheading renewed that other impression, or rather two of them; one of having the feeling that I was shut in a tight box at the moment of the fiercest struggling, and the other of fancying that I had felt a swirling inrush of the liquid ice as well as the sucking outrush. But the recollection was so confused that I attached no importance to it. When a man is fighting for his life ten or twelve feet under water, pipe-dreams are nothing to the things he can imagine.

It was while we were sitting at the shaft-house door, hammering away at the old puzzle of why the water level never varied so much as a fraction of an inch in the shaft, in wet seasons or dry—as Daddy testified it never did—and why the subtraction of two six-inch streams at a velocity sufficient to stir up a veritable whirlpool at the suction intakes should make no impression upon it, that I began to notice the queer actions of the pie-faced collie, Barney. First he would come and stick his cold nose into my hand; then he'd trot over to the cabin and back, and maybe loaf a little way down the road toward the bench level. Coming around to the shaft-house again, he'd sit beside Daddy Hiram, yawning and panting as if he were waiting impatiently for us to stop talking and pay some attention to him.

"Poor old Barney's homesick, and I don't blame him," I said. "I'm feeling a good bit that way, myself, Daddy." Then to the dog: "Come here, old boy!"

The collie came to lick my hand, and while I was petting him I found a pretty bad gash just behind one of his ears.

"See here, Daddy," I broke out; "the dog's hurt!"

We examined the wound and decided at once that it was not a bite. It was a bruised cut, looking as if it had been made by some blunt instrument or weapon. I had a hot-flash vision of Bullerton kicking the dog with his iron-shod heel in an attempt to drive him back home, and it was so real that I couldn't shake it off.

When it began to grow dusk in the shaft-house we shut up shop and went over to the cabin to cook our supper. The dog went along, but evidently with reluctance. While we were crossing the dump head he turned back and once more started off down the road toward the bench below, but when he found that we were not following him he came to heel again. Still, neither of us had dog sense enough to guess what was the matter with him.

Daddy Hiram and I, being merely stupid humans, were commenting upon his queer actions, and laying them to Jeanie's absence, when again the dog started off down the road, looking [illegible] when he found that [illegible] If the would-be driller of it [illegible] on the job long enough, we finally caught on.

"Say, Stannie!—he's a-tryin' to tell us to come on!" Daddy exclaimed, starting to his feet. "Methuselah-to-gracious! did it have to take us a hull endurin' afternoon to figger out that much dog-talk?"

"It looks that way," I admitted; but now, having "figgered" it out, we made no delay. Daddy got his rifle and cartridge-belt, and told me to take Jeanie's pistol for myself—which I did. And thus equipped we took the trail, Indian-filing down the mountain road in the darkness, Daddy Hiram, with his gun in the crook of his left arm, setting the pace, and the collie running on ahead to point the way.

CHAPTER XII.

Around Robin Hood's Barn.

After we had covered possibly two of the four miles between the Cinnabar and the railroad station, the dog branched off to the left along the mountain on a road that was little better than a bridle path through the [illegible], and which, for the time, kept [illegible] level on the slope, neither ascending nor descending.

"[illegible] it, Daddy?" I asked. [illegible]

"Give it time enough, it comes out at the old Haversack, on Greaser mountain."

"Ends there, you mean?"

"You said it; far as I know, it ends there."

"What is the Haversack?"

"It ain't nothin', now. Used to be a gold prospect eight 'r ten year ago. Never got far enough along to be a mine, they tell me."

It was certainly singular that the dog should be leading us to an abandoned mining project, but Barney seemed to know perfectly well where he was going.

In one of the gulch headings there was a patch of wash sand in what was, in wet weather, a runway for water, but which was now only a streamless ravine with a few damp spots in it. Here Daddy called a halt, and while the dog sat down and yawned at us and otherwise manifested his impatience at the delay, the old man gathered a few pine-cones and twigs, struck a match and lighted a fire, cautioning me meanwhile not to walk on the damp sand patch.

I hadn't the slightest idea of what he was driving at, and he didn't explain; but after the fire had blazed up enough to light the surroundings a bit, he went down upon his hands and knees and began to give an imitation of a man hunting for a dropped piece of money. "It's sort o' queer. Jeanie's been here, and the dog's been back and across a couple o' times, as you can see. But Bullerton hasn't crossed here. There's only the one set o' tracks."

We made a wider search, with a dead pine branch for a torch, but found no other tracks; in fact, the gulch was gullied so deeply above and below that there was no other practicable crossing-place for a horse. If Jeanie had headed for the gulch—and the hoof prints in the sand, and Daddy's identification of them seemed to prove this past any question of doubt—she had headed it alone. But why had she been riding alone into the depths of this uninhabited mountain wilderness?

Calm and self-contained as he usually was, I could see, or rather feel, that Daddy Hiram was growing increasingly nervous as we pushed on. I didn't blame him; so far from it, I was sharing the nervousness in full measure. What were we going to find at the end of the trail?

It must have been at least two miles beyond the damp sand patch that the dim trail we had been following ended abruptly at the abandoned mining claim spoken of by Daddy Hiram—the Haversack. The starlight was bright enough to show us what there was to be seen, which wasn't much; a couple of tumble-down shacks, a shed that had probably been the prospectors' blacksmith shop, and a tunnel mouth that had once been securely boarded up, but from which the bulkheading was now partly fallen away.

Once more Daddy hunted for a dead pine branch and lighted a torch. The shacks were empty, of course, and while we did not go into the tunnel, we could see, through the broken bulkheading, that it was half filled with caved-in earth and broken stone. Underfoot there was only the coarse gravel of the tunnel spoil, and a full troop of cavalry might have passed over it without leaving any visible trail. Worse than all, Barney, the pie-faced collie, appeared now to be completely at fault. He was running around in circles with his nose to the ground; a pretty plain indication that he had lost the trail.

"I'll be bat-clawed and owl-hooted if I know what-all to do next," Daddy puzzled.

He hadn't any the best of me there, and it was precisely at this point that the split-faced dog took it into his head to add another snarl to the knotted tangle. After galloping around all [illegible] finally come to a stand with his nose at a crack in the tunnel boarding. The next instant he had leaped through the hole where the planks had fallen away, and presently we heard him whining and scratching behind the bulkhead.

I don't know about Daddy Hiram's heart, but I do know that mine was doing flip-flaps and back somersaults when we ran up to see what the dog had found in the tunnel. For a half-second after Daddy thrust his torch through the hole I was afraid to look—scared stiff at the thought of what I might see. When I did look, I saw the dog digging frantically at the heap of caved-in earth, and, of course to my disordered imagination, the hole in which he was burrowing transformed itself at once into a newly made grave.

"Good God!" I gasped; and then: "Look, Daddy—right under your torch!"

He looked and staggered back, and would have dropped the blazing pine branch if I hadn't caught it from his hand. For what he saw, and what I had seen, was the unmistakable print, in the soft earth just inside of the planking, of one of Jeanie's brown-[illegible]

In another half-second we were both in the tunnel and Daddy was [illegible] the [illegible] from the hole he was pawing out in the earth-fall. Snatching up a broken-handled shovel that the former tunnel drivers had thrown away, the old man flung himself madly upon the dirt pile, and since there was room for only one to work at a time, I stood at his elbow and held the torch. I don't know what he expected to find hidden under the slide, but I do know what I was afraid he was going to find.

After all, it was only a flash in the pan, so far as any dreadful discovery was concerned. Inside of five minutes, Daddy, working like a man demented, had dug the entire cave-in away, and there was nothing to show for the frantic shoveling—less than nothing. Again, I don't know how Daddy felt, but I'm sure I was able to breathe better, the improvement dating from the moment when it became apparent that the earth heap had grown too small under the shovel stabs to possibly conceal a human body.

The collie had followed us and Daddy Hiram scowled down at him. "If that dog could only be like old Gran'paw Balaam's donkey for a minute 'or so," he mused. "He saw her go in there and saw her come out; likewise and the same, he must 've seen what she did after she come out. Looks as if he wanted to talk and tell us, don't he?"

The Old Man Flung Himself Madly Upon the Dirt Pile.

Barney was certainly giving a good imitation of that, or some other anxiety. He was frisking about and barking, leaping up now and then to snap at an imaginary fly in the air. Daddy caught him by his lower jaw and held him immovable. "Go find her, Barney!" he commanded; "good dog—go find her!"

The instant he was released the collie acted as if he understood perfectly what was wanted of him. Springing aside, he began to circle again, nose to the ground, and within half a minute he was off, this time heading into a dim trail that led away diagonally down the mountain, not in the direction of Atropia, but rather on the other leg of a triangle, one side of which might be the desert edge, one the trail we had followed from the Atropia road, and the third the route we were now taking to the eastward.

It must have been within an hour or so of midnight when we left the mountain forests behind and got into the region of barren foothills. Here the collie seemed much surer of his ground, and we had our work cut out for us in the effort to keep up with him. In the starlight I made out the line of telegraph poles as we ran, and pretty soon our dog leader swung off to the right and we found ourselves trotting on a line parallel to the railroad track at [illegible] a little [illegible] it.

Pretty soon the dog disappeared; and then we heard him barking at a little distance to the left of the parallel tracks. When we went to see what he had found, the mystery suddenly took another [illegible] a new [illegible] low [illegible] upon the [illegible] bridle [illegible] [illegible]ped over the bronco's [illegible] they had them be- [illegible] to pull [illegible]

"Well, I'll be ding-jiggered!" said Daddy; but I couldn't unload quite that easily. For me the riderless pony meant an accident of some sort.

"Heavens!" I gasped; "do you suppose she's been thrown, and maybe crippled?"

"Who—Jeanie? Why, bless your heart, Stannie, son, she can ride 'em wild! And that calico wouldn't buck a baby off. No, boy; don't you go to frettin' about nothin' like that. When she got out o' that saddle, it was 'cause she was good and ready and wanted to."

"When she got off to take the train, she tried to make Barney lead the pony home," I suggested. "Would she be likely to do that?"

Daddy Hiram slapped his leg.

"You've hit it exactly, son! Don't know why I didn't think o' that at first. It's an old trick that she taught the collie when he was a li'l' pup. And Barney, he tried, and when he couldn't make the pinto leave off grazin', he come for us. Sure!—that was the way of it. What say if we go back to the edge o' the timber and camp down? I reckon there ain't nothin' to be gained by hittin' the trail [illegible]"

I had no objection to offer, you may be sure; and after we had found a camping spot, and had picketed the pony with the light rope that Jeanie always carried tied to the cantle of her saddle, we made a good fire to serve in lieu of the blankets that we didn't have and stretched ourselves out to sleep the sleep of the fagged and leg-weary.

The next thing I knew—and it seemed to be just about a minute after I had closed my eyes—Daddy was shaking me awake.

"Time to be moggin' along, if we aim to get home for breakfast, sonny," he announced. At the break of day we were coming into the Cinnabar-Atropia road at precisely the point at which we left it the evening before.

The sun was just beginning to gild the upper heights of Old Cinnebar when we trailed over the broad plateau bench below the mine and headed for the slope that led up to the dump head. As we topped this last hill there was an amazing surprise awaiting us—a surprise and a shock. On the level spot which served as a dooryard for the Twombly cabin stood a horse, saddled and bridled, its drooped ears and hanging head showing that it had been ridden far and hard. And on the cabin door-step, sitting at ease and calmly chewing a half-burned cigar, was—Bullerton!

CHAPTER XIII.

A Battle and a Siege.

It was Daddy Hiram who made the first break.

"Charley Bullerton, where's my daughter?" he rapped out, hurling the question at the loafer on our doorstep in a sort of deadly rage that you wouldn't have thought possible in so mild-mannered a man.

"You needn't worry about her," was the cool response. "Didn't you get the note she left for you, saying that you needn't?" Then, as if he had just seen and recognized me: "Hello, Broughton; we've missed a day, but I'll give you the benefit of it and not dock you. Are you selling the old water-logged Cinnabar for twenty thousand dollars this fine morning? It'll probably save you more or less trouble if you are."

He didn't get the kind of answer he wanted; or any relating to the mine. Unbuckling Jeanie's gun and handing it to Daddy Hiram, I walked across to where he was sitting, keeping a wary eye on the hand which would have to be the one to go after the weapon he had once showed me hanging under his left arm-pit.

"Mr. Twombly has just asked you where his daughter is, and you haven't told him," I gritted. "You've got about ten seconds in which to tell him all you know, and after you've done it, I'm going to trim you!"

He had scrambled to his feet when he saw me coming, and, just as I expected, that watched right hand flicked suddenly under his coat. At that I rushed him and we mixed it promptly. I got hold of the gun hand before it got to the pistol butt, and at the clinch we were all over the place, each grappling for the underhold, and neither of us paying much attention to the rules, Marquis of Queensberry or other. Bullerton was a heavyweight; he had probably fifteen pounds the of me in that direction had got the thumb of upon a certain spot in hi all over but the funeral.

Jehu! how he swore pled him, and took his g him, and slammed him of broken stone and stu his breathing machine couldn't do anything; had fixed him. His hea over to one side and straighten it. I groped I found that other pa ganglia—the one at th third vertebra.

"Listen to what he sa said to the old man wh [illegible] with the face of a Then to Bullerton [illegible] ly—a wad of flesh gone the torturing touch: know, [illegible] quick and [illegible] one more [illegible] nerve. [illegible]

With a preliminary s out by littles, gasping words and phrases like a last stages of lockjaw.

Jehu! How He Sv

"W[illegible] were [illegible] An [illegible] "Al to meet her at Atrop [illegible] afraid to ride all th[illegible] afraid—the old man—w[illegible] ning! Oh, for God's sake, take your thumb out of you're killing me by inches

"You need a little killing anybody I know," I told him. you were to overtake her at what then?"

"I didn't see her again!" h "I don't know where she went

I didn't believe much of was saying, and I think Da didn't, though we had proved up to the point where they h rated on the Atropia road. have gone on, making him t more, but the look that wa into the old man's eyes made up. As I read the look it mea Daddy couldn't stand it to third-degree stunt carried to its so I got up and pulled Bulle his feet. He was pretty badly as I meant him to be; still straighten his neck, and st one leg were about half par perhaps it was.

"This outfit is my prope you've out-stayed your wel snapped at him. "Climb yo and get off the map!"

He limped over to his h gathered the reins and tried foot into the stirrup. Whe that he couldn't do even that grabbed him and heaved him saddle; did this, and gave the slap to set him going. I gues always be able to recall the p that brown-bearded pirate across the Cinnabar dump head early morning sunshine, screwi body in the saddle—becaus couldn't turn the stiff-necked he itself—to yell back at me wit zling curses, "I'll get you—I'll yet! D—n your eyes—do yo you can make a hobbling cr me and get away with it? I'll then breaking it off short and the ribs of his nag frantically f speed when I made as if I we to run after him.

Throughout this bit of bel by-play, which hadn't used u than a few minutes, all told, Hiram had stood aside, as I ha taking the part of the intereste tator. Now he remarked: "Y bet all your old clothes, son, hain't seen the last o' Charley ton, not by a long chalk. You ri I told you once he'd got a man in one o' the camps on the Sag Well, it was for a heap less than you done to him a few minute But let's go eat."

> "Jerusalem-to-gosh! I'd abou as lief die as be drowned death!"

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Playful Young Eagle.

Once a young eagle was obs having a great game. It had fo stack of peat, and, lifting a sod claws, it flew up to a great heigh then dropped the sod and sw down upon it at a terrific pace, ing it in its claws again. And so game went on.

YOU CAN'T MISS THIS!

TO BUY YOUR GROCERIES

We have the best assorted stock of goods in Central Alabama and if you have not looked thru our line of goods it will be money to you to do so, because we sell strictly for cash and therefore we can give you more for your money than if we did a credit business.

We have a nice line of staple groceries that we are going to sell regardless of the price, and here are a few of the many bargains that we have to offer:

Notice

Our

Show Windows

NEXT

Saturday

Kenny's Special Blend Coffee, per pound	Regular Price	25c	Sale Price	18c
Big 5 pound package Competition Coffee	"	1.25c	"	1.00
Peanut Butter	"	10c	"	08
"	"	15c	"	12
Army Corned Beef, 2 lb can,	"	20c	"	15
Genuine Sock Eye Salmon, per can,	"	45c		35
Bank Salmon,	"	20c		12
Big Size Vienna Sausage	"	15c	"	12
Lippenscot Apple Jelly, per glass	"	20c	"	15
Thoma's Pork and Beans, per can	"	15c	"	12
Army Bacon 12 lb can	"	2.00c		1.75
Old Dutch Cleanser per can	"	15c	"	12
6 Packages of Soda,		1 for 5c		24
6 " Grandma's			"	25
Rice, 6c per pound.

Anything

For The

Kitchen

In addition to this, we have the sole agency of John Lucas Paint, which in the paint line, is a scientific perfection and any one buying paint from us we will guarantee perfect satisfaction or refund the money you paid us and also the price of the labor for putting the paint on.

We arə behind you. John Lucas is behind us.

We also handle Reliance Aluminum ware, Greystone Enamel ware, and an assorted stock of Hardware, Furniture of all kinds, such as wood and iron bedsteads, chairs, dressers, washstands, rockers, davenports, porch furniture, rugs, art squares, bed sprinps, mattresses, blakets, cots and cot pads.

In the farming line we have plow collars, wagon collars, check lines, plow lines, bridles, collar pads, backbands, plow points, all kinds of plow clevises field and garden hoes, field and garden seeds.

The best always comes at the last and this time it is the wire fencing we handle. It is the Anthony fencing made by the American Steel and Wire Co. We have this wire from 28 inches to 60 inches high. If you havn't tried us come and look us over and we will appreciate your patronage.

W. W. FOX, THE AUCTION MAN

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A full line of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Dr. V. J. Gragg Building.

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabamr. Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is up to the minute in style and back below pre war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to get the best and pay the least come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

Campaign is Coming. Subscribe News.

MAPLESVILLE NEWS

Miss Virgie Nell Foshee of Tuscaloosa is the week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hill Foshee.

Misses Edith and Mamie Strickland of Braggs was the guest of Mrs. F. A. Shanks Thursday.

Every one enjoyed the revival at the M. E. Church. We regret to see it close.

The Easter Flower service was beautiful.

The High School ground has been surveyed and work will begin at an early date.

Mrs. F. A. Shanks entertained her Sunday school class with an Easter egg hunt, which was greatly enjoyed by the children.

Mrs. C. N. Parnell was the guest of friends in Birmingham last week.

Miss Ada Minor is with the Maplesville Drug Co., this week.

Mrs. I. C. Cirbet has returned from King's Hospjtal where she undervent a serious operation. Her many friends are glad to know she is improving so rapidly.

Mrs. H. E. Cochran of Miller, Miss. is the guest of her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bearden.

Mr. H. S. Pipes has gone to Atlanta where he has accepted a position as Sales Engineer for the William W. Beers Company of N. Y. We learn that he will soon move him family there. We regret to loose this hustling and worthy young man and his esteemed family.

Mr. J. T. Hughen who represents R. G. Dunn and Company of Montgomery was in Clanton Monday and Tuesday.

Rev. R. T. Gilbert and G. W. Fox of Maplesville were in Clanton last Saturday.

Rev. E. L. Wilson, of Montgomery, filled an appointment for the Presbyterian church at the Masonic Hall last Sunday.

Rev. W. S. Cox, of Route 3, was in Clanton Monday.

Prof. Joe Culp was here Monday and Tuesday taking the State Examination for the purpose of continuing his profession.

W. R. Clements, of Jemison, was in town Monday. Mr. Clements is a candidate for Commissioner. He is well quaified to fill the position.

Miss Mary Clements, of Jemison, has been in Clanton this week taking the State Examination preparatory to teaching.

Our esteemed friend and successful business man, Mr. C. M. Foshee, of Maplesville, was in town Monday looking after business matters.

Mr. J. R. Owens, a prominent planter and business man, of Clanton Route 3, was in town Monday.

Mr. M. C. Hayes, one of the leading citizens of Beat 13, and his daughters, Misses Galdys and Nettie Hayes, were here Monday.

Mr. Walter P. Heflin, of the Capital City, was here Saturday and Sunday visiting his uncle, Mr. J. J. Pickens, and other relatives.

E. G. Caldwell, of Pletcher, was in town Tuesday on an important business mission.

Rev. T. J. Deason, of Route 3, was here Tuesday.

Messrs Jöel Gulledge and J. C. Pattillo, of Verbena, were Clanton visitors Tuesday.

DEMOCRATS, REMEMBER the DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE will meet in Clanton next Saturday at ten o'clock.

Keep Cool and Come to JOHNSON DRUG Co.

For Ice Cream And Drugs Also

Pure Drugs, Druggist Sundries, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Cigars, Tobacco of all kinds and Complete line of candies

Johnson Drug Company

Clanton, - - - - Alabama.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Money to Loan 3-4 of $100,000

I am in position to loan the above amount to farmers of Chilton County with which to Insure their property.

The Insurance contract is for five years and we Insure all your property against Fire, Lightening, and Wind Storms.

You pay one fifth cash and the other four fifths in four annual installments without interest.

This is an Old Line Company and Old Line rates. I also sell Old Line Life Insurance for one of the large Old Line Companies.

I also sell the old reliable Singer Machines on easy payments, and take old Machine in exchange.

C. Reese Mullins Agt.
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

We Do Job Printing.

SURE TO HELP SICK WOMEN

Mrs. Baker, So Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

Lebanon, Indiana.—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and stomach trouble and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I know what it has done for me and I recommend it to others, as I am sure it will be a great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph."—Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 310 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject.

Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you as it has Mrs. Baker and many, many other women.

Millions Every Year End Stomach Trouble
By Taking
TANLAC
25,000,000 Bottles Sold

Mitchell Eye Salve FOR SORE EYES
Great relief and solid eye comfort for those afflicted with weak, sore eyes or granulated lids.
25c—At All Druggists, or by mail from
HALL & RUCKEL, Inc.
147 Waverly Place, N.Y.

Intelligent Teeth.

"Here's an extraordinary coincidence. A pedestrian was struck by a motorist. His false teeth flew out of his mouth and he couldn't find them."

"I see nothing so unusual in that."

"Wait a moment. The next day that motorist was passing the same spot and the teeth bit a hole in one of his tires."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Husband's Privilege.

"The cook is leaving us to get married."

"Good. She'll soon know from somebody who won't be afraid to tell her how punk her cooking really is."

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION
BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION 25 CENTS
6 BELL-ANS
Hot water
Sure Relief
BELL-ANS
25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

Harmless, purely vegetable, Infants' and Children's Regulator, formula on every label. Guaranteed non-narcotic, non-alcoholic.
MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP
The Infants' and Children's Regulator
Children grow healthy and free from colic, diarrhoea, flatulency, constipation and other trouble if given it at teething time.
Safe, pleasant—always brings remarkable and gratifying results.
At All Druggists

Rats in the Cellar, Mice in the Pantry, Cockroaches in the Kitchen

What can be more disagreeable than a home infested with pests? Destroy them with Stearns' Electric Paste, the standard exterminator for more than 43 years.

Kill rats, mice, cockroaches, waterbugs or ants in a single night. Does not blow away like powders; ready for use; better than traps. Directions in 15 languages in every box. Money back if it fails.

2 oz. size 35c. 15 oz. size $1.50.

Women Made Young

Bright eyes, a clear skin and a body full of youth and health may be yours if you will keep your system in order by regularly taking

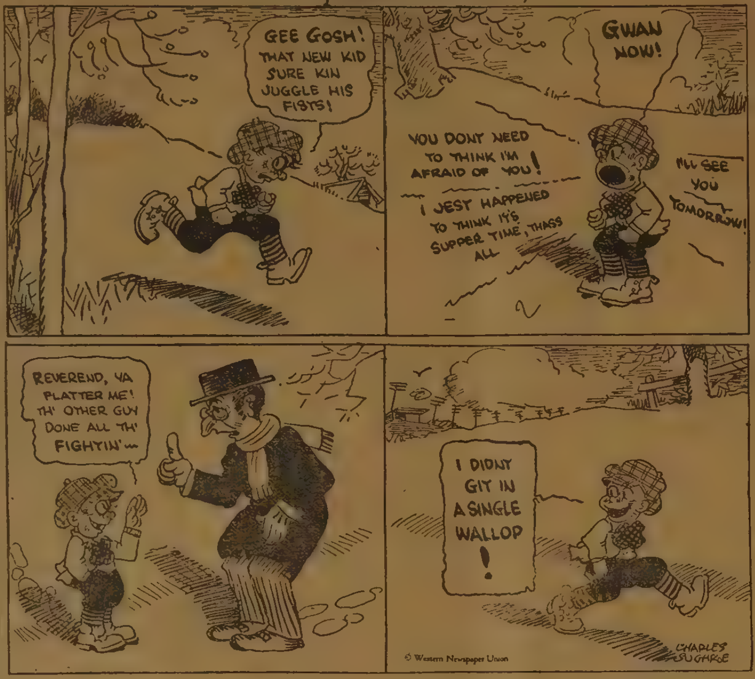
GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles, the enemies of life and looks. In use since 1696. All druggists, three sizes.

Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

OUR COMIC SECTION

A Case of Assault and Battery



GEE GOSH! THAT NEW KID SURE KIN JUGGLE HIS FISTS!
GWAN NOW!
YOU DONT NEED TO THINK I'M AFRAID OF YOU! I JEST HAPPENED TO THINK IT'S SUPPER TIME, THASS ALL I'LL SEE YOU TOMORROW!
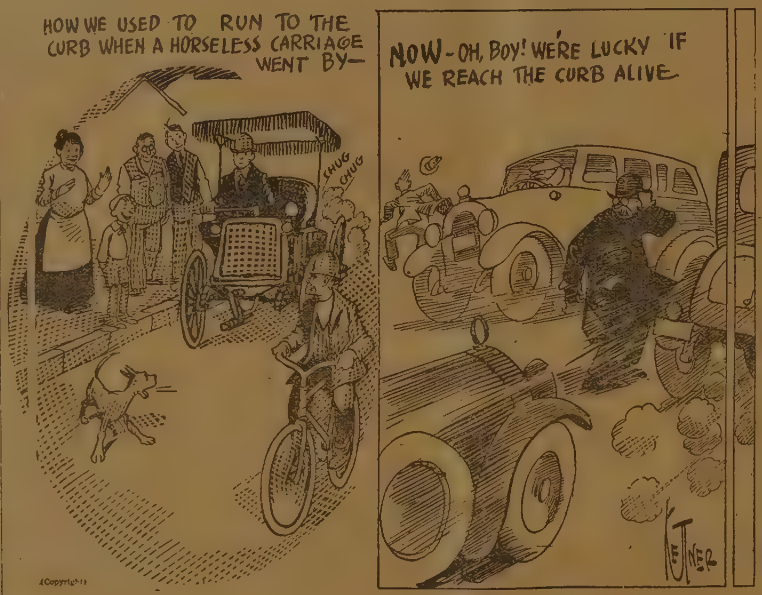
REVEREND, YA FLATTER ME! TH' OTHER GUY DONE ALL TH' FIGHTIN'—
I DIDNT GIT IN A SINGLE WALLOP!
CHARLES SUGHROE

© Western Newspaper Union

R'member



HOW WE USED TO RUN TO THE CURB WHEN A HORSELESS CARRIAGE WENT BY—CHUG CHUG
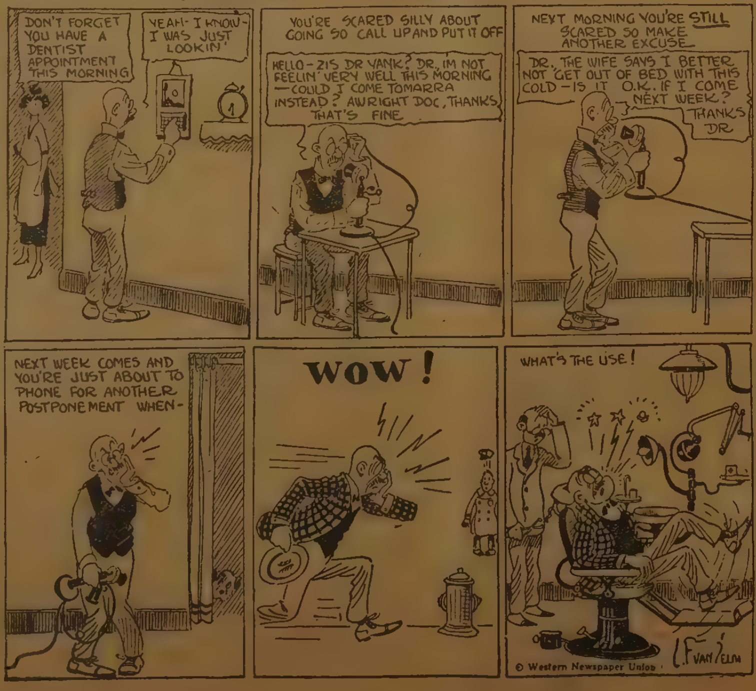
NOW—OH, BOY! WE'RE LUCKY IF WE REACH THE CURB ALIVE
KETTNER

(Copyright)

Procrastination Is the Root of All Evil



DON'T FORGET YOU HAVE A DENTIST APPOINTMENT THIS MORNING
YEAH- I KNOW- I WAS JUST LOOKIN'
YOU'RE SCARED SILLY ABOUT GOING SO CALL UP AND PUT IT OFF
HELLO—ZIS DR YANK? DR. IM NOT FEELIN' VERY WELL THIS MORNING —COULD I COME TOMARRA INSTEAD? AWRIGHT DOC, THANKS THAT'S FINE
NEXT MORNING YOU'RE STILL SCARED SO MAKE ANOTHER EXCUSE
DR. THE WIFE SAYS I BETTER NOT GET OUT OF BED WITH THIS COLD—IS IT O.K. IF I COME NEXT WEEK? THANKS DR
NEXT WEEK COMES AND YOU'RE JUST ABOUT TO PHONE FOR ANOTHER POSTPONEMENT WHEN-WOW!
WHAT'S THE USE!
L. F. VAN ZELM

© Western Newspaper Union

BOTH BEAR THE GOODYEAR NAME

One of the tires shown above is the famous 30 x 3½ inch Goodyear All-Weather Tread Clincher.

By long wear, superior traction and freedom from skidding, and low final cost, this tire has won unquestioned leadership in its field.

Alongside it is illustrated its companion, the 30 x 3½ inch Goodyear Cross Rib.

Both these tires are built in a factory devoted exclusively to manufacturing Goodyear Tires for small cars.

More than 5,000,000 of the Goodyear non-skid tires have been sold in the last five years.

Built of the same high grade Egyptian cotton fabric that goes into the All-Weather Tread Goodyear, with a long-wearing but differently designed tread, they have given remarkable service.

Their quality and serviceability have proved to thousands of car owners the folly of buying unknown and unguaranteed tires of lower price.

Ask your Goodyear Service Station Dealer to explain their advantages.

30x3½ Cross Rib Fabric . . .	$10.95
30x3½ All-Weather Fabric .	14.75
30x3½ All-Weather Cord . .	18.00
30x3½ Heavy Tourist Tube .	2.80
30x3½ Regular Tube	2.25

Manufacturer's tax extra

GOODYEAR

STONECYPHER'S IRISH POTATO BUG KILLER

Every year you plant Irish Potatoes.
Every year you have Potato Bugs.
Every year you should use
STONECYPHER'S
Irish Potato Bug Killer

Guaranteed to destroy the bug without damage to the plant. Also destroys all leaf eating insects on cabbage, cucumber, cantaloupe, squash and tomato vines. Apply lightly. Cost low. Applicaton easy. Results sure.

For Sale by Drug, Seed and General Stores

STONECYPHER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO.
Westminster, S. C.

STANDARD FOR 50 YEARS
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
Not Only For Chills, Fever and Malari
BUT A FINE GENERAL TONIC
If not sold by your druggist, write Arthur Peter & Co., Louisville, Ky.

To Himself.

"What would you say if you saw your daughter sitting before a mirror and plucking her eyebrows?"

"I'd probably say a great deal," replied the subdued parent of a flapper.

"Indeed?"

"Yes, but it would be in the form of a soliloquy."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

YOU CANNOT AFFORD

To let your little hurts and ailments get bad.

Keep Vacher-Balm handy for Burns, Boils, Cuts, Corns, Piles, or Soreness anywhere.

Ask your druggist. Avoid imitations. —Advertisement.

Men's right are conserved fairly well; it is their privileges that are taken away from them.

His Natural Dome.

"That football player seems t wearing a helmet, but I see nothi protect his ears."

"He's a rare bird on the gridi

"What's that?"

"A baldheaded halfback."—Bir ham Age-Herald.

Cuticura Soothes Itching Scalp. On retiring gently rub spots of d druff and itching with Cuticura ment. Next morning shampoo Cuticura Soap and hot water. them your everyday toilet prepara and have a clear skin and soft, w hands.—Advertisement.

Friendly Offer.

"I always take a sleeper wl travel."

"Do you? Then you can take one you will find in my front He is no good to me."

She Knows

"I am a Domestic Science Graduate and a chemical student from the ——Normal School. After making the experiment testing various baking powders I never use any except the Royal." Mrs. J. P.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure

Contains No Alum Leaves No Bitter Taste

Send for New Royal Cook Book—It's FREE
Royal Baking Powder Co., 130 William St., New York

STRENGTH--VITALITY--HAPPINESS

A Message to People in Poor Health Who Want to Be Well

If you are in poor health merely from a general run-down condition, get some Gude's Pepto-Mangan of your druggist and take it with your meals for a few weeks or until you feel right again. Pepto-Mangan is a wonderful tonic and blood-builder and is very pleasant to take. It does not act like a miracle. Its effects are gradual, but real and sure. It contains iron in a form easily digested and absorbed by the system. For thirty years Gude's Pepto-Mangan has been used by physicians as a tonic for run-down people. Don't continue to be weak, nervous, and headachy—take Gude's Pepto-Mangan and restore your good health. Thousands have been helped back to health by it—you can be benefited if you will accept this truth and act now. Sold in both liquid and tablet form. —Advertisement.

Serious Loss Threatened.

Bobby's mother was in a hurry to keep an appointment, and Bobby had all he could do to keep up with her as she went up the street. Finally he called to her and said: "Mother, O mother! You're going to lose something!"

She turned around with rather an embarrassed look and said: "Why, Bobby, what am I losing?"

"You're going to lose your little boy," he answered, "if you don't watch out."

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS

There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of distressing cases. Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

Start treatment at once. Sold at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

His Drawing Specialty.

A man was driving a donkey to Bantry on a market day. The donkey began to sulk and back into the dike. A local justice of the peace happened to be coming on behind in his car, and overtaking them, he said:

"Well, my man, what's wrong with your donkey that he won't draw?"

"Oh, your honor, sir," said the laborer, "but he does draw."

"How so, my good man—what does he draw?"

"Why, your worship, he draws the attention of every donkey that passes."—London Tit-Bits.

ADVANTAGES OF PARCEL POST.

You make a secure bundle of your shoes and perhaps Father's or sister's or a friend's, that needs ½ sole or heel, or some other work to put them in good shape. You send them by Parcel Post to The Kenton Shoe Hospital, which is really a well equipped small Shoe Factory. The repairs will be done by factory methods that will more than please you, and your shoes returned in a surprisingly short time looking nearer like new than you would believe possible. The work will be done by Expert Shoemakers, having wide experience in shoe factories, making high grade shoes. We also have men experienced in all kinds of leather goods repairs, suit-cases renewed, and repaired. The Kenton Shoe Hospital, 1001-1009 Market St., Chattanooga, Tenn.—Advertisement.

You're Right, Bess.

"You must get over this habit of extravagance, Bess," said the anxious father. "You don't care how you spend money."

"You're right, daddy; I must," agreed the spendthriftess. "Only last night I caught myself offering Mr. Noodle a penny for his thoughts."

Any Bank or Mercantile Agency

ill tell you The Kenton Shoe Hospital reliable. Send your shoes to us and factory results, and either leather or Panco soles. The Panco will outwear the best Oak or Chrome leather.

	Men's	Ladies'
soles sewed	$1.25	$1.10
soles and heels, sewed	1.65	1.45
soles, rubber heels, sewed	1.75	1.60

nd for our complete price list, or send pair of shoes for repairs and our price will be returned with the shoes: and will send us all your work.

Kenton Shoe Hospital

L. C. Kenton, Mgr.

001-1009 Market St., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Stop Constipation!

Do you know the agony, the danger from ronic constipation? Don't let this harmful ease get the best of you. It may cause other rious troubles. Give nature a chance to regute and ease your movements. CURE constition! Don't wait! TODAY, send 25 cents—in or stamps — for what we consider the best method of relief.

nderland Laboratories, Valentine Bldg., Toledo, O.

FARM MONEY BILL PASSED BY SENATE

SENATOR CAPPER GIVES PLANS TO AID RECOVERY OF RURAL PROSPERITY.

FREE SEEDS ARE RESTORED

Capper Places Credit Reform First In List Of Needs He Urges For Farmers Of Nation.

Washington.—Another of the annual supply bills, the agricultural appropriation, was passed by the senate recently after it had reversed itself and restored free seeds item for another year. The bill carries approximately $37,250,000, or about a million and a half more than as passed by the house.

A half a dozen amendments were offered by individual senators which served to increase the amount of money set aside for the department of agriculture. Among the principal changes made by the senate were increases of $500,000 to the million dollar appropriation for agricultural extension work through farm agents; $525,000 to the $50,000 appropriation for the purchase of additional forest reserves in the Appalachian district, and $300,000 to $200,000 fund for eradicating the barberry bush, the wheat rust pest. An addition of $75,000 was made to the appropriation of $175,000 for fighting the white pine blister rust, and $20,000 was provided for the extension of the leased wire market service into Texas, which expects to use the service in connection with radio broadcasting, according to Senator Sheppard, of the state, who sought the increase.

An attempt was made by Senator King, democrat, Utah, to add an amendment limiting farm bureau agents to the work of their departments and preventing them from what was described as interference with outside enterprises. After a verbal tilt with Senator McNary, of Oregon, in charge of the bill, who said that if such limitation was to be placed on government officials it should be made to apply to senators and members of the house, Mr. King withdrew the amendment.

MEN MALEFACTORS GO BACK TO ADAM HUNTING EXCUSE

Seekers After Crime-Causes Are Told By Ten Convicts In One Word, "Woman."

Joliet, Ill.—Why do men go wrong? The answer of ten of the most hardened convicts in the Illinois state penitentiary to the law enforcement committee of the American Bar association, investigating the causes of the nation-wide crime wave here recently, was—women.

Men serving long sentences for every major crime on the statute books were brought into the little room in the prison to tell their story to the committee.

Man after man was brought in to tell his story; not as a prisoner before a judge, but as man to man. Murderers serving life terms, old and bent; pickpockets, young and furtive; swindlers, with still a trace of the debonair; bank clerks who embezzled, one of them a handsome, upstanding clear-eyed man—they all had the same tale to tell before they had finished their recitals—women, good and bad.

The good women, in the majority of cases, were their mothers. They had died, in three cases, when their sons, now convicts, were young and needed them most.

The bad women were the red-lipped, pleasure-loving girls whom they met when they were reaching manhood. Demands for gay night life, the bright lights of cabarets, fine clothes and jewels, with the most lavish affection for the man who spent the most.

Divorcee Gets 2,000,000 Acres Of Land

Oakland, Cal.—Mrs. Ella Douglass, by securing a final decree of divorce, won final title to nearly two million acres of land in Brazil which had been given her husband, Hugh M. Newell, alias Douglass, for his services to Manuel Valdez of the Brazilian army. Newell is in prison in New York. Mrs. Douglas and her attorney, Henry Reynolds, announced they expected to fly to Brazil to inspect the land.

Winston Caton Dies In Birmingham

Auburn, Ala.—Noah Winston Caton, 23, veteran football and track star of the Alabama Polytechnic institute, died in a Birmingham hospital the other day following an operation for acute appendicitis. He had been in an unconscious condition for forty-eight hours. During the war he served with the marines. He made a great fight for his life against insurmountable odds. He entered Auburn in 1916 and returned after the armistice was signed and had been as prominent in athletics as before.

Famous Aviator Dies From A Fall

London.—Sir Ross Smith, the Australian aviator, who, with his brother, Sir Keith, had planned to start from Croydon, April 25, on a flight around the world, was killed when his plane crashed in a practice flight at Brooklands the other day. Lieutenant Bennett, an engineer, was planning to accompany Sir Ross and his brother on their around-the-world flight. He also was killed. The machine that crashed was the one in which the Smiths intended to use in their flight. They had been practicing an hour.

JUSTICE DAY MAKES RULING

Ruling Of Supreme Court Says Dealer Cannot Be Forced To Observe Terms Of Contract

Washington.—Contracts of sale made by manufacturers, requiring retail dealers exclusively to handle their products, which may have the effect to lessen, substantially, competition, were held by the Supreme court to be invalid.

The opinion was delivered by Justice Day in a case brought by the Standard Fashion company, a New York corporation, against the Magrane-Houston company of Boston, and sought to compel that retail company to observe the terms of a contract, which the Supreme court declared was one of sale and not of agency or joint venture. Being a contract of sale, Justice Day stated, the only question that remained for the court to determine was whether the facts established that it would substantially lessen competition.

Adopting the findings of the circuit court of appeals for the first circuit of the results obtained through the contract, the Supreme court reached the conclusion "that the contract, properly interpreted, with its restrictive covenant, brings it fairly within the section of the Clayton act under consideration." It therefore affirmed the decision of the circuit court which held the contract invalid.

After describing minutely the practices of the Standard Fashion company, under the contract, Justice Day analyzed certain features, pointing out that "the Clayton act sought to reach the agreements embraced within its sphere in their incipiency," and "to determine their legality by specific tests of its own which declare illegal contracts for sale made upon the agreement or understanding that the purchaser shall not deal in the goods of a competitor or competitors of the seller, which "may substantially lessen competition.

Justice Day stated that the court did not think that the purpose of the statute in using the word "may" was to prohibit "the mere possibility of the consequences described," but that "it was intended to prevent such agreements as would under the circumstances disclosed (in the present case) probably lessen competition or create an actual tendency to monopoly." Congress by statute did not intend to reac hevery remote lessening of competition," he added, and disclosed this purpose by providing that the contracts should be prohibited when they caused a "lessening" of competition which was "substantial."

Under its contract, the Standard Fashion company agreed to sell its standard patterns at a discount of 50 per cent from retail prices and to allow certain privileges when between certain dates semi-annually it would receive in exchange at nine-tenths cost discarded patterns. In July, 1917, the Magrane-Houston company decided to discontinue the sale of the Standard Fashion company patterns and place on sale in its store patterns of a rival pattern company. It was to enforce its contract that the fashion company brought suit.

The decision in the United States district court for Massachusetts as well as for the circuit court of appeals were adverse to its contentions, those courts ruling that the contract was in violation of the Clayton act and, therefore, not enforceable. When the case reached the Supreme court, the federal government intervened, filing a brief in which it contended for the construction placed upon the contract by the lower courts.

"Get Busy On Dam Quickly," Is Plea

Washington.—Early authorization by congress for renewing work of construction on the Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals, Ala., was suggested recently by Col. W. J. Barden; army engineer in ccharge of that project, before the senate agriculture committee. Unless a decision is made soon, the colonel said, the engineers would be unable to begin work this summer and another year of delay would result.

Sir Conan Doyle To Lecture In U. S.

New York.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of the materialistic Sherlock Holmes, but now a sincere believer in things spiritual, arrived here recently to "raid" America. "I propose to make a raid on American skepticism," he said, in explaining the purpose of his proposed lecture tour. "I propose to raid church and laity alike."

Plane Wrecked On First Lap Of Trip

Clarion, Pa.—Capt. Roald Amundsen, Arctic explorer, and four flying companions narrowly escaped death at Miola, near here, when the monoplane in which they were going from New York to Cleveland, the first lap of a continental journey, turned over when it was forced down in a field. All occupants were reported slightly scratched and bruised, but otherwise uninjured. Those with Captain Amundsen ewer H. T. Lewis of Bellefonte, Pa.; H. U. Gade of New York and E. Rubi and J. Ondell.

Finds His Lost Wife In Slain Woman

Washington.—Bruce E. Haines' two-year search for his attractive wife is ended. The woman is dead, said to have been killed by Dr. Herbert J. Bryson, whose mother lives here. The naming of Doctor Bryson in the shooting at Cassville, Pa., served as a clue for Haines, who is a chauffeur for a local financier, and he is going to New York to attend his wife's funeral as soon as Mrs. Catherine Kerby, mother of the slain woman, returns to New York with the body, which is now at Huntington, Pa.

BIG CONFLAGRATION IN NORFOLK SUBURB

AREA COVERED BY FLAMES IS ONE MILE IN LENGTH AND 2 TO 4 BLOCKS WIDE

500 FAMILIES ARE HOMELESS

Two Firemen Injured—Damage Will Run To Nearly A Million Dollars, It Is Estimated.

Norfolk, Va.—Berkeley, a suburb of Norfolk, was swept by fire. More than one hundred houses covering an area one mile in length and averaging from two to four blocks in width were destroyed. Five hundred families are estimated to have been made homeless. The damage will run to nearly a million dollars.

The firemen were unable to make headway, due to lack of water pressure. Norfolk, Portsmouth, naval base and South Norfolk fire departments fought the blaze. Two firemen were injured.

The Norfolk department called on the Portsmouth and navy yard fire forces for assistance. The fire started from a blaze in an abandoned lumber yard and a southwest wind carried sparks which ignited five separate fires.

A sixth alarm took all remaining apparatus from Norfolk, save one engine. Assistance was sent from the naval operating base at Hampton Roads.

The blaze originated in the Tunis lumber mills, on the southern branch of the Elizabeth river. Mrs. George Lacey, whose husband is a watchman at the Tunis docks, discovered the fire from a house boat in which she and her husband are living. Lacey, being in, she took him to shore in a rowboat and then turned in an alarm.

Within 50 yards of the dock where the fire started are the St. Helena Oil company docks. Three steamers in the river were burned, catching from sparks.

The fire quickly spread to the north, the sparks being carried 100 yards or more. Most of the houses in the path were of wooden construction. They were dry as tinder and a few sparks only were required to set them afire. At one time there were nine different fires blazing simultaneously.

Although the fire departments, both civilian and navy, from all the cities and towns in the vicinity of Berkley, were called into service, they were helpless against the spreading flames, which soon reached Liberty street, one of the oldest business streets of the town. One block on Liberty street was completely wiped out.

ASLEEP THREE YEARS, HIS SOLE REMARK WAS "I AIN'T WHERE I WAS"

Fort Smith, Ark.—Jim Eslinger, who has been asleep continuously for three years, died at the county hospital the other day. Eslinger, for eight years a county charge, would have been 63 years old June 7. Physicians say he was not suffering from sleeping sickness, but from mental paralysis. He apparently was insensible to pain, was immobile and his eyes were closed. In March of 1921 Eslinger for a few seconds showed signs of awakening, but he again relapsed into the comatose state. On July 1, 1921, he opened his eyes and said: "I ain't where I was," and soon fell back into a coma. He was fed with a spoon.

Grand Opera Will Be A Success

Atlanta, Ga.—Atlanta's annual grand opera season opens Monday, April 24, and runs through the week, the final performance being on Saturday night. Despite the general business depression the seat sale to date is well up to that of previous years, and there is every indication that the season will be successful one. Out of town people have been buying heavily for the week-end, as they can leave home Friday and hear LaTravita on Friday night, Faust Saturday afternoon, and The Love of Three Kings and L'Oracolo Saturday night, and get back home Sunday morning. There are still good seats available for all performances.

T. N. T. Explosions Throws Up Rocks

Salt Lake City, Utah.—One and one-half tons of T. N. T. exploded near Helper, Utah, and three hundred tons of rock fell upon the town. No fatalities are reported. The explosion occurred during blasting operations and damaged the business district heavily. A hail of stone smashed into the telephone exchange, destroying a clock between two operators, breaking an arm from the chair in which one sat and carrying away the connection table. One rock weighing about five tons, buried itself six feet deep in the road.

Announces Candidacy By Megaphone

Raleigh, N. C.—A novel and interesting spectacle was witnessed here the other day. Marching down the principal streets of Raleigh, shouting at the top of his voice through a megaphone—this is the way Philip Brockwell chose to announce his candidacy for the legislature. He is runing on an anti-high rent platform. "Down with high rents!" shouted Brockwell through the megaphone, after announcing his candidacy for the office. His novel campaign is being watched by all the oldtimers.

TARIFF RATES MAY RUN UP

Senate Committee Ditches House American Valuation Plan In Favor Of Foreign Valuation Basis

Washington.—The long-awaited administration tariff bill was presented recently in the senate. Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, in charge of the measure, announced that to give senators time to study it he would not call it up before April 20. Some republican leaders thought it would be passed after about sixty days of debate, but other estimates ranged as high as three months.

Experts who assisted the senate finance committee majority to prepare the bill estimated that the average of its rates is slightly higher than the average of the Payne-Aldrich law, the last republican tariff act. The Payne-Aldrich level was approximately 41 per cent on all dutiable imports and 21 per cent on all imports, free and dutiable. The average of the democratic Underwood tariff which the new bill would replace was 37.60 and 14.88 per cent respectively, in 1914, the first year of its operation, and the only year when trade was not seriously affected by the world war or after-the-war condition.

Comparing this bill with the Fordney measure, which the house passed last July 21, and of which this is a rewrite, the experts estimate that the average of all rates is lower, though the specific rates, and more particularly those on foodstuffs, are somewhat higher. Exact comparisons of the ad valorem duties in the two bills are somewhat difficult, due to the fact that the senate committee threw overboard the house American valuation plan, returning to the foreign valuation principle.

While they have not completed all calculation, treasury experts say that the senate measure probably would raise between $330,000,000 and $350,000,000 in revenue as compared with the estimate of $300,000,000 for the Fordney bill and the $302,000,000 of revenue returned in the calendar year 1921 from the joint operation of the Underwood law and the emergency tariff act.

JURY, SIX MINUTES AFTER GETTING THE CASE, ACQUITS FATTY ARBUCKLE

The Quick Return Of The Jury To The Court Room Surprises Every One

San Francisco.—A verdict of acquittal was returned by a jury in the third trial of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle on a manslaughter charge growing out of the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress. The jury was out six minutes.

The defendant was deeply affected, but received the verdict with a great sigh of relief. There was no demonstration, the court having warned those present against it. Mrs. Minta Durfee Arbuckle, the defendant's wife, cried quietly. Both she and Arbuckle shook hands with the jurors. The quick return was a surprise.

Edward Brown, whose presence on the jury, was objected to by the prosecution, was foreman. There was a slight delay when the jury returned, due to the absence of the district attorney.

The verdict was by acclamation, the deliberation taking less than a minute. The additional time was consumed by details.

Hughes Condemns Navy Money Bill

Washington.—Leaders of the movement seeking to defeat in the house the naval bill proposal cutting the enlisted personnel to 65,000, presented a letter from Secretary Hughes setting forth the view that it would reduce the American navy below the 5—5—3 ratio, as fixed by the arms conference and prove "most injurious" to the nation's interests.

U. S. Claims Just, Britain Admits

Washington.—The American government has won its case before the allied powers for a settlement of the $241,000,000 due from Germany for maintenance of American troops on the Rhine. Recognizing the claims as unquestionable, Great Britain, in a formal reply to Secretary of State Hughes' recent note on the subject, adds her assent to that previously given by Belgium and France.

Ex-Service Men Asked To Go Home

Indianapolis, Ind.—Former service men of the country were asked to go back to their home town and get a job, in an appeal which Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, asks the Associated Press to broadcast the jobless veterans who, he said, are congregating in the larger cities, where the unemployment situation is becoming worse. The legion's effort to find employment for the 700,000 jobless former service men, begun three weeks ago, is gaining in effectiveness, MacNider said.

"Women And Men Equals In U. S."

New York.—Women in the United States are, in nearly all respects, the equals of men, and, therefore, the promises and vows of the man and woman at marriage should be reciprocal. Such is the substance of a statement made by George Zabriskie, member of the commission on revision of the Book of Common Prayer of the Episcopal church, in explanation of some changes the commission will recommend to the general convention of the church in Portlatnd, Oregon, next September.

You Need Strength

to overpower the coughs, colds and other catarrhal diseases of winter. Restore healthy circulation, throw out the wastes, tone up the nerves and fight the stagnation of catarrh. Then winter will have no terrors.

PE-RU-NA

USED BY THOUSANDS

Aids digestion, regulates the bowels, clears away all catarrhal inflammation. It builds up the strength by enabling the organs concerned to properly do their work. Thousands testify to its value after protracted sickness, an attack of Grip or Spanish Influenza.

The ideal medicine in the house for everyday ills.

SOLD EVERYWHERE

TABLETS OR LIQUID

CANCER Hospital

Serum Treatment.

Booklet upon request.

Lock Box No. 2127, ATLANTA, GA.

Ask Your Dealer for Nu-Way & Excello Rubberless Suspenders

Year's Wear Guaranteed

The Nu-Way Line

Nu-Way and Excello Suspenders—75¢

Men's Garters—50¢

Hose Supporters 25¢

Ladies Corset "Sew-on" Hose Supporters 25¢

Always comfortable. No rubber to rot. Phosphor Bronze Springs give the stretch. If your dealer doesn't carry Nu-Ways or Excellos, send direct, giving dealer's name. Accept no substitute.

Nu-Way Strech Suspender Co., Mfrs., Adrian, Mich.

FREE—SEND NO MONEY

Beautiful Gold Shell Ring set [illegible] to you, together with FREE secret formula. Ring is symbol of good luck. Send finger size (strip of paper around finger) and I will mail you this wonder ring. On arrival pay postman only $2.19 for [illegible] setting. Satisfaction or money back. Ole Badza, Box 27, Wash. Bridge Sta., New York, N. Y.

Bird Talk.

"Am I tweet?" twittered she.

"You are tweet," gurgled he.

"Tweet?"

"Tweet."

"A fine pair of birds," commented an old bachelor who overheard.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

IN BUYING ASPIRIN ALWAYS SAY "BAYER"

Look for the Name "Bayer" on Tablets, Then You Need Never Worry.

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" can be taken safely for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Joint Pains, Neuritis, and Pain generally.

To get quick relief follow carefully the safe and proper directions in each unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin." This package is plainly stamped with the safety "Bayer Cross."

The "Bayer Cross" means the genuine, world-famous Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over twenty-one years.—Advertisement.

Hardly That.

"And avoid all sweet things."

"Hey, doc, do you mean to say I can't go to see my best girl?"

Is Backache Crippling You?

Is that dull, nagging backache making it hard for you to get around? Are you lame, sore and tortured with sharp, rheumatic pains? It's time, then, you gave some attention to your kidneys! A persistent backache is often Nature's first signal of kidney weakness. You may have headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities, too. Kidney troubles, if treated early, are usually easily corrected. Begin now with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

An Alabama Case

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

J. P. McAbee, shoemaker, 305 S. Main St., Piedmont, Ala., says: "My kidneys were weak and the secretions annoyed me a lot by their irregular passage. I had to get up at night on this account and lost considerable sleep. I felt dull and tired easily and at times my back was weak and lame. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a supply. Doan's soon relieved me of all the trouble. I have great faith in this medicine."

Get Doan's at Any Store, 60c a Box

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

Girls! Girls!! Save Your Hair With Cuticura

Soap 25c, Ointment 25 and 50c, Talcum 25c.

Liggett & Myers

KING PIN PLUG TOBACCO

Known as "that good kind"

Try it—and you will know why

BIG OPENING SALE

"THE LEADER"

Clanton's New Dry Goods and Ready-to-wear Store

Our stock is complete and you are sure to get new clean goods.

If you need any clothes we have the very newest styles and prices are so cheap yon will be astonished.

M. LANDE Manager

Look for the yellow front store. Next to Johnson Drug Co. Baker & Taylor old stand

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY..........Editor
J. L. JOHNSON,..........Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

United Farmers of America

This organization is being introduced in our county and is meeting with good success, as a number of Locals have already been established, and in week or two a general meeting will be called in Clanton and a County Association will be formed by these units.

This is a move in the right direction by our farmers and one that we have for years hoped to see materialize. The idea of the farmer having no say so at all in regard to the price he sells his products for is absolutely wrong has always been wrong and will continue to be wrong and a curse to our country until just such a movement as this is taken up and they go in to it with a fixed detirmination to win out and control the output of their own labor.

This organization is working successfully in Arkansas, Missouri and Tennessee, and is already enabling the farmers out there to get from 2 to 5 cents per pound more for their cotton than can be obtained in the open market. This is a proven fact, and if it can be done by them it can be done here with equal success.

We hope to see this proposition put over in great shape and with such an overwhelming unanimity that this crop now being planted may be handled through their own sales agencies and sold for at least a price that will enable the man who guides the plow to realize something out of his year's hard work.

"Court house rings" and "back room caucuses" made politics to stink in the nostrils of all honest people in [illegible] Trickery, treachery and "slate making" have blasted the fair fame and name of a government by the people long enough. It is high time the real people took over the situation and kicked every chronic politician into the middle of kingdom come.

We do Job Printing.

Dew berries are turning red and black berries are in bloom. Who says the future prospect is not growing brighter?

The little fish that have not already been caught out of the creeks near town have been hair-lipped and their mouthes are too sore to bite.

A good many farmers have put their boll weevil feed in the ground this week. The prospect now indicates a larger acreage in cotton this year than last.

If your name on the registration list and your poll tax receipt are not exactly alike this year, our republican friends are going to force you to make an affidavit at the polls.

Easter has come and gone and all who were able to "dike up" to do the occasion justice had a fair deal so far as the weather was concerned and if they did't have a good time it was their own fault.

The last move in the Muscle Shoals controversy in Congress is to turn down all four of the bids, wipe off the slate and then try to induce the people to shut up talking about it.

The modern cyclone is specializing these days and waits on individuals and communities, in widely separated localities, with a neatness and finesse that does not even disturb the neighbors. You are liable to get up some fine morning, after a night of undisturbed repose, and find that the house next door has been carried away during the night.

Our much esteemed friend, Editor W. M. Wyatt, of the Union-Banner, has entered the lists as a candidate for the legislature, subject to the nomination of his party, and while we are going to do our clean level best to beat him in the general election with a democrat, we will have one satisfaction to fall back on if we loose. If he wins there will not be a county in the State represented by a cleaner or more honorable representative than Chilton

---

We do Job Printing.

HOW THE DATE FOR EASTER IS FIXED

The Editor has been asked so many times how the date for Easter Sunday was fixed each year that he concluded to print the following historical data as being the true explnation for all who wish to know the facts:

Easter is a movable feast of the Roman Catholic church and the date of its observance varies from the 22nd of March to the 25th of April.

The reason for this is that the Jewish calendar determining the date of the Passover, or Pasch, is observed. This was their festival, commemorative of their deliverance from bondage in Egypt, and extended over several days. The Passover began on the 14th day of Nisan (a lunar month) which roughly corresponds to the latter part of March and first part of April.

It closed with the eating of the Paschal Lamb which was a divinely ordained religious rite among the Jews.

Now, Christ was observing the Passover with his apostles and observing the rite of eating the Paschal Lamb when be ate His last supper with His apostles and instituted the Holy Eucharist, which is now commemorated by Holy Communion. That night He was apprehended and the following day, crucified. The next day he rested in his grave and the day, after the first day of the week, which was Sunday, He rose from the dead.

The early Christians, in observing the death and resurrection of Christ, generally followed the Jewish method of computing the time for the observances of these important events.

But as the Jewish calendar was differently interpreted in different localities, causing a variation in the time of these great festivals, the Pope, at the council of Nice in the year 325 ordained that Easter be observed throuout the Catholic world on the first Sunday following first full moon, (or more accurately the first Sunday after the 14th day of the moon following the 21st of March, and this rule has been observed ever since. We must remember that while in that period of history dates were approximately determined, the method of computing time was not as accurate as it is in recent centuries.

It was not until about 1580 that Pope Gregory reformed the Julian calendar and gave the world the calendar which bears his name, that the calculations of time were exact.

The earliest date on which Easter can fall is March 22. The moon must then be full on the 21st and that day must be Saturday. Such a combination of circumstances is exceedingly rare. Easter has occurred as early as the 23rd of March in 1902, 1617, and 1761, and it will fall on the 22nd in 1990, 076 and 2144.

The latest date on which Easter can fall is April 25. That happened in 1886, 1734 and 1666 and will fall on that date again in 1943.

This year Easter will be on the 16th of April.

As an evidence of improving conditions, it took us half a day last week to find an idle carpenter.

PREACHING SERVICES

Rev. F. J. Tyler, of Helena, Ala., will preach at the Masonic Hall Sunday, April 23.

At 11 a. m. his subject will be, "The Value of Man." At 2:30 p. m. Subject, "The Model Woman." At 7:30 p. m., to men and boys only, Subject, "The Unmanning of Man."

Mr. Tyler is a very interesting speaker and the public is cordially invited to hear him.

Announced by M. E. ROY.

As Uncle Dock Sees It.

Oh, Lord, as I go up and down the street,
A candidate on every side I meet.
They are all clever fellows as there are in the land,
And it fills my heart with joy when they shake my hand.
They say, "Uncle Dock, I want you to pray for me sure,
If I'm elected I'll love you evermore,
If I get beat I wont ask you to pray anymore."

PROGRAM OF SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

To be Held at Samaria Baptist Church
The Fourth Sunday in April.

9:30—Devotional services, by G. F. Harris.

9:45—The Sunday School and Its Relation to the Social Problem. W. I. Mullins and H. A. Harris.

10:40—Address, Miss Wiley, one of the Baptist State Workers.

11:30—Putting Pep into the Sunday School, J. J. Pickens.

12:00—Adjournment.

1:30 P. M.—Devotional services, G. F. Harris.

2:00 P. M.—The Neccessity of Securing Good Teachers for the Rural Sunday School, Mrs. Hester.

2:30 P. M.—The Contact of the Teacher with the Pupil, Rev. P. G. Carter.

3:00 P. M.—Business.

3:20—Adjournment.

The following Sunday Schools will please send 4 delegates from each Sunday School: Clanton, Liberty Hill, Cane Creek, Concord, Poplar Springs, Maple Springs, Samaria, Friendship, Highland and Refuge.

TO THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE CHILTON COUNTY BAPTIST ASSOCIATION:

Dear Brethren:

In looking over our Minutes I see we have a membership of 3,540. I also see that we have reported for Missions $512.56, a little less than 14 cents a member. That isn't near what it ought to be. We ought to give at least $1.00 a member for missions.

The convention year closes April 30th, and some of us are bad behind with our pledges, and many haven't pledged anything, and for these reasons the work is suffering for means. I earnestly beg everyone that reads these lines to do something in the next 30 days.

Brethren, the Lord is looking to you to help in this work. Everyone can do something if they want to. I know we haven't much money, but we might spare a bushel of corn; or work a day; or make a cross tie and get a little cash. Where there is a will there is a way, if the will is strong enough to seek the way. I know the most of us think we need all we have got and more, but lets remember that God demands that we give a part of our income to Him, and if we withhold from Him He will withhold from us. Read the third chapter of Malich, also first Kings 17:11-16. Do what God says do and He will take care of the results. Jesus said, "Give, and it shall be given you good measure, pressed down and running over." Again He said, "It is better to give than to receive." Paul said, "Upon the first day of the week let everyone of you lay by in store as God has prospered Him," and many other scriptures prove these facts.

Brethren, lets do better in the future than we have done in the past. I have written these lines from love to God and to try to stimualte the Brethren to duty.

T. J. DEASON.

ISABELLA NEWS

Dear Editor:

I saw an article in your paper last week, entitled, a better spirit, which struck me very much. This article said there was a tendency of both political parties, or leaders of the parties, to get on a cleaner plan, and both the editors have joined hands in advocating such a plan. Let the writer join in, and all the people of our county. Lets have the cleanest county in the State. If our people would strive for higher and nobler things it would be easy. Let us do everything in a God like manner. Take time every morning to join around the family altar. Read a part of Gods word, and reverently thank Him in prayer for the blessings that have been given us. Let us hunt a prayer meeting instead of a dance, When we serve Him all the week it makes us want to put in full time on Sunday. Let us put aside every day affairs when Sunday comes and center our thoughts on every phase of Christain work. The writer, with a few friends and relatives, visited the home of old Brother White last Sunday evening. He is the father of a large family. Mr. W. T. White and Mrs. LeCroy are two of his children. They were there to join in the service held by Rev. R. T. Gilbert, pastor of the Maplesville Church. He took for lesson the 23rd Psalm, and made a brief but interesting talk. There were sympathetic prayers offered. Such a service as this makes one feel nearer to God. When we see these two old veterans, who have fought a good fight, their course is nearly run. They are so feeble and afflicted that they seldom get to church, but they cling to their worn Bible with out a murmer. Their faith is strengthening each day as they bear their burdens.

Rev. Lawrence was on his job Saturday afternoon at Mulberry, though a small crowd attended, but Sunday morning brought a much larger crowd with a forceful sermon delivered by brother Lawrence.

Mr. Hurbert Wright and Mr. H. A. Williams of Jemison, was at Mulberry Sunday. Glad to see them.

G. E. SUMMERS.

DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF CHILTON COUNTY CALLED TO MEET APRIL 22

The Chilton County Democratic Executive Committee is hereby called to meet in the Parlors of the Wilson Hotel at Clanton, at 10 a. m., on Saturday, April 22, 1922.

Business of vital importance to be attended to and every member is urged to be present.

W. W. FOX, Chr'm.

L. F. Gerald, Sec'y.

Give us Your Repair Work

We save you money on Repair Work and we give you the very best service that it is possible to give. Our repair work is increasing very fast—there must be a reason.

Lawrence Garage,
CLANTON, ALABAMA

Stubborn Cases of Stomach Trouble Yield Promptly to
TANLAC
25,000,000 Bottles Sold

ACHES AND PAINS—SLOAN'S GETS 'EM!

AVOID the misery of racking pain. Have a bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy and apply when you first feel the ache or pain.

It quickly eases the pain and sends a feeling of warmth through the aching part. Sloan's Liniment penetrates without rubbing.

Fine, too, for rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, sprains and strains, stiff joints, lame back and sore muscles.

For forty years pain's enemy. Ask your [illegible]

At all druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.

Sloan's Liniment

Use freely Dr. Hobson's [illegible]
Hobson's Family Remedies.
Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment

Living Photos—We make them from any photograph; greatest novelty, money maker on market. Send for proposition. Wolverine Novelty Co., Breitmeyer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

Spare Time Home Work—Both sexes, easily learned, legitimate, profitable. Stamp for particulars. Harper, C806 Franklin, Phila., Pa.

START A CHEWING GUM FACTORY—Easy to make and sell. Recipe 10c. M. C. McQUEEN, HOLLAND, TEXAS

SELL MUSIC—100% PROFIT
"COULD YOU BREAK A MOTHER'S HEART?" is a wonderful song. Beautiful front page, endearing words. Is a waltz with alluring music. Regular sheet size. Make money selling this hit to your friends. For $4 I will mail you prepaid 40 copies of this music, which you sell at 20c a copy to your friends. Write today. Don't delay. ALBERT E. RYAN, MUSIC PUBLISHER 820 Blaine St. Elyria, Ohio

How Would You Like to Receive 100 letters a day, each containing a dime. Will send three formulas and plan for 10c. Strictly legitimate. CHAS DONOVAN, 88 Vinton St., SO. BOSTON, MASS.

IRRIGATED FARMS—Sure crops, alfalfa, clover, potatoes, grains, fruits, vegetables, fine dairy country; all-season blue grass pastures; Boise Vall[illegible] Write Walling Land [illegible]

ST. VITUS DANCE [illegible] RELIEVED PROMPTLY [illegible] or two bottles usually [illegible] lief. Price $3.00 per bot[illegible] ICINE CO., 1230 53rd St., Brool[illegible] N. Y.

FOOTOLINE
Prevents that unplea[illegible] feet and armpits. It is a lique[illegible] the skin with enclosed brush, the latest most sanitary treatment for perspiring feet and armpits. Footoline is guaranteed. If no relief after 3 applications, return package and your money will be refunded. [illegible] coin. Agents wanted everywhere.
Exclusive Manufacturer: Emil Breithaupt 8158 Melrum Ave. Detroit, Mich.

DROPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE Short breathing relieved in a few hours; swelling reduced in a few days; regulates the liver, kidneys, stomach and heart; purifies the blood, strengthens the entire system. Write for Free Trial Treatment.
COLLUM DROPSY REMEDY CO., Dept. C.E., ATLANTA, GA.

W. N. U., BIRMINGHAM, NO. 16–1922.

The Ways of Women.

If a woman expresses admiration for another woman, either she does not admire her, or her husband does not. The woman who bares her shoulders usually has a larger following than the woman who bares her soul. The less women care for clothes, the more clothes they wear.

In a crisis a woman will turn to a priest or a palmist.

Many a woman who seems to want coaxing might be driven if the car were luxurious enough.

It is useless to be able to support a woman in luxury if you cannot support her en deshabille.—From "Tatlings," by Sidney Tremayne.

There's Still the Necklace.

Till—I hear that London society women have discarded the tiara.

Phil—Shocking. There's not much more to go now.—New York Sun.

Mrs. G. W. Tidwell

Atlanta, Ga.—"About a year ago I was preparing to go to the hospital to die. Had been sick and suffering two years, had dizzy spells, suffered from headache, constipation and a despondent feeling all the time. Had tried many different remedies and got no better. I got to a drug store one day and was talking to the druggist about my condition. He handed me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and said, 'I think that will help you. Before I had taken all of that one bottle I felt like a new woman. Now I can say, along with thousands of other women, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cured me."—Mrs. G. W. Tidwell, 67 Hampton St.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has made many women happy by making them healthy. Get it at once from your nearest druggist, in either liquid or tablet form. Write Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR APRIL 23.

UZZIAH'S PRIDE AND PUNISHMENT.

LESSON TEXT.—II Chron. 26:1-21.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Pride goeth before destruction and an haughty spirit before a fall.—Prov. 16:18.

REFERENCE MATERIAL.—Num. 12:1-15; Deut. 8:11-14; II Kings 5:[illegible]; Dan. 4:[illegible]

PRIMARY TOPIC.—The Story of a [illegible]

JUNIOR TOPIC.—A Man Who Forgot God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR [illegible]

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC.—The Perils of Prosperity.

I. Uzziah Made King (vv. 1-5).

1. His Age (v. 1). He became king at the age of sixteen.

2. Length of His Reign (v. 3). He reigned fifty-two years. His mother's name was Jecoliah, which means "Jehovah is able," or "Made strong of Jehovah."

3. His Character (v. 4). He did that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

4. His Prosperity (v. 5). He definitely sought God while Zechariah lived, and because he sought him God made him to prosper as long as he continued to seek him. He, like Joash before him, turned aside when the influence of the man of God was removed.

II. Uzziah's Achievement (vv. 6-15).

1. He Built Eloth (v. 2). This was a port on the Red sea which had been lost to Judah. No doubt it was the aim of the father to get possession of this port, so the son makes its restoration his first duty. It was an important trading point and the commercial interests of the nation would be greatly increased by its possession.

2. He Had Military Success (vv. 6-8). (1) He conquered the Philistines (v. 6). After subduing them he dismantled their fortified cities and built new cities in their stead. (2) He defeated the Arabians (v. 7). (3) He made the Ammonites across the Jordan pay tribute (v. 8).

3. He Fortified Jerusalem (vv. 9-15). He took advantage of the peace which was now enjoyed because of the subjugation of his enemies to fortify Jerusalem. He placed in the towers great engines of war for hurling [illegible]

4. His Civic Improvements (v. 10). In the regions south and west of Jerusalem he built towers which served a threefold purpose, namely: observation, defense and shelter for his cattle. This enabled him to carry on his stock-raising enterprises.

5. His Army (vv. 11-15). It numbered 307,500. It was thoroughly equipped and drilled. God was with him, and his fame spread far and wide. The source of his strength was God.

III. Uzziah's Transgression (vv. 16-18).

The prosperity bestowed upon him by the Lord was too much for him—his heart was lifted up with pride. This is always so unless counteracted by divine grace. In his pride he presumptuously intruded into the priest's office. This act was not because of forgetfulness, but of deliberate purpose. Azariah and eighty other priests remonstrated with him, but this only made him angry. This act was a trespass against God.

IV. Uzziah's Punishment (vv. 19-21).

While raging in his wrath and about to burn incense he was smitten with leprosy, a dreadful, incurable and unclean disease. This judgment came upon him as a consequence of his overweening pride and vanity. He was thrust out of the sanctuary—excluded from God's house. Indeed, his own conscience smote him, and he hurriedly went out because he knew that the Lord had smitten him. He not only was excluded from the place of worship, but was dethroned. His son Jotham was made regent. His judgment was:

1. Sudden. The Lord smote him while attired as priest, with censer in hand. Frequently God's judgments are speedy. 2. Severe. The leprosy broke forth upon his forehead. The same judgment befell Miriam for speaking against Moses (Num. 12:10), and Gehazi for lying to Elisha (II Kings 5:27). Great sins demand severe punishment. 3. Conspicuous. Azariah and all the priests looked up and beheld the leprosy (v. 20). The spot on Uzziah's forehead proclaimed him as the object of God's wrath. How many today are bearing about the marks of sin—God's judgment! 4. Humiliating. He was henceforth unclean—cut off from the congregation. This is what sin always does. 5. Fatal. It ended in death. "The wages of sin is death" (Rom. 6:23).

Cause and Upholder.

God alone . . . is in Himself, and is the Cause and Upholder of everything to which He has given being.—Pusey.

Praise the Lord.

Oh, that men would praise the Lord for His goodness and for his wonderful works to the children of men!—Bible.

The Blockhead.

A blockhead cannot come in nor go away, nor sit, nor rise, nor stand, like a man of sense.—Bruyere.

5 SCHOLARSHIPS GIVEN BY NEWS

[illegible]BLISHER HANSON STOUTEST CHAMPION OF EDUCATION IN THE STATE.

RADIO FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Records Lost But Taxes Must Be Paid—Schools of State Overcrowded—Bonds For Road Building.

Victor H. Hanson

Publisher Birmingham News.

Following closely on the heels of [illegible] gift last year of five scholar[illegible]ps to Alabama's representative [illegible]eges, given to five worthy young [illegible]bamians unable to otherwise se[illegible] the education they desired, The Birmingham News has announced five additional scholarships to be awarded to five ambitious young men and women who cannot make other provision for getting an education. The scholarships pay all expenses of the student over a four-year period

Mr. Victor Hanson, the Publisher of The Birmingham News, and who is mainly responsible for provi[illegible] these scholarships has proven h[illegible]self the stoutest champion of education in the state. Besides the scholarships Mr. Hanson has given lavishly of The News' space as well as its means to every constructive educational movement developed throughout Alabama during the past ten years; and just recently was announced the gift by The News of a complete radio broacasting station to Auburn, which station cost $35,000. The broad vision of Victor Hanson in working in season and out for the cause of education in Alabama will tend largely for the creation in the state of an improved citizenship, which will be, as it should, a lasting tribute to the man [illegible]ealous in its behalf.

Mobile Grain Inspector.

[illegible]obile—A federal grain inspector [illegible]l be stationed at Mobile in the future to inspect corn and wheat passing through for export, it is announced. The city commission and the state harbor board have agreed to guarantee the salary of the inspector, making up any deficit between the fees he collects and a stipulated salary.

Short Lines Operate at Loss.

Montgomery—Ten short line railroads operating in Alabama over a combined trackage of 600 miles sustained a net loss in 1921 of $364,792.01 or a loss of $607.98 for every mile operated, according to J. A. Streyer, of Atlanta, traffic manager of the Southern classification territory, who appeared before the Alabama Public Service Commission.

Cotton Crop Is Planted.

[illegible]attville—The cotton crop for [illegible] year in Autauga County is now [illegible]g planted. The normal cotton crop for Autauga County before the boll weevil made its first appearance was 16,000 bales, and for 1921 but 8,000 bales were made. This year indications are that 10,000 bales will be made.

Legion Manned "Special."

Mobile—A special American Legion train, with a crew of ex-service men from the engineer to the Pullman porter, will carry a large delegation of Mobile leggionaires from this city to New Orleans for the national convention, according to plans adopted by the local post of the organization.

To Purchase School Site.

[illegible]ecatur—The Decatur Council is [illegible]ing to pay $15,000 for a site [illegible] Decatur's new $100,000 high [illegible]ool building, according to a vote at a special meeting of the body. The site selected is on Pond Street and $20,000 was asked for the property.

Definite plans are being made for the Bessemer churches to contribute a car of canned goods to the relief of the Armenians.

COUNTYS LAWS ARE UPHELD BY COURT

COMMISSIONERS CLOTHED WITH AUTHORITY TO ENFORCE HIGHWAY REGULATIONS.

Montgomery—Courts of County Commissioners may issue regulations for the maintenance of public roads and punish people for failure to aid in doing so, according to a Supreme Court decision just rendered in an appeal from Jackson County, where Ben L. Hall and others sought to restrain the county commissioners from enforcing the act of 1[illegible]

By its decision, the supreme court says that the act of 1915 is still operative and that the later act of 1919 did not take [illegible] powers from the [illegible]

A person is guilty of misdemea[illegible]r, th[illegible] court says the law [illegible]

[illegible]

RECORDS ARE LOST, BUT TAXES ARE BINDING.

Montgomery—Upholding the local court the Alabama Supreme Court, acting in the case of W. M. Bailey versus Fred Folsom, tax collector of Coffee County and others, held that the destruction or disappearance of the Coffee County tax records did not remove obligations of the taxpayer, Mr. Bailey, of payment of taxes on his property to the state and county nor did it destroy the state's claim on such property for taxes.

Summer Law School.

University—A Summer school of [illegible] weeks' duration [illegible] and instru[illegible] will be [illegible] of the Univers[illegible] day, June [illegible] of the law [illegible] ginning of th[illegible] Summer session and continue until July 14, a period of approximately seven and one-half weeks.

Bonds For Road Building.

Decatur—The board of revenue of Morgan County has a number of bids before it for the issue of $440,000 worth of bonds for road buildings purposes. The bids were opened Wednesday afternoon. The board hopes to be able to start work on the county road projects early this summer. They are in addition to the roads to be built by the state and federal government.

Coming Up the Warrior.

Cordova—Palm leaf fans from New Orleans, asphalt in drums from New Jersey, safety fuses from Avon, Conn., and canned goods from New York are among the varied articles of merchandise coming up Warrior River via New Orleans and Mobile in the self-propelling barge Gulfport.

"Futures" Act Construed.

Montgomery—Citizens of Alabama who purchased cotton futures in the hope of making "a killing" cannot recover the money advanced when the market goes against them under a decision of the supreme court, which construed the cotton futures act of 1915. It reversed the decision of the Blount Circuit Court which gave T. H. Jones a judgment of $2,000.

Lightning caused 49 of the 5,549 fires reported to State Fire Marshal William J. Williams as having occurred in Alabama during the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1921.

Marion will have a new $50,000 hotel within a few months, replacing the old King Hotel, one of the landmarks of the town.

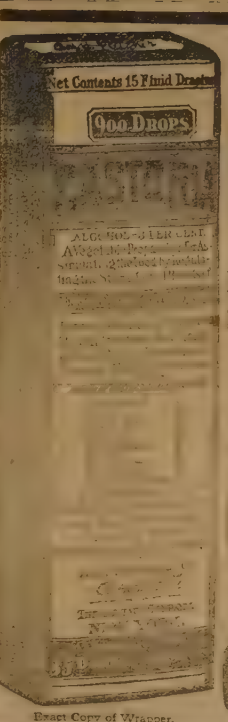
According to a statement of Dr. W. E. Hinds, of Auburn, boll weevils are already active in South Alabama.

Morgan County will continue her health department. The board of revenue by a vote of 3 to 2, appropriated $5,000 for the work this year.

Legion Minstrel.

Anniston—Plans were practically completed by Anniston Post of the American Legion at the regular semi-monthly meeting for a minstrel show to be staged on April 28. Some splendid minstrel talent has been lined up and prospects for a first-class show are considered good.

The Chickasaw Car and Shipbuilding Co., of Westfield, is to build 1000 gondola coal cars for the L. & N. at a cost of $1,500,000.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
Mothers Know That Genuine Castoria
Always Bears the Signature of [illegible]
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY

DON'T LET THAT COUGH CONTINUE!
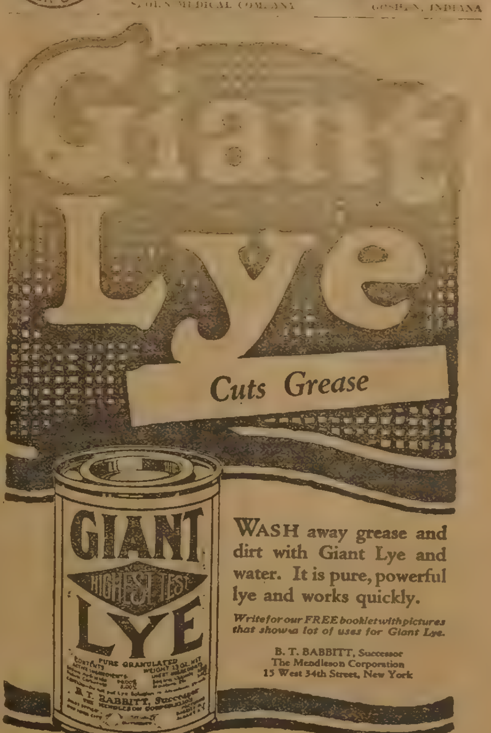
Spohn's Distemper Compound will knock it in very short [illegible] or cold in your horse [illegible]
SPOHN MEDICAL COMPANY GOSHEN, INDIANA



WASH away grease and dirt with Giant Lye and water. It is pure, powerful lye and works quickly.

Write for our FREE booklet with pictures that shows a lot of uses for Giant Lye.

B. T. BABBITT, Successor
The Mendleson Corporation
15 West 34th Street, New York

Sure Signs.

"Billy's face is quite wrinkled." 'Sign of care." "And his clothes are wrinkled, too." "Sign of don't care."

Creditors have better memories than debtors.

Something Suitable.

"They say music helps housework." "Well, put something stirring on the graphophone. I'm making batter."

Joy in religion is but another word for genuineness.

Aspirin

WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin.

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

Headache Colds Rheumatism
Toothache Neuralgia Neuritis
Earache Lumbago Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions.

Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.
Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

The Talk About Town

Let's Go to the New York Store that is doing things

Extra Special, one lot of ladies oxford, Patent Leather, Gun Metal, and Vici Kids.

Sold up to $6.00 3 days only, Fridey, Saturday and Monday $2.19

Just arived from New York. Young mens sport model tweed suits, values up to $30 for three days only Friday Saturday and Monday $19.75

One lot of of high grade make of ladies taffeta dresses sold up to $19.50 3 days only Friday, Saturday and Monday $9.95

THE NEW YORK STORE

The Store With the Red Front

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce my candidacy for State Senator from the Fifteenth Senatorial District of Alabama, which is composed of the Counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held in August, 1922.

If elected to the Senate of Alabama, I shall support every measure, which proposes to reduce public expeses and thereby relieve the people of the State of some of the burdens of taxation. I shall support every measure, which will abolish useless and unnecessary offices, of which there are many. I shall oppose every measure which directly or indirectly exempts corporations from the payment of lawful taxes. I am not directly or indirectly connected with any corporation in Alabama, nor will I accept any place upon the pay roll of any corporation in this or any other state in the event of my nomination or election to the office of Senator. I am for Henry Ford first, last and all the time.

R. E. FITTS.

(Paid political advertisement by R. E. Pitts, Stanton, Alabama.)

Best grade Overalls $1.15 at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Circuit Court. In Equity.

Mrs. C. G. Deramus, Administratrix Complainant, vs. Arthur Tyus, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of G. C. Walker that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that his place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the beilef of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that publication be made in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him the said Arthur Tyus to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 22nd day of April, 1922, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office in Clanton, this 22nd day of March, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

3-23-4t.

See the beautiful line voile waists for 98c at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

BEST SHOE SHOP

Bring your shoe work here for first class service at moderate prices.

Laces and polishes—In fact everything for the shoe at bottom figures.

New and second hand shoes for men only at better prices than you can get elsewhere.

NOTICE our Panco Soles, for men women and children. Guaranteed for the life of the shoes.

Heavy shoes for Farmers and outdoor work. Guaranteed to last 12 months. Any repairs needed during 12 months will be done free of charge.

The Best Shoe Shop

WATCH!

F. M. Connell's Stock

Some overalls, work shirts, underwear, ladies' and men's hose, towels etc. have arrived and he says they will be sold right. Try him and be convinced.

He is yet buying chickens eggs and country produce of all kinds that he can re-handle.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

County School Board.

Mrs. C. N. Parnell, of Maplesville, is hereby announced as a candidate for member of Chilton County School Board, subject to action of Democratic primary on August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by Mrs. C. N. Parnell, Mapleaville, Ala.

Big Opening Sale at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

FOR COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

We are pleased to announce the name of Mrs. Beverly Hester, of Clanton, as a candidate for Member of the Chilton County School Board subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by Mrs Beverly Hester.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner from the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on August 8.

H. E. ROBINSON.

(Paid political advertisement by H E. Robinson.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8, 1922.

BOWEN L. JONES.

(Paid political adv. by Bowen L Jones, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid politicol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary August 8th. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

G. D. RETHERFORD.

(Paid political advertisement by G. D Retherford, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton County in the coming Democratic Primary election, to be held on August 8th, 1922.

C. REESE MULLINS.

(Paid political advertisement by C Reese Mullins, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SOLICITOR

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for Circuit Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

CECIL E. ALEXANDER.

(Paid political advertisement by Cecil E. Alexander.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination as Circuit Judge of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, composing the 19th Judicial Circuit, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August 1922.

GEO. F. SMOOT.

(Paid political advertisement by Geo. F. Smoot.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, on August 8th, 1922.

W. W. COBERN.

(Paid political advertisement by W. W. Cobern.)

We do Job Printing.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

The many friends of Mr. J. L. Johnson hereby announce him as a candidate for Representative from Chilton County in the next assembly, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8th.

THOS. M. PARRISH,

(Paid political advertisement by Thos. M. Parrish, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT SOLICITOR

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination as Circuit Solicitor for the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

VICTOR J. HEARD.

(Paid political adertisement by Victor J. Heard, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit composed of the counties of Chilton, Autauga and Elmore, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

B. K. McMORRIS.

(Paid political advertisement by B. K. McMorris, Wetumpka, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for State Senator from the fifteenth Senatorial district composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8.

S. M. ADAMS.

(Paid political advertisement by S. M. Adams, Thorsby, Ala)

We do Job Printing.

New City Garage

Just opened up. In the Honeycut & Thompson shop building.

All kinds of repair work done in First Class style and at short notice. New prices on work cut donw to suit the times. Come and see.

MaddOx & Williams

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit its continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 — CLANTON, ALABAMA, APRIL 27, 1922. — NUMBER 33

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson Hostess.

On last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Arthur Johnson proved to be a very charming hostess, when she entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club. The apartments were very lovely with cut flowers. At the conclusion of the very interesting games, a deck of cards was presented to Mrs. Carrie Mullins, who held the highest score. The hostess served sandwiches and ice tea to the following ladies: Mesdames, Heard, Hosea Downs, Hart, Grady Reynods, Carrie Mullins, Sam Johnson, Ross Mullins and Miss Bettie Mullins.

Mrs. Macy Jones Hostess.

Mrs. Macy Jones was a very charming hostess on last Wednesday afternoon, when she entertained the "Round Dozen Sewing Club." The rooms were attractive with pink and white carnations. After spending some time in conversation and finger work the hostess served a salad plate and ice tea, assisted by Mesdames Polk and McSwain, to the following ladies: Mesdames, Hugh Jones, Simpson, Watts Moore, Luckie, Alverson, Polk, M. L. White, Barney Roberts, Armstrong, McSwain and Goodwyn of Montgomery.

Thursday Embroidery Club.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson was the charming hostess to the Thursday Embroidery Club on last Thursday afternoon. The apartments were very lovely with potted plants and cut flowers. After some time spent in conversation and needle work, the hostess served cake and ice cream to about fifteen Club Members and Mesdames Sam Johnson and Heard, who were visitors to the club. Mrs. Hugh Jones will be hostess to this club on next Thursday.

Shower For Bride.

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Grover Harris entertained at a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Reuben Lowe, whose marriage took place last Tuesday, April 18th, at Wetumpka. The apartments were a bower of loveliness with roses. The game of Hearts was very much enjoyed. It was found that Mrs. Hosea Downs held the highest score and was presented with a box of stationary and the consolation fell to Mrs. Jesse Greer, who received a tablet. Then little Misses Ruth Gowan and Elizabeth Harris brought in the wagon which was loaded with the numerous gifts. After which the hostess served cream and cake.

Dr. N. S. Johnson attended the medical association in Birmingham Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Kathleen Mullins came up from Wetumpka and spent Friday and Saturday with her parents.

Miss Roberta Curry was shopping in Birmingham Saturday.

Mrs. Guy Roberts was among the shoppers to Birmingham Thursday.

Pastor Carter, Miss Marjorie Murphy and Irene Rasberry were delegates to the Baptist S. S. Convention last week in Gadsden.

Dr. Gragg spent several days last week in Birmingham, attending the medical convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Polk and two daughters, spent the week-end in Talladega with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ross left Sunday morning for their home in Guntersville, Ala.

Mrs. J. Q. Wade spent Monday in Birmingham.

Mrs. R. E. Luckie spent Tuesday in Montgomery with relatives.

Mrs. Nick Mullins spent Monday at Mitchell Dam, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Glifford Mullins.

Mrs. S. A. Goodwyn returned to her home in Montgomery Tuesday after spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Luckie.

Mrs. Young of Selma is visiting her daughter and family, Rev. and Mrs. Pearson.

Mr. Jack Wade returned home Monday night from Tennessee, where he has been in school.

Miss Gladys Mae Nix returned to Birmingham where she is attending school Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. David Pearson announce the arrival of a daughter, whom they will call Virginia Greer Pearson.

Mrs. A. Johnson expects to spend several days this week in Birmingham.

PARENT-TEACHERS MEETING

At Grammar School, Friday, April 28, at 2:30, P. M.

Song—"America," by all.

Prayer—Mrs. Hester.

Music—Mary Foshee. 3rd grade number, Low First, Miss Selman; Music, Duet, Herman Harris, Jane Roberts, number, high first, Miss Williams; Music, Herman Harris; 2nd grade number, second grade, Miss Vines; Music, Louise McSwain; 3rd grade number, third grade, Miss Rawlinson; Music, Edna Gray Thomas, 3rd grade.

Address—Mrs. McDavid.

Social Hour.

Hostesses: Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. M. A. Gore, Mrs. Frank Foshee, Mrs. Grady Harris, Mrs. Splawn.

Program Committee: Icelo Williams, Mrs. VanDerveer, Mrs. Grady Harris, Mrs. McSwain.

PROGRAM OF FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

To Meet With Shiloh Church, April 29-30,

Saturday.

9:00 A. M.—Opening Exercise, by J. I. Bice.

9:30. A. M.—The duty of the Church to World, by P. G. Carter.

10:00 A. M.—The best method to enlist each member of the Church, by W. P. Lowery and others.

11:00—Sermon, by J. L. Deramus.

12:15—Dinner.

1:15 P. M.—Devotional Exercises, by F. I. Popwell.

1:30—Does the Bible Teach the Spirit of co-operation, by J. D. Deason.

2:10 P. M.—Does the Bible Teach attitude of supporting the Ministry, by B. F. Dykes.

2:50 P. M.—How may we best finance the Church, by T. J. Deason.

3:45—Close.

Sunday, 30th.

9:00—Devotional Service, by Ed Giles.

9:15—The present condition of the church in a general sense, by S. M. Adams.

9:50 A. M.—What constitutes church Fellowship, by J. E. Moore.

10:25 A. M.—The possibility of the Young People, by H. A. Harris.

11:10—Sermon, by B. Lawrence.

12:10—Dinner.

1:15 P. M.—Devotional exercises by Eugene Williams.

1:30 P. M.—The Life of a Christian. How conducted, by E. A. Norris.

2:15 P. M.—The call and work of he Ministry, by E. B. Prickett.

3:00 P. M.—Christian Education, by C. A. Taylor.

Everybody is cordially invited to come and bring a well filled basket Saturday and Sunday.

Respectfully submitted,
T. J. DEASON,
T. W. BILLINGSLEY,
M. S. DEASON,
Committee.

FALAKTO

Dear Editor:

Health of this community is very good at present.

Farmers are busy planting and getting ready to plant.

The writer attended the singing at Poplar Springs Sunday. Had a good singing and a large crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Giles, Mr. Sam Vinson and Willie Bamon motored down to Mr. W. M. Devaughn's Thursday night and heard some fine singing and on the way back home only had three blowouts. That was some luck I notice.

Mr. Ed Giles is getting along nicely with his building.

Mr. Calvin Dennis and sister visited Mr. John Vinson Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Giles, Mrs. L. D. Popwell and Miss Lena Vinson, visited Mr. Linclon Devaughn Saturday afternoon and found him getting along nicely.

Mountain Creek, Ala., April 15, 1922.
The Chilton County News,
Clanton, Ala.

Dear Sirs:

Please announce that on Sunday, May 28th, Samaria Church will have a "Home Coming" and general rally service and all who have ever been members of Samaria are requested to attend and answer the roll call.

This will be an all day service and Rev. S. H. Bennett is expected to be present and preach both morning and afternoon.

More definite announcemet will be made later.

W. A. GOSS, Pastor.

COTTON ACREAGE

A conservative estimate of the increase in the acreage planted to cotton this year in Chilton county over last is 30 per cent, or in other words, nearly one third more. The sale of commercial fertilizer has increased at a low estimate, 25 per cent. These estimates are made by actual observation of an expert and may be safely relied upon.

If we have dry hot weather in July and August the yield will be all of one third more than last year. If we have a rainy summer you all know what the boll weevil will do.

UNITED FARMERS OF AMERICA

This organization is meeting almost universal approval. Mr. Baxley has successfully gone over the top with this proposition in our county without making much fuss about it. The County Council will be organized Saturday, May 6. If you want to learn something about a real farmers organization it will pay you to be in Clanton that day.

CHILTON COUNTY SINGING CONVENTION

This organization will hold a regular all day singing service at the County High School building next Sunday, April 30

Everyone is cordially invited to be on hand and take part. Bring your 1922 song book and come prepared to sing. All who can are requested to bring baskets and have dinner on the ground. Don't forget now. Tell everybody to come.

FARMERS MEETING

Mr E. A. Miller, of Washington, D. C., will speak to the farmers of Chilton county, in Clanton. on Thursday, May 4, explaining the Farm Bureau Marketing plan.

Every farmer should be present and learn how the farmers in other states are saving from $10 to $15 a bale on their cotton through organized marketing.

HUGH!

Who can tell where my boy, Hugh, is? Any information as to his whereabouts will be greatly appreciated

J. L. DUPREE,
Clanton, Ala

103D ANNIVERSARY

The local lodge of Odd Fellows held a meeting last night at their hall celebrating the 103d anniversary of that wonderful order.

Time denies us the pleasure of going into details, but this much we wish to say: Judge B. K. McMorris, of Wetumpka, Rev. P. G. Carter, pas to First Baptist Church here and Rev. Mr. Lowery, of Thorsby, each delivered splendid orations in line with the occasion.

To make a fitting and happy conclusion an extra splendid course of refreshments was served which, of course, were "dry" save for the ices.

NOTED CASE

The State vs. George Kilgore was tried yesterday. This case grew out of the disappearance of the Buick car of Dr. Gowan.

The jury returned a verdict against George and the penalty can be fixed by the judge at from one to ten years, He has not passed sentence yet.

The lawyers for the defense will ask for a new trial and if not granted will take an appeal.

Pointer Puppies Lost.

Dr. J. P. Hayes has a fine pair of pointer puppies missing. They have either strayed or been stolen. He will suitably reward anyone who can furnish information that will enable him to recover them.

A THOUGHTFUL ACT

Last Saturday at 10 a. m. the County Democratic Executive Committee met in the parlors of the Wilson Hotel.

When the noon hour arrived the entire Committee were invited to the dining room where Col. G. C. Walker and Mr. J. L. Johnson had ordered dinner for the occasion and everyone was sumptiously fed.

The Committee extend their thanks to these liberal gentlemen for their hospitality.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT PLANS

Elaborate plans are being made for commencement week at the high school. All preliminary arrangements have been made for a week of pleasure and entertainment. The exercises will begin Friday evening, May 12th. At this time the Grammar School will have charge. It is understood that all grades will have part in the entertainment of the evening. On Saturday morning the Seventh Grade Commencement Exercises will be held. Hundreds of boys and girls will be taking the seventh grade examinations in a few days all over the county. It is anticipated that scores of these students will pass and will enter high school next year.

Sunday morning, Commencement Sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Robert S. Woodson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Andalusia. Mr. Woodson is considered one of the strongest ministers of Southern Alabama and he will be heard with great pleasure by the people of Clanton and surrounding community.

On Tuesday evening Miss Roberta Curry's musical class will be presented in the best recital of the year.

On Thursday evening the annual commencement play will be staged by the under graduates of the institution.

On Friday evening the Senior Class will be presented in their graduation exercises at which time diplomas and all awards for the year will be given. We are very fortunate in securing the services of Dr. J. S. Thomas for the chief address of the evening. Dr. Thomas is Director of the Extension Division of the University of Alabama. Following are the members of the graduating class of 1922: Cleo Broadhead, Kenneth Danforth, Bertha Dennis, Nettie Dennis, Louise Connatser, Mary Earl Farley, Elmer Harris, Lea Johnson, Ruth Jones, Mary Kennedy, Lillian Mims, Eufaula Mahan, Una Belle Mahan, Hoyt Reynolds, Norman Roberts, Arrell Smitherman, Bill Orr.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. Will Gandy, of Lock 12, was rather seriously cut up and bruised in an automobile wreck last Monday.

It seems she carried a party of lady friends out riding and was teaching one of the ladies how to drive. In some way they lost control of the car and it went in to a nose dive, or tail spin, or something and the result was a smash up.

Mrs. Gandy was painfully cut on one of her limbs, in the side and on one hand. She came at once to the hospital, was treated by Drs. Gragg and Marcus and is now, we learn, recovering rapidly.

A REAL CASE

There is a patient up at the Hospital who is afflicted with that peculiar malady we have read about caled "seeping sickness."

The patient is a ady from the county and has been affected something like a week. The physicians say she has a slight temperature all the time, is in no pain and lies absolutely quiet.

Not much is known of this disease and it has proven a mystery to doctors all over the world.

Our most able hospital clinic will put up a hard fight in this case and we trust they will win out.

One big lot of newest Style Strap Slippers at Elmore's Saturday for $2.98.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner of Chilton County for District No 1, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8, 1922.

WILL R. CLEMENTS.

(Paid political advertisement by Will R. Clements, Jemison, Ala.)

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Mr. Hugh Foshee, a well known and popular citizen of our town, left Tuesday evening for Eldorado, Ark., where he owns considerable land. Oil has been struck there and several gushers are in operation and land values are soaring. Mr. Foshee has received several propositions to buy his holdings and he has gone out to see how bad they want it.

12 yards 36 inch Sheeting at Elmore's next Saturday for 95c.

Mr. S. S. Scott, of Verbena, was in town Monday on business. Mr. Scott is well beyond the three score and ten years.

Buy your boy a new Easter Suit at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Popwell are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a little daughter, whom they have named Bessie Alyne.

Miss Mae Morgan of Maplesville, was here last Saturday.

Beautiful Bungalow aprons for 98c at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Mrs. H. B. Oliver of Verbena, was in Clanton last Friday.

Mr. G. W. Cobern of Mt. Creek and two of his sons, who live in Autauga County, Messrs James and Grover Cobern, were in Clanton last Friday.

Big Opening Sale at The Leader. Clanton's new Dry Goods Store. M. Lande, Manager.

Miss Delene Wright, who has been teaching school near Ashville, St. Cair County, is spending the time with her parents who live near Jemison. Miss Wright will teach at Cole City, St. Clair County, next year.

For 95c you can buy 10 pounds of Sugar at Elmore's Next Saturday.

Mr. S. P. Celee of Pletcher, was in Town Tuesday.

FOR SALE

ONE 4-horse power Stationary Engine in first class running order CHEAP. Call at News Office.

We are more than glad to learn that Col A. C. Smith of Cooper, is improving rapidly, and is now able to attend to his store work in Cooper Col. Smith practiced law for a number of years in Clanton, and he is well versed in the legal profession.

Col. L. H. Ellis of Columbiana, was in Clanton Monday on business.

Don't forget the DATE. There will be "A Home Coming Day" at Samaria church the 4th Sunday in May.

Messrs G. A. Coleman and H. J Foshee, two excellent citizens of Beat 7, are serving on the pury this week.

Ladies Gingham Dresses $1.98 good quality and Style, Saturday at Elmore's.

Last Sunday the Baptist at Stanton had ane hundred and twenty in Sunday School. The people there are wide awake on Sunday School, church work and Educational work.

Messrs James Franklin and R. M. Smith, of Thorsby, are here this week doing their duty by serving on the jury.

Rev. Judson Martin, assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church of Birmingham, visited his brother, our efficient city clerk, J. Mell Martin, Tuesday.

W. M. D. O'Neal, one of the live and progressive citizens of Beat 8, is here this week serving on the jury.

Big Opening Sale at the Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Dr. W. S. Wilson, of Montevallo, was a Clanton visitor Saturday and Sunday. Dr. Wilson enjoys a large and lucrative dental practice at Montevallo.

For Shirts, Hats, Caps, Shoes, underwear, overalls, Men's and Boy's Suits, Men's and Boy's pants, Ladies and children dresses, Waists, Ladies Suit, Petticoats, Skirts, Hosiery, Beautiful piece goods. You will find all you need for Easter at The Leader Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Mr. Raymond L. Duffey, of Mt. Creek, was in to see us last Friday. He is one of the prominent gentlemen of that vicinity. Is Superintendent of a splendid Sunday School there and is also clerk of the Baptist Church, all of which goes to show how much he is appreciated by his neighbors.

Mr. T. J. Henderson from Mt. Creek, was doing jury duty here last week. "T. J." is a leading merchant in his home town and his list of friends are scattered throughout all this section.

☞Our Job Department is prepared to do your work at short notice. We guarantee satisfaction.

Two new brick business houses in process of construction and another $15,000 one to be started right away don't sound much like hard times. You can't keep this man's town from growing. We just have to make more room for the people who are coming in.

Our Special friend, Mr. W. C White, who is one of the efficient railroad operators at Mt. Creek, is not engaged in the saw mill business these days. He used to be and made quite a rep among lumber dealers as "Longleaf Charley."

Nitrate of Soda

We have Nitrate of Soda on hand now and more for early shipment. Give us your order at once if you want any.

Gulledge Bro's,
Verbena, Ala.

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Capital and Surplus, $65,000.00,

STATEMENT OF CONDITION
CLANTON, ALA.
AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH 10, 1922.

RESOURCES:
Loans and Discounts	$146,379.63
Overdrafts	846.82
United States Bonds	47,800.00
Real Estate	12,500.00
Banking House	2,700.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,727.25
CASH IN VAULT and IN BANKS	173,766.53
Total	$386,720.23
LIABILITIES:
Capital Stock	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	49,903.16
DEPOSITS	321,817.07
Total	$386,720.23

FROM THE PAGES OF HISTORY—and in 1901, Chilton County's first Bank was organized. This institution has weathered the storms for over TWENTY YEARS, and is known to-day by the citizens of Chilton County, as the—

Old Reliable Peoples Savings Bank Since 1901

RUSSIA TO PAY IF RECOGNIZED

READY TO RESTORE CONFISCATED LANDS AND WAIVE ALL CLAIMS

REPLY GIVEN BY GERMANY

Germany Tell Allies She is Willing To Stay Out Of Russian Negotiations, But Retains Treaty

Genoa, Italy.—If the Russians are granted recognition de jure and adequate financial help, they state in their reply submitted to the entente, they are willing to admit Russia's war and pre-war debts, waive their counter-claims and restore the use of nationalized property to its former owners or satisfy the claims of foreigners in cases where the property cannot be restored.

The German reply accept sthe condition that the German delegates be barred from participating in the further discussion of the Russian controversy by the conference, the Russo-German treaty signed at Rapallo being allowed to stand.

The German reply accepts the con- from the allies, and begins by acknowledging "with painful surprise" the protest received, which is considered undeserved. The note then repeats what Doctor Rathenau, German foreign minister, has stated on several occasions—that negotiations for the conclusion of the Russo-German treaty had begun long ago, were known to have been in progress by all the European powers, and had lately been suspended out of deference to the conference.

But the exclusion of Germany from the negotiations held by the allies with the Russians at the Villa de Albertis gave the German delegation the impression that the allies were trying to conclude arrangements with the soviet government without German participation, perhaps to Germany's detriment.

At a certain moment, perhaps through misunderstanding, the German delegation received the impression that the allies were about to conclude an agreement with the Russions. therefore the Russo-German negotiations were resumed, and resulted in the signing of the treaty of Rapallo on Easter Sunday.

The German delegation believes that this treaty does not violate the spirit of the conference and indeed contributes to its supreme aim—pacification of the world and the reconstruction of Europe.

The note admits that after the conclusion of this treaty the German delegation has no reason to participate in the work of the first commission, dealing with Russian affairs, but says it will willingly participate in the other work of the same commission dealing with European and German interests.

HOUSE PASSES BILL ON NAVAL APPROPRIATION

Measure Carries With Amendment Fixing Enlisted Personnel At 86,000

Washington.—By the margin of seventy - one votes the house recently broke away fro mits, own leadership, stood behind the president and passed the 1923 naval appropriation billl with an amendment fixing the enlisted personnel at 86,000.

The vote on the McArthur-Vare amendment, the big point in dispute, and which increased the man force from 67,000 as provided in the bill, was 221 to 148, with two members answering present. Ninety Republicans voted against the 86,000 amendment, while forty-eight Democrats supported it.

Homage Paid By D. A. R. At Shrine

Washington.—Delegates to the Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution made their annual pilgrimage to Mount Vernon recently to pay homage at the shrine of George Weshington. Marshal Joffre, French hero of the World War, and Jules Jusserand, French ambassador, took part in the planting of a French three under the auspices of the D. A. R. The marshall also placed a wreath upon the tomb of Washington.

Danger Of Famine In Russia Is Over

New York.—All danger of famine in Russia has passed, asserted James P. Goodrich, former governor of Indiana, who arrived on the steamer Olympic after a six-month tour of the stricken regions of Europe in behalf of the American Relief-commission. He planned to leave for Washington later in the day to lay his report before President Harding. The $52,000,000 appropriated by congress to feed starving Russians has been well spent, Mr. Goodrich said.

Blast Wrecks City In Southern Siberia

Athens, Greece. — Practically the whole town of Monastir, in Southern Siberia, is in ruins as a result of the explosion there of an ammunition dump, in which was storgd all the residue of war materials of former armies in the Near East. In habitants of the town, a medley of all nationalities, numbering about 45,000, are homeless. Many are seeking refuge in the surrounding mountains. No details of the number of the dead are yet available, with the ruined town.

MARKED CHANGE FOR BETTER

Farmers Making Cheap Crop And Will Pay Debts At Harvest Time, It is Indicated

Washington.—The nation is now moving rapidly toward an era of prosperous business and agricultural conditions, officials in close touch with the business and financial life of the country declare.

A marked change for the better has occurred within the last few weeks, these officials observe. Never since the post-war industrial depression began have general business and agricultural prospects held the possibilities that they now do as the result of recent developments.

Officials point to these developments as evidence of returning prosperity.

1. Five issues of Liberty bonds have reached par and all these issues are now worth what the American people paid for them during the war, having climbed up from an average flow of 85 two years ago.

2. Money and interest rates have been lowered materially, as evidenced by the over-subscription over treasury debt certificates issued at three and one-half per cent interest rate—the lowest government borrowing rate since the early days of the war.

3. Interstate commerce commission officials report increased railroad earnings and rate reductions are probable in the near future.

4. Business conditions throughout the country, particularly in the agricultural sections, are 100 per cent better than six months ago, Eugene Meyer, Jr., director of the war finance corporations, says.

5. Repayment of loans to the war finance corporation now virtually equal disbursement for the first time since the depression was most acute.

6. Exports for March showed an increase over February farmers who are fattening hogs and cattle are somewhat ahead in the normalcy procession, Mr. Meyer said.

The buying power of the farmers has been somewhat restricted by the widespread attitude of economy which is manifest everywhere, he adds. The farmers are working to create cheap crops and pay off their debts.

There is a distince movement of homeseekers toward the Southwest, though passenger travel on railroads has materially decreased, owing to a desire for economy. This economy movement has led the farmers to buy only what is necessary and the result will be, Mr. Meyer says, the very cheapest crop in many years.

There appears to be a satisfactory farm labor supply.

TWO MARINE OFFICERS AND A MARINE PRIVATE KILLED AT QUANTICO

Marine Planes, In Battle Practice, Lock Wings In Air And Crash To The Ground

Washington.—Two marine officers and a marine private were instantly killed at Quantico, Va., when two airplanes in battle practice locked wings in the air and plunged to the ground.

The dead are: First Lieutenant Earl M. Randall of Winchester, Mass.; Second Lieutenant Duncan W. Lewis of 727 North Fourth street, Memphis, Tenn.; Private Joseph J. Dhooge of Chicago, Ill.

Lillian Russell The Topic Of Debate

Washington.—Senatorial etiquette, as it relates to a noted stage beauty, plunged the senate into heated debate recently in which counter charges were hurled that both sides had slighted Mrs. Lillian Russell Moore, former actress, and now wife of Alex P. Moore, wealthy Pittsburg publisaer. The debate preceded the passage of the Colt bill extending the 3 per cent immigration law for two years. For some reason no record was made of those voting.

Drank Gallon Of Beer; Shot Himself

Dothan, Ala.—Word was received here that Jule Nowells, living on a farm near here, dropped dead after drinking a gallon of beer recently. Soon after drinking the beer, witnesses said that Nowells seemed to become demented. He attacked members of his family and bit his daughter on the arm. Then he ran into the garden and shot himself.

Cyclones And Floods Cause Deathe

Chicago.—Thirty-two persons are known to have been killed, 209 are injured, many seriously, and property and crop loss will reach far into the millions, in less than 48 hours of tornadoes and floods in three middle-western states. Southern Illinois, southern Indiana and eastern Missouri is an area of mad waters, wreckage and chaos. Levees north and south of Cairo, Ill., are straining and threatening and hundreds are in mad exodus to escape the apparent peril. The weather is on the wildest tear of half a century.

Russo-German Treaty Dazes Allies

Genoa.—That the Russo-Germanic treaty, concluded at Rapallo, confuses the situation here is admitted on all sides. France, aroused to indignation by the sudden announcement of the alliance, is demanding that Germany be kicked out of the conference. She regards the treaty as amounting almost to a defiance of the allies, coming as it does in the midst of the Genoa conference called solely to reach a general European settlement as regards Russia and Germany. The announcement has caused a big sensatior

GOMPERS EXPECTS SETTLEMENT SOON

FORECASTS BREAK IN DEADLOCK AND PEACEFUL AGREEMENT "WITHIN FEW WEEKS"

FUEL SHORTAGE NOT LIKELY

Sees Ray Of Sunshine In Industrial Situation As Ratios Of Unemployment Diminish

New York.—A break in the deadlock between bituminous coal operators and miners and a peaceful settlement of the strike "within a few weeks" was forecast here recently by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.."

Government intervention to prevent a shortage of fuel for the nation will not become necessary, Mr. Gompers declared.

"When it is demonstrated that the miners are standing firm, and are prepared to hold out," he asserted, "the operators will gree to confer with them and a new wage agreement will be the result."

The veteran labor leader had just completed a series of conferences with union chiefs in the textile strikes of New England. He came to New York at the invitation of Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the Lockwood legislative committee, to testify before that body in regard to labor organization practices.

Asserting that "the drive of 'big business' to smash the labor unions has lost its force," Mr. Gompers declared that with a recent diminution of from 1 1-2 to 2 per cent in nationwide employment, a reported by government investigators, "there is a little bit of sunbeam in the industrial situation."

The revival of trade and of manufacturing, he said, has already set in, and will be one of the deciding factors in the coal strike. No shortage of fuel threatens the larger industries, for they are well supplied for the emergency, he said. But he foresaw in the demand of the smaller manufacturer, local enterprises, public utilities and domestic consumers, a strengthening market for coal which would compel producers to make overtures to the miners, in order that the collieries might be reopened.

The federation chief characterized the coal and textile strikes as the turning point in the wave of wage reduction which has swept the country in the last year.

"These united protests have checked any further attempts to reduce wages, not only in the basic industries, but in all industries throughout the nation," he said. "It marks the turning point of the industrial tide."

HUNDREDS KILLED IN BIG EXPLOSION

Monastir is Laid Waste When Large Munitions Depot Explodes—Fires Are Still Burning

London.—Relief workers are digging in the ruins of the terrific munitions explosion at Monastir which laid waste a large district of the town, killed hundreds and injured many more, and started fires still burning, according to Reuter dispatches received here.

Monastir looked as if it had been bombarded. Buildings, even outside of the immediate scene of the explosion were pierced with shell fragments. One shell plunged into a church, tearing up the altar and wrecking the interior.

Hundreds of children were buried in the ruins where the explosion did its worst work. Many soldiers who were eating their noonday lunch were killed as the munitions which exploded were stored in and near the barracks. How the explosion occurred is still a mystery.

Man Held After Gun Duel With Police

Birmingham.—Following a gun battle in which a score or more shots were fired, a posse of policemen who are believed by the authorities to have shot Policeman S. S. Crabtree. The third man escaped. Claude Wilson, one of the men that was captured, was shot once through the breast. He was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

Engstrum Modifies Shoals Proposition

Washington. — The proposition of Frederick E. Engstrum, of Wilmington, N. C., for completion, lease and operation of the government's nitrate and power projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., has been amended to exclude the Warrior steam plant at Gorgas, Ala., from the properties, it was proposed to lease. A copy of the modified offer was made public by Chairman Kahn, of the house military committee, when that body resumed executive consideration of the various offers pending for report to the house.

Harding Call For Delay On Bonus Felt

Washington. — President Harding was understood to have succeeded in persuading certain Republican senators to abandon their plain to stampede soldiers' bonus legislation thru the Senate. These senators, most of whom are up for re-election this year, had served notice that unless the Senate Finance Committee reported a soldiers' bonus bill within three weeks they would join the Democrats in voting to discharge the committee from further consideration of the bonus.

TREATY PROTESTED BY ALLIES

Some Delegates Even Go So Far As To Hint That Germans Should Should Leave Genoa Parley

Genoa.—With allied and German leaders angrily exchanging hot words over the signing of the Russo-German treaty, the European situation holds more dynamite than at any time since Versailles, the United News staff correspondent wires his syndicate of papers.

The allies in a formal memorandum condemn Germany for concluding a treaty secretly "behind the backs of their colleagues." The Germans boldly retort that they deliberately signed the treaty because the allies were leaving them out of their Russian negotiations.

The allied note takes the position that the Germans have by their action renounced further participation in the Russian discussions. Whether the Germans will construe this as a suggestion that they withdraw from the conference remains to be seen.

Germany, through Dr. Walter Rathenau, her foreign minister, is taking a strong, even defiant attitude, maintaining that Germany intends to take any action which she thinks beneficial to her own interests.

The allied memorandum, drawn by Lloyd George, is also signed by Barthou of France, Facta of Italy, Ishil of Japan, Theunis of Belgium, Benes of Czecho-Slovakia, Skirmunt of Poland, Nincic of Jugo-Slavia and Diamondi of Roumania.

Italy, it is learned, at first protested that the note was too strong in tone, but it was finally adopted unanimously.

Judging from Rathenau's statement to the press, Germany is satisfied with her Russian achievement and may now decide to accept the allied views meekly as a mild rebuke and continue at Genoa rather than risk further condemnation by withdrawing.

The allied note says it was learned with astonishment during the first stages of the Genoa conference that Germany, without reference to the other powers, had secretly concluded a treaty with the Soviet covering questions which are at present the subject of negotiations between the representatives of Russia and all powers invited to the conference, including Germany. The German chancellor, it is pointed out, declared at the opening session of the conference only a week ago, that the German delegation would co-operate with other powers in solving the questions in a spirit of genuine loyalty and fellowship.

"Soul Mates" Meet, Says Conan Doyle

New York.—The course of a newly released etheric body — commonly called soul—from earth to the blissful "Sumerland" was traced by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle to an enthralled audience which had paid for all the seats and considerable standing room in Carnegie hall. People who love each other congregate in little colonies, according to the messages. If husband and wife have been unhappy together on earth, they meet their "soul mates" here, for, as Sir Arthur explained, "otherwise it wouldn't be heaven." Children grow to 25 or 30 and then stop. Old and infirm folks go through rejuvenating process and regain their beauty plus a wonderful spiritual beauty, Sir Arthur further asserted.

Tariff Bill Starts Voyage Thru Senate

Washington.—Launching the administration tariff bill in the senate, Chairman McCumber, of the finance committee, warned manufacturers, factory laborers and retailers alike that a protective tariff alone would not bring a revival of business; that there must be a reduction of costs to within the reach of the consumer's pocketbook before there could be a return to "old time prosperity."

For Record Vote On Size Of Navy

Washington.—Chairman Kelley of the sub-committee on appropriations announces that a record vote will be demanded in the house on the amendment to the naval bill adopted, increasing the enlisted strength from 67,000 to 86,000.

Eeaplane Travels From Florida To N.Y.

New York.—Flying at an average speed of 13 0miles an hour through three storms, a seaplane carrying a total of 1,60 0pounds made the flight from Palm Beach, Fla., to New York, a distance of 1,210 miles, in 9 hours and 56 minutes.

Republicans Agree To Pass Bonus Bill

Washington.—Decision to pass a soldiers' bonus bill at this session of congress has been reached by senate Republicans in a party conference. The vote was 36 to 9 on a motion offered by Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin.

Calif. Editor Tarred And Feathered

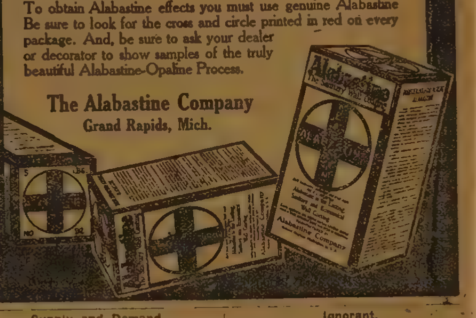
Oakland, Calif.—Philip Ridley, editor of the Free Press, a local weekly publication, was seized by three men late the other night, taken into the hills and tarred and feathered.

Two Railroad Men Burned To Death

Gadsden, Ala.—Charles House, engineer and Dave Wilson, negro fireman, were burned to death when an engine which they were operating at the plant of the Alabama company here, left the rails and was hurled from the slag pile into a pit of molten metal seventy-five feet below.

Kisses Wife Goodbye And Shoots Her

New York.—Frank Muller kised his wife goodbye on a subway platform, then shot her and killed himself. She is in a serious condition.



In Homes where there are children

SANITARY walls are essential. Germ laden walls may be the cause of much illness. Why take a risk when it is so easy to have Alabastined walls—beautiful, artistic and absolutely sanitary.

Alabastine

Instead of Kalsomine or Wall Paper

Alabastine, either in simple single colors or the many hued onyx effect so rich and so easily produced by the new Alabastine Opaline process, will give you walls which are germ proof—walls in harmony with your rugs and draperies—any tone or tint to please your taste or fancy.

To obtain Alabastine effects you must use genuine Alabastine Be sure to look for the cross and circle printed in red on every package. And, be sure to ask your dealer or decorator to show samples of the truly beautiful Alabastine-Opaline Process.

The Alabastine Company
Grand Rapids, Mich.

Supply and Demand.

"You said you wouldn't marry the best man living."

"Maybe it's a case of sour grapes," confided Miss Cayenne. "It's highly improbable that I'd have the chance."

Ignorant.

Husband—Did you ever notice, my dear, that a loud talker is generally an ignorant person?

Wife—Well, you needn't shout so. I'm not deaf.

"Good to the Last Drop"

MAXWELL HOUSE COFFEE

STANDARD FOR 50 YEARS

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC

NOT ONLY FOR CHILLS AND FEVER BUT A FINE GENERAL TONIC.

However things may seem, no evil thing is success, and no good thing is failure.

Nothing to Forget.

Bess—A wife makes a man forget a whole lot of trouble.

Bob—That a bachelor never has.

Flirtation Spoiled.

"Ah, little one," said the facetiou patron, "I could sit here all day and let you work on my nails."

"I'm afraid you couldn't," said th fair manicurist.

"The large barber up in front is my husband. I can tell from the way he shuffling his feet that as soon as he gets through shaving the man he's working on he's going to stroll back here."

A Word for Himself.

Betty—"Jack won't take no for an answer. What shall I do?" Tom—"Sa 'yes' to some other fellow."

She Discovered It, Too

"After 10 years of hit or miss baking with various other brands of powder I at last discovered that the bitter taste sometimes found in hot breads was caused from alum in cheaper grades of powder. So I am now an ardent booster for Royal Baking Powder." Mrs. L. A. J.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure

Contains No Alum — Leaves No Bitter Taste

Send for New Royal Cook Book—It's FREE
Royal Baking Powder Co., 130 William St., New York

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

A Trying Period Through Which Every Woman Must Pass

Practical Suggestions Given by the Women Whose Letters Follow

Phila., Pa.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I was weak, nervous, dizzy and had headaches. I was troubled in this way for two years and was hardly able to do my work. My friends advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am very sorry that I did not take it sooner. But I have got good results from it and am now able to do my housework most of the time. I recommend your medicine to those who have similar troubles. I do not like publicity, but if it will help other women I will be glad for you to use my letter."—Mrs. FANNIE ROSENSTEIN, 882 N. Holly St., Phila., Pa.

Detroit, Michigan—"During the Change of Life I had a lot of stomach trouble and was bothered a great deal with hot flashes. Sometimes I was not able to do any work at all. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in your little books and took it with very good results. I keep house and am able now to do all my own work. I recommend your medicine and am willing for you to publish my testimonial."—Mrs. J. S. LIVERNOIS, 2051 Junction Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

The critical time of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 50, and is often beset with annoying symptoms such as nervousness, irritability, melancholia. Heat flashes or waves of heat appear to pass over the body, cause the face to be very red and often bring on headache, dizziness and a sense of suffocation.

Another annoying symptom which comes at this time is an inability to recall names, dates or other small facts. This is liable to make a woman lose confidence in herself. She becomes nervous, avoids meeting strangers and dreads to go out alone.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women at this time. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. Let it help carry you through this time of life. It is a splendid medicine for the middle-aged woman. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Thedford's

BLACK-DRAUGHT

(Vegetable)

Liver Medicine

F. 11

Every year you plant Irish Potatoes,
Every year you have Potato Bugs.
Every year you should use
STONECYPHER'S
Irish Potato Bug Killer

Guaranteed to destroy the bug without damage to the plant. Also destroys all leaf eating insects on cabbage, cucumber, cantaloupe, squash and tomato vines. Apply lightly. Cost low. Applicaton easy. Results sure.

For Sale by Drug, Seed and General Stores

STONECYPHER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO.
Westminster, - - - S. C.

Be careful today—tomorrow may be late.

YOU CANNOT AFFORD

To let your little hurts and ail-ents get bad.

Keep Vacher-Balm handy for Burns, olls, Cuts, Corns, Piles, or Soreness ywhere.

Ask your druggist. Avoid imitations. -Advertisement.

Enthusiasm is contagious.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of ASTORIA, that famous old remedy r infants and children, and see that it Bears the gnature of Chas. H. Fletcher
Use for Over 30 Years.
hildren Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Accidents do not just happen; they e caused.

Important Omission.

Young lady (telephoning)—Oh, doctor, I forgot to ask you about that eye medicine you gave me.

Doctor—Well?

Young Lady—Do I drop it in my eyes before or after meals?—Cornell Widow.

To Have a Clear Sweet Skin

Touch pimples, redness, roughness or itching, if any, with Cuticura Ointment, then bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Rinse, dry gently and dust on a little Cuticura Talcum to leave a fascinating fragrance on skin. Everywhere 25c each.—Advertisement.

Has Settled.

"Well, my brother has solved the housing problem." "Huh?" "Got himself in jail."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

If a man is overbold he occasionally is bowled over.

Genuine
BAYER
Bayer Tablets Aspirin 5 grains each
The Bayer Company Inc 117 Hudson St NY

Aspirin

WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin.

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

- Headache
- Toothache
- Earache
- Colds
- Neuralgia
- Lumbago
- Rheumatism
- Neuritis
- Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions.

Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

INSURANCE NETS STATE PROFIT

AFTER DEFRAYING EXPENSES NET PROFITS TO STATE IS $621,886.42.

DISBURSEMENTS REDUCED

Commissioner of Insurance A. W. Briscoe Files Report For 1921.

Montgomery.—After paying all expenses, including salaries, operating and maintenance, the department of insurance for 1921 returned a net profit to the state of $621,886.42, according to a statment issued by Commissioner of Insurance A. W. Briscoe. It is also shown in this statement that during 1921 there was a gain in the receipts of the department over 1920 of $104,239.34. Receipts for 1920 totaled $536,761.89, while receipts for 1921 aggregated $641,001.23. These receipts include company license, agents' license, brokers' license, premium tax, fire marshal tax, unauthorized insurance, policy registration fees, admission deposits, corporation fees and other sources. The greatest gain shown was in returns from the premium tax, which increased from $414,357.22 in 1920 to $509,111.40 in 1921. Total disbursements made by the department for 1920 were $19,675.98, and in 1921, $19,114.79, showing a decrease of $561.17. While the net profit to the state from the department for 1921 was $621,886.42, this net profit to the state for 1920 was $517,085.19, showing an increase in 1921 of over $100,000. "These figures are of vital consequence to every citizen of the state. Fire insurance premiums must be based on the amount of fire loss sustained, and so long as the fire loss remains high, premiums which we pay for protection must remain correspondingly high," Mr. Briscoe says.

Prisoners Increase

Montgomery.—Though the present fiscal year is little more than half over, the state prisons and prison camps lack only a few hundreds of receiving as many prisoners from county jails as were received during the entire fiscal year 1920-21. This announcement made by the state warden general's office carried with it the statement that from Oct. 1, 1921, through April 16, 1922, or a little more than six months, 799 prisoners were received in state prisons. During the entire fiscal year, ending Oct. 1, 1921, only 1,106 prisoners were received. The total number of prisoners on hand in prisons and prison camps on April 16, 1922, it is stated, was 3,053, compared with 2,611 on the same date in 1921.

Name Delegates Rate Hearing

Montgomery.—Hugh White, secretary of the Alabama Public Service Commission, was advised of the appointment of five members of public utilities commissions in the southeastern traffic territory, to sit with the Interstate Commerce Commission, in Atlanta, Ga., May 22. On that date the federal commission will begin hearings in connection with the general Southern class rate investigation. The personnel of the Association of Southeastern States Public Utilities Commissioners, follows: Georgia, James A. Perry; Virginia, Alexander Forward; Florida, Hudson Burr; North Carolina, A. J. Maxwell; Alabama, A. G. Patterson.

Poll List Increased

Anniston.—Calhoun County poll lists this year contain the names of 6,600 voters, an increase of 1,600 names over last year's list. The increase is due, it is said, to the larger number of women who have qualified this year as voters. A supplemental list to be announced later is expected to make the total above 7,000.

Hospital Plans Complete

University.—The city of Tuscaloosa has completed plans for the building of a $100,000 hospital during the summer to be situated in close proximity to the new $100,000 medical building of the university on the east side of the campus. The building will be thoroughly modern in every respect and will contain the latest devices for use in hospital work. Equipment valued at $20,000 will be purchased for use of the hospital, authorities announce. This will constitute the first unit of a still larger hospital to be erected in the future, the other units to be added as necessary.

Pushing Highway Work.

Gadsden.—Work on the state highway from Guntersville on the Tennessee River to the Etowah county line, a distance of 18 miles, was begun and will be rushed to completion, according to the contractor. One crew is working at Guntersville, another between the top of Sand Mountain and Albertville and a third one between Albertville and Boaz. The city of Guntersville has agreed to pave its main street in order to link up the highway.

Petitions Heard and Granted.

Montgomery.—After thorough consideration, the Alabama Public Service Commission granted the petition of the River Falls Power Company for a certificate of the convenience and necessity authorizing the company to extend its transmission lines from River Falls to Andalusia. The commission's citation of the Frisco Railroad Company to show cause why adequate service should not be furnished the Central Coal Company, at or near Carbon Hill, Ala., was heard and taken under advisement. The same action was taken regarding the petition of J. Chason vs. the A. T. & N. and Southern Railroad asking for the establishment of reasonable rates on turpentine cups, car load lots, between points on the lines of the two carriers in Alabama, and for reparation.

Women Elect President.

Tuscaloosa.—Mrs. Louis Neil, of Alabany, was elected president for the next year of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs, which met here. The election of officers was held at the final session.

Shortage Provided For

Russellville.—W. L. Spencer, supervisor of secondary education, who recently visited the school here, has notified E. T. Bolding, principal of the high school, that the school had been taken off the accredited list, but would be given until May 1 to cover certain shortages necessary for the school to be placed again on the list. A meeting has been called, when the board of education, with the county board of revenue and chamber of commerce will unite in efforts to make the arrangements called for by Spencer and it is expected that these shortages will be taken care of at the meeting.

Preparing Cotton Pool

Piedmont.—C. K. Snelling, county agent, and Mr. Morgan of the Montgomery headquarters of the Farm Bureau, have arranged for a meeting with farmers to be held in Piedmont in the interest of the cotton pool being organized in this state. The work of securing the contracts for enough cotton to make the project effective is progressing, Mr. Snelling reports, and the matter will be discussed at the meeting here and contracts prepared and signed up by all farmers who wish to take advantage of the benefits offered by the pool.

Urge Road Building.

Double Springs.—The people of Winston County are much interested in plans for the building of good roads. Many people are very anxious to know just how soon the money will be made available that will be forthcoming as a result of the recent bond issue election. Some are crying out for a county-wide mass meeting to put some "pep" and speed into this great improvement plan that will revolutionize the home and farm of Winston County. From a review of the voting lists recently published in Winston County, the women are not forgetting their duties of citizenship, forthe list of women voters was much larger than was expected.

Proceedings Surprising.

Double Spring.—It is said, that a recent attempt was made to dissolve the Haleyville division of Winston County Court on the alleged basis that it was not because of the bearing it would have on the recent indictments handed down by the Winston County Grand Jury which was drawn from only a section of the county instead of the whole county. This proceeding to dissolve the Haleyville division was a very great surprise to many people of the county. The proceedings were filed with Judge Sowell, who has not yet rendered a decision in the matter.

Farmers Future Bright

Weogufka.—The farmers of Weogufka and surrounding communities are appreciating the fine weather and are putting in full time. Some of the more industrious ones start the regular day's work before sun up and do not quit until almost dark. Especially are the local truck farmers appreciating the fine weather. Though the farmers received a late spring, nevertheless they are determined to make one of the largest crops in the history of the community. They are using plenty of fertilizer also. They get this on a cooperative basis through the fourth district agricultural school located at Sylacauga. The boll weevil has already made its appearance, but by using resistant varieties of seed and by scientific farming they are hoping to overcome, to a large extent, the ravages of the pest. The farmers' future here is brighter than it has been in several years.

Business Improving

Mulga.—A general upward trend in business and industrial conditions is very noticeable throughout this section. Business men say that their business is not yet normal but is considerably better the past few weeks. All the mines are operating full time and many who have been idle, or working on short time for several months, have been given regular employment, thus causing a much better feeling to prevail in the various communities.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Sinful.

"Do you regard it as sinful to play cards?" asked the moralist.

"Yes," said Mr. Grumpson. "For a man who can't play poker any better than I do to sit in a game with a party of expert pasteboard manipulators is little short of a crime."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Well Informed.

"Grace is very versatile."

"Yes. She knows the business of all her friends."—Judge.

Sure Relief
FOR INDIGESTION

6 BELL-ANS
Hot water
Sure Relief

BELL-ANS

25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

New Shoes
Old Shoes
Tight Shoes
all feel the same
if you shake
into them
some

ALLEN'S FOOT=EASE

The Antiseptic, Healing Powder for the Feet

Takes the friction from the shoe, freshens the feet and gives new vigor. At night, when your feet are tired, sore and swollen from walking and dancing, Sprinkle ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE in the foot-bath and enjoy the bliss of feet without an ache.

Over 1,500,000 pounds of Powder for the Feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war.

In a Pinch, Use ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE

If You Need Strength and Reserve Power
Take
TANLAC
The World's Greatest Tonic

Comfort Baby's Skin
With Cuticura Soap
And Fragrant Talcum
Soap 25c, Ointment 25 and 50c, Talcum 25c.

Don't worry because you have made a mistake; you might have made a worse one.

SQUEEZED TO DEATH

When the body begins to stiffen and movement becomes painful it is usually an indication that the kidneys are out of order. Keep these organs healthy by taking

GOLD MEDAL
HAARLEM OIL
CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles. Famous since 1696. Take regularly and keep in good health. In three sizes, all druggists. Guaranteed as represented.

Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

Stop Constipation!

Do you know the agony, the danger from chronic constipation? Don't let this harmful disease get the best of you. It may cause other serious troubles. Give nature a chance to regulate and ease your movements. CURE constipation! Don't wait! TODAY, send 25 cents—coin or stamps—for what we consider the best method of relief

Sunderland Laboratories, Valentine Bldg., Toledo, O.

Agents, 100% profit selling Cosmo Indigestion Tablets; gives Relief or Money Refunded; price 50c, sent on approval. Franklin Products Co., 456 E. Elkhart St., Philadelphia, Pa.

FOOTOLINE

a liquid, applied with enclosed brush, prevents unpleasant odor of feet and armpits. Decreases perspiration. One trial convinces. Guaranteed. Send 25c coin. Agents wanted. Breithaupt, 3156 Meldrum, Detroit, Mich.

Tuberculosis, Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, stomach trouble, easily cured by Dr. Hall treatment. Write for testimonials. Otis J. Haynes, 1918 W.12th, Little Rock, Ark.

You Can Make Big Money

when You can sell Goods. Get the Right Idea from "Fundamentals of Selling," a New Book. Agents Wanted. Sample book 50c. CAPITAL PUBLISHING CO., 9 East Sixth Street, ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA

PHONOGRAPH RECORDS AT COST

The latest hits 62c each in lots of 3. Write for catalog. GAUKEL & HIDDESSEN, PRAIRIE DU SAC WISCONSIN

AGENTS WANTED to sell direct to car owner "Sands Auto Hat Holder," attached to top of any car, holds ladies' or men's hats; big seller and big commission. Agent sold 2,000 first week. [illegible] 25c money order for sample. WALTER SANDS MFG., 720 S. 4th Street, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

MAKE YOUR OWN ROPE with our rope making machine from binder twine. Special price for month, $2. Agents wanted. Berg Rope Machine Co., Madison, Wis.

W. N. U., BIRMINGHAM, NO. 17-1922.

Saves work

No hard rubbing and scrubbing when you put a little Giant Lye in the wash-water and scrub-bucket.

Use Giant Lye for general cleaning. It is so powerful that a little of it makes dirt and grease fairly fly.

Our FREE booklet, with pictures, tells of the many ways to use Giant Lye. Write for it.

B. T. BABBITT, Successor

The Mendleson Corporation, 15 West 34th Street, New York

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY..........Editor
J. L. JOHNSON,..........Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

The True Democratic Spirit.

On last Saturday the Chilton County Democratic Executive Committee met in the parlors of the Wilson Hotel and transacted quite a lot of important business.

Among other purely democratic measures adopted, was a resolution that should finally and successfully answer any stories that may have been put in circulation by interested parties that our primary, on August 8, was to be strictly a party affair, and that no one who did not have an uninterupted democratic pedigree behind them could vote in it. The resolution is printed on this page this week and we earnestly invite every one to read it. It is short and to the point. No ambiguous expressions that might be contorted by anyone to mean anything else on earth than exactly what it says. There is no place to hitch a string or hang a misunderstanding. If you are a qualified white voter, male or female, you are most sincerely and most cordially invited to come in that primary and help us select the very best material possible to be our servants for the next term of office.

Democrats are never afraid of the people. They only live, move and have their being because of the people. Issues become clouded at times and the people get led astray and follow after dangerous and strange idols, but sober second thought always returns and they come back home.

The fall elections this year will clearly demonstrate this fact. Two years of republican absolute failure to do a thing but pander to the capitalists and load more taxes on the poor, has opened the eyes of the people and there is going to be a land slide back into the democratic fold this fall.

Now, good friends, the party in Chilton county has made the way easy for you and has cordially invited you to come back home. All you Southern men and women must certainly see and know, deep down in your heart, that without the protection afforded us by the banner of Democracy the South would be utterly ruined. You don't want to help destroy it, do you? Well, why not come on into the ranks of the army that is now, and has for years, stood between your home and utter ruin?

The door is open, the way is clear, the anti-lynching bill and the speech of President Harding in Birmingham leave no room for you to longer doubt the sinister intentions of the republican party towards the South, you are earnestly invited to come, and deep down in your bosom we believe you feel the urge to come. Join with us in keeping the South safe for white supremacy.

Buy the little girl a pretty Gingham Dress at Elmore's Saturday for 98c.

The wonderful thing about this world is that the man who toils rarely ever gets rich. The fellow who loafs around and sets trap for his unwary friends is usually the man who accumulates the cash. Maybe the Bible is right in what it says about a rich man getting to heaven.

The way the Clanton Ball Team mopped up with the Mitchell Dam aggregation last Saturday looks like they are beginning to get in pretty good form.

Gee whilikins! Cotton seed has sure been put in the ground this week. This is going to be a banner year for boll weevils.

Common politeness decent courtesy, genial acommodations and a pleasant smile cost you nothing but you will find they pay better dividends than government bonds.

We know lots of good felows who are aways really hard up, although they work all the time. The trouble is that a great many of us have needed a business manager all our lives.

We want to know why it is that fish wont ever bite the day a working man can get off but put in all their activity on all other days when the "idle rich" go angling.

May 1st the post office department puts on a "better service" campaign. Good. Striving for better things is the way to improve. So far as Clanton is concerned, we are already well served and have no kick coming.

What about those telephone poles on the sidewalks where stock stand tied daily? Are we going to get any relief or will we have to appeal to the State Health Department? Summer is coming and these fly manufactories are getting to be a serious matter with us. We are going to try to have something done about it, or satisfy ourselves that it can't be done.

MT. NEBO

The people of Mt. Nebo community met at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon to re-organize the singing society. The following officers were elected: Mr. S. A. Henley, Chairman; and Annie L. Culp, Secretary. The following directors directed two songs each: Messrs Vaughn McKee, Harvey Culp, Vennie Culp, Henry Scott, S. A. Henley, F. I. Popwell, with Annie Culp and Mrs. Glennie Culp. Organists for the afternoon were Mrs. Zella Scott and Mr. F. I. Popwell.

We meet every second and fourth Sunday afternoons and invite all singers and lovers of music to come and be with us.

SECRETARY.

SARDIS

Mr. Editor:

Will you please allow me a small space in your paper to say a few words, if it will not interfere with the candidate news?

Health of this community is very good as far as I know. Farming is moving on nicely. Everybody is trying to get a few cotton seed planted.

We are very sorry to say that Mr. Tom McDaniel died Sunday evening and was buried Monday at Sardis.

Mr. Editor, I am glad to say that the report of John Lessley Powell being drowned is a mistake. I have just received a letter from him stating that he was well and enjoying life fine. He will be with us again in October, 1922.

A READER.

NOTICE

Don't fail to see "Topsy-Turvy," presented by The Marbury Faculty, at Clanton, Friday Evening, April 28th, at eight o'clock. Admission 25c and 35c.

The joint program rendered by the Lanier and Tutwiler Societies at the High School building last Friday night was highly interesting and entertaining.

The Tutwier was represented by Miss Johnson in the Reading, the Lanier by Miss Foshee. The Declamation for the Tutwiler was represented by Hoyt Reynolds and the Lanier by Mr. Cotton. The subject for debate was Resolve: That Ford should own Muscle Shoals. The affirmative was ably represented by Misses Mary Kennedy and Flossie Wilson of the Tutwiler and the negative side was well represented by Ellie Daniel and Miss Dennis.

The judges after carefully considering the program gave their decision in favor of the Lanier on the whole by a small margin.

J. & P. Coat's 150 yard spool thread for 5c at The Leader. Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Mrs. W. J. McCullers is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Horace Popwell.

Big Opening Sale at the Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Miss Mary Popwell, a student of Montevallo, spent several days with home folks last week.

BASE BALL

A large gathering of fans witnessed the ball game last Friday afternoon between Wetumpka High and Chilton County High, Wetumpka winning 3 to 2.

The features of the game were the pitching of B. Lewis for the visitors, who struck out 14 of the 30 men who faced him, and the hitting of Sims and Hayes of C. C. H. S.

It looked as if, in the 8th inning when the score stood 2 and 2, that Chilton High would chalk up another victory. Jack Hayes connected for a double, stole 3rd base and Wagoner failed to hit, striking out for his third time. Chilton secured 5 hits, while Wetumpka only connected with 4 safties. Errors and failing to hit, when a hit meant a run, cost Chilton the game.

Following is the box score:

Wetumpka.

	AB	H	R	E	SB
P. Jennings, 3b,	4	0	1	0	3
T. Sewell, ss,	4	0	1	1	1
R. Lewis,	4	1	0	0	0
B. Lewis, p,	4	1	0	0	0
R. Lyerly, 2b,	4	1	0	1	2
H. Tailor, lf,	3	0	0	0	0
B. Bachlor, cf,	3	0	0	0	0
B. Bateman, 1b,	3	1	0	0	0
C. Fain, rf,	3	0	0	0	1
Total	32	4	3	2	7

Clanton.

	AB	H	R	E	SB
Sims, c,	4	1	0	0	0
J. Hayes, ss,	4	1	1	0	1
Wagoner, 2b,	4	1	0	1	1
B. Roberts, 1b,	4	1	0	1	0
L. Jones, cf,	4	1	1	0	1
Burnett, p,	4	1	0	0	1
Mack Wyatt, 3b,	4	0	0	5	0
H. Reynolds, lf,	3	0	0	0	0
H. Gardner,	3	0	0	0	0
Total	30	5	2	7	4

Summary: Two base hits, Hayes and Sims; struck out by Lewis, 14; by Burnett, 7; base on balls, Lewis 3, Burnett 3; left on base, Wetumpka 5, Chilton 7; umpires, Parrish and Pyron; Time 2:30.

(By Steve Hardee.)

CLANTON SWAMPS DIXIE CONSTRUCTION COMPANY

On last Saturday afternoon the Dixie Construction Company sent a bunch of clown ball players over and our fast town team had a nice little work out.

Everybody on the Dixie Team pitched except the umpire and his arm was sore. The game promised to be real interesting until the Clanton gang cut loose and the score stood something like 15 to 7 as the town team crossed the plate so fast the scorer got "messed up."

Pyron started the game for Clanton, being relieved in the sixth by Webb Parrish, who pitched jam up ball.

Following is the line up. Look 'em over:

Dixie.

C. Levie, c & p; Grumsley, p & c. Waldrop, 1b & p; W. Heflin, 2b; McAllister, 3b; H. Perry, rf; Reynolds, lf; Stewart, ss; Summers, cf.

Clanton.

Roper, c; Connatser, 1b; Heard, 2b; Geo. Wyatt, ss; Parrish, 3b & p; Sims, lf; Hayes, cf; P. Walker, rf.

BAPTIST S. S. CONVENTION

The Baptist Sunday School Convention, held at Samaria Baptist church last Sunday, was a success from every standpoint.

The day was began by Mr. Grady Harris who opened the vonvention dith devotional services and also giving the visitors a hearty welcome.

The Sunday School and its Relation to the Social Problem, was presented in an interesting and inspiring manner, by Prof. H. A. Harris ad Mr. W. I. Mullins.

Miss Wiley, one of the State Workers, delivered an interesting address on, "How to Make the Sunday School Go." The large audience appreciated the thoughts given them by the speaker.

Putting pep into the Sunday School was discussed in an interesting manner by Mr. J. J. Pickens.

The Contact of the Teacher with the Pupil, was handled successfully by Rev. P. G. Carter, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clanton.

Mr. Grover Harris conducted the devotional services in the afternoon.

Mrs. Phala Belle Martin presented the Importance of Weekly Teachers meetings in an impressive way that proved that she understood her subject.

Several matters of business were attended to before adjournment.

The people of the Samaria community did not fail to show their hospitality at the noon hour. A delicious dinner was spread and the large audience proved their " Faith by their Works." In fact, Samaria is one of the very best communities in Chilton County.

On next Saturday you can buy a beautiful pattern hat at Elmore's for $1.98.

ISABELLA NEWS

When we look upon nature scenery our hearts are filled with joy. Let us remember that the hand that guides nature, guides each and every one of us, and while on earth where there is glad and joyful hearts, there are sad and heavy hearts. But let our faith be strengthened in God. Let us shun evil companion, and above all let us not stoop to idle gossip. Time is too precious to waste on things that are ungodly.

Mrs. Maud DeShazo was carried to Birmingham the 15th, and was operated on the 17th, at McAdory's infirmary. Her friends will be glad to know that she stood the operation fine and is improving fast.

Mrs. W. T. White is ill and it is thought she will have to be carried to a hospital.

Miss Margarite Walker had a painful accident some few days ago. She fell and broke a rib.

Mrs Earl Tucker of Birmingham visited her mother, Mrs. D. O. Manning and other relatives and friends of this community last week.

Miss Evie LeCroy is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wiley Tucker, at Montevallo.

Let us not forget that Rev. C. D. Messer will preach at Isabella Church on the 30th of Apri at 11:00, A. M.

We had a nice Easter program on Easter Sunday at Isabella Sunday school. Mr. O. F. Davenport led the choir with Easter songs. It was enjoyable to those who attended. Rev. R. T. Gilbert was out making pastoral calls last week in this section.

"FIFTY FIFTY"

The play put on last Saturday night at the County High School building by the Verbena High School was one among the very best that we have had the privilege of seeing in some time. Each character did his or her part without making an error. Without a doubt several of the characters were real star amateur players on the stage.

The success of the play was largely due to the able coaching of Prof. W. E. G. Sutton and Miss Franklin.

It is a well known fact that Verbena has had one of the most successful schools in Chilton county this year, and we regret that owing to a lack of space that we are unable to give it the publicity that the teachers and people there justly deserve.

ADAM NEWS

Health of this community is very good at present. Everybody seems to enjoy this spring weather.

The egg hunt at Ramsey School house was enjoyed by all Sunday afternoon.

Mr. H. C. Wallace, wife and baby from Selma spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. A. C. Lenoir.

Misses Mattie and Beulah Chambers were the guest of Miss Bernice Leonard Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. E. Hamp Foshee and daughters, spent Thursday in Selma.

Messrs Harmon Broadhead, Leonard Dyer, Moody Chambers, and Gordon Ramsey were the guest of the Misses Foshees Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Rolison and Bertha Roper spent Easter with Mrs. A. W. Lenoir.

Mr. Elbert Lawley of Columbus, Miss., was the guest of Miss Eva Foshee Sunday morning.

There will be preaching at this place first Sunday. Everybody is invited to come.

NOTICE

The estate of William T. Callen, deceased.

Letters testamentary upon the last will and testament of William T. Callen, deceased, having been granted to the undersigned on the 5th day of April, 1922, by the Probat eCourt of Chilton County, Alabama, notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate are requested to present the same within the time required by law, or same will be barred.

FRANK J. CALLEN,
Executor of the last Will and testament of William T. Callen, deceased.
4-20-3t.

TO ALL WHITE VOTERS OF CHILTON COUNTY

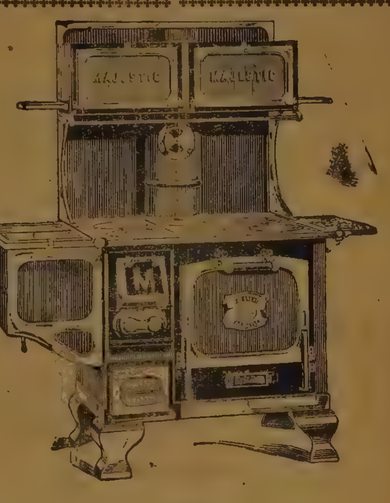
The "Bars" are Down. The Invitation Extended. Come on and Vote in the Democratic Primary, August 8, 1922.

Whereas, The Report has been circulated over this County, by interested parties, that you could not vote in the Democratic Primary on August 8 unless you possessed an unbroken Democratic pedigree behind you,

Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Chilton County Democratic Executive Committee in session, that we do hereby most cordially invite all of the qualified white voters in Chilton County, both male and female, to come and vote with us in our Primary and aid us in nominating our public servants for the next term of office.

Lawrence F. Gerald, Secretary. W. W. FOX, Chairman

Vote the Democratic ticket and be happy.



The Majestic Range

From Monday, May 1st to Saturday the 6th we will have with us a representative of the Majestic Manufacturing Co. who will demonstrate the superiority of the Majestic Range in cooking, baking and water heating and show many points of advantage this range has over other ranges, and we shall be very glad for you to attend this demonstration. You are invited also to partake of the good things he may cook on the Majestic during this time.

Jones Hardware Co.

Give us Your Repair Work

We save you money on Repair Work and we give you the very best service that it is possible to give. Our repair work is increasing very fast—there must be a reason.

Lawrence Garage,

CLANTON, ALABAMA

IF YOU NEED ANYTHING

In a new light weight suit for summer trade at Clanton's new Dry Goods Store where you are sure to get the newest and best at the lowest prices. We guarantee to save you money on each purchace

THE LEADER

M. LANDE Manager

Look for the Yellow front Store, Next to Johnson Drug Company.

YOU CAN'T MISS THIS!

TO BUY YOUR GROCERIES

We have the best assorted stock of goods in Central Alabama and if you have not looked thru our line of goods it will be money to you to do so, because we sell strictly for cash and therefore we can give you more for your money than if we did a credit business.

We have a nice line of staple groceries that we are going to sell regardless of the price, and here are a few of the many bargains that we have to offer:

Notice
Our Show Windows
NEXT
Saturday

Kenny's Special Blend Coffee, per pound.	Regular Price	25c	Sale Price	18c
Big 5 pound package Competition Coffee	"	1.25c	"	1.00
Peanut Butter	"	10c	"	.08
[illegible]	"	15c	"	12
[illegible]	"	20c	"	15
[illegible]	"	45c		[illegible]
Bank Salmon,	"	20c		12
Big Size Vienna Sausage	"	15c	"	12
Lippenscot Apple Jelly, per glass.	"	20c	"	15
Thomas Pork and Beans, per can	"	15c	"	12
Army Bacon 12 lb can	"	2.00c		1.75
Old Dutch Cleanser per can	"	15c	"	12
6 Packages of Soda,		1 for 5c		24
6 " Grandma's			"	25
Rice, 6c per pound.

Anything
For The
Kitchen

In addition to this, we have the sole agency of John Lucas Paint, which in the paint line, is a scientific perfection and any one buying paint from us we will guarantee perfect satisfaction or refund the money you paid us and also the price of the labor for putting the paint on.

We are behind you. John Lucas is behind us.

We also handle Reliance Aluminum ware, Greystone Enamel ware, and an assorted stock of Hardware, Furniture of all kinds, such as wood and iron bedsteads, chairs, dressers, washstands, rockers, [illegible] furniture, rugs, art squares, bed sprinps, mattresses, blakets, cots and cot pads.

In the farming line we have plow collars, wagon collars, check lines, plow lines, bridles, collar pads, backbands, plow points, all kinds of plow clevises field and garden hoes, field and garden seeds.

The best always comes at the last and this time it is the wire fencing we handle. It is the Anthony fencing made by the American Steel and Wire Co. We have this wire from 28 inches to 60 inches high. If you havn't tried us come and look us over and we will appreciate your patronage.

W. W. FOX, THE AUCTION MAN

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fulline of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Dr. V. J. Gragg Building.

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabamr.
Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy and our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is up to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to get the best and pay the leaste come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

Campaign is Coming. Subscribe News.

NEWS FROM ROUTE SEVEN

Editor Chilton County News:

Please allow me space in your paper for a few words from Route Seven.

The farmers are all out plowing and planting their crops while the sun shines.

[illegible] sorry to say that Mrs. Davis [illegible] on the sick list this week.

Mr. Zelma Tidwell of Blount county has been spending a few days with his sister Miss Sibyl Tidwell.

Miss Maudie Durbin is spending this week with Miss Sibyl Tidwell.

[illegible] Sunday night was enjoyed by quite a large crowd.

Mrs. L. P. Best of Pleasant Grove is spending this week with her granddaughter, Mrs. F. M. Durbin.

Mr. J. J. Culp of Mt. Pleasant spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mad[illegible]

[illegible]rs. Belle Headley and daughter, [illegible] M. C. Durbin, are visiting rela[illegible] Blunt County this week.

Mr. Luther Traywick, Mr. Sumter Futh and Miss Mario Maddox spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Sibyl Tidwell.

Mrs. Anie Culp of New Harmony spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Blackwell.

Mr. Walter Culp and Miss Lillie Atant were happily married Sunday morning at the home of Mr. Ocie Payton. We wish for them a long and [illegible]

[illegible] and Mrs. Wilton Futh and [illegible] Vivan Be[illegible] spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Payton.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Blackwell are the proud parents of a fine boy. Arrived Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Williams spent Saturday night with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Smith spent Sunday afternoon with Mr Jessie Henley's family.

Mrs. J. C. Maddox spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. C. W. Blackwell.

"GRASSHOPPER."

Miscellaneous Shower to Honor Bride.

A pretty and enjoyable party was a miscellaneous shower Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Grover Harris, when Mrs. Haris and Miss Dollie Mae Harris were joint hostess in compliment to Mrs. Reuben Lowe, a bride of Tuesday. Ferns and potted plants with baskets of sweet peas formed the effective decorations for the apartments. When the guests arrived they were served punch from a pretty decorated table by Misses Myra Moore and Maud Wagoner. An interesting game of hearts was played during the afternoon. At the conclusion of the game Mrs. Hosea Downs held the highest score and was awarded a handsome box of stationery. Mrs. J. W. Greer was given the "booby" prize. Late in the afternoon the guests were served delicious cream and cake. Mrs. Lowe was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, which were brought in and presented by little Ruth Gowan and Elizabeth Harris. The bride was handsomely gowned in a ovely back canton crepe dress, paisley trimmed, wearing a beautiful black picture hat.

Beautiful line of dress skirts at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store.

Keep Cool and Come to JOHNSON DRUG Co.

For Ice Cream And Drugs Also

Pure Drugs, Druggist Sundries, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Cigars, Tobacco of all kinds and Complete line of candies

Johnson Drug Company

Clanton, - - - - Alabama.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Money to Loan 3-4 of $100,000

I am in position to loan the above amount to farmers of Chilton County with which to Insure their property.

The Insurance contract is for five years and we Insure all your property against Fire, Lightening, and Wind Storms.

You pay one fifth cash and the other four fifths in four annual installments without interest.

This is an Old Line Company and Old Line rates. I also sell Old Line Life Insurance for one of the large Old Line Companies.

I also sell the old reliable Singer Machines on easy payments, and take old Machine in exchange.

C. Reese Mullins Agt.
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

We Do Job Printing.

RUSSIA TO PAY IF RECOGNIZED

READY TO RESTORE CONFISCATED LANDS AND WAIVE ALL CLAIMS

REPLY GIVEN BY GERMANY

Germany Tell Allies She Is Willing To Stay Out Of Russian Negotiations, But Retains Treaty

Genoa, Italy.—If the Russians are granted recognition de jure and adequate financial help, they state in their reply submitted to the entente, they are willing to admit Russia's war and pre-war debts, waive their counter-claims and restore the use of nationalized property to its former owners or satisfy the claims of foreigners in cases where the property cannot be restored.

The German reply accept sthe condition that the German delegates be barred from participating in the further discussion of the Russian controversy by the conference, the Russo-German treaty signed at Rapallo being allowed to stand.

The German reply accepts the con- from the allies, and begins by acknowledging "with painful surprise" the protest received, which is considered undeserved. The note then repeats what Doctor Rathenau, German foreign minister, has stated on several occasions—that negotiations for the conclusion of the Russo-German treaty had begun long ago, were known to have been in progress by all the European powers, and had lately been suspended out of deference to the conference.

But the exclusion of Germany from the negotiations held by the allies with the Russians at the Villa de Albertis gave the German delegation the impression that the allies were trying to conclude arrangements with the soviet government without German participation, perhaps to Germany's detriment.

At a certain moment, perhaps through misunderstanding, the German delegation received the impression that the allies were about to conclude an agreement with the Russions, therefore the Russo-German negotiations were resumed, and resulted in the signing of the treaty of Rapallo on Easter Sunday.

The German delegation believes that this treaty does not violate the spirit of the conference and indeed contributes to its supreme aim—pacification of the world and the reconstruction of Europe.

The note admits that after the conclusion of this treaty the German delegation has no reason to participate in the work of the first commission, dealing with Russian affairs, but says it will willingly participate in the other work of the same commission dealing with European and German interests.

HOUSE PASSES BILL ON NAVAL APPROPRIATION

Measure Carries With Amendment Fixing Enlisted Personnel At 86,000

Washington.—By the margin of seventy - one votes the house recently broke away fro mits own leadership, stood behind the president and passed the 1923 naval appropriation billl with an amendment fixing the enlisted personnel at 86,000.

The vote on the McArthur-Vare amendment, the big point in dispute, and which increased the man force from 67,000 as provided in the bill, was 221 to 148, with two members answering present. Ninety Republicans voted against the 86,000 amendment, while forty-eight Democrats supported it.

Homage Paid By D. A. R. At Shrine

Washington.—Delegates to the Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution made their annual pilgrimage to Mount Vernon recently to pay homage at the shrine of George Weshington. Marshal Joffre, French hero of the World War, and Jules Jusserand, French ambassador, took part in the planting of a French three under the auspices of the D. A. R. The marshall also placed a wreath upon the tomb of Washington.

Danger Of Famine In Russia Is Over

New York.—All danger of famine in Russia has passed, asserted James P. Goodrich, former governor of Indiana, who arrived on the steamer Olympic after a six-month tour of the stricken regions of Europe in behalf of the American Relief commission. He planned to leave for Washington later in the day to lay his report before President Harding. The $52,000,000 appropriated by congress to feed starving Russians has been well-spent, Mr. Goodrich said.

Blast Wrecks City In Southern Siberia

Athens, Greece. — Practically the whole town of Monastir, in Southern Siberia, is in ruins as a result of the explosion there of an ammunition dump, in which was stored all the residue of war materials of former armies in the Near East. In habitants of the town, a medley of all nationalities, numbering about 45,000, are homeless. Many are seeking refuge in the surrounding mountains. No details of the number of the dead are yet available, with the ruined town.

MARKED CHANGE FOR BETTER

Farmers Making Cheap Crop And Will Pay Debts At Harvest Time, It Is Indicated

Washington.—The nation is now moving rapidly toward an era of prosperous business and agricultural conditions, officials in close touch with the business and financial life of the country declare.

A marked change for the better has occurred within the last few weeks, these officials observe. Never since the post-war industrial depression began have general business and agricultural prospects held the possibilities that they now do as the result of recent developments.

Officials point to these developments as evidence of returning prosperity.

1. Five issues of Liberty bonds have reached par and all these issues are now worth what the American people paid for them during the war, having climbed up from an average flow of 85 two years ago.

2. Money and interest rates have been lowered materially, as evidenced by the over-subscription over treasury debt certificates issued at three and one-half per cent interest rate—the lowest government borrowing rate since the early days of the war.

3. Interstate commerce commission officials report increased railroad earnings and rate reductions are probable in the near future.

4. Business conditions throughout the country, particularly in the agricultural sections, are 100 per cent better than six months ago, Eugene Meyer, Jr., director of the war finance corporations, says.

5. Repayment of loans to the war finance corporation now virtually equal disbursement for the first time since the depression was most acute.

6. Exports for March showed an increase over February farmers who are fattening hogs and cattle are somewhat ahead in the normalcy procession, Mr. Meyer said.

The buying power of the farmers has been somewhat restricted by the widespread attitude of economy which is manifest everywhere, he adds. The farmers are working to create cheap crops and pay off their debts.

There is a distince movement of homeseekers toward the Southwest, though passenger travel on railroads has materially decreased, owing to a desire for economy. This economy movement has led the farmers to buy only what is necessary and the result will be, Mr. Meyer says, the very cheapest crop in many years.

There appears to be a satisfactory farm labor supply.

TWO MARINE OFFICERS AND A MARINE PRIVATE KILLED AT QUANTICO

Marine Planes, In Battle Practice, Lock Wings In Air And Crash To The Ground

Washington.—Two marine offieers and a marine private were instantly killed at Quantico, Va., when two airplanes in battle practice locked wings in the air and plunged to the ground.

The dead are: First Lieutenant Earl M. Randall of Winchester, Mass.; Second Lieutenant Duncan W. Lewis of 727 North Fourth street, Memphis, Tenn.; Private Joseph J. Dhooge of Chicago, Ill.

Lillian Russell The Topic Of Debate

Washington.—Senatorial etiquette, as it relates to a noted stage beauty, plunged the senate into heated debate recently in which counter charges were hurled that both sides had slighted Mrs. Lillian Russell Moore, former actress, and now wife of Alex P. Moore, wealthy Pittsburg publisner. The debate preceded the passage of the Colt bill extending the 3 per cent immigration law for two years For some reason no record was made of those voting.

Drank Gallon Of Beer; Shot Himself

Dothan, Ala.—Word was received here that Jule Nowells, living on a farm near here, dropped dead after drinking a gallon of beer recently. Soon after drinking the beer, witnesses said that Nowells seemed to become demented. He attacked members of his family and bit his daughter on the arm. Then he ran into the garden and shot himself.

Cyclones And Floods Cause Deaths

Chicago.—Thirty-two persons are known to have been killed, 209 are injured, many seriously, and property and crop loss will reach far into the millions, in less than 48 hours of tornadoes and floods in three middle-western states. Southern Illinois, southern Indiana and eastern Missouri is an area of mad waters, wreckage and chaos. Levees north and south of Cairo, Ill., are straining and threatening and hundreds are in mad exodus to escape the apparent peril. The weather is on the wildest tear of half a century.

Russo-German Treaty Dazes Allies

Genoa.—That the Russo-Germanic treaty, concluded at Rapallo, confuses the situation here is admitted on all sides. France, aroused to indignation by the sudden announcement of the alliance, is demanding that Germany be kicked out of the conference. She regards the treaty as amounting almost to a defiance of the allies, coming as it does in the midst of the Genoa conference called solely to reach a general European settlement as regards Russia and Germany. The announcement has caused a big sensation

GOMPERS EXPECTS SETTLEMENT SOON

FORECASTS BREAK IN DEADLOCK AND PEACEFUL AGREEMENT "WITHIN FEW WEEKS"

FUEL SHORTAGE NOT LIKELY

Sees Ray Of Sunshine In Industrial Situation As Ratios Of Unemployment Diminish

New York.—A break in the deadlock between bituminous coal operators and miners and a peaceful settlement of the strike "within a few weeks" was forecast here recently by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.."

Government intervention to prevent a shortage of fuel for the nation will not become necessary, Mr. Gompers declared.

"When it is demonstrated that the miners are standing firm, and are prepared to hold out," he asserted, "the operators will gree to confer with them and a new wage agreement will be the result."

The veteran labor leader had just completed a series of conferences with union chiefs in the textile strikes of New England. He came to New York at the invitation of Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the Lockwood legislative committee, to testify before that body in regard to labor organization practices.

Asserting that "the drive of 'big business' to smash the labor unions has lost its force," Mr. Gompers declared that with a recent diminution of from 1 1-2 to 2 per cent in nation-wide employment, a reported by government investigators, "there is a little bit of sunbeam in the industrial situation."

The revival of trade and of manufacturing, he said, has already set in, and will be one of the deciding factors in the coal strike. No shortage of fuel threatens the larger industries, for they are well supplied for the emergency, he said. But he foresaw in the demand of the smaller manufacturer, local enterprises, public utilities and domestic consumers, a strengthening market for coal which would compel producers to make overtures to the miners, in order that the collieries might be reopened.

The federation chief characterized the coal and textile strikes as the turning point in the wave of wage reduction which has swept the country in the last year.

"These united protests have checked any further attempts to reduce wages, not only in the basic industries, but in all industries throughout the nation," he said. "It marks the turning point of the industrial tide."

HUNDREDS KILLED IN BIG EXPLOSION

Monastir Is Laid Waste When Large Munitions Depot Explodes—Fires Are Still Burning

London.—Relief workers are digging in the ruins of the terrific munitions explosion at Monastir which laid waste a large district of the town, killed hundreds and injured many more, and started fires still burning, according to Reuter dispatches received here.

Monastir looked as if it had been bombarded. Buildings, even outside of the immediate scene of the explosion were pierced with shell fragments. One shell plunged into a church, tearing up the altar and wrecking the interior.

Hundreds of children were buried in the ruins where the explosion did its worst work. Many soldiers who were eating their noonday lunch were killed as the munitions which exploded were stored in and near the barracks. How the explosion occurred is still a mystery.

Man Held After Gun Duel With Police

Birmingham.—Following a gun battle in which a score or more shots were fired, a posse of policemen who are believed by the authorities to have shot Policeman S. S. Crabtree. The third man escaped. Claude Wilson, one of the men that was captured, was shot once through the breast. He was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

Engstrum Modifies Shoals Proposition

Washington. — The proposition of Frederick E. Engstrum, of Wilmington, N. C., for completion, lease and operation of the government's nitrate and power projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., has been amended to exclude the Warrior steam plant at Gorgas, Ala., from the properties, it was proposed to lease. A copy of the modified offer was made public by Chairman Kahn, of the house military committee, when that body resumed executive consideration of the various offers pending for report to the house.

Harding Call For Delay On Bonus Felt

Washington. — President Harding was understood to have succeeded in persuading certain Republican senators to abandon their plain to stampede soldiers' bonus legislation thru the Senate. These senators, most of whom are up for re-election this year, had served notice that unless the Senate Finance Committee reported a soldiers' bonus bill within three weeks they would join the Democrats in voting to discharge the committee from further consideration of the bonus.

TREATY PROTESTED BY ALLIES

Some Delegates Even Go So Far As To Hint That Germans Should Should Leave Genoa Parley

Genoa.—With allied and German leaders angrily exchanging hot words over the signing of the Russo-German treaty, the European situation holds more dynamite than at any time since Versailles, the United News staff correspondent wires his syndicate of papers.

The allies in a formal memorandum condemn Germany for concluding a treaty secretly "behind the backs of their colleagues." The Germans boldly retort that they deliberately signed the treaty because the allies were leaving them out of their Russian negotiations.

The allied note takes the position that the Germans have by their action renounced further participation in the Russian discussions. Whether the Germans will construe this as a suggestion that they withdraw from the conference remains to be seen.

Germany, through Dr. Walter Rathenau, her foreign minister, is taking a strong, even defiant attitude, maintaining that Germany intends to take any action which she thinks beneficial to her own interests.

The allied memorandum, drawn by Lloyd George, is also signed by Barthou of France, Facta of Italy, Ishii of Japan, Theunis of Belgium, Benes of Czecho-Slovakia, Skirmunt of Poland, Nincic of Jugo-Slavia and Diamondi of Roumania.

Italy, it is learned, at first protested that the note was too strong in tone, but it was finally adopted unanimously.

Judging from Rathenau's statement to the press, Germany is satisfied with her Russian achievement and may now decide to accept the allied views merely as a mild rebuke and continue at Genoa rather than risk further condemnation by withdrawing.

The allied note says it was learned with astonishment during the first stages of the Genoa conference that Germany, without reference to the other powers, had secretly concluded a treaty with the Soviet covering questions which are at present the subject of negotiations between the representatives of Russia and all powers invited to the conference, including Germany. The German chancellor, it is pointed out, declared at the opening session of the conference only a week ago, that the German delegation would co-operate with other powers in solving the questions in a spirit of genuine loyalty and fellowship.

"Soul Mates" Meet, Says Conan Doyle

New York.—The course of a newly released etheric body — commonly called soul—from earth to the blissful "Sumerland" was traced by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle to an enthralled audience which had paid for all the seats and considerable standing room in Carnegie hall. People who love each other congregate in little colonies, according to the messages. If husband and wife have been unhappy together on earth, they meet their "soul mates" here, for, as Sir Arthur explained, "otherwise it wouldn't be heaven." Children grow to 25 or 30 and then stop. Old and infirm folks go through rejuvenating process and regain their beauty plus a wonderful spiritual beauty, Sir Arthur further asserted.

Tariff Bill Starts Voyage Thru Senate

Washington.—Launching the administration tariff bill in the senate, Chairman McCumber, of the finance committee, warned manufacturers, factory laborers and retailers alike that a protective tariff alone would not bring a revival of business; that there must be a reduction of costs to within the reach of the consumer's pocketbook before there could be a return to "old time prosperity."

For Record Vote On Size Of Navy

Washington.—Chairman Kelley of the sub-committee on appropriations announces that a record vote will be demanded in the house on the amendment to the naval bill adopted, increasing the enlisted strength from 67,000 to 86,000.

Seaplane Travels From Florida To N.Y.

New York.—Flying at an average speed of 13 0miles an hour through three storms, a seaplane carrying a total of 1,60 0pounds made the flight from Palm Beach, Fla., to New York, a distance of 1,210 miles, in 9 hours and 56 minutes.

Republicans Agree To Pass Bonus Bill

Washington.—Decision to pass a soldiers' bonus bill at this session of congress has been reached by senate Republicans in a party conference. The vote was 36 to 9 on a motion offered by Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin.

Calif. Editor Tarred And Feathered

Oakland, Calif.—Philip Ridley, editer of the Free Press, a local weekly publication, was seized by three men late the other night, taken into the hills and tarred and feathered.

Two Railroad Men Burned To Death

Gadsden, Ala.—Charles House, engineer and Dave Wilson, negro fireman, were burned to death when an engine which they were operating at the plant of the Alabama company here, left the rails and was hurled from the slag pile into a pit of molten metal seventy-five feet below.

Kisses Wife Goodbye And Shoots Her

New York.—Frank Muller kised his wife goodbye on a subway platform, then shot her and killed himself. She is in a serious condition.

In Homes where there are children

SANITARY walls are essential. Germ laden walls may be the cause of much illness. Why take a risk when it is so easy to have Alabastined walls—beautiful, artistic and absolutely sanitary.

Alabastine

Instead of Kalsomine or Wall Paper

Alabastine, either in simple single colors or the many hued onyx effect so rich and so easily produced by the new Alabastine Opaline process, will give you walls which are germ proof—walls in harmony with your rugs and draperies—any tone or tint to please your taste or fancy.

To obtain Alabastine effects you must use genuine Alabastine. Be sure to look for the cross and circle printed in red on every package. And, be sure to ask your dealer or decorator to show samples of the truly beautiful Alabastine-Opaline Process.

The Alabastine Company
Grand Rapids, Mich.

Supply and Demand.

"You said you wouldn't marry the test man living."

"Maybe it's a case of sour grapes," confided Miss Cayenne. "It's highly improbable that I'd have the chance."

Ignorant.

Husband—Did you ever notice, my dear, that a loud talker is generally an ignorant person?

Wife—Well, you needn't shout so. I'm not deaf.

"Good to the Last Drop"

MAXWELL HOUSE COFFEE

STANDARD FOR 50 YEARS
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
NOT ONLY FOR CHILLS AND FEVER BUT A FINE GENERAL TONIC.

However things may seem, no evil thing is success, and no good thing is failure.

Nothing to Forget.

Bess—A wife makes a man forget a whole lot of trouble.

Bob—That a bachelor never has.

Flirtation Spoiled.

"Ah, little one," said the facetious patron, "I could sit here all day and let you work on my nails."

"I'm afraid you couldn't," said the fair manicurist.

"The large barber up in front is my husband. I can tell from the way he's shuffling his feet that as soon as he gets through shaving the man he's working on he's going to stroll back here."

A Word for Himself.

Betty—"Jack won't take no for an answer. What shall I do?" Tom—"Say 'yes' to some other fellow."

She Discovered It, Too

"After 10 years of hit or miss baking with various other brands of powder I at last discovered that the bitter taste sometimes found in hot breads was caused from alum in cheaper grades of powder. So I am now an ardent booster for Royal Baking Powder." Mrs. L. A. J.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure

Contains No Alum Leaves No Bitter Taste

Send for New Royal Cook Book—It's FREE
Royal Baking Powder Co., 130 William St., New York

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

A Trying Period Through Which Every Woman Must Pass

Practical Suggestions Given by the Women Whose Letters Follow

Phila., Pa.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I was weak, nervous, dizzy and had headaches. I was troubled in this way for two years and was hardly able to do my work. My friends advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am very sorry that I did not take it sooner. But I have got good results from it and am now able to do my housework most of the time. I recommend your medicine to those who have similar troubles. I do not like publicity, but if it will help other women I will be glad for you to use my letter."—Mrs. FANNIE ROSENSTEIN, 882 N. Holly St., Phila., Pa.

Detroit, Michigan—"During the Change of Life I had a lot of stomach trouble and was bothered a great deal with hot flashes. Sometimes I was not able to do any work at all. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in your little books and took it with very good results. I keep house and am able now to do all my own work. I recommend your medicine and am willing for you to publish my testimonial."—Mrs. J. S. LIVERNOIS, 2051 Junction Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

The critical time of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 50, and is often beset with annoying symptoms such as nervousness, irritability, melancholia. Heat flashes or waves of heat appear to pass over the body, cause the face to be very red and often bring on headache, dizziness and a sense of suffocation.

Another annoying symptom which comes at this time is an inability to recall names, dates or other small facts. This is liable to make a woman lose confidence in herself. She becomes nervous, avoids meeting strangers and dreads to go out alone.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women at this time. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. Let it help carry you through this time of life. It is a splendid medicine for the middle-aged woman. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Thedford's

BLACK-DRAUGHT

(Vegetable)

Liver Medicine

F. 11

STONECYPHER'S IRISH POTATO BUG KILLER

Every year you plant Irish Potatoes.
Every year you have Potato Bugs.
Every year you should use
STONECYPHER'S
Irish Potato Bug Killer

Guaranteed to destroy the bug without damage to the plant. Also destroys all leaf eating insects on cabbage, cucumber, cantaloupe, squash and tomato vines. Apply lightly. Cost low. Applicaton easy. Results sure.

For Sale by Drug, Seed and General Stores

STONECYPHER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO.
Westminster, - - - S. C.

Be careful today—tomorrow may be o late.

YOU CANNOT AFFORD

To let your little hurts and ailents get bad.
Keep Vacher-Balm handy for Burns, oils, Cuts, Corns, Piles, or Soreness ywhere.
Ask your druggist. Avoid imitations. Advertisement.

Enthusiasm is contagious.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of ASTORIA, that famous old remedy r infants and children, and see that it Bears the gnature of Chas H. Fletcher
Use for Over 30 Years.
hildren Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Accidents do not just happen; they e caused.

Important Omission.

Young lady (telephoning)—Oh, doctor, I forgot to ask you about that eye medicine you gave me.

Doctor—Well?

Young Lady—Do I drop it in my eyes before or after meals?—Cornell Widow.

To Have a Clear Sweet Skin

Touch pimples, redness, roughness or itching, if any, with Cuticura Ointment, then bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Rinse, dry gently and dust on a little Cuticura Talcum to leave a fascinating fragrance on skin. Everywhere 25c each.—Advertisement.

Has Settled.

"Well, my brother has solved the housing problem." "Huh?" "Got himself in jail."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

If a man is overbold he occasionally is bowled over.

WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin.

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

Headache
Toothache
Earache
Colds
Neuralgia
Lumbago
Rheumatism
Neuritis
Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions.
Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.
Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

INSURANCE NETS STATE PROFIT

AFTER DEFRAYING EXPENSES NET PROFITS TO STATE IS $621,886.42.

DISBURSEMENTS REDUCED

Commissioner of Insurance A. W. Briscoe Files Report For 1921.

Montgomery.—After paying all expenses, including salaries, operating and maintenance, the department of insurance for 1921 returned a net profit to the state of $621,886.42, according to a statment issued by Commissioner of Insurance A. W. Briscoe. It is also shown in this statement that during 1921 there was a gain in the receipts of the department over 1920 of $104,239.34. Receipts for 1920 totaled $536,761.89, while receipts for 1921 aggregated $641,001.23. These receipts include company license, agents' license, brokers' license, premium tax, fire marshal tax, unauthorized insurance, policy registration fees, admission deposits, corporation fees and other sources. The greatest gain shown was in returns from the premium tax, which increased from $414,357.22 in 1920 to $509,111.40 in 1921. Total disbursements made by the department for 1920 were $19,675.98, and in 1921, $19,114.79, showing a decrease of $561.17. While the net profit to the state from the department for 1921 was $621,886.42, this net profit to the state for 1920 was $517,985.19, showing an increase in 1921 of over $100,000. "These figures are of vital consequence to every citizen of the state. Fire insurance premiums must be based on the amount of fire loss sustained, and so long as the fire loss remains high, premiums which we pay for protection must remain correspondingly high," Mr. Briscoe says.

Prisoners Increase

Montgomery.—Though the present fiscal year is little more than half over, the state prisons and prison camps lack only a few hundreds of receiving as many prisoners from county jails as were received during the entire fiscal year 1920-21. This announcement made by the state warden general's office carried with it the statement that from Oct. 1, 1921, through April 16, 1922, or a little more than six months, 799 prisoners were received in state prisons. During the entire fiscal year, ending Oct. 1, 1921, only 1,106 prisoners were received. The total number of prisoners on hand in prisons and prison camps on April 16, 1922, it is stated, was 3,053, compared with 2,611 on the same date in 1921.

Name Delegates Rate Hearing

Montgomery.—Hugh White, secretary of the Alabama Public Service Commission, was advised of the appointment of five members of public utilities commissions in the southeastern traffic territory, to sit with the Interstate Commerce Commission, in Atlanta, Ga., May 22. On that date the federal commission will begin hearings in connection with the general Southern class rate investigation. The personnel of the Association of Southeastern States Public Utilities Commissioners, follows: Georgia, James A. Perry; Virginia, Alexander Forward; Florida, Hudson Burr; North Carolina, A. J. Maxwell; Alabama, A. G. Patterson.

Poll List Increased

Anniston.—Calhoun County poll lists this year contain the names of 6,600 voters, an increase of 1,600 names over last year's list. The increase is due, it is said, to the larger number of women who have qualified this year as voters. A supplemental list to be announced later is expected to make the total above 7,000.

Hospital Plans Complete

University.—The city of Tuscaloosa has completed plans for the building of a $100,000 hospital during the summer to be situated in close proximity to the new $100,000 medical building of the university on the east side of the campus. The building will be thoroughly modern in every respect and will contain the latest devices for use in hospital work. Equipment valued at $20,000 will be purchased for use of the hospital, authorities announce. This will constitute the first unit of a still larger hospital to be erected in the future, the other units to be added as necessary.

Pushing Highway Work.

Gadsden.—Work on the state highway from Guntersville on the Tennessee River to the Etowah county line, a distance of 18 miles, was begun and will be rushed to completion, according to the contractor. One crew is working at Guntersville, another between the top of Sand Mountain and Albertville and a third one between Albertville and Boaz. The city of Guntersville has agreed to pave its main street in order to link up the highway.

Petitions Heard and Granted.

Montgomery.—After thorough consideration, the Alabama Public Service Commission granted the petition of the River Falls Power Company for a certificate of the convenience and necessity authorizing the company to extend its transmission lines from River Falls to Andalusia. The commission's citation of the Frisco Railroad Company to show cause why adequate service should not be furnished the Central Coal Company, at or near Carbon Hill, Ala., was heard and taken under advisement. The same action was taken regarding the petition of J. Chason vs. the A. T. & N. and Southern Railroad asking for the establishment of reasonable rates on turpentine cups, car load lots, between points on the lines of the two carriers in Alabama, and for reparation.

Women Elect President.

Tuscaloosa.—Mrs. Louis Neil, of Alabany, was elected president for the next year of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs, which met here. The election of officers was held at the final session.

Shortage Provided For

Russellville.—W. L. Spencer, supervisor of secondary education, who recently visited the school here, has notified E. T. Bolding, principal of the high school, that the school had been taken off the accredited list, but would be given until May 1 to cover certain shortages necessary for the school to be placed again on the list. A meeting has been called, when the board of education, with the county board of revenue and chamber of commerce will unite in efforts to make the arrangements called for by Spencer and it is expected that these shortages will be taken care of at the meeting.

Preparing Cotton Pool

Piedmont.—C. K. Snelling, county agent, and Mr. Morgan of the Montgomery headquarters of the Farm Bureau, have arranged for a meeting with farmers to be held in Piedmont in the interest of the cotton pool being organized in this state. The work of securing the contracts for enough cotton to make the project effective is progressing, Mr. Snelling reports, and the matter will be discussed at the meeting here and contracts prepared and signed up by all farmers who wish to take advantage of the benefits offered by the pool.

Urge Road Building.

Double Springs.—The people of Winston County are much interested in plans for the building of good roads. Many people are very anxious to know just how soon the money will be made available that will be forthcoming as a result of the recent bond issue election. Some are crying out for a county-wide mass meeting to put some "pep" and speed into this great improvement plan that will revolutionize the home and farm of Winston County. From a review of the voting lists recently published in Winston County, the women are not forgetting their duties of citizenship, forthe list of women voters was much larger than was expected.

Proceedings Surprising.

Double Spring.—It is said that a recent attempt was made to dissolve the Haleyville division of Winston County Court on the alleged basis that it was not because of the bearing it would have on the recent indictments handed down by the Winston County Grand Jury which was drawn from only a section of the county instead of the whole county. This proceeding to dissolve the Haleyville division was a very great surprise to many people of the county. The proceedings were filed with Judge Sowell, who has not yet rendered a decision in the matter.

Farmers Future Bright

Weogufka.—The farmers of Weogufka and surrounding communities are appreciating the fine weather and are putting in full time. Some of the more industrious ones start the regular day's work before sun up and do not quit until almost dark. Especially are the local truck farmers appreciating the fine weather. Though the farmers received a late spring, nevertheless they are determined to make one of the largest crops in the history of the community. They are using plenty of fertilizer also. They get this on a cooperative basis through the fourth district agricultural school located at Sylacauga. The boll weevil has already made its appearance, but by using resistant varieties of seed and by scientific farming they are hoping to overcome, to a large extent, the ravages of the pest. The farmers' future here is brighter than it has been in several years.

Business Improving

Mulga.—A general upward trend in business and industrial conditions is very noticeable throughout this section. Business men say that their business is not yet normal but is considerably better the past few weeks. All the mines are operating full time and many who have been idle, or working on short time for several months, have been given regular employment, thus causing a much better feeling to prevail in the various communities.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Sinful.

"Do you regard it as sinful to play cards?" asked the moralist.

"Yes," said Mr. Grumpson. "For a man who can't play poker any better than I do to sit in a game with a party of expert pasteboard manipulators is little short of a crime."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Well Informed.

"Grace is very versatile."

"Yes. She knows the business of all her friends."—Judge.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

6 BELL-ANS
Hot water
Sure Relief

BELL-ANS

25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

New Shoes
Old Shoes
Tight Shoes
all feel the same
if you shake
into them
some

ALLEN'S FOOT=EASE

The Antiseptic, Healing Powder for the Feet

Takes the friction from the shoe, freshens the feet and gives new vigor. At night, when your feet are tired, sore and swollen from walking and dancing, Sprinkle ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE in the foot-bath and enjoy the bliss of feet without an ache.

Over 1,500,000 pounds of Powder for the Feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war.

In a Pinch, Use ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE

If You Need Strength and Reserve Power
Take
TANLAC
The World's Greatest Tonic

Comfort Baby's Skin
With Cuticura Soap
And Fragrant Talcum
Soap 25c, Ointment 25 and 50c, Talcum 25c.

Don't worry because you have made a mistake; you might have made a worse one.

SQUEEZED TO DEATH

When the body begins to stiffen and movement becomes painful it is usually an indication that the kidneys are out of order. Keep these organs healthy by taking

GOLD MEDAL
HAARLEM OIL
CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles. Famous since 1696. Take regularly and keep in good health. In three sizes, all druggists. Guaranteed as represented.

Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

Stop Constipation!

Do you know the agony, the danger from chronic constipation? Don't let this harmful disease get the best of you. It may cause other serious troubles. Give nature a chance to regulate and ease your movements. CURE constipation! Don't wait! TODAY, send 25 cents—coin or stamps—for what we consider the best method of relief.

Sunderland Laboratories, Valentine Bldg., Toledo, O.

Agents, 100% profit selling Cosmo Indigestion Tablets; gives Relief or Money Refunded; price 50c; sent on approval. Franklin Products Co., 888 E. Elkhart St., Philadelphia, Pa.

FOOTOLINE

a liquid, applied with enclosed brush prevents unpleasant odor of feet and armpits. Decreases perspiration. One trial convinces. Guaranteed. Send 25c coin. Agents wanted. Breithaupt, 3155 Meldrum, Detroit, Mich.

Tuberculosis, Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, stomach trouble, easily cured by Dr. Hall treatment. Write for testimonials Otis J. Haynes, 1916 W.13th, Little Rock.Ark

You Can Make Big Money

when You can sell Goods. Get the Right Idea from "Fundamentals of Selling," a New Book. Agents Wanted. Sample book 50c. CAPITAL PUBLISHING CO., 9 East Sixth Street, ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA

PHONOGRAPH RECORDS AT COST

The latest hits 52c each in lots of 3. Write for catalog. GAUKEL & HIDDESSEN, PRAIRIE DU SAC, WISCONSIN

AGENTS WANTED to sell direct to car owner "Sands Auto Hat Holder," attached to top of any car, holds ladies' or men's hats; big seller and big commission. Agent sold 2,000 first week. Send 95c money order for sample. WALTER SANDS MFG., 720 S. 4th Street, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN

MAKE YOUR OWN ROPE with our rope making machine from binder twine. Special price for month, $2. Agents wanted. Berg Rope Machine Co., Madison, Wis.

W. N. U., BIRMINGHAM, NO. 17-1922.

Saves work

No hard rubbing and scrubbing when you put a little Giant Lye in the wash-water and scrub-bucket.

Use Giant Lye for general cleaning. It is so powerful that a little of it makes dirt and grease fairly fly.

Our FREE booklet, with pictures, tells of the many ways to use Giant Lye. Write for it.

B. T. BABBITT, Successor
The Mendleson Corporation, 15 West 34th Street, New York

Some Merchants Feature Quality

The New York Store offers both

Some Merchants Feature Price

The busiest Store in town, (and it's a fact) is winning the friendship of hundreds of women and men, not because of the quality alone, or the price alone, but becanse we have found out of the people they want quality cloths but want them at low prices and we heve both.

Boys fine wash suits, sold up to $2.00 Children's ginghams dresses. Sold up to $1.19

Sizes 3 to 8

A Real Bargain

$1.19 going at 98c

Sizes 7 to 14

A Real Bargain

THE NEW YORK STORE

The Store With the Red Front

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce my candidacy for State Senator from the Fifteenth Senatorial District of Alabama, which is composed of the Counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held in August, 1922.

If elected to the Senate of Alabama, I shall support every measure, which proposes to reduce public expeses and thereby relieve the people of the State of some of the burdens of taxation. I shall support every measure, which will abolish useless and unnecessary offices, of which there are many. I shall oppose every measure which directly or indirectly exempts corporations from the payment of lawful taxes. I am not directly or indirectly connected with any corporation in Alabama, nor will I accept any place upon the pay roll of any corporation in this or any other state in the event of my nomination or election to the office of Senator. I am for Henry Ford first, last and all the time.

R. E. FITTS.

(Paid political advertisement by R. E. Fitts, Stanton, Alabama.)

Best grade Overalls $1.15 at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Circuit Court. In Equity.

Mrs. C. G. Deramus, Administratrix Complainant, vs. Arthur Tyus, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of G. C. Walker that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that his place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years;

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that publication be made in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him the said Arthur Tyus to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 22nd day of April, 1922, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office in Clanton, this 22nd day of March, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register

3-23-4t.

See the beautiful line voile waists for 98c at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manage

BEST SHOE SHOP

Bring your shoe work here for first class service at moderate prices.

Laces and polishes—In fact' everything for the shoe at bottom figures.

New and second hand shoes for men only at better prices than you can get elsewhere.

NOTICE our Panco Soles, for men women and children. Guaranteed for the life of the shoes.

Heavy shoes for Farmers and outdoor work. Guaranteed to last 12 months. Any repairs needed during 12 months will be done free of charge.

The Best Shoe Shop

WATCH!

F. M. Connell's Stock

Some overalls, work shirts, underwear, ladies' and men's hose, towels etc. have arrived and he says they will be sold right. Try him and be convinced.

He is yet buying chickens eggs and country produce of all kinds that he can re-handle.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aumust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

County School Board.

Mrs. C. N. Parnell, of Maplesville, is hereby announced as a candidate for member of Chilton County School Board, subject to action of Democratic primary on August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by Mrs. C. N. Parnell, Maplesville, Ala.

Big Opening Sale at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

FOR COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

We are pleased to announce the name of Mrs. Beverly Hester, of Clanton, as a candidate for Member of the Chilton County School Board, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by Mrs. Beverly Hester.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner from the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on August 8.

H. E. ROBINSON.

(Paid political advertisement by H. E. Robinson.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8, 1922.

BOWEN L. JONES.

(Paid political adv. by Bowen L. Jones, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid politicol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary August 8th. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

G. D. RETHERFORD.

(Paid political advertisement by G. D. Retherford, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton County in the coming Democratic Primary election, to be held on August 8th, 1922.

C. REESE MULLINS.

(Paid political advertisement by C. Reese Mullins, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SOLICITOR

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for Circuit Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

CECIL E. ALEXANDER.

(Paid political advertisement by Cecil E. Alexander.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination as Circuit Judge of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, composing the 19th Judicial Circuit, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

GEO. F. SMOOT.

(Paid political advertisement by Geo. F. Smoot.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, on August 8th, 1922.

W. W. COBERN.

(Paid political advertisement by W. W. Cobern.)

We do Job Printing.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

The many friends of Mr. J. L. Johnson hereby announce him as a candidate for Representative from Chilton County in the next assembly, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8th.

THOS. M. PARRISH,

(Paid political advertisement by Thos. M. Parrish, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT SOLICITOR

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination as Circuit Solicitor for the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

VICTOR J. HEARD.

(Paid political advertisement by Victer J. Heard, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit composed of the counties of Chilton, Autauga and Elmore, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

B. K. McMORRIS.

(Paid political advertisement by B. K. McMorris, Wetumpka, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for State Senator from the fifteenth Senatorial district composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8.

S. M. ADAMS.

(Paid political advertisement by S. M. Adams, Thor[illegible], Ala)

We do Job Printing.

New City Garage

Just opened up. In the Honeycut & Thompson shop building.

All kinds of repair work done in First Class style and at short notice. New prices on work cut donw to suit the times. Come and see.

MaddOx & Williams

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit its continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, MAY 4, 1922. NUMBER 34

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Linen Shower.

A linen shower was given to Mrs. Turner Dennis at the home of Mrs. Hosea Downs on last Friday afternoon. A bride of the spring who was one of Clanton's most charming young ladies. The hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Ross Mullins and Hosea Downs. As the guests arrived they were met at the door by little Misses Nell Ross Mullins, Hilda Hart and Frances Davis, where they showed them to the punch bowl, where delicious punch was served by Mrs. Eric Hart. Mesdames Mullins, Downs and Dennis received in the living room. During the afternoon a very interesting contest was carried out, this being a flower contest each answer was the name of some basket of flowers. Mesdames Sam Johnson, A. Johnson, Heard and Grady Reynolds cut for the prize which fell to Mrs. Arthur Johnson, who was presented with a cut glass basket filled with sweet peas, and the guest of honor was presented with a bouquet of roses tied with pink ribbon. Later in the afternoon littel Misses Hilda Hart, Francis Davis, assisted by Nell Ross Mullins, came into the room drawing an express wagon beautifully decorated in pink and white which contained the many beautiful and useful gifts for the bride. The reception hall was lavishly decorated with ferns and roses and in the living room sweet peas were used. Delightful cream and cake was served to about thirty guests.

Party for Visitor.

On last night Miss Icelo Williams was the charming hostess, when she entertained a number of her friends in honor of her sister, Miss Cora Williams, of Birmingham, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Maddox. The apartments were very lovely with ferns and roses. The punch table was very pretty, where Mrs. Curry Thomas served this beverage. Progressive rook was played during the evening. Mrs. Curry Thomas receiving the consolation, a dainty cupid. At a late hour delicious cream and cake was served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Wardwell, Misses Rawson, Williams, Ford, Selman, Mr. and Mrs. Curry Thomas, Messrs Frank Thomas, Pegues and J. L. Johnson.

Missionary Society.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held its regular business and social meeting at the residence of Mrs. L. H. Reynolds. At this was the business meeting. There was not any program. After which the hostess, assisted by Mesdames L. C. Reynolds and Luckie, served a salad plate and ice tea.

Y. W. A. Meets.

Miss Birdie Teel was hostess to the Y. W. A. last Wednesday afternoon. Roses were used throughout the apartment. After all the business the following program was carried out: Song, "He keeps me singing." Scripture Reading, Isaiah, 9:2-7, Sarah Jones; Prayer, Mrs. Gowan; Roll call, each member answered with Bible verse; Open discussion by members; Reading, Nettie Culp; Talk, The religious out-look in China, Lurline Cox; Piano Solo, Jewel Gore. Adjourned by watchword. After which the hostess served salad and ice tea.

Bridge Club.

Mrs. Grady Reynolds was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge Club last Wednesday afternoon. Bridge was played at two tables. The highest score was made by Mrs. Hosea Downs and was awarded a deck of cards, as the prize. Following the game a most delightful salad plate and ice tea was served to the following ladies: Mesdames, Heard, A. Johnson, Eric Hart, Hosea Downs, Carrie Mullins, Sam Johnson.

Thursday Embroidery Club.

On last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Hugh Jones was the charming hostess to the Thursday Embroidery Club. The apartments were very pretty with roses and other cut flowers. After some time spent in conversation and needle work, the hostess served a salad plate and ice tea.

Mrs. Watts Moore Hostess.

On last Wednesday, Mrs. J. Watts Moore was hostess to the "Round Dozen" Sewing Club, at a spend-the-day party. Throughout the apartments roses and potted plants were used. At the noon hour a very bounteous lunch was served to the following ladies: Mesdames, Clyde Jones, N. S. Johnson, Hugh Jones, Armstrong, M. L. White, McSwain, Alverson, Luckie, Geo. Polk and Simpson.

A Little Tea Party.

On Friday afternoon little Miss Mary Courtney Jones was the dainty hostess to a number of her little frends at a tea party. All the little girls brought their dolls and some time was spent in playing with these. Then the hostess' mother told them several fairy stories. On account of the inclement weather the May Pole dance could not be carried out. Little Helen Moore was chosen as the Queen of the May dance and Master Hal Broadhead as the one to crown the queen. Some of the guest surprised the little hostess with birthday gifts as some fairy told some of them that Mary Courtney was three years old on that day. The guest were invited into the dining room where the table had been made a bower of loveliness. yellow ribbons from the chandelier to the corners of the table, with burning tapers all round, also the birthday cake with its burning tapers. The table was banked with bridal wreath and cloth-of gold roses. At each place was a lollypop dressed in yellow paper and made into little girls, also candy in a cross. These were given as souvenirs. Cream and cake were served to the little ladies and gentlemen.

Civic Meets with Mrs. Simpson.

The Civic League held its business meeting at the residence of Mrs. Hugh Simpson on Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Hugh Jones. Regular business session. Then roll call, quotations to mothers or fathers. Paper, America's Stronghold, Mrs. Alverson; Annual report. Election of officers for the next session were elected as follows: Mrs. Hugh Jones, President; Mrs. J. J. Pickens, Vice-President; Mrs. J. P. Hayes, Federation Secretary and Treasurer; Mrs. Fox, Secretary; Mesdames, Watts Moore, Simpson, and Hugh Jones, as Program Committee. The apartments were lovely with roses. The hostess served a salad plate with ice tea.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White spent Monday and Tuesday in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Reynolds and little sons, spent the week-end in Montgomery with Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Johnson.

Mrs. Curry Thomas was shopping in Montgomery Saturday.

Miss Emma Thomas is visiting relatives in Sylacauga, Kellyton and Alexander City.

Miss Cora Williams of Birmingham spent the week-end with her sister, Miss Icelo Williams.

Mrs. Oce McKee and his mother have returned to Clanton after spending the winter in Florida.

Mr. Hugh Simpson spent last Thursday in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. John Browder spent several days in Montgomery.

Mr. Renfro Mullins and little son, Edwin, spent several days in Montgomery last week.

Misses Cuba Keith and Dewey Branch spent the week-end in Birmingham.

Miss Roberta Curry has returned home from Atlanta where she attended grand opera.

Mr. Frank Thomas of Birmingham spent the week-end with relatives.

Messrs Rucker Sims and Charles Moore spent the week-end in Montgomery with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. McSwain of Coopers, spent several days in Clanton with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Taylor of Coopers spent Sunday in Clanton.

Mrs. Barney Roberts' Music Class will give a recital at the High School, Friday night, May 5, at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson spent several days this week in Birmingham the guest of Mrs. Robert Pow.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Reynolds are receiving congratulations of a 10 pound boy, which arrived Monday.

CHILTON COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETS

On Tuesday of this week the Medical Society of the county met in regular session in the parlors of the Central Alabama Hospital.

General and local topics of public health and sanitation were informally discussed by the Board and many wise and profitable suggestions made.

The members present also made a close and thorough survey of the Hospital and all of its equipment, and they unanimously agreed that the institution was well up with, if not in the lead of similar institutions in the other Southern cities. They were more than pleased with the showing made in every detail.

At noon Miss Gardener, the efficient Matron, invited the Board to be the guests of the Hospital for luncheon which they accepted. All of them pronounced the blending of the meal along healthful lines with its tempting qualities as a palate tickler was something wonderful and are loud in their praise, both of Miss Gardner as hostess and the hospital as being the place where "they do things right."

WHO CAN BEAT THIS?

Mr. J. Popwell has just a little Jersey cow up at his house with an innocent bovine countenance that does not indicate any peculiarity in her from any other cows.

But, man alive, she is a whole dairy herd in condensed form. She gives five gallons and one half pint of milk per day and it developes into two pounds and fourteen ounces of butter at churning time.

They sold from her seventeen pounds of butter in one week, after the home table was supplied three times every day.

Can any reader match this yield from one cow? If so, write and let the world know about it.

PASTOR'S AND WORKER'S CONFERENCE

The Pastor's and Worker's Conference will meet at Billingsley at ten o'clock on Monday, May 8th, instead of the 15th. A good program has been prepared and dinner will be furnished at the church.

We hope to have a good attendance of all church workers.

W. A. GOSS, Sec.

MR. DUKES DIES

On last Saturday Mr. Adolphus Dukes, age 64 years, passed over to the unknown shore. He had been in bad health for quite awhile and had gone to his son's home, Mr. Cearley Duke, and was there when he died.

Mr. Duke was well known and was one of the substantial citizens of Chilton county and leaves many friends who sorrow at his passing away. His family consisted of a wife and three children, two sons, Charley and Ben, and one daughter, Mrs. Rosa Hall, of Marble Valley.

On Sunday at 11 o'clock the largest Masonic attendance at any recent funeral here conducted the body to the cemetery at Sardis and there paid to their esteemed brother the last sad rites of that grand organization.

To the bereaved wife and children the News extends its sincere sympathy.

The Vaughan Quartet

The people of Clanton and vicinity have been enjoying a musical treat this week entirely out of the ordinary and one that has met with universal favor.

We refer to the Vaughan Quartet, from Tennessee, four splendid young men who have indeed been blessed by nature with wonderfully effective voices and have cultivated them to an artistic perfection.

They sang at the High School Sunday, at the Baptist church Sunday night, at the Strand theatre Monday afternoon, at Friendship church Monday night, at Thorsby Tuesday night and have several other engagements. Everywhere they receive an ovation.

Be sure to hear them at the High School to-night, Thursday.

MR. LENOIR DEAD

On last Friday morning at 4 o'clock, Mr. J. Luther Lenoir, a well known citizen of Clanton and a life long resident of Chilton county, passed peacefully away at his home on Fourth avenue.

He had been in bad health for over two years, having never been able to recover from a severe attack of typhoid fever. Finally tuberculosis set in and he gradually succumbed to its ravages.

Mr. Lenoir was born in this county about 46 years ago and has many relatives left throughout this section. He had no immediate family except his wife, who was formerly Miss Ludie Malone, also a Chiltonite.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock a large concourse of friends assembled at the residence and an impressive funeral procession followed the remains to their last resting place in the city cemetery.

COURT LAST WEEK

Circuit Court last week among other cases tried reached the rather famous Gowan-Killgore case. A jury found the defendant, George Killgore, guilty and the Court gave him two years in the penitentiary. His lawyers took an appeal and George is again on bond to await the outcome.

The two negroes who killed the negro woman at Mitchell Dam a few weeks since were indicted, tried and one of them drew a life sentence and the other five years.

VERBENA SINGING SOCIETY

The Verbena Singing Society was organized by electing Mr. J. L. Robinson President and Mr. W. H. Strock Secretary.

Our next meeting will be at the Baptist church at 2 p. m. on the 3rd Sunday in May.

Our friends who enjoy music are especially invited to be with us at that time.

W. H. STROCK, Sec.

Some Egg.

Mr. Marlar, of Route 1, has a hen egg that measures 5 3-4 inches around it and 7 inches long, weighs 3 ounces. Oh! what a nogg it would make if—

NATIONAL PHYSICAL CULTURE WEEK—May 1st to 8th. To build a stronger Nation.

EVAN PARRISH.

This is NATIONAL PHYSICAL CULTURE WEEK.

EVAN PARRISH.

Read PHYSICAL CULTURE.

EVAN PARRISH,

KEEP FIT.—Read Physical Culture.

EVAN PARRISH.

National Physical Culture Week.

EVAN PARRISH.

Tell a friend about PHYSICAL CULTURE. EVAN PARRISH.

"TOPSY TURVY"

The faculty of the Marbury School rendered a play, "Topsy Turvey," at the County High School building last Friday night.

Each character did his or her part admirably well, and the play was highly entertaining to all those present. This was no surprise since Marbury has maintained a good school for several years past.

We have been reliably informed that despite the fact that their school building was destroyed by fire last year that Marbury has had quite a successful school this year under the able supervision of Prof. P. C. Brook.

The people in this town understand how to support and maintain good schools and churches. If you do not believe this go and observe their excellent churches and far above the average school spirit.

Our good friend, Evan Parrish left this morning for Verbena where he has accepted a position as assistant depot agent.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Mr. W. W. Earnest, a prominent business man of Maplesville, was here the latter part of last week looking after business matters.

For Childrens Ready Made Dresses you will have to go to Elmore's for the new things.

Rev. C. D. Messer, of Thorsby Route 1, was in town Friday looking after his friends.

Mr. J. F. DuBose, of Beat 5, was among those who served on the jury last week.

Mr. W. J. Baldwin, of the Magic City, was in Clanton the latter part of last week. Mr. Baldwin for several years was a newspaper man, but now holds a good position with the Alabama Power Company.

Our worthy friend Walter Teel served on the jury last week.

W. A. Franklin was among those who served the county by serving on the jury last week.

J. L. Dupree, the man who knows how to get candidates to work, was in town Saturday.

Mr. N. L. Gardner, of Beat 5, was with us last week serving on the jury.

Hon. Lucius Harvey, Sheriff of Sumpter County, Georgia, was in Clanton last week on business. He reports the Empire State of the South as rock ribbed DEMOCRATIC as ever.

Mr. R. Le Ousley, one of the leading citizens of the reliable old Beat 8, was here last week serving on the jury.

You will find the very newest in low cut shoes at Elmore's for the whole family.

Mr. J. R. Scott, of Beat 5, was here Friday. Mr. Scott always knows how to stand for the right.

Mr. J. A. Bookholdt, of Route 6, was here last week doing a "child's part" by serving on the jury.

Miss Mae Parnell, of Thorsby, spent Friday and Saturday with Clanton friends.

Loyd Williams, son of Mr. J. F. Williams of Verbena, was here Sunday.

Col. A. C. Smith, of Cooper, was in town Monday. Col. Smith looks remarkably well to the delight of his many friends.

Mrs. J. Mell Martin, Kenneth Smith, Arabelle Martin, Hubert Gardner, and Ada Pearl Martin motored over to Equality last Sunday and attended the Celebration given by the Odd Fellows.

C. Reese Mullins made a business trip to Mitchell Dam last Thursday. Mr. Mullins no doubt while there made it convenient to see his friends.

CHILTON COUNTY SINGING CONVENTION

Last Sunday this splendid organization assembled at the High School auditorium for an all day song service.

Prof. Jas. Franklin, the capable and popular president of the Convention, was present and started things off.

In the forenoon the following leaders guided the musical services in turn and gave the large audience some extra delightful music: Profs A. H. Glasscock, Vernon Northcut and Grover Gilliand.

In the afternoon the leaders were Profs. W. G. Culp, L. E. Little, Maxie Boswell, W. H. Lowery and Prof. Pace, of the Vaughan Quartet, and the large crowd present certainly enjoyed a treat.

Prof. Pace, A. Boswell, Miss Myrtle Dorminy and Mrs. Mary Elta Collins took turns in presiding at the piano and each deserves special mention and the thanks of all the audience for their excellent service.

The entire occasion was a preeminent success and one long to be pleasantly remembered by those present.

The celebrated Vaughan Quartet rendered a few of their most delightful selections for the audience and captivated everyone. They can't be [illegible]

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

Annual Report of Mrs. R. E. Luckie, Secretary of Civic Improvement Club.

Covering the period extending from May 1921, to May 1922. In this the Annual Report of the ninth club year of the Civic, the Secretary extends thanks to the officers and members for the fine spirit of service which they have shown and particularly to the much imposed upon ever willing members, is this thanks due. In May 1921, after the closing of the active months of the Club year, huge boxes of flowers, which the committee gathered from over town, were expressed to Mt. Creek for the Old Soldiers Memorial exercises. Mrs. Hosea Downs, Chairman of the Save a life campaign sent $101.00 to Mr. Ramsey Birmingham, $60 of this amount being donated by Club members. Mrs. Pickens, Chairman of the Chinese Rice Fund, sent $12.25 to this cause. The amount largely subscribed in nickels and dimes. $20 was sent to the Armenians; $8.00 together with other help donated by members of the Civic was expended on walks and lots of non-residents at the cemetery. May 30th was beautifully observed. The poppy ladies of the Club sold poppies at ten cents for benefit of French orphans, and as a tribute to those who fell in the world war. One hundred coat lapels bore silent eloquence with their tiny scarlet memory of Flanders. $10.00 was realized. After minor details which claim the time and attention of the Club was the sending of $5.00 to the children's aid society in Birmingham. A box of supplies sent a needy family. Fruit and toys sent 3 families at Christmas. Literature for the good roads bond issue, as well as buttons was widely distributed by the conservation committee. Large supplies was also placed with the merchants and in this the rural district was reached. The club also gave a shower to a very destitute mother with four children and a little new arrival, clothing and household linen was donated and some of the members met and made complete layette for the little new comer and some needed garments for the mother. Both schools complied with the Labor Day observance Jan 27th. Literature was distributed and Rev. Pearson gave it a place in his Sunday sermon. Five dollars was sent to the establishing of national headquarters of the general federtion of Womn's Clubs at Washington. Members of the Club donated $16.00 for the desk for the Principal's room at the Grammar School. 239 magazines were collected by the club and sent to the inmates at the prison at Spigener. $2.50 was sent to the illiteracey fund. A sun parlor beautifully fitted out with 2 pedestals, ferns and reed furniture, consisting of 3 rockers, a fernery and table was purchased for the hospital by donations of members. A book was donated by a member for the girls industrial school at Birmingham. This, together with other nameless details, constitute the work of Clanton's Civic Club.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

A large congregation was present at the church on Sunday night to hear the splendid music rendered by the Vaughan male Quartet, who are undoubtedly one of the best and probably the very best that has ever visited Clanton. The fact that they were going to sing gave the pastor a fine opportunity, who preached an interesting sermon on the spiritual looking-glass, which was followed with good attention by the large audience.

Services will be held next Sunday as usual and the sermon in the morning will be appropriate for the observance of Mother's Day. Inasmuch as the second Sunday is commencement Sunday there will be no services at this church. A large attendance will be appreciated at both services next Sunday. It is probable that special music will be rendered by the choir. Everybody is cordially invited to these services.

Our line of John Lucas is absolutely guaranteed.

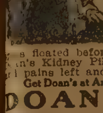
W. W. FOX.

Democrats, Get Busy!

HY THAT BAD BACK?

oes spring find you miserable with aching back? Do you feel lame, tired, nervous and depressed? 't it time then, you found out why u are unable to enjoy these fine ng days? Likely your kidneys have kened. Winter is hard on the kid-. Colds and chills and a heavier with less exercise tax them heavily. little wonder spring finds you with ache, rheumatic pains, headaches, ness and bladder irregularities. don't be discouraged. Use Doan's ney Pills. Doan's have helped usands and should help you. Ask r neighbor!

An Alabama Case



Mrs. Frank Wakefield, 203 W. Smith St., Piedmont, Ala., says: "My kidneys were weak and I suffered with a constant, dull ache through my back and limbs. I could hardly walk at times. My kidneys acted irregularly and I had spells of dizziness when s floated before my eyes. I used n's Kidney Pills. Soon the aches pains left and I felt better."

Get Doan's at Any Store, 60c a Box

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

TER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

Explains Old Mystery.

subterranean river with several utaries has been discovered near ck, Germany. It empties into the ltic sea about twenty miles beyond e seashore. The discovery has great tical value because it explains mysterious difficulties that have experienced with Lubeck's water pply which now can be overcome.

SPIRIN INTRODUCED BY "BAYER" IN 1900

ok for Name "Bayer" on the Tablets, Then You Need Never Worry.

If you want the true, world-famous rin, as prescribed by physicians over twenty-one years, you must k for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin." The name "Bayer" is stamped on h tablet and appears on each pack- ge for your protection against imita- ons.—Advertisement.

American Museum Acquisitions.

Two treasured additions to the rican museum are an incomplete ull of the European bison or wisent, d a fine skull and jaws of the urus extinct wild ox of Europe, which probably the remote ancestor of domestic cattle. Both these came om the Cambridge (England) Mu- eum of Zoology.—Scientific American.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher.
In Use for Over 30 Years.
Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Only One That Counted.

Tommy had a little brother and a little sister.

One day a neighbor met him going to the market and pleasantly asked: "Are you the only child?"

"Nope," he importantly replied, "but I'm the only one working."

The trouble with some girls is that they are only giddy when they think they are gay.

An apple (of discord) a day is the devil to pay.

TO KILL RATS and MICE

Always use the genuine

STEARNS' ELECTRIC PASTE

forces these pests to run from the building for and fresh air. Rats, mice, cockroaches, water- and ants destroy food and property and are rriers of disease.

READY FOR USE—BETTER THAN TRAPS

Directions in 15 languages in every box.
2 oz. size 35c. 15 oz. size $1.50.

MONEY BACK IF IT FAILS

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER COMPOUND is indispensible in all cases of Cough, Cold, Influenza, Distemper, Pink Eye, Heaves and Worms among horses and mules. Give an occasional dose as a preventive. Excellent for Dog Distemper and Chicken Cholera. Write for Free Booklet Sold in two sizes at all drug stores.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO. GOSHEN, IND. U.S.A.

Attention Demonstrators

You want a necessity to sell—something every housewife wants and buys on sight? Send us $1.50 for sample and instructions. Try it fifteen days—if not satisfactory return sample and your money cheerfully refunded.

KEYSTONE SALES AGENCY
2008½ Second Ave. - Birmingham, Ala.

MAKE MONEY collecting and selling names. Instructions 25c. HAWKINS SALES, GUTHRIE, IND.

Worms Quickly Removed At all Druggists Dr. Peery's Dead Shot for WORMS Vermifuge

Mitchell Eye Salve For SORE EYES

AVOID dropping strong drugs in eyes sore from Alkali or other irritation. The old simple remedy that brings comforting relief is best. 25c, all druggists or by mail. HALL & RUCKEL, Inc. 147 Waverly Place, New York

W. N. U., BIRMINGHAM, NO. 18--192

STATE COMMITTEE ADDS 10 WOMEN

ONE FEMALE MEMBER FOR EACH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT NAMED

PROTEST GROUPING OF ROADS

Farm Work Advancing—Jury Box Quashed—Protest Discontinuance of Trains—Big Cotton Contract—Convicts Building Roads.

Birmingham—The Democratic State Committee increased its membership by namng ten women members, one from each congressional district. They are:

First, Mrs. Maud Patrick, Choctaw County; second, Miss Carolyn Haralson, Montgomery; third, Mrs. Maud Martin, Ozark; fourth, Mrs. artha C. Merrill, Anniston; fifth, Mrs. Daniel Pratt, Prattville; sixth, Miss Mabel Yerby, Greensboro; seventh, Mrs. W. J. Boykin, Jasper; eighth, Mrs. Janet Simpson, Florence; ninth, Mrs. Amelia W. Fisk, Birmingham; tenth, Mrs. E. R. Harris, Sulligent.

A list of state officers qualified was announced as follows:

For Governor—W. W. Brandon, Tuscaloosa; Bibb Graves, Montgomery.

For Lieutenant Governor—Chas. S. McDowell, Eufaula; Berrien T. Phillips, Opelika.

Secretary of State—Walter F. Miller, Tuscumbia; S. H. Blan, Troy; F. R. Ryland, Birmingham; Henry C. West, Birmingham.

State Auditor—W. B. Allgood, Montgomery; William P. Cobb, Tuskegee; John H. Chapman, Montgomery.

State Treasurer—George W. Ellis, Montgomery; G. C. Brown, Hurtsboro.

Superintendent of Education — John W. Abercrombie, Anniston or Montgomery.

Commissioner of Agriculture—J. M. Moore, Montgomery; R. L. Seale, Livington; James A. Wade, Vincent; John B. Ward, R. F. D. No. 3, Abbeville.

Attorney General—Harwell G. Davis, Montgomery.

Associate Member Public Service Commission—B. H. Cooper, Montgomery; Fitzhugh Lee, Montgomery; Frank P. Morgan, Montgomery; John F. Pearson, Montgomery; S. P. Gaillard, Mobile; Berto H. Johnson, Montgomery; John Purifoy, Montgomery.

Supreme Court—Chief Justice: John C. Anderson, Montgomery; S. A. Lynne, Decatur. Associate Justices: Ormond Somerville, Montgomery; Lucien D. Gardner, Montgomery. Court of Appeals: W. H. Samford, Montgomery; Henry P. Merritt, Montgomery; Charles R. Bricken, Montgomery.

Big Acreage Planted.

Prattville—Planting cotton is about complete and judging from the most reliable sources there is planted the largest acreage in this country since 1914. The largest quantity of commercial fertilizers that has been sold in several years is noted for the present year. The acreage planted in corn is rather small. Corn is up to a stand in most cases and quite a number of farmers have given it the first plowing. The oat crop is the most promising for several years on account of the larger acreage planted last fall. If it rains in time the yield will be good.

Protest Grouping.

Montgomery—Opposition to the proposed grouping of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad with the Southern Railway System and the Seaboard and Illinois Central, is voiced by the Alabama Public Service Commission ,in a letter forwarded to the Interstate Commerce Commission, at Washington.

Preparing For Reunion.

Jasper—Preparations are being made by the South Lowell Reunion Association for holding the third annual South Lowell reunion at old South Lowell, "the deserted village," six miles north of Jasper. The reunion is held on the second Saturday in June every year. The date this year is June 10.

6,000 Bales Pledged.

Huntsville—Something over 6,000 bales of cotton have been pledged by Madison County farmers of this season's crop for co-operative marketing under the auspices of the farm bureau.

Farm Work Progressing.

Rockford—Farmers of this section are hurrying forward their farm work. Quite a lot of cotton will be planted throughout this entire section. Nitrate of soda is being used quite extensively with the hope of getting quick results. Spring gardens are flourishing and the agricultural prospects look good to the most conservative observer. The farmers are proving their willingness to work and prospects for a good crop year are good.

SUPREME COURT RENDERS AN IMPORTANT DECISION

Government Responsible for Damages While Operating Railroads.

Montgomery—The Alabama Supreme Court in the case of James J. Harris vs. The Southern Railway, appealed from the Morgan County Circuit Court, shifted the obligation for payment of $100 damages from the Southern Railway to the United States government. Harris brought suit after his bird dog had been killed by a Southern Railway train. He was awarded damages to the extent of $100, which amount was assessed against the Southern Railroad. The Supreme Court held that in as much as the Southern Railroad was controlled and operated by the federal government at the time of the killing of the dog was said to have taken place, the government and not the Southern Railroad Company was responsible.

GOOD CROPS EXPECTED IN FRANKLIN COUNTY.

Russellville—The farmers of this section are preparing the soil for other crops and cotton planting is well under way, the continued rains of the early Spring have made work slow for the farmer and crops will be a little later than usual, the great amount of fertilizer hauled out of the city the past three weeks indicates that some are going to put up a hard fight against the boll weevil, while some are not planting any cotton but are going to try corn and potatoes and other crops, farmers are co-operating more with the county agent than last year and a bumper crop is expected.

Big Cotton Contract.

Greenville—Word has reached Greenville that W. M. McGowin, one of the most prominent farmers of the county, is planting 500 acres of cotton and has signed a contract to sell his crop through the Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Marketing Association. This makes 1,800 bales of cotton contracted for to be sold in the pool in Butler County based upon last year's production. Many of the leading farmers of the county are planning an intensive campaign in favor of the pool, and they are very optimistic over the prospects. Butler County's quota is expected to be signed up in a short while.

Sanitary Sewage Company.

Fairhope—The Sanitary Sewage Company, Inc., has been incorporated with a capital stock of $6,000. Its principle place of busines is to be at Fairhope. The company will manufacture, sell and install a sanitary sewage disposal system. The incorporators are William B. Shields S. Moore and others, all of Mobile.

NEWS NOTES.

The Pilgrim Knights of Oriental Splendor have made arrangements for a big ceremonial in Gadsden June 12th.

* * *

United States Cast Iron Pipe Company of Birmingham is preparing to enter the soil pipe game.

* * *

Substantial reduction in class rates from Memphis to Birmingham have been ordered by the interstate commerce commission effective on or before July 7.

* * *

One hundred and sixty-nine girls graduated in Red Cross work at the Boyles High School.

* * *

Jasper has planned to hold its seventh Trades Day, May 9th.

* * *

A combat unit of the National Guard is to be organized at Florala.

* * *

The Methodists of Fort Payne are building a $25,000 church.

* * *

The nomination of A. R. Noble of Anniston to be collector of customs at Mobile has been favorably reported to the Senate from the commerce committee.

* * *

Dr. T. T. Tunstall, a Mobile dentist, dropped dead while attempting to extract a tooth for a woman patient.

* * *

Citizens of Ashville have started a movement to erect a monument in honor of Confederate soldiers of St. Clair County.

Protest Service Discontinuance.

Montgomery—The Public Service Commission is in receipt of a large number of protests against granting of a petition ~~of the~~ Central of Georgia Railroad for authority to discontinue service on its lines running from Geneva to Florala. The protest was from prominent citizens of both towns. The petition is now pending and will be accorded a formal hearing early this month.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR MAY 7

ISAIAH'S REMEDY FOR A WORLD AT STRIFE

LESSON TEXT.—Isa. 2:2-4; 11:1-9.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord.—Isa. 2:5.

REFERENCE MATERIAL.—Ps. 46; Mic. 4:1-5; Phil. 4:8, 9; Gal. 5:22, 23.

PRIMARY TOPIC.—How to Be a Peacemaker.

JUNIOR TOPIC.—Swords Beaten Into Plowshares.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC.—How to Make Peace and Keep It.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC.—Conditions of Permanent Peace.

Isaiah does not set forth merely an ideal for a world at strife, but foretells what shall actually take place in the latter days, which shall put an end to all earth's strife. In these Scripture texts he reveals the fact that Jesus Christ shall come and establish His kingdom and remove from men's hearts the cause for strife.

I. The Kingdom Established (Isa. 2:2-4).

By "mountain" in the Scriptures is meant "kingdom" (Dan. 2:35; Rev. 13:1; 17:9-11.)

1. Its position (v. 2). It shall be in a place of supremacy. It stands at the head of all kingdoms. In fact the kingdoms of this world shall then become the kingdom of Christ (Rev. 11:15).

2. The restored nation the teacher of the Gentiles (v. 3). God called Israel that He might make His name known among other nations. Now after many centuries of apostasy and rebellion the chosen nation comes into its own. God's favor will be so outstanding as to gain the attention of the whole world and cause the people to come up to Jerusalem to hear the law of God.

3. The divine judge (v. 4). The problems of the nations of the world shall be adjudicated by One who is all-wise, and He shall rebuke many people. Because of this rebuke they shall convert their implements of war into implements of husbandry and they shall learn war no more.

II. The King (Isa. 11:1-5).

1. His lineage (v. 1). He is of royal stock, of the house of David. From the fact that the "branch" grows out of David's roots, it is shown that Messiah shall come when the fortunes of the nation are very low.

2. His qualifications (vv. 2-3a). The Holy Spirit shall rest upon Him in His completeness, qualifying Him for His work. "Wisdom and understanding refer mainly to the clearness of intellectual and moral insight; counsel and might to the qualities which give sound practical direction and vigor to follow and carry through the decisions of practical wisdom; while the knowledge and the fear of the Lord define relation by its two parts of acquaintance with God founded on love and reverential awe which prompts to obedience." He shall have quick understanding in the fear of the Lord and His delight shall be to do God's will. This has fulfillment in Jesus Christ in whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge (Col. 2:3).

3. The character of His reign (vv. 3b-5). (1) "Not judge after the sight of his eyes." His knowledge is perfect; his judgment pierces through the problems, even seeing the motive which lies back of the act. (2) "Not reprove after the hearing of the ear." The word "reprove" means "decide." His decisions, therefore, will be on the basis of fact, not on hearsay. He cannot be deceived nor imposed upon. He knows all things, even from the beginning. (3) "With righteousness shall judge the poor." He will mete out impartial justice to them. Many times now the poor suffer because the wealthy are able to bribe the judge, but when Christ shall reign as King the poor shall get justice. The poor shall not suffer in justice because he is poor nor escape justice because he is poor. (4) "Shall reprove with equity for the meek." "Reprove" here doubtless means "decide." In fact the meek shall inherit the earth (Matt. 5:5). (5) "Shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth." By the "earth" is meant here the wicked inhabitants. When Messiah comes to reign there will be great wickedness in the earth (see Psalm 2:9-12; Luke 18:8). (6) He shall be girded with righteousness and faithfulness (v. 5). He is absolutely righteous and will faithfully carry out all His words.

III. Description of Christ's Reign (vv. 6-9).

There will prevail universal peace between men and animals. In this description each animal is coupled with that upon which it naturally preys.

Daily Thought.

It is common for those that are farthest from God to boast themselves most of their being near to the church. —Henry.

Every Man.

The brave man carves out his fortune, and every man is the son of his own works.—Cervantes.

On Things Above.

"Set your affections on things above, not on things of this earth.—Colossians 3:2.

WRIGLEY'S P-K

This new sugar-coated gum delights young and old.

It "melts in your mouth" and the gum in the center remains to aid digestion, brighten teeth and soothe mouth and throat.

There are the other WRIGLEY friends to choose from, too:

C28

Afraid of It.

"You had a good start at college; you were on the highway to a well-rounded education. Why did you give it up?" "I heard that it was folly to be wise."

If one's life is romantic he hasn't much peace of mind.

As Usual.

"What are cold-storage eggs selling for now?" "Strictly fresh, as usual." —Boston Transcript.

A Deficit.

"The money in circulation per capita is said to be $62.48."

"Somebody has my $62."

SHAKE Giant Lye down the drain-pipes to keep them clear.

The lid fits tight on the can. This keeps the air out and keeps the lye from lumping.

Write for our FREE booklet showing pictures and telling uses of Giant Lye

B. T. BABBITT, Successor
The Mendleson Corporation
15 West 34th Street, New York

STONECYPHER'S IRISH POTATO BUG KILLER

Every year you plant Irish Potatoes.
Every year you have Potato Bugs.
Every year you should use
STONECYPHER'S
Irish Potato Bug Killer

Guaranteed to destroy the bug without damage to the plant. Also destroys all leaf eating insects on cabbage, cucumber, cantaloupe, squash and tomato vines. Apply lightly. Cost low. Applicaton easy. Results sure.

For Sale by Drug, Seed and General Stores

STONECYPHER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO.
Westminster, - - - S. C.

THANKFUL FOR A LITTLE CHILD

Mrs. Mertz Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Kutztown, Pa.—"I wish every woman who wants children would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has done so much for me. My baby is almost a year old now and is the picture of health. She walked at eleven months and is trying to use her little tongue. She can say some words real nice. I am sending you her picture. I shall be thankful as long as I live that I found such a wonderful medicine for my troubles."—Mrs. CHARLES A. MERTZ, Kutztown, Pa.

Many cases of childlessness are curable. Perhaps yours may be. Why be discouraged until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a faithful trial?

Spoken and written recommendations from thousands of women who have found health and happiness from its use have come to us. We only tell you what they say and what they believe.

We believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well adapted to the conditions which might cause your trouble that good will come to you by its use.

Merit is the foundation of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has behind it a record of nearly fifty years.

SLOW DEATH

Aches, pains, nervousness, difficulty in urinating, often mean serious disorders. The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles—bring quick relief and often ward off deadly diseases. Known as the national remedy of Holland for more than 200 years. All druggists, in three sizes.

GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES

Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

Liggett & Myers

KING PIN PLUG TOBACCO

Known as "that good kind"

Try it—and you will know why

Sparkling Gems.

The humorist contributor looked in upon the editor of Answers upon his busy day. The humorist contributor should not have looked in upon the editor of Answers on his busy day. The editor of Answers can't feel humorous and busy at the same time.

What was more, the humorist contributor would not go.

At last the editor of Answers decided to stop being busy for one moment and be sarcastic.

"That was a gem, that joke you sent me," he said in his usual dry tone.

The contributor drew himself up with pride.

"Sir," he said, "you flatter me!"

"Not at all," replied the editor. "You should have seen it sparkle when I put it on the fire!"—Answers.

Stupid!

Pete—"Have you got any mail for me?" Postman—"What's your name?" Pete—"You'll find it on the envelope."

An Expert Writes:

"I used to be called a poor cook, and never pretended to bake a cake worthy of praise, but now I am called the champion cake baker of my community, thanks to the Royal Baking Powder."

Mrs. R. W. P.

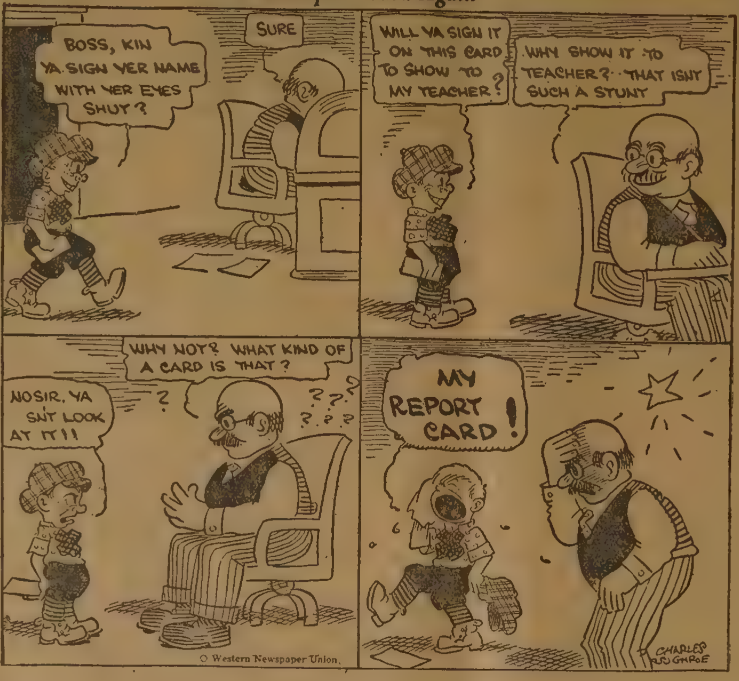
ROYAL Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure

Contains No Alum
Leaves No Bitter Taste

Send for New Royal Cook Book —It's FREE. Royal Baking Powder Co., 126 William St., New York

OUR COMIC SECTION

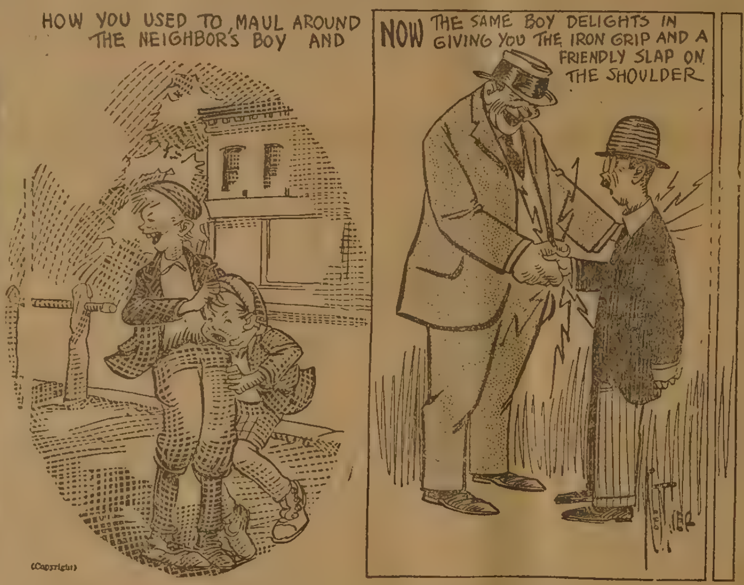
That Report Card Again



BOSS, KIN YA SIGN YER NAME WITH YER EYES SHUT?
SURE
WILL YA SIGN IT ON THIS CARD TO SHOW TO MY TEACHER?
WHY SHOW IT TO TEACHER? THAT ISN'T SUCH A STUNT
WHY NOT? WHAT KIND OF A CARD IS THAT?
NOSIR, YA SIN'T LOOK AT IT!!
MY REPORT CARD!
CHARLES McGONROE

© Western Newspaper Union.

R'member



HOW YOU USED TO MAUL AROUND THE NEIGHBOR'S BOY AND NOW THE SAME BOY DELIGHTS IN GIVING YOU THE IRON GRIP AND A FRIENDLY SLAP ON THE SHOULDER

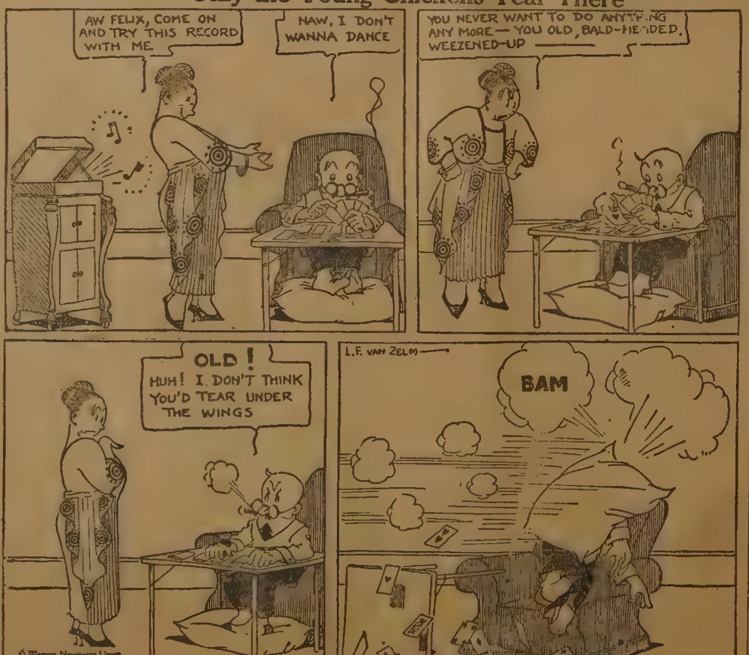
(Copyright)

Only the Young Chickens Tear There



AW FELIX, COME ON AND TRY THIS RECORD WITH ME.
NAW, I DON'T WANNA DANCE
YOU NEVER WANT TO DO ANYTHING ANY MORE— YOU OLD, BALD-HEADED, WEEZENED-UP OLD!
HUH! I DON'T THINK YOU'D TEAR UNDER THE WINGS
L.F. VAN ZELM
BAM

© Western Newspaper Union

"THEY SAID I HAD T. B. AND WOULD NOT LIVE THREE MONTHS"

Mr. Harold W. Schmidt, Box 98, Breese, Clinton Co., Ill., believes he has reason to praise Dr. Hartman's Remedy for Catarrhal conditions.

"FEEL LIKE A GIANT SINCE USING PE-RU-NA"

"I used Pe-ru-na eight months for Chronic Bronchial Catarrh. I do not get tired, feel like a giant, am six pounds over normal weight and able to work every day. In March, 1918, I contracted a severe cold with spitting and took to my bed. They said I had T. B. and would not live three months. After taking a couple bottles of Pe-ru-na and a box of Man-a-lin Tablets, could walk around and in seven months went back to work. My trouble was due to Chronic Catarrh of the nose and throat, which I had ten years, extending down into the bronchial tubes.

"Pe-ru-na was my life saver."

A HALF CENTURY IN USE

TABLETS OR LIQUID
SOLD EVERYWHERE

STANDARD FOR 50 YEARS

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC

Not Only For Chills and Fever But a Fine General Tonic

Wards Off Malaria and Restores Strength. Try It

If not sold by your druggist, write Arthur Peter & Co., Louisville, Ky.

Taking Chances.

The Gob and the Leatherneck had come ashore from the U. S. S. New Mexico to spend a few hours liberty in San Francisco. The first thing they thought of was chow. Dropping into a restaurant they were approached by a hard-boiled waiter.

"What's yours?" he asked the Gob.

"Hash," was the short response.

The waiter swung around and yelled to the cook: "One guy, takin' a chance!"

Then he looked inquiringly at the marine.

"Make mine the same," said the Leatherneck.

"Another sport," yelled the waiter.—The Leatherneck.

A sermon that is long drawn out is apt to be narrow.

Question of Sex.

It happened on a College avenue car the other morning. Two women were discussing the headline in the morning paper which read "Arbuckle Indicted for Manslaughter." One of the women remarked to the other: "You know, I can't understand how they can arrest him for manslaughter, when a woman was killed."—Indianapolis News.

Uncle Eben's Philosophy.

"When I works," said Uncle Eben, "I gits along better wifout a helper unless I kin find enough foh him to do to keep him f'um thinkin' he's a audience."

Love your neighbor as yourself and that's all the maxim that will be necessary.

THIS IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY

If you have been waiting and hoping for the day when you could get better tires for less money, now is your time.

Goodyear Tires are at their best. They are bigger, heavier, and more durable than ever. Their quality is at its highest level.

And these better Goodyear Tires today sell for less money than at any previous time in our history.

The prices listed below established a new low level for Goodyears, averaging more than 60 per cent less than the prices of Goodyear Tires in 1910.

These would be low prices for any good tires. They are almost unbelievably low for Goodyears.

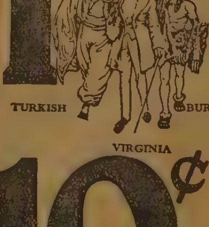
You have never had such an opportunity before to buy fine and lasting tire performance at such low cost. Call on your Goodyear Service Station Dealer, and take advantage of this opportunity today.

30 x 3½ Cross-Rib Fabric	$10.95	32 x 3½ All-Weather Tread Cord	$25.50
30 x 3½ All-Weather Tread Fabric	$14.75	32 x 4 All-Weather Tread Cord	$32.40
30 x 3½ All-Weather Tread Cord	$18.00	33 x 4 All-Weather Tread Cord	$33.40

Manufacturer's tax extra

GOODYEAR

111 one-eleven cigarettes



Three Friendly Gentlemen

TURKISH VIRGINIA BURLEY

10¢ for FIFTEEN

In a new package that fits the pocket—
At a price that fits the pocket-book—
The same unmatched blend of
TURKISH, VIRGINIA and BURLEY Tobaccos

Guaranteed by The American Tobacco Co. INCORPORATED ★111 FIFTH AVE. NEW YORK CITY

YOU CAN'T MISS THIS!

TO BUY YOUR GROCERIES

We have the best assorted stock of goods in Central Alabama and if you have not looked thru our line of goods it will be money to you to do so, because we sell strictly for cash and therefore we can give you more for your money than if we did a credit business.

We have a nice line of staple groceries that we are going to sell regardless of the price, and here are a few of the many bargains that we have to offer:

Notice

Our

Show Windows

NEXT

Saturday

Kenny's Special Blend Coffee, per pound	Regular Price	25c	Sale Price	18c
Big 5 pound package Competition Coffee	"	1.25c	"	1.00
Peanut Butter	"	10c	"	08
"	"	15c	"	12
Army Corned Beef, 2 lb can,	"	20c	"	15
Genuine Sock Eye Salmon, per can,	"	45c		35
Bank salmon,	"	20c		12
Big Size Vienna Sausage	"	15c	"	12
Lippenscot Apple Jelly, per glass	"	20c	"	15
Thoma's Pork and Beans, per can	"	15c	"	12
Army Bacon 12 lb can	"	2.00c		1.75
Old Dutch Cleanser per can	"	15c	"	12
6 Packages of Soda,		1 for 5c		24
6 " Grandma's			"	25
Rice, 6c per pound.

Anything

For The Kitchen

* * * *

In addition to this, we have the sole agency of John Lucas Paint, which in the paint line, is a scientific perfection and any one buying paint from us we will guarantee perfect satisfaction or refund the money you paid us and also the price of the labor for putting the paint on.

We are behind you. John Lucas is behind us.

We also handle Reliance Aluminum ware, Greystone Enamel ware, and an assorted stock of Hardware, Furniture of all kinds, such as wood and iron bedsteads, chairs, dressers, washstands, rockers, davenports, porch furniture, rugs, art squares, bed sprinps, mattresses, blakets, cots and cot pads.

In the farming line we have plow collars, wagon collars, check lines, plow lines, bridles, collar pads, backbands, plow points, all kinds of plow clevises field and garden hoes, field and garden seeds.

The best always comes at the last and this time it is the wire fencing we handle. It is the Anthony fencing made by the American Steel and Wire Co. We have this wire from 28 inches to 60 inches high. If you havn't tried us come and look us over and we will appreciate your patronage.

W. W. FOX, THE AUCTION MAN

J. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

A fullnne of Caskets always in stock, including Metallic Cases. All funeral arrangements attended to promptly. Motor Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Dr. V. J. Gregg Building.

Clanton Mercantile

The Largest Department Store in Central Alabamr.
Widely Known as the

"Big Bargain House"

We carry everything you need to buy ans our prices cannot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock bottom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Trunks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other articles, all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department is uy to the minute in style and back below pre-war rates as to price.

Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If you want to aet the best and pay the leaķe come and see us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

Campaign is Coming. Subscribe News.

ISABELLA NEWS

Dear Editor and Readers of The Chilton County News:

I see in the papers a great deal about the dance hall, and the evils of dancing and card playing. Some of our editors are joining the fight, others are up-holding these evils. If people would stop taking papers that do not stand for the uplift of humanity and the teachings of the bible, there would be better papers and I believe people would open their eyes to the sin practiced through out our country. Let our church members study the Bible more and see how far we miss keeping the law of God. Read 1st John 2-6. "He that saith he abideth in him ought himself also so to walk even as he walked." Matthew 6-22. No man can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one and despise the other. "Ye cannot serve God and mammon," 1st John 3-6. "Whosoever abideth in Him sinneth not, whosoever sinneth hath not seen him neither known Him." Now let us see our selves as others see us. I heard a man say a few days ago that he had been in places where he wouldn't own being a church member or Christian. Let us not be ashamed of right.

The friends and relatives of Mr. Luther Lenoir will be saddened to hear of his death. Mr. Lenoir was reared in this community and had relatives here and lots of friends, but let us submit God's will.

Mr. Stanley Walker of Oklahoma is visiting his uncle Mr. Wm. Walker, and other relatives.

Mrs. Maud DeShazo, who operated on about two weeks ago is still improving. We are greatful for that.

Mr. J. C. Veazey and family were visitors in our community Saturday night and Sunday. Mr. Veazey is one of the leading members of Macedonia church, a Sunday School Superintendent and a singing school teacher. We are always glad to have him. It means much to our song service.

Rev. R. T. Gilbert and wife spent Thursday in Birmingham this week.

Our boys of this community organized a ball team and cleared off a ball ground Saturday. Look out for some sport.

Mr. Wallace Veazey and George Wright had a narrow escape Sunday when their car trrned over. Car was badly damaged but no one was hurt.

The Rev. C. D. Messer preached a forceful sermon Sunday at Isabella Church. A large crowd attended.

We are glad to say our Sunday School at that church is still improving. We will have a children's day program and basket picnic on the fourth Saturday in May. Everyone is invited to come with a well filled basket.

Go to Elmore's, you will find some very special prices in the Millinery Department.

At Elmore's you will find the very newest and lattest things in piece goods, Millinery and Ready-to-Wear.

Be sure and see my line of Furniture before you buy.

W. W. FOX.

Our Job Department is prepared to do your work at short notice. We guarantee satisfaction.

Keep Cool and Come to JOHNSON DRUG Co.

For Ice Cream And Drugs Also

Pure Drugs, Druggist Sundries, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Cigars, Tobacco of all kinds and Complete line of candies

Johnson Drug Company

Clanton, - - - - Alabama.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

The Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of every kind known to the trade in puantities to meet all demands. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicwen is hungry here is where you will find just what they need.

Grains, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Our Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama—Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

Money to Loan 3-4 of $100,000

I am in position to loan the above amount to farmers of Chilton County with which to Insure their property.

The Insurance contract is for five years and we Insure all your property against Fire, Lightening, and Wind Storms.

You pay one fifth cash and the other four fifths in four annual installments without interest.

This is an Old Line Company and Old Line rates. I also sell Old Line Life Insurance for one of the large Old Line Companies.

I also sell the old reliable Singer Machines on easy payments, and take old Machine in exchange.

C. Reese Mullins Agt.

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

We Do Job Printing.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

W. B. CORLEY........................Editor
J. L. JOHNSON,..................Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

Gov. Kilby gave $500 to the Auburn fund Sunday. All the papers in the State please copy.

Now is the time to set out your 'tater draws, and don't be afraid of putting out too many.

Plant plenty of food crops this year and some to spare. You can't gamble safely against the Wall street gang.

There is not a thing in politics to fall out about. Reason together and seek out the right but keep your temper. The world is big enough to hold several different opinions.

If the Fordney tariff bill does not defeat the republican party at the next election it will demonstrate the fact that our people naturally like to be bought and sold and they don't want to be free.

Why don't Clanton put in one of these new fangled radio distributing stations and get up to the minute? We always grab into all the other new things that come along so let's have a radio also.

Word comes from Washington this week that all bids for Muscle Shoals have been shelved except Ford's. The Committee is 13 to 7 in favor of reporting favorably on the Ford offer. If he will add $3,500,000 to his bid they say he can have it.

Henry Ford claims to have a secret process for making fertilizer and he tells the Senate Committee that he will use this process at Muscle Shoals if he gets the privilege and make high grade fertilizer at less than half the present prices.

Personal dislike for a candidate should not influence your vote. The people are paying good money to their servants and the first consideration should always be efficiency. If you believe a man to be honest and capable he is the man to employ in any job.

The voting of bonds is all well enough on some important and infrequent occasions, but too much of that sort of thing means inevitable bankruptcy. Bonds always mean more taxes and more taxes always mean more hard times. The bond fever is getting to be epidemic.

In two more years Germany and Russia will be ready to thrash out the world and they intend to try it out too. All the other nations had better not dismantle their dreadnaughts too rapidly. They are going to need them before they can build more. Armageddon is yet to come.

Insurance companies have found a new risk to charge for now. They claim the radio currents get crossed and cause fires. According to that we are liable to see the elements on fire any old day. But when you do you better not study about radio "crossed currents." It will be about time to call "for the rocks and mountains to hide you" then Woolen clothes have advanced under the new tariff bill from $4.00 to $8.00 a suit already. Hog products have also jumped up under the prospect of republican protection. Labor, however, according to government figures have gone down 45 per cent. under the benign reign of republicanism. They play the game for capital but they give labor what Paddy gave the drum. An idiot can see that.

I BUY and SELL ANYTHING that can be bought or sold. W. W. FOX.

The Editor and The Bible.

Now and then an editor meets up with a fellow who imagines he can see woeful signs of degeneracy and lack of reverence for God in some article that may have appeared in his paper We all have that experience and know the type.

The trouble with these people is that they are so solicitous of the other fellow's condition that they have forgotten for the time the more personal elements of God's Word. For instance, there is a passage in Holy Writ that tells us to "Judge not that ye be not judged." Another passage advises us to remove "the beam from our own eyes before we undertake to get the mote out of our brother's eye." Still another place says: "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone." In another place we are told of the Pharisee who stood up in public and thanked God that he was not a vile sinner as the humble publican standing near. And so on.

These things are mere incidents in newspaper life and the editor, who knows better than anyone else how unreservedly he subscribes to every word between the lids of the Bible and how infinitely he believes in the mercy, justice, goodness and greatness of God, merely smiles and goes ahead in the even tenor of his ways.

Rev. S. M. Adams
Writes O'Neal

Thorsby, Ala., April 29, 1922.

Hon. Emmet O'Neal,
Birmingham, Ala.

Dear Sir:—Replying to yours of the 28th inst., asking my views as to the rights of the Alabama Power Company to eminent domain, also whether or not I favor the exemption of taxes on said property, will state that I am opposed to all such special privileges, and if elected to the State Senate will stand for equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

With kindest personal regard, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,
S. M. ADAMS.

The above letter is self explanatory. No one can misunderstand the writer. He puts himself on record plainly and you know where he stands. Mr. Adams is a man of strong convictions and is not afraid to fight for what he conceives to be right. He bears that reputation wherever he is known.

Harding "Trade Mark."

Our well known city drayman Mr. Jno. H. Gore, says he is wearing the Harding "trade mark" every day now He refers to his overalls that are copiously patched on both knees, though he says he didn't wear them out praying for Harding, but rather wore them out trying to scratch out a living under the Harding administration.

Surprise Party

On Monday evening at the residence of Mr, and Mrs. J. B. Dowus a number of the friends of Pastor and Mrs. M. C. Wilson gathered to bid them adieu and God speed before leaving for their new work. After a month's visit to Ottumwa. Iowa, the Wilsons will be stationed at Meridian, Miss. The gathering was not the only surprise of the evening. In recognition of the splendid work they have done here and as a token of good will and sincere friendship they were presented with a beautiful set of silver tablespoons and tea-spoons. Punch was dispensed by Mrs. Joe Ben Downs. This informal occasion will be pleasantly remembered.

We have just received a new shipment of New Styles in Georgette waists. Elmore's.

In spite of all intercessions to the weather man the fishermen around town have failed, so far, in getting the climatic conditions just right for a big catch.

One evidence of Spring time is the many repair and repainting jobs going on in town.

Save us from False Friends.

In the trivial affairs of life, especially if a nickel or a dime is involved, the most of us can concentrate our energies and devote our whole soul, mind and strength to the issue, but in the real things that count, the moral and social questions that may confront us at times it has become a habit with most of us to lay back and wait for the other fellows to take care of the situation, and then, if the few who labor and strive for better things and safer living conditions fail, for the lack of earnest support and cooperation, to be able to put the matter over, these very shirkers are the first to grab their hammers and begin to knock and say "I told you so."

The Democratic party in Chilton county is, unfortunately, burdened with quite a large number of these skin flint money chasers who are afraid to call their souls their own for fear of "losing business," etc. and they are a real menance to the success of the party this year. The Chilton county Democrats can win and ought to win this year, hands down. Everything is in their favor and all indications point to a reversal of sentiment, not only here, but all over the country. The republican administration has been a dismal failure and the people all know it. They have crucified labor on the cross of capitalistic greed and the working people realize the fact. They have allowed the capitalists themselves to write the most villainous document of legalized robbery of the working classes ever contrived and are passing it now under the name of the Fordney Tariff Bill. The people all over the land know this. The overwhelming majorities the republicans have always had in Maine, Massachusetts and other undisputed strongholds of theirs in the North are crumbling into insignificance under the effects of this preposterous administration.

The same is true all over the country and, above all this, the slap in the face Mr. Harding gave the South in his Birmingham speech and the overwhelming majority given the Dyer Anti-lynching Bill in the lower house has righteously awakened all of the white people south of the Mason and Dixon line to the fearful menace confronting us if the capital worshiping gang continue in power and they are returning to the only ark of safety the South has under the banner of a solid democracy. The good people of the South are going to rebuke the gang of money servers and resent these vile and unmerited insults so unexpectedly cast into their teeth by rolling up the biggest Democratic vote on record this fall.

These same glaring facts confront the white republicans of Chilton county and they have the same decision to make. They are either going tamely to swallow these insults and go on fawning on the hand that smites them or they are going to show their contempt and resentment in the only way possible—by quitting the party that has for more than fifty years heaped insult and injury upon the land of their birth.

We know some excellent ladies and gentlemen in this county who have been misled by local wrangles into supporting the republican party in the past, but we have faith in their fairness, honesty and intelligence, we believe in them as good patriotic citizens of the South and we feel like they will not longer travel the trail with our arch enemies.

This being the true situation these Democrats-for-revenue-only make us sore.

If there ever has been or will be a time when EVERY Democrat in Chilton county should show his colors and go to work for victery it is RIGHT NOW. That one who fails his party now should have his name erased from the rolls. One half-hearted friend can do the party more harm than fifty open enemies.

INDIAN GRAVE

A large band of singers and lovers of music gathered at Indian Grave Sunday, April 30, for an all day singing and to organize a singing convention. Both Chilton and Autauga were well represented with some of the best singers to be found in either county.

The morning session was given entirely to singing with the following directors: J. W. Cagle, I. D. Huett, Osie DeVaughn, J. M. Taylor, L. T. Grant and J. M. Williams.

After gathering into the house in the afternoon the organizing of the convention was discussed for a short time and many expressed themselves as being in favor of organizing. It was decided to organize a convention to be called The County Line Singing Convention and that the convention meet at some place aolng or near the line every 5th Sunday. All singers who can are extended a cordial invitation to meet with and join this convention at its next meeting, place to be announced later. The following officers were elected: President, H. G. Carter; Vice-President, W. M. DeVaughn; Secretary, G. C. Weldon; Executive Committee, G. B. Billingsley, W. W. Bishop, J. J. Burkhalter, Lee Robinson and Osie DeVaughn.

The following persons directed during the afternoon session: A. A. Beard, W. M. DeVaughn, G. C. Weldon, J. J. Burkhalter, Ralph Grant, and Lee Robinson. Everyone present seemed to enjoy the good singing and especially the talk by Mr. Henderson, and the splendid Quartets by the Messrs DeVaughns, L. T. Grant and A. A. Beard.

H. G. CARTER, Chairman.

NOTICE

The estate of William T. Callen, deceased.

Letters testamentary upon the last will and testament of William T. Callen, deceased, having been granted to the undersigned on the 5th day of April, 1922, by the Probat eCourt of Chilton County, Alabama, notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate are requested to present the same within the time required by law, or same will be barred.

FRANK J. CALLEN,
Executor of the last Will and testament of William T. Callen, deceased. 4-20-3t.

TO ALL WHITE VOTERS OF CHILTON COUNT

The "Bars" are Down. The Invitation Extend
Come on and Vote in the Democratic Primary, August 8, 1922.

Whereas, The Report has been circulated over this County, by intere parties, that you could not vote in the Democratic Primary on August 8 less you possessed an unkroken Democratic pedigree behind you,

Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Chilton County Democratic Ex tive Committee in session, that we do hereby most cordially invite all qualified white voters in Chilton County, both male and female, to come vote with us in our Primary and aid us in nominating our public ser for the next term of office,

Lawrence F. Gerald, Secretary. W. W. FOX, Chairma

Vote the Democratic ticke and be happy.

FOR SALE

ONE 4-horse power Stationary Engine in first class running order CHEAP. Call at News Office.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner Chilton County for District No 1, su ject to the action of the Democrat primary August 8, 1922.

WILL R. CLEMENTS.

(Paid political advertisement Will R. Clements, Jemison, Ala.)

Try our Repair Service

When better SERVICE can be given we will give it.

Our business is growing very fast. There is a reason.

We are selling more Goodyear tires and tubes than we ever sold before.

Lawrence Garage,

CLANTON, ALABAMA

IF YOU NEED ANYTHING

In a new light weight suit for summer trade at Clanton's new Dry Goods Store where you are sure to get the newest and best at the lowest prices. We guarantee to save you money on each purchace

THE LEADER

M. LANDE Manager

Look for the Yellow front Store, Next to Johnson Drug Company.

THE AMES BUGGY

If you will buy an Ames Buggy and use it this year you will have more cash January 1st. than you will have if you ride in an Automobile.

JONES HARDWARE CO.

FINAL PROPOSALS TO RUSSIA READY

LEADERS AT GENOA ANNOUNCE COMPLETION OF DOCUMENT

GEORGE HAS LONG INTERVIEW

Historic Paper Points Out Western Europe's Final Proposals To Soviet Russia

Genoa.—Premier Lloyd George, Foreign Minister Schanzer, of Italy; M. Barthou, of France; M. Jaspar, of Belgium, met recently and set forth in writing the concessions they are ready to make to Russia. After the conference, which was held at the Villa de Albertis, it was announced that they had approved a document stating the position of their countries on the Russian question and that this will be submitted soon to a meeting of the subcommission on Russian affairs for approval and draft.

This document is of historic importance, according to the plenipotentiaries, who declare that it contains western Europe's final proposals to soviet Russia and explains exactly what Russia must give to western Europe in exchange.

In taking this step Mr. Lloyd George and the other leaders hope to put an end to the present uncertainty of the negotiations. They are anxious to put their cards on the table and are asking the Russians to do likewise honestly.

Mr. Loyd George before inviting the other to meet him at the Villa de Albertis, had a long and separate interview with each of them, thus lading the foundation of the document which to their minds should be of such a nature as to force the Russians to say yes or no on each question.

The most difficult point still remains, that concerning the protection of foreigners in Russia, the concessions to be given them for lost properties and guarantees for their future work on Russian territory.

As to referring the matters which will be discussed by the meeting of all the signatories of the Versailles treaty announced by Mr. Lloyd George to either the supreme council or the ambassador's council, as some have suggested, it was pointed out that the date on which the next German reparation payment falls due is May 31, wherefore, it is imperative that some sort of understanding be reached immediately, especially as all the powers concerned are assembled at Genoa. The only answer of Premier Poincare is awaited for the calling of this meeting.

S. C. Schools Are In Annual Meet

Columbia, S. C.—Election of officers and announcement of winners in the debating, declamation and expression contest featured the recent session of the South Carolina High School League. The annual sessions, held under the auspices of the University of South Carolina School League. The annual sessions, held under the auspices of the University of South Carolina, will be concluded with the stack meet and a banquet.

Wrestlers Draw, Put On Fist Battle

Chicago.—Johnny Meyers, middleweight champion, and Henie Engle, of Dubuque wrestled to a drew here. The bout was rough and at the finish the men started fighting with their fists, a near riot resulting.

Girl's Body Is Found In Parsonage

Hoopster, Ill.—Discovery of the body of Miss Gertrude Hanna, 25, on a narrow ledge in the basement of the vacant United Presbyterian parsonage, had shaken this town to its foundation and provided authorities with a mystery. Whether Miss Hanna was slain or ended her own life was not clear. Whether she met her death in the basement of the parsonage or was taken there also was a puzzle. The length of time she had been dead, whether or not she died by poison and the motive are other phases that are blurred.

Former French President Near Death

Paris.—Physicians have lost hope of former President Paul Deschanel's recovery, Le Journal stated recently. The former President suffered greatly during the night.

Colombian Minister Arrives In N. Y.

New York.—Dr. Enrique Claya Herrera, newly-appointed minister to Washington for the Colombian republic, arrived on the Sixaola after a trip up the coast during which a sneak thief kept him and other passengers on the ship in constant worry. The thief entered state-rooms while passengers were dining and took jewelry, watches and in some cases money. Dr. Herrera, who is a publisher as well as diplomat, is the first minister from Colombia since, the New United States treaty was ratified.

Radio Committee To Be Appointed

Washington.—An advisory committee of twelve to be appointed by the president to assist the secretary of commerce in supervising radio communication was recommended in the final report of the recent national radio conference as submitted to Secretary Hoover. The report approved the alocation of wave lengths to various classes of users, which was made in the tentative report of the conference, and various detailed suggestions for the improvement of wireless communication set forth in that document.

TO PRESS CLAIM ON RUMANIA

After Many Wrangles, The Keen Mind Of Lloyd George Determines To Force Constructive Efforts

London.—The Russian and Hungarian delegations at Genoa are negotiating a separate treaty which has been referred to Budapest for final approval, according to the Geno correspondent of the Central News. The two powers, it is said, agree to stand together against Roumania and the little entente.

Premier Bethlen took a draft of the treaty to Budapest the other day, the correspondent learned unofficially. It is regarded as creating a new bloc isolating Poland and the litle entente from her immediate neighbors. So far as can be learned, the Russians are pursuing the same policy of not informing the conference of the negotiations as was pursued in drafting the treaty with Germany. Other delegations here have not been advised of the Hungarian agreement.

The draft taken to Budapest provides for Russian recognition of Hungarian aspirations for a rectification of her fronties, Hungary reciprocally recognizing Russia's interests in Bessarabia which the allies gave to Roumania. Russia and Hungary agree to support each other in pressing their claims on Roumania.

The document also recognizes the Russo-German treaty, a clause which indicates the Soviets are trying to build up a network of treaties which will support each other. An air service between Germany, Russia and Hungary is provided for.

PRINTER'S DEVIL GETS BEQUEST OF $2,000,000

Told His Boss He Wouldn't Be Back When He Received Wire Of Bequest From His Mother

Tulsa, Okla.—Tharry McCoy, fifteen, printer's devil, with a telegram in his pocket saying he was joint heir to $2,000,000, refused to work thereafter.

Tharry promptly told his boss he "wouldn't be back" when he received the wire, which came from his mother in Greenwood, S. C.

"I'm going to get a motor car, and an education," he asserted.

The estate Tharry and his mother inherited is that of his mother's second husband.

The court decided in their favor when other relatives tried to break the will.

To Try Union Leaders For Treason

Charles Town, W. Va.—Charges of treason growing out of the Logan march last fall were selected by counsel for the state as the first upon which nine union leaders and members are to be tried in the circuit court here. The defense anounced its intention to enter a demurrer to the treason charges and to file a motion to quash that indictment. Judge J. M. Woods excused the jurors, witnesses and all the defendants except the twenty-four who were to go on trial in the treason case, for twenty-four hours. The indictment covered fifty-three names, but some of these had not been arrested and others had asked for a change of venue.

A New "Heatless" Light Is Discovered

Princeton, N. J.—The dawning of an era of perpetual illumiation was seen by scientists in announcement by Prof. E. Newton Harvey of Princeton university that he had developed a continuous cold light, called "Luciferin." This is a step which science regards as equal in importance to invention of the wireless, the telephone, telegraph, phonograph, airplane, automobile and other modern devices. Continuous cold light eventually will do away with all forms of artificial illumination, according to belief of scientists. It will be possible for a man to carry a bottle of light in his pocket. Permanent globes of light will be suspended in the streets, in public buildings and in residences.

Sees Vindication In Daugherty Act

New York.—The action of Attorney-General Daugherty in dismissing the government's suit against the Postal Telegraph-Cable company for $2,400,000, claimed as "excess earnings" during the period of wire control by the government, is regarded as a victory for the telegraph company and a complete vindication of its policy during the war.

Bergdoll Loses $750,000 Of Property

Washington.—Justice Bailey, in the supreme court of the District of Columbia has ruled that the alien property custodian cannot be required to surrender property of Grover C. Bergdoll, valued at $750,000, if the government proves that Bergdoll has been convicted of desertion and is now a fugitive from justice. The supreme court denied the application of Erwin R. Bergdoll of Philadelphia for a writ of habeas corpus. He is in Leavenworth prison for failure to perform military service during the war.

King Says The Tariff Benefits Trusts

Washington.—There was an old-fashioned tariff debate in the senate the other day. It marked the real beginning of the weeks and perhaps months of battling over the administration measure which the finance committee recently reported. The discussion was opened by Smoot of Utah with a detailed explanation of the elastic tariff proposals of President Harding and included an attack on Senator Jones of New Mexico, and the opening of a general assault on the whole measure by Senator King (Democrat) of Utah.

OUTLOOK IS BETTER IN SUGAR INDUSTRY

SUGAR IS NOW MOVING FROM CUBA TO EUROPE AND THE FAR EAST

SUPPLY IS 4,700,000 TONS

Solution For Cuba's Sugar Problem More Promising Than For Months

Washington.—The outlook for solution of Cuba's sugar problem is more promising at present than for many months past, according to a survey of the situation prepared by the commerce department.

Reasonable estimates, the department said, will place the total available Cuban sugar for the year at 4,700,000 tons and solution of the problem rests upon the ability of the world's consuming market to absorb that quantity in addition to 2,000,000 tons of tariff protected output.

Hopes of the Cuban sugar trade for an advance in demand, the department declared, were based on the invisible trade shortage of refined sugar in this country estimated at 400,000 tons; the increasing population and consumption in the United States; the continued absorption of sugar by world markets even during the height of Cuban production, and the market demand in Europe and in the Orient for raw and refined sugars from Cuba and the United States growing out of shortages recently apparent in the Far East.

Sugar is moving from Cuba even to the Far East, the department reported, and optimists are sure that the year's demand from England and France, estimated at 600,000 tons, will provide an outlet for a portion of the balance the United States will be unable to absorb.

Hooper, Is Chairman Of Labor Board

Chicago.—Ben W. Hooper, member of the public group of the railroad labor board and former governor of Tennessee, recently was elected chairman of the board at the annual meeting, succeeding Chairman Barton. G. W. W. Hanger, also a members of the public group, was elected vice chairman. The vote was unanimous, Mr. Hooper's name being placed in nomination by the retiring chairman, who had served for two years, or since the creation of the board. Judge Barton was not a candidate for the office. Mr. Hooper's name was placed in nomination a year ago, but he declined and supported Judge Barton.

Naval Airmen Are To Keep Their Jobs

Washington.—Scores of naval reserve aviators, who formed the "backbone" of the navy's air force since the war, will be retained in the regular army by congressional action, it was learned. The reserve birdmen now face loss or rank and dismissal from the service because of failures in "routine" examinations. Their plight, discovered by Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Massachusetts, led to a Senate investigation, which, it was said, will result in action to transfer the reserve into the navy's regular service at their old ranks.

Wilson Ready To Greet Women Voters

Washington.—For the first time since Armistice Day, Nov. 11, Woodrow Wilson will emerge soon from the seclusion of his S. street home to greet thousands of women who will gather there to pay homage to the former President. The demonstration will be led by Lady Nancy Astor and Bishop Samuel Fallows, of Chicago. Delegates to the Women's Pan-American Conference and the convention of the National League of Women Voters, just concluded in Baltimore, will take part in the pilgrimage to the Wilson home.

Col. Brauer Dies Writing Of Death

Richmond, Va.—While writing a letter to his son, Robert C. Brauer, of Fort Worth, Texas, recounting several deaths which have recently occurred in the family here, Col. Frederick Casper Brauer, Confederate veteran, 82 years old, died unexpectedly of heart attack in the home of his daughter, Mrs. P. C. Schloss. Colonel Brauer married Miss Adeline Ezekiel, daughter of the late Sir Moses Ezekiel, the noted sculptor

Ancient Law Of Hebrews Is Invoked

Memphis, Tenn.—The ancient law of the Hebrews was called into play in a Memphis court recently when Judge Ben L. Capell instructed a jury in a damage suit to return a verdict in accordance with Exodus XXI:28 and 29. Judgment for $150 was awarded E. L. Snyder against Joseph Micci. Snider was bitten by Micci's dog. The twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth verses of the wonty-first chapter of Exodus instructed that a man should be punished if his ox habitually vicious, should not be kept restrained.

Seizure Of Haiti Rapped By Lawyers

Washington.—A report from leading lawyers throughout the country charging that the seizure by the United States of the public of Haiti is "in violation of our constitution, our treaties and of international law" has been presented to Secretary Hughes. It demands evacuation of American troops. Attorneys Louis Marshall, of New York; Moorfield Storey, of Boston, and Michael Francis Doyle, of Philadelphia, on behalf of the 24 lawyers who signed the report, submitted it to Hughes recently

DYNAMITING LEVEES CHARGED

Thousands Homeless—Refugees Climb Trees And Housetops—New Floods Expected

Fort Worth, Texas.—John J. McCain, chairman of the levee board of Fort Worth, has issued a statement in which he declares that the levees around the rivers, which broke here and flooded lowlands of this city, were "dynamited by unknown parties," and that an investigation by a grand jury would be demanded immediately.

"It is our opinion that the levee did not break of its own accord, but was dynamited," McCain declared.

"This decision is based on a report made to me by John J. Lyden, field supervisor, in which he declared he had men patrolling the levee a whole day and night, and that it was his opinion that the levee was dynamited."

The night of April 25 found the stricken flood area of north Texas with hundreds of refugees cluttering trees and housetops and the swollen Trinity river threatening to break the dam at Lake Worth and turn Fort Worth into a sea of floting humanity.

Although several areoplane fleets are scouring the flooded district for victims and radio is being used in an effort to re-establish communication with smaller towns — from which nothing has been heard since the record cloudburst—small headway had been made the next morning by relief workers.

Estimates of the dead ranged from 25 to 50, with 1 6known to have perished.

It is impossible to figure the damage as yet, but already it has gone far into the millions.

The American Legion has taken charge of Fort Worth and armed guards are everywhere in the water-soaked city.

Rescue workers are making a mad race against a new flood—expected as a result of another severe rainstorm at Bridgeport and other nearby towns on the Trinity river. Search for bodies is progressing with exasperating slowness because of the insurmountable handicap provided by high water on every hand.

Anything that will float is being seized upon by refugees. Thousands are homeless or marooned elsewhere.

As levee after levee broke, oldtime residents refused to heed warnings and were caught in water traps. One veteran homesteader declared that he had lived in his house for 30 years and refused to budge when a modern Paul Revere dashed past with the warning to flee the oncoming water. The aged man was drowned.

Women Would Punish Nations For War

Baltimore.—Nations declaring war would be put in the same class as individuals committing murder and would be punishable under a new international code, if ideas offered in the form of resolutions and reports at the session of the National League of Women Voters here, should be put into effect. The entire day was given over to committee reports and resolutions which should come up for action later. Creation of a department on international co-operation to prevent war was recommended by the Women Voters' League.

Debate Is Bitter In The Dail Eireann

Dublin.—Bitter exchanges between Arthur Griffith president of the dail eireann and Eamon De Valera, the republican leader, more intense than any heretofore, marked the proceedings of the dail recently. Charges and counter charges of responsibility for the present disorders, characterized the debate, and Mr. Griffith, in a strong attack, endeavored to show that De Valera, while professing rigid republicanism, was willing to compromise.

T. A. G. R. R. To Resume Schedules

Chattanooga, Tenn.—It was announced recently that the Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia railroad, a short line extending from Chattanooga to Gadsden, Ala., and which suspended operation the other day, in order to make necessary repairs to the roadbed and rolling stock, would resume regular schedules at an early date.

The Soviet Premier Is Operated On

Riga, Latvia.—Premier Lenine of Soviet Russia, was operated on recently, says a report from Moscow. A bullet which had troubled him for three years was extracted from his side. Last accounts were that the patient was doing well.

King Raps Tariff Rates For Drugs

Washington.—Increased duties on drugs, dyes, inks and paints proposed in the administration tariff bill came under fire from senate Democrats in the general debate on the measure. Reviewing the rates in the first schedule of the bill, Senator King (Democrat of Utah) said the increases proposed ranged from 150 to 600 per cent, presented statistics to show that imports of the commodities under discussion were negligible and charged the increase would embellish the "already swollen fortunes of the rich."

Club Woman Gets 14 - Year Jail Term

San Francisco.—Miss A. Whitney, club woman and social worker, must serve fourteen years in prison, the district court of appeals decided the other day in confirming a sentence on a charge of violating the state criminal syndicalism act. The trial developed that she was a member of the branch of the Communist party here, and also was identified with the Industrial Workers of the World. The case has attracted widespread attention and the result had been looked forward to with avidity

HARDIN PUT BACK ON HIS FEET TWICE

Was Relieved of Both Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble by Tanlac, States Los Angeles Man.

"For the second time Tanlac has put me on my feet, and you may know by that what I think of it," said William T. Hardin, 1409 Garden St., Los Angeles, Calif.

"Three years ago, I had rheumatism in my shoulders and neck so bad I could hardly work. I tried medicine after medicine only to get worse, but finally I got hold of Tanlac, and I haven't had a trace of rheumatism since.

"Then last summer my stomach got out of order, I lost my appetite and what little I did eat made me feel bloated, all stuffed up and miserable. I always felt weak, tired and worn out, and was so nervous I couldn't sleep.

"Well, Tanlac did a good job for me before, so I just got some more of it, and now it has again fixed me up, and I'm feeling strong and energetic like I used to. I'll tell the world Tanlac's the medicine for me."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Propriety.

The gay Lothario, having been asked to sing, approached the careful girl.

"Will you accompany me on the piano?" he asked.

"Not without a chaperon," answered the careful girl.

Because she was a very, very careful girl.—American Legion Weekly.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. Advertisement.

Give Him Time.

A neighbor was quizzing Betty about her new brother.

"Is your baby pretty?" she questioned.

"I don't 'zackly know," said Betty, struggling between truth and loyalty. "I dess he is going to be, but just now he looks pretty rare done."

YOU CANNOT AFFORD

To let your little hurts and ailments get bad.

Keep Vacher-Balm handy for Burns, Boils, Cuts, Corns, Piles, or Soreness anywhere.

Ask your druggist. Avoid imitations. —Advertisement.

Who Will Invent This?

That electric light that stays lit a minute after you turn it out is all right, but what is wanted is one for the cellar that will turn itself out when we forget to do it.—Boston Transcript.

A Lady of Distinction

Is recognized by the delicate fascinating influence of the perfume she uses. A bath with Cuticura Soap and hot water to thoroughly cleanse the pores followed by a dusting with Cuticura Talcum powder usually means a clear, sweet, healthy skin.—Advertisement.

She Knew Him.

Milliner—"I know that hat would please your husband." Customer—"Not unless you took $30 off the price."

Vanity leaves its footprints on a woman's face.

You'll Get A Year's Wear or more,
when you buy
Nu-Way or
EXCELLO
RUBBERLESS
SUSPENDERS
No rubber to rot. Phosphor Bronze Springs give the stretch. Ask Your Dealer for Nu-Way Suspenders, Garters and Hose Supporters. If he hasn't them, send direct, giving dealer's name. Every pair guaranteed. Nu-Way Strech Suspender Co., Mfrs., Adrian, Mich.

DROPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE

Short breathing relieved in a few hours; swelling reduced in a few days; regulates the liver, kidneys, stomach and heart; purifies the blood, strengthens the entire system. Write for Free Trial Treatment.

COLLUM DROPSY REMEDY CO., Dept. C.E., ATLANTA, GA.

YOU

are wanted to take card orders in your community. Make real money in your spare time. Outfit and samples sent free.

STORES CAN ALSO TAKE ORDERS

THE KUNKEL PRESS

45 North Division Street, 4th Floor, Buffalo, N. Y.

Prepared for Death.

The suburban lady heard an airplane whizzing overhead. She called Cottie, the colored maid, to see it.

"Has you all ever been up in one of these contraptions, ma'am?"

The suburban lady said "No," and in turn asked Cottie if she wouldn't enjoy a ride in one.

"No, siree, ma'am," she answered. "Seems like when I went up that high, I'd like to be ready to jes keep right on going up."

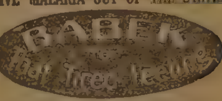
To forget a wrong is the best revenge.

Many a sharp retort is made in blunt language.

Sure Relief
FOR INDIGESTION

6 BELL-ANS
Hot water
Sure Relief
BELL-ANS
25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

DRIVE MALARIA OUT OF THE SYSTEM



A GOOD TONIC AND APPETIZER

Let Cuticura Be Your Beauty Doctor

Soap 25c, Ointment 25 and 50c, Talcum 25c.

CATCH FISH

All fish bite on Alaskan Indian secret. Use hook and line. One bait lasts all day. Send full address on postcard. Address LEWIS CO., Box 34, OCEAN PARK, CALIF.

BABIES LOVE
MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP
The Infants' and Children's Regulator
Pleasant to give—pleasant to take. Guaranteed purely vegetable and absolutely harmless. It quickly overcomes colic, diarrhoea, flatulency and other like disorders. The open published formula appears on every label.
At All Druggists

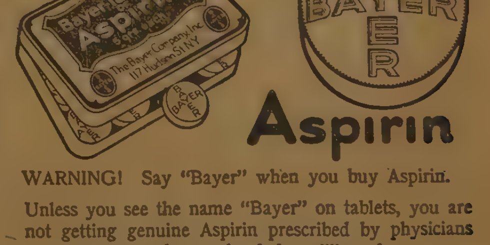
Why Not?

The human fly was scaling the outside of the tall building at a dizzy height and an anxious throng watched in the street.

"What's he doing?" asked an old gentleman.

"He's going to the top of the building," said a bystander.

"Well," asked the old party, "why don't the darned fool take an elevator?"



Genuine
Aspirin

WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin.

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

Headache Colds Rheumatism
Toothache Neuralgia Neuritis
Earache Lumbago Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions.

Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.
Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

THE GIRL, A HORSE AND A DOG

By FRANCIS LYNDE

Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons

CHAPTER XIV.—Continued.

—9—

It was a little after noon, while we were squatting on the floor to eat another meal warmed up over the chip fire, that we found out the answer to all the guesses and learned what the mechanical noises of the night and forenoon had been leading up to. One of the left-overs from the working period of the mine was a good-sized steam force pump which, we took it, had once been installed on one of the lower mine levels and had been hoisted out of the shaft ahead of the advancing water flood and put under shelter in a corner of the boiler shed. As I was passing my tin cup for more of Daddy's excellent coffee the rattle and clank of a pump began to make itself heard, together with the coughing chug-chug of the steam exhaust therefrom.

"That's that low-level pump!" I exclaimed. "They must have connected it up with the boil—"

Whoosh! that was just as far as I got. In the middle midst of the word "boilers" a two-inch jet of muddy water came curving up through one of the window openings to arch over and fall, splash, all over us as we sat munching our dinner. Everlastingly ruined the dinner, put out the fire, upset the coffee pot, and made drowned rats of both of us in less time than it takes to tell it—much less.

So much for that. Of course, we ran and ducked and dodged, like the drowned rats I speak of hunting for a hole. But now Bullerton's devilish engineering ingenuity came into play. By some means as yet unknown to us, he had contrived a movable nozzle to his squirt-gun, and in another minute there wasn't a single dry spot left in that shafthouse. I venture to say that Daddy and I and the dog ran a full mile trying to get out of range of that demoniacal nozzle-machine, but there wasn't a corner of the place that it couldn't, and didn't, reach.

In Another Minute There Wasn't a Single Dry Spot in the Shaft-House.

During the night the scoundrels had laid a pipe line from the pump in the boiler shed alongside of our prison fortress; this with an upright extension on the business end of it. At the top of the sandpipe stem there was an elbow with a short joint of pipe screwed into it to point our way; and on the end of this nozzle there was a piece of rubber hose. Under the jerky impulses of the pump strokes this flexible extension of the nozzle flopped up and down and around and sidewise, like the nose of a patent lawn sprinkler; and there you are—or there we were.

"Gosh-to-Solomon!" Daddy spluttered. "we ain't on the water wagon—we're spank inside of it! Are you rememberin', Stannie, that they can keep this gosh-dum thing up f'rever? All in the world they've got to do is to put a stick o' wood on the fire now and then! Say, son; they got us goin' and comin'; we can't eat, and we can't sleep no more whatever!"

"By heavens, I own those boilers, and if I could get a stick of dynamite under 'em, I'd fix the fellow that's firing 'em!" I shivered; and then the bright idea was born. "Say, Daddy, we can stop it!" I yelled; and just then the water devil outside made another fiendish flop and got me squarely in the face.

But it didn't drown the bright idea.

CHAPTER XV.

High Explosives.

The idea was one which ought to have suggested itself much sooner. The steam supply pipe for driving the big centrifugals at the shaft-mouth came through the wall over our heads, and it was the sight of this pipe, steaming even on the outside of its thick insulating jacket of asbestos under the wetting from the water jet, that had set me thinking.

A spinning twirl of the engine throttle valve set our machinery in motion, and when I had thrown the pump clutch in, we crouched again in the least-wet corner to watch the index of the tell-tale steamgauge connected into the supply pipe.

We knew that the centrifugals were voracious steam-eaters; we had proved that when we were running them in the week-long test. I had a notion that maybe Bullerton had fired only one of the battery of three boilers to run his shower-bath machine, and the result speedily confirmed this assumption. In a few minutes the steam pressure had dropped to a point at which it would no longer drive any of the pumps, either ours or the one outside, and the window cataract stopped.

"This will be only a breathing space," I prophesied, getting up to squeeze some of the superfluous water out of my clothes. "Bullerton will do one of two things: fire the other two boilers, or disconnect this steam pipe of ours."

"Reckon so?" said Daddy.

"You'll see in a minute or so."

The attack began even while we were speaking, sundry hammerings and twistings that shook the pipe overhead proving that the besiegers were going to stop the leak by cutting us off from the boilers.

"Take your whirl at the inventions, this time, Daddy!" I urged. "When they get this supply pipe cut out, we'll be in for another ducking—and one that we can't stop."

Daddy was shaking his head and wringing the moisture—and mud—out of his beard.

"Jerusalem-to-gosh, Stannie, we got to take a chance!" he muttered. "Anyways, I'd about as lief die as be drowned to death. We'll have to muss that blacksmith shop up and get it out o' the way, somehow. Gimme a match out o' that tin box o' your'n—if they ain't all soaked to a jiz-whizzlin' sop."

I found the matches, which, luckily, were still dry, and handed him one. Before I fairly realized what he was going to do, he had taken one of the dynamite cartridges out of its bucket hiding place and was splitting the fuse with his pocketknife.

"Open that there door into the shop," he commanded; and when I obeyed mechanically, out went the bomb, fizzing and sputtering, to land in a heap of scrap iron piled on the farther side of the stone-built forge. The sight of it smoking and spitting sparks in the heap of scrap half hypnotized me, I guess, for I stood gaping at it, with the door held open, until Daddy Hiram jerked me away, slammed the door and yelled to me to help him bar it.

We had barely time to get the door closed and fastened with the heavy wooden bar and to throw ourselves flat on the floor behind the hoisting machinery before the crash came. As I have previously said, the blacksmith shop was a rather flimsy, shed-like affair, roofed with corrugated iron, and it seemed to us as if broken timbers and pieces of sheet metal were raining down for a full minute after the blast went off.

The shock to everything in the vicinity was, of course, tremendous and the stout old shaft-house itself rocked and swayed like a tree in a hurricane. But the walls still stood intact, and when we got up and peeped through a hole which a piece of the flying scrap had torn in the door, we could see what we had done. It was a-plenty. The blacksmith shop had disappeared, leaving nothing but a scattering of wreckage. The heavy anvil had been thrown from its block and the forge looked as if a giant had kicked it. Out by the boiler-shed a rack of cordwood had been toppled over and under it a man was struggling to free himself. When he saw the imprisoned enemy that mild-mannered, soft-spoken old soldier that I was shut up with would have opened the door and shot the struggler if I hadn't stopped him.

This blowing up of the shop settled the shower-bath business for us definitely. With the impediment out of the way we had a clear view on this third side; could command the row of miners' cabins, as well as the boilers in their open shed. When I got through persuading Daddy Hiram that we couldn't afford to murder the wounded, the fellow who had been wrestling with the woodpile had made his exit and there was nobody in sight. Shortly afterward a bullet, fired from somewhere in the forest background, whanged upon our roof, and there were several to follow; but aside from punching a few more holes in the iron they did no harm.

"Looks like the 'Hercules' is the one thing they're most skeered of," said Daddy, with his queer little stuttering chuckle. "Now maybe they'll leave us have time to get ourselves dried out a mite."

Totting up the results of the shower-bath we'd had, a bread famine promised to be the worst of them. The few cans of beans, tomatoes and peaches—the campers' standbys—were unhurt, of course, and the muddied bacon could be washed with water drawn from the flooded shaft. But the flour in its sack was merely a blob of paste and was beyond redemption and the cornmeal was the same. In view of the results I wondered if Bullerton hadn't shrewdly calculated upon washing our commissary out of existence when he planned his overgrown lawn-sprinkler. But maybe that was giving him credit for more ingenuity than he really had.

Through what remained of the afternoon the rifle firing continued, coming sometimes from one angle and sometimes from another, but always cannily from a safe distance and always under cover of the surrounding forest. Daddy Hiram, grimly optimistic, extracted a swallow or so of encouragement out of the persistent pot-shooting.

"Dunno as you've ever noticed it, Stannie, but if you'll only let a hog alone long enough he'll shove himself under the bob-wire fence far enough to get caught," he said. "Charley Bullerton, now; he's plum' forgot that 'Tropia's less 'n five miles away and that sound carries mighty long distances in these mountains in clear weather."

"What difference does that make?" I asked.

"It may make a heap o' difference. Looks to me like somebody—Buddy Fuller, 'r Jim Haggerty, the section boss, 'r some of 'em down yonder 'd begin a-wonderin', after a spell, what in tarnation all this here blastin' and rifle-poppin' up on old Cinnabar is a p'intin' at and come and see."

"Do you think the racket will carry that far?"

"It sure will. One night afore 'Tropia had gone as dead as she is now, a bunch o' cowpunch's got into an argyment at Blue-nose Bill's place and we heard the crackin' and poppin' up here—Jeanie and me—like it was just over yonder in Greaser gulch."

"Well?" said I, "if your nephew or any of the others hear it, what then?"

As I asked the question one of the low-aimed shots tore through the side of the building, struck the iron frame of the hoist, flattened itself and dropped into the old man's lap. Picking up the hot bit of lead to dandle it from hand to hand he went on much as if picking up bullets that were fired at him had been his daily recreation.

"Curiosity killed the cat, Stanine, son. You let some one o' the folks down yonder in 'Tropia say, 'By gol—I wonder what all that shootin's for?' and the next thing you know, somebody'll be moggin' up here to find out."

Along about dusk some member of the besieging party tried to make a reconnaissance. I happened to be keeping the lookout on the cabin side of our fortress and saw a man dodging among the pines back of the house. When I reported to Daddy he took a snap shot at the place I pointed out to him and there was a wild yell and a stir in the young pines as though a hog were galloping through them.

"Just to let 'em know that we're still alive and kickin'," said the old man, with another of his quavery chuckles. "I reckon maybe that's what they was aimin' to find out."

Possibly it was. At all events, the rifle fire stopped with the coming of darkness, and as we faced our second night of defense we had plenty of time to sit around and think and speculate upon what the outcome was going to be.

Taking it all in all, it was the fantastic humor of the thing that hit me hardest. Six short weeks earlier people at home had been calling me all the hard names that fall to the lot of the idle ne'er-do-well; a young chap with enough inheritance money to keep him in ties and shoes and shirts and to buy gas for his car—though that last asked for a good bit on the rising cost of gasoline—and not enough to make life, or anything connected therewith, very much worth while.

Also these same people were saying—behind my back, of course, but there were always plenty of them to repeat the saying to my face—that I was good stock gone to seed, would never amount to a hill of beans in anything that asked for initiative or resourcefulness, or primitive rough stuff of any sort; that I was due to go on dolling myself up and playing skittles to the end of the chapter—which would probalby stage itself in an asylum for the feeble-minded. Also, again, at that same time, which was six weeks—or six thousand years—ago, I was engaged to Lisette; with mighty little prospect of marrying her, to be sure, but with no thought of marrying anybody else.

And now . . . I looked around at the shadowy walls of the grim old Cinnabar shaft-house, looming darkly and still dripping, tick, tack, from their early-afternoon mud bath; felt my soggy clothes; stared across at Daddy Hiram sitting backed up against the hoist with his legs jackknifed and his hands locked over his knees; it was a grotesque pipe-dream; there was no other name for it. I broke out in a laugh that was a bellow.

"Split it up, Stannie," urged the old man dryly. "I allow you ain't goin' to be close-fisted enough to keep a good joke all to yourself in no such a hoe-down as this."

"I'll try," I said, and did it the best I knew how, giving him some idea of the life I had lived and its earth-wide, abysmal difference from the experience of the past six weeks.

Silence for a time and then:

"Book-learnin' and good clothes and eatin' with a flat fork 'r' all right, Stannie, but they don't make the man n'r the woman; there's got to be somethin' inside; somethin' a heap bigger than any o' them things."

"Quite so," I admitted.

Another silence and at the end of it the old philosopher again:

"You been sort o' sore about my Jeanie, since yesterday . . . She's been eatin' your gran-paw's bread, like me, and you thought, and I thought, that she might at least 've waited a little spell afore she run off with Charley Bullerton. Maybe we've been jumpin' at things too sudden, Stannie. What made her ride 'way up yonder to Greaser sidin' to catch that train? And how come Charley Bullerton to marry her one day and be up here with his bunch o' gunmen by daybreak the nex' mornin'?"

"Has Jeannie friends in Angels with whom she could be staying?" I asked.

"Not a single soul. He'd a-had to leave her at the Chink's hotel; and that ain't no place for a woman, married 'r t'otherwise."

"But supposing they didn't go to Angels?"

"There ain't no other place they could go and let him get back, as you might say, in the same day."

"Say it all, Daddy," I prompted.

"There ain't much to say, Stannie, boy, 'ceptin' what I said afore, that maybe we'd been jumpin' at things sort o' blind-like. Jeannie's got a heap o' sense—if I do say it as shouldn't—and the whole gee-ripittin' thing, as we been puttin' it up, ain't no more like her than winter's like dog-days."

Having run the subject into a corner we were both speechless for a little time and I think it was almost with a sense of relief that we sprang alert when the dog, hitherto sleeping quietly at our feet, jumped up and ran to hold his nose at the threshold of the door opening upon the dump head.

CHAPTER XVI

Burnt Matches.

Following the dog to the door, we could neither see nor hear anything going on outside, though Barney's sniffings under the door and his low growl warned us that something was afoot, either on the dump head or in the partly wrecked cabin beyond. While we were still peeping and peering, each at his auger-hole and each ready to take an offhand shot at anything that seemed suspicious, the silence of the mountain night was ripped and torn by the most hideous clamor imaginable, arising, apparently, in the cabin or perhaps from the groving of trees just behind it. The racket was deafening; comparable to nothing that I'd ever heard; a magnified orchestration, so to speak, of the pandemonium made by a crowd of country boys serenading a newly married pair with tin, pans and such-like noise-making implements.

"What in the name o' Joab!" stuttered Daddy Hiram. "Reckon them gosh-dummed pirateers 've gone plum' loony?"

"Wait," I qualified, and I had to shout to make myself heard. "There'll be more to follow. This is only the curtain-raiser."

I Stared Across at Daddy Hiram.

But my guess appeared to be no good. For quite some little time we crouched, guns at the ready, prepared to repel the assault which we naturally supposed would be made under cover of the distracting racket. But there was no assault, though the meaningless clamor kept up without abatement.

By the time we were beginning to grow a trifle hardened to it the clamor stopped as abruptly as it had begun and the silence which succeeded was even more deafening than the noise had been. While I fancied I could see dim figures stealing down the road that led to the bench below, I heard Daddy say: "Now, what in the name o' Jeholachim—"

He had turned away from his peephole and I could sense, rather than see, that he was rubbing his eyes. Then I realized that upon me, also, a sudden blindness had fallen; the interior of the shafthouse had become as dark as the inside of a pocket. The effect was so stupefying that it took both of us a minute or so to understand that some change as yet undefinable had been wrought either in us or in our surroundings during the noisy interlude.

"Great Jehu!" exclaimed the old man—though he was within arm's-reach I could make him out only as a dim shadow—"Great Jehu! I—I b'lieve I'm goin' blind, Stannie! I—I can't see nothin' a-tall!"

"Don't worry," I hastened to say; "I'm in the same boat. We've been looking too long and steadily through those auger-holes. It'll pass in a minute."

But it didn't pass and presently the voice of my old side partner came again out of the darkness.

"P'raps it's cloudin' up some," he suggested in a half-whisper. "I can't see no stars through them windows."

At this I looked toward the window openings, but the interior blackness had blotted them out completely. Almost instinctively I turned back to the door and put an eye to a loophole. One glance was enough. The trouble, whatever it might be, was with us and not with the sky. The stars were shining as brightly as ever.

"Don't move, Daddy," I cautioned, and then groped my way along the wall and climbed to the top of our earth-sack breastwork at a point which I guessed to be under the nearest of the two windows.

When I drew myself up and tried to thrust a hand through the opening the mysterious darkness was explained. The window embrasures were stopped up, both of them, on the outside by something that felt like a heavy canvas curtain, though how the curtain was held in place I could not determine. But it was firmly braced in some way. With all the purchase I could get—which wasn't much—I couldn't dislodge it or push it aside.

Making my way back to the door I told Daddy what I had found.

"Huh!" he said; "that old tarpaulin that was out yonder in the ore shed. How d'ye reckon they got it there, Stannie?"

"It's hoisted on a framework of some kind, and they did it while we were rubbering and trying to find out what all that noise was about."

We were not kept very long in doubt as to what the next enemy move was to be. With the cessation of the tom-tom clatter the collie had grown curiously restless. We couldn't see him, but we could hear him running from post to pillar, sniffing at the cracks and occasionally giving a whining growl. Presently he began to cough and sneeze; then he came racing back to us, flattening himself to hold his nose to the crack under the door and taking long breaths as if he were half stifled. I stooped to pat him and immediately imagined I was smelling burning sulphur matches.

"Get down here, Daddy, and smell this dog!" I whispered. "Is it old-fashioned matches, or what?"

One sniff was all that the old man needed.

"Gosh-to-gee-whiz—brimstone!" he choked; "them devils are smokin' us out! That's why they stopped up them window holes; so we couldn't get any air!"

There appeared to be little enough time for any defensive move. The asphyxiating gas was coming stronger every moment, and any search for its source seemed utterly hopeless. Yet we went at it, coughing and choking, and stumbling over everything in the darkness, as a matter of course.

After all it was Barney who (I honor him with the human pronoun because he certainly deserved it) it was Barney who showed us the devil's doorway. The red glow was now sending enough light through cracks and crevices and the bullet rippings overhead to make our inner darkness a degree or so less than Stygian. Missing the dog for a moment at our common breathing hole, we saw him circling a particular spot in the floor and snarling at it as if it were something alive.

At that we both remembered that the shafthouse floor was raised a foot or so from the rocky ledge on the down-mountain side, and that the space underneath was partly open. Daddy pointed to the circling dog.

"Barney's got it!" he panted. "They've run their chimney up under the floor!" Then: "Where in Sam Hill did you leave that ax?"

The ax was near at hand and I ran for it. Holding my breath I began to chop madly at the floor planking. By this time the air was so bad that it was impossible to breathe it, and after a few blows I had to drop the ax and run to the breathing gap. Daddy took his cue instantly, snatching up the ax as I flung it down and hacking away as long as he could hold his breath. When he was forced to make a bolt for the life-saving hole in the door, I ran in again; thus got a couple of the floor planks loose and pried them out.

In the space beneath the open-cracked floor we found Bullerton's chimney end; an old discarded boiler flue, it seemed to be, leading up from the bench below. From unearthing the deadly thing to muzzling it with one of our wet blankets was the breathless work of only a minute or two; and with the gas-main thus shut off, the air in the shafthouse soon became bearable again, the hole we had chopped through the floor serving as a ventilator through which the cool, crisp night air came rushing in a revivifying blast.

Our first care, after a prolonged silence led us to believe that the raiders had withdrawn to study up some fresh scheme for getting rid of us, was to get a bar and pry our two doors open so that the breeze might blow through and air the place out a bit.

Daddy Took His Cue Instantly.

Closing and barring the doors after the sulphur stench had been reduced to a mere match-box odor, we established our night-watch, Daddy Hiram taking the first trick under a solemn promise to call me at the end of a couple of hours. This time he behaved better, rousing me a little before midnight. He reported everything quiet, and pointed to the sleeping dog as evidence that there were no intruders within smelling distance.

"Been that-away ever since you turned in," he said, meaning, as I took it, that the dog had been resting easy. "You can just keep an eye on Barney. If anything goes to stirrin', he'll know it afore you will."

Nothing did stir; and after Daddy had gone to wrap himself in his damp blankets, I had my work cut out for me keeping awake; in fact, I shouldn't want to swear that I was fully awake during all of the one hundred and twenty minutes that my sentry-go lasted. No matter about that. Bullerton didn't spring any more surprises on us during my watch; and when I turned the fortress over to Daddy at two o'clock I was able to pass the "all quiet" report back to him and go to the blankets with an easy conscience.

I had just dropped asleep, as it seemed to me—though in reality I had slept like a log for more than two hours—when Daddy Hiram came to shake me awake.

"Somethin' doin'," he announced quietly, and when I sat up I saw that the collie was moving uneasily from one door to the other, stopping now and then to stand motionless with his ears cocked and his head on one side:

"Barney hears something," I ventured; and a moment later Daddy broke in:

"Huh! it's plain enough for my old ears, now; it's a wagon comin' across the bench."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Unwritten Law of Hospitality.

No less binding than the Hippocratic oath, taken by physicians on entering their profession, promising never to divulge any secrets obtained through their practice as physicians, is the great unwritten law of hospitality that makes it obligatory on the host or hostess or members of the host's household, to respect the personality of all those who tarry within their gates. Recounting peculiarities or petty faults of our neighbors and acquaintances is at best a mean way of diverting ourselves and our friends—though it is something that we all do at some time or other—but when the persons about whom we gossip are our guests, or the information we have about them was derived when they were our visitors, our conduct is beneath contempt.

All things worth doing are apt to be difficult before they are easy.

Some Merchants Feature
Quality

The New York Store offers both

Some Merchants Feature
Price

The busiest Store in town, (and it's a fact) is winning the friendship of hundreds of women and men, not because of the quality alone, or the price alone, but becanse we have found out of the people they want quality cloths but want them at low prices and we heve both.

Boys fine wash suits, sold up to $2.00
$1.19
Sizes 3 to 8
A Real Bargain

Children's ginghams dresses. Sold up to $1.19 going at 98c
Sizes 7 to 14
A Real Bargain

THE NEW YORK STORE

The Store With the Red Front

BEST SHOE SHOP

Bring your shoe work here for first class service at moderate prices.

Laces and polishes—In fact' everything for the shoe at bottom figures.

New and second hand shoes for men only at better prices than you can get elsewhere.

NOTICE our Panco Soles, for men women and children. Guaranteed for the life of the shoes.

Heavy shoes for Farmers and outdoor work. Guaranteed to last 12 months. Any repairs needed during 12 months will be done free of charge.

The Best Shoe Shop

WATCH!

F. M. Connell's Stock

Some overalls, work shirts, underwear, ladies' and men's hose, towels etc. have arrived and he says they will be sold right. Try him and be convinced.

He is yet buying chickens eggs and country produce of all kinds that he can re-handle.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aumust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

County School Board.

Mrs. C. N. Parnell, of Maplesville, is hereby announced as a candidate for member of Chilton County School Board, subject to action of Democratic primary on August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by Mrs. C. N. Parnell, Maplesville, Ala.

Big Opening Sale at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

FOR COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

We are pleased to announce the name of Mrs. Beverly Hester, of Clanton, as a candidate for Member of the Chilton County School Board, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by Mrs. Beverly Hester.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner from the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on August 8.

H. E. ROBINSON.

(Paid political advertisement by H. E. Robinson.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8, 1922.

BOWEN L. JONES.

(Paid political adv. by Bowen L. Jones, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid politicol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary August 8th. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

G. D. RETHERFORD.

(Paid political advertisement by G. D. Retherford, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton County in the coming Democratic Primary election, to be held on August 8th, 1922.

C. REESE MULLINS.

(Paid political advertisement by C. Reese Mullins, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SOLICITOR

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for Circuit Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

CECIL E. ALEXANDER.

(Paid political advertisement by Cecil E. Alexander.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination as Circuit Judge of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, composing the 19th Judicial Circuit, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

GEO. F. SMOOT.

(Paid political advertisement by Geo. F. Smoot.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, on August 8th, 1922.

W. W. COBERN.

(Paid political advertisement by W. W. Cobern.)

We do Job Printing.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

The many friends of Mr. J. L. Johnson hereby announce him as a candidate for Representative from Chilton County in the next assembly, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8th.

THOS. M. PARRISH.

(Paid political advertisement by Thos. M. Parrish, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT SOLICITOR

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination as Circuit Solicitor for the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

VICTOR J. HEARD.

(Paid political adertisement by Victor J. Heard, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit composed of the counties of Chilton, Autauga and Elmore, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

B. K. McMORRIS.

(Paid political advertisement by B. K. McMorris, Wetumpka, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for State Senator from the fifteenth Senatorial district composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8.

S. M. ADAMS.

(Paid political advertisement by S. M. Adams, Thorsby, Ala)

We do Job Printing.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

At Sardis Second Sunday in May, May 14th.

9:30—Devotional services, by Rev. J. D. Deason.

10:00—The Sunday School and its Relation to the Social Problem, H. A. Harris and J. L. Johnson.

11:15—Selling the Sunday School, J. J. Pickens.

1:30—Devotional services, Rev. C. A. Taylor. The importance and How to secure Good Teachers for the Sunday School, Rev. C. A. Taylor.

2:00—The Contact of the Teacher with the Pupil, Rev. P. G. Carter.

2:40—Business.

3:00—Adjournment.

Graduating invitations are being issued by the finishing class at the High School now. They are neat and tasty and speak favorably by their appearance of the management of that popular institution.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon

Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.

PHONES
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce my candidacy for State Senator from the Fifteenth Senatorial District of Alabama, which is composed of the Counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held in August, 1922.

If elected to the Senate of Alabama, I shall support every measure, which proposes to reduce public expeses and thereby relieve the people of the State of some of the burdens of taxation. I shall support every measure, which will abolish useless and unnecessary offices, of which there are many. I shall oppose every measure which directly or indirectly exempts corporations from the payment of lawful taxes. I am not directly or indirectly connected with any corporation in Alabama, nor will I accept any place upon the pay roll of any corporation in this or any other state in the event of my nomination or election to the office of Senator. I am for Henry Ford first, last and all the time.

R. E. FITTS.

(Paid political advertisement by R. E. Fitts, Stanton, Alabama.)

Best grade Overalls $1.15 at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Circuit Court. In Equity.

Mrs. C. G. Deramus, Administratrix Complainant, vs. Arthur Tyus, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of G. C. Walker that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that his place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the beilef of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that publication be made in the Chilton County News, a new paper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him the said Arthur Tyus to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 22nd day of April, 1922, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office in Clanton, this 22nd day of March, 1922.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

3-23-4t.

See the beautiful [illegible] voile waists for 98c at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 CLANTON, ALABAMA, MAY 11, 1922. NUMBER 35

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Round Dozen.

On last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. R. E. Luckie was hostess to the Round Dozen Sewing Club. The ving room was made very pretty with potted plants. After some time spent in conversation and finger work the hostess served a delicious salad plate and ice tea to Mesdames, Hugh Jones, Simpson, L. C. Reynolds, Barney Roberts, Clyde Jones, Macy Jones, Polk.

Y. W. A. Meets.

On last Wednesday afternoon, Miss Ila McKee was the charming hostess to the Y. W. A., at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Gilvie McKee. The apartments were very attractive with roses. The following program was ed for the afternoon: Song, Blest the Tie. Scripture Reading, Acts 19; Prayer, Ila McKee; Reading of Minutes; Roll call, by Secretary, each member select a chapter in the Bible you like and make a minute or two talk on it. Talk, Read Psalm 51-1-17, en made talk on the true repentance David, Jewel Armstrong; Short talk, Mrs. Gowan; Dismissed by watch word. The hostess served a salad plate and ice tea.

Study Club Meets.

On last Friday afternoon, Mrs. P. I Wilson proved to be a very charming hostess when she entertained the Study Club. Owing to the absence of the President, Mrs. Hester, Vice-President, called the meeting to order. After the business session the following program was carried out: Subject, Chemistry of Household; Paper, Chemistry and its relation to the home, Mrs. McDavid; paper, the story of a lump of coal, Mrs. Heard; Debate: Resolved that imigration should be further restricted, affirmative, Mesdames Splawn Pickens; negative, Mrs. M. F. Jones; after which the hostess invited the guests to the dining room where a salad plate, strawberries and cake were served. The decorations for this room were sweet peas.

Mrs. Roberts Recital.

On Friday night the pupils of Mrs. Barney Roberts gave a very interesting recital at the high school auditorium. The following program was carried out: One, two, three, four, Herman Harris; Ten little fingers and ten little toes, Helen Roberts; Dear little daisy, Herman Harris and Jane Roberts; The brownie at the brook, Louise McSwain; The morning glory re, Jane Roberts; The little coquette, Edna Gray Thomas; Tyroliene, Mary McSwain; Guards march, Stella, Bessie and Edna Gray Thomas; Minuet in G. Ruth Sessions; Dolls Dream, Bessie Thomas; Springs approach, Ruth Splawn; Mortha, Ruth Sessions; The neglitingole, Song of the Lark, Stella Thomas; Serenade, Ethel Thompson; Pure as snow, Ruth Splawn; Duet, Bessie and Wynona Rogers; Scarf Dance, Bessie Rogers.

7th Grade Picnic.

Last Saturday the 7th Grade Pupils of the Grammar School was given a picnic out at Curry's camp. The young folks left at an early hour in trucks for the camp. Swimming and boat riding was very much enjoyed. and at the noon hour a very bountiful and very much enjoyed lunch was spread. Those chaperoning these young people were Prof. Ira Pegues, Misses Rawlinson and Selman.

Sunday School Class Picnic.

Miss Icelo Williams carried her Sunday school class of young boys and girls out on a little picnic Saturday. The cars left early for Bruce's Grove where these little young people enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent.

Birthday Party.

On Saturday afternoon, at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cox, Paul was the young host to a number of his friends, this being Paul's eleventh birthday. He received a number of useful presents. The host was assisted by his two sisters, Misses Lurline and Sarah, in entertaining his guests. Delicious cream and cake was served to a number of guests.

Sunday School Celebrates Mother's Day.

The members of the Philathia S. S. Class of the Methodist church celebrated Mother's Day at the residence of Mrs. J. C. Jones. Each member was to bring her mother, or some one to take her place. The entire lower floor was made very attractive with Dorothy Perkin Roses. In the dining room where punch was served by Mesdames Martin Nix and Luckie, also very attractive the punch table was banked with the Dorothy Perkin roses. The following program was carried out: Scripture reading, proverbs, 31, by Mrs. Barney Roberts; all repeating Lord's Prayer. Roll call, each member answering with a quotation to mother, Mother's Day, Mrs. McSwain; Vocal Solo, Mrs. Claud Reynolds; Home and mother, Mrs. Martin Nix; Vocal solo, Mrs. John Armstrong; eulogy to mother, Mrs. McDavid. After which the refreshment committee, which were Mesdames, J. C. Jone., Martin Nix, and Luckie, served ice cream and cake.

Miss Ila McKee is spending some time in Marbury the guest of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McDavid and little son, Cameron, Jr., spent Sunday in Montgomery, the guest of relatives.

Mesdames J. Q. Wade and W. I. Mullins left Monday to spend a month in Hot Springs, Ark.

Mrs. D. Y. Johnston and two little daughters, Janiebeth and Margaret spent several days in Rockford.

Mr. D. Y. Johnston spent Saturday in Birmingham.

Miss Flora Selman of Good Water, who is teaching in Jefferson County, spent the week-end with her sister, Miss Alice Brown Selman.

Misses Bessie and Wynona Rogers of Marbury spent Friday and Saturday with Mrs. Barney Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell Roper returned to Birmingham Sunday after spending some time here and at Coopers with relatives.

Mrs. Percy Pitts was among the shoppers to Birmingham Monday.

Prof. H. C. McDonald of Wetumpka filled the pulpit of the Baptist church Sunday in the absence of Pastor Carter.

Mesdames, Burns and Dophney of Georgia are the guests of their sister, Mrs. McDavid.

Mrs. Bryant McKee is spending this week at Marbury.

Major and Mrs. Frank Walker Young and little daughter, Margaret Ruth of Carlisle, Pa., have been the guests of Rev. and Mrs. David Pearson, leaving on Monday for Selma, carrying with them Mrs. Young, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Pearson.

SAD TRAGEDY AT MAPLESVILLE

John Ed. Beardon Shot By Milton McCormick

The usual quietude and serenity of the Sabbath day in Maplesville was rudely disturbed last Sunday when a young man, by the name of Milton McCormick shot and fatally wounded Mr. John Ed. Bearden at the latter's home.

The particulars as we have been able to gather them are as follows: It seems that young McCormick has been paying his addresses to the 17-year old daughter of Beardon. For some reason the father objected to the suit of the young man and forbade the girl from receiving any further attentions from McCormick. This is presumed to have greatly incenced the young man and after brooding over the matter he considered that nothing short of vengeance would satisfy his wounded honor.

Sunday he took a pump shot gun and repaired to the home of Mr. Bearden, who was at dinner at the time. Hearing a call at the gate Mr Bearden walked to his front door and the young man, who was standing at the gate, some twenty feet away, jerked up the weapon and fired two loads of shot into the bowels of the unsuspecting man.

Physicians were rushed to the scene and they immediaiely saw the desperate condition of the wounded man, so they put him in a car and hastened to the DuBose hospital at Selma, but all to no avail. Mr. Bearden died at eleven o'clock that night at the hospital, the wounds having been of such a nature that nothing could be done to avert death.

Mr. Bearden was a prominent farmer and prominent citizen of that community and his untimely death has been a great shock to those good people down there.

The young slayer was found by officers soon after the shooting at his home and gave no trouble in being arrested and was brought to the county jail here that same afternoon where he will await the convening of the next grand jury. We have been informed that he was comparitively a new comer in that section.

Such affairs as this are sad beyond expression and so absolutely unnecessary. A widow and orphans made. A young man placed in the shadow of the gallows. A new grave in the cemetery and dozens of lives saddened all because a devoted father was exercising his God-given prerogative of trying to care for his offspring.

A MAGNIFICENT RECORD

The Central Alabama Hospital is Building a Wonderful Efficincy Record.

It affords us unlimited pleasure to refer to the splendid record the Central Alabama Hospital has made so far in its service. The success attending the work done for suffering humanity up there is a high tribute not only to the excellent equipment of the institution, but to the physicians who handle the cases. The actual record of their successful operations is almost phenomenal. There is not an institution in the South that can surpass them and we doubt if their success so far can be equalled.

The people of Central Alabama should know these facts and keep tab on the actual service. It is impossible for a patient to be more efficiently attended to at any hospital for general service than right here in Clanton at this absolutely home enterprise. It merits all of the adjacent support, not alone on account of its being a home product, but it merits it by its actual record of first class service.

These are facts that we should all be proud of and induce us to lend every encouragement possible to the successful operation of this splendid institution.

Below are a few of the cases treated in the last week or so:

Mr Sam Reynolds, of Jemison, had a most serious attack of intestinal trouble and was brought here for treatment in a very precarious condition. Last Friday he went home a cured man.

Miss Lera Miller came to the hospital afflictrd with that peculiar malady known as "sleeping sickness." A disease, by the way, that even the medical authorities have never been able to diagnose. Saturday morning she returned home sound and well.

Mrs. J. C. Collins, of Siluria, was brought to the hospital last Friday afternoon afflicted with an aggravated case of double pneumonia. The attending physician said the trip would be useless, that she could not live 24 hours. She is living yet and on the road to recovery.

Sunday afternoon at five o'clock Mr. Filmore Childers was operated on at the hospital for appendicitis in its last analysis. He is doing nicely and will doubtless be out again in a few days.

We could make the record longer but space forbids. The same success has waited on their efforts from the very first.

The News most heartily congratulates the entire force up there, doctors, nurses and all, upon the wonderful work they are doing and may success still attend them in this great work.

Mr. S. E. Alverson spent Saturday in Montgomery.

Mrs. Barney Roberts and Miss Roberta Curry spent Saturday in Birmingham.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Mr. Jesse W. Woodyard and family left Sunday afternoon for Birmingham where they will reside for the present. Jesse says they are gone now but not to stay.

Dr. Hubbard returned to Greensboro Friday after visiting his daughter, Mrs. Reuben Reynolds.

Messrs I. A. Dennis, T. C. Perry, Ed Smitherman and Ralph Calloway came to Clanton last Sunday and brought Milton McCormick, who was lodged in jail charged with killing Mr. John Ed Bearden.

FOR SALE—A 2-horse power gasoline engine in perfect condition. Will sell extra cheap. Call at the News office.

Dr. Aurthur Johnson returned Tuesday from New Orleans where he has been for some time taking a special course in eye, ear, nose, throat and refraction. Dr. Johnson is well prepared for service having applied himself in the interest of his growing practice.

Mr. J. L. Williams of Route 4, was here Saturday attending the farmers meeting.

Mr. Frank Bates and Mr. and Mrs. Bilbrey of LaGrange, Ga., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Atkinson.

Mrs. Anna Pope and Miss Anna Logan of Blocton, spent the week-end with Mrs. W. I. Mullins.

Mr. T. A. Curry spent several days at Wetumpka last week.

Mr. W. H. Killingsworth, of Jemison, was in Clanton last Saturday on business matters.

Mr. J. M. Smith, of Jemison, was among those who came to Clanton last Saturday.

Mr. B. D. Pearmon of Jemison, spent last Saturday in Clanton looking after personal matters.

Major Lamar Jeffers passed through Clanton Tuesday enroute to Washington. The Major had been down on the Mississippi River with several other Congressmen inspecting the flooded district.

He is very much gratified with the political situation over the country generally. Especially does he appreciate the fact that he has no opposition in the coming primary. This enables him to remain at his post of DUTY wth the entire satisfaction that his constituents are highly pleased with his service in congress. However, when Congress adjourns he will be heard from in the "Old Fourth Ala., Congressional District."

FOR SALE—One Jersey Cow. Calf ten days old. Good milk and butter cow. See Mr. F. R. WOODYARD.

Mrs. Emma Allen of St. Petersburg, Fla., is visiting Mrs. Laura White.
Birthday Party.

Messrs H. H. Harison, W. M. O'Neal, J. A. Samples, and Wool were here Monday in the interest of keeping their voting box at Riderville, Ala.

Mr. Henry Robinson, of Route 4, was in Clanton Saturday. Mr. Robinson is a candidate for Commissioner in his district. Chilton affords no better ctizen than Mr. Robnson.

Those who missed the "Vaughan Quartet" at the high school building last Thursday night missed a real treat. It is seldom that people in small size towns have an opportunity of hearing so fine a quartet.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Retherford were among those who attended the Memorial Services at New Salem last Sunday.

Mr. Roy Fitts, of Old Reliable Beat 8, was in town Monday. Mr. Fitts is in the race for State Senator from this district. Mr. Fitts is a successful business man.

Mr. and Mrs. David Vines, of Mitchell Dam, were in town last Friday Mrs. Vines was formerly Miss Nix who was one of the successful teachers at the Grammar School this year.

Mr. W. A. Calloway, one of the many excellent citizens of Beat 5, was in town Monday.

Birthday Party.

On last Friday evening Master Stewart Armstrong celebrated his fourteenth birthday, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Armstrong. Guests were invited to register as they arrived. Games were enjoyed until a late hour. Ice Cream and cake were served and then later delicious fruits to Misses Lurline Minor, Leola Wilson, Ruby Armstrong, Lula Mae Mims, Lena Mims, Jewel Armstrong, Pearl Miner and Ola Mims and Messrs Stewart and Jackson Afmstrong, Herschel Gore, Thomas Sims, Grady Parrish, Jim Roberts, Leon Sanford and Samuel Martin.

If the farmers could have a period of dry weather now until about June 1st the prospect for a good crop would be fine.

Graduating invitations are being issued by the finishing class at the High School now. They are neat and tasty and speak favorably by their appearance of the management of that popular institution.

STATEMENT OF CONDITION

PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

CLANTON, ALABAMA

CLOSE OF BUSINESS MAY 5, 1922.

RESOURCES:

Loans	$111,964.19
Overdrafts	5.65
Real Estate	12,500.00
Banking House	2,700.00
Furniture & Fixtures	2,727.25
United States Bonds	57,800.00
Cash in Vault and Banks	177,308.39
Total.	$395,005.48

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	52,052.13
Deposits	327,953.35
Total	$395,005.48

MEN AND FIGURES

A Bank's solvency is more than a matter of figures. A balanced statement of condition, with its array of figures is accepted by the public in confidence proportionate to the confidence in the men behind the figures. There is a value that is not shown in figures—it is the value that lies in men. The PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK'S service to you is based on men of tried character.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

J. B. DOWNS, N. S. JOHNSON, J. WATTS. MOORE, F. J. CALLEN, J. HANCE ALRED, H. S. SHAW, LAWRENCE F. GERALD.

These Directors together with eleven other stock holders (all citizens of CHILTON COUNTY) own the PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK.

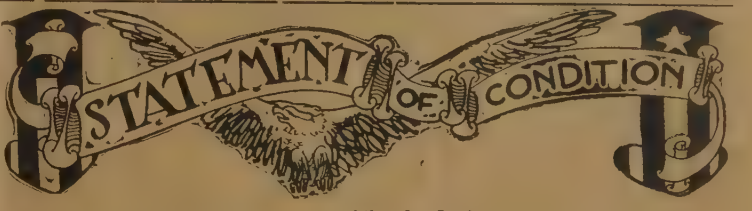
Do You Patronize Home Institutions?

Personally appeared before me, F. J. Callen, President of the Peoples Savings Bank, who on oath, states that the above is a correct statement, at the close of business May 5, 1922.

F. J. CALLEN, President.

Attest:—
J. B. DOWNS,
N. S. JOHNSON,
J. HANCE ALRED,
Directors.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 9th day of May, 1922.
J. R. MULLINS, Notary Public.



of the

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

of
CLANTON, ALABAMA.
MAY 5, 1922.

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$186,696.75
Overdrafts	87.04
United States Bonds	30,000.00
Other Bonds	10,100.00
Furniture and Fixtures	2,361.14
Redemption Fund	1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank	1,200.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks	62,713.94
Total	$294,658.87

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	$ 30,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	10,453.33
Circulation	30,000.00
Deposits	224,205.54
Total	$294,658.87

Resources over Quarter Million Dollars

Member of Federal Reserve System of United States Government,
The Strongest Financial System in the World.

The Girl, a Horse and a Dog

By FRANCIS LYNDE

Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons

CHAPTER XVI.—Continued

—10—

Now the presence of a wagon on our bench at this early hour in the morning might mean either one of two diametrically opposite things: Our deliverance; or the upcoming of reinforcements for the raiders. We were not left long in doubt. Shortly after the rack-rack of the wagon wheels stopped we heard footsteps, and the hair stiffened on Barney's back. Next we heard Bullerton's voice, just outside and apparently under our window openings.

"Broughton!" the voice called; "can you hear me?"

"So well that you'd better keep out of range!" I snapped back.

"All right—listen. You've got to get out, Broughton—that's flat. I haven't wanted to go to extremes. For perfectly obvious and commonplace reasons I don't want to have to kill you to get rid of you. But we are not going to gentle you any more. You've already hurt four of my men, and two of the four are crippled. The next time we hit you, it'll be for a finish."

"Yes," said I. "You brought the new club up in a wagon, didn't you?"

He ignored this.

"We could starve you out if we chose to take the time. I know pretty well what you've got to eat—or rather what you haven't got. It's your privilege to take your life in your own hands, Broughton; that's up to you. But how about the old man?"

"The old man's a-plenty good and able to speak for hisself!" yapped Daddy. "You do your durndest, Charley Bullerton!"

"All right, once more. You'll hear from us directly, now; and as I said before, we've quit gentling you. That's my last word."

For a time after this the silence, and the darkness, since it was the hour before dawn, were thick enough to be cut with an ax. But the dog was more restless than ever, and we knew that something we could neither see nor hear must be going on. After a while I asked the question that had been worrying me ever since I had heard the wagon wheels.

"What did they bring up in that wagon, Daddy—a Gatling?"

"The Lord only knows, Stannie—and he won't tell," was the old prospector's reply, made with no touch of irreverence; and the words were scarcely out of his mouth before a thunderbolt struck the shafthouse.

CHAPTER XVII.

Tit for Tat.

That word "thunderbolt" is hardly a figure of speech. The thing that hit us couldn't be compared to anything milder than thunder and lightning. There was a flash, a rending, ripping roar as if the solid earth were splitting in two, and the air was filled with flying fragments and splinters. Air, I say, but the acrid, choking gas which filled the shafthouse could scarcely be called air.

"Dynamite—that's what they fetched in that wagon!" gurgled the old man at my side, and I could have shouted for joy at the mere sound of his voice, since it was an assurance that he hadn't been killed outright.

"It's only a question of a little time, now, Daddy," I prophesied. "What you said yesterday—that Bullerton would try to get possession without destroying the property—no longer holds good. He has evidently decided that we've got to be ousted, even at the expense of building a new shafthouse and installing new machinery. Why has he changed his mind, when he knows that he could starve us out in a few days?"

"I been thinkin' about that, right p'intedly, Stannie. Shouldn't wonder if somethin's in the wind—somethin' we don't know about."

"Then there's another thing," I put in. "Supposing, just for the sake of argument, that our first guess was right: that he did take Jeanie to Angels three days ago and that they were married there. You know your daughter, Daddy, and I know her, a little. Nobody but an idiot would suppose that she'd live with Bullerton as his wife for a single minute if he makes himself your murderer."

"It sure does look that-away to a man up a tree," admitted the stout old fighter.

"I'm hanging on to the little hope like a dog to a root, Daddy," I confessed. "If I can only keep on believing that they're not married, I can put up a better fight, or be snuffed out if I have to be with a good few less heart-burnings."

But at this the old man, who, no longer ago than the yesterday, had seemed to lean definitely toward the [illegible] hypothesis, suddenly changed front.

"Don't you go to bankin' on anything like that, Stannie, son," he said in a tone of deep discouragement. "Charley Bullerton's a liar, from the place where they make liars for a' livin', and 'tain't goin' to be no trick a-tall for him to make Jeanie, and a lot o' other folks, b'lieve that we blowed ourselves up with our own dynamite. No, sir; don't you go to bankin' on that."

"Then you do believe that Jeanie went with Bullerton?"

"Looks like there ain't nothing else left to believe," he asserted dolefully. "Look at it for yourself, son: she's been gone three whole days. If she hadn't gone with him—and the good Lord only knows where else she could have gone—don't you reckon she'd 've been back here long afore this? No, Stannie; we been lettin' the 'wish it was' run away with the 'had to be.' I reckon we just got to grit our teeth, son, and tough it out the best we can."

During this waiting interval, which seemed like hours and was probably only a few minutes, we were momentarily expecting another crash. It did not come; but in due course of time we heard a stir outside and then voices, and one of the voices, which was not Bullerton's said: "I'll bet that ca'tridge smoked 'em out good 'an' plenty, cap'n. Gimme th' ax, Tom, till we bust open the door an' have a squint at 'em."

Just at that moment a submerging wave of depression surged over me and shoved me down so deep that I think possibly if Bullerton had called out and demanded our surrender I should have been tempted to tell him that I was not so much of a hog as not to know when I had enough. But the old man squeezed in beside me under the arched boiler plate was made of better fiber; he was game to the last hair in his beard. With a wild-Indian yell, he hunched his Winchester into position and fired once, twice, thrice, at the door, as rapidly as he could pump the reloading lever.

A spattering fusillade was the reply to this, but the aim was bad and the only result was to set the air of our prison fortress to buzzing as if a swarm of angry bees had been turned loose on us. After this, the raiders withdrew, so we judged; at all events, the silence of the dark hour before daybreak shut down upon us again, and once more we had space in which to "gather our minds," as Daddy put it.

It may be a dastardly confession of weakness to admit it, but I am free to say that the prolonged struggle was gradually undermining my nerve. If Bullerton had made up his mind to write off the loss of the mine buildings and machinery, it was a battle lost for us. It could be only a question of a little time, and enough daylight to enable the bombers to throw straight, until we should be buried in the wreck of the shafthouse and hoist—and without the privilege of dying in a good, old-fashioned, stand-up fight.

All of this I hastily pointed out to Daddy Hiram, adding that, for Jeanie's sake, if for no better reason, he ought to take his chance of staying upon earth. As long as I live I shall always have a high respect for the wrath of a mild-mannered man. The old prospector was fairly Berserk, mad, foaming at the mouth, and short of dragging him out by main strength there was no way of making him let go.

"No, sir; I done promised your gran'paw 'at I'd stand by for him, and he paid me money for doin' it. When them hellions get this here mine, they're goin' to dig a hole somewheres and bury me afterward," was all I could get out of him.

We were not given very much more time for discussion, or for anything else. The first faint graying dawn was coming, and with the partial lightening of the inner gloom, we craned our necks—like a double-headed turtle peering out of its shell—and got a glimpse of the damage done by the initial thunderbolt. We saw it without any trouble: a great hole torn in the sheetiron roof directly over the hoist and shaft mouth. Knowing the use and effect of explosives pretty well, Daddy said that the bomb had gone off prematurely; had exploded before it had fairly lighted upon the roof.

"If it hadn't—if it had been layin' on the roof when it went off—we wouldn't be lookin' up at that hole right now, Stannie, my son. We'd be moggin' up the golden stair and a-wonderin' how much farther it was to the New Jerusalem, and what kind o' harps they was goin' to give us when we got there. We sure would."

We didn't keep our heads out very long. While we were staring up at the hole and at the patch of sky beyond it, a small dark object with a smoke-blue comet's tail trailing behind it crossed our line of sight, and we ducked and held our breath—or at least, I held mine. The crash came almost immediately, and it was followed in swift succession by a second and a third. Luckily, none of the three hit the shaft-house, nor, indeed, fell very near to it; and this uncertainty of aim told us where the attack was coming from. The bomb throwers were posted somewhere on the steep slope of the mountain above us; the slope which I have described as running up from the brink of the abrupt cliff overlooking the mine plant.

"They'll get the range after a while," Daddy grunted. "And when they do, I reckon it'll be good-by, fair world, for a couple of us and one mighty good dog. I'm a-tellin' you, Stannie, son, the shot that comes down through that hole fixes us a-plenty. Sufferin' Methusaleh! whatall is the folks down yonder at 'Tropia a-dreamin' about, to let all this bangin' and whangin' go on up here without comin' up to find out what's makin' it?"

The Atropia that I remembered was so nearly moribund that I didn't wonder it wasn't making any stir in our behalf; so, when a few pattering rifle shots which seemed to originate on the great bench below began to sift in among the bomb echoes, I took it that Bullerton had divided his force and was trying to rattle us two ways at once. As for that, however, the bigger bombardment kept us from speculating very curiously upon anything else. Two more of the giant crackers had fallen to the right of us, one of them into the wreck of the blacksmith shop, to send up a spouting volcano of scrap which fell a second or so later in a thunderous rain; and then. . . .

For a flitting instant it seemed as if it must drop squarely in front of the iron shield under which we were jammed—in which case even the undertaker wouldn't have been needed—nor any whatsoever, as Daddy Hiram would have said. But at the critical point in its flight the hurtling thing "ticked" the top of the hoist frame and its downward course was deflected the needed hair's-breadth, causing it to come down beyond the machinery, and not on our side of things. Nevertheless, we were cowering in anticipation of a blast which would most likely heave the entire machinery aggregation over bodily upon us when the explosion came.

We saw the belching column of flame and gas going skyward beyond the machinery barrier, taking a full half of the roof with it, as if the blast had come from the mouth of a gigantic cannon. We were dazed and deafened by the shock, and half choked by the fumes, but neither of us was so far gone as not to hear distinctly a prolonged and rumbling crash like the thunder of a small Niagara, coming after the smash!

"The shaft!" shrilled Daddy Hiram, in a thin, choked voice; "it went off down in the shaft! And, say!—what-all's that we're a-listenin' to now!"

If there had been a dozen of the bombs raining down I don't believe the threat of them would have kept us from bursting out of our dodge-hole to go and see what had happened in the mine shaft. But before we could determine anything more than that the mouth of the shaft was completely hidden under a mass of wreckage, and that the mysterious Niagara roar, dwindled somewhat, but yet hollowly audible, was still going on under the concealing mass of broken timbers and sheet-iron, there was a masterful interruption. Shots, yells, shoutings and hot curses told us that a fierce battle of some kind was staging itself just outside of our wrecked fortress; whereupon Daddy Hiram began pawing his way to the door, yelling like a man suddenly gone dotty.

"That there's old Ike Beasley—dad-blame his old hide!" he chittered. "There ain't nary 'nother man in the Timanyonis 'at can cuss like that. He's come with a posse, and they're layin' out Charley Bullerton's crowd!"

There was a fine little tableau spreading itself out for us when we had clambered over the wreckage and had withdrawn the wooden bar and flung the door wide. Daddy Hiram had called the turn and named the trump. The large, desperadoish-looking man who had once interviewed me at Angels, and a little later had paused in his combing of the mountains in search of me to usurp my place at the Twomblys' breakfast table, this bewhiskered giant, with a goodish bunch of followers—hard-boiled to a man, they looked to be—had surrounded a fair half of the would-be "jumpers" and were handcuffing them with a celerity that was truly admirable. And Beasley, himself, square-jawed and peremptory, was shoving Bullerton up against the side of the shaft-house, snapping the irons upon his wrists and counseling him, with choice epithets intermingled, to save up his troubles and tell them to the judge.

The Crash Came Almost Immediately.

As we emerged from our wrecked fortress, other members of the posse were scattering to round up the outlying bomb-throwers, who had apparently taken to the tall timber in a panic-stricken effort to escape. Down on the bench below there were horses and horse-holders; and among the horses one whose boyish-looking rider was just slipping from the saddle. While I was wondering vaguely why the Angels town marshal had let a mere boy come along on such a battle errand, the boyish figure ran up the road and darted in among us to fling itself into Daddy Hiram's arms, gurgling and half crying and begging to be told if he was hurt.

I didn't know at the time how much or how little the big marshal knew of the various and muddled involvements which were climaxing right there in the early morning sunshine on the old Cinnabar dump head; but I do know that he quickly turned his captures over to some of his deputies and had them promptly hustled down stage and off scene. While this was going on I was merely waiting for my cue, and I got it, or thought I got it when the boy who wasn't a boy slipped from Daddy's arms and faced me.

"I'm not hurt, either," I ventured to say, hoping that the brain storm had subsided sufficiently to make me visible. "Welcome home, Miss Twombly—or should I say Mrs. Bullerton?"

The look she gave me was just plain deadly; you wouldn't think that violet-blue eyes could do it, but they can. Then she drew a folded paper from somewhere inside of her clothes and held it out to me.

"There is the deed to your mine, Mr. Broughton," she said nippingly, and with a fairly tragical emphasis on the courtesy title. "You wouldn't take the trouble to go to Copah and get it recorded, so I thought I'd better do it. I hope you'll pardon me for being so forward and meddlesome."

It was the super-climax of the entire Arabian-Nights business, and because my feelings would no longer be denied their rightful fling, I sat down on the shaft-house doorstep and shouted and laughed like a fool. But after all, it was Mr. Isaac Beasley, deputy sheriff and marshal of Angels, who put the weather-vane, so to speak, upon the fantastic structure.

"I been lookin' 'round for you a-right smart while," he told me gruffly. "When you get plum' over your laugh and feel that you're needin' a little sashay over the hills f'r exercise, you can come along with me and go to jail f'r stealin' that railroad car."

CHAPTER XVIII.

The Hold-Up.

Beasley left me sitting on the doorstep—I've a notion he had run out of handcuffs, else he might have clapped a pair of them on me—while he started his posse down to Atropia with the captured raiders and their leader. When he came back we took time, Daddy and I and the big marshal, to size up the damage that had been wrought, and beyond that, to dig into the mystery of the continuous grumbling roar which was still ascending out of the wreck-covered mine shaft.

Beasley stayed with us, waiting, as I took it, to get his breakfast before he ran me off to jail, and the three of us fell to work clearing away the fallen timbers and roofing iron, Daddy Hiram leading the attack and being the first to stick his head through what remained of the tangle and hang it over the edge of the shaft's mouth.

"Hooray!" he yelled, his voice sounding as if it came from the inside of a barrel; and then again, "Hooray, Stannie, son!—by the ghosts of old Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, Charley Bullerton's done gone and done eggs-zac'ly what he said he could do—dreened your mine for ye! Climb in here and take a look at her. She's empty—empty as a gourd—but, at that, she ain't goin' to be, very long!"

A few more minutes of the strenuous toil cleared the pit mouth so that we could all see. The bomb which had exploded in the shaft had wrought a complete transformation. The standing flood, which all of our pumping attacks had failed to lower by so much as a fraction of an inch, was gone, and with it had vanished the two big centrifugals, the platform upon which they had stood, and their pipe connections. Gone, likewise, was the greater part of the heavy wooden shaft lining. A little of this remained in the upper part of the shaft, but from a point possibly twenty-five feet down, there was nothing but the bare rock sides of the square pit swept by the receding flood.

As for the hollow roaring noise which had followed the crash of the explosion, and which still continued, there was a good and sufficient reason plainly visible from the pit's mouth. Some twenty feet down, and on the eastern side of the shaft, a stream of water big enough to run a good-sized hydro-electric plant was pouring into the perpendicular cavern, and it was its plunging descent into the bowels of the earth which was making the mimic thunder.

Beasley was the first to find speech.

"Where the blazes is all that water comin' from?" he exploded.

"That's just what we're going to find out!" I barked. "Can you and Daddy handle my weight in a rope sling?"

They both protested that they could handle two of me if necessary, and a sling was quickly rigged and I was lowered into the pit. At the nearer view thus obtained, some of the mysteries were instantly made clear. The reason why the wooden boxing disappeared below a certain point in the shaft was that it had never extended any farther down. It had been merely a box with a bottom!—and all those pipe-dream impressions which had tried to register themselves on the day when I had my struggle with the suction-pipe octopus were instantly translated into facts. I could have sworn, then, that there was a bottom in the box, and there was a bottom. And that other impression—that I had encountered an inrushing stream of ice-cold water in the chilling depths; here was the stream; a foot-thick, never-failing cataract, pouring in through a perfectly good and substantial conduit of twelve-inch iron pipe!

'Hooray!" He Yelled. "Charley Bullerton's Dreened Your Mine for Ye!"

In a flash the whole criminal mystery involving the ostensibly flooded mine was illuminated for me. "Haul away!" I called to the two above; and when they had drawn me up to the pit's mouth and I could get upon my feet, I yipped at Daddy and the marshal to come on, and led them in an out-door race along the mine ledge to the eastward; a hundred-yards dash which brought us to the banks of the swift little mountain torrent in the right-hand gulch.

A brief search revealed precisely what I was expecting to find; what anyone in possession of the facts precedent would have expected to find. In the middle of a small pool slightly upstream from the path level—a pocketed bit of water neatly screened and half hidden by a growth of low-branching spruces—we saw a cone-shaped whirlpool swirl into which a good third of the stream flow was vanishing. Below this pool an apparently accidental heaping of rocks formed a small dam which kept the little reservoir full.

Without a word, Daddy Hiram and the Angelic marshal plunged recklessly into the stream and with their bare hands tore away the loose-rock dam. With the removal of the slight barrier and the consequent clearing of the course of the stream, the pocket reservoir immediately sucked dry, the inlet of the cataracting pipe was exposed, and the secret of the flooded Cinnabar was a secret no longer.

The scheme which had been elaborated and set in motion to "soak" Grandfather Jasper was a premeditated "holdup." The Cinnabar, in operation and producing to its capacity, was worth, so Beasley asserted, all that my grandfather had paid for it, and more. But with the branch railroad built to its very door, its value would be doubled. Two alternatives had thus presented themselves to the owners, who were Cripple Creek mining speculators who had bought in the stock at a low figure while the main vein was as yet unexploited: they could go on mining the ore and storing it against the time when the railroad, with its cost-reducing advantages, should come along; or they could suspend operations for the same length of time, setting the losses shut-down over against the incre profits when they should start again.

With our discoveries of the mo the plan of the robbery became fectly plain. Some giant of fi among the speculators had evolv scheme by which the mine no might be shut down during the val of waiting for the railroad to over the bench, but at the same be made to yield a bumper cr profits.

Taking its various steps in the der, the first move in the game w sell the mine to Grandfather while it was still a going propos and this was done. But one of conditions of the sale (Beasley to this) was that the selling corpor should continue to operate the not as a lessee, but under a co by which the operating com should receive a certain percent the output; an arrangement gave the holdup artists ample op tunity to prepare for the coup de

How these preparations were and the secret of them kept from ing out, still remained one of the solved mysteries, though Beasley gested that probably imported men were employed, and that the had been done under jealous su vision with all the needful precau taken against publicity. The wooden box—which would figure part of the shaft lining—had built, and into the box the creek been diverted by means of the dam and the underground con With the water admitted, to ris the box to the level of its inta the creek reservoir, the trap was and was ready to be sprung.

Beyond this point there was we were obliged to bridge by co ture, but the inferences were all pl ble enough. Doubtless the plo had notified my grandfather that mine was flooded and was no lo workable. Doubtless, again, he authorized them to buy the ne pumping machinery and to install which they did.

In this barefaced imposture the p ters had conceivably builded so thing upon Grandfather Jasper's vanced age as an insurance ag any too-searching investigation; beyond this they had carefully armed any suspicion that he m otherwise have harbored by encou ing him—in the actual purchase of property—to take expert advice, by craftily priming him, by un statements of the facts, to trust th

Only rumors of what had occu at this visit reached Angels; but Be ley could testify that my grandfa had come and returned alone, and after the pumping demonstration been made he had seemed dispose pocket his huge loss and to call bad day's work.

The later developments were hard to figure out. Beasley was to tell us that the proposed rail branch to run to the new copper p erties in Little Cinnabar gulch now a certainty for the very near ture. Hence the time was fully for the recovery of the Cinnabar the plotters. No doubt they had fidently assumed that a repurcha the property—not directly by th selves, of course, but by an agent would figure as a disinterested party—would be easy. Beasley that there had been some talk of underrunning drainage tunnel, such Daddy and I had figured upon—th the time of the springing of the trap—and that the cost had been mated at half a million. Unquest ably the robbers had assumed that old man who had already charged venture up to profit and loss sell for a song rather than to ven again; and in this they were pro well within the truth.

But at the moment when they ready to complete the circle posture, death—the death of father Jasper—had stepped in to plicate matters. Somebody—pos Cousin Percy—had corresponded whoever was representing the syndicate, and by this means the ters had learned that they would have to reckon with an heir. Bullerton came to be employed them almost at the instant of his turn from South America we did know; but we could easily unders that with the new complication had risen by reason of Grandfa Jasper's death, it was highly ne sary for some emissary of the cate to get on the ground quickly, pared to forestall by purchase, or, in the last resort by force, an tempt of the Dudley heirs to pry things they were not to be perm to know.

The pushing of the fight for sion to the final and property-de ing extremity was another matte Beasley was able to explain.

"Ye see, it was a case o' fish bait, and do it quick," the marsh plained. "If he could run you out, pronto, and get possession anybody come along to ask a p'inted questions, he stood about chance in a dozen to lie out some way. If you-all got killed scrimmage, he'd scatter his men woods and try to make me b'lieve you'd got done up trying to run off."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

A Freak Dinner.

Freak dinners, says London S are no new invention; they old as the first rich and greedy One that took place some gene ago was held at Carlton house Mall. There were over 2,000 and the two chief features of th casion were Big Sam, a porter feet high, and a marble canal the center of the high table filled living gold and silver fish.

HOW TWO WOMEN ESCAPED OPERATIONS

Doctor Advised Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Happy Results in Both Cases

St. Joseph, Missouri.—"Both of my sides swelled and hurt me so that I could not move or do any of my work. There was heavy pressure and pains through my lower organs and the doctor told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for these troubles. He said I had this one chance, and if the Vegetable Compound did not help me nothing but an operation would. After taking several bottles I felt it was helping me and now I am able to do my own work. If my testimonial will help others I shall be glad for them to read it and hope your Vegetable Compound will do them as much good as it did me."—Mrs. WM. LOCKMAN, 513 N. 4th St., St. Joseph, Mo.

White Plains, N. Y.—"I had such a pain that I could hardly walk and the doctor said that I needed an operation. I was sick for a year before I started taking your medicine and I could not work. I saw your advertisement in a little book and that is how I came to take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, also Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and the capsules and prescription recommended. I am doing all my work and have gained twenty pounds. I am taking the medicines still, but I feel fine. You have my permission to use this letter for the good of others."—Mrs. MARY MARK, 87 Hamilton Ave., White Plains, N. Y.

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But most of the commoner ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors, or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same.

When disturbing ailments first appear, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Marshall, Mo.

Dear Sir:
I have used Mrs. Winslow's Syrup for many years for my three babies and it has proved successful. One of my babies had colic and I gave him Mrs. Winslow's Syrup. It certainly was fine, for it cured him.
Yours truly,
(Name on request)

Diarrhoea, colic, flatulency and constipation are quickly overcome by this safe, pleasant, efficient remedy. Guaranteed non-narcotic, non-alcoholic. Formula on every label.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP

The Infants' and Children's Regulator

At All Druggists. Write for free booklet of letters from mothers.
ANGLO-AMERICAN DRUG CO., 215-217 Fulton St., New York
General Selling Agents: Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Inc., New York, Toronto, London, Sydney

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

F. 10

Some Resemblance.

Gigwire—So poor old Longsuffer is married at last? Did he marry money?

Gommick—Well, she certainly talks.

Some men try to do others they are dunned by.

Changing Color Scheme.

"Father, are all Bolshevists red?"

"No, my boy; some of them are pretty blue."—Der Brummer (Berlin).

The best security a man can have is a good name.

TAKE old paint off chairs, floors, automobiles and other things by using Giant Lye. It does a clean job and a thorough one.

Our FREE booklet tells you how. Write for it today.

B. T. BABBITT, Successor
The Mendleson Corporation
15 West 34th St., New York

LAW DEPARTMENT REPORT IS FILED

MONTHLY REPORT OF LAW ENFORCEMENT DEPARTMENT FILED WITH THE GOVERNOR SHOWS PROFIT TO STATE.

MUCH IS ACCOMPLISHED

89 Stills, 684 Gallons of Liquor and 44,629 Gallons of Beer and Mash Destroyed.

Montgomery—Without figuring any profit to the state and counties from the labor of men imprisoned, the state law enforcement department made the state a net profit of $2,970.15 during April, according to the monthly report filed with Gov. Thomas E. Kilby by L. L. Phillips, chief law enforcement agent. Total fines collected during the month from persons arrested by the law enforcement department were $7,407 while the total expenses of the department, including salaries and traveling expenses, were $4,436.85. In addition to this net revenue to the state, those given prison terms will serve the state and counties an aggregate of 22 years and eight months or 272 months. The average monthly return is $30 and this will bring into the state and county treasuries $7,160 more, making the grand total of net income for April $10,130.15.

Eighty-nine stills were destroyed during the month, while 684 gallons of liquor and 44,629 gallons of beer and mash were poured out. Two hundred and ninety-four persons were arrested on charges ranging from murder to violations of the prohibition laws. Three automobiles were taken and will be held for condemnation.

Put in Storm Sewers.

Tuscaloosa—Bids for the construction of several storm sewers were opened by the city commissioners and the contract was awarded to J. A. Taylor of Northport, Taylor's bid being $3,443.60. A bid submitted by Sullivan, Long & Hagerty of Bessemer was only about $300 above this price and the Finnell company was somewhat above this. The contract calls for storm sewers on Broad Street from Twenty-Fifth to Twenty-Seventh Avenue; on Seventh Street to Eighth Street. This work will be started at once as it is to be completed before the paving of the streets along the same route can be done, the contract for which has already been let.

Telegraph Service Planned.

Oneonta—J. S. Fendley, Jr., announces that he will put in a telegraph station in Oneonta within the next 30 days. He will build a line into Gadsden and will connect with either the Western Union or the Postal. He has leased pole "privileges" from the L. & N., and will begin stringing the wires within the next few days. A station will also be maintained at Altoona. These towns have been without telegraphic service since the L. & N. won its suit over the Western Union about two years ago.

Rate Change Is Refused.

Montgomery—There is to be no change in freight rates on the transportation of fertilizers in carload lots from Birmingham to Mobile. The Alabama Public Service Commission issued an order denying the petition of Alabama carriers requesting that the rate on fertilizer, carload lots, per ton between these points be increased from $2.63 to $3.25.

Holstein-Fresian Winner.

Selma—To P. S. Hain of Selma goes the honor of owning the leading Holstein-Fresian cow in every class in Alabama. In a seven-day test the full age cow, Mary Del Beets Cornucopia 221,018, produced 588.3 pounds of milk containing 20.983 pounds of butter fat.

Alabamian Writes War History.

Jacksonville—A history of the World War has just been completed by an Alabamian, Maj. Charles N. Sisson of Jacksonville. The history begins with the pre-war turmoil of 1914 and ends with the first peace conference after the armistice.

Decrease in Mine Accidents.

Birmingham—Alabama showed a reduction in the number of fatal accidents in coal mines during the month of March and was fourth in the consumption of explosives in mining operations the same month.

Tonnage Taxes On Coal.

Montgomery—Tonnage taxes on coal and iron mined during March totaled $36,100.78, according to records made public by the auditor's department. Coal tonnage taxes totaled $26,122.20, while $9,978,78 was obtained from taxes on iron ore.

Haleyville Shipping Cream.

Haleyville—The farmers in this section are taking much interest in the shipping of cream to Birmingham. Shipments will be made each Tuesday and Thursday.

TRAFFIC ON WARRIOR SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Tuscaloosa—A verified tonnage report of the Mississippi-Warrior service shows that the amount of tonnage handled on the Warrior river for the month of April, for redistribution, by far exceeds the tonnage handled here during any other month. The reasons given for this increase were the clearing up of general business and industrial conditions and the fact that shippers are beginning to realize the advantage to be secured by water shipments to Tuscaloosa, which works a 20 per cent saving in freight costs over the all-rail route and saves several days time in deliveries over the old system of ordering out of New Orleans.

May Install Radio Stations.

Roanoke—The county board of education of Randolphe county has taken under consideration the installing of two radio stations, one at the count yhigh school at Wedowee and the other at the high school of Roanoke. This action was proposed by the state several days ago and the matter is being thoroughly investigated by the loval board.

Walkers Farmers Diversify.

Jasper—Alabama must feed herself. That is the sentiment of a great body of farmers and business men in this section. The great issue of crop diversification is now sweeping over Walker County; the farmers realize now as never before that they must diversify crops in order to succeed on the farm.

Ice Factory Installed.

Enterprise—The Enterprise Cotton Oil Company has under construction a large ice and cold storage plant with capacity for 15 tons of ice daily. The plant when complete will take care of all demands for Enterprise, Elba and New Brokston, distributing its surplus to other towns in the Wire Grass section.

Artists At University.

University—Working on the theory that the seeing of one performance will do more to instill into students an appreciation of the best in art and literature than the absorbing of five lectures, the University of Alabama English Department this year is employing this means to accomplish such ends in the various classes.

Iron Works To Operate.

Russellville—Twelve men were put to work at one of the washers of the Alabama Fuel and Iron Company, repairing the machinery and making preparations to start work at full blast within a few days.

Rain Retards Farmers.

Attalla—Rains in this section have greatly retarded operations among farmers, many of them having done no planting whatever. Where planted, cotton has shown only a small stand and the young plants became stunted greatly during the cool weather which has prevailed. Bottom lands are still largely untouched and are becoming very foul with vegetation.

STATE TO BERAK PRODUCE RECORDS

More Cabbages, Strawberries and Sweet Potatoes To Be Shipped.

Montgomery—Reports to the bureau of markets during the week continued to indicate that Alabama will break its previous records in the shipment of cabbage, strawberries and sweet potatoes, according to the weekly summary of F. O Hooton, supervisor of markets, Saturday.

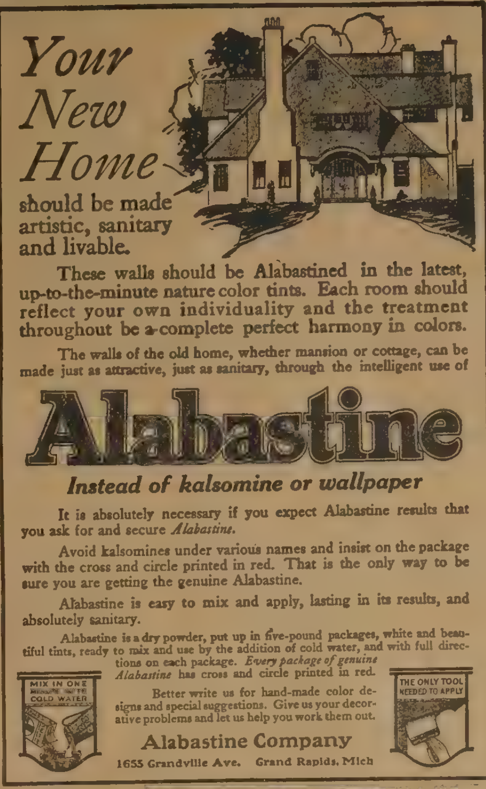
Up to May 1, 1,075 cars of cabbage had moved from Alabama, compared with 896 cars last season, 301 cars of strawberries against 285 last year and 565 cars of sweet potatoes compared with 482 last year. Prices of cabbage and strawberries held firm while sweet potatoes are moving slowly at $1.15 to $1.25 a bushel on the central markets.

Pardon and Parole.

Montgomery—Charlie Thaxton, Etowah county convict, who has served since 1907 on a 15-year sentence for asault with intent to murder, was paroled into the state hospital for the insane by Governor Kilby. A lunacy commission examined Thaxton and reported him insane. Governor Kilby issued a full pardon to Will Alford of Montgomery, who served a term for assault with intent to murder and who was paroled by Governor Henderson in 1918. Records show that Alford has made a good citizen since he was released.

Two Railroad Cases Settled.

Montgomery—Of the three cases in which railroads operating in Alabama protested valuation fixed by the state tax commission on their tangible property for tax assessment for the current tax year, which cases were to have been arbitrated, two have already been settled, it is announced. An understanding has been reached between the commission and the A. B. & A. and N. C. & St. L. Railroads. The case of the Western Railroad of Alabama, however, is still pending.



Your New Home should be made artistic, sanitary and livable.

These walls should be Alabastined in the latest, up-to-the-minute nature color tints. Each room should reflect your own individuality and the treatment throughout be a complete perfect harmony in colors.

The walls of the old home, whether mansion or cottage, can be made just as attractive, just as sanitary, through the intelligent use of

Alabastine

Instead of kalsomine or wallpaper

It is absolutely necessary if you expect Alabastine results that you ask for and secure Alabastine.

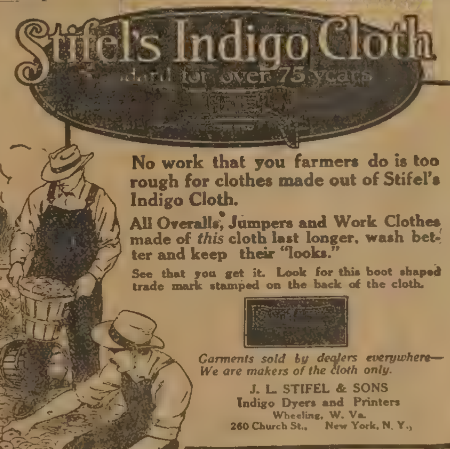
Avoid kalsomines under various names and insist on the package with the cross and circle printed in red. That is the only way to be sure you are getting the genuine Alabastine.

Alabastine is easy to mix and apply, lasting in its results, and absolutely sanitary.

Alabastine is a dry powder, put up in five-pound packages, white and beautiful tints, ready to mix and use by the addition of cold water, and with full directions on each package. Every package of genuine Alabastine has cross and circle printed in red.

Better write us for hand-made color designs and special suggestions. Give us your decorative problems and let us help you work them out.

Alabastine Company
1655 Grandville Ave. Grand Rapids, Mich



No work that you farmers do is too rough for clothes made out of Stifel's Indigo Cloth.

All Overalls, Jumpers and Work Clothes made of this cloth last longer, wash better and keep their "looks."

See that you get it. Look for this boot shaped trade mark stamped on the back of the cloth.

Garments sold by dealers everywhere—We are makers of the cloth only.

J. L. STIFEL & SONS
Indigo Dyers and Printers
Wheeling, W. Va.
260 Church St., New York, N. Y.,

10¢ for FIFTEEN

In a new package that fits the pocket—
At a price that fits the pocket-book—
The same unmatched blend of
TURKISH, VIRGINIA and BURLEY Tobaccos

Guaranteed by The American Tobacco Co.
★111 FIFTH AVE. NEW YORK CITY

"$"—A mark of respect in the United States.

It isn't the henpecked husband who lays for his wife.

Aspirin

WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin.

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians over 22 years and proved safe by millions for

Headache	Colds	Rheumatism
Toothache	Neuralgia	Neuritis
Earache	Lumbago	Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions.

Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Thursday at Clanton, Alabama, by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

B. CORLEY .... Editor
. L. JOHNSON, ... Business Manager

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year Strictly in Advance.
Advertising Rates On Application.

Entered in the Postoffice at Clanton, Alabama, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of Congress.

What business is it of an old bache- or if silk stockings do sell for $4.00 per pair? Where does his kick come n any how!

We feel like ingratitude is about as near the unpardonable sin as it is possible to go without crossing the dead line.

High waters continue to interfere with the local piscatorial artists and some of them are getting to be real grouchy.

It has finally been decided by our Republican friends in Congress to let the Muscle Shoals go over until after the fall elections. That's a mighty thin trick but some of them may get by with it.

The present Republican administration uses the "mailed fist" without any velvet in dealing with the South. Any man or woman in the South who votes with them now will do so knowing that they are inviting social equality into their lives.

Already when the sun shines people and animals hunt the "dark places." Old Sol is still on the job, no matter how many "spots on him has been turned out," as the scientists tell us.

The Knox County (Me.) Democrat says: Good times are just ahead of us but they seem to travel as fast as we do.—We are "stepping on the gas" down here in Alabama, old timer, and we are going to catch up in the fall

Mr. Jasper Dennis has about 18 acres of the finest oats we ever saw grow in Chilton county. They are about ripe now and he will no doubt harvest them this week. That's the way to beat the boll weevil.

Hollywood, the home of the movies, is painted by some writers like a modern Dante's inferno and by others we are told it is a paradise of innocence. We can hardly forget that Arbuckle and his bunch came from there.

The ladies have to pay poll tax just like the men and we are expecting daily for the order to go out for them to also pay road and street tax or take a hoe and shovel and do ten hours on the road. We don't want the job of road overseer nor street gang boss when that takes place

This platonic friendship, "comrade" and "buddie" business between the sexes reads all right in a ten cent blood and thunder thriller, but it always leads to serious, embarrassing results in real life. Most every time one of the parties has to fade away or stand a damage suit with humiliating ventures.

Brooks Lawrence has deserted his prohibition friends and gone into the moving picture business. If he didn't get his ministerial garments soiled during his lurid political campaigning we suppose his idea is that they will stand the wear and tear of anything.

The Beveredge victory in Indiana was "the most unkindest cut of all." The man nearest to and most in favor with President Harding went down in ignominious defeat as a direct repudiation of the present administration for its absolute failure to redeem a single campaign pledge. That was the sole issue and the people passed upon it.

With a republican administration at Washington the miners, railroad boys and all other organized labor has found out that the Labor Board is only an empty dream. Their rulings are treated with absolute contempt by the operators and they have no power behind them to make them stick. The board is no longer backed up by the government.

As We See It.

Optimism is about as cheap as politeness and, whether you believe it or not, they both pay wonderful dividends even in these wise and modern times.

You see a merchant who is always going around with a long face and telling everybody: "I bought too much stock. There is no money. I can't sell my stuff. I don't know what I'm going to do," etc. It isn't a bit of trouble to tell him what he is going to do. He is going to go broke.

The farmer who always looks on the dark side and sees starvation just ahead is always the fellow who fails. The same applies to lawyers, doctors, preachers and, in fact, holds good in every walk of life. The fellow who is thrashed before he makes the fight better not fight at all. The person who succeeds in any endeavor is always the person who is looking forward to success. The failures are those who can never see the silver lining that shines somewhere in every cloud.

This is a principle that holds good around the family circle. It holds good in your friendships. It is the only salvation for your business and, last but not least, it is your only chance of ever entering the pearly gates. You will never get to heaven with a grouch in your heart and a frown of dispair on your face. Eternal hope is the one bright star that must light your pathway if you ever succeed at anything here or hereafter.

Looming before us is what we hope will be a friendly political campaign between the two parties in Chilton county. Both sides want to win, of course, and both sides should take the public unreservedly into their confidence. There should be no deceit, no misrepresentations and, above all, no disgusting mud slinging. We are preaching that gospel because we know it is right, and we earnestly hope to see Chilton county elect its ticket this year on a clean basis of right. For the same reason we are advocating the Democratic cause. We feel like we know it is right. We can't see any chance in the world, under existing conditions and the dark menance of the future, for the cause of democracy to be wrong. We are not playing politics, good people, in this campaign. We are striving to do all we can in our capacity as editor of the Chilton County News, to save us and our children from future trouble and humiliation. We see the unmistakable trend of events and we want you all to see it. With all the honesty of our heart and with the most earnest convictions of our soul we believe we read the signs of the times right and that right now is the most critical period in the history of the South since the woeful days of reconstruction. For that reason we are making the fight and for that reason especially we are desirous that all personalities and party spite be utterly eliminated and we meet these ominous conditions in a spirit of fairness one to the other. Study out the situation for yourself. As democrats we invite your very closest investigation of the present political situation.

Now, back to our text. Believing as we do, that we are waging a righteous campaign, knowing that our motives are absolutely pure and that we have no possible axe to grind, and having confidence in the honesty, the integrity and the intelligence of the good people of Chilton county, we are optomistic of success in November. We believe all democrats have the same grounds for being hopeful of success. A spirit of confidence and assurance should dominate the entire party. Don't "if" and "and" about the result, but do your duty as a live, loyal democrat and make our victory doubly assured. Your cause is righteous and the South needs you now

About Advertising

You business men of Clanton, what is your opinion in regard to advertising? Do you look at as a matter of business, or do you consider it a matter of sentiment "just to help out the paper?"

The largest and most successful business enterprises in the country have been built up solely by advertising. Publicity is the most important line carried by any and all successful business enterprises and they realize that fact and spend vast sums annually to finance their advertising campaigns.

They do not look upon the money spent by them as an act of charity but rather as one of the most essential and necessary branches of their business. They want publicity and they expect to pay for it.

That is the whole thing in a nutshell. Advertising is a strictly business matter and, in most cases, pays larger dividends than any other department of a business. It is as legitimate a commodity of merchandise as any offerred for sale by any store in Clanton. It is what a paper has to sell and the paper is just like the merchants if it sells for less than cost it goes broke.

A paper is much better off that carries no advertising at all than one that carries its columns full at a figure so low it doesn't pay for the time taken in setting it up. You can't "set" them yourself nor have them "set" for nothing because you or your hired help have to eat now and then and no one is feeding you to work for nothing.

If you feel like you can run your business better with a few hand printed cards stuck up on trees and stumps, why, you should do it that way. If you don't think you need to advertise why don't do it, but if you are a live, up-to-the-minute business man and want to keep up with the procession, allow a certain per cent. of your sales to be set aside for publicity and then go to it systematically like those progressive merchants in other towns do and make every day a busy day in your store.

The Chilton County News goes every week to approximately 900 families in Chilton county. According to figures compiled by the Census Department at Washington every subscriber represents an average of five potential customers. Are you willing to pay anything for the privilege of talking to these 4,500 buyers once every week about what you have to sell? If so, call and see us. We have the space FOR SALE.

"United we stand, divided we fall." That is especially true in political organizations. A divided party never gets anywhere but into trouble. It is the duty of every Democrat in Chilton county to remember that and live up to it.

CHURCH ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF PASTOR CARTER SUNDAY

The formal resignation of Rev. P. G. Carter as Pastor of the Clanton Baptist Church was presented to the church in conference last Sunday in writing, by Mr. Thomas A. Curry. The resignation was made to be effective on Sunday, May 29, 1922, and was so accepted by the Church.

In connection with the resignation of Pastor Carter, Mr. Curry presented the following resolution concerning the work of Rev. Carter in Clanton, which was adopted:

Whereas, the Rev. P. G. Carter has this day tendered his resignation as pastor of the Clanton Baptist Church, to be effective on the 29th day of May, 1922, and Whereas said resignation has on this day been accepted by the Clanton Baptist Church in Conference assembled; be it therefore

Resolved: That in accepting the resignation of Rev. P. G. Carter the Clanton Baptist Church is not unmindful of the great work performed by him in the upbuilding of the cause of Christ in the church but his value to the general community in his activity and zeal in the promotion of every good cause.

Be it further resolved: That in Brother Carter, the friendless ever found a friend; the needy, an ever helping hand and the sorrowful, a sympathising brother. In him the church found a faithful pastor, a capable leader in all the co-ordinate activities of the church, a godly and consecrated co-worker in all things making for the betterment of the religious and civic life of the community.

Be it further resolved: That the Clanton Baptist Church, in this conference assembled, commends the Rev. P. G. Carter to all to whom these presents may come, as a consecrated, minister of the gospel, an untiring worker in the cause of the Master and a worthy citizen. In severing our relation with him as our pastor, we invoke God's richest blessings upon him whereever he may in future, cast his lot.

Be it Resolved further: that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Clanton Baptist Church and copies of the same be sent to the local papers and to the Alabama Baptist with request for their publication.

Done in conference this the 7th of May, 1922.

W. I. MULLINS,
Moderator, pro tem.
J. W. P. MURPHY,
Clerk.

When we arrive at a reign of pure democracy in this country there will cease to be separate laws for the rich and poor.

How to Vote.

The candidates now are thick.
When in town around you they stick.
The promises they make are more appetising than a cake.
They tell you of the good things they will bring,
When they take their offices next Spring.
When safe in office they have gotten,
The promises made when canvassing are forgotten.
If your vote they secure;
The hardships they leave for you to endure.
They ask for re-election agan,
And try to make you believe the offices can't be filled by any other man.
People, be careful how you cast your votes.
Be sure you don't elect the same old goats.
In conclusion I will say,
Vote for the proper man on election day.

TO ALL WHITE VOTERS OF CHILTON COUNTY

The "Bars" are Down. The Invitation Extended. Come on and Vote in the Democratic Primary, August 8, 1922.

Whereas, The Report has been circulated over this County, by interested parties, that you could not vote in the Democratic Primary on August 8 unless you possessed an unkroken Democratic pedigree behind you,

Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Chilton County Democratic Executive Committee in session, that we do hereby most cordially invite all of the qualified white voters in Chilton County, both male and female, to come and vote with us in our Primary and aid us in nominating our public servants for the next term of office,

Lawrence F. Gerald, Secretary. W. W. FOX, Chairman

Vote the Democratic ticket and be happy.

We have just received a new shipment of New Styles in Georgette waists. Elmore's.

FOR SALE

ONE 4-horse power Stationary Engine in first class running order CHEAP. Call at News Office.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner of Chilton County for District No 1, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8, 1922.

WILL R. CLEMENTS.

(Paid political advertisement by Will R. Clements, Jemison, Ala.)

Try our Repair Service

When better SERVICE can be given we will give it.

Our business is growing very fast. There is a reason.

We are selling more Goodyear tires and tubes than we ever sold before.

Lawrence Garage,

CLANTON, ALABAMA

IF YOU NEED ANYTHING

In a new light weight suit for summer trade at Clanton's new Dry Goods Store where you are sure to get the newest and best at the lowest prices. We guarantee to save you money on each purchace

THE LEADER

M. LANDE Manager

Look for the Yellow front Store, Next to Johnson Drug Company.

THE AMES BUGGY

If you will buy an Ames Buggy and use it this year you will have more cash January 1st. than you will have if you ride in an Automobile.

JONES HARDWARE CO.

Money to Loan

3-4 of $100,000

in position to loan the above amount to farmers
hilton County with which to Insure their property.
The Insurance contract is for five years and we e all your property against Fire, Lightning, and l Storms.
pay one fifth cash and the other four fifths in annual installments without interest.
This is an Old Line Company and Old Line rates. sell Old Line Life Insurance for one of the large Line Companies.
also sell the old reliable Singer Machine on easy nts, and take old Machine in exchange.

Reese Mullins Agt.

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

Feed, Feed, Feed!

he Old Reliable is still on the job with Feed Stuff of kind known to the trade in quantities to meet all nds. If your horse, mule, cow, hog or chicken is ry here is where you will find just what they need ns, Meals, Brans and Hay, Etc., of all Kinds and In Any Quantity.

Prices Cannot Be Shaved By Any Dealer in Central Alabama Come to See Us and Get Quotations.

M. A. GORE.

. Mell Martin

UNDERTAKER

line of Caskets always in stock [illegible]
All funeral arrangements attended to promptly.
Hearse service in town or country. Personal attention given in all cases.

Located in Dr. V. J. [illegible] Building.

lanton Mercantile

Largest Department Store in Central Alabamr.
Widely Known as the

'Big Bargain House"

carry everything you need to buy ans our prices ot be ruplicater. One price to all anr that is rock tom.

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Caps Shoes, nks, Suit Cases, and a thousand and one other artic
all at real bargain prices.

Our Millinery Department [illegible] style d back below pre-war rates as to price
Don't forget our immense Grocery Department. If want to get the best and pay the least come and us. We thank you.

Clanton Mercantile

paign is Coming. Subscribe News.

MISS CURRY'S MUSIC RECITAL TUESDAY, MAY 16

Miss Roberta Curry, teacher of music at the Chilton County High School, will present her pupils in vocal and piano recital at the High School Auditorium on Tuesday evening, May 16, 1922. The program will begin promptly at 8:15. There will be no charges for admission, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

The following is the program which will be rendered:

1. Dancing Stars (Paul Ducelle) Sarah Luckie, Maud Downs, Ruby Armstrong.
2. Rose-Buds (Eugene La Farge) Barbara Williams.
3. In Lilac Time (H. Engelmann) Birdie Teel, Mildred Shaw.
4. Slumber Boat (Gaynor); Mighty Lak A Rose (Ethelbert Nevin) Sara Jones.
5. Minuet a L'Antique (Paderewski) Pearl Minor.
6. Salute to the Colors (Bert R. Anthony) Referee McKee, Barbara Williams.
7. Bamboo Baby (Caro Roma) Jewel Gore.
8. Olga (E. J. Decevee) Annie Mae Harper.
9. Evening Brings Rest and You (Lohr) Mrs, Tom Gordon,
10. Vienna Waltz (Ludwig Schytte) Maud Wagoner, Jewel Armstrong.
11. Life's Garden (Carrie J. Bonds) Mrs. Owsley.
12. Souvenir (Franz Drdla) Birdie Teel.
13. Ol' Carlina (James Cooke) Jewel Minor.
14. To A Water Lily (MacDowell) Willie Higgins.
15. Where my Caravan Has Rested (Lohr) Leora Goodgame,

The ushers for the evening will be Charles Moore, Joe Earl Gowan and Jesse Sam Gowan.

Professional Cards.

A. C. SMITH
Attorney-at-Law
General Practice
CLANTON, ALTBAMA.

LAWRENCE F. GERALD
Attorney-at-Law
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

G. C. WALKER
Attorney-at-Law
Upchurch Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

V. J. Heard F. B. Collier
HEARD & COLLIER
Attorneys
Johnson Building
CLANTON, ... ALABAMA.

M. D. ARANT
Jeweler
Expert attention given to all Watch and Clock repair work. Satisfaction guaranteed. Office in Western Union Telegraph Building.

W. L. PARRISH, D. V. M.
Experienced Graduate
Veterinarian
Prompt attention given to day or night calls. Phone 110-35.

DR. P. T. HINKLE
Veterinary Surgeon
Prompt and efficient service rendered and your practice in this line is solicited.
PHONES:
Long Distance No. 36
Farmers Linee No. 127

Our Job Department is prepared to do your work at short notice, We guarantee satisfaction,

FROM ROUTE EIGHT

Clanton, Ala., R. 8, May 8, 1922.
Editor News:

Some time ago the good editor of The News gave the boys and young men a most splendid article of admonition, for which we are truly grateful.

So closely is this subject connected with the girls and young men that in the course of time, the writer expected not a sequel but a codicil, which up to the present time in vain, perhaps through neglipence—certainly not short sightedness, for with the editor's far sighted vision, he cannot be unmindful that a like article like the one in question, differing only in its nature that it deals with the opposite sex, would be in good order, perhaps, I may say appropriate.

It is a wanton cruelty for a people to be less true to themselves than their God is true to them. The seasonable advice given in that article to the boys and young men, the writer feels sure, flowed spontaneously from the fountain of the editor's own heart, but he has, from some cause or reason, failed to extend a line of admonition to the girls and young women, and if I may be pardoned to use a vulgar expression, "what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

Girls and young women, no iniquity can long be practiced in secrecy, and the writer will always openly defend the virtuous and publicly condem the vicious. What the writer has in mind is animadversions whch have materially cheapened his oppinions of the far sex. Ths is a qualified statement. That original virginity, though perhaps contrary in some respects to Christ's teachings, once lost—forever lost, woman's character once troden under the foot of man, once looked upon with suspicion, is rarely raised to its original, glowing purity.

Here, too, "what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander." Shakespeare has somewhere said that riches are as trash compared to a good character.

"Who steals my purse steals trash
'Twas something, nothing,
'Twas mine, 'tis his and
Has been slave to thousands'
"But he who filches from me, my good name,
Robs me of that whch not enriches him
And makes me poor indeed."

Character thus lost, is breathed upon with supercilious scorn, which it justly deserves. The Ford car and the extensive Highway system, if it may be so styled, calculated to serve useful purposes, which they do, and strange, too, would it seem, if they did not serve evil and good, have done more to further woman's downfall, perhaps, than any other, and yet no charge can be made against the avenue of traffic or the carrier, but it must not be overlooked that these are some of the agencies by which woman's downfall is facilitated and accelerated.

Fond, loving mothers, who go to church on Sunday, can it be that you fail to observe the lurking danger, reeking with gore, that overshadows your daughter in the Sunday afternoon car ride, as the little Ford is parked under the scraggy oak or the lofty pine?

Girls and young women, to the inquisitive mind, if to no other, umbrage hangs over you, in the respects the writer has pointed out, like perceptions of approaching night over the world.

Alabama, Chilton County, perhaps in some respects, as fair as any, the world will never make a beaten path to your door with your morals at so low an ebb.

JACK AND GILL.

Our line of John Lucas is absolutely guaranteed.
W. W. FOX.

Be sure and see my line of Furniture before you buy.
W. W. FOX.

Keep Cool and Come to
JOHNSON DRUG Co.
For Ice Cream And Drugs Also

Pure Drugs, Druggist Sundries, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Cigars, Tobacco of all kinds and Complete line of candies

Johnson Drug Company
Clanton, - - - - Alabama.

LEANS WIN FROM FATS

The annual game between the Fats and the Leans was played on Wednesday.

Lande, star third baseman for the Fats, kept on leading, being the first man to bat. All that kept him from knocking home runs was that he would miss the ball.

Nobody loves a Fat Man and the leans didn't either, letting them down with only 11 runs while they piled up 22 in their favor. McKee proved to the crowd that he hadn't forgotten his baby tricks by crawling from first half way to second to recover the ball in the 5th inning.

The Fat pitcher had wondeful control, hitting the bats of all the opposing players, sometimes for two and three bases. Everybody enjoyed the game, judging by the laughter caused by some marvelous movement performed by some player when a liner would stand him on one ear.

CLANTON LOSES ANOTHER GAME SATURDAY

Ten little fingers
Ten little toes,
Nine Dixie Players
Ten big scores.

Clanton lost Saturday's game for just nine reasons—nine Dixie players.

The Dixie players out played Clanton and never failed to use base ball sense by head work. In the last of the fifth Clanton, with the bases full, couldn't score, Wyatt and Curlee being caught in a chase off third base.

Easterwood didn't strike out as many men as Parrish but kept Clanton's hits well scattered. The feature of the game was the batting of Summerlin, getting 4 safties out of five times up.

Following is the box score:

Dixie.

	AB	H	R	SB	E
McAlister, 3b,	6	2	1	0	2
Reynolds, cf,	5	0	2	0	0
Waldrop, 1b,	5	0	1	0	0
Perry, 2b,	4	2	2	2	0
Stewart, ss,	5	0	0	1	0
Thompson, lf,	5	0	1	0	0
Summerlin, rf,	5	4	2	0	0
Grimsley, c,	5	1	0	0	0
Easterwood, p,	5	0	1	0	1
Total	45	9	10	3	3

Clanton.

	AB	H	R	SB	E
Parrish, p,	4	1	0	0	1
Sims, 3b,	3	0	0	0	0
Hayes, ss,	4	0	0	0	1
Pyron, 2b,	4	1	0	0	1
Roberts, 1b,	3	0	1	1	1
Foshee, lf,	2	0	0	2	0
Eubanks, c,	4	0	0	0	1
R. Wyatt, rf,	3	1	0	0	0
L. Curlee, cf,	2	1	0	0	0
Heard, lf,	2	1	0	0	0
Popwell,	1	1	1	1	0
Total	32	6	2	4	5

Summary:

2 base hits, Parrish; double play, McAlester to Perry; Struck out by Parrish, 11; by Easterwood, 6; left on bases, Clanton 9, Dixie, 5; Umpires: Heard and Copeland; Time, 2:45.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

The people of the New Salem Communty have for many years met just before the 1st Sunday in May and cleaned off their cemetery. Then, always the 1st Sunday in May they have held Memorial Services at the Church.

Last Sunday they had an interesting program prepared for the occassion. Before noon they had several songs, recitations, and a welcome address by Rev. S. M. Adams; also Rev. Dykes preached an inspiring sermon. After this splendid program had been rendered the audience marched to the grave yard and spread flowers on the graves of their loved ones and also on the graves of their friends who have passed over the Great Beyond.

The noon hour was well taken care of by the hospitable citizens of this wide. awake community. Despite the fact that several hundred people were there, they had one of the very finest dinner for all present. This hour was also spent in a pleasant social intercourse by all the people there.

Afternoon, another part of the program was equally as well rendered as the one before noon, consisting of songs, recitations, etc. After this Rev. Dykes made a few timely remarks that were highly pleasing to his hearers. It is not saying too much to state that he is one of our coming young ministers.

The people of the New Salem community can not over estimate the valuable services renderede by Mrs. E. C. Cox, Mrs. R. M. Smith, and J. L. Williams in the services that they rendered in preparing this program Then, again, who can tell the value of such a day and the result of the good seed sown by such occasions. "Cast they Bread upon the Waters, and Thou Shalt Reap many days hence."

Back up the Base Ball Boys

CHILTON HIGH

Now that we are nearing the end of a very successful year's work it will be of interest to note the improvements that have been made in the work of the county high school during the past year. For two years prior to this year the high school was unable to comply with the requirements necessary to remain on the fully accredited list of high schools in this state. Our greatest need was better qualified teachers and more laboratory equipment with which to do the work efficiently. One requirement for State Accreditment is that three-fourths of the teachers of the county high school shall be graduates of standard colleges. During the scholastic year 1920-21 there was only one teacher on the faculty of the year that was a college graduate. We were forced to take normal school graduates for lack of sufficient fund to attract the right kind of teachers. We were notified on August 20th, 1920, by the State Department of Education that under such conditions they would be forced to drop the Chilton County High School from the State Accredited List. We promised to try to do better the next year. We had only three assistant teachers with an enrollment of 174. Being thoroughly informed as to the situation the friends of the school ralied to its support.

We have this year an additional assistant teacher and four-fifths of the teachers of the high school are graduates of standard colleges and all have had either professional training or experience. Thus we have complied with the requirements of the Department of Education in securing well qualified teachers to take care of our boys and girls.

To take care of the increased enrollment an additional room has been equipped with all necessary equipment for the welfare of the students at a considerable cost, and this obligation has been taken care of in full to date. By equipping an additional room the large Freshman Class has been divided into two sections and far more efficient work has been accompilshed with this division in classes. There will be fewer failures in the First Year high school class this year than last.

All the necessary equipment and supplies for the Chemistry Department have been installed this year. All new equipment is carefully kept under lock and key and an inventory of all equipment is now being made in order that we may order intelligently, during the summer, just the supplies needed for another year.

The students of the high school have been very proud of the eighty-seven new books added to the library this year. We now have a library of about 250 volumes. The library has been under the management of one of the teachers and all books are carefully checked out to the students for a period of two weeks at the time.

The Manual Training Department has made many useful bookstands and book cases for the library and we now have empty shelving room for books that we may obtain from any scource.

We are very grateful for the splendid school spirit manifested by both the patrons of the school and the student body. We have their hearty cooperation during the entire year. Our future looks bright, and there are many more improvements that are urgently needed. Let us not be weary in well doing but ever looking forward in order to keep pace with rapidly growing world.

S. E. ALVERSON,
Principal.

MR. BEARDEN BURIED

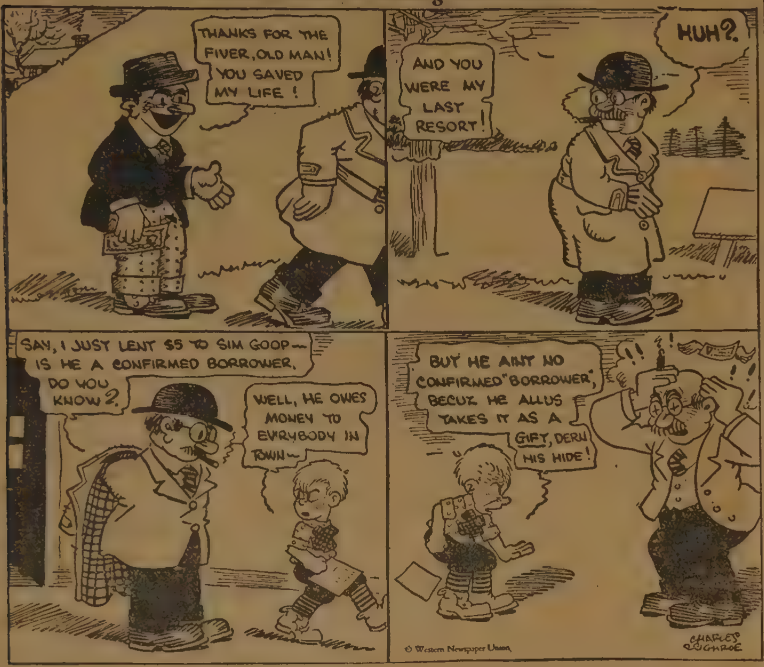
Mr. John Ed Bearden was buried at Maplesville Tuesday at 3:30. Rev. Mitchell, of Brent, Ala., had charge of the services. A large concourse of friends and relatives from other sections of the county and adjoining counties as well attended the burial services.

Mr. Bearden's funeral services was one of the saddest ever witnessed in Maplesville owing to the cause of his unfortunate death and the way in which, according to reports, it occurred. That he was one of highly respected citizens needs no better proof than the large and beautiful floral offerings by his many friends from all parts of this section of the state. He is survived by his wife, three daughters, Misses Virgie and Ollie Bearden, of Maplesville; Mrs. Earnest Williams of Thorsby; also three sons Luther Bearden of Tuscaloosa, Reuben Bearden of Birmingham, and Rufus Bearden of Maplesville; one brother J. F. Bearden of Maplesville, and Mrs. Milliard Ratliff, Pletcher.

FOR RENT—Splendid Six Room House. Fornished or unfurnished. Best location in town. See
F. R. WOODYARD.

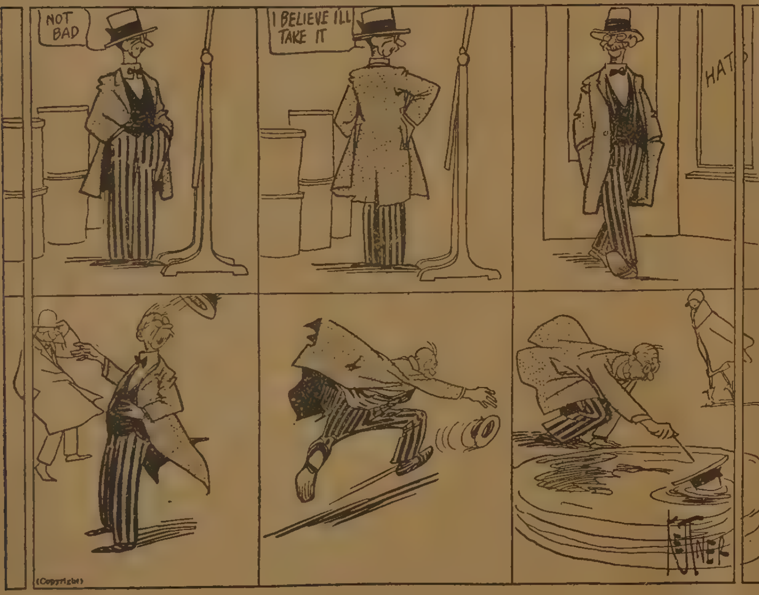
OUR COMIC SECTION

Mickie Must Be Among the Creditors

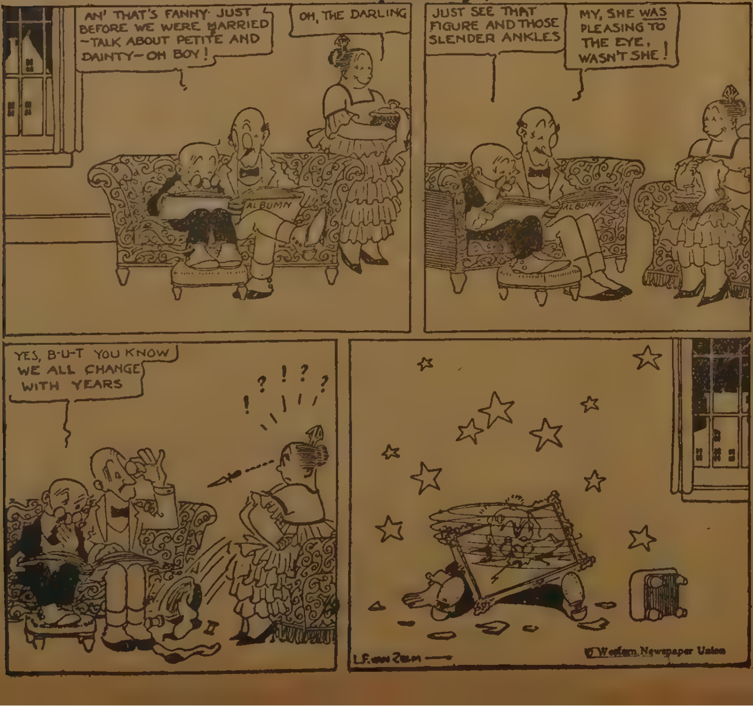


THANKS FOR THE FIVER, OLD MAN! YOU SAVED MY LIFE!
AND YOU WERE MY LAST RESORT!
HUH?
SAY, I JUST LENT $5 TO SIM GOOP— IS HE A CONFIRMED BORROWER, DO YOU KNOW?
WELL, HE OWES MONEY TO EVRYBODY IN TOWN—
BUT HE AINT NO CONFIRMED "BORROWER", BECUZ HE ALLUS TAKES IT AS A GIFT, DERN HIS HIDE!
!! ! !!
© Western Newspaper Union
CHARLES SUGHROE

The End of a Perfect Day



Diplomacy?



AN' THAT'S FANNY JUST BEFORE WE WERE MARRIED —TALK ABOUT PETITE AND DAINTY—OH BOY!
OH, THE DARLING
ALBUM
JUST SEE THAT FIGURE AND THOSE SLENDER ANKLES
MY, SHE WAS PLEASING TO THE EYE, WASN'T SHE!
YES, B-U-T YOU KNOW WE ALL CHANGE WITH YEARS
? ! ? ?
L.F. van Zelm
© Western Newspaper Union

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are of finer quality (and hence of better taste) than in any other cigarette at the price.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Chesterfield
CIGARETTES
of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—blended

"They Satisfy"

20 for 13c
10 for 9c
Vacuum tins of 50 - 45c

NO TIME FOR EXPLANATIONS

Young Woman Simply Felt Herself the Victim of Circumstances, and Went Her Way.

"I was walking along Fourteenth street," said a young woman artist, "and I saw a woman ahead of me pushing a baby carriage. There was a baby in the carriage, and the baby was holding the string of a rubber balloon. I noticed that the balloon was unusually large, probably due to its being inflated beyond its rated capacity.

"Just as I passed the baby carriage the balloon exploded. Went 'Pop!' and disappeared. Apparently the mother was looking some other direction at the time and when she turned her head, saw the balloon was gone and I was going and she connected me with the catastrophe.

"She eyed me malevolently. 'Of all the mean tricks!' she exclaimed, and then attempted to console the balloonless infant. Did I deny causing the balloon to burst? I did not. I was merely another victim of circumstantial evidence."—Baltimore American.

Hog Pedigrees to Have Monument.

A monument is to be erected to commemorate the beginning of the practice of writing pedigrees for hogs. The first such pedigrees, oldest records show, were written in 1875 for Poland China hogs on the farm owned in Blue Ball, Ohio, by W. C. Hankinson. Part of the necessary funds for the monument has been raised by the Ohio State Poland China Breeders' association, and the Hankinson estate, which still owns the farm, has consented to the erection of the monument on the property. The monument is to be dedicated in August.

Expansive Love.

Ethel—Oh, Richard, when we are married I don't think I could live in a little flat.

Fiance—You don't love me when you say that, Ethel.

Ethel—Oh, yes, I do; but not on such a small scale.

Some people are too good to be interesting.

STONECYPHER'S IRISH
POTATO BUG KILLER

Every year you plant Irish Potatoes.
Every year you have Potato Bugs.
Every year you should use
STONECYPHER'S
Irish Potato Bug Killer

Guaranteed to destroy the bug without damage to the plant. Also destroys all leaf eating insects on cabbage, cucumber, cantaloupe, squash and tomato vines. Apply lightly. Cost low. Applicaton easy. Results sure.

For Sale by Drug, Seed and General Stores

STONECYPHER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO.
Westminster, - - - S. C.

HAD SPEECH WITH GOVERNOR

Certainly Short, but the Incident Gladdened the Heart of This Indiana Small Boy.

When Governor McCray and others boarded an interurban to visit the new reformatory site at Pendleton they found the car already well filled. The governor sat down by a small boy from Fortville and, a moment later asked him to exchange seats with another member of the party so that they could continue a conversation. Shortly afterward the lad's seatmate disclosed to the boy that it was the governor he had accommodated.

The incident made an impression and when the boy reached home he boasted to his father that he had seen the governor and had spoken to him.

"Is that so?" said his dad, skeptically, "and what did the governor say to you?"

"Oh," he said, "would you just as soon sit in that seat over there, son?"—Indianapolis News.

Getting there with both feet may leave one permanently lame in the ankles.

Statues and characters are molded with little touches.

ALL THESE PROVOKE SMILES

Various Kinds of Ladies Who Excite the Risibilities of the Writer in Humorous Publication.

Ladies make me laugh—ladies who dress like Kewpie dolls; ladies who are always arranging slumming parties; ladies who arrive at the theater during the middle of the first act and practically stop the performance; ladies who tell fortunes; ladies who spend 12 hours a day in restaurants; ladies who organize welfare leagues and are forever talking about them; ladies who know all about relativity; ladies who embroider their bridge playing with telephone calls, gossip and risque stories; ladies who are habitually one hour and twenty minutes late for all appointments; ladies who are shocked at anything they don't understand; ladies from Columbus, O., who, having spent ni months in Paris, completely forget their native tongue; ladies who have never been understood; ladies who don't know when a romance ends; ladies who are continually dwelling on the fact that they are ladies.—From Life.

When you wake up at daylight and can't go to sleep again it's a sign it's a holiday.

The Thrifty Citizen Who Caught the Plugged Nickel

MR. BROWN had swallowed his lunch and had paid his bill. Cautiously he counted his change. "Here!" he said, sharply, "Take back this plugged nickel and give me a good one!"

Mr. Brown walked proudly out. They couldn't fool old Brown.

But old Brown had fooled himself.

Brown's day was heavy and dull. He lacked "pep." There was a mid-afternoon drowsy spell when he needed to be awake—the direct and natural result of heavy, starchy breakfasts and lunches, taken on faith and without question as to value—just because the food looked and tasted like food.

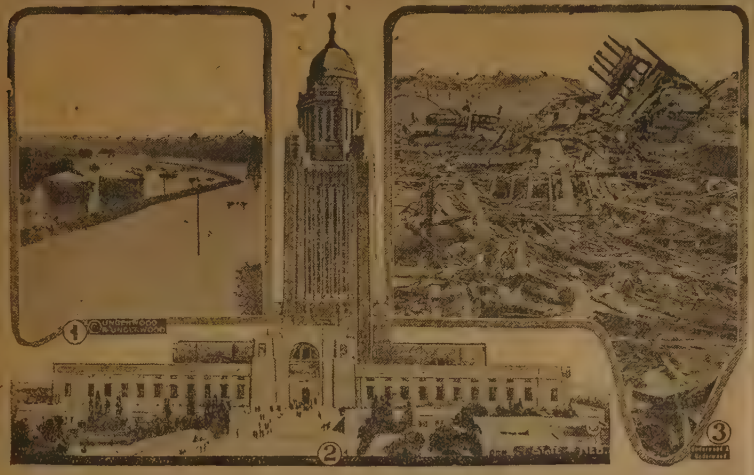
Thousands of shrewd business men who count their change, take their food for granted.

That's what builds up the sanitarium business, and puts the tired "all-done" feeling into the mid-afternoon of a business day.

Grape-Nuts is a scientific food whose delicious, appetizing flavor and crispness are an introduction to well-balanced nourishment—a nourishment easily and quickly assimilated, so that body, brain and nerves are well fed and kept free of the stored up poisons left by so many ill-selected foods.

Served with cream or good milk, Grape-Nuts is a complete food, always ready, always a delight to the taste—and always a safe selection for the man who thinks his stomach is entitled to some of the same protection he gives to his pocket.

Grape-Nuts—The Body Builder
"There's a Reason"
Made by Postum Cereal Company, Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.



1—Scene in Fort Worth, Tex., during flood caused by overflow of the Trinity river. 2—Architect's drawing for Nebraska's new $5,000,000 capitol under construction in Lincoln. 3—Town of Clear Valley, Minn., after it was struck by a terrific tornado recently.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Conference of Genoa Is Nearly Wrecked by Divergence Over Russia Plan.

FRANCE AND BELGIUM BALK

Soviet Delegates Don't Like the Terms, Either—Bloody Battle Near Peking—Truce in Irish Fighting—Beveridge Beats New in Indiana Primaries.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

DEVELOPMENTS of last week almost if not quite put the Genoa conference on the rocks. More than that, they brought Great Britain and France to the verge of a rupture. At this writing the prospect is dark for all except the soviet Russians, who appear to have maneuvered themselves into just the position they wanted.

Prodded by Tchitcherin and his colleagues to give a quick answer to the proposals of the Russians, the allies drew up terms which Lloyd George declared embodied the maximum that would be granted Russia and the minimum that would be demanded from her. Summarized, these were:

Russia recognizes her prewar debt.

The war debt will be recognized, but reduced.

Russia must restore foreign property or indemnify the owners for damage or confiscation.

Russia will be expected to take such judicial and other measures as will attract foreigners to Russia for business purposes.

France had yielded to the British on the matter of absolute restoration of confiscated property, at the insistence of Lloyd George, but forced an amendment forbidding property in Russia to be allocated to other persons than the former owners. To this Lloyd George appended this rider:

"If exploitation of property can only be carried out by its incorporation in a general group, the preceding arrangements will not apply."

France, then signed, but Belgium absolutely refused to approve the proposition. Barthou hurried to Paris and Premier Poincare told him some things that had not come out at Genoa. Thereupon the French cabinet agreed unanimously to support Belgium and withdrew the assent to the proposals offered to Russia. This alone was enough to strain international relations, but the Paris press added to it by its explanation of the dispute over the property clause. It made the flat charge that the soviets were negotiating to transfer to English and Germans oil field property that belongs to Frenchmen and Belgians, and that Lloyd George added the above mentioned rider to further that scheme.

It did not seem probable, anyhow, that the Russians would accept the terms offered them. They were especially displeased with the fact that recognition of the soviet government was not included, and they did not like the article concerning foreign property restoration. There were other features that did not suit them, and they got into communication with Moscow, with the intimation that their answer might not be ready for some time.

THE second plenary session of the conference was held Wednesday and a finance report was submitted containing 19 articles in the nature of recommendations without definite commitments. The main ones were:

Return of stability of currency.

A meeting in the near future of big central banks.

Re-establishment of the gold basis.

Balancing budgets.

Sir Lamington Worthington Evans, chairman of the finance committee, admitted that the proposals could not be carried out without the co-operation of the United States. Tchitcherin declared little could be accomplished by the finance commission because the subject of reparations was excluded, and then detailed a number of the proposals which he said Russia would not accept.

It is quite apparent that what the soviet government wishes is not a general agreement with Europe, but separate treaties with the powers, such as she already has with Germany. It probably could do this with Great Britain and Italy and the neutral nations, and probably with some other powers, and France and Belgium would be left in an uncomfortable position. And Russia will be able to lay on France the blame for the failure of the Genoa conference.

Soviet Russia's defiant attitude toward the world was demonstrated in the May day doings at Moscow. Leon Trotzky, minister of war, reviewed 100,000 most excellently equipped and drilled soldiers, and in an address declared that Russia "will resist until her last drop of blood is shed any attempts of the capitalistic governments to enslave her."

France consented to sign the nonaggression pact proposed by Lloyd George on three conditions: That every European nation signed; that Russia agreed to recognize all her existing boundaries for ten years, and that France surrendered none of her rights to take action to enforce the Versailles treaty. The Russians rejected the second of these and the Germans the third.

DESPITE the hard working propagandists, the American administration shows no signs of willingness to take part at present in all these European negotiations. Its position concerning Russia was made clear by Secretary of State Hughes in his reply to a delegation of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom which asked him to advocate the immediate recognition of the soviet regime. Mr. Hughes told the women that recognition is in the control of those who dominate the affairs of Russia, and would be accorded only to a government competent to discharge its international relations and demonstrating a disposition to discharge them. He added that there are no legal obstacles to trade with Russia.

THAT France fully expects Germany to default on the reparations is indicated by a statement in Sketch of London, which says it has learned from a reliable French source that preparations are being made for immediate mobilization of the 1918 class of reserves, numbering about 150,000. Mr. Lloyd George gave up his plan for a meeting of the nations signatory to the Versailles treaty in Genoa to take up the matter of enforcing the German payments, but still hopes it may be held elsewhere. The French insist that no such meeting be held with after May 31.

DURING most of last week the predicted battle between Gens. Wu Pei-Fu and Chang Tsao-Lin raged in the vicinity of Peking. Judging from the dispatches, Wu was having the best of the conflict. The casualties were rather heavy. On Wednesday President Hsu made another effort to stop the hostilities, calling to the attention of the rival commanders the fact that the foreign diplomats had protested three times against the fighting and had warned of serious consequences to China should foreigners suffer from the hostilities. Almost all the plans regarding China made at the Washington conference have been suspended because of the warfare. The Chinese press is almost a unit in decrying the fighting, asserting that it is only harmful to the country, whichever side wins. Early in the week General Chang issued a statement that General Wu had been killed by artillery fire. This has not been confirmed.

Sun Yat Sen, head of the South China government at Canton, asserted he had combined with General Chang and would soon start for northern China. Sun's own government was weakened by the defection of Gen. Chen Chiung-Min, who resigned the governorship of Kwantung.

AS FOR the other current war, that between the Irish factions, it ran along as merrily as a Donnybrook fair until midweek. Then De Valera himself asked the Dail Eireann to take steps to stop it. Accordingly a truce of four days was declared and a peace committee of five members of each faction was named. It is hoped the opposing sections of the Irish army will be able to find a basis for unification. Before this the Free Staters had stormed and captured Ormonds castle, the last stronghold of the irregulars in Kilkenny; the police barracks in Mullingar, occupied by irregulars, had been blown up, and there were numerous bloody encounters elsewhere. The situation on the Ulster border was reported as again becoming serious.

WHEN the fifth Pan-American conference is held next March in Santiago, Chile, it may become another conference on limitation of armament. Acting on instruction from his government, the Chilean ambassador to Washington has suggested to the Pan-American union that the question of reducing military expenses of the American republics be placed upon the agenda.

IN THE United States the most interesting event of the week was the defeat of Senator Harry S. New for renomination in the Indiana Republican primaries by former Senator Albert J. Beveridge. Since New was running on the record of the national administration his failure was looked on as something of a blow to that administration and the "regulars" in the senate were frankly disappointed. Senator McCormick, chairman of the Republican senatorial committee, however, said the committee had taken no part in the contest and would support the nominee energetically. Mr. Beveridge served twelve years in the senate and was a leader in the Progressive party movement. He made his campaign on such planks as demands for the repeal of the Adamson law, repeal or amendment of the Sherman law, adoption of a sales tax and the promotion of greater efficiency and wiser economy in government.

Samuel Ralston, former governor of Indiana, easily won the Democratic nomination, and in him Beveridge will find a strong contender for the senate seat. It may be that modification of the Volstead act will become a prominent issue of the campaign.

SAMUEL GOMPERS was in the public eye and the public ear to a considerable extent last week. In a May day manifesto the venerable head of the American Federation of Labor made a vigorous attack on Bolshevism, declaring that American recognition of the Russian soviets would constitute a "needless and base betrayal of civilization." He denounced the Bolshevist propaganda in this country and asserted that he had ample proof to substantiate the charges that "Red" millions have been sent to America for propaganda purposes and that "W. Z. Foster, who had no money, went to Moscow and came back and announced that he was building a great secret machine to undermine the American labor movement and turn it over to the Red internationale, owned by Lenin. He began publication of an expensive magazine and proclaimed 'a thousand secret agents in a thousand communities.'"

A few days later Mr. Gompers was one of the principal speakers at a mass meeting called by the New York branch of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, and in his address said that "labor must make the fight now, and we will never stop fighting until the rights of the people have been restored to them." Continuing, he said: "I and the federation I represent are in favor of beer and light wines and against any attempt to enforce sumptuary laws aimed at personal liberty. Temperance was the rule of the great mass of organized labor, but the prohibitionists and the so-called Anti-Saloon Leaguers have done more to undermine the morality and temperance of the workingman than any other agency I know. I have traveled all over the United States before prohibition, including its so-called dry territories, and today as I pass through these sections I have found more drunkenness than ever before."

THE senate finance committee has adopted McCumber's soldiers' bonus plan, with the bank loan provision. Smoot still clings to the 20-year endowment life insurance plan.

HAS FIRST WELL DAY IN 6 YEARS

Huntington Citizen Could Neither Sleep Nor Eat With Any Satisfaction Before He Got Tanlac.

"Before taking Tanlac I had not seen a well day in six years," said W. R. Peoples, 328 22nd St., Huntington, W. Va.

"It seemed like I had lost my health for good. I could neither sleep nor eat with satisfaction. I was badly run down, nervous, had no appetite and had to force down every mouthful I ate. Even then my food soured. I would fill up with gas until I had intense pains in my stomach and chest. Headache almost drove me mad, rheumatism in my arms, shoulder and hips kept me in pain all the time, and I had to force myself to work.

"Tanlac went right after my troubles. On four bottles I gained ten pounds and the rheumatism and stomach trouble soon left me. My wife has given a statement about the good Tanlac did her, and I am glad to add my endorsement of this wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Fear pays no dividends.

A REWARD OF $5,000.00

Would be a small amount to pay for saving a man's life. If you could save your life for a dollar bill would you hesitate to spend it? You risk your life everytime you drive your car in the rain because you can't see through your windshield. A dollar bill sent to the Baltimore See-Thru Corporation, Baltimore, Maryland, will ensure you having a clear windshield for the next three years, as their preparation is guaranteed to keep your glass as clear as a summer's day. Nothing like it on the market. One application will last as long as a rain storm even if it lasts a month. It is absolutely guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. Send for it today and be prepared for the next rain storm.—Advertisement.

A first-class price doesn't always indicate a first-class hotel.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

Beat the swords into fly swatters.

Shave With Cuticura Soap

And double your razor efficiency as well as promote skin purity, skin comfort and skin health. No mug, no slimy soap, no germs, no waste, no irritation even when shaved twice daily. One soap for all uses—shaving bathing and shampooing.—Advertisement.

Saving is also a habit that grows.

ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE DOES IT

When shoes pinch or corns and bunions ache get a package of ALLEN'S FOOT=EASE, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes. It takes the sting out of corns and bunions, gives instant relief to Smarting, Aching, Swollen feet. 1,500,000 pounds of powder for the feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war.—Advertisement.

The wisest man can learn.

YOU CANNOT AFFORD

To let your little hurts and ailments get bad.

Keep Vacher-Balm handy for Burns, Boils, Cuts, Corns, Piles, or Soreness anywhere.

Ask your druggist. Avoid imitations. —Advertisement.

Luck is pluck's shadow.

"Dead Shot," Dr. Peery's Vermifuge for Worms and Tapeworm, has enjoyed popular approval for 75 years. If you cannot obtain it at your druggist send 50 cents to Wright's Indian Vegetable Pill Co., 372 Pearl St. New York City. Money back if not satisfied. —Advertisement.

Cheap notoriety is often expensive.

Pat. Process Lloyd LOOM Products
Baby Carriages & Furniture

Ask Your Local Dealer

Write Now for 32-Page Illustrated Booklet

The Lloyd Manufacturing Company
(Heywood-Wakefield Co.)
Dept. E
Menominee, Michigan (16)

"Vaseline" Carbolated Petroleum Jelly

is an effective, antiseptic first-aid dressing for cuts, wounds and insect bites. It helps prevent infection.

CHESEBROUGH MFG. CO.
(Consolidated)
State Street New York

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Removes Dandruff-Stops Hair Falling
Restores Color and
Beauty to Gray and Faded Hair
60c and $1.00 at Druggists.
Hiscox Chem. Wks. Patchogue, N. Y.

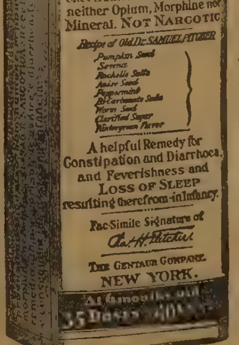
HINDERCORNS Removes Corns, Callouses, etc., stops all pain, ensures comfort to the feet, makes walking easy. 15c. by mail or at Druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

Why Castoria?

YEARS ago Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups were the remedies in common use for Infants and Children; Castor Oil so nauseating as to be almost impossible and the others all containing Opium in one form or another, but so disguised as to make them pleasant to the taste, yet really to stupify the child and give the appearance of relief from pain.

It required years of research to find a purely vegetable combination that would take the place of these disagreeable, unpleasant and vicious remedies that from habit had become almost universal. This was the inception of, and the reason for, the introduction of Fletcher's Castoria, and for over 30 years it has proven its worth, received the praise of Physicians everywhere and become a household word among mothers.

A remedy ESPECIALLY prepared for Infants and Children and no mother would think of giving to her baby a remedy that she would use for herself, without consulting a physician.



Net Contents 15 Fluid Drachms
900 DROPS
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL-3 PER CENT.
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food by Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS CHILDREN
Thereby Promoting Digestion Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC
Recipe of Old Dr. SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed
Senna
Rochelle Salts
Anise Seed
Peppermint
Bi-Carbonate Soda
Worm Seed
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor
A helpful Remedy for Constipation and Diarrhoea, and Feverishness and Loss of Sleep resulting therefrom in Infancy.
Fac-Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Centaur Company,
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 Doses 35 Cents

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Have You Tried It?

Everybody has read the above headline; how many believe it? Have you a little-one in the home, and has that dear little mite when its stomach was not just right felt the comforts that come with the use of Fletcher's Castoria? You have heard the cry of pain. Have you heard them cry for Fletcher's Castoria? Try it.

Just help baby out of its trouble tomorrow with a taste of Castoria. Watch the difference in the tone of the cry, the look in the eye, the wiggle in the tiny fingers. The transformation is complete—from pain to pleasure. Try it.

You'll find a wonderful lot of information about Baby in the booklet that is wrapped around every bottle of Fletcher's Castoria.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Some women show their age because of their strenuous efforts to conceal it.

W. N. U., BIRMINGHAM, NO. 19--1922.

Even impossibilities are possible.

STANDARD FOR 50 YEARS
WINTERSMITH'S
CHILL TONIC
Not Only For Chills, Fever and Malaria
BUT A FINE GENERAL TONIC
If not sold by your druggist, write Arthur Peter & Co., Louisville, Ky.

Kill All Flies! THEY SPREAD DISEASE
Placed anywhere, DAISY FLY KILLER attracts and kills all flies. Neat, clean, ornamental, convenient and cheap. Lasts all season. Made of metal, can't spill or tip over; will not soil or injure anything. Guaranteed. [illegible]
HAROLD [illegible] De Kalb Av. [illegible] N. Y.

DROPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE
Short breathing relieved in a few hours; swelling reduced in a few days; regulates the liver, kidneys, stomach and heart; purifies the blood, strengthens the entire system. Write for Free Trial Treatment.
COLLOM DROPSY REMEDY CO., Dept. C.E., ATLANTA, GA

IS THE TALK OF THE TOWN
THE GREAT NEW YORK STORE BARGAINS

And these will set the town wild. And why shouldn't the people talk when they can get such values and save as much money as they will at The New York Store.

15c value Ginghams the yard....................9c
100 prices new ginghams in plaids, checks and stripes. This is an exceptionally good value and will not be found again when this lot is gone, because we can't buy it again at such prices.

Up to 40c Value.
Voile in all desirable shades in checks, stribes and dots, special 22c

Up to $2.00 Value.
Children's Gingham Dresses in plaids of blue, pink, lavender and green. While they last...75c

THE NEW YORK STORE

The Store With the Red Front

BEST SHOE SHOP

Bring your shoe work here for first class service at moderate prices.

Laces and polishes—In fact everything for the shoe at bottom figures.

New and second hand shoes for men only at better prices than you can get elsewhere.

NOTICE our Panco Soles, for men women and children. Guaranteed for the life of the shoes.

Heavy shoes for Farmers and outdoor work. Guaranteed to last 12 months. Any repairs needed during 12 months will be done free of charge.

The Best Shoe Shop

WATCH!
F. M. Connell's
Stock

Saturday, May 13th I will give free with each cash sale of $1.00 One bottle of LaCream Tomato Catsup.

Chickens, Eggs and Corn will be taken as Cash at market prices F. M. CONNELL

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District of the State of Alabama, composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held Aunust, 8th 1922.

Lawrence F. Gerald.

(Paid political advertisement by Lawrence F. Gerald, Clanton, Alabama.)

County School Board.

Mrs. C. N. Parnell, of Maplesville, is hereby announced as a candidate for member of Chilton County School Board, subject to action of Democratic primary on August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by Mrs. C. N. Parnell, Maplesville, Ala.

Big Opening Sale at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

FOR COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

We are pleased to announce the name of Mrs. Beverly Hester, of Clanton, as a candidate for Member of the Chilton County School Board, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by Mrs. Beverly Hester.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner from the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on August 8.

H. E. ROBINSON.

(Paid political advertisement by H. E. Robinson.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8, 1922.

BOWEN L. JONES.

(Paid political adv. by Bowen L. Jones, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce the name of Rev. C. D. Messer as a candidate for Probate Judge of Chilton County subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 8th, 1922.

(Paid politicol advertisement by C. D. Messer, Clanton, Ala.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary August 8th. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

G. D. RETHERFORD.

(Paid political advertisement by G. D. Retherford, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge of Chilton County in the coming Democratic Primary election, to be held on August 8th, 1922.

C. REESE MULLINS.

(Paid political advertisement by C. Reese Mullins, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SOLICITOR

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for Circuit Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

CECIL E. ALEXANDER.

(Paid political advertisement by Cecil E. Alexander.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination as Circuit Judge of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, composing the 19th Judicial Circuit, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

GEO. F. SMOOT.

(Paid political advertisement by Geo. F. Smoot.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, on August 8th, 1922.

W. W. COBERN.

(Paid political advertisement by W. W. Cobern.)

We do Job Printing.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

The many friends of Mr. J. L. Johnson hereby announce him as a candidate for Representative from Chilton County in the next assembly, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8, 1922.

(Paid political advertisement by the Chilton County Publishing Company.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on August 8th.

THOS. M. PARRISH,

(Paid political advertisement by Thos. M. Parrish, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT SOLICITOR

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination as Circuit Solicitor for the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

VICTOR J. HEARD.

(Paid political advertisement by Victor J. Heard, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit, composed of the counties of Chilton, Autauga and Elmore, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in August, 1922.

B. K. McMORRIS.

(Paid political advertisement by B. K. McMorris, Wetumpka, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Solicitor for the 19th Judicial Circuit of Alabama; subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held in the counties composing said District, on the second Tuesday in August, 1922.

In thus offering my services to the people of Autauga, Chilton and Elmore counties, I approach them with no well thought out and carefully prepared list of empty promises and a captivating political platform. If nominated and elected, I shall bring to the office of Solicitor the experience of twenty-five years of active practice before the various courts of the state and committed to the simple policy of taking care that violators of the criminal statutes of the state are promptly indicted and speedily and vigorously prosecuted with absolute fairness to all, with favoritism to none. I shall see to it that the interests of the state are properly preserved in all matters in which it is involved, and shall dedicate to the people of the circuit the most faithful and efficient service that within me lies. It is upon the foregoing platform that I am willing to win or lose,

Respectfully,

THOS. A. CURRY.

(Paid political adv., by Thos. A. Curry, Clanton, Ala.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for State Senator from the fifteenth Senatorial district composed of the counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 8. S. M. ADAMS.

(Paid political advertisement by S. M. Adams, Thorsby, Ala)

We do Job Printing.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

At Sardis Second Sunday in May, May 14th.

9:30—Devotional services, by Rev. J. D. Deason.

10:00—The Sunday School and its Relation to the Social Problem, H. A. Harris and J. L. Johnson.

11:15—Selling the Sunday School, J. J. Pickens.

1:30—Devotional services, Rev. C. A. Taylor. The importance and How to secure Good Teachers for the Sunday School, Rev. C. A. Taylor.

2:00—The Contact of the Teacher with the Pupil, Rev. P. G. Carter.

2:40—Business.

3:00—Adjournment.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce my candidacy for State Senator from the Fifteenth Senatorial District of Alabama, which is composed of the Counties of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held in August, 1922.

If elected to the Senate of Alabama, I shall support every measure, which proposes to reduce public expeses and thereby relieve the people of the State of some of the burdens of taxation. I shall support every measure, which will abolish useless and unnecessary offices, of which there are many. I shall oppose every measure which directly or indirectly exempts corporations from the payment of lawful taxes. I am not directly or indirectly connected with any corporation in Alabama, nor will I accept any place upon the pay roll of any corporation in this or any other state in the event of my nomination or election to the office of Senator. I am for Henry Ford first, last and all the time.

R. E. FITTS.

(Paid political advertisement by R. E. Fitts, Stanton, Alabama.)

Best grade Overalls $1.15 at The Leader, Clanton's new Dry Goods Store, M. Lande Manager.

Strand Changes Hands

Mr. Wade, of Calera, has bought out the Strand Theatre here and intends to operate it in a class with Birmingham and Montgomery.

We learn that Mr. Wade has several other movie plants and in buying out the Strand he is carrying out his idea of contfolling a string of movie shows which will enable him to give better service to each.

The News is glad to welcome Mr. Wade in our business circles and wish for him great success here.

It is probable that Mr. Steve Hardee will operate the show for him for a while.

An All Day Singing

There will be an All Day Singing at Maple Springs, one and one-half miles south of Falakto, on the third Sunday in this month.

All singers and lovers of music are cordially invited to come and bring your 1922 song books and well filled baskets.

J. Z. Mims.
A. P. Vinson.
O. L. Devaughan.

Announcement

The marriage of Miss Kathleen Maxwell and M. C. Courtney was quietly solemnized Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock by and at the home of Rev. J. A. Bryan, 1016 Sycamore St., Birmingham, Ala.

FOR SALE—Three young Jersey Cows. All giving milk. Will sell at a bargain. All cash or terms with good papers. J. R. OWENS. Clanton, Route 3.

NITRATE OF SODA

I have on hand Nitrate of Soda.

J. J. PICKENS.

Moved!

Into the new building of Tom Rocket, across the street in front of Court House. Your patronage will be apprecsated. Call on me when in need of anything. One block of soda will be given FREE with every dollar cash purchase next Saturday.

G. C. Armstrong

The Oldest Firm In Clanton

You all know us and know we are your friends. Now listen. We have the largest stock of Dry Goods, Shoes and Clothing ever put on sale between Birmingham and Montgomery.

Sole agents for PETER'S DIAMOND BRAND SHOES—every pair guaranteed Solid Leather. Times are hard now and we have marked our prices down to suit them.

We thank you for your kind patronage in the past and earnestly solicit ite continuance.

J. R. Broadhead & Son

Clanton, Alabama.

CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

VOLUME 1 — CLANTON, ALABAMA, MAY 18, 1922. — NUMBER 36

SOCIAL NEWS

Mrs. T. C. McSWAIN, Editor.

Round Dozen Meets.

On last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. McSwain was hostess to the Round Dozen Sewing Club. The living room was very attractive with potted plants and roses. After some time spent in conversation and finger work the hostess served a delicious ice course, assisted by Mrs. Macy Jones. Those present were Mesdames Alverson, Glyde Jones, Simpson, John Armstrong, Marion Gore, White, Luckie, Moore, Macy Jones, D. Y. Johnston and Butell.

Sunday School Class Picnic.

Last Saturday morning the pupils of Miss Majorie Murphy's S. S. Class met at the Court House at nine o'clock, as this class is composed of little boys, each one invited a little girl to go with him. Promptly at the hour the young people were carried out to Mims' Pond in cars. These young people enjoyed wading and swimming. Those chaperoning these young people were Misses Majorie Murphy and Johnnie Lee Thacker.

Missionary Society Meets.

On Monday afternoon, Mrs. W. A. Reynolds was the hostess to the Woman's Missionary Society. The apartments were lovely with sweet peas and snap dragons. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. J. C. Jones, who read the scripture lesson for the evening, also led in prayer. The subject for the afternoon being Forto Aleyra, a strategic center. Mesdames White, John Armstrong, J. C. Jones read interesting paper on the subject. After which the business and society was taken up After which the meeting adjourned to meet on the first Monday with Mrs. Evan Parrish. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Guy Roberts and Miss Wilodene Reynolds, served a salad plate and ice tea.

Thursday Embroidery Club.

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. McDavid was the charming hostess to the Thursday Embroidery Club, complimenting her sisters, Mesdames Daphne and Burns. The apartments were very lovely with cut flowers. After some time spent in conversation and finger work, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Stagg Dinner.

On Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Guy Roberts entertained in honor of Mr. Norman Roberts, the young men of the Senior Class at a six o'clock dinner. Promptly at 6 o'clock the young men were invited into the dining room, which was very lovely with potted plants; the center piece being a vase of white snap dragons. A six course dinner was served to the following young men: Elmer Harris, Kenneth Danforth, Bill Orr, Hoyt Brown Reynolds, Norman Roberts and Guy Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McDavid and Mesdames Daphne and Burns motored to Birmingham Wednesday.

Mrs. Macy Jones is visiting her mother, Mrs. Adeline Giddens in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pitts and two little daughters, spent several days in Jacksonville, Ala., as the guests of Mr. Pitts' mother.

Mesdames John Armstrong and Luckie were visitors to Birmingham Thursday.

Mr. J. R. Mullins spent several days last week in Montgomery.

Mesdames J. C. Page and Gerald were visitors to Birmingham Thursday.

Miss Icelo Williams returned to her home at Duncanville Monday.

Miss Alice B. Selman returned to Good Water Monday, accompanied by her father, who spent the weekend in Clanton.

Be sure to come to the "tacky party" next Tuesday night at the residence of Mrs. W. A. Reynolds, given by Circle No 1, for the benefit of the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Sims announce the birth of a son, James Coplin. Born May 6th.

The Redpath Chautauqua will be in Clanton on June 12, 13 and 14.

Miss Cecila McMillian has returned to her home in Columbiana.

Dr. Sam Johnson of the U. S. Navy, spent several days this week with friends and relatives, on his way to Raleigh, N. C., where he has been transferred.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Pow of Birmingham and their daughters, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Van-Derveer.

Mrs. Alex Richards and two little daughters of Jackson, Tenn., arrived Sunday for a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Vanderveer.

Mr. T. C. McSwain spent Wednesday in Montgomery.

Mr. Macy Jones spent several days this week in Montgomery.

Mr. E. H. Lowe has caught all the fish out of Goose Pond Creek and left Monday for the mouth of Yellow Leaf and started up to clean them all up over there.

STATEMENT OF CONDITION

PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

CLANTON, ALABAMA

CLOSE OF BUSINESS MAY 5, 1922.

RESOURCES:

Loans	$141,964.19
Overdrafts	5.65
Real Estate	12,500.00
Banking House	2,700.00
Furniture & Fixtures	2,727.25
United States Bonds	57,800.00
Cash in Vault and Banks	177,308.39
Total	$395,005.18

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	52,052.13
Deposits	327,953.35
Total	$395,005.48

MEN AND FIGURES

A Bank's solvency is more than a matter of figures. A balanced statement of condition, with its array of figures is accepted by the public in confidence proportionate to the confidence in the men behind the figures. There is a value that is not shown in figures—it is the value that lies in men. The PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK'S service to you is based on men of tried character.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

J. B. DOWNS, J. HANCE ALRED,
N. S. JOHNSON, F. J. CALLEN, H. S. SHAW,
J. WATTS, MOORE, LAWRENCE F. GERALD.

These Directors together with eleven other stock holders (all citizens of CHILTON COUNTY) own the PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK.

Do You Patronize Home Institutions?

Personally appeared before me, F. J. Callen, President of the Peoples Savings Bank, who on oath, states that the above is a correct statement, at the close of business May 5, 1922.

F. J. CALLEN, President.

Attest:—
J. B. DOWNS,
N. S. JOHNSON,
J. HANCE ALRED,
Directors.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 9th day of May, 1922.
J. R. MULLINS, Notary Public.

MILTON McCORMICK GIVEN PRELININARY

Last Monday Milton McCormick the slayer of Mr. Bearden, who lives near Maplesville, was given a preliminary hearing before Judge L. H. Reynolds here.

Quite a number of witnesses for the prosecution were present, among them the wife and daughter of the murdered man, who were eye witnesses of the crime, and Dr. Parnell who was the attending physician who reached the scene of the killing some twenty minutes after it occurred.

Col. J. B. Atkinson appeared as counsel for the prisoner while Circuit Solicitor Alexander and County Solicitor Walker looked after the interest of the State.

